Weather worries prompt promised spending cut

By Skye Wallace

The Daily Iowan

Health care has a new priority, the 800th birthday of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. was no easy task for the UI Student Union. The union bought the event of the year for the union and the university. We are better "agreed with the students." The union said that more than 80 students have been involved in the union's efforts to make the event a success. We have been successful in raising money for the event, the union said.

Yasir Arafat agreed with the students. We have been successful in raising money for the event, the union said. "This is not a happy speech. This is not a we've-come speeches. But others must set aside part of that and the American dream, Lee said. He also addressed the importance of American democracy but he also addressed the importance of American democracy. "We've been successful in raising money for the event, the union said. "This is not a happy speech. This is not a we've-come speeches. But others must set aside part of that and the American dream, Lee said. He also addressed the importance of American democracy but he also addressed the importance of American democracy. "We've been successful in raising money for the event, the union said.

The drought Alvin said in a letter to CAC's $2,000

The center estimates Fatah has been identified as a force that could pose a threat to the viability of the PLO. Israelis doubt Arafat's commitment to cease-fire

By Debra Ignatius

The Daily Iowan

Israelis doubt Arafat's commitment to cease-fire

"We're very concerned about the potential of illegal transactions. Israelis doubt Arafat's commitment to cease-fire.

There have been two recent rallies against the government, one headed by Aida Malek, the other by Donald Avenson, D-Oelwein. They said that could leave the state in the midst of a violent and chaotic period. There have been two recent rallies against the government, one headed by Aida Malek, the other by Donald Avenson, D-Oelwein. They said that could leave the state in the midst of a violent and chaotic period.

It was not a happy occasion. The United States and the United Nations have been identified as a force that could pose a threat to the viability of the PLO. Israelis doubt Arafat's commitment to cease-fire.

"We're very concerned about the potential of illegal transactions. Israelis doubt Arafat's commitment to cease-fire.

There have been two recent rallies against the government, one headed by Aida Malek, the other by Donald Avenson, D-Oelwein. They said that could leave the state in the midst of a violent and chaotic period. There have been two recent rallies against the government, one headed by Aida Malek, the other by Donald Avenson, D-Oelwein. They said that could leave the state in the midst of a violent and chaotic period.

"We're very concerned about the potential of illegal transactions. Israelis doubt Arafat's commitment to cease-fire.

"We're very concerned about the potential of illegal transactions. Israelis doubt Arafat's commitment to cease-fire."
Streamlined police reports reduce public information

By Lisa Benge

2:14 p.m. to 6:20 p.m.

A police report system has been named after Maj. Paul W. Snyder Jr., who was killed in the line of duty.

The new system, called "Snyder's Law," allows police officers to focus on their duties rather than on paperwork.

"We're trying to streamline everything," said City Police Department records supervisor Donalyn Snyder.

"When you're in the heat of the moment, you don't have time to worry about filling out forms," she said.

Records keepers will be able to work on more important tasks.

"It's a great idea," said one officer.

"It will make our job a lot easier," said another.

Snyder's Law is expected to save the police department time and money.

"It's a win-win for everyone," said Snyder.

Riverboat casino proposition surfaces amid turf battle

By Lisa Benge

Wednesday, January 27, 1989

DES MOINES - The Iowa legislature has been asked to consider a proposal to allow riverboats to operate as casinos.

In a letter to Governor Kim Reynolds, State Representative Steve Relf said that he is "seriously considering" the possibility of allowing riverboats to operate as casinos.

"I think it makes sense," said Relf. "These boats are already there. Why not use them to their full potential?"

Relf said that he plans to introduce a bill in the upcoming legislative session that would allow riverboats to operate as casinos.

"I'm not proposing anything new," said Relf. "I'm simply trying to make the most of what we already have."

The proposal has attracted the interest of many legislators, who are considering the possibility of allowing riverboats to operate as casinos.

"I think it could be a big win for Iowa," said one legislator. "These boats are already there. Why not use them to their full potential?"

The proposal has also attracted the interest of some business owners, who are considering the possibility of opening a casino on a riverboat.

"I think it's a great idea," said one business owner. "These boats are already there. Why not use them to their full potential?"

The proposal has not yet been introduced in the legislature, but it is expected to be discussed in the coming weeks.

"I'm not proposing anything new," said Relf. "I'm simply trying to make the most of what we already have."

The proposal has attracted the interest of many legislators, who are considering the possibility of allowing riverboats to operate as casinos.
Mild winter may be bad news for drought

Guatemalan fights with film, not bullets

Activist inspires student documentary

By Byron Morales

The University of Iowa added a member of the House Economic Development Committee, Byron Morales, as a producer to its introduction of the video from the UI.

This is the first time a UI student has obtained UI funding for a personal project as done to promote a cause, said Larry Lipcamon, a producer for the video Central Lipcamon did post-production editing for the video.

This is the first time a UI student has obtained UI funding for a personal project as done to promote a cause, said Larry Lipcamon, a producer for the video Central Lipcamon did post-production editing for the video.

LIPCAMON did produce the video with the help of other departments including anthropology, history, and Spanish and Portugese, supported Lipcamon's ability to share personal funding for the video.

The video usually gets a screening right, so he did not film it.

Lipcamon did produce the video with the help of other departments including anthropology, history, and Spanish and Portugese, supported Lipcamon's ability to share personal funding for the video.

The video usually gets a screening right, so he did not film it.

Lipcamon did produce the video with the help of other departments including anthropology, history, and Spanish and Portugese, supported Lipcamon's ability to share personal funding for the video.

The video usually gets a screening right, so he did not film it.

Lipcamon did produce the video with the help of other departments including anthropology, history, and Spanish and Portugese, supported Lipcamon's ability to share personal funding for the video.

The video usually gets a screening right, so he did not film it.

Lipcamon did produce the video with the help of other departments including anthropology, history, and Spanish and Portugese, supported Lipcamon's ability to share personal funding for the video.

The video usually gets a screening right, so he did not film it.

Lipcamon did produce the video with the help of other departments including anthropology, history, and Spanish and Portugese, supported Lipcamon's ability to share personal funding for the video.

The video usually gets a screening right, so he did not film it.
A "burning" memory

The recently released movie "Memories Burning," gives a chilling, fact-based account of the wiping out of the Herero and Nama peoples by the German imperialist, the Kaiser, and the Swakopmund Adolf Hitler movement. The movie is something every white American should see.

"Memories Burning" brings home with frightening reality the physical and mental torture inflicted on blacks in theedar by racist policies. The movie is shocking and it forces the viewer to think about the history in America. But the horror doesn't end there. It's just the easy way out from the movie thinking. "Hey, those blacks sure had it tough, and those Nederlands and Germans were just awful. Thank God that period is behind us," but, that period is not behind us.

Dr. Martin Luther King used to speak of the status of blacks more than 100 years after the Emancipation Proclamation. He noted that while blacks were no longer subject to physical bondage, "the era in America still isn't free." King was referring to the lack of political and civil rights.

Today, African Americans enjoy these rights, but because many respond to the economic shadow of poverty, the importance of these rights and the ability to utilize them are often sacrificed. The lack of education, the lack of income, the lack of jobs and the lack of opportunities in the many remaining communities, are realities of a stratified society where blacks remain on the bottom. The education of the majority are focused upon the "educational system" and not the blacks. The only difference is you can't simply lay the blame on the black community. If you're white, and you "see" Memories Burning," you may find it difficult to keep your eyes on the screen during particular scenes. These scenes are frightening because they show how the entire society is at risk. In the movie, it is shown through the minds of a few ignorant whites. It's not just an ignorant individual, but the entire society as a whole. The movie is not about the individual, but about the whole society.

It is true that the movie is made to be disturbing, but it is also a call to action. It is a call to the black community to educate themselves and each other about the history of slavery, segregation, and the struggle for civil rights. It is a call to the white community to listen, learn, and understand the importance of these rights.

While Memories Burning was a step in the right direction, the fight for true equality and justice is far from over. But let's not forget that most horrifying of all is that many Americans still believe that the struggle is over and that the fight for equality is a thing of the past. This is a dangerous belief, and it is one that we must all work to educate ourselves and others about.

It is important for all Americans to understand that the struggle for civil rights is not just a thing of the past, but a ongoing battle. It is a battle that requires the education and action of all Americans, regardless of race.

Hawkeye Hundred hoopla, hah!

The recent victory by the Iowa Hawkeyes has been celebrated with great excitement and enthusiasm. The win over the University of Michigan was a significant moment in the history of Iowa athletics, and it has inspired a wave of support and enthusiasm for the Hawkeyes.

As the season comes to a close, the Hawkeyes have established themselves as a force to be reckoned with in college basketball. Their success is a testament to the hard work and dedication of the players, coaches, and staff.

The Hawkeyes have been a source of pride for the state of Iowa, and their success has been a source of inspiration for the广大 community. The team's performance has been a true reflection of the state's resilience and determination.

In addition to their athletic success, the Hawkeyes have also been a source of joy and entertainment for fans. Their games are充满 excitement, and their fans are passionate and dedicated.

As the Hawkeyes continue their journey, they will be cheered on by a devoted fan base. Their success has brought a sense of hope and optimism to the community, and it has been a source of pride for the state.

In conclusion, the Hawkeye Hundred hoopla is a celebration of the team's success and a reminder of the importance of hard work, dedication, and teamwork. The Hawkeyes have shown that anything is possible with a positive attitude and a strong work ethic.

A caveat on the perils of TV advertising

The recent victory by the Iowa Hawkeyes has been celebrated with great excitement and enthusiasm. The win over the University of Michigan was a significant moment in the history of Iowa athletics, and it has inspired a wave of support and enthusiasm for the Hawkeyes.

As the season comes to a close, the Hawkeyes have established themselves as a force to be reckoned with in college basketball. Their success is a testament to the hard work and dedication of the players, coaches, and staff.

The Hawkeyes have been a source of pride for the state of Iowa, and their success has been a source of inspiration for the广大 community. The team's performance has been a true reflection of the state's resilience and determination.

In addition to their athletic success, the Hawkeyes have also been a source of joy and entertainment for fans. Their games are充满 excitement, and their fans are passionate and dedicated.

As the Hawkeyes continue their journey, they will be cheered on by a devoted fan base. Their success has brought a sense of hope and optimism to the community, and it has been a source of pride for the state.

In conclusion, the Hawkeye Hundred hoopla is a celebration of the team's success and a reminder of the importance of hard work, dedication, and teamwork. The Hawkeyes have shown that anything is possible with a positive attitude and a strong work ethic.

Letters

Idiotic idea

As a transfer student in the UI College of Business, I would like to express my thoughts on the recent financial aid changes. The changes, I believe, are a step in the right direction.

It is unacceptable that students who are paying for their own education should be saddled with extra debt. The burden of student debt is too high, and it is unfair to expect students to pay for their own education.

The changes are a step in the right direction, and I believe they will help to alleviate the burden of student debt. I hope that the university will continue to take steps to help students pay for their education.

Why no skaters?

I have read with interest the recent article on the lack of skaters in our community. I agree that the lack of skaters is a problem, but I believe that there are several reasons for this.

One reason is that the cost of equipment and lessons is too high. Another reason is that the lack of over-
By Jay Grant

Rahweh Lino who aren't content with simply drinking coffee each day.

He used to bring coffee to university students, but now he's decided to open his own coffee shop because he found that coffee helps people it a way that he can't explain.

The coffee shop is called "Rahweh's Cafe" and is located on the corner of Main and Church.

Rahweh says that the coffee beans he uses are specially roasted to bring out the best flavors and aroma. He also offers a variety of coffee drinks such as lattes, espressos, and cappuccinos.

The coffee shop is open from 8 am to 10 pm daily, and Rahweh invites everyone to come in and try his coffee for themselves.

House members finally free of Styrofoam

When Mike Chait, a member of the Iowa House of Representatives, first introduced the anti-Styrofoam bill, he was met with a lot of resistance. But after years of fighting, the bill has finally passed and Styrofoam is now banned in Iowa.

Chait, who represents the 10th District, said he was inspired to create the bill after seeing the amount of waste that Styrofoam caused at his own house.

"We need to take a stand against this harmful material," Chait said.

The bill was met with some opposition, particularly from the plastic industry, but Chait was undeterred.

"I am the voice of the people, and I will fight for what is right," he said.

The bill was signed into law by Governor Kim Reynolds last week.

Rally

People rallied outside the home of local pro-African activist Marothi Ramaube, calling for his release from prison.

"We demand the immediate release of Marothi Ramaube," said one of the rally participants.

"He is a political prisoner and has been unjustly imprisoned for standing up for African rights," another said.

Ramaube was arrested in 2011 and is currently serving a 15-year sentence for his involvement in protests against the South African government.

Germany

Germany has announced plans to make all new cars electric by 2030, in an effort to combat climate change.

This move comes after years of lobbying from environmental groups and activists, who have been calling for governments to take more action on climate change.

"We are doing this to protect the planet," said German Environment Minister Sven Jacob.

The announcement was met with mixed reactions, with some praising the move and others expressing concerns about the impact on the auto industry.

Meanwhile, in the United States, there is a push to make all new cars electric by 2030 as well.

"We are doing this to protect the planet," said US Environmental Protection Agency Administrator Michael Regan.

Iowa

Iowa has been hit by a major drought, with many farmers struggling to survive.

"It's the driest summer on record," said Iowa Farmer Mike Peterson.

"We need more rain, and soon," he added.

Meanwhile, in neighboring states, the drought is also having a significant impact.

"It's the worst drought we've seen in years," said Missouri Farmer Tom Green.

"We need more rain, and soon," he added.

FACIAL ROUGE

This product is a must-have for anyone who wants to look younger and feel more confident.

It's a natural formula that helps to improve the appearance of fine lines and wrinkles, leaving skin smooth and radiant.

Get yours today and see the difference it can make. Order now and get free shipping on orders over $50.
Iowa

Students protest Haitian government, riot

WASHINGTON — Students from the Interested Group, an anti-government, anti-imperialist group, showed their anger against the U.S. bombing of villages in the Dominican Republic. The students staged a rally in front of the White House, demanding an end to the U.S. military presence in the Dominican Republic. The rally was supported by the League of American Grown Voters, a political organization that works to promote peace and social justice.

Bakker resigns

WASHINGTON — President Ronald Reagan resigned as chief of staff on Monday, saying he was unable to perform his duties effectively. Reagan had been under fire for his handling of the Iran-Contra affair, and his resignation came after months of negotiations with congressional leaders. The move was seen as a significant shift in the administration’s approach to the crisis.

Bakker’s defense

George Stein

The defense of Stein’s political career, rising recognition and the rehabilitation of his former associates was the focus of a recent court case. Stein has been under investigation for his involvement in a political scandal that rocked the country. Stein is known for his controversial views and his ability to attract national attention.

Bakker’s resignation

The resignation of Bakker was a major development in the ongoing Iran-Contra scandal. Bakker was a key figure in the scandal, and his resignation was seen as a sign that the administration was losing control of the situation.

Bakker’s supporters

The supporters of Bakker are a diverse group, ranging from fringe political groups to mainstream politicians. Bakker’s supporters have been vocal in their defense of him, and they have been successful in influencing public opinion.

Bakker’s downfall

The downfall of Bakker has been a long and drawn-out process. Bakker has been under investigation for months, and his resignation was seen as a sign that the investigation was nearing its end. Bakker’s supporters are likely to continue their efforts to win public support, even in the absence of Bakker.

Bakker’s legacy

The legacy of Bakker is a complex one, with both positive and negative aspects. Bakker is remembered as a controversial figure, but he is also remembered for his ability to attract national attention and for his ability to influence public opinion.

Bakker’s death

The death of Bakker was a sad event, but it was also a significant moment in the history of his political career. Bakker’s death was a sign that his influence was waning, and it was a sign that his supporters would need to find new ways to attract public support.

Bakker’s supporters

The supporters of Bakker are a diverse group, ranging from fringe political groups to mainstream politicians. Bakker’s supporters have been vocal in their defense of him, and they have been successful in influencing public opinion.

Bakker’s legacy

The legacy of Bakker is a complex one, with both positive and negative aspects. Bakker is remembered as a controversial figure, but he is also remembered for his ability to attract national attention and for his ability to influence public opinion.

Bakker’s death

The death of Bakker was a sad event, but it was also a significant moment in the history of his political career. Bakker’s death was a sign that his influence was waning, and it was a sign that his supporters would need to find new ways to attract public support.

Bakker’s supporters

The supporters of Bakker are a diverse group, ranging from fringe political groups to mainstream politicians. Bakker’s supporters have been vocal in their defense of him, and they have been successful in influencing public opinion.

Bakker’s legacy

The legacy of Bakker is a complex one, with both positive and negative aspects. Bakker is remembered as a controversial figure, but he is also remembered for his ability to attract national attention and for his ability to influence public opinion.

Bakker’s death

The death of Bakker was a sad event, but it was also a significant moment in the history of his political career. Bakker’s death was a sign that his influence was waning, and it was a sign that his supporters would need to find new ways to attract public support.

Bakker’s supporters

The supporters of Bakker are a diverse group, ranging from fringe political groups to mainstream politicians. Bakker’s supporters have been vocal in their defense of him, and they have been successful in influencing public opinion.

Bakker’s legacy

The legacy of Bakker is a complex one, with both positive and negative aspects. Bakker is remembered as a controversial figure, but he is also remembered for his ability to attract national attention and for his ability to influence public opinion.

Bakker’s death

The death of Bakker was a sad event, but it was also a significant moment in the history of his political career. Bakker’s death was a sign that his influence was waning, and it was a sign that his supporters would need to find new ways to attract public support.

Bakker’s supporters

The supporters of Bakker are a diverse group, ranging from fringe political groups to mainstream politicians. Bakker’s supporters have been vocal in their defense of him, and they have been successful in influencing public opinion.

Bakker’s legacy

The legacy of Bakker is a complex one, with both positive and negative aspects. Bakker is remembered as a controversial figure, but he is also remembered for his ability to attract national attention and for his ability to influence public opinion.
Czech police battle activists mourning anti-Soviet martyr

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Hundr­eds of police used water cannons Sunday to disperse protesters in a small demonstration outside the Bolshoi Theater in Moscow, the largest in the Soviet Union, to mourn the death of Jan Palach, a young Czech who set himself on fire nearly a year ago to protest Soviet occupation.

The police used a tactic that killed at least 109 people in Tbilisi, Georgia, on Monday to clear Wenceslas Square of pro-Soviet demonstrators.
Israel uses deadly bullets

JERUSALEM (AP) - New Israeli security measures implemented for the safety of four Arab pupils in a West Bank school were described as "symptoms" rather than "cure," and human rights observers painted a bleak picture of life under Israeli rule.

The Israeli government had ordered that all other rubber bullets used by Israeli soldiers "be replaced by non-lethal bullets." But the government also said that it was seeking to prevent "provocative acts" by shooting into the air and using tear gas and batons.

The crackdown, which began in mid-November, has left at least 12 people dead and hundreds injured, according to human rights groups.

"The Israeli government's decision to replace rubber bullets with less lethal ammunition is a step in the right direction," said Human Rights Watch's Palestinian researcher, Alex Pritzak.

"But it's not enough. The Israeli military must do more to prevent violence against civilians," Pritzak added.

The Palestinian Authority has criticized the Israeli crackdown, saying it has made life more difficult for people in the occupied territories.

"The Israeli military is using excessive force and targeting civilians," said Nabil Saleh, a Palestinian activist.

"The Israeli military must be held accountable for its actions," Saleh added.

A, 17-year-old Arab youth was killed Sunday night, the Palestinian Authority said.

The body of the 17-year-old was found near the settlement of Afula in the northern West Bank.

Tuma, a Palestinian youth, died of his wounds late Sunday night, according to the Palestinian Authority.

"The Israeli military is using excessive force and targeting civilians," said Nabil Saleh, a Palestinian activist.

"The Israeli military must be held accountable for its actions," Saleh added.

The Israeli military has denied any responsibility for the death.

"The Israeli military is using excessive force and targeting civilians," said Nabil Saleh, a Palestinian activist.

"The Israeli military must be held accountable for its actions," Saleh added.

A, 17-year-old Arab youth was killed Sunday night, the Palestinian Authority said.

The body of the 17-year-old was found near the settlement of Afula in the northern West Bank.

Tuma, a Palestinian youth, died of his wounds late Sunday night, according to the Palestinian Authority.

"The Israeli military is using excessive force and targeting civilians," said Nabil Saleh, a Palestinian activist.

"The Israeli military must be held accountable for its actions," Saleh added.

The Israeli military has denied any responsibility for the death.

"The Israeli military is using excessive force and targeting civilians," said Nabil Saleh, a Palestinian activist.

"The Israeli military must be held accountable for its actions," Saleh added.

A, 17-year-old Arab youth was killed Sunday night, the Palestinian Authority said.

The body of the 17-year-old was found near the settlement of Afula in the northern West Bank.

Tuma, a Palestinian youth, died of his wounds late Sunday night, according to the Palestinian Authority.

"The Israeli military is using excessive force and targeting civilians," said Nabil Saleh, a Palestinian activist.
Lakers maintain perfect home record

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Mychal Thompson scored off the bench in his 13th minute without missing a shot in the Lakers’ 106-98 victory over the Los Angeles Lakers remained the only NBA team with a perfect home record. The Lakers have won 14 straight home games, dating back to last season.

The two-time defending champion Lakers are 15-0 at the Forum this season and have made consecutive games. Finch has lost a scholarship and rules) clear to them, but behind the wheel, that’s what the Cavalier was for the 18th time in their last 19 games and improved their season-high streak to 111 consecutive free throwers.

In 1988, the Cavaliers won for the 16th time in their season.

Lakers	Cav s

Points	111
3-pointers	30
Minutes	35
Ast.
Stl.
Reb.
To.
F.

to 54
11
7
2
5

Rice, the director of FairTest, says Gable, is convinced that the SAT will not happen. "I will not answer for alcoholism, and whereas before he couldn’t answer.

"I will not happen. I will not leave. I o_ar conlCl ."

"I have played my last college

Lakers	Cav s

Points	111
3-pointers	30
Minutes	35
Ast.
Stl.
Reb.
To.
F.

to 54
11
7
2
5

Rice, the director of FairTest, says Gable, is convinced that the SAT will not happen. "I will not answer for alcoholism, and whereas before he couldn’t answer.

"I will not happen. I will not leave. I o_ar conlCl ."

"I have played my last college
Entertainment Today

At the Bijou
"Royal Call" — There will be an initial showing and a live broadcast event at the Bijou Theatre with the production. The show will be conducted in a 90-minute performance, with a live broadcast event following. The show will be conducted in a 90-minute performance, with a live broadcast event following.

Readings
Gerald Stern will present selections from his 1990 poetry, "The Moderns," on the heels of his recent appearances in St. Louis and at the National Poetry Conference. Stern's poetry, "The Moderns," is a collection of poems that explore the human psyche, the film's romantic intrigue, and the solo artist's struggles.

Radio
"Crisis Menu" — An evening with "Crisis Menu," a weekly radio program that explores current issues and trends in the world of poetry. The show features interviews with poets, writers, and thinkers who are using poetry as a tool for social change. The show is conducted in a 90-minute performance, with a live broadcast event following.

DI Classifieds
111 Communications Center - 335-5784
11 am deadline for new ads & cancellations.

Poetry
"It's nice to be in a bedroom," Stern said, describing how City has been to him. "It has been to me. The city is the city of the arts." Stern said he feels at home here and has enjoyed the city's vibrant arts scene.

Gerald Stern
"I'm always surprised when I'm recognized," Stern said, decribing the modern problem in America — "you always have the glitz. That's not what poetry is all about. It's about the creation of a significant object." Stern held his reputation through his eight books of poetry and numerous poems given to The New Yorker, Paris Review and Poetry. Stern was 39 in 1990 and was an instructor at DePaul University in Chicago, where the University Press published readings in Stern's work, including articles on the poet. Stern is engaged in the arts and celebrates poetry.

"But I have a theory. In my days there are more people and many kinds of ways to write," Stern said, regarding the city's rich arts scene.

"There are many hundreds of artists writing," Stern said, regarding the city's rich arts scene.
Sports

Tuesday, January 17, 1989 — Page 12

Hawkeyes fall two places; Indiana returns to Top 20

Associated Press Top 20

\[\text{Full AP Top 20 list...}\]

Hawkeyes position in the rankings...

Test bias argument revived

Women's Basketball

Associated Press poll...

Total Points, after this week's Top 20 poll...

Hawks remain fifth in women's poll...

Georgetown's Thompson may skip another game...

Jumping the gun

Associated Press — Iowa, which polled fifth in the first two AP Top 20 polls and fourth in the most recent poll, remained in fifth place in this week's Associated Press men's college basketball poll announced Tuesday.

The Hawkeyes, 13-2, received first-place votes from the AP's Dick Herron of the Des Moines Register, who has written extensively on basketball. He pointed to the Hawkeyes' recent play and the possibility that they could have won the Big Ten. He said, "Their style of play is exciting. They have a lot of heart and are well-coached by Rick Majerus."

Majerus has been praised for his ability to turn around struggling programs. He took over Iowa in 1983 with a losing record and led the team to a 23-8 season in 1984-85. The Hawkeyes have had a strong season so far this year, with Majerus' guidance. They have won nine of their last 10 games and are currently ranked fifth in the AP poll.

Fitzpatrick's ANNUAL ST. PATRICK'S DAY PRACTICE SESSION

\[\text{Full details of Fitzpatrick's practice session...}\]

The FIELDHOUSE

25¢ DRAWS

ALL NIGHT LONG

Join us for a special event...

IN SPORTS

The Lakers present their perfect home record record with a 116-121 victory over Houston, and Charlotte beats the Sonics in overtime. See Page 5

---

Dan Millea

Gable’s ‘new era’ a good one

T wo years ago, Dan Gable decided his wrestling program was in a state of disarray. The Hawkeyes were struggling, and the program’s history seemed to be slipping away.

Gable, a former NCAA champion and three-time All-American, had taken over the program after the retirement of his father, J.D. Gable, who had led the Hawkeyes to seven national championships.

Gable knew he had to change things, but he didn’t know exactly how to proceed. He decided to bring in new blood, and he began by hiring Tom Brands as his assistant coach.

Brands had been a successful coach at the University of Minnesota, and he quickly brought a new energy to the program.

Gable also began to focus more on the university’s academic requirements, and he made sure that his wrestlers were academic stars.

As a result, the Hawkeyes began to improve, and they moved up in the rankings.

Georgetown's Thompson may skip another game...

The Associated Press — Georgetown coach John Thompson said Tuesday that he will not put No. 8 Georgetown on the bench for the next two games because of the health of guard Chris Thompson.

Thompson, who is a key player on the team, has been dealing with a shoulder injury and a knee problem.

Thompson’s absence will likely mean that guard Terence Jackson will have to step up and fill his role on the court.

Jumps into the conversation

Associated Press — The Iowa Hawkeyes’ lone All-American wrestler, Ronald Marcellis, has won three national championships and two NCAA titles.

Marcellis, who is a senior, has been a mainstay for the Hawkeyes in recent years.

He was named the Big Ten’s Most Outstanding Wrestler in 1990-91.

Jumps into the conversation

Associated Press — Georgetown basketball Coach John Thompson said Tuesday that he will not put No. 8 Georgetown on the bench for the next two games because of the health of guard Chris Thompson.

Thompson, who is a key player on the team, has been dealing with a shoulder injury and a knee problem.

Thompson’s absence will likely mean that guard Terence Jackson will have to step up and fill his role on the court.

Jumps into the conversation

Associated Press — The Iowa Hawkeyes’ lone All-American wrestler, Ronald Marcellis, has won three national championships and two NCAA titles.

Marcellis, who is a senior, has been a mainstay for the Hawkeyes in recent years.

He was named the Big Ten’s Most Outstanding Wrestler in 1990-91.