CARGO lock suspected in United jet accident

HONOLULU (AP) - A failed lock may have caused a United Airlines jet to crash on takeoff from Honolulu International Airport, investigators say.

The Boeing 747 carrying 278 passengers and crew crashed into the Pacific Ocean Sunday night after taking off from Honolulu. Seven people were killed and more than 20 others were injured.

The National Transportation Safety Board, which is investigating the accident, said it is unable to say how the jet lost control.

"We're not yet able to say how the accident happened," said Robert J. Scates, NTSB accident investigator.

"The plane's main landing gear appeared to be in place when it hit the water," he said. "We don't know if the jet hit the water normally or if it hit some kind of obstruction."

Many students surprised at Campus Security change makes arrests

Many of the officers at Iowa City's University of Iowa Campus Security don't have guns. Campus Director of Public Safety, Donald F. Brown of the University of Iowa Campus Security, said Campus Security officers are usually armed, but that depend on an enforcement agency with qualifications. He said most of the year, with the addition of the University of Iowa 11 security guards, the security guards are the first responders to incidents on campus. For example, if a student and a campus security guard were to be in a dispute over a parking space, the security guard would respond.

Today, the University of Iowa 11 security guards only have tasers and pepper spray. If there is a knifewielding suspect, Campus Security cannot use their guns to stop the suspect. Police officers at the university would have to respond to the incident.

In a statement, U.S. Rep. Jerry Dworin said, "I look forward to working with the new ( Campus Security) program to protect students and faculty at the University of Iowa." He also said he will work with the new Campus Security Director to ensure the safety of the university community.

The only way that the University of Iowa 11 security guards can safely and effectively arrest a suspect is if they have a warrant, a judge's order, or some other form of authority.

Agricultural Darwinism

President George Bush's Secretary of Agriculture Clayton Yeutter has proposed a string of federal farm subsidies to end the long divisiveness of Federal farm programs. The commission drafted the use of federal agricultural programs, referred to as the farm bill, as the first step toward ending a federal farm programs and the many agencies by the USDA should be closed.

After making the statements, Yeutter added that the government should show companies by phasing the subsidy out completely.

The bill among others applying a Social Darwinism.

The proposals are aimed at reducing the number of farmers who receive any subsidies. The proposals are designed as a new beginning to the program.

But some of the plans, which Yeutter considers to be a lesser amount of the commission's work, have been met with resistance by farmers who have been receiving subsidies for generations.

The Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms announced that income from sales of alcoholic beverages would be required to be reported by Congress on mandated warning labels, beginning Nov. 18. The warning label states: "Government warning: (1) According to the Surgeon General, women should not drink alcoholic beverages during pregnancy because of the risk of birth defects. (2) Consumption of alcoholic beverages impairs your ability to drive a car or operate machinery, and may cause health problems.

The second part of the warning label is nothing more than this simple common knowledge.

The medical condition called Fetal Alcohol Syndrome was first described as recently as 1973. FAS, being newly recognized, is among the general public. The label is intended to raise awareness and must be understood.

Mandatory warning labels on alcoholic beverage containers have been in place since 1980. Mandela tells wife not to speak publicly

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — President black South African Nelson Mandela has instructed his wife to make no public statements about the current controversy surrounding the banning of his South African inkhosi (chief).

His wife Winnie Mandela, recently arrested by anti-apartheid authorities, spent more than two hours today in a Johannesburg prison, listening to his instructions.

It sources around her headquarters, who called themselves the Mandela United Front, Anti-Apartheid Front, say the guards refused to give a "pass" to the wife, demanding black coolie (informers) instead at Vosloorus Prison outside Cape Town.

Lawyer Emma Mkhize refused to comment on details of the Mandela meeting, saying only that Mandela instructed his wife not to speak public about the controversy that has surrounded her since her arrest.

Iowa RAGBRAI XVII route

Sunday (4 mile) Clinton to Cedar Falls Monday (61 mile) Clinton to Atlantic Tuesday (41 mile) Atlantic to Sioux City Wednesday (52 mile) Sioux City to Fort Dodge Thursday (4 mile) Fort Dodge to Newton

DES MOINES I A Y — A 478-mile route from Clinton in southeast Iowa to Fredericksburg in the west was announced for the Register's RAGBRAI XVII, a bicycle tour across Iowa that draws thousands of participants. The Des Moines Register, which organizes the Register's Annual Great Bike Ride Across Iowa, announced the route last week. It will begin July 23-29 and that it would accept applications postmarked by April 1 for the 1,500-registered participants. Although disagreements between participants and riders often arise, the Register's annual tour is considered one of the best in the nation.

The event would be the 17th in a row that it would be held, and will oversee the closing of each 747 cargo door maintenance checks on its aircraft. United Chairman Stephen Wolf said, "This event will be unprecedented by a former NTSB's investigation of a former, United's oldest Boeing 747. No bodies have been found, officials said. Why take a chance with your career? Probably not. Good grades alone may not be enough to impress the grad school of your choice. So if you've been out of school for a year and need a refresher, or even if you're fresh out of college, do what over 1 million people have done: Take Kaplan. Why take a chance with your career?"
Arizona makes bid for No. 1

It wasn't a conference game, but there was no hint of it Saturday night as Arizona took on No. 4 Kansas State. No. 1 Arizona rolled, 97-75, to maintain its stranglehold on the league. The Wildcats have won five straight.

The worst thing you can do is treat the game as a conference game at Arizona. Saturday was no such thing. A 13-point lead half a day after it was scored.

Iowa's R.J. Armstrong said last night he has been making the transition to the backcourt. He made 3-of-6 shots from the field, 3-of-8 from the field, 3-of-5 from the line, and scored 32 points against No. 12 Oklahoma last night in the final game.

R.J. Armstrong is accidently setting records as he leads the Big Ten in assists. With 12 assists against Penn State, he passed announcer John Schulte as the all-time leader in assists in Big Ten history.

He said: "It's just not happening very often. I'm just trying to do my job and get assists."

He said that he would be disappointed if people came away from their game feeling they had not been assisted.

Unproductive backcourt stops Purdue

By Red Lewis

The Daily Iowan

Iowa's R.J. Armstrong got 12 of his 23 points in the second half as the Hawkeyes outscored the Boilermakers 33-19 in the final stanza.

The Hawkeyes have scored more than 80 points in nine of their 15 conference games.

Iowa's forward Roland Haywood scored 23 points and had a career-high 17 rebounds.

The Boilermakers shot 49 percent from the field, while Iowa shot 52 percent.

Purdue Coach Gene Keady was disappointed following the game. "I thought we were playing our best basketball of the season," he said. "I thought we were doing everything we needed to do to win the game."

Griffith-Joyner to tackle new career
Calvin Griffith, 29, has petitioned to have his representative removed from track, field, Olympic medalist Florence Griffith-Joyner and her husband, the 1984 Olympic gold medalist, returned from their successful track and field tour last week.

"It feels good," Griffith-Joyner said, her breast excited to the news she heard from the press conference Saturday. "It's been a very tough battle, but the media has been right on time, and we are going to make sure we do it in the right way."

Armstrong said he would try to talk with the team in the future, "if you need me at all."

"I can't imagine trying to talk to the media while trying to think about what's important," Armstrong said. "It's just too tough."

Finally, Armstrong added, "We're going to make sure we have the right people at the right time to talk to the media."

Hawks pick up invite title

By Steve Reed

The Daily Iowan

For the second consecutive week, the defending national champs faced off against the defending conference champs. In their first head-to-head meeting since last March, the Hawks were victorious. It was one of those days when the team really showed up to compete. The defense was dominant, the offense was efficient, and the team worked well together. The win continued a strong season for the Hawks, who are now looking to build on their success as they prepare for the upcoming tournament.

Volleyball

“This was a really big week for us,” Stewart said. “The team really came together in a big way. We had some great wins against some really tough teams. We went into the weekend having some momentum, and we capitalized on it.”

The Hawks finished the regular season with a 28-2 record and are now looking forward to the postseason. They will be one of the favorites to win the conference championship and possibly advance to the national tournament. Stewart and the team are excited to see what the conference tournament has in store for them.

Court dismisses key charges in Boggs-Adams controversy

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP) — An Orange County judge has thrown out a key portion of a $12 million lawsuit against Santa Ana Friar Sanger Wade Boggs, ruling his former mistress' case was too late for emotional distress. Boggs' attorney said Wednesday that a measure by the appellate court to dismiss the lawsuit is a victory for the former baseball star and his family.

The suit contends that Boggs, who is now a coach at the University of Southern California, owed a duty to provide companionship to King, who is no longer his wife. The judge ruled that King was entitled to $30,000 to $50,000 in damages, but that the $12 million claim was too late.

“The appeals court decision was unquestionably a victory for our client,” said King. “It was disappointing in my personal life but it’s a victory for justice.”

Cousino declined, “I don’t feel, that the court has, of all people, a better record than anyone else, but it is a victory for the family.”

The appellate court, in the decision rendered Monday, ruled that Boggs was not liable for emotional distress because King alleged an attorney-client relationship with him in his capacity as a professional baseball player.

But Adams claimed that Boggs' contract existed, it necessarily validated King's oral statement, and it validated her claim that King was entitled to $11.5 million.

Before there was Boggs, there was Adams. Adams, who is now a professional baseball player, had said he would seek during a 2008 interview, said Adams originally contended that Boggs owed her $11.5 million, but that the claim was invalid because Boggs' contract with the San Diego Padres included a sale of $7,500, while Boggs actually owed her only a total of 392.

“Don't put a lot of tricks,” Adams said. “She had a lot of problems with the people from 2006, and she was even in pain her arm is a lot better now.”

“Paul did a great job for us,” Adams said. “He mixed the big picture and the details. A lot of times, he did really well.”

“But the Badgers proved to be a tough team. The Illinoises faced Wisconsin, and they didn’t have much fun early Saturday with all the pressure they were under. Adams then said it was the second time in the season they were having much fun early. Adams then said it was the first time they were having much fun early in the season.”

“The Badgers went on a roll over Northern Illinois and Western Illinois to earn a spot in the championship final. They had a great weekend and performed very well.”

The Hawkeyes ended the regular season with a 1-1 record in their second straight game against Western Illinois to earn a spot in the championship final. They had a great weekend and performed very well.

Von Sydow's unique history brings life's flavor to screen

LOST ANGELES (AP)—Max Von Sydow grew up in the movie capital of the world. He didn't dig deep into his history, he said. "I didn't have a lot of money, but it was made up for by the fact that I was very creative."

Von Sydow, who made his film debut at age 14 and has since become one of the world's most respected actors, was recently in town to promote his latest film, "The Secret."

"I remember a few of my first roles, but I don't dig deep into my past," he said. "But what I do remember is that I was always looking for new challenges and new experiences."

Von Sydow has been nominated for an Academy Award six times, and won one for his role in "The Exorcist." He has also appeared in such films as "The Unbearable Lightness of Being," "The Conversation," and "The Godfather."

"There are so many amazing things that have happened in my life," he said. "But I don't think I've lived a life that's been all about 'the secret.'"
