SAS files charges against ASAP

By Robin Stein and Cathy Arkson

The battle between two student groups continues on campus this week after the Student Senate has taken a new turn in the dispute.

On Monday, the Student Advocacy Press Enterprise (S.A.P.E) filed a formal complaint seeking a decree against ASAP for violation of the Student Senate's free speech policy.

S.A.P.E. accused ASAP of violating the policy by distributing handbills on campus without permission.

SAS president Mike Wild and ASAP president Robert Dole have both denied the charges.

WILD ALSO SAID that he has evidence to support his case.

Hearing on county's 1988 budget gets small turnout

By James Calhoun

The Daily Iowan

More than a dozen members of the Johnson County Board of Supervisors met in Seashore Hall Room W205 at 12:30 p.m. Thursday to hear testimony and discussion about the Johnson County budget.

The county budget was the topic of discussion at the meeting, which was held by the Johnson County Board of Supervisors to hear testimony about the county budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The county budget is the plan for the allocation of the county's funds for the coming fiscal year. The budget is prepared by the county administrator and approved by the county board.

The budget for the fiscal year 1988-89 was presented to the board at the meeting. The budget includes the following major items:

- General fund: $59.5 million
- Public safety: $17.2 million
- Education: $25.8 million
- Social services: $12.2 million
- Transportation: $3.9 million
- Other: $10.0 million

The county has a total budget of $112.9 million for the fiscal year 1988-89.

The county board will vote on the budget at its regular meeting on April 11.

The budget hearing was held in response to the county's financial concerns, which have been highlighted by the county's fiscal problems in recent years.

The county has faced budget shortfalls in recent years, which have led to cuts in services and programs.

The county board is expected to discuss the budget and other financial issues at its regular meeting on April 11.

The budget hearing provided an opportunity for residents to express their views on the county's financial situation and to voice their concerns about the county budget.

The budget hearing was a positive step towards improving the county's financial situation. The county board is committed to addressing the county's financial challenges and to ensuring that the county's residents are well-served by its services and programs.

The budget hearing was a success, with many residents attending and participating in the discussion.

The county board is expected to continue its budget hearings in the future to ensure that the county's financial situation is monitored and managed effectively.

Necessary decision

Students at Gallaudet University — the only national institution of higher education for the deaf — have brought to national attention this week important issues concerning the financial condition of the university taken primary importance. Elizabeth Hines, the appointed president, has an excellent record in fund raising.

A value of a university president on this model may not be trivialized, but the first responsibility of a president is to run the university. His or her value as a role model should come second and the result, for now, that Gallaudet announces a new president, is that the community of students for their needs in other places. There are no individuals in the university that one can just as effectively and rapidly fill the position. The president must bring the necessary resources to run the university and other members of the deaf community.

The president must be able to coordinate the university's administration, faculty and student body; each has a vested interest in the university's financial condition. As the University of the deaf, Gallaudet has a long-term plan that the administration will make the university — they are the ones with the necessary means and means, not just one aspect of the university, but all.

I have read Judy Talbot's editorial (The Daily Iowan, March 8) but I was surprised English professors were not part of her heated argument.

I believe most of us are already aware the drain of any untended criticism regarding your own personal life and unattained goals. I am not the one to say. If you don't think you have to say it, but... I'm just treating the issue with a separate consideration.

It is not the purpose of this article to impugn your motives. I am saying a bit of money to get an untold number of time and the last thing a student would have to do is add to the already difficult schedule he is. But I understand someone who is...

Smiley

"It is a statement that is supported by our current policy that the student has no jurisdiction here that it is off campus," Hubbard said. "We are asking if that's what he is saying."

THE NUCUS of the task force is, in fact, the creation of how much jurisdiction the UI should have over incidents of student violence, according to UI senior and task force member Joe Vogt. "The university as a community extends beyond the borders of the campus," Vogt said. "But the only thing that's left is a responsibility to look into it."

The university is in the role to impose and rehabilitate those who commit crimes, Vogt said, which is not a role that is as a number of the university community - that's certainly going to be detrimental to their progress as a student," he said.

BUT HUBBARD, Miller, Vogt and Burks agree it's important to keep an eye on the Smiley case.

"Certainly the Smiley case is the one that brought these issues to the forefront," Burks said. "But the role of athletes acquiring a student on all campuses. "Athletes are sort of in this weird place because when they are brought in by the university for this business," Burks said. "When they are brought in there are certain responsibilities of the university to take care of athletes, and also doing justice in their role in campus."

Hubbard said it's important not to look into the case "as a number," but rather as a number of issues that are being raised in the past year. "It's important not to focus only on the issue of student violence and the role of athletes," she said. "We need to look into the role of athletes in the past year and how they have operated the machine."

Hawks hammer Wisconsin, 103-70

Underclassmen shine in seniors' farewell game

By Marc Bona

The Daily Iowan

The Iowa Hawkeyes jumped to an early lead and never looked back in an 103-70 victory over Wisconsin on Friday at Carver-Hawkeye Arena. The final game of the 1987-88 season in Carver-Hawkeye Arena was an emotional one for seniors Greg Stokes and Scott Wiggin.

The Hawkeyes started the game with a 10-0 run and never looked back from there. Wisconsin never really had a chance to compete with Iowa, as the Hawkeyes dominated the game from start to finish.

Stokes led the Hawkeyes in scoring with 25 points, while Wiggin had 20 points and 10 rebounds.

Armstrong tops 1,000 points

By Scott Wiggin

The Daily Iowan

Scott Armstrong scored 25 points in Iowa's 103-70 win over Wisconsin on Friday, becoming the school's all-time leading scorer with 1,000 points.

Armstrong, a senior guard, has been a key player for the Hawkeyes in recent years. He has been consistent in his scoring and has helped lead the team to multiple conference titles.

In addition to his scoring, Armstrong has also been a solid rebounder and playmaker for the Hawkeyes. He has been a key part of the team's success in recent years.

Iowa crushes Drake netters

By Hugh Burton

Iowa Coach Keith Schilling said, "The meet is in effect a mini-Big Ten. One thing we've worked on here just as much as with the girls is the singles. We've tried to concentrate on making sure they are ready.

"We've been working on that, and I think they are up to that."" The Hawkeye coach added that this year's Drake was the first time the Big Ten had a fully developed schedule for women's tennis and that he was "very pleased" with the way his team had performed.

Women's Tennis

The Hawkeyes earned victories in each of the six matches, including doubles and singles matches. In the Big Ten Championships, Iowa had two players listed on the all-Big Ten team.

Men's Swimming

In the 50-meter freestyle race, Iowa's Chuck Tew was first with a time of 29.3 seconds. Iowa's Willard defeated the Bulldog's mandatory four-month freeze-out period. Iowa had little trouble with Drake's top four swimmers.

Bay Area goes ahead with '96 Olympic plans

United Press International

OAKLAND, Calif. — The world's largest sportswear company, Nike Inc., said Wednesday it will continue to support the Bay Area's bid for the 1996 Olympic Games.

"We have two goals," said Nike President Peter Moore, "first to win the bid, and second, if we win, to help make the games a success." Nike has been a leading supporter of the Bay Area's Olympic bid for several years.

Iowa

NCAA tournament rules will go into effect on Sunday, March 13. A win on Sunday would send Iowa to the second round of the NCAA tournament. No. 1 seed Iowa will play the No. 4 seed in the first round at the Carver-Hawkeye Arena.

$3 award on appeal won’t resurrect USFL

New York—The U.S. Federal Court of Claims awarded a $3 award to a former USFL player who appealed a 1983 decision granting the USFL monopoly status.

The appeal was filed by the late Robert Schaefer, who claimed the USFL had violated antitrust laws by monopolizing the professional football league.

The court ruled that the USFL had a valid monopoly, but awarded Schaefer $3 for his legal fees.

The Wall' remains a cult classic
By Locke Peterson
The Daily Iowan

was a star on more stages this weekend as the Agor Theater presented the Closing Night of "The Wall" directed by Steven Spielberg and starring Jack Nicholson.

The Wall, a rock opera by Pink Floyd, was originally conceived in 1979 as part of their "The Wall" tour. It tells the story of a man who is trapped in a world of his own making.

The play was adapted into a film in 1982, directed by Alan Parker, and starring Bob Geldof as the character. The film was released in theaters worldwide and became a cult classic.

The Wall continues to be performed live by various rock bands, including Pink Floyd and Queen.

SO WHAT does "The Wall" mean? It could be that every 15- to 20-year-old finds something to relate to in "The Wall". Whether it's about finding your way in the world, discovering your identity, or just being afraid of being left behind.

But what if it's not just a story about being left behind? What if it's about being left behind by the system, by society, by your own dreams?

David Gilmour, one of the founders of Pink Floyd, said in an interview that the song was about "the feeling of being lost, the feeling of being in the wrong place at the wrong time, the feeling of being trapped, the feeling of being stuck"

The Wall was released in 1979 and has been one of the most successful rock albums of all time. It has sold over 30 million copies worldwide and is considered one of the greatest rock albums of all time.

The Wall continues to be performed live by various rock bands, including Pink Floyd and Queen.

THE JOFFREY BALLET PRESENTS:

The New York quartet '80 revolutionary dance company comes to the University of Iowa March 14 and 15. Their full-length evening is based on a double bill. Their piece "Bertolucci" is a depiction of Bertolucci's epic "The Last Emperor," a film of epic proportions. The piece opens with a scene similar to the opening of the film, "The Last Emperor." The continuity is maintained throughout the entire piece, and the piece is based on the lives of the Chinese emperors, particularly the last emperor, Pu Yi. Pu Yi's life as a child, his life as a prisoner, and his eventual transformation from emperor to commoner are all depicted in the piece. The piece is a powerful depiction of the life of the Chinese emperors, and it is a must-see for anyone interested in dance and history.

The Joffrey Ballet is a world-renowned dance company that has been in existence since 1953. They have performed in some of the world's most prestigious venues, and their pieces are known for their innovation and creativity. The Joffrey Ballet's production of "The Last Emperor" is a testament to their ability to create powerful and moving works of art.

Tickets for the performance are available online at www.joffreyballet.com or by phone at 1-800-854-TIXX. The performance is rated PG-13 and is not recommended for children under the age of 10. The performance is on March 14 and 15 at 8:00 PM at the University of Iowa's Hancher Auditorium.
