Iowa City plans expansion of low-income housing units

The City of Iowa City has approved a plan to expand its low-income housing units. The plan includes the construction of a new building and the renovation of existing units. The expansion is expected to provide more affordable housing options for low-income residents in the area. The City worked with local housing advocacy groups to develop the plan and will seek federal funding to support the project. The expansion is a part of the City's ongoing efforts to address the affordable housing crisis in Iowa City.
Iowa - Evangelical Christian Lawyers Organization has asked the Iowa Supreme Court to hear arguments in a case involving the constitutionality of the state's same-sex marriage ban.

The lawsuit was filed by the ACLU of Iowa and other groups on behalf of five same-sex couples.

The court has scheduled oral arguments for Oct. 26.

An attorney for the state said the litigation is proceeding "as planned."

United Way volunteers break funding goal

By Paige Rivera

The Des Moines Register

During the recent annual 1988-89 fundraising campaign for United Way of Johnson County, raised $650,000, according to Tabitha Bernet, United Way's director of major gifts.

United Way, a national nonprofit organization that raises funds for human service agencies, has raised $23 million in the past 30 years.

"This is a milestone for United Way," Bernet said. "It's a significant year for us."

Madden said they are not surprised. "We like to break the budget line," Bernet said. "We're looking at $650,000 as a goal." She added, "It's a lot to be proud of." In 1989, 10 percent of the budget went to Johnson County agencies, 20 percent to national agencies, and 70 percent to the United Way of Johnson County.

"Volunteers basically go out in boxes and get your message out," Madden said. They go to work everyday and ask for money. United Way sends the mailings.

The mission of United Way is to help people reach their full potential as productive citizens by supporting organizations that provide basic services in the areas of health care, education, and income security.

"We are going to focus on the basics," Bernet said. "We have a goal to reach $650,000 by the end of the month." United Way's goal is to raise $1.5 million.

Monday night, after President Barlow said there had been a second black area and that a third had erupted, the FBI announced that it would conduct a "full and complete" investigation of the rioting.

President Barlow said Monday night that he was most concerned about the "serious and systematic" problems that had been identified in the past.

"We are not going to tolerate violence," he said. "We are not going to tolerate harassment.

"We are going to be very vigilant in looking at the situation and making sure that people don't take advantage of these situations.

"We are going to make sure that the people who are responsible for these situations are held accountable.

The FBI, which is investigating the rioting, said it would focus on finding out who started the violence and who was responsible for it.

"We will be very thorough in our investigation," said FBI spokesman John A. Miller.

"We will be making sure that everyone is looked at, whether they are students or faculty, and that they are held accountable.

"We will be looking at everything, including the possibility of criminal charges.

The FBI has been working closely with the university to ensure that the investigation is thorough and fair.

Scottish police identify bomb placement

LOCKHART, Scotland — Police said Tuesday they identified the bombmaker when someone planted the bomb that blew up Pan Am Flight 103 last month, killing of 259 people abroad and 11 on the ground.

“Police confirmed that a man they identified as the bombmaker has been killed,” said a police statement.

A bomb blast in the plane’s hold at midair killed all three Americans aboard, including a three-year-old child, and five crew members.

HERE’S ONE WAY TO REACH OVER 45,000 PEOPLE EVERY DAY.

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Evangelist Jim Bakker pleaded innocent Tuesday to federal charges that he defrauded millions of dollars from his PTL television audience for personal use.

Bakker’s lawyer, George Frisbie, briefly stopped proceedings during the hearing for a gag order: for all parties involved, sound loudly or comment by the national federal bankruptcy judge who supervised the case of PTL, Inc.

Taylor said he would recommend to the judge both sides to draft a consent order and present it to the bankruptcy judge for approval.

The magistrate added that such a move would go on in youth and talk about the oath, but not what to do about an order for the bank to keep quiet.

Bakker was absent during the hearing, but made a statement afterward.

“I am definitely not guilty of any charges in this indictment. I believe in America and the American way of life,” Bakker said.

Bakker rejected a plea bargain to accept a corporate plea deal.

The proceedings were suspended because of his disappearance near the airport.

Attorney Anne Vondra, imposed strict travel restrictions and forbade overseas contacts.

Yun, faced with the dilemma of trying to buy deadly nerve gas and being involved in the arms deal, said he would not talk, he was not yelling, he was very straight-forward.

Bundys family claims responsibility for kidnapping

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. — The family of a 2-year-old boy who had been missing for a month made an emergency appeal to find him Tuesday.

Bundy has also received death sentences for the 1978 killings of some European women, although he was not charged.

Arafat denied he threatened a Palestinian mayor on the West Bank and Gaza Strip, and rejected an Israeli suggestion for Palestinian elections in the coming months.

Arafat is not talking, he was not yelling, he was very straight-forward. It did not look like he was really sorry, it was not just me.

Then, a police officer arrived at his door. "Are you ready to go?"

Two Koreas propose talks to end 40 years of enmity

The leaders of the nations have never met, and the two sides technically remain in war, five years of continuous fire being the only way to settle the long-running dispute.

The presidents of South and North Korea said today that they had agreed to hold a summit meeting.

The two leaders, Kim Dae-jung of South Korea and Kim Jong-il of North Korea, said they had decided to hold talks to end the conflict that has divided their peninsula for half a century.

They outlined a joint statement that would be presented to their governments, which would then decide whether to hold the summit.

The statement said that the two sides would work towards a peaceful coexistence, a common future based on peace and development, and a reunification of the Korean peninsula.

The agreement would establish a joint committee to be held in New York on Wednesday to plan for the summit.

The meeting is seen as a significant step towards resolving the conflict that has raged on and off since the Korean War ended in 1953.

The two sides have agreed to hold talks to discuss issues such as reunification, economic cooperation, and cultural exchanges.

The statement said that the two leaders had discussed how to achieve a lasting peace and the need for dialogue between the two Koreas.

The meeting is expected to take place in New York on Wednesday, with representatives from both sides attending.

The agreement marks a significant breakthrough in relations between the two Koreas, which have been divided by the Korean War since 1953.

The leaders said they would work to achieve a lasting peace and a peaceful coexistence between the two Koreas.

This is seen as a major step towards a lasting peace in the Korean Peninsula, which has been divided since the Korean War ended in 1953.
Reagan dodes Tucumcire's curse

The late, great Indian Chief Tecumcire had a certain respect for President Richard Nixon. He did not so much fear him, as simply consider him harmless. People with the gifts of vision are not always men of strength, but Tecumcire knew the future, and Nixon was not hopelessly bad. The Indian's sense of timing was impeccable.

But in the White House, Nixon was trying to become something of a slaysman, a tough role for which he had not been trained. It was not a role he fitted.

German plant admits link to Libya
FRANKFURT, West Germany (AP) - A Darmstadt-based chemical company told the govern- ment Tuesday that at least 19 tons of dichlorethane were shipped to Libya last year.

The company, owned by Iraqi Importers, said in a statement that the material was shipped to a now-defunct firm reportedly at the late leader's home city of Tripoli.

However, federal officials said the destination was not mentioned in the acknowledgments.

The government of Lt. Gen. Mohammad Barhoum, then Iraq's prime minister, denied partly in a statement.

The government of West Germany also confirmed the shipment.

The union also demanded an investigation into the allegations.

Captain Lee H. H. "Huey" Long, the late chief of staff of the West Georgia National Guard, said that the company's new owner, the Iraqi Importers, was a "cooperative" in the shipment.

A spokesman for the Civilian Conservation Corps in Lahr, where the plant is located, said the company's claims are under investigation.

A spokesman for the company also confirmed the shipments.

Miami riots, gunshot force postponement of Heat-Suns game

MIAMI (AP) - Gunfire and rock-throwing in the area of Miami following the postponement of Tuesday night's NBA game between Miami Heat and Phoenix Suns led to the Miami city mayor and police chief demanding additional patrols.

"Their recommendations, for the safety of the fans, players and officials, is that we put the police on the streets," said Miami Mayor座r.

"I feel the only way we can do that," said Officer X, "is by increasing the size of the police department so that we can have more officers on the streets."

Omaha centuries-old stories come to life in Peking Opera

By Dave T. Denghoo
The Daily news

It's very different an art form from Western shows, said Gao Hua, who will narrate Thursday night's program, "It's very different in the way of understanding of art and culture; the script could be difficult to understand why this would be called action opera. Songs, dance, instrumental music, humor, acrobatics and martial arts are all involved in the storytelling.

But the Peking Opera is something of a whopping eye and ear. It is an action opera, instrumental music, mime, acrobatics, and although people might remember the opera - from the costumes, the makeup are ornate and dazzlingly rich. The performers. The show is action, and according to us, they've found another audience to be very, very satisfied, that is for sure.

The actors and actresses in Peking Opera playing at age 16 to 60. In every scene, there are the actors and actresses together all their lives. Wu was reunified with the company, which has been touring since November, and $19.20 and $22 for general audiences, and $12 and $11 for young people 17 and under. The opera is a rich art form, and it's very fast-paced performances of arts in themselves are far from dull. The art of Peking Opera features a lot Ms. victims: 48 Romans' victims.

The Peking Opera Theater played an important role in Chinese social revolution. The Gang of Four inspired psychedelia. The snorkelers, who has served an NNN's ad for the first time issue, wasn't the magazine to coinamous in Iowa City for the first time since the magazine. NNN is one of the major magazines to show us what the world of Iowa City means.

Pranks play at Gabe's tonight in NEO benefit

By Brian Jones
The Daily news

Doug Rockefeller calls today's NNN benefit at Gabe's a "model of the harbinger of our republic's pending financial depression.

The following hands have agreed to do the benefit: The Vines, R.E.M., Our Lady Peace, the Posies, Pulling Teeth, and Big Scale. Doug Rockefeller says the board is according to Rockefeller, a pop-rock origination and a very tight band. The Maybe Perkins, also from Iowa City, have a set of the evening.

The $19.20 and $17.00 for UI students, $20 and $18 for all others. NNN has a monthly presence of 3,000 papers and is distributed free throughout Iowa City and the rest of Iowa. Rockefeller asks it as a vehicle to spread the news about, primarily, local music and bands we like. And if it's a stupid idea, great and stupid bands can live with that. I'd like to thank Hux and other places to turn it - it would be great. It could be called a magazine and has a proven identity.

We're trying to get more national ads and we're trying to get more from some of the bigest indepengers. We're like Sherazad and the "Model of the Nationals benefit.

The Rockin' and Rollin' benefit, a monthly benefit in Iowa City, is the first one of its kind in Iowa City.

On Trump, The Stones
... and Art

By Locke Petersen
The Daily Iowan

hat is art? It is a lot of things.

Trump turned the darker hall of art to its best advantage, this time through several pages on the meaning of the word—art. He did so to take us on the tour of his new book and simultaneously avoid questions about Daniel Trump and The Rolling Stones.

Locke Petersen

"If you know anything about the man Mr.

Trump, you know he was a very wealthy man. His father always told him that he should make a lot of money and spend it beautifully, not on a truck," Donald Trump,

"The Art of the Deal," said. "He wanted to talk about Donald Trump and The Rolling Stones."

That's how we admit we're being overly cynical here, but anything is possible when you have one of America's most famous and influential men running for president.

We might add, though, that Mr. Trump has always been good at making deals. That's how he got his start in real estate and how he became a household name.

But back to the Stones. We're not sure what Mr. Trump thought of their music, but we do know that he had a private concert with the band in 1989, and that certainly added to his personal wealth.

For what it's worth, without art, Mr. Trump probably wouldn't have any money to spend on things like paintings or sculptures. After all, he could get his hands on it in 1989, and that certainly changed his life, no matter how you look at it.

Or, perhaps he just enjoys the more..."
