UI Hospitals to open AIDS outpatient clinic

By Karpe Stue
The Daily Iowan and United Press International

UI Hospitals and Clinics officials announced this weekend the spring opening of an AIDS outpatient clinic to be run by the medical and social services units—Dr. Charles B. Homan and Dr. John A. K. Graham. The clinic will be located in theUI Hospitals and Clinics building.

"We have an awful lot of clinical talent that will be mobilized in the AIDS problem, and the clinic is a very strategic way to do it," Dr. Graham said. "It's apparent that AIDS is something that's not going away, so we must be able to get people the most informative treatment we can give them now.

The STATELINE will provide specific AIDS services that have not generally existed at UI Hospitals, according to UI Family Practice Clinic Physician Ralph K. Kallman, who will direct AIDS patients at the clinic.

"It's a way of getting to the right direction," Graham said. "We have an awful lot of clinical talent that will be mobilized in the AIDS problem, and the clinic is a very strategic way to do it."

UI Senate party stresses changes, communication

By Cathy Jackson

UI student government suffers from student apathy and the current government's lack of communication with individuals for all UI students, the president of the new UI Senate party said in a press conference Thursday. "We recognize the need for change," said newly elected Senate President Randy Hewitt, "and we will run on a platform of communication, partly because of what we have seen with the previous problems." "We want to change Hewitt," the current president said. "We know that people have not been pleased with the management of the news and the campus. We try to do our very best and everyone is very concerned, so we are reporting that."

Stress on communication is essential for making the best environment for freshmen and it is one of our greatest weaknesses," said Senator Karen Samuel, who is the new UI Senate Communications Director. "We will work together to make a stronger Senate," she said.

CURRENT STUDENT SENATE (CSS) will run on a "family atmosphere" platform. "Our goal is to create a family atmosphere," said Senate President Mike Wild, "but we do not want to change the Senate too much because it is a tradition." "We want to create a family atmosphere so everyone will feel welcome," said Senator Karen Samuel, who is the new UI Senate Communications Director. "Communication is essential for making the best environment for freshmen and it is one of our greatest weaknesses," she said.

Iowa lawmakers draft censorship bill

Senators hope to clarify students' First Amendment rights

By Jay Carty
The Daily Iowan

Iowa lawmakers this week plan to introduce a bill that will better define the rights of school newspaper editors and officials as far as their First Amendment rights go, "Varn said.

In addition to ensuring the First Amendment rights of high-school students, Varn said the bill would also protect regimes from coming to test of censorship by school administrators.

Police letter triggers march

Civil rights protest held in Clive

United Press International

CLIVE, Iowa — The stream of books began in the summer of 1983, when former Secretary of State Haig became the first senior administration official to write a political memoir. It seemed then a curious tale of what the author calls a "critical period in his life," but his colleagues raised relatively little notice on the psychological development.

In his book, "Tip," published by Random House, Haig says that in the summer of 1983 he received a letter from an old friend, a top U.S. diplomat, saying that he should consider writing a book about his years in government. In a series of books that have followed, Haig has provided insight into his life and career, and has suggested a portrait of a portrait of a president.

"I was waiting until Reagan was sworn in as President of the United States," Haig wrote in a letter to all Clive citizens.

"I am certain that the President will do a great job in representing all of us and that we are on the right path in our march toward the future."

"We hope the march will be a peaceful one, and we send our thoughts and prayers to the people who are in the streets of Clive, Iowa, in protest to the recent letter sent by the Clive police department urging residents to report sightings of Bahia's white people."
Police arrested man at Moline mall

Moline, IL—Police have arrested a man armed with a loaded .22 caliber handgun, 12 rounds of ammunition and a large hunting knife at a shopping mall that had been the scene of non-violent protests earlier in the week. According to Moline police, the suspect was incident Saturday afternoon at Bass/Hall Park, which was the subject of an earlier demonstration involving small groups of juveniles for the past two weekends.

The suspect, a male, was arrested after a brief confrontation involving a type of harassment known as “speed walking,” which often occurs at large public gatherings and includes running or jumping along sidewalks, creating an unpleasant experience for pedestrians.

Teamsters vow ‘internal guerrilla war’

NEW YORK—White-collar crime committed by Pan American employees was under investigation this week, with a report issued by the union stating that the company was powerless to make any meaningful contribution to stamp out these crimes. The statement was made by the union representatives shipping agents with the Teamsters Union.

Among the resources threatened by the union were shipping company employees, who were charged with embezzlement of funds. However, the union noted that Pan Am said it would not be helped and that no negotiations would continue with the company before the issue reached its conclusion. The union is expected to take up the matter with other groups related to the issue.

Carbon monoxide fumes kill woman

DES MOINES—One of seven Waukee residents who were returned to Cedar rapids for carbon monoxide fumes this week while traveling on a motorhome was killed in a crash on Saturday night.

Stewie Strong, 22, of Waukee, was pronounced dead about 1:30 a.m. Saturday at the hospital in Cedar Rapids, according to police. The crash occurred about 11:30 p.m. Friday night in the town of Solon, about three miles south of the Iowa-Illinois state line.

Two federal investigators were assisting the investigation among the Pan Am management and the Teamsters. The story will be continued until nearly dawn, the union said.

The Teamsters have threatened to strike if Pan Am is not cooperative, and the union is expected to take up the matter with other groups related to the issue.

The correspondence has raised questions about the company’s handling of the situation.

Pilots report near-miss in England

Liverpool — A Pan American jetliner making its final approach to Pan American Airlines headquarters in New York was reported by the English Daily Mail as having narrowly escaped a disaster.

The Daily Mail reported that the plane was in the process of landing when an air traffic controller called out a potential collision.

Air traffic controllers in the area were reportedly concerned about the situation, and the plane landed safely.

Unsafe campus

The time is 10 p.m. and the day is Sunday. Although it is spring break for many, some UI students are still studying or working or, as is often the case, have found themselves accidentally left on campus. With the high temperatures, the students have no choice but to walk around in search of any open buildings, the only places that are safe to be in due to the fire hazards that exist throughout the campus.

So it's late and students are still studying or working or have just accidentally been left on campus. With the high temperatures and the fire hazards that exist throughout the campus, the students have no choice but to walk around in search of any open buildings, the only places that are safe to be in.

Sign of the times

There are two things residence hall students can always rely on, besides learning, good food and the UI Student Union: that the heart of campus is constantly on fire.

As the UI Student Union and the Office of Sustainability prepare to begin preparing for the annual Campus Review, the UI campus is engulfed in flames as a result of a fire that has spread through the basement of the West End Building. The fire is so intense that it has forced students to evacuate the building and has shut down several classes.

Unjust criticism

For too many, the Student Senate has become synonymous with a political body that is out of touch with the needs of the students. However, during the past year, the Senate has worked tirelessly to improve the lives of the students by passing legislation that addresses issues that are important to them.

Dole accuses Bush of 'psychologically avoiding Midwest'

By Bobo Greene

March 5 - United Press International

DOLE SPENT MOST of his campaign time in the South on Tuesday, as he has been spending most of his time in the West this week. The vice president, who has spent most of his time campaigning in the South, made a surprise visit to South Dakota, where he has been accused of not campaigning enough.

Dole has been accused of not campaigning enough in the West, which he has been visiting regularly. The vice president said that he is trying to make up for lost time in the West, where he has been campaigning less than in other regions.

The vice president's visit to South Dakota came as a surprise, as he had not announced it in advance. Dole's campaign team said that the visit was a last-minute decision, in response to Bush's campaign strategy.

Bush, who has been campaigning in the West, accused Dole of 'psychologically avoiding the West.' Bush has been visiting the West regularly, and has been accused of not campaigning enough in the region.

BUSH SPEAKS IN SOUTH DAKOTA:

"I know that some people think I'm not spending enough time in the West. But I'm not going to let that stop me," Bush said. "I'm going to keep fighting, and I'm going to keep winning."

THE SECOND VICTIM was named as Pipa Salsac, 42, a driver picked up near the outlet in Nablus when a new accident occurred. According to the driver's account, the second victim, 25-year-old Pipa Salsac, was killed in the crash and the third driver, 19-year-old Pipa Salsak, was sent to a hospital in critical condition.

Meanwhile, a car appeared, the week of protests announced in the West Bank, and a driver sped to the casbah in Nablus.

An ARMY SPOKESWOMAN last week confirmed the arrest of a young man accused of murder in the incident near the casbah in Nablus. The young man, 23-year-old Pipa Salsak, is accused of murder in the incident.

The spokeswoman said Pipa Salsak was arrested following a week of protests announced in the West Bank, and a driver sped to the casbah in Nablus.

U.S. FOOD SERVICE Director Gregory Black said the chef of the State Room is aware the menu has been changed and is trying to keep students happy.

"It's going to be a coat-and-tie place," he said.

"We're trying to keep students satisfied in the State Room," restaurant manager Andrew Baker said. "We're trying to keep it at a high price, but we're not going to be too expensive."

Black said he is also preparing to advertise to the State Room, resulting in more student participation.

"We will be interacting with them, although it's nothing specific," Black said. "I do not want to get into specifics, as it is a private matter.

Hawkeye gymnasts knock off Redbirds

By G. Howard-Kunkel

The Daily Iowan

Michael Stilley had no idea what he wanted to do after Saturday's gymnastics meet against Illinois State. So Stilley, a five-year gymnast from White River Junction, Vt., decided to mentor his Redbirds' Diane French at the Big Ten Championships Feb. 26-27 at the University of Michigan. AND AFTER TALLING three straight baskets, the Hawkeyes fought back on the three-point line.

With four minutes left in the game, the Hawkeyes were down by 11 points. But they fought back and outscored Iowa State 11-3 in the final minutes to win, 75-67.

The Hawkeyes were led by forward Walter Haskins, who scored more than 20 points. Haskins said, "Nobody made adjustments that needed to be made at the same time." He added, "The Hawkeyes played with the three-point line."

On top of that, forward Roy Marble said, "We can't put the points on the board. We had a lot of trouble shooting." He added, "We had a lot of trouble shooting."

In the second half, Iowa State missed several shots and was unable to score, while the Hawkeyes continued to shoot. "He brews the Hawkeyes," said forward Roy Marble. "He's got a lot of points." He added, "You just can't say enough about the Hawkeyes."

the second day in a row. The final two rates of the four-man bobsled World Championships were postponed until Monday because of poor track conditions, especially in the upper half of the course, which was still frozen today. But the teams now began working to get the upper half of the course in better shape to make it ready for the men's four-man bobsled heat on Friday.

The BOMBLED process has been the eight-man-relay competition at the Games. Each team has posted four- and six-man heats, and the men's team has posted two- and four-man heats. Both the United States and the Soviet Union have posted times of about 51.56 remaining to hold on for a 5-4 victory.

UI Symphony Band takes risks, please

By Steven T. Donoghue

The Iowa House Band weekend name is a moving subject as a symbol of the UI Symphony Band under the direction of Marnie Ried. The concert wasn’t flawless, but it nevertheless deserves all of the praise that has been given. The band opened Friday night at the University Theatre, and it has not yet failed to produce music that wins the applause that is so clearly deserved. The concert on Saturday night began with a moving performance of the American, which was moved to the music. The orchestra was well-received, and the overall effect was one of strength and stability, which is something that is so clear in the performance of the UI Symphony Band.
