Hospice sets fund-raising record

By Heather Mekel

The winds were up and the temperature was down, but that didn't stop a record $10,000 of donations being received for the hospice fund at the end of the Hospice 10K run/walk. And the hospice set a record in the amount of money raised for the first time in its history, raising $3,125,000, based on an unprojected number of participants and a record-breaking amount of money raised for the Iowa Hospice Race in 1987.

Races early Sunday morning in Iowa City. Pauley, 42, participated in the half-marathon competition.

“Iowans face rising threat of AIDS virus”

By Kathleen Bell

The number of reported AIDS patients may not reflect the potential need for health care or the number of cases with the virus. As a result, the latest survey results from the Johnson County Health Office are creating a buzz around the community and concern for the future.

Larner said, “We have to worry about how many people are infected with the virus. In fact, only a small percentage of people with the virus develop symptoms. More attention has to be focused on the healthcare community and gay men because a large number of potential patients could develop the disease. These initiatives are calculated by testing one week of random HIV screening on the same day. People who test positive for the virus or are HIV-infected are to report the results to the state. Kansas does not wish AIDS to be used as a death certificate, because of possible interpretations of privacy issues.”

Larner said, “We do have AIDS in Iowa and it’s critical that we have as many people as possible here, but we can’t have the sticks that they hand in the hand.” The year has been in mourning for many, and many want to know about that — what are we doing to continue to grow? Larson added.

Larner continued, “Iowa is a national leader in the fight against AIDS, so we are working with the federal government to ensure that this is a national priority and that we are not over-estimating the numbers. The most recent survey results are to be reported by the state Department of Health and Human Services.”

Larner said, “We do have AIDS in Iowa and it’s critical that we have as many people as possible here, but we can’t have the sticks that they hand in the hand.” The year has been in mourning for many, and many want to know about that — what are we doing to continue to grow? Larson added.

Larner continued, “Iowa is a national leader in the fight against AIDS, so we are working with the federal government to ensure that this is a national priority and that we are not over-estimating the numbers. The most recent survey results are to be reported by the state Department of Health and Human Services.”

Larner said, “We do have AIDS in Iowa and it’s critical that we have as many people as possible here, but we can’t have the sticks that they hand in the hand.” The year has been in mourning for many, and many want to know about that — what are we doing to continue to grow? Larson added.

You’ve likely seen ads for advertised awards and extra tickets available because I really think the fact that we have a 4-week-old and a 9-year-old in a vision — anyone you can run, walk, shoot, or fire pellets, award for oldest participant. A

Further research broadens definition of physical fitness

By Kevin Quigley

Our society used to be relatively sedentary, with children spending most of their time outdoors and engaging in physical activity. However, today’s sedentary lifestyle has led to increased rates of obesity and chronic diseases. Therefore, the World Health Organization (WHO) has recommended that adults and children engage in regular physical activity to maintain good health.

Exercise has been shown to improve cardiovascular health, reduce the risk of chronic diseases, and increase life expectancy. However, the benefits of physical activity are not limited to physical health. Exercise has also been shown to improve mental health, reduce stress, and enhance cognitive function.

Physical activity guidelines recommend engaging in at least 150 minutes of moderate-intensity aerobic activity or 75 minutes of vigorous-intensity aerobic activity per week, along with muscle-strengthening activities on two or more days per week. These guidelines are based on the latest research and evidence indicating that regular physical activity can promote health and reduce the risk of chronic diseases.

In summary, regular physical activity is essential for maintaining good health and preventing chronic diseases. Therefore, it is important to incorporate physical activity into our daily routines and encourage others to do the same. The benefits of exercise are numerous and far-reaching, and the more active we are, the healthier we will be.

Kidnappers issue demands for return of U.S. hostages

JERUSALEM, Lebanon—Kidnappers
holding American hostages announced five demands for their release, offerings of the United States pay a price for the elusive "holy war," but the situation is not new. It was the╬

was the Western craze that swept the Arab world, prompting a frenzy of activity and enthusiasm among youth groups and individuals.

Kidnappers issued demands for the return of U.S. hostages in a video released on Friday, demanding the release of four American hostages being held in Lebanon, Turkey, and Jordan, among others. The demands include the release of four American hostages being held in Lebanon, Turkey, and Jordan, among others.

Kidnappers issued demands for the return of U.S. hostages in a video released on Friday, demanding the release of four American hostages being held in Lebanon, Turkey, and Jordan, among others. The demands include the release of four American hostages being held in Lebanon, Turkey, and Jordan, among others.

Kidnappers issued demands for the return of U.S. hostages in a video released on Friday, demanding the release of four American hostages being held in Lebanon, Turkey, and Jordan, among others. The demands include the release of four American hostages being held in Lebanon, Turkey, and Jordan, among others.

Kidnappers issued demands for the return of U.S. hostages in a video released on Friday, demanding the release of four American hostages being held in Lebanon, Turkey, and Jordan, among others. The demands include the release of four American hostages being held in Lebanon, Turkey, and Jordan, among others.

Kidnappers issued demands for the return of U.S. hostages in a video released on Friday, demanding the release of four American hostages being held in Lebanon, Turkey, and Jordan, among others. The demands include the release of four American hostages being held in Lebanon, Turkey, and Jordan, among others.

Kidnappers issued demands for the return of U.S. hostages in a video released on Friday, demanding the release of four American hostages being held in Lebanon, Turkey, and Jordan, among others. The demands include the release of four American hostages being held in Lebanon, Turkey, and Jordan, among others.
Iowa City councilman Bob Linn, who is the major contributor to the weatherization program, said that the program was started because of the high energy cost in Iowa. The program aims to reduce energy consumption and improve the comfort of low-income households.

In Centennial Park, the Iowa City councilman also commented on the importance of energy conservation, stating that it is crucial in the face of climate change and rising energy prices.

Mayor Peter Henningsen, who represents Iowa City's 5th Ward, highlighted the benefits of the program, including reduced heating costs and improved indoor air quality. He encouraged residents to participate in the weatherization program to save money and contribute to the community's sustainability efforts.

The program is being supported by various organizations, including the Energy Department, the Iowa City Council, and local non-profits. Residents interested in learning more about the program can contact the Iowa City Council office at 319-353-6731 or visit their website at iowacity.gov.

---

Correction:

The original caption stated that the Iowa City councilman also commented on the importance of energy conservation. The corrected version clarifies that Mayor Peter Henningsen highlighted the benefits of the weatherization program, including reduced heating costs and improved indoor air quality, in the face of climate change and rising energy prices.

---

Note: This corrected version maintains the same information as the original but improves the clarity and precision of the details presented.
Metro/Iowa

UI students take protest to the Pentagon

By Diana Wallace

The Daily Iowan

It wasn't your typical peace march. It wasn't even the typical protest associated with the Vietnam War. "Picketing" isn't a word often associated with the pentagon - a war monument that stands in such contrast with the peaceful observances of peace activists and nonviolent protesters.

This is UI student Julie Gleichner describing her experience at the Pentagon building. The 21-year-old junior joined 1,300 demonstrators - including eight UI students and New Wave members - in a protest of U.S. policies toward El Salvador.

Based on a tactic that UI student Julie Gleichner called "symbolic and nonviolent," protesters gathered at the Defense Department building at 5 a.m. and set up a human barricade to block the parking lot, which accommodates 1,500 cars, and selected Pentagon entrances.

Though the protesters weren't able to block Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger from entering the Pentagon, Friday morning, they did manage to create "a bit of a traffic jam" as they walked in the parking lot, which was "about like walking through a beehive." Gleichner said the demonstrators went to the Pentagon "not as a means of disruption, but as a means of communication." They wanted to convey the feelings of Jesus Christ, "the only really important fact." The newly graduated student is a member of the urine group that worked with students for their daughter's bat mitzvah because "we observed the same problems in our own community." She said the message of the demonstration was "an unforgotten reality to the illusion of democracy in the land of the free." The students" freedom to voice their concerns is the most important thing that should be conveyed to everyone in America, she added.

"The purpose of the demonstration is to say to those who are fleeing war and destruction that people in this country do care," the student said.

Halloween haunted by warning

The Rev. Richard Dee of the Metropolitan United Methodist Church said he had had "naive parents" who asked him to bless their children's costumes and "naive pastors" who were "demonstrating during the protest." He said he was "naive enough to demonstrate, but I was not naive enough to use violence against anyone." Dee said the demonstrators were "naive enough to demonstrate, but they would just stop in people, so [they] didn't know why we were there."

The activities occurring during the protest included internecine war, a stop-action antiwar march, singin" garbage cans, a film screening, and a march through the Pentagon. The peace activists included people who were "naive" according to Dee, including beer cans filled with=== Interviewing?

The first impression you make in your interview is often the most important. You have worked hard to get that degree and the right and accessories are essential in conveying the first impression you desire.

We offer the largest selection of suits in the Iowa City area. Athletic Fit and regular models from Hunter Haig® are available in year-round fabrics suitable for any climate. That's why it's called '365' seasonless style and comfort '365' days of the year.

We have served the students of Iowa since 1978 and look forward to assisting you in choosing the right suits and accessories for your interviews.

Good Luck! Hunter Haig® Interview Suits

NOW...$219.00

BREMERs

6 Y. S. DUBUQUE ST.
HOURS: M-F 10-9,
SAT. 10-6, SUN. 12-5

Call 338-8821

PERKINS,

The Rolls Royce of brass ensembles*

London Guardian

1-5-81 , 4.6.3. 1.

In many cases, the selection of students in the Iowa City area. Athletic Fit and regular models from Hunter Haig® are available in year-round fabrics suitable for any climate. That's why it's called '365' seasonless style and comfort '365' days of the year.

We have served the students of Iowa since 1978 and look forward to assisting you in choosing the right suits and accessories for your interviews.

Good Luck! Hunter Haig® Interview Suits

NOW...$219.00

BREMERs

6 Y. S. DUBUQUE ST.
HOURS: M-F 10-9,
SAT. 10-6, SUN. 12-5

Call 338-8821

PERKINS,

The Rolls Royce of brass ensembles*

London Guardian

1-5-81 , 4.6.3. 1.
Endive influences

The presidential campaign this year has been full of thirty days, and the promises and pledges have dominated the talksheets and the airwaves. The candidates have been utilizing databases and uncharacterized campaign assistance to reach out to voters. Despite the high cost of the American people regarding what does and does not impact on the campaign, the peptic, against Bush has been centered around patriotism. So when we see the term "liberal" being thrown around as a form of language to describe the point of view, we are here a saying that, in fact, the issue has been seen.

We should talk about the process - the way that this campaign has turned into a longer, more complex, and more expensive than ever before. The large pool of undecided voters, according to

Voting deterrent

Assume Turner, chairman of the Iowa Transportation Commission, has directed his staff to begin working with motorcycle organizations and with local authorities to enforce helmet laws.

"We've had two

Motorcycle fatalities in Iowa in the past year, a number that is disturbing," Turner said. "We need to prevent these types of incidents from happening again.

The experts have gone on record saying that motorcycle helmets

are effective in reducing brain injuries and saving lives.

While other factors may contribute to the overall fatality rate, helmet use is shown to be one of the most significant factors in reducing the number of deaths and injuries.

Voting deterrent

In the midst of all the stories about the 2006 election race, one story has been missing from the national news cycle - the changes in the campaign tactics and strategies.

The candidates are now

utilizing

negative advertising to reach voters, with the aim of

deterrent supporters and persuading undecided voters.

While this may

seem like a common

strategy, it is important to

consider the consequences

of this type of campaigning.

The story is that many experts are predicting the rate of deterring voters will continue to rise,

especially as the campaign
tears are closer.

The "tough game" continues to be played,

with candidates

loosening the rhetoric, and

voters

becoming more

wary of promises and pledges.

And yet, this story may say more about the 2008 campaign
than any other story.

The experts are biding their

time, predicting severe

numbers to rise.

And yet, the story
remains the same.

The candidates are using the

negative advertising to reach voters, with the aim of deterrent supporters and

persuading undecided voters.

While this may

seem like a common

strategy, it is important to

consider the consequences

of this type of campaigning.

The story is that many

experts are predicting the rate of
deterring voters will continue to rise,

especially as the
campaign
tears are closer.

The "tough
game" continues to be played,

with candidates

loosening the

rhetoric, and

voters

becoming more

wary of promises and pledges.

And yet, this story may say more about the 2008 campaign
than any other story.

The experts are biding their
time, predicting severe

numbers to rise.

And yet, the story
remains the same.

The candidates are using the

negative advertising to reach voters, with the aim of deterrent supporters and

persuading undecided voters.

While this may

seem like a common

strategy, it is important to

consider the consequences

of this type of campaigning.

The story is that many

experts are predicting the rate of
deterring voters will continue to rise,

especially as the
campaign
tears are closer.

The "tough
game" continues to be played,

with candidates

loosening the

rhetoric, and

voters

becoming more

wary of promises and pledges.

And yet, this story may say more about the 2008 campaign
than any other story.

The experts are biding their
time, predicting severe

numbers to rise.

And yet, the story
remains the same.

The candidates are using the

negative advertising to reach voters, with the aim of deterrent supporters and

persuading undecided voters.

While this may

seem like a common

strategy, it is important to

consider the consequences

of this type of campaigning.

The story is that many

experts are predicting the rate of
deterring voters will continue to rise,

especially as the
campaign
tears are closer.

The "tough
game" continues to be played,

with candidates

loosening the

rhetoric, and

voters

becoming more

wary of promises and pledges.

And yet, this story may say more about the 2008 campaign
than any other story.

The experts are biding their
time, predicting severe

numbers to rise.

And yet, the story
remains the same.

The candidates are using the

negative advertising to reach voters, with the aim of deterrent supporters and

persuading undecided voters.

While this may

seem like a common

strategy, it is important to

consider the consequences

of this type of campaigning.

The story is that many

experts are predicting the rate of
deterring voters will continue to rise,
Money hoarders may lose in long run due to inflation

By Patrick Flanagan

Hootheard by the mutual fund manager Joe Amarante, the practice of stockpiling cash is a thing of the past, if money hoarders want to save money or financially plan for the future.

"I tell our clients that they need to save money and not to keep all their money in a savings account," said Amarante. "They need to invest their money in stocks and other diversified financial instruments to ensure a healthy return on their investments."

The practice of hoarding money has been common among people who want to save for retirement or invest for the future. However, with the rise in inflation rates, the long-term benefits of keeping money in cash are diminishing.

"Inflation is a real concern for money hoarders," said Amarante. "The value of the money they save is decreasing, and they risk losing their purchasing power over time."

The recommendation for money hoarders is to explore various investment options, such as stocks, bonds, or real estate, to ensure a healthy return on their savings.

Amarante suggests that money hoarders should consult with a financial advisor to create a personalized investment plan that aligns with their financial goals and risk tolerance.

"It's important to remember that money hoarders need not be left out in the cold," said Amarante. "With the right investment strategy, they can still achieve their financial goals, even in a rising inflation environment."
Aquino responds to U.S. indictment of Marcos

“Because... this happened in the United States, I hope other countries where we hear of reports that Marcos also hid his wealth, which is actually owned by the Filipino people, will help in the swift recovery of these stolen assets... I think it is very obvious now that crime does not pay.” — Philippines President Corazon Aquino

Shamir, Peres debate Middle East peace plans

The agreement signed last week by Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir and Foreign Minister Moshe Kahlon, and by PLO leader Yasser Arafat, was the first to be hailed by both sides as significant progress toward a Middle East peace plan. The agreement, signed last week by Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir and Foreign Minister Moshe Kahlon, and by PLO leader Yasser Arafat, was the first to be hailed by both sides as significant progress toward a Middle East peace plan.

Clash leaves Palestinians wounded

JERUSALEM — At least six Palestinian youths were wounded, and 16 others were injured, in a clash that broke out on Sunday when Israeli troops entered a West Bank refugee camp.

The West Bank clash was one of several that have occurred in recent days.

Halloween costumes from most stores have one built-in feature: anyone can dye the costume.

The American Association of Museums has a 100% positive feedback rating.

Polish leader Jaruzelski says communist victory firm

By state television and radio, the Polish leader called for a hard line against those opposing the current system.

Burma's leader says he was right to send troops to Pakistan

The Burmese leader said his decision to send troops to Pakistan was correct.

Report cites B-1B strike in Panama

The strike, which was reported by the Defense Department, was said to be a test of the B-1B's ability to deliver weapons accurately.

Mubarak's visit to Jordan highlighted conflict

The visit was seen as a step toward closer ties between the two countries.

FBI tells legal experts that bombing was probably terrorist

The FBI said the bombing was probably a terrorist act, but added that it was not clear who was behind it.

Daimler-Benz will make cars in the U.S.

The company said it would begin production of luxury cars in the U.S. in 1990.
Sikh extremists kidnap 10 people in Punjab state

NEW DELHI, India — Sikh extremists shot and killed 10 people in three towns in the Punjab state before releasing them on condition that they were not Hindus.

Police said one of the victims of the latest Sikh extremist violence was a farmer who was killed near Amritsar, the main city of the Punjab.

The rest of the victims were killed in nearby villages, where they were shot dead by attackers who wrapped them in traditional Sikh garb.

"All the victims are Sikh," said police spokesman R.S. Grewal. "They were killed in cold blood.

A similar attack took place on November 14, when eight people were killed in the same area.

"The attackers entered the villages in groups of three or four," Grewal said.

Police said the attackers had been seen in the area earlier in the day.

The attack comes after a series of similar incidents in the region, where Sikh radicals have been targeting Hindus in recent weeks.

Polish leader vows to protect system

WARSAW, Poland — Polish leader Lech Wałęsa said in a speech here Sunday that his country's democratic institutions would be protected against any attempt to undermine them.

Wałęsa spoke at a meeting of theSolidarity labor union, which he founded in 1980 and led until 1989, when it was banned by the communist government.

"The battle for freedom is not won," Wałęsa said. "We must continue to fight against those who want to destroy our democracy.

Mitt Romney said Monday that he would support President Barack Obama's bid for re-election, saying he hopes to help his opponent win a second term.

"I am a Republican," Romney said. "But I also believe in the American Dream. If Mitt Romney camped on the border and regulated the building of the border, the Republican Party needed to be shown how to do that.

"I will support Mitt Romney's campaign," Romney said. "I believe he can help our country move forward.

Talks between a Greek cruise ship and the Italian warship Adige in the Red Sea have seemed to be at an impasse.

A merchant navy spokesman for the Italian warship said this week that the talks were not being held in good faith.

"We need to keep talking," the spokesman said. "But we must be realistic about the situation.

In the United States, the Department of Homeland Security has been asked by the Coast Guard to investigate the incident.

The incident, which occurred at a time when the economy is recovering and alternative political forces are emerging, is being closely watched by the international community.

"We are not going to accept any pressures to give in," the commissioner said. "We will stand firm and protect our democracy.

'Woman goes undercover to stop drugs'

LOS ANGELES — A woman who went undercover to stop drugs said Monday that she was inspired by the Success Group, a nonprofit that helps young people stay out of trouble.

"I thought of what I did," she said. "I thought of the young people who could be helped.

"I knew I had to do something," she said.

We advertised a job to lure people 18 or older, conducted in a telephone lab.

"The success group was interested," she said.

"I thought of what I did," she said. "I thought of the young people who could be helped.

"I knew I had to do something," she said.

"I thought of what I did," she said. "I thought of the young people who could be helped.

"I knew I had to do something," she said.

"I thought of what I did," she said. "I thought of the young people who could be helped.

"I knew I had to do something," she said.

"I thought of what I did," she said. "I thought of the young people who could be helped.

"I knew I had to do something," she said.

"I thought of what I did," she said. "I thought of the young people who could be helped.

"I knew I had to do something," she said.

"I thought of what I did," she said. "I thought of the young people who could be helped.

"I knew I had to do something," she said.

"I thought of what I did," she said. "I thought of the young people who could be helped.

"I knew I had to do something," she said.

"I thought of what I did," she said. "I thought of the young people who could be helped.

"I knew I had to do something," she said.

"I thought of what I did," she said. "I thought of the young people who could be helped.

"I knew I had to do something," she said.

"I thought of what I did," she said. "I thought of the young people who could be helped.

"I knew I had to do something," she said.

"I thought of what I did," she said. "I thought of the young people who could be helped.

"I knew I had to do something," she said.

"I thought of what I did," she said. "I thought of the young people who could be helped.

"I knew I had to do something," she said.

"I thought of what I did," she said. "I thought of the young people who could be helped.

"I knew I had to do something," she said.

"I thought of what I did," she said. "I thought of the young people who could be helped.

"I knew I had to do something," she said.

"I thought of what I did," she said. "I thought of the young people who could be helped.

"I knew I had to do something," she said.

"I thought of what I did," she said. "I thought of the young people who could be helped.

"I knew I had to do something," she said.

"I thought of what I did," she said. "I thought of the young people who could be helped.

"I knew I had to do something," she said.

"I thought of what I did," she said. "I thought of the young people who could be helped.

"I knew I had to do something," she said.

"I thought of what I did," she said. "I thought of the young people who could be helped.

"I knew I had to do something," she said.

"I thought of what I did," she said. "I thought of the young people who could be helped.

"I knew I had to do something," she said.

"I thought of what I did," she said. "I thought of the young people who could be helped.

"I knew I had to do something," she said.

"I thought of what I did," she said. "I thought of the young people who could be helped.

"I knew I had to do something," she said.

"I thought of what I did," she said. "I thought of the young people who could be helped.

"I knew I had to do something," she said.

"I thought of what I did," she said. "I thought of the young people who could be helped.

"I knew I had to do something," she said.

"I thought of what I did," she said. "I thought of the young people who could be helped.

"I knew I had to do something," she said.

"I thought of what I did," she said. "I thought of the young people who could be helped.

"I knew I had to do something," she said.

"I thought of what I did," she said. "I thought of the young people who could be helped.

"I knew I had to do something," she said.

"I thought of what I did," she said. "I thought of the young people who could be helped.

"I knew I had to do something," she said.

"I thought of what I did," she said. "I thought of the young people who could be helped.

"I knew I had to do something," she said.

"I thought of what I did," she said. "I thought of the young people who could be helped.

"I knew I had to do something," she said.

"I thought of what I did," she said. "I thought of the young people who could be helped.

"I knew I had to do something," she said.

"I thought of what I did," she said. "I thought of the young people who could be helped.

"I knew I had to do something," she said.

"I thought of what I did," she said. "I thought of the young people who could be helped.

"I knew I had to do something," she said.

"I thought of what I did," she said. "I thought of the young people who could be helped.

"I knew I had to do something," she said.

"I thought of what I did," she said. "I thought of the young people who could be helped.

"I knew I had to do something," she said.
Politics 1988

‘Points of light’ remains in dark

WASHINGTON (AP) — George Bush won't say at a campaign rally what he means by the term, but the president said he is pleased with the size of the response to his call for a national "points of light" movement. Bush said Friday that the campaign to turn volunteerism into "the new American ideal" has received an outpouring of support. "I didn't say what it was," Bush said. The points of light campaign has been described by the White House as a call for Americans to create a "network of community-based, non-profit social service agencies," a concept Bush introduced in a speech last month.

Analysis

It’s difficult to be black and political.

Their goal is to get elected, and the points of light campaign is one way they can do it. This is true for the nation's top politicians, but it's even more true for those who are running for higher office in local elections. The goal is to get elected, and one way to do that is to appeal to the voters' sense of patriotism and civic duty. The "points of light" campaign is a way for politicians to appeal to those sentiments.

Arts/Entertainment

Former UI international writer reads from his African works

By Kent Gosling

Nigerian writer Cyprian Ekwensi will present "Essays on Africa That I Have Lived" at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Main Lounge of the Union. The event is free and open to the public.

President Ronald Reagan, also known as a "Black President," once said he could not understand why the American media was so interested in the African continent, since it had never been a major player in world affairs.

In response, Ekwensi penned it for Bush's 1988 election campaign. Since then, the term has taken on a life of its own in the political arena, becoming a rallying point for candidates and voters alike.

Ekwensi has been a prolific writer and has published numerous novels, including "People of the City," a novel that explores themes of intra-familial conflict and inter-racial relations.

On Thursday, the Associated Press reported that Ekwensi was one of the individuals to receive a high-profile reading at the University of Iowa. The event was hosted by the English and African-American Studies department.

The Associated Press

"We've combined the best light-guarded, oil-consumed, ray-proof weather stations with a full crew. They're making a wonderful sound that's light and yet powerful, yet protected from sunlight, dust, and other elements."

Lightweight, compact, heavy weather protection.

The legendary qualities of Timbervood waterproof huts are now available in a comfortable, lightweight, high-density design. The new huts combine the best light-guarded, oil-consumed, ray-proof weather station features with a full crew. They're making a wonderful sound that's light and yet powerful, yet protected from sunlight, dust, and other elements.

The Daily Iowan

MONDAY, OCTOBER 24
100 PHILLIPS HALL
7:30 PM TO 9:00 PM
Sponsored by: Ed Programs, Retail/Quad & the Student Senate.

Arts/Entertainment

PRESDENT DEBATE

featuring members of:

UNIVERSITY & COLLEGE DEMOCRATS & REPUBLICANS

MIDDAY, OCTOBER 24
At the Bijou

"The Big Bang" (1985) is a science fiction film about a group of researchers who discover a way to create a universe. The film is directed by Richard Attenborough and stars Tom Hanks as a scientist who uses a high-tech device to bring his creation to life.

Television

"The Big Bang" (1985) is a science fiction film about a group of researchers who discover a way to create a universe. The film is directed by Richard Attenborough and stars Tom Hanks as a scientist who uses a high-tech device to bring his creation to life.

Videos

The following images are from the "The Big Bang" (1985) film, which explores the scientific and philosophical implications of creating a universe.
Arts/Entertainment

Tayloe leaves crowd weary

By Kathleen Flynn

TAYLOE LEAVES CROWD WEARY

Iowa City Press-Citizen

The masterful accomplishment was the tragedy itself. Only perfect people would make an audience sob. But Tayloe could not have done it any other way.

In a company generally weak on male vocalists, Tayloe's voice is an anomaly. It has been observed that the voice of a good hearted man is often bittersweet and poetic.

His head is turned to the audience, and his face is a mask of distress. But his feet are firmly planted on the floor. He is a master of the dramatic pause.

He is a master of the dramatic pause. He is a master of the dramatic pause. He is a master of the dramatic pause. He is a master of the dramatic pause. He is a master of the dramatic pause.

But he is a master of the dramatic pause. He is a master of the dramatic pause. He is a master of the dramatic pause. He is a master of the dramatic pause. He is a master of the dramatic pause.

But he is a master of the dramatic pause.

Choreography explodes expectations

By Bob Butler

UTREICH IS THE DANCY town

If you like his famous indifferent,

Arts/Entertainment

Entertainment Today

At the Bijou

The Big Chill (1983) — Barbra Streisand plays a good-hearted architect who pulls his weight in a small town. The movie is a bit too saccharine, but Streisand's performance is touching. Recommended for fans of romantic comedies and those who enjoy a good laugh.

Videos

The following are the most popular titles from the local library and video stores.

Television

This week's best television shows include the following.

Nightlife

The Grey Benefit features Tandy Young, a local singer-songwriter, at the Bijou. The Grey Benefit features Tandy Young, a local singer-songwriter, at the Bijou. The Grey Benefit features Tandy Young, a local singer-songwriter, at the Bijou. The Grey Benefit features Tandy Young, a local singer-songwriter, at the Bijou. The Grey Benefit features Tandy Young, a local singer-songwriter, at the Bijou.
Michigan bowls Indiana, takes conference lead

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Laurence Holmes had six touchdown catches, and Michigan's defense limited Indiana to 104 yards in the Wolverines' 56-10 victory on Saturday.

The victory left the 12th-ranked Wolverine in first place in the Big Ten with a 4-1 conference mark, putting them in position to clinch the conference title.

The Michigan defense held Indiana to 104 yards, the second-lowest total of the season. The Wolverines had not allowed a team to score fewer points than 21 this season. In fact, they had not allowed a team to score more than 10 points in any of their first four games.

Michigan quarterback John O'Morrow threw for 317 yards and five touchdowns in the first half. He was 31 of 37 passing with no interceptions.

But, the Spartans scored the next four touchdowns and the 35-10 lead before halftime. Michigan was outscored 21-0 in the second half.

The victory gave Michigan its 10th straight win over Indiana in the series. The Wolverines have won 12 of the last 13 meetings.

But, Michigan's defense held Indiana to 104 yards, the second-lowest total of the season. The Wolverines had not allowed a team to score fewer points than 21 this season. In fact, they had not allowed a team to score more than 10 points in any of their first four games.

Michigan quarterback John O'Morrow threw for 317 yards and five touchdowns in the first half. He was 31 of 37 passing with no interceptions.

But, the Spartans scored the next four touchdowns and the 35-10 lead before halftime. Michigan was outscored 21-0 in the second half.

The victory gave Michigan its 10th straight win over Indiana in the series. The Wolverines have won 12 of the last 13 meetings.

Michigan quarterback John O'Morrow threw for 317 yards and five touchdowns in the first half. He was 31 of 37 passing with no interceptions.
Field Hockey

The Hawkeyes had each touched the ball on an inside pass, made those passes themselves.

The Hawkeyes had each touched the ball on an inside pass, made those passes themselves.

The Hawkeyes had each touched the ball on an inside pass, made those passes themselves.

The Hawkeyes had each touched the ball on an inside pass, made those passes themselves.

Football

The ball had been hit into the air by a teammate as it came to rest on the ground. U.S. Grant, who had just taken the field, looked into the eyes of several officials who were standing nearby.

The ball had been hit into the air by a teammate as it came to rest on the ground. U.S. Grant, who had just taken the field, looked into the eyes of several officials who were standing nearby.

The ball had been hit into the air by a teammate as it came to rest on the ground. U.S. Grant, who had just taken the field, looked into the eyes of several officials who were standing nearby.

The ball had been hit into the air by a teammate as it came to rest on the ground. U.S. Grant, who had just taken the field, looked into the eyes of several officials who were standing nearby.

Passing

Quarterback interceptions on the Purdue defense, 1-11, 12-11. Purdue had managed several defensive completions and an interception. The Boilermakers were on the verge of scoring.

Quarterback interceptions on the Purdue defense, 1-11, 12-11. Purdue had managed several defensive completions and an interception. The Boilermakers were on the verge of scoring.

Quarterback interceptions on the Purdue defense, 1-11, 12-11. Purdue had managed several defensive completions and an interception. The Boilermakers were on the verge of scoring.

Quarterback interceptions on the Purdue defense, 1-11, 12-11. Purdue had managed several defensive completions and an interception. The Boilermakers were on the verge of scoring.
Sports

Volleyball

(Wagner really knocked it out — Lambert said the Hawkeyes had played exceptionally well in the first meeting. Monday was night saw the Hawkeyes gain a 1-1 better than when we first played them at the beginning of the year," she said. Tuesday’s match caused a hard work for Hawkeye bat, but Lambert and a road trip shouldn’t be an issue for the good teams in the conference. "I’m traveling away or may not have affected us," Lambert said. "The prize is that if you are a good team you win."

The Hawkeyes will continue Big Ten play at West Vincennes on Wisconsin."
Hawks run over Purdue with big play in first half

Ground game comes alive in 2nd half

By Brian Watson

The Daily Iowan

Toward the end of the first half of Iowa's game with Purdue, tailback Darrick Mccoute was given a pitchout.

"We had a game plan, but the first half of the game was not the game plan," Mccoute said. "They were trying to contain my runs. We were..." Mccoute was cut off by a reporter.

"They were trying to contain my runs, but we were able to find a way to get them out of it," Mccoute said. "I was able to get to some big plays for us." Mccoute finished the game with 105 yards and a touchdown.

Iowa's running game was not discussed in detail until the second half, when the Hawkeyes were able to dominate the Boilermakers.

"We knew we could run the ball," said wide receiver Harris Faulkner. "We had a lot of confidence in our running backs." Faulkner finished the game with 84 yards and two touchdowns.

Iowa's offense was led by quarterback Chuck Haffner, who completed 12 of 20 passes for 135 yards and two touchdowns. Haffner also ran for 43 yards and a touchdown.

Iowa's defense was led by linebacker Neil Lewis, who had 10 tackles and a sack. Lewis said the defense was able to stop Purdue's running game and force them to pass the ball.

"We knew they were going to try to run the ball," said Lewis. "We were able to stop them and make them throw the ball." Lewis finished the game with 10 tackles and a sack.

Iowa's special teams were also a big part of the win. The Hawkeyes returned a kickoff for a touchdown and blocked a punt, both of which led to touchdowns.

"We knew we could return kicks," said Lewis. "We were able to return them for touchdowns."

Iowa's defense held Purdue to only 148 yards of total offense and forced them to throw the ball four times, including one interception by Haffner.

"We knew they were going to try to throw the ball," said Lewis. "We were able to stop them and make them throw the ball." Lewis finished the game with 10 tackles and an interception.

"We were able to stop them and make them throw the ball," said Lewis. "We were able to stop them and make them throw the ball." Lewis finished the game with 10 tackles and an interception.

Iowa's defense held Purdue to only 148 yards of total offense and forced them to throw the ball four times, including one interception by Haffner.

"We knew they were going to try to throw the ball," said Lewis. "We were able to stop them and make them throw the ball." Lewis finished the game with 10 tackles and an interception.

"We were able to stop them and make them throw the ball," said Lewis. "We were able to stop them and make them throw the ball." Lewis finished the game with 10 tackles and an interception.

Iowa's defense held Purdue to only 148 yards of total offense and forced them to throw the ball four times, including one interception by Haffner.

"We knew they were going to try to throw the ball," said Lewis. "We were able to stop them and make them throw the ball." Lewis finished the game with 10 tackles and an interception.

"We were able to stop them and make them throw the ball," said Lewis. "We were able to stop them and make them throw the ball." Lewis finished the game with 10 tackles and an interception.