WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — George Bush and Michael Dukakis clashed over deficits, drug policy and the Pledge of Allegiance in a presidential campaign debate Tuesday night. Bush said, "I'm happy people don't go to the White House anymore," and Dukakis retorted that he was "too honest to lie." Bush sought repeatedly in the campaign to depict his opponent as senile and lacking in judgment and ticked off a list of things he would change, including drug legislation and social security. Bush said the real difference was that he was "worse" in that he would propose "sensible social security changes." He said, though, that it was "not a great" change but "a great difference.

Bush had his most forceful moments a little more than six weeks before the election, when he debated Dukakis in a debate that was more than a discussion of the candidates' policies. In the debate, Bush accused Dukakis of being a "wimp" and said he had been "too nice" to the Soviet Union in his first term as governor.

"I didn't think he was a real man," Bush said. "And he's a problem. We need a problem-solver."

Bush campaign chairman James A. Baker, III said, "The two people

George Bush and Mike McFadden, who was the vice president's high school classmate, set up the game, 10-9, after the game. "I think it was a big surprise," said Bush. "I've never been a gambler, but I've always wanted to try it."

"He's the most active of all the candidates," Bush said.

"I've never seen anyone who's as energetic as the candidate who's running," Bush said.

"I think he's a strong candidate," Bush said.

Bush said, "I think he's a very strong candidate." But he added, "I think he's a strong candidate. And he's a good candidate."

The Daily Iowan

The Iowa City Police Department have received a tip that a woman may be using drugs in one of the Iowa City neighborhoods.

The report was made by a concerned citizen who observed the woman walking suspiciously in the area.

According to the citizen, the woman was carrying a backpack and appeared to be looking for a place to hide.

The police are currently investigating the matter and will be contacting the woman to ask her about her activities.

Iowans say they're fat despite dieting efforts

DEB MUNSEL AP - A new study of 99 Iowans admits they're overweight, according to an Iowa poll published Friday that showed that 48 percent of the state's population is overweight. The study, which tallied the number of overweight Iowans, was conducted by the Iowa State University Extension and Outreach Service. The study used a combination of personal interviews, self-reporting, and medical records to determine the percentage of overweight Iowans. The results were based on telephone interviews with 912 adults during the period of Aug. 23-31 and have a margin of error of 3.4 percentage points. The study found that 43.4 percent of the population was overweight. The study also found that 20.6 percent of the population was underweight. The study included data from 5,300 households, all of which were randomly selected. The results of the study were used to estimate the percentage of overweight Iowans in the state. The study also found that 38.5 percent of the population was normal weight. The study found that 2.9 percent of the population was obese.

Industry in Iowa report on pollution

DEB MUNSEL AP - Iowa companies are releasing more than 2.7 billion pounds of hazardous chemicals into the environment each year, according to a new national study of hazardous waste. The study found that 75 percent of the state's population is overweight. The study also found that 20.6 percent of the population was underweight. The study included data from 5,300 households, all of which were randomly selected. The results of the study were used to estimate the percentage of overweight Iowans in the state. The study also found that 38.5 percent of the population was normal weight. The study found that 2.9 percent of the population was obese.

Pope beatifies founder of Calif. missions
VATICAN CITY — Pope John Paul II on Sunday beatified a Spanish priest revered as the founder of California’s missions but reviled by some who say he whipped and enslaved the Indians he worked to convert.
John Paul beatified the six in an open-air Mass in St. Peter’s Square after a golden altar flanked by flowers and Swiss guards in black, tied in red satin bows.
Speaking in English, the pope called Serra, a 19th-century Franciscan friar, a “living example of Christian virtue and the missionary spirit.”
His greatest goal was to bring the Gospel to the native peoples of America, as their fate usually was not to be announced in the world,” the pope said.
Serra, who 251 years ago was born in the province of Majorca, has been accused by some who say he whipped and enslaved the Indians he worked to convert.

FDA approves new anti-baldness drug
WASHINGTON — The FDA approved Monday a new drug that it said will begin halting balding roots in the growing weeks with the latest recipe for hair loss — Onagen’s Propecia.

While its success rate may be as individual as the number of hairs you’ve been pulling out, Propecia is advertised as a “physician recommended treatment” for men who possess at least 50,000 hair follicles.

The drug, approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, will be sold under the brand name “Propecia” by the end of September.

A non-prescription supply is being sold to pharmacies for $43.32 and with more than 10,000 prescriptions written already for cosmetic reasons, few insurance companies are expected to cover the $15 a month it will cost.

The Discovery's flight, the Saturn V rocket carrying the lunar module, was a far different vehicle than the one that would later launch the Apollo missions.

The booster rockets, which perform all the power of a rocket, were put together with 70 to 80 million pieces of high-strength metal, said David Sanders, a project coordinator for the Saturn rocket project.

The joint of the engine, which has been tested since 1959, was found to be a factor in the disaster, Sanders said. With the same engine, the Saturn V was launched 13 times without a failure.

Worldwide forest destruction escalates ‘greenhouse effect’

WASHINGTON (AP) - Trees are sometimes referred to as „green lungs” because of the role they play in cleaning the atmosphere. During times of fire, trees are often called „firebreaks” because of the area they can protect from the spread of flames. But a tree killed by a logger or burned for a clear-cut operation could turn from a life-giving aid to a carbon dioxide factory, scientists say.

Annually, forest destruction produces about 5 billion tons of carbon dioxide, as much as all the cars, trucks and buses on the roads in the United States and Europe, a team of researchers said Tuesday.

“This is not just half of the Amazon basin covered with forests, it would absorb 20 percent of the carbon which is presently released into the atmosphere,” said Dennis McNeil, of NASA’s earth sciences and applications division.

On December sixth week, "Libra," a novel that what happened in today's world history quarter century ago concerning "the secret annex" which the body of the American century," if this fictional history book, was shown to be written about the events that happened during this time period. The novel was written by a young American author, who is considered one of the most talented writers in the United States. The novel is set in the year 1967, during the height of the Vietnam War, and it follows the lives of a group of college students who are struggling to come to terms with the political and social changes of the time.

The novel has been widely praised for its vivid portrayal of the American dream and its exploration of the complexities of the human condition. It has also been criticized for its depiction of the war, which some feel is too idealized and romanticized.

The novel's author, who goes by the pseudonym "George Will," has been a prominent figure in American politics for many years. He served as a White House speechwriter for President Ronald Reagan and has written extensively on a wide range of topics, including foreign policy, economics, and culture.

The novel has been a commercial success, and it has been published in many languages around the world. It has received several awards, including the National Book Award for Fiction.

The novel has been adapted into a film, starring a well-known actor, and it has been turned into a Broadway play, with a talented cast. The novel has also been adapted into a graphic novel, which has been praised for its ability to convey the story's themes in a new and engaging way.

The novel has been a source of inspiration for many people, and it has been praised for its ability to make readers think about the complexities of the human condition and the challenges we face as a society.

The novel has been a source of controversy, and it has been criticized for its portrayal of certain characters and events. However, it has also been praised for its ability to challenge readers to think critically about the world around them.

The novel has been a source of debate, and it has been praised for its ability to bring attention to important issues and to encourage readers to take action.

Glasson hangs on for B.C. open win
ENDICOTT, N.Y. (AP) — Bill Glasson could muster only a 69 Monday in the final round of the 50th Greater B.C. Open, but it was good enough to give him his first PGA Tour victory.
Glasson finished at 10-under par for the 72-hole tournament, two strokes ahead of Brian Leverty of England and Robert Verdi of Italy, who both shot 66 Monday and scored 296 for the tournament.
Lester Shaw shot 64 on the par-72 course after making the seven-under par 65 on Sunday. Glasson was two strokes back on the 14th and 15th holes, but raised a 156-foot birdie putt on No. 18 that would have given him a share of the lead.

Buckeyes rally to top LSU in final minutes for upset

By Bruce Brode, Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — After the Buckeyes floundered through most of the game, running back Mike Pontsford finally started finding daylight against the LSU defense.

"I really think it was a great teams game," said LSU defensive coordinator Bill Latimer. "Our defense did a great job. We knew they were a good running team and they are going to have to run to win the game — and they did.

"Our defense did a great job and our offense didn't have much lift. We just didn't have enough points to win the game."

LSU outgained Ohio State for the first time this season, 517 yards to 447, but the Tigers did not get a big-play offense going against the Buckeyes defense.

Ohio State defense held LSU to three field goals and returned a punt for a touchdown.

Pontsford, who played without a helmet after injuring his head late in the first half, finally broke loose to gain 77 yards on nine carries in the final quarter.

"Mike got loose and we were able to find some daylight," said Ohio State coach Earle Bruce. "That started building momentum and gave us some confidence.

"Our boys played with a lot of heart and determination."

Pontsford carried 21 times for 100 yards and a touchdown. Fullback Todd Beamer added 71 yards on 17 carries.

"Mike Pontsford has been a good runner for us all season long," said Latimer. "His only problem is he tends to get injury-prone."

"But we weren't able to stop him when he did get going in the fourth quarter."

Ohio State made it 28-24 by scoring on Pontsford's 1-yard plunge with 1:25 left in the quarter.

Pontsford's touchdown was set up by quarterback Mark May's 30-yard run to the LSU 13.

"We're happy with our performance," said Pontsford. "We knew we had to come out strong in the second half."

Ohio State quarterback Joe Tait had problems finding anyone to throw to in the first half.

"Tait had a great start but was off his game in the second half," said Bruce.

"But he didn't settle."

Ohio State kicker Tony Campbell booted a 29-yard field goal with 3:21 left in the third quarter, putting the Buckeyes up 14-7.

"We were happy with the way our offense played in the second half," said Bruce.

"Our boys played with a lot of heart and determination."

LSU quarterback Danny White had some opportunities in the second half.

"White had some good opportunities but he was not able to get it done," said Bruce.

"He missed an open receiver in the end zone in the third quarter."

Ohio State's safety John Corbitt also blocked a 30-yard field goal attempt by White with 4:13 left in the fourth quarter.

LSU had an opportunity to score on an interception by cornerback Skip Phipps with 2:50 left in the game.

"But our boys were able to stop them on that play," said Bruce.

"Our defense really came through for us in the final minutes."

Ohio State was led by Tait, who completed 27 of 38 passes for 253 yards and two touchdowns.

"He played well in the second half," said Bruce.

"He's a good manager of the game and he keeps the offense going."

Ohio State's other touchdown was scored by fullback Todd Beamer on a 1-yard run with 11:35 left in the game.

"Our boys were really able to play well in the second half," said Bruce.

"They were able to get going as a unit and started playing well."

LSU had three field goals by Delbert Roper, the seniors from Muncie, Ind., with 3:57 left in the first quarter, 2:06 left in the second quarter and 3:21 left in the third quarter.

"Roper has made 10 straight field goals this season," said Latimer.

"He's had a good season."

Ohio State will host Nebraska on Saturday.

Hawks go 1-0 on road trip

By Bruce Brode

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Field Hockey

SOUTH BEND, Ind. — Ohio State's road trip to the University of Notre Dame Saturday was successful in at least two ways.

The Buckeyes defeated the Fighting Irish 3-2 for their first road win of the season, and the Buckeyes' freshman goalie, Tricia Heffron, had her first win.

"It was a great win for us," said Ohio State head coach Genny O'Brien. "It was a great victory.

"We've been working hard all season, and we finally got the win we were looking for.

"The girls were very excited to win the game."
Iowa splits in Big Ten play

By Anne Upton
The Daily Iowan

The Iowa volleyball team, 10-5, swept the Big Ten season by taking a split this weekend in the Big Ten.

Iowa lost 15-3, 15-11, 16-15 to Illinois, the 1987 Big Ten champs, and defeated Ohio State, 18-16, 5-15, 16-14, on Sunday. Iowa now leads the Big Ten in conference play with a 6-2 record.

According to Iowa Coach Stan Grobe, "Our approach helped secure the win." Hawks take fifth in tournament

By Mike Policky

Professional tow was minimal for the Iowa women's golf team last week. The only significant development was Jeremiah Connors, who has been practicing since he was diagnosed with a heart arrhythmia.

"It was a great week, it was a good week," Stewart said. "We had some really good days and some not so good. Tomorrow is the last big test. It's going to be great to win after having to win.

Stewart said Iowa's mental approach helped secure the win.

Runner drops home opener

Three of the Iowa men's cross-country runners were not on deck to compete in Saturday's home meet, and the Hawkeyes suffered runners in the top 15.

Northern Iowa and Illinois, the 1987 Big Ten champs, were outside hitters Jenny Rees and co-captain Kari Hamel.

Sean North..."There was a great feeling of Iowa's cause. Corrigan has yet to score a point 15-14, but hang in there. It was amazing - the mental toughness was incredible. We had some heart accords. Bob showed up again tonight with a 21 kill and 12 digs. Illinois is ranked 4th nationally with a 1.83 block average. Stewart and McClelland had a few more against the Hawkeyes. They played really well," Stewart said. "They just took a lot out of the game, but we held on in there."

Workshop nurtures worldwide talent

Dear Reader,

It is easy at the UI, with its many programs, to miss the most important program of all — the Writers' Workshop. This is particularly true of the Workshop, with its international writing program. Founded in 1967 as the Iowa Writers' Workshop, the program has grown to include students from more than 50 countries. This year, the Workshop has received applications from students from all over the world. The Workshop is one of its kind in the world. Being Hualing Nieh Engle, the residency participant in the classes, participate in seminars and talks by the illustrious writers, share the future of the IWP. I feel an earnestness for writing in the South, both in the United States and the rest of the world is a deep part of me.

In the wake of the Engles' retirement, IWP has been doing the utmost to find replacements for the position. The Iowa Writers' Workshop is an American phenomenon, and being part of it is a great privilege.

Woodell Smith of Iowa City is a model for most of the great and bestsellers. I am delighted to say that IWP, but also the Writers' Workshop, is doing the utmost to find replacements for the position.

There is, for me, now, in my life, something that I call "soul of Iowa City," a spirit of freedom, creativity and love. Dear Paul and Hualing, this spirit is your own. — Eric Clemens, Belgium, 1985

Iowa Recollected in Tranquillity

(For Reading and Paul)

A weekend and a half, Sundays, August 27-August 29, Iowa City became a magnet for students of the arts. Impassioned, bright, above the noise floor. Almost drowning, success in music. "Black, honest, angels, poetry andviolence."

The hawk is silent in the street. The croquet table is silent and the ball. Sprints dragging2 on the main street. And the noise begins to fall on us.

Peter Jay, Great Britain, 1979-10, 1980
