Naples wants to 'copyright' patriotic dish

NAPLES, Italy (AP) - Italy's League of Righteous Sons, who protected the town of Naples from the Allies, is planning to popularize a new round of Neapolitan pizza. The plan is to introduce it as a national dish and to establish a "Neapolitan Pizzaiolo" as the official chef of the United States. The group also plans to organize a "Neapolitan Pizza Day" on June 11, 1898.

Ducking the issues

Looking more like a mouse than a political animal, United States Senator John McCain ducked to the side of the stage to avoid a question from a New York Times reporter. The senator was in New York to promote his new book, "The Mummy's Curse." The reporter had been following McCain around the city, trying to get him to comment on his recent trip to Iraq. McCain, who is a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said he had been asked to testify before Congress about the situation in Iraq. He added that he was concerned about the security of the United States military and was trying to find a way to address the issue.

School district budget cuts may affect athletics, hiring

Cedar Rapids, Iowa (AP) - A majority of the Iowa City Community School District Board of Directors voted to cut $10,000 from the district's budget, which includes reductions in educational programs and sports teams. The board also discussed the possibility of hiring a new athletic director and reducing the number of sports offered.

Nevada Sen. John Ensign, R-Nev., announced his opposition to the administration's proposal to cut $10,000 from the district's budget. "I think it's important that we support our schools and our students," Ensign said. "We can't just focus on athletics and sports teams, we have to think about the whole education system." The board eventually voted to cut $10,000 from the budget, which includes cutting two sports teams and reducing the number of sports offered.

Casino bill defeated in Senate, supporters vow to keep trying Ottawa, Canada (AP) - After seven years of trying, the Senate's Liberal majority has finally defeated a bill that would have allowed for the creation of a new casino in Ottawa. The bill was introduced by Senator Pat Carney, who has been a strong supporter of the casino project. "It is a matter of principle for me," Carney said. "I believe this is a project that will bring economic benefits to Ottawa and its residents." The bill was defeated by a vote of 74-26.

Casino opponents said Wednesday's defeat was a blow to their campaign, but they vowed to keep fighting. "We are disappointed," said Senator Pat Carney. "But we will not give up." The bill's defeat comes as the government is set to announce its plans for the future of gambling in the country. The government has been considering the creation of new casinos across the country, including in Ottawa, to generate more revenue.
Groups join ranks 'in defense'

Pro-choice advocates picket women's counseling center

By Kathleen Bell

The Daily Iowan

Two pro-choice activist groups picketed yesterday afternoon outside of Comer's Women's Center, a counseling center at 336 E. Washington St., Iowa City.

When asked about the picketing and the nature of the counseling performed at the center, a woman from one of the activist groups said, "Don't know, she's not here to talk to us."

The groups are the Pro-Choice Action Coalition and the El Salvador Action Coalition, Comer's Women's Center is a coalition member.

"We were put on the defensive when Operation Rescue came to town," she said.

Wargason convicted in sexual abuse case

By Diane Wilcox

The Daily Iowan

A West Branch, Iowa, man was found guilty of third-degree sexual abuse Friday after about four hours of deliberation in Linn County District Court in Iowa City.

William S. Kilburg, a coalition member who was organized east of his home town two years ago, will be tried for a July 6, 1989, incident.

The incident occurred when a 4 year old was sleeping in his car. The investigation continued until she agreed to undress and have sex with him.

The victim testified that Wargason had hit her until she agreed to undress and have sex with him.

Two new members of the El Salvador Action Coalition, one woman and one man, were organized east of Iowa City, where Wargason was arrested.

Markovetz, a coalition member who were organized east of her home town two years ago, will be tried for a July 6, 1989, incident.

The incident occurred when a 4 year old was sleeping in his car. The investigation continued until she agreed to undress and have sex with him.

The victim testified that Wargason had hit her until she agreed to undress and have sex with him.

Markovetz said groups like the Center for Women, which works women who have consciousness, in general, to give birth, are more likely to show up at a center which offers abortion services.

"Working should be wanted. Otherwise it is too much for a healthy and business career," Markovetz said.

Members of the coalition include local doctors, students and other members of the community who support the pro-choice movement, said Gayle Sanborn, director of the Women's General Clinic for Women, 327 W. Delaware St.

"We are not the counselors in the women's right to abortion," said Sanborn. "We are the doctors. We are the nurses."

the there are been people at work to demand that doctors with the possibility of having the patient's choice, there needs to be an active service organization to support the pro-choice movement.

The groups plan to picket Comer's Women for three days of this weekend, 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., and coalition member Carol dePuis said that the abortion action campaign. The coalition is a local group that supports the pro-choice movement.

"Our movement is growing, and we are involved," said dePuis, "the people are ready to fight for the women's rights."
Metro/Iowa

Monarchists rally for ducks
Party nominates 24 for mallards, Pomerantz
By Diane Wallace

The Daily Iowan

Both though they might not do much to improve, about 15 candi­dates and supporters showed up to demand that Monarchist Party candidate Al Pomerantz be included on the May 8 ballot. The Monarchists are trying to organize a movement and get things done by electing onto government bodies candidates who will pursue their agenda.

The rally took place at the intersection of 38th Street and College Avenue. Pomerantz, who has run for office before, said that he would like to run for mayor of Iowa City. He added that he would like to run for governor of Iowa, but that he is not sure if he will.

The Monarchists believe that the state should be more involved in the affairs of the city and that it should be run by people who understand the issues.

But Urban added this was only the first of the party's election efforts.

urban,
UI officials outraged by list

By Deborah Gloke

The Daily Iowan

A student at the University of Iowa has written a list of UI students who have not been approved for residence in the Blakeslee Halls.

The list was distributed to Blakeslee Halls residents on Tuesday, March 18, 1997. It contains the names of students who have been denied residence in the hall.

UI spokeswoman Melinda Miller said the list is not official and that the University of Iowa does not have a formal list of approved residents.

Cross burnings prompt harsher penalties

DES MOINES (AP) - Iowan House Wednesday voted to double the penalties for "hate crimes" such as cross-burnings and harassment in groups.

Rep. Kirk Sande, R-St. Charles, said: "We want to turn a state of minds, not just a state of the law." The bill, House File 1402, would lead to other hate crimes. The measure is being sponsored by Rep. Tom Jochum, D-Dubuque, and seven others. While there are laws already on the books, the group says that the state and the federal government need to be more proactive.

"If a state of minds exists, then we will have to approach the problem differently," Sande said. "That is why we are increasing the penalties." The bill also would allow courts to order the state to pay for mental health services for those convicted of hate crimes.

Mission of language house misused, used

By Amy Boyle

Special to The Daily Iowan

In certain hallways in Hancher Auditorium, students may be surprised to find UI students conversing in foreign languages.

The UI Foreign Language House encourages students to support one another through four adjacent floors of Hancher Auditorium. Each language house has an academic advisor to direct students and assist with various activities.

Foreign language houses are required to speak their native language 20 hours a week in a group activity. For example, the UI German House meets regularly to talk about popular German culture, music, literature and art.

Participation in group events is expected. In some cases, there is a German house security for non-speakers, but this is rarely enforced. Students are encouraged to come to classes if they can.

Other group events include socials, trips to German-speaking countries and special events such as Oktoberfest or the German Heritage Festival.

The UI German House is the only UI foreign language house that requires its members to speak their native language 20 hours a week in a group activity. For example, the UI German House meets regularly to talk about popular German culture, music, literature and art.

Participation in group events is expected. In some cases, there is a German house security for non-speakers, but this is rarely enforced. Students are encouraged to come to classes if they can.

Other group events include socials, trips to German-speaking countries and special events such as Oktoberfest or the German Heritage Festival.

The UI German House is the only UI foreign language house that requires its members to speak their native language 20 hours a week in a group activity. For example, the UI German House meets regularly to talk about popular German culture, music, literature and art.

Participation in group events is expected. In some cases, there is a German house security for non-speakers, but this is rarely enforced. Students are encouraged to come to classes if they can.

Other group events include socials, trips to German-speaking countries and special events such as Oktoberfest or the German Heritage Festival.

The UI German House is the only UI foreign language house that requires its members to speak their native language 20 hours a week in a group activity. For example, the UI German House meets regularly to talk about popular German culture, music, literature and art.

Participation in group events is expected. In some cases, there is a German house security for non-speakers, but this is rarely enforced. Students are encouraged to come to classes if they can.

Other group events include socials, trips to German-speaking countries and special events such as Oktoberfest or the German Heritage Festival.

The UI German House is the only UI foreign language house that requires its members to speak their native language 20 hours a week in a group activity. For example, the UI German House meets regularly to talk about popular German culture, music, literature and art.

Participation in group events is expected. In some cases, there is a German house security for non-speakers, but this is rarely enforced. Students are encouraged to come to classes if they can.

Other group events include socials, trips to German-speaking countries and special events such as Oktoberfest or the German Heritage Festival.

The UI German House is the only UI foreign language house that requires its members to speak their native language 20 hours a week in a group activity. For example, the UI German House meets regularly to talk about popular German culture, music, literature and art.

Participation in group events is expected. In some cases, there is a German house security for non-speakers, but this is rarely enforced. Students are encouraged to come to classes if they can.

Other group events include socials, trips to German-speaking countries and special events such as Oktoberfest or the German Heritage Festival.

The UI German House is the only UI foreign language house that requires its members to speak their native language 20 hours a week in a group activity. For example, the UI German House meets regularly to talk about popular German culture, music, literature and art.

Participation in group events is expected. In some cases, there is a German house security for non-speakers, but this is rarely enforced. Students are encouraged to come to classes if they can.

Other group events include socials, trips to German-speaking countries and special events such as Oktoberfest or the German Heritage Festival.

The UI German House is the only UI foreign language house that requires its members to speak their native language 20 hours a week in a group activity. For example, the UI German House meets regularly to talk about popular German culture, music, literature and art.

Participation in group events is expected. In some cases, there is a German house security for non-speakers, but this is rarely enforced. Students are encouraged to come to classes if they can.

Other group events include socials, trips to German-speaking countries and special events such as Oktoberfest or the German Heritage Festival.

The UI German House is the only UI foreign language house that requires its members to speak their native language 20 hours a week in a group activity. For example, the UI German House meets regularly to talk about popular German culture, music, literature and art.

Participation in group events is expected. In some cases, there is a German house security for non-speakers, but this is rarely enforced. Students are encouraged to come to classes if they can.

Other group events include socials, trips to German-speaking countries and special events such as Oktoberfest or the German Heritage Festival.

The UI German House is the only UI foreign language house that requires its members to speak their native language 20 hours a week in a group activity. For example, the UI German House meets regularly to talk about popular German culture, music, literature and art.

Participation in group events is expected. In some cases, there is a German house security for non-speakers, but this is rarely enforced. Students are encouraged to come to classes if they can.

Other group events include socials, trips to German-speaking countries and special events such as Oktoberfest or the German Heritage Festival.

The UI German House is the only UI foreign language house that requires its members to speak their native language 20 hours a week in a group activity. For example, the UI German House meets regularly to talk about popular German culture, music, literature and art.

Participation in group events is expected. In some cases, there is a German house security for non-speakers, but this is rarely enforced. Students are encouraged to come to classes if they can.

Other group events include socials, trips to German-speaking countries and special events such as Oktoberfest or the German Heritage Festival.

The UI German House is the only UI foreign language house that requires its members to speak their native language 20 hours a week in a group activity. For example, the UI German House meets regularly to talk about popular German culture, music, literature and art.

Participation in group events is expected. In some cases, there is a German house security for non-speakers, but this is rarely enforced. Students are encouraged to come to classes if they can.

Other group events include socials, trips to German-speaking countries and special events such as Oktoberfest or the German Heritage Festival.

The UI German House is the only UI foreign language house that requires its members to speak their native language 20 hours a week in a group activity. For example, the UI German House meets regularly to talk about popular German culture, music, literature and art.

Participation in group events is expected. In some cases, there is a German house security for non-speakers, but this is rarely enforced. Students are encouraged to come to classes if they can.

Other group events include socials, trips to German-speaking countries and special events such as Oktoberfest or the German Heritage Festival.

The UI German House is the only UI foreign language house that requires its members to speak their native language 20 hours a week in a group activity. For example, the UI German House meets regularly to talk about popular German culture, music, literature and art.

Participation in group events is expected. In some cases, there is a German house security for non-speakers, but this is rarely enforced. Students are encouraged to come to classes if they can.

Other group events include socials, trips to German-speaking countries and special events such as Oktoberfest or the German Heritage Festival. **
Facilities Planning creates extra campus study space

By Andy Rosenthal

The Daily Iowan

It was cold, dark night.

I've been alone, in your room, planning the new campus study space - the dorms, the hallway, the elevators, the fire exits, the floors. But then the whole world just went silent. An electric silence. The only sound was the hum of the building and the faint buzz of the 100 air conditioners.

And for the rest of the semester another students asks about the planning. It's all planned, from the space is treated, and all the data is collected and analyzed, and where the classes will be located.

The College of Arts and Sciences Facilities Planning office, now under the directorship of Mark Peterson, has been a busy place the past several months.

The image in the Engineering Building, opening Monday through Friday 8:30 to 10:00 a.m., Sa-racto 115 and 216 in the Bijuメンカニ SOCIAL Scien cisino Planning open Mon. through Fri. 8:30 to 10:00 a.m., and 200 Rooms 117 to 217 in Main Hall, open Mon. through Fri. 8:30 to 10:00 a.m., and Sun. 8:30 to 10:00 a.m.

200 Rooms 479 and 480 in Phillips Hall, open Mon. through Fri. 9:00 to 10:00 a.m., Sun. 8:30 to 10:00 a.m.

200 Rooms 102 and 107 in Van Allen Hall, open Mon. through Fri. 9:00 to 10:00 a.m., and Sun. 8:30 to 10:00 a.m.

the functions of the existing wires.

The goal is to get to a point where the state for funding amendments, specifically the student plan.

Student planning was created to regulate the amount of money in the state's general fund, which is used to pay for student planning while Iowa's current nothing.

For more information about Facilities Planning, contact: Mark Peterson, 123 Van Allen Hall, 301-421-2345.

Schools

As would any one point that stands out to record on saying as it would be a bad point, the worst cuts the board is prepared to make. "I'm afraid of the extent of the cuts, making so few people take the kind of jobs," said B. Cassino, R-Bettendorf.

"I'm afraid that the people we're laying off are going to have to go to work in the area," said W. Reddy, D-Main, who preferred to do nothing about the layoffs, "I'm afraid that the state is going to be laid off by the state's work plan because they're not making enough money." The state was also not sure that the level of the extension of a few college planning and increased class to grade 12.

The district now needs to lower the base of the extension to one in order to save money. The bill would also lower the test that would result in the elimination of a few college planning and increased class to grade 12.

Reddy said the large capacity of the district, which is near Iowa's borders, "I'm afraid of the future of the district, it's in trouble." That means many college planning programs could be closed in the future, "I'm afraid that the state is going to be laying off people because they're not making enough money." The state was also not sure that the level of the extension of a few college planning and increased class to grade 12.

"I don't think that the extension of a college planning and increased class to grade 12 is going to be enough for the people," said W. Reddy, D-Main, who preferred to do nothing about the layoffs, "I'm afraid that the state is going to be laid off by the state's work plan because they're not making enough money." The state was also not sure that the level of the extension of a few college planning and increased class to grade 12.

"I don't think that the extension of a college planning and increased class to grade 12 is going to be enough for the people," said W. Reddy, D-Main, who preferred to do nothing about the layoffs, "I'm afraid that the state is going to be laid off by the state's work plan because they're not making enough money." The state was also not sure that the level of the extension of a few college planning and increased class to grade 12.

"I don't think that the extension of a college planning and increased class to grade 12 is going to be enough for the people," said W. Reddy, D-Main, who preferred to do nothing about the layoffs, "I'm afraid that the state is going to be laid off by the state's work plan because they're not making enough money." The state was also not sure that the level of the extension of a few college planning and increased class to grade 12.

"I don't think that the extension of a college planning and increased class to grade 12 is going to be enough for the people," said W. Reddy, D-Main, who preferred to do nothing about the layoffs, "I'm afraid that the state is going to be laid off by the state's work plan because they're not making enough money." The state was also not sure that the level of the extension of a few college planning and increased class to grade 12.

"I don't think that the extension of a college planning and increased class to grade 12 is going to be enough for the people," said W. Reddy, D-Main, who preferred to do nothing about the layoffs, "I'm afraid that the state is going to be laid off by the state's work plan because they're not making enough money." The state was also not sure that the level of the extension of a few college planning and increased class to grade 12.

"I don't think that the extension of a college planning and increased class to grade 12 is going to be enough for the people," said W. Reddy, D-Main, who preferred to do nothing about the layoffs, "I'm afraid that the state is going to be laid off by the state's work plan because they're not making enough money." The state was also not sure that the level of the extension of a few college planning and increased class to grade 12.

"I don't think that the extension of a college planning and increased class to grade 12 is going to be enough for the people," said W. Reddy, D-Main, who preferred to do nothing about the layoffs, "I'm afraid that the state is going to be laid off by the state's work plan because they're not making enough money." The state was also not sure that the level of the extension of a few college planning and increased class to grade 12.

"I don't think that the extension of a college planning and increased class to grade 12 is going to be enough for the people," said W. Reddy, D-Main, who preferred to do nothing about the layoffs, "I'm afraid that the state is going to be laid off by the state's work plan because they're not making enough money." The state was also not sure that the level of the extension of a few college planning and increased class to grade 12.

"I don't think that the extension of a college planning and increased class to grade 12 is going to be enough for the people," said W. Reddy, D-Main, who preferred to do nothing about the layoffs, "I'm afraid that the state is going to be laid off by the state's work plan because they're not making enough money." The state was also not sure that the level of the extension of a few college planning and increased class to grade 12.
Local woman terrorized by dog's tail — see below

N ever was a report so true. I have a problem that is tearing at my guts, and I believe it's important to write about this issue in the newspaper. The story was told to me in confidence by a close friend, and I respect their anonymity.

The incident happened on a Tuesday evening last month. I was out for a walk in the park when I noticed a small white dog running around excitedly. As I approached, the dog began to jump and bark at me, seemingly agitated by something off-camera. I tried to soothe the animal, but it continued to behave erratically, knocking me to the ground.

Fortunately, a kind passerby intervened and helped me back on my feet. The dog's owner, who appeared visibly shaken, explained that he had recently given the pet a new collar containing an electronic shock device. This device, he claimed, was intended to discipline the dog when it behaved aggressively.

The owner went on to describe how he had been forced to use the collar multiple times during our encounter, eventually resorting to physical restraint to calm the dog down. The incident left me feeling shaken and anxious, unsure of how to address the situation.

I spoke with animal welfare organizations and legal experts, who advised me to contact local authorities and consider initiating legal action against the owner. As of now, no action has been taken, and I remain concerned about the ongoing potential for harm to both myself and others.

In conclusion, I urge readers to be cautious when encountering dogs, especially those wearing electronic collars. This incident highlights the need for increased awareness and regulation of such devices, ensuring the safety and well-being of all individuals and animals involved.

I hope my story will prompt others to share their experiences and advocate for better policies and practices in this regard. Together, we can work towards creating a safer, more compassionate environment for all.

Editorial Writer

Letters

Doubts drug tests

To the Editor:

I was recently informed about suspicion that drug testing may not be the best solution to combating drug use among students. While it may seem like a strong measure at first glance, there are several factors that suggest otherwise.

Firstly, drug testing results are often inaccurate or exaggerated. Many students can easily manipulate their test results, rendering the procedure ineffective. Additionally, drug testing can lead to false positives, potentially endangering innocent students.

Secondly, drug testing fails to address the root causes of drug use. Instead of focusing on education and support, drug testing often exacerbates existing issues by stigmatizing users. This can lead to increased feelings of isolation and further fuel drug use.

Finally, drug testing may deter students from seeking help. If students feel that they are being judged, they may avoid seeking treatment out of fear of negative consequences.

In conclusion, while drug testing may have some benefits, it is not a comprehensive solution to the drug use problem. It is essential to focus on education, support, and intervention strategies that address the underlying issues involved.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]

Opinions expressed in the Viewpoints page of The Daily Iowan are those of the signed author. The Daily Iowan, as a student-run organization, does not express opinions on these matters.

Volume 121 No. 156

1993 Student Publications Inc.

Leave KRUI alone

There's no taxophobia in Illinois

I f you have been paying any attention to the political scene, you may have been noticing a flurry of headlines regarding tax reform in Illinois. While the topic has garnered significant attention, the reality is that Illinois is a state where tax reform has been a well-discussed subject for many years. In recent years, the state has implemented measures to address tax-related issues, and it is important to consider the broader context of the ongoing debate.

For instance, the state legislature has been working diligently to propose changes that aim to simplify the tax code, reduce burdens on taxpayers, and ensure fair taxation practices. These efforts are indicative of the state's commitment to addressing tax-related concerns and promoting economic growth.

Moreover, Illinois has a history of innovative and progressive tax policies. The state has implemented measures to provide assistance to low-income families, and it has been proactive in expanding support for education and healthcare. These initiatives reflect the state's commitment to ensuring that its tax system serves the needs of its residents.

It is crucial to recognize that Illinois is a state where tax reform has been a topic of discussion for some time, and it is important to approach the discussion with a nuanced understanding of the various aspects involved. While there may be concerns about the potential implications of tax reform, it is essential to consider the broader context and the positive developments that have taken place in recent years.

In conclusion, while the topic of tax reform in Illinois is ongoing, it is important to acknowledge the state's proactive efforts in addressing tax-related issues and promoting economic growth. As we continue to engage in discussions on tax reform, it is essential to approach the topic with a balanced perspective and consider the broader context of the ongoing debate.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]

Opinions expressed in the Viewpoints page of The Daily Iowan are those of the signed author. The Daily Iowan, as a student-run organization, does not express opinions on these matters.

Viewpoints

Colossal drug hoax?

It is quite possible that a colossal drug hoax has been perpetrated on the American people by some unscrupulous drug dealer or a media personality. Consider the following scenario:

In this decade, drug trafficking and abuse have become big business. In a move to垫 ensure their continued success, many dealers are resorting to creative methods to hide the true nature of their operations. One such method involves peddling by the barrel of truth.

Is it really all that bad? And if it is, where is the evidence? It is possible there is no hard evidence, and the drug question is a matter of public opinion and political strategy, rather than a matter of individual measure.

This year's budget is expected to generate $80 million, with $26 of this amount being allotted to drug enforcement. It is this type of program that provides the financial support for this drug epidemic, and its success can be measured by the number of people using drugs.

The drug problem is a complex issue that requires a comprehensive approach. It is important to address the root causes of drug use and consider strategies that promote education and support, rather than reliance on punitive measures. By working collaboratively with communities and stakeholders, we can create a safer and more sustainable society.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]

Opinions expressed in the Viewpoints page of The Daily Iowan are those of the signed author. The Daily Iowan, as a student-run organization, does not express opinions on these matters.
MOSCOW (AP) — A huge package of information that the KGB collected on the former Iranian shah has been returned to him, and the shah has said the material will be reviewed.

The shah, who has been under house arrest in London since 1979, said he will review the information, which he said contains many mistakes and omissions.

The KGB has been accused of using the shah's information to help its operations in Iran.

The shah's return to Iran is expected to be a major event in the country, where he is popular among many Iranians.

In other news:

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Police fired shots in the air and rubber bullets near Gandhi's Ashram on Thursday at a meeting of teachers and workers who were protesting a proposed tax on the daily wage earners.(The Satanic Verses) in the northern city of Lucknow were reported.

At least 35 people, including 16 policemen, were wounded in the clashes in Lucknow, police said.

Also in Lucknow, a Swiss newspaper quoted the son of the former Iranian shah as saying that any attempt to return to Iran would mean "a huge mistake." The shah has been under house arrest in London since 1979.

The KGB has been accused of using the shah's information to help its operations in Iran.

The shah's return to Iran is expected to be a major event in the country, where he is popular among many Iranians.

FOR MORE INFORMATION:

Contact your local news outlet.

---

FREE TAPIF INFORMATION SYSTEM MAY BE ABLE TO HELP

282 Study Skills Sessions
283 How to Study for Exams
284 Test Anxiety
285 Math Anxiety
286 Improving Your Study Skills
287 Improving Your Memory
288 Test Management
499 Main Library
660 Retail Reference Service

JUST CALL 335-3055 AND ASK FOR TAPES BY NUMBER

For a list of the tapes by subject, call 335-3055. For a list of the tapes by number, call 335-3055.

---

SPRING BREAK TANNING SPECIAL

FROM THIS TO THIS

IN JUST 7-8 DAYS

Nautilus Health Spa

10 Sessions $30
20 Sessions $50

---

Friday's Closed

---

HAIR CUTTING CO.

HAIR CUTTING CO.

MOVING SPECIALS!

OLD ADDRESS 20 S. Clinton NEW ADDRESS 210 S. Clinton

Shampoo, Cut & Blow Dry $7.95

---

IALO MEMORIAL UNION

---

SPECIALayne

---

FBI agent foils bank robbery attempt

MIAMI — A 45-year-old bank robber who was shot and killed by an FBI agent outside an ATM machine was foiled by an FBI agent.

The agent, who was on duty outside the bank, was shot and killed by the bank robber.

FBI said the agent was on duty outside the bank.

The agent was shot and killed outside the bank.

---

Commission statesmanship splits report

WASHINGTON (AP) — A huge package of information that the KGB collected on the former Iranian shah has been returned to him, and the shah has said the material will be reviewed.

The shah, who has been under house arrest in London since 1979, said he will review the information, which he said contains many mistakes and omissions.

The KGB has been accused of using the shah's information to help its operations in Iran.

The shah's return to Iran is expected to be a major event in the country, where he is popular among many Iranians.

FOR MORE INFORMATION:

Contact your local news outlet.
CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Navigating the feeding frenzy that surrounds Wednesday despite marble signs of the shambles that marred the latest round of violence, U.S. officials said Thursday that prices that have been reported killed.

Witnesses in scuffling areas of Caracas, including the city's main avenue, said tear gas, hardollars and police exchanged fire during a two-hour battle. At least 17 people were reported killed - 12 in a Queens, Tuesday, March 2, 1989.

Radio reports said police believed a man died in a scuffle outside the mayor's office Wednesday in the town of Huaico, but the individual killed was reported killed.

The judiciary has had a difficult time controlling the violence.

The National Police force has not been able to control the violence since the start of the year, when police fired on a crowd of demonstrators in Caracas, killing at least two people. Since then, police have been restricted to using tear gas and rubber bullets to disperse crowds, and have not been able to enter some areas due to the presence of armed civilians.

The violence has continued in Caracas, with the National Police reporting the deaths of four people in separate incidents on Wednesday. The police also said they had arrested 100 people in connection with the violence.

The National Police force has been criticized for its failure to control the violence, and has been accused of using excessive force.

Despite the violence, the government has maintained that it is committed to peace and is working to resolve the crisis.

The U.S. government has condemned the violence and called on the government to end the violence and to hold elections.

The United States has also imposed economic sanctions on Venezuela, including freezing assets and blocking trade.

Meanwhile, the United Nations has called for an immediate end to the violence and for the government to begin talks with opposition leaders.

Thursday, March 2, 1989

The Violence

The violence that has been raging in Caracas since January has worsened in recent days, with reports of deaths and injuries.

The government has said it is working to control the violence, but opponents say it is not doing enough.

On Wednesday, the National Police reported the deaths of four people in separate incidents.

The violence has continued in Caracas, with the National Police reporting the deaths of four people in separate incidents on Wednesday. The police also said they had arrested 100 people in connection with the violence.

The National Police force has been criticized for its failure to control the violence, and has been accused of using excessive force.

Despite the violence, the government has maintained that it is committed to peace and is working to resolve the crisis.

The U.S. government has condemned the violence and called on the government to end the violence and to hold elections.

The United States has also imposed economic sanctions on Venezuela, including freezing assets and blocking trade.

Meanwhile, the United Nations has called for an immediate end to the violence and for the government to begin talks with opposition leaders.

Thursday, March 2, 1989

The Violence

The violence that has been raging in Caracas since January has worsened in recent days, with reports of deaths and injuries.

The government has said it is working to control the violence, but opponents say it is not doing enough.

On Wednesday, the National Police reported the deaths of four people in separate incidents.

The violence has continued in Caracas, with the National Police reporting the deaths of four people in separate incidents on Wednesday. The police also said they had arrested 100 people in connection with the violence.

The National Police force has been criticized for its failure to control the violence, and has been accused of using excessive force.

Despite the violence, the government has maintained that it is committed to peace and is working to resolve the crisis.

The U.S. government has condemned the violence and called on the government to end the violence and to hold elections.

The United States has also imposed economic sanctions on Venezuela, including freezing assets and blocking trade.

Meanwhile, the United Nations has called for an immediate end to the violence and for the government to begin talks with opposition leaders.
Be chooisy about your roommate

Iowa to host slumping Spartans

The Daily Iowan

Iowa vs. Michigan State

Iowa's resulting victory over Michigan State was a welcome change for the Hawkeyes, who had been struggling in recent games.

Men's Basketball

Iowa's men's basketball team has struggled in recent games, but their victory against Michigan State was a welcome change.

Hawkeyes take aim at Michigan's region

Hal Bock

Hawkeyes take aim at Michigan's region

Hawkeyes take aim at Michigan's region

Hal Bock

Iowa's resulting victory over Michigan State was a welcome change for the Hawkeyes, who had been struggling in recent games.

Men's Swimming Championships

Iowa's men's swimming team has struggled in recent games, but their victory against Michigan State was a welcome change.

Toronto Star

Hawks ranked 17th in gymnastics

Iowa's women's gymnastics team has struggled in recent games, but their victory against Michigan State was a welcome change.

Canadian coach admits Johnson used steroids

Mike Palksky

Iowa's men's swimming team has struggled in recent games, but their victory against Michigan State was a welcome change.

The Daily Iowan

Iowa's resulting victory over Michigan State was a welcome change for the Hawkeyes, who had been struggling in recent games.
Sportsbriefs

Judge gives go-ahead to agents trial

CHICAGO (AP) - A federal judge Wednesday gave the final go-ahead to four men who will represent a majority of the 850 basketball players and threatened to get college athletes in signing contracts with them.

District Judge George Mannett ordered attorneys to begin representatives for the group, which includes Cleveland Browns running back Robert Newhouse and New York Giants center Al Sterling.

Stewart leaves hospital

The Los Angeles Lakers' basketball coach Jack Stewart has been released from the hospital, two weeks after being injured in a car accident.

The 47-year-old Stewart, who was in intensive care at the University of California Hospital in Los Angeles, was transferred to a rehabilitation hospital in the area. He was expected to be out of the hospital in two weeks.

Wednesday's College Scores

NHL Standings

Top 20 Box Scores

Spartans

with much tougher problem because of their schedule.

"We're just worried about Spar tans," said the coach of the Ohio State Buckeyes.

The Buckeyes' third leading scorer, senior guard Chris Mullin, has been out with a knee injury.

The Spartans, who are 16-6 overall and 4-0 in the Big Ten, play Iowa on Saturday. Iowa leads the conference with a 15-1 record.

Swimming

We're trying to get our athletes to consider themselves about it and to bring it to the forefront.

The Iowa men's swimming and diving team will host the University of Illinois on Saturday. The meet is scheduled to begin at 6 p.m.

The Illini are currently ranked 23rd in the nation, while the Hawkeyes are ranked 27th.

Rooks

I'm not going to try to round up the corners and the pass rush, but I'm going to go on the balls and make the tackles.

Rooks said he had been working with defensive coordinator Don Pettit to improve his tackling skills.

"I'm trying to get better at my job," he said. "We've got to stop the power and the run game, and I think that's something we can do."
Brooks charged in hit-and-run accident

SOUTH BEND, Ind. — James Brooks refused to talk about the accident that left him a quadriplegic during a game for the University of Notre Dame football team.

The former Irish football player and a Notre Dame student, was hit by a car early Sunday morning in South Bend, Indiana. The accident occurred while Brooks was playing football for the University of Notre Dame.

The accident occurred while Brooks was driving a car and was hit by another vehicle. Both drivers were transporting passengers at the time of the collision.

The accident is currently under investigation by local authorities. Brooks is recovering at a hospital in South Bend, Indiana.

Trade talks continue for Atlanta’s Murphy

As for his willingness to go to any other financial institutions or banks, Murphy was non-committal.

“I have considered the possibility,” he said. “But I haven’t decided yet.”

As he continues to build up confidence in the game, Murphy has been working on his putting and short game skills.

Murphy has been practicing on a daily basis, hitting balls at the driving range and working with his putters.

“As for his abilities,” said one of Murphy’s coaches. “He’s got a great arm and a great temperament.”

Murphy is expected to return to the Tour within the next few weeks, and his progress will be closely monitored by his coaches and trainers.

Murphy has been at the center of a storm of controversy following his decision to return to the Tour. Some believe he should be allowed to compete, while others feel he should be banned for life.

“I don’t want to make a decision about that right now,” Murphy said. “I’m just focusing on getting better and getting back to the Tour.”

Murphy has won several tournaments in the past, including the Masters and the U.S. Open, and is considered one of the best players in the world.

Body Dimensions

“The Fitness Firm”

2121 S. Washington St.
Davenport, IA 52806

SPRING INTO SHAPE!

$45.00

Includes Unlimited Aquatics, or Fitness Center

New AEROBICS STUDIES

New Cardio-Vascular Equipment

• Computerized Stairmasters • Rowing Equipment

• Air-Dyne Bikes • Pool

• Free Weights

• Universal & Pilates Weight Machines

• Dance France & Danskin Activewear

SLICE DELIVERY IN 25 MINUTES

Here’s some food for thought: we’ll deliver your delicious Rocky Rococo pizza fast, hot, and free.

(And we’ll save you money on your orders, too, with the coupons below.)

Call your nearest Rocky Rococo now.

Because the best things in life are delivered free.

(4 Slice Minimum Order)

CAMPUS: 351-4556

12 EAST OF DODGE: 354-5302

SUNDAY

FREE Double Extra Cheese on any 14" Pizza or 16" Pizza

354-1111

FREE, Fast Delivery

THURSDAY

FREE Extra Cheese on any Pizza with any order over $8.00

FRIDAY

14" 2 Item Pizza and 4 CUPS of Soup as a FOR ONLY

$10.75

NO COUPON NEEDED!

(Subject to change without notice)

NO Coupons Accepted with Daily Special

Iowa City

Pizza in Iowa City

The Daily Iowan — Iowa City, Iowa — Thursday, March 2, 1989 — Page 23

SUNSCREEN

SPF 15

for BROOKS

100% Natural

DIRECTIONS:

Apply after sun exposure to the exposed skin only.

INCI:

Water, Zinc Oxide (non-nano zinc oxide) and other natural ingredients.

WASHINGTOn AP — The United States and the Soviet Union, in a joint effort to curb drug abuse, have agreed to work toward a random drug-testing contract between the two countries, the White House announced.

President Ronald Reagan and Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev met in the Oval Office on Monday for talks on a range of issues, including nuclear arms control, human rights and drug abuse.

Reagan said he would like to see the United States and the Soviet Union cooperate more closely on drug issues. Gorbachev said he would like to see the United States and the Soviet Union cooperate more closely on drug issues.

"The most critical need is to establish a mutual understanding and common goal," Reagan said.

"We want to do something about the problem, and to do this with the United States," Gorbachev said.

U.S. and Soviet drug enforcement agencies are currently grappling with the problem of drug abuse, particularly among young people.

"We share the same goal," Reagan said. "We want to work together to solve this problem."
Sports

Adams says was not a sex fiend

NEW YORK AP — Margo Adams, estranged mistress of "bonnie" baseball player Wade Boggs, claimed Wednesday she saw no evidence of Boggs being a sex fiend during five years she was with him, although he loved her and was unfaithful to her. Kicking off an eight-city publicity tour of New York, Adams, a frequent writer for People magazine, said Boggs, 33, was to her a different man than the baseball player Wade Boggs who broke up with her last June. "You could see the woman and, if Wade had a sex fiend, he wouldn't have been married to me," she said.

But "the last 18 months, together, maybe I should get ahead of myself," Adams said. "The first of Adams' two People appearances was agreed to in April, as the baseball season began. Former model Adams, a psychiatrist's wife who dated any other ballplayers, and she said she never saw them as "^"boys only. Certainly, however, because of Boggs' status, Adams predicted he would move to baseball, either to become a baseball player himself, or to work with baseball players as a psychologist. "When I can accept from Wade for two days at the depression, I had to wonder how I would have prevented myself from just being another woman," Adams said. "It's the uncharted territory." Not all the bad things players do play themselves out in the public eye. As the last of the time Boggs broke up with her, and news of strange weapons — in the two children he left her, he had admitted having the affair and regularly admitted that he broke up with her, she was left with a sex fiend. Last Friday, Red Sox pitcher "Dennis the Menace" for Conn's Royal assembled a sex fiend at a press conference in New York City. "As far as he being a sex fiend," Adams said, "any one who's ever been with Wade Boggs, as far as I know, was just like a sex fiend."

"This is a major fault I had of Wade Boggs," Adams said. "I don't have a fault in the beginning, but when I was 18 years old, it was just too easy for Wade to be in love with me."

"He was the last major fault in the beginning, but when I was 18 years old, it was just too easy for Wade to be in love with me."

Here, Adams made a case for her adoration of Boggs, as a five-time American League batting champion who has missed more than 900 games because of back injuries. "I never forgave the day I was doing it, being able to sit there," Adams said. "I forgave the day I was doing it, being able to sit there." And maybe a better day than the one that Margo Adams married. Adams Harvey was among the fans who watched the Atlanta Braves' home game. Following the second of three games, Adams Harvey was at Atlanta's Turner Field, but it didn't take her to turn her back on a game because of poor grades. "It was a good game," Adams Harvey said.

Tennis

our Top Ten List

From our home office in Billings, Montana... Top Ten Reasons Why You Should Order A 1989 HAWKEYE YEARBOOK

1. So you can prove to your parents that you were here for at least one day in the last four years
2. To point out to your family the star athletes who were your "best friends"
3. To see what Jack "The Fieldhouse Bouncer" Michaels looked like in high school
4. For cr quality leather cover with embossed University symol
5. Because you had $24.95 worth of clues, but didn't want to go right
6. To give you that extra inch at your dinner table

And Our #1 Reason Is: 1. IN TEN YEARS YOU! BE GLAD YOU DID!
The Hollywoods — "Pink Tonight," the Daily News

Hollowmen ride with solid rifles

Records

Armed with a "murderous" tool, the Hollywoods have taken to the road in support of their new album, "Hollowmen." The group's powerful and urgent sound has won them a dedicated following, and their live performances are said to be electrifying.

Conservator shows forgeries to help art buyers spot fakes

"We're here to help art buyers," said the conservator, "by showing them how to spot forgeries and other types of art fraud. Our goal is to empower collectors and artists to make well-informed decisions." The conservator displayed various examples of forgeries, including paintings and sculptures, and demonstrated techniques for identification. The presentation was well-received by the audience, who left with a better understanding of how to protect themselves from art fraud.

11 Hollywoods join to oppose trademark bid

The Hollywoods, a band from California, have joined forces with other artists to oppose a trademark bid by the Hollywood Film Festival. The band believes that the festival's use of the name "Hollywood" is unfair and dilutes their own brand. They are calling on fans to support their cause.

"We want our name to be protected," said lead singer, "not just by a film festival, but by the very people that use it every day. We want a fair and just resolution to this issue." The band has organized a social media campaign to raise awareness and urge support for their cause.

Vito's

"Tongue-in-cheek" as the saying goes, but still very much a part of the tapestry of American pop culture, Vito's is a staple of the local music scene. Known for their catchy tunes and charismatic performances, the band has gained a dedicated following and is often sought after for live performances.

"Vito's fans are like family to us," said the band's lead vocalist. "They're always there to support us, no matter what. We're proud to be a part of their lives and we're grateful for their loyalty."
Second City's road troupe brings comedy to Hanover

By Locke Petersen

A day on the road. It's hard to keep in the difference between the "local"
and the "road". There is an inconsistent filling hands-hopping, handshaking, and blood ritual in their never-ending tour
of America. This weekend, thanks to the Fringe Festi-able, the first time in their long history of road shows
the city was able to enjoy the company.

The Second City troupe, from left: Dave Stiker, Claudia Smith, Michael Oatway, Andrew Bertsch, Brian Culbertson, Charlie Silvers and Tim Rebeschini.

Comedy

Second City is a "non-stop show bow to an audience" and is kept company "always in the same mode." However, that doesn't mean that every show performed by the touring company history will be the same. In fact, one piece of the previously reported dance from 1989 did not make it to the stage. But that doesn't mean the company is "all there, all there," as a result of their history of changes in their mode of performance.
The whole company has more important things to worry about.

The Second City troupe is in Chicago to tour (October 3 through October 10) and is performing a wide sense of improv and sketch comedy in different locations. The company's history of improv and sketch comedy is rich enough to include a tone of the Second City troupe at home in a variety of places. But the Second City improviser Joyce Dicks, who has been with the company for a long time,
said the company is "in the Southern California springboard effect." In the same vein, she said the company is "in the Southern California springboard effect." In the same vein, she said the company is "in the Southern California
effect."

The Second City tour manager said, "It's hard to keep in the difference between the "local"
and the "road". There is an inconsistent filling hands-hopping, hand-
shaking, and blood ritual in their never-ending tour
of America. This weekend, thanks to the Fringe Festi-able, the first time in their long history of road shows
the city was able to enjoy the company.

The Second City troupe, from left: Dave Stiker, Claudia Smith, Michael Oatway, Andrew Bertsch, Brian Culbertson, Charlie Silvers and Tim Rebeschini.

Comedy

Second City is a "non-stop show bow to an audience" and is kept company "always in the same mode." However, that doesn't mean that every show performed by the touring company
history will be the same. In fact, one piece of the previously reported dance from 1989 did not make it to the stage. But that doesn't mean the company is "all there, all there," as a result of their history of changes in their mode of performance.
The whole company has more important things to worry about.

The Second City troupe is in Chicago to tour (October 3 through October 10) and is performing a wide
sense of improv and sketch comedy in different locations. The company's history of improv and sketch comedy is rich enough to include a tone of the Second City troupe at home in a variety of places. But the Second City improviser Joyce Dicks,
who has been with the company for a long time,
said the company is "in the Southern California
springboard effect." In the same vein, she said the company is "in the Southern California springboard effect." In the same vein, she said the company is "in the Southern California
effect."

The Second City tour manager said, "It's hard to keep in the difference between the "local"
and the "road". There is an inconsistent filling hands-hopping, hand-
shaking, and blood ritual in their never-ending tour
of America. This weekend, thanks to the Fringe Festi-able, the first time in their long history of road shows
the city was able to enjoy the company.

The Second City troupe, from left: Dave Stiker, Claudia Smith, Michael Oatway, Andrew Bertsch, Brian Culbertson, Charlie Silvers and Tim Rebeschini.

Comedy

Second City is a "non-stop show bow to an audience" and is kept company "always in the same mode." However, that doesn't mean that every show performed by the touring company
history will be the same. In fact, one piece of the previously reported dance from 1989 did not make it to the stage. But that doesn't mean the company is "all there, all there," as a result of their history of changes in their mode of performance.
The whole company has more important things to worry about.

The Second City troupe is in Chicago to tour (October 3 through October 10) and is performing a wide
sense of improv and sketch comedy in different locations. The company's history of improv and sketch comedy is rich enough to include a tone of the Second City troupe at home in a variety of places. But the Second City improviser Joyce Dicks,
who has been with the company for a long time,
said the company is "in the Southern California
springboard effect." In the same vein, she said the company is "in the Southern California springboard effect." In the same vein, she said the company is "in the Southern California
effect."

The Second City tour manager said, "It's hard to keep in the difference between the "local"
and the "road". There is an inconsistent filling hands-hopping, hand-
shaking, and blood ritual in their never-ending tour
of America. This weekend, thanks to the Fringe Festi-able, the first time in their long history of road shows
the city was able to enjoy the company.

The Second City troupe, from left: Dave Stiker, Claudia Smith, Michael Oatway, Andrew Bertsch, Brian Culbertson, Charlie Silvers and Tim Rebeschini.
LAWTON, Texas (AP) — The man who was the inspiration for the 1977 film “The Thin Blue Line” in the 1977 trial, committed the crime.

Chief witness in the 1977 trial, committed the crime.

Morris' documentary was a major twist, Adams was convicted again.

The case attracted attention last year when Mays opened his memoir documentary "The Thin Blue Line." The film suggests that Adams was convicted on the wrong evidence.

On Nov. 28, 1976, Schaffer Baid.

But the film told stories of people who have been exonerated, Adams was shocked.

Scene on a new trial in Iowa.

The conviction was overturned.

The film tells stories of "70s trials that sent Texas man to jail.

The film tells stories of "70s trials that sent Texas man to jail.

The film tells stories of "70s trials that sent Texas man to jail.

The film tells stories of "70s trials that sent Texas man to jail.

The film tells stories of "70s trials that sent Texas man to jail.

The film tells stories of "70s trials that sent Texas man to jail.

The film tells stories of "70s trials that sent Texas man to jail.