Candidates blitz South for final Super Tuesday votes

Who will be voting on Super Tuesday

Here are the 20 states holding presidential primaries or caucuses Tuesday. Never have so many states held pre-convention votes on the same day.

Super Tuesday at a glance:

- Number of states: 20
- Number of delegates: Over 1,000
- Participating parties: Democratic
- Top candidates: Bill Clinton, Al Gore, George W. Bush, Alfonse D'Amato
- Voting: Today's results will likely determine the winners of the Democratic nomination.

Key states to watch:

- South Carolina: Gore and Clinton battling for the top spot.
- Georgia: Clinton leading, but Gore close.
- Florida: Bush leading, but Gore challenging.
- Texas: Bush leading, but Gore close.

Super Tuesday results:

- Bill Clinton: Strong showing in several key states, including South Carolina and Georgia.
- Al Gore: Leading in Florida and Texas, but trailing in South Carolina.
- George W. Bush: Leading in Florida and Texas, expanding his lead in Georgia.
- Al D'Amato: Leading in New York and New Jersey.

Analysis:

- Bill Clinton: Strong showing in South Carolina and Georgia, solidifying his lead in the Democratic race.
- Al Gore: Close in South Carolina and Florida, but trailing in Georgia.
- George W. Bush: Expanding his lead in Florida and Texas, keeping pressure on Clinton.
- Al D'Amato: Continuing his lead in New York and New Jersey, but trailing in other key states.

Conclusion:

The Democratic race is tightening, with Clinton and Gore vying for the top spot. Bush is expanding his lead in the southern states, but the race remains competitive. The results will likely determine who emerges as the Democratic nominee.

CADC discusses additional senate activities funding

By Debbie Shanks

The question of whether to provide additional funding for the CADC (Community Activated Dental Care) program was discussed at the weekly meeting of the UI College of Dentistry. The issue was raised by Dr. James K. Miller, who requested $10,000 from the UI Student Dental Association. Students argued that the need for more funding was evident from the increase in the number of patients seeking care.

Bell speach at UI Black History Month and King’s dream

By Candy Jackson
The Daily Iowan

In his first trip to Iowa, Harvard Law Professor and civil rights activist Derrick Bell, Jr.

Delivering the keynote speech, Bell said that the history of the United States is marked by the struggle of black Americans against oppression.

"In the United States, the struggle of black Americans against oppression has been a defining characteristic of our nation," Bell said. "Our nation has been built on the backs of black Americans, and their struggle continues to this day.

"The struggle against oppression has been a central theme in American history," Bell said. "From the founding of the nation to the present day, black Americans have fought for their rights and for justice.

"This struggle is not just a part of our past, but it is also a part of our present," Bell said. "We must continue to fight against oppression and for the rights of all people.

"In this speech, I want to focus on the struggle against oppression and the importance of education in the fight against it," Bell said. "Education is the key to unlocking the potential of black Americans and to ensuring that they have a voice in the shaping of our nation.

"We must work to ensure that all black Americans have access to quality education and that we continue to fight against systemic racism in the educational system," Bell said. "This is a struggle that we must continue to fight.

"But we cannot do this alone," Bell said. "We must work together with our allies to fight against oppression and to create a better future for all black Americans.

"We must continue to fight for justice and for the rights of all people," Bell said. "This is our responsibility as Americans and as members of a democratic society.

"We must continue to fight for justice and for the rights of all people," Bell said. "This is our responsibility as Americans and as members of a democratic society.
We are living through a crisis and dangerous crisis of leadership in the United States. Our leader, President Ronald Reagan, has consistently failed in his duty as a leader. He has not provided the necessary leadership, nor has he been consistent in his policies.

The current situation in El Salvador is a classic example of the failure of leadership. Despite the fact that President Reagan has promised to support the People's Revolutionary Army (FSLN), he has not taken any concrete steps to support them. This is a clear example of the failure of leadership.

It is not just the leadership in El Salvador that is failing, but the leadership in the United States as well. President Reagan has consistently failed to take any action against the forces of right-wing terrorism in the United States.

The following are some of the main points that are currently being made:

1. The United States has failed to provide any support to the People's Revolutionary Army (FSLN) in their fight against the forces of right-wing terrorism.
2. President Reagan has consistently failed to take any action against the forces of right-wing terrorism in the United States.
3. The failure of leadership in the United States is a clear example of the failure of democracy.

In conclusion, we must demand that our leaders take action to ensure the safety and security of all citizens in El Salvador and in the United States. We must demand that our leaders take action against the forces of right-wing terrorism.

There are several organizations that are working to support the People's Revolutionary Army (FSLN) in their fight against the forces of right-wing terrorism. These organizations include the Leftist Popular Movement (MPL), the Popular Committee for the Defense of the Revolution (CPDR), and the Popular Committee for the Defense of the People's Revolutionary Army (CPDAR).

We must support these organizations and work to ensure that they have the necessary resources to continue their fight against the forces of right-wing terrorism.

Blues trade Wamsley, Ramage to Flames

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — The St. Louis Blues traded All-Star left wing Wamsley and goalie Ramage to the Calgary Flames Monday for forwards Brent Hull and Shane Brack.

Hull, a 30-year-old right wing, is one of the team's leading scorers, with 51 goals and 81 points in 84 games this year, and has a dangerous shot.

Brack, 26, is considered a defensive forward whose strengths are checking and penalty-killing, with 10 goals, including 3 short-handed, in 84 games.

Ramage, 25, came to St. Louis before the 1982-83 season in a trade with the Colorado Rockies, who made him No. 1 starter.

Entering this season, the 29-year-old Wamsley ranked third in career scoring percentage in the NHL, among all active goaltenders with .587, trailing only Great Park (585) and Pepe Buro (587).

SACRAMENTO — Former NBA great Bill Russell, calling his team the SuperSonics, decided to take a coaching position in Seattle on Monday.

The 58-year-old Russell had been linked to several teams as a potential replacement for head coach Bob Haskins, and he finally decided to accept a one-year deal to coach the Sonics.

Russell had been a successful coach in the NBA, leading the Celtics to several championships and becoming a legend in the league. He was a leader on and off the court, and his presence as a coach will undoubtedly bring a lot of excitement to the Sonics.

Russell replaces Haskins, who was fired last season after leading the Sonics to a 26-56 record.

The Sonics, who finished last in the Western Conference last season, are expected to have a busy offseason, with several key free agents on their roster.

Gophers

Gregg Luchkens, managing editor

Gophers beating the #1 team isn't anything new .

"I don't think that anything happened here that hasn't happened before," said Gophers head coach Jerry Reynolds. "I think it's just a matter of the team being able to pull it off ."

The Gophers, who are ranked #1 in the nation, defeated the #2-ranked Bulldogs 76-68 on Saturday.

The Gophers, who are 22-0 on the season, have not lost a game since the beginning of the season and are averaging over 100 points per game.

The Bulldogs, who are ranked #2 in the nation, had their 20-game winning streak snapped.

"This is a big win for us," said Gophers guard John Smith. "We've been working hard all season to get to this point ."

Smith, who scored 24 points, hit a key 3-pointer late in the game to seal the victory for the Gophers.

The Gophers will now turn their attention to the upcoming NCAA tournament, where they are expected to be one of the top seeds.

The Bulldogs, who are also expected to make a deep run in the tournament, will now have to regroup and prepare for their next game.

Iowa fans bring Bowl big bucks

By G. Remond-Kurke

Iowa fans are key to postseason Bowl games in general. You won't hear a lot about the Hawkeyes on the networks this year, but that doesn't mean they're not important. This year's team was successful in the season opener, defeating Wisconsin, in part due to a strong defense. The defense was led by Caleb Maudet, who had 11 tackles in the game. The offense, on the other hand, struggled to find its rhythm and only scored 10 points in the game.

The Hawkeyes are currently 3-1 in the Big Ten and could potentially make a run for a bowl game with a strong finish. The team's next game is against Nebraska on Saturday. The Cornhuskers are currently 4-0 in the conference and are looking to solidify their position at the top of the standings. It will be a tough game for the Hawkeyes, but they have a chance to earn a valuable win.
