Beach' offers sun, fun

By Cathy Jackson

The Daily Iowan

Iowa City (AP) — It's been a busy week for tourists and the local community. The popular beachfront has been bustling with activity as visitors enjoy the warm weather and the beautiful scenery.

Formerly known as 'The End of the World,' the beachfront now sports a new name: 'Beach.' Local officials hope the new name will attract even more visitors.

Five bands playing diverse tunes from the 1980s to present day kept the crowd hopping the last day of the festival.

‘Beach’ offers sun, fun

The festival featured a variety of music, from pop to rock, as well as food and drink options for all tastes.

Regents OK final UI education budget

President to get $13,000 salary increase

By James Casy

The Daily Iowan

The University of Iowa Board of Regents approved the final general education budget for the fiscal year 1989, increasing the salary of the university president by $13,000.

The budget includes funding for the construction of a new dormitory, the renovation of an existing building, and the purchase of new equipment.

Steam power costs cool at chilled water plant

By Paula Reisser

The Daily Iowan

The University of Iowa's chilled water plant, which provides cooling for the campus, has been seeing a decrease in energy costs due to the installation of new equipment.

The new equipment includes a variable-speed chiller, which allows the system to operate at lower speeds when demand is low, resulting in energy savings.

Democrats assemble in Atlanta

Atlanta (AP) — Michael Dukakis, former Massachusetts governor and Democratic presidential candidate, arrived in Atlanta for the Democratic National Convention. Dukakis is expected to address the convention on Monday night.

The convention is expected to draw a large crowd, with many political leaders and activists in attendance.

Role models?

A blatant case of sexual harassment goes before Polk County District Court today when Deborah Lynch decries the city of Des Moines as being too lenient in its handling of sexual discrimination.

William Polk, the city's police majors officer, claims that other female officers were subjected to derogatory sexual comments by police officers. Lynch also charges that her attempts to stop the harassment were unsuccessful.

One of the issues the Polk County District Court will address today is whether the city of Des Moines is also responsible for the harassment to Lynch's female co-workers. The court will attempt to determine whether the harassing practices were pervasive and in a regular and equal manner, or not.

Lynch, as a result of women testimony by the officers, is requesting that the harassment cease. She claims that the harassment was beyond reasonable.

The statements from these supposed community role models are not only an isolated case. It would be interesting to hear his and other female officers subjected to derogatory sexual discrimination.

One of the issues the Polk County District Court will address today is whether the city of Des Moines is also responsible for the harassment to Lynch's female co-workers. The court will attempt to determine whether the harassing practices were pervasive and in a regular and equal manner, or not.

How Mike Dukakis handles Jesse Jackson over the next few days will depend on the results of the first ballot of a Dukakis presidency. And on the eve of the 1988 Democratic National Convention, Jackson's presence at the party unity is eroded to a Democratic victory in November.

On June 26, aides of President Reagan told reporters that the pressure applied by Jackson, Dukakis demonstrated presidential and proved to himself the threat of the special interest. Dukakis has said that he and his party leaders have talked to the Jackson campaign.

No formal endorsement of the 1988 presidential ticket was issued. But as sure as the "Jackson campaign" will say, the Jackson campaign said that it was the same as the presidential campaign.

Dukakis' message is simple: Come to the field and show your support for the Dukakis-Bentsen ticket.

NAMES quilt honors AIDS victims

By Sara Langenberg

A 15-inch square quilt is a tribute to AIDS victims and their loved ones. The NAMES Project National AIDS Memorial Quilt, a traveling exhibit, opens at the Iowa City Public Library this week for a one-day stop.

The quilt is a memorial to some 3,029 people who have died of AIDS and is the largest AIDS memorial in the United States. It was started in 1987 by the NAMES Project Foundation of San Francisco, a nonprofit organization. It features one square for each AIDS-related death in the United States.

The quilt is a part of a 15-city tour the NAMES Project is taking as a way to bring attention to the victims of AIDS. The quilt is made up of squares identifying AIDS victims. Each square features the victim’s name, date of birth, date of death, and a personal message from the victim or loved ones.

The quilt has been displayed in many places, and it is now being displayed in Iowa City.

Governor inspects tornado damage to Council Bluffs

Iowa Governor Robert D. Ray, at left, and Tom Allender, chairman of the Union County Emergency Management Board, examine damage to public buildings after a tornado hit Council Bluffs, Iowa.

The storm that struck Council Bluffs on Monday evening, May 26, 1986, was one of the most destructive tornadoes in Iowa history. It caused widespread damage and left many people homeless.

The tornado was a category F5, the highest rating on the Enhanced Fujita Scale. It was estimated to have winds of up to 300 miles per hour, making it one of the most powerful tornadoes ever recorded in the United States.

The storm caused extensive damage to homes, businesses, and public buildings. It also claimed seven lives and injured hundreds of people.

The Governor and other state officials visited the areas affected by the tornado to assess the damage and provide assistance to those affected.

Shuttle gas leak may delay first-Post-Challenger launch

By Carol Cauterberry

NASA is facing a decision whether to delay the launch of the space shuttle Discovery, scheduled for Friday, because of a gas leak near the orbiter.

The gas leak was discovered during a routine inspection of the space shuttle's gas system. The leak is believed to be coming from a valve that controls the flow of propellant.

The decision to delay the launch will be made by NASA officials, who are expected to announce their decision on Saturday.

If the launch is delayed, it will be the third delay of the mission, which was originally scheduled to launch on May 21. The previous delays were caused by technical issues and bad weather.

The space shuttle Discovery is scheduled to carry the Kepler spacecraft, which will search for planets around other stars.

Atlanta police cut supremacists

ATLANTA (AP) — Police deterred a "blood in the streets" march and rally by white supremacists Sunday after beleaguered officials used riot shields to repel a group of 150 armed men and thousands of hecklers.

The leader of the white supremacist group, the Nationalist Movement, later was taken into protective custody by police. There was frequent shoving and scuffling between the groups but no reports of violence or injuries outside the Georgia state Capitol, where the opposing groups gathered on the 40th anniversary of the Democratic National Convention. The Nationalist Movement was reported as having been" fixed to end at Washington Avenue, separated by police at one end.

An American flag and a Confederate flag were burned in the street as dozens of reporters looked on. Firecrackers popped and the area was a hostile, angry, nasty confrontation, was taken into protective custody when he entered the test zone. The entire Georgia State Park system was on alert. Police separated the two groups when they entered the test zone.

A small group of his backers tried to block the area that was the pre-1960s non-Caucasian "ghetto" area.

7 records fall in 26-inning game

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) - At least seven Texas League records were broken Sunday in a 5-3 victory by the San Antonio Missions over the Amarillo Dukes in a 26-inning game that took three days to play.

The teams played more than 7 hours Thursday night and less than 2 hours and 29 minutes Friday morning, completing 26 innings in a marathon that lasted 2 hours and 29 minutes. The game was postponed Thursday in San Antonio to Saturday.

"I've been on this kind of a game," said Manager Tucker Ashford of the New York Mets.

"It's a long game," he added. "But if you have to play one, you'd rather be the winning team." Ashford, who also managed the Missions in 1977, said the game was the longest in league history.

The Missions won their fifth game in six days and moved into first place in the West Division. The Dukes fell to 1-5 in their last six games.

The Missions scored two runs in the ninth inning, but the Dukes tied the game with two home runs in the 10th.

Swapping stories of Henry B

LADYFORD, England - In his 24th year, Henry B's had no hope in catching Thomas, who shot a 72 on Friday.

Thomas, had no hope in catching Henry, who shot a 69.

Henry was once forced to that his nearest pursuer, Dave, was chasing him.

And yet another time when some kind of expression had to be made.

"No, there's no reason why you can't do anything," said Henry on the air.

"Well, I'll just do it," said Henry.

Henry was always a popular figure because he never said anything.

"Mary, I shall be back at the British Open," said Henry.

"Oh, we're going to have a party," said Henry.

"Just what is it that you're doing, Mr. Skinner?" said Henry.

"I'm just doing it," said Henry.

"It's all right," said Henry.

"Well, I'm just doing it," said Henry.
