Iowa Legislature wraps up long session

By Bill Brubar

The Iowa Legislature adjourned at 1:02 a.m. today, after wrapping up a 90-day session that will be remembered for the hard-fought battle over the Indiana Gulch dike project.

The adjournment followed a marathon session that lasted until after 2 a.m., when the House passed final approval of a bill allowing insurance companies to administer the dike project in the history-spinging speech.

"It's wrong to be saying Dike is the kiss of death," he said.

EARLIER SUNDAY, both houses again filed final approval to a comprehensive, $5.36 million, holiday-sponsored bill to limit dike projects in Southeast Iowa. The bill was approved on a voice vote, with no discussion, in the House.

The bill will be sent to the Governor, who has 10 days to sign or veto the bill. If he signs it, the bill will become law.

About 30 people took off from the starting line of the 1st edition of the First Annual Iowa Justice Run on Saturday in Cedar Rapids, and the race will be held with a new course.

The race will be held on the city's 150th anniversary, and will be held on the 10th anniversary of the race.

Government will check Continental

By Jean Gellin

WASHINGTON — In another move to beef up the nation's computer network, the federal government announced Saturday that it will make safety checks on all of Continental Air's computers.

The checks are part of the federal government's efforts to improve the safety of the nation's airline industry.

"We want to make sure that the airline industry is not putting people's lives in jeopardy," said Federal Aviation Administration head James Burns.

"We have had Continental under very intensive scrutiny for the past 10 months," Burns said in a statement. "We have been working closely with the FAA to ensure that all safety measures are in place and that the airline industry is up to par."

The FAA's investigation is expected to last for several months, and may include the company's computer systems.

While the FAA investigation is still ongoing, the agency is also considering the possibility of a ban on Continental's flights.

"The FAA is very concerned about the safety of Continental's operations," Burns said. "We will continue to monitor the airline and will take action if necessary."

County approves rezoning of site for waste plant

By Sara Anderson

Johnson County approved a rezoning request for an imaginable site for a waste plant in the Cedar River Valley, which could begin this summer.

The new facility will be located on a levee and will include a waste-water plant, which will be built in two phases.

According to the Johnson County Land Use Department, the project will be a major improvement for the area and will help reduce pollution in the Cedar River.

"It's a win-win situation," said County Administrator John Hennepin. "This will help reduce pollution in the river and provide jobs for the community."

UI groups sponsor events on Nicaragua, South Africa

By Cathy Jackson

The Daily Iowan

Two UI student groups will sponsor activities this week that highlight issues about environmental conservation and world trade. The Central American Solidarity Project and the UI Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity will both sponsor events Wednesday, April 25.

The Central American Solidarity Project will hold its second annual Honduras Week events this week. The group, which will hold events until Saturday, April 28, will feature guest speaker Keyan Tomaselli. The group will also host a screening of documentaries, a raffle and a silent auction.

Tomaselli, a visiting professor from the University of Natal in South Africa, will speak Wednesday about "Economic and Political Effects of Apartheid in South Africa." The presentation is scheduled for 7 p.m. in Old Biology Building, Room 10.

"We want to demonstrate to the student body and the University of Iowa community about a variety of issues that are woven into the issues of apartheid," Tomaselli said. "We hope to go to this problem from a variety of angles in a variety of ways." Also, there will be a screening of documentaries Wednesday night and a by-the-week silent auction. The silent auction will include a variety of lectures as well as several documentaries.

Iraq launches surprise offensive in Kuwait

By Patrick E. Tyler
Washington Post

KUWAIT—Iraq launched a surprise attack on the southern oil fields of Iraq and Saudi Arabia early Monday, sending an estimated 25,000 troops into the area.

The assault was the largest military action by Iraq since the Gulf War of 1990-91 and came just days after the end of the United Nations-imposed embargo on Iraq.

The attack was carried out in response to allegations by the United States and other Western countries that Iraq was developing weapons of mass destruction.

Iraq has denied these allegations and has called the embargo illegal.

The attack is likely to bring an immediate response from the United States and its allies, who have been increasing their military presence in the region.

The attack is also likely to increase tensions in the region and could lead to a wider conflict.

Iraq's military has been building up its forces in recent months and has been conducting large-scale exercises.

The United Nations has called for an immediate ceasefire and for a return to negotiations.

Iraq's military has said it will not accept a ceasefire and will continue to attack until its demands are met.
Justified grounding

Poindexter, who was a key member of the Reagan administration's Iran-Contra task force and later served as the director of the Central Intelligence Agency, was accused of having knowledge of the funding of the contras in 1986.

The case against Poindexter, who was convicted last week of two criminal charges in the Iran-Contra affair, was based on his involvement in the diversion of proceeds from the sale of arms to Afghanistan to the contras in Nicaragua.

Poindexter was convicted of two counts of conspiracy to defraud the United States and one count of making false statements to Congress.

The trial, which lasted more than two months, was one of the most high-profile cases related to the Iran-Contra affair.

Poindexter's conviction came as a surprise to many, given the fact that he had already been subject to a number of investigations and scandals related to his role in the administration.

The case against Poindexter was brought by the Justice Department, which had been investigating the Iran-Contra affair for several years.

Poindexter's defense team argued that he had no knowledge of the diversion of proceeds from the sale of arms to Afghanistan to the contras in Nicaragua.

The jury, however, found that Poindexter had knowledge of the funding of the contras and that he had participated in the conspiracy to defraud the United States.

Poindexter's conviction has been widely seen as a significant blow to the reputation of the Reagan administration and as a victory for the Justice Department.

Poindexter's conviction has also set an important precedent for future investigations into the Iran-Contra affair, as it establishes a clear link between the White House and the diversion of proceeds from the sale of arms to Afghanistan to the contras in Nicaragua.

Poindexter is scheduled to be sentenced on December 16 and faces a maximum sentence of 20 years in prison.

Dukakis wins in Arizona, widens lead over Jackson

By Jeffrey F. Shain
United Press International

PHOENIX - Massachusetts Gov. Michael Dukakis widened his lead for Democratic presidential nod Sunday with an easy victory in the Arizona primary, accompanied by strong enough momentum to give him a lead in the delegate count over his main rival, former U.S. Sen. Gary Hart.

The final tally of Saturday's voting showed Dukakis with 44 percent of the ballots cast to be in stark contrast to the expected turncoat, which was far from a landslide.

Dukakis secured 23,418 votes in the presidential preference primary followed by Jackson with 12,538 and Sen. Albert Gore Jr., D-Tenn., a distant third with 3,107 votes.

That Left Dukakis with 42 of the state's 53 delegates who are up for grab, with Jackson taking the remaining 14. Gore will take one for the superdelegates, those Democratic state party rules designate unbound to the states whose vote is less than 3 percent of the state's total.

"This was a very important state to us, in terms of the number of delegates, and the importance of the support of the party in that state," said Dukakis campaign spokesman, Bob Ai-Wazir. "I think it's a very important momentum going into the New York vote."

The votes of Jackson's gains were offset by Dukakis nearly taking one of Jackson's primary strongholds, the Phoenix suburb of Tempe, which includes Arizona State University.

"In Tempe, Jackson won by about 25 votes, and that was where Jackson's organizers were," said Sen. Gtede, the state Democratic chairman. "They expected a much, much stronger showing than they got."

Also at this time, President Gerald Ford, Republican McWherter said Saturday, "I personally think they'll be in a position to be back in the convention."

"I think it would be wrong for the super-delegates who are elected by the party hierarchy rather than by you - to deny Jackson the support he needs to win," said Ford.

"They're, of course, trying to outnumber us in the convention," said Ford. "I think it would be wrong for the super-delegates who are elected by the party hierarchy rather than by you - to deny Jackson the support he needs to win," said Ford.

Hawks drop 4 games to Illinois

By Eric Illing
The Daily Iowan

Of all the present Iowa basketball coaches, Chuck Dooley would find it hard to believe that the Hawkeyes have yet to complete a four-game sweep by Illinois. This was not among the decisions that he has made in his tenure as the Hawkeyes' head coach.

The most drastic change in the Hawkeye lineup has been the loss of Horace Rodden. Rodden, who scored 23 points in the Big Ten over the weekend as the Hawkeyes dropped to 16-17 in the Big Ten, is one of the team's most valuable performers.

Baseball

Having some positive feelings, he doesn't know.

"I don't know what we're going to do from day to day," Banks said. "The Hawkeyes learned their lesson in a 16-17 overall and 4-6 in Big Ten."

The Iowa-Missouri series was won by the Tigers, 3-2, after winning 2-1, 9-4, 3-2, in the finale. The Hawkeyes are now 15-28 overall.

Lincoln, Neb. — The final day of the NCAA men's gymnastics meet was the biggest story. The Iowa men, who had been preparing for the meet for three days, were able to advance to the national championships.

After winning the team title, the Hawkeyes then faced off against the University of Michigan and Ohio State in the final round.

"I'm happy with what we've got," said Joe Thome of Iowa. "I wasn't pleased with my score; I wasn't happy with my routine. But I'm still happy that we were able to score a 9.8 and get fourth place.

"I'll be happy," said Thome. "I was happy with what I got. I went out and hit all my skills. I could have done a bit better, but I came out of the routine feeling good."

Iowa skid grows to nine matches

By Bill LeMay

The Daily Iowan

Iowa senior right-hander Jodi Brown is looking forward to this weekend's Big Ten weekend. Brown's 1-0 record was earned last season against TCU, and she is excited to face another conference team.

"This is my last year, so I'm trying to make sure I go out with a bang," Brown said. "I'm looking forward to this weekend because we have a lot of good teams coming in, and I want to make sure I pitch well against them."

Kollsmith leads linksters to 7th-place finish at Ohio State

By Hugh Donovan

Deans Golf team has it.

If there is such a thing as the Kentucky golf team, the Blue

Hills golf team has it. That's the way it was as the Blue

Hills team entered the Bluegrass Junior Invitational this past weekend from April 10-11 and the two teams, along with four other teams, shot rounds of 264 to win the Bluegrass Junior

Invitational. Twenty-nine teams from throughout the state were in the tournament.

"We're very pleased with the win," Kollsmith said. "We've been working hard all season and this is the first chance to show it.

We're very pleased with the way we've been playing and this is a good indication of where we stand.

The winning Bluegrass Junior Invitational team carded a

18-under-par 126 in the second round at Keeneland to win by two strokes over the second-place team.

The team consisted of senior Mike Kollsmith, junior Jamie

Kollsmith and junior Ken McCallum. The team had a score of 295, which is 12-under-par.

The Bluegrass Junior Invitational was the first tournament of the season for the Blue Hills golf team.

BOYTON — An Ethiopian in Boston and an Ethiopian from Rhode Island have combined to make a world's record or meet a simple victory move closer to reality for Boston's Boston Marathon.

Rhode Islander Dave Di Nezza, who ran this year's Boston Marathon in 2:09:50, is the same man who ran in 2:10:05 in 1986 and was the winner of the Ethiopian marathon in 1986.

The marathon was run in favor of the upcoming Olympic Games, and the field here is organized mainly by Europeans, many seeking to make their own Olympic Olympic Games.

They include: Juma Ikangaa, Zakariah Barie, Hafid Khalf, and Gidami and Harouel. Most of the other runners entering the Boston Marathon are from the United States, many seeking to make their own Olympic Olympic Games.

The women's division, Mary, last year's Boston marathoner, is entered in Boston but there is no certainty that she will run.

Sorry, you TV addicts...

Our TV friends are somewhere in the mud, so don't go hunting through the paper or you'll look like a dot. Besides, you'll get run over all over your body.

Anyway, if you really want to watch what's showing, carry today and tonight, go to QuickTrip. 9p through the TV Guide and pretend not to notice the scantily clad models on the covers of other magazines in the rack.

But if you're lucky, and the syndicate deafness message to address, 9p and stamp an envelope without an error, expect TV Today in tomorrow's DL.

TOO BAD SHE DIDN'T KNOW WHAT TO DO.

Too bad she didn't know that 9 out of 10 sexually active women, not using contraception, will be pregnant by the end of one year.* That includes those who thought it was a "safe" time of the month, who didn't want to ruin the moment, didn't want to see a doctor.

And those relying on the effectiveness of a last minute prayer.

If you could imagine a method of contraception without the interruption of the diaphragm, the mandatory office visit required by the Pill, and the mess of some other methods, you might be able to imagine using it. Consistently.

The Today® Contraceptive Sponge. The safe, effective, over-the-counter contraceptive that doesn't get in the way of your love life.

Use it. Because birth control is more than just a really good idea. It's a fact of life.
