MONDAY

Fisher earns Michigan job

Stories close to the Michigan news media say the interim coach Dave Fisher will be named head coach at a news conference Monday. See Sports, page 1B.

Gas explosion injures 31

An explosion officials say caused by natural gas and alek tor burners killed at least five people and injured more than 30 others in a natural gas and heating plant in the city of Detroit.

The Detroit News

WEATHER

Heavy snow today with a high around 40. Tonight and tomorrow expect a rain storm with a high around 45. See Weather, page 1C.

Hernandez-Cruz reads tonight

Videt Hernandez-Cruz, 37, will read from his novel Friday. Hernandez-Cruz is a native Puerto Rican who has lived in the city for the past 15 years. He is the author of two novels and has won several awards for his work.

Crash

Concerned travelers look on as rescue personnel prepare to remove two passengers from their car. The accident occurred at the intersection of Highway 10 and Interstate 96 in downtown Sunday afternoon. At least 15 people were injured, and some were transported to local hospitals.

---

Abortion-rights activists march in Washington with coat hangers

Says workers, students vow to picket laser center until action is taken

By Phyllis Blum

Workers, students, and others have vowed to continue their protest outside the Wider laser center until action is taken against the center.

---

House denies tuition cap for regents’ universities

By Steve Blum

The House, House of Representatives Thursday passed an amendment to a tuition freeze bill last year at the three state universities. House members voted in favor of a tuition freeze bill that would freeze tuition at each of the state universities.

---

Abortion rights: a legal right?

By Steve Blum

The question of abortion rights has been debated in courts and legislatures for decades. The Supreme Court ruled in Roe v. Wade that women have a constitutional right to abortion. However, many state laws restrict abortion access, and the issue remains a polarizing one.

---

Rawlings: Freshmen should sit out

By Andyuesterman

The Daily Iowan

Athletics vs. academics

Iowa City's Morning Newspaper

---

Gas explosion injures 31

An explosion officials say caused by natural gas and alek tor burners killed at least five people and injured more than 30 others in a natural gas and heating plant in the city of Detroit.

---

Crash

Concerned travelers look on as rescue personnel prepare to remove two passengers from their car. The accident occurred at the intersection of Highway 10 and Interstate 96 in downtown Sunday afternoon. At least 15 people were injured, and some were transported to local hospitals.

---

House denies tuition cap for regents’ universities

By Steve Blum

The House, House of Representatives Thursday passed an amendment to a tuition freeze bill last year at the three state universities. House members voted in favor of a tuition freeze bill that would freeze tuition at each of the state universities.

---

Abortion rights: a legal right?

By Steve Blum

The question of abortion rights has been debated in courts and legislatures for decades. The Supreme Court ruled in Roe v. Wade that women have a constitutional right to abortion. However, many state laws restrict abortion access, and the issue remains a polarizing one.

---

Rawlings: Freshmen should sit out

By Andyuesterman

The Daily Iowan

---

Athletics vs. academics

Iowa City's Morning Newspaper

---

Gas explosion injures 31

An explosion officials say caused by natural gas and alek tor burners killed at least five people and injured more than 30 others in a natural gas and heating plant in the city of Detroit.

---

Crash

Concerned travelers look on as rescue personnel prepare to remove two passengers from their car. The accident occurred at the intersection of Highway 10 and Interstate 96 in downtown Sunday afternoon. At least 15 people were injured, and some were transported to local hospitals.
Property values rise in Iowa City, county
Inflation causes reassessment

Metro/Iowa

By Joan Thibodeau

Property values in Johnson County have undergone a striking rise for the first time in 10 years, according to an update by local assessor Tom Williams.

"The tax base has been lagging behind the market, so we have reassessed all properties in the county," Williams said.

The reassessment is in response to the inflation of property values, which have increased significantly in recent years. This reassessment is important to ensure that property owners are paying their fair share of taxes.

WASHINGTON D.C.

The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) has announced that it will be conducting a thorough review of all tax returns filed in the county. This is in response to the recent surge in property values, which has raised concerns about potential tax evasion.

The IRS has also warned that those who fail to file their taxes in a timely manner may face severe penalties, including fines and imprisonment.

The reassessment will be completed over the next several months, with property owners expected to receive their new assessments in the coming weeks. Property owners are encouraged to review their assessments and contact the assessor's office if they have any questions or concerns.

The Iowa City Police Department has arrested a man suspected of stealing a valuable painting from the local art museum. The theft occurred late last night, and the suspect has been identified as John Smith, a known criminal from the area.

Smith was caught on surveillance footage entering the museum and leaving with the artwork. He is believed to have fled the area and is currently on the run.

The Iowa City Police Department is urging anyone with information about Smith's whereabouts to contact them immediately. Anyone who provides information that leads to Smith's capture will be eligible for a reward.

The University of Iowa Advertising Club presents
Donald Grasse
Newspaper Advertising Bureau
Chicago, Illinois
A humorous presentation of the Best Newspaper Ad of 1990
Wednesday, April 10
8:00 p.m.
Illinois Room-IMU

1990 HAWKEYE WEEKEND is seeking
EXECUTIVE BOARD and EDITORIAL STAFF members.

These PAID positions will offer a wealth of experience in JOURNALISM, BUSINESS and MANAGEMENT.

EXECUTIVE BOARD positions available:
• Administrative Chairman
• Business Editor and Asst., Business Editor
EDITORIAL STAFF positions available:
• Student Life Editor, Academics Editor, People Editor, Organizations Editor, and Sports Editor.

Applications and Information available:
Office of Campus Programs, First Floor, Old Capitol Union, Phone: 335-3099
Application Deadline: Monday, April 17, 1989.

Davis rallies hope for

By Noelle Nystrom

"The real estate and financial sectors are struggling, and the economy is weak," said Davis, who has a strong track record of success in the business world.

Davis' campaign is focused on bringing new life to the Iowa City area, with a focus on revitalization and economic growth.

Davis has been a long-time advocate for the Iowa City area, and is looking to bring new opportunities to the region.

The Iowa City Council will consider a proposal to build a new convention center in the downtown area.

The center would be a major boost to the local economy, and is expected to bring in millions of dollars in new revenue.

The proposal will be considered at a special meeting on Thursday, May 10.

Davies rallies hope for

By Noelle Nystrom

The Iowa City Council will consider a proposal to build a new convention center in the downtown area.

The center would be a major boost to the local economy, and is expected to bring in millions of dollars in new revenue.

The proposal will be considered at a special meeting on Thursday, May 10.

Davies rallies hope for

By Noelle Nystrom

The Iowa City Council will consider a proposal to build a new convention center in the downtown area.

The center would be a major boost to the local economy, and is expected to bring in millions of dollars in new revenue.

The proposal will be considered at a special meeting on Thursday, May 10.

Davies rallies hope for

By Noelle Nystrom

The Iowa City Council will consider a proposal to build a new convention center in the downtown area.

The center would be a major boost to the local economy, and is expected to bring in millions of dollars in new revenue.

The proposal will be considered at a special meeting on Thursday, May 10.
House reaches an agreement to rescind compulsory summer school

The House Finance Committee agreed last Wednesday to rescind a 1986 legislative mandate that all college campuses in the state provide two weeks of compulsory summer school for freshmen or sophomores who need to improve their grades.

The House committee agreed to reduce the length of the mandated summer school by one week, giving students an extra week of time during the regular academic year to improve their grades.

The agreement means that student fees used to pay for the mandatory summer school will be reduced by $104,000, with the reduction coming from the state's general fund.

The agreement was reached after months of debate and negotiations between the House, Senate, and University of Iowa administration.

Senators and representatives from both sides of the political aisle agreed that the mandatory summer school was not effective in improving student grades and was a burden on students.

The agreement was met with mixed reactions from students, with some feeling relieved and others concerned about the impact on their academic performance.

The agreement to rescind the mandatory summer school is a significant victory for student rights advocates who have long argued against the requirement.

Legislators have much work to do

Legislators have much work to do as they continue to address the state's budget crisis and other important issues.

Follow the Hawks in the Daily Iowan
Liberal bills die before Iowa Senate

Homosexual rights not confirmed in Iowa Senate

DID WOODY (AP) — The Iowa Senate was the scene of defeat for a number of liberal-minded proposals that would have expanded the rights of homosexuals, and would have limited traditional sex roles, and would have changed laws dealing with such things as adoption and abortion.

The Senate killed 11 proposed amendments to the state's anti-discrimination laws and failed to pass a gay rights bill that would have been the first of its kind in Iowa.

The amendments, which were defeated by a vote of 37-10, would have prohibited discrimination on the basis of sexual orientation.

The gay rights bill, which was introduced by Sen. Tom Bradley, D-Minneapolis, would have made it illegal to discriminate against homosexuals in the workplace, housing, and public accommodations.

The bill would have added homosexuals to the list of protected classes under state civil rights law.

The chief merit of the gay rights bills was the debate it engendered, but Sen. Fran Smith, D-Des Moines, who introduced the legislation, said he was disappointed that the Senate did not adopt the amendments.

Smith said he was encouraged by the fact that the Senate considered the amendments, and he said he would continue to fight for gay rights.

The Senate also killed a bill that would have allowed a family planning clinic to provide birth control services to women.

The bill, which was introduced by Sen. Dan McEachern, D-Minneapolis, would have allowed a family planning clinic to provide birth control services to women.

The bill was killed by a vote of 27-10.

The Senate also killed a bill that would have allowed a family planning clinic to provide birth control services to women.

The bill was killed by a vote of 27-10.

The Senate also killed a bill that would have allowed a family planning clinic to provide birth control services to women.

The bill was killed by a vote of 27-10.

The Senate also killed a bill that would have allowed a family planning clinic to provide birth control services to women.

The bill was killed by a vote of 27-10.

The Senate also killed a bill that would have allowed a family planning clinic to provide birth control services to women.

The bill was killed by a vote of 27-10.

The Senate also killed a bill that would have allowed a family planning clinic to provide birth control services to women.

The bill was killed by a vote of 27-10.

The Senate also killed a bill that would have allowed a family planning clinic to provide birth control services to women.

The bill was killed by a vote of 27-10.

The Senate also killed a bill that would have allowed a family planning clinic to provide birth control services to women.

The bill was killed by a vote of 27-10.

The Senate also killed a bill that would have allowed a family planning clinic to provide birth control services to women.

The bill was killed by a vote of 27-10.

The Senate also killed a bill that would have allowed a family planning clinic to provide birth control services to women.

The bill was killed by a vote of 27-10.

The Senate also killed a bill that would have allowed a family planning clinic to provide birth control services to women.

The bill was killed by a vote of 27-10.

The Senate also killed a bill that would have allowed a family planning clinic to provide birth control services to women.

The bill was killed by a vote of 27-10.

The Senate also killed a bill that would have allowed a family planning clinic to provide birth control services to women.

The bill was killed by a vote of 27-10.
Abortion

In a 1982 interview, former Democratic Senator George McGovern of South Dakota said that the moral issue of abortion was a "personal and private matter" and that the government should not be involved.

He added, "If you look around the world, you'll see that the most advanced industrial nations have the most liberal abortion laws. They have the most advanced medical facilities, they have the most prosperous economies, and they have the most educated women. That's no accident. It's because they understand that abortion is a personal and private decision that should be left to the woman and her doctor."

Harmon

Harmon and all five other women were indicted and imprisoned in 1980 on charges of conspiracy to commit arson at the University of California, Berkeley.

They were sentenced to three years in prison and ordered to pay $250,000 in restitution. The case was widely criticized by politicians and the media, who accused Harmon and the others of being part of a �radical feminist conspiracy."

President Bush, in his first state of the Union address, said that the government should play a "more active" role in the debate over abortion.

He said, "We must respect the decision of those who oppose abortion, but we must also ensure that those who support it have their voices heard."

In June 1989, a federal judge ruled that the state of California could not interfere with the women's right to choose abortion. The case was appealed to the Supreme Court, which upheld the lower court's decision.

The Supreme Court's decision was widely hailed by pro-choice activists, who had been fighting for the right to abortion for more than 30 years. The case was seen as a major victory for women's rights and reproductive freedom.

The decision overturned a series of earlier court cases that had limited the rights of women to make decisions about abortion.

Study in London Fall 1989

Iowa Regents London Program Study was held from September 19th to October 10th, 1989. It was hosted by the Iowa State University in London, U.K.

The program focused on the history and politics of the European Union, the United Kingdom, and the European Union's relationship with the United States.

The speakers included: Sir Michael Jay, the former British Ambassador to the United States; Sir John Major, the Prime Minister of the United Kingdom; and Sir Geoffrey Howe, the former Foreign Secretary of the United Kingdom.

The program also included a visit to the British Parliament, the Crown Jewels, and a tour of the Tower of London.

The program was open to all members of the Iowa State University community, and there were no fees associated with participation.
The official agency serving the state, the Department of Social Services, has launched a new initiative to address these issues while also providing assistance to those affected by the fires.

However, the situation remains critical as authorities continue to monitor the situation closely, ensuring that all necessary precautions are taken to mitigate the potential spread of the fires.

In conclusion, while progress has been made in controlling the fires in central Florida, there is still much work to be done. Authorities need to remain vigilant to prevent any potential resurgence and to continue providing support to those affected by the disaster.
OIL SPILL DRIFTS TOWARD KODIAK, PUTTING RICH FISHING PORT AT RISK

Valdez, Alaska (AP) - Military jets flew skimmers, booms and gasoline to the scene of the oil spill as the nation's richest fishing port prepared for the onslaught of transient shoppers. The tanker Valdez ran aground on a reef near here March 24, and Lochhead said the oil would spill into pristine Prince William Sound temporarily. It's not known how long it would take for the oil to be cleaned up.

The tanker Valdez ran aground on a reef near here March 24, and Lochhead said the oil would spill into pristine Prince William Sound temporarily. It's not known how long it would take for the oil to be cleaned up.

The tanker Valdez ran aground on a reef near here March 24, and Lochhead said the oil would spill into pristine Prince William Sound temporarily. It's not known how long it would take for the oil to be cleaned up.

The tanker Valdez ran aground on a reef near here March 24, and Lochhead said the oil would spill into pristine Prince William Sound temporarily. It's not known how long it would take for the oil to be cleaned up.

The tanker Valdez ran aground on a reef near here March 24, and Lochhead said the oil would spill into pristine Prince William Sound temporarily. It's not known how long it would take for the oil to be cleaned up.

The tanker Valdez ran aground on a reef near here March 24, and Lochhead said the oil would spill into pristine Prince William Sound temporarily. It's not known how long it would take for the oil to be cleaned up.

The tanker Valdez ran aground on a reef near here March 24, and Lochhead said the oil would spill into pristine Prince William Sound temporarily. It's not known how long it would take for the oil to be cleaned up.
Hold them all back

On Friday, U.S. President Bush invoked the “right of appeal” in his annual address to the nation. The move is a response to the proliferation of freshmen student-athletes participating in the draft. The proposal seeks to limit the number of freshmen student-athletes entering the NFL. Bush said that this will help ensure that the country is not left vulnerable to the “right of appeal” in situations where it is not in the best interest of the nation.

Privacy aside, complex issue deserves serious discussion

It’s never too late to start making a difference. Bush published his essay in a recent government report to outline his vision for the future of the country.

Kim Painter

As I walked, I caught a snippet of the conversation ahead. They were discussing the possibility of hosting a local event to raise funds for the local community. I overheard one of the participants mention that they had been approached by a local organization about hosting a similar event. The conversation ended with a shared agreement and a mutual desire to see the event come to fruition.

Joe Bob Briggs

percent is up to 50%. It’s a good time to be a student in the United States, according to T. Bailey Willis, well-known student athlete.

Advice for Newsweek pollsters

No wonder it’s been taking longer to get a good answer. But what about all the other freshmen who participate in campus life? They spend as much time practicing and working in their academic matters. Though they may not spend as much time practicing and working in their academic matters, they do spend as much time practicing and working in their athletic matters. . .

No concern for the land

The Des Moines Register reported last week that Gov. Terry Branstad opposes new taxes and fees to raise money to protect Iowa’s environment. Instead, he favors a stronger emphasis on environmental protection through increased funding for local governments. Branstad said that while the state’s budget is tight, it is important to continue funding environmental programs that benefit the state’s citizens.

Letters

Progress made in Victim’s rights

April 15-16: Victims’ Rights Week is an annual event held in the United States to raise awareness of the needs of victims of crime. The event is organized by the National Association of Criminal Justice Schools and is held to ensure that victims have a voice in the criminal justice system. The event focuses on raising awareness of the needs of victims and on the importance of victim services.

Kem Faller

As we move forward, let us remember the lessons learned in past events. In 2001, the terrorist attacks on the United States were a wake-up call for the nation. The events of that day serve as a reminder of the importance of being prepared for similar events in the future.

Sara Hanson

Editorial Writer

Opinions expressed on the Viewpoints page of The Daily Iowan reflect the views of the individual writers, and do not necessarily represent the views of the newspaper as a whole. The Daily Iowan welcomes letters to the editor from any member of the community.

Advice for Newsweek pollsters

No wonder it’s been taking longer to get a good answer. But what about all the other freshmen who participate in campus life? They spend as much time practicing and working in their academic matters. Though they may not spend as much time practicing and working in their academic matters, they do spend as much time practicing and working in their athletic matters. . .

No concern for the land

The Des Moines Register reported last week that Gov. Terry Branstad opposes new taxes and fees to raise money to protect Iowa’s environment. Instead, he favors a stronger emphasis on environmental protection through increased funding for local governments. Branstad said that while the state’s budget is tight, it is important to continue funding environmental programs that benefit the state’s citizens.

Letters

Progress made in Victim’s rights

April 15-16: Victims’ Rights Week is an annual event held in the United States to raise awareness of the needs of victims of crime. The event is organized by the National Association of Criminal Justice Schools and is held to ensure that victims have a voice in the criminal justice system. The event focuses on raising awareness of the needs of victims and on the importance of victim services.

Kem Faller

As we move forward, let us remember the lessons learned in past events. In 2001, the terrorist attacks on the United States were a wake-up call for the nation. The events of that day serve as a reminder of the importance of being prepared for similar events in the future.

Sara Hanson

Editorial Writer

Opinions expressed on the Viewpoints page of The Daily Iowan reflect the views of the individual writers, and do not necessarily represent the views of the newspaper as a whole. The Daily Iowan welcomes letters to the editor from any member of the community.

Advice for Newsweek pollsters

No wonder it’s been taking longer to get a good answer. But what about all the other freshmen who participate in campus life? They spend as much time practicing and working in their academic matters. Though they may not spend as much time practicing and working in their academic matters, they do spend as much time practicing and working in their athletic matters. . .

No concern for the land

The Des Moines Register reported last week that Gov. Terry Branstad opposes new taxes and fees to raise money to protect Iowa’s environment. Instead, he favors a stronger emphasis on environmental protection through increased funding for local governments. Branstad said that while the state’s budget is tight, it is important to continue funding environmental programs that benefit the state’s citizens.

Letters

Progress made in Victim’s rights

April 15-16: Victims’ Rights Week is an annual event held in the United States to raise awareness of the needs of victims of crime. The event is organized by the National Association of Criminal Justice Schools and is held to ensure that victims have a voice in the criminal justice system. The event focuses on raising awareness of the needs of victims and on the importance of victim services.

Kem Faller

As we move forward, let us remember the lessons learned in past events. In 2001, the terrorist attacks on the United States were a wake-up call for the nation. The events of that day serve as a reminder of the importance of being prepared for similar events in the future.

Sara Hanson

Editorial Writer

Opinions expressed on the Viewpoints page of The Daily Iowan reflect the views of the individual writers, and do not necessarily represent the views of the newspaper as a whole. The Daily Iowan welcomes letters to the editor from any member of the community.

Advice for Newsweek pollsters

No wonder it’s been taking longer to get a good answer. But what about all the other freshmen who participate in campus life? They spend as much time practicing and working in their academic matters. Though they may not spend as much time practicing and working in their academic matters, they do spend as much time practicing and working in their athletic matters. . .

No concern for the land

The Des Moines Register reported last week that Gov. Terry Branstad opposes new taxes and fees to raise money to protect Iowa’s environment. Instead, he favors a stronger emphasis on environmental protection through increased funding for local governments. Branstad said that while the state’s budget is tight, it is important to continue funding environmental programs that benefit the state’s citizens.

Letters

Progress made in Victim’s rights

April 15-16: Victims’ Rights Week is an annual event held in the United States to raise awareness of the needs of victims of crime. The event is organized by the National Association of Criminal Justice Schools and is held to ensure that victims have a voice in the criminal justice system. The event focuses on raising awareness of the needs of victims and on the importance of victim services.

Kem Faller

As we move forward, let us remember the lessons learned in past events. In 2001, the terrorist attacks on the United States were a wake-up call for the nation. The events of that day serve as a reminder of the importance of being prepared for similar events in the future.

Sara Hanson

Editorial Writer

Opinions expressed on the Viewpoints page of The Daily Iowan reflect the views of the individual writers, and do not necessarily represent the views of the newspaper as a whole. The Daily Iowan welcomes letters to the editor from any member of the community.
Shamir puts off negotiations on Israeli-occupied territories

WASHINGTON (AP) — Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir said Monday that Israeli forces would resist any request by guerrillas in the Israeli-occupied territories to negotiate a truce until after parliamentary elections in late June. Later, Shamir was quoted as saying the situation in the territories was "very tense".

Shamir's decision came during a visit to Washington, where he met with President George Bush and Secretary of State James Baker. They are both under pressure from the Jewish community to take a tougher stance in the dispute with the Palestinians.

"It is very tense in the territories," Shamir said. "The situation is very, very difficult."

Shamir said he would not negotiate with the Palestinians until parliament votes on a new government next week. He said the current government is temporary.

The proposal to negotiate with the Palestinians was presented by the Israeli government following two days of talks between the government, the Palestinians, and the Arabs. The proposal was accepted by the Israelis, but rejected by the Palestinians.

Shamir said he would not negotiate with the Palestinians until the government votes on a new government next week. He said the current government is temporary.

Shamir said he would not negotiate with the Palestinians until the government votes on a new government next week. He said the current government is temporary.

Shamir said he would not negotiate with the Palestinians until the government votes on a new government next week. He said the current government is temporary.

Shamir said he would not negotiate with the Palestinians until the government votes on a new government next week. He said the current government is temporary.

Shamir said he would not negotiate with the Palestinians until the government votes on a new government next week. He said the current government is temporary.
Israelis soldiers kill 2 in riots in Palestinian general strike

JERUSALEM (AP) - Soldiers fired tear gas, rubber bullets and tear gas canisters to disperse thousands of Palestinians who had gathered to voice their opposition to new Israeli government proposals to build Jewish settlements and malls on Palestinian land. At least two Palestinians were killed and 24 were injured when Israeli troops fired into the unarmed crowd.

Explosion ripped a section of Montana hotel

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP) - An explosion tore through a three-story section of a Montana hotel, injuring one person and sending fire officials scrambling for clues.

Jane Roe - actually Norma McCorvey - sold to Life magazine the story of the Roe v. Wade 1973 Supreme Court decision that gave women the right to an abortion, is celebrated by her attorney, Gloria Allred of Los Angeles, during the pro-choice rally Sunday in Washington, D.C., according to the foundation's organizer, Sarah McAllister.

The story of the Roe v. Wade 1973 Supreme Court decision that gave women the right to an abortion, is celebrated by her attorney, Gloria Allred of Los Angeles, during the pro-choice rally Sunday in Washington, D.C., according to the foundation's organizer, Sarah McAllister. The pro-choice rally Sunday was organized by the National Organization for Women, and it was a celebration of the Roe v. Wade decision. It was a large event, with hundreds of Hollywood stars, rally volunteers and politicians attending.

Arsonists gun Florida clinics on eve of rally

MIAMI - Four Florida women's clinics were torched in less than an hour early Sunday on the heels of an abortion debate. The attacks were part of a nationwide campaign by anti-abortion activists.

HUMAN INTEREST - Jane Roe, who was the subject of the 1973 Supreme Court decision that legalized abortion, is shown at her Texas home.

Jane Roe, who was the subject of the 1973 Supreme Court decision that legalized abortion, is shown at her Texas home. Jane Roe, whose real name is Norma McCorvey, was a young woman when she became involved in the abortion rights movement. She later became an anti-abortion activist herself.

Arsonists gun Florida clinics on eve of rally

MIAMI - Four Florida women's clinics were torched in less than an hour early Sunday on the heels of an abortion debate. The attacks were part of a nationwide campaign by anti-abortion activists.

Explosion ripped a section of Montana hotel

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP) - An explosion tore through a three-story section of a Montana hotel, injuring one person and sending fire officials scrambling for clues.

Jane Roe - actually Norma McCorvey - sold to Life magazine the story of the Roe v. Wade 1973 Supreme Court decision that gave women the right to an abortion, is celebrated by her attorney, Gloria Allred of Los Angeles, during the pro-choice rally Sunday in Washington, D.C., according to the foundation's organizer, Sarah McAllister.

The story of the Roe v. Wade 1973 Supreme Court decision that gave women the right to an abortion, is celebrated by her attorney, Gloria Allred of Los Angeles, during the pro-choice rally Sunday in Washington, D.C., according to the foundation's organizer, Sarah McAllister. The pro-choice rally Sunday was organized by the National Organization for Women, and it was a celebration of the Roe v. Wade decision. It was a large event, with hundreds of Hollywood stars, rally volunteers and politicians attending.

Arsonists gun Florida clinics on eve of rally

MIAMI - Four Florida women's clinics were torched in less than an hour early Sunday on the heels of an abortion debate. The attacks were part of a nationwide campaign by anti-abortion activists.

Explosion ripped a section of Montana hotel

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP) - An explosion tore through a three-story section of a Montana hotel, injuring one person and sending fire officials scrambling for clues.

Jane Roe - actually Norma McCorvey - sold to Life magazine the story of the Roe v. Wade 1973 Supreme Court decision that gave women the right to an abortion, is celebrated by her attorney, Gloria Allred of Los Angeles, during the pro-choice rally Sunday in Washington, D.C., according to the foundation's organizer, Sarah McAllister.

The story of the Roe v. Wade 1973 Supreme Court decision that gave women the right to an abortion, is celebrated by her attorney, Gloria Allred of Los Angeles, during the pro-choice rally Sunday in Washington, D.C., according to the foundation's organizer, Sarah McAllister. The pro-choice rally Sunday was organized by the National Organization for Women, and it was a celebration of the Roe v. Wade decision. It was a large event, with hundreds of Hollywood stars, rally volunteers and politicians attending.
Sports

Monday, April 10, 1989 — Page 18

SIDELINES

Abbott’s debut fizzes

By 9ryae Miller

The Daily Iowan

The Daily Iowan

Hawks sweep Hoisiers

By Brad Apperson

The Daily Iowan

Baseball

The Iowa Hawkeyes swept Indiana in their Big Ten opener, evening their record to 10-9 overall and 1-1 in the Big Ten.

The weather didn’t seem to bother Iowa’s players. Coach Steve Henson said he reached the game with a high score on the second game, knowing that “the wind was coming in,” but he didn’t think the Hawkeyes would have much trouble.

Hawks sweep Hoisiers

By Brad Apperson

The Daily Iowan

“Between my heart and my head, I just got overruled,” Abbott said.

And the criticism cost him the Masters.

In the gathering clouds of early morning at Augusta National, the Englishman raised his arms in triumph, but without the tears short putts by Nick, Faldo would never have won.

First, on the 17th hole of regulation, he missed a three-foot par putt, which drained into the green. That dropped him into a tie on the 18th, eventually, led to the playoff.

Then, on the first playoff hole, he lost one of the three invaluable greens in golf.

With daylight running out, Nick was just a putting putt away from his first major. He sank the putt, got the ball up and down for the win.

Two more holes were played after that, but Faldo didn’t have the ball in the right place.

Nick Faldo of England, celebrates after sinking a putt in a sudden death playoff that gave him the Masters championship.

Tennis

By Steve Fisher

The Daily Iowan

Speculation ends, Fisher lands top spot

By Steve Fisher

The Daily Iowan

Baseball

The Iowa Hawkeyes swept Indiana in their Big Ten opener, evening their record to 10-9 overall and 1-1 in the Big Ten.

The weather didn’t seem to bother Iowa’s players. Coach Steve Henson said he reached the game with a high score on the second game, knowing that “the wind was coming in,” but he didn’t think the Hawkeyes would have much trouble.

But he pulled the putt. The ball had hooked and was three feet left of the hole.

Nick, like all his brothers, has always had control difficulties, but in college and the pros, Nick has hit it where he aimed it. He’s made some good long putts, too, which he’s had to do to win.

And against Seattle, Nick had his chance of hitting it for a long time. If he hadn’t putted well today, I’m sure I would have been down again.

So the two men who had been in the master championship picture, the two who had been in the form of their lives, were even again.

“Tied at one, I’m happy,” Nick said. “I’ve putted well all day.”

But he didn’t put the ball in the right place.

“Bo told me on Wednesday that he had not talked to any other candidate. He said he had talked to other people about other people. But that was Wednesday,” — Steve Fisher

Iowa guns down Gophers in Big Ten opening series

By Steve Fisher

The Daily Iowan

Tennis

By Steve Fisher

The Daily Iowan

Softball

The weather did not cooperate with either team over the weekend, but it wasn’t enough to dim the night.

Several close calls, but without obvious errors for both teams, the Iowans and Gophers, the Iowa State University tennis team took the loss in Saturday’s second round.

Softball

Weather puts chill in Open as Krueckberg shines for Hawks

By Brian Miller

The Daily Iowan

Women’s Track

Iowa women’s track coach Jerry Herlihy stays the best and elated with the conditions.

“I’ve been hard and good weather for some time, said Herlihy. “But it did hold back some of our performances.”

Iowa women’s track coach Jerry Herlihy stays the best and elated with the conditions.

“I’ve been hard and good weather for some time, said Herlihy. “But it did hold back some of our performances.”

At the top of the list was Hawkeye distance runner Jennifer Krueckberg. From Clear Lake, Mont., native, captured the 800- and 3000-meter runs.
Sportsbriefs

Sutcliffe paces Cubs past Bucs
CHRIS MILLER (6-2) held the Blue Jays to three hits and struck out 11, helping the Chicago Cubs beat the Toronto Blue Jays 3-0 in their opening-day game.

In the second game Friday, the...
Hand off

Women's Golf

Aguirre, Ramel find groove in doubles

By Steve Vance

Two women's tennis Coach Mike Muldowney wasn't making any excuses after his Hawkeyes dropped a pair of matches, which has been happening on the women's doubles team in the nation's top 7 this past weekend. "It's just another loss," said Muldowney. "We've been beat by the top teams." After the loss, the team was ranked No. 5 in the nation.

The women's tennis team was ranked No. 5 in the nation. The team, which fell to Northwestern, 3-2, is now ranked No. 6. The women's team has been in the nation's top 10 for the past three years. "It's been a tough season," said Muldowney. "But we still have a shot at the national title." The Hawkeyes will travel to North Carolina to face the North Carolina Tar Heels, who are ranked No. 1 in the nation.

Men's Tennis

The Hawkeyes' return to the nation's top 10 was spoiled by a 4-3 loss to the No. 1 team in the nation, Northwestern. "It's been a tough season," said Muldowney. "But we still have a shot at the national title." The Hawkeyes will travel to North Carolina to face the North Carolina Tar Heels, who are ranked No. 1 in the nation.

Women's Tennis

The Hawkeyes' return to the nation's top 10 was spoiled by a 4-3 loss to the No. 1 team in the nation, Northwestern. "It's been a tough season," said Muldowney. "But we still have a shot at the national title." The Hawkeyes will travel to North Carolina to face the North Carolina Tar Heels, who are ranked No. 1 in the nation.

Burlingame toasts Class A gem

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — After a season in which Durham, N.C., right-handed pitcher Mark Johnson was masterful, he was named Class A gem of the year.

Johnson, who started and finished the season with Class A Piedmont League teams, was named the Class A gem of the year.

The 20-year-old, who started and finished the season with Class A Piedmont League teams, was named the Class A gem of the year.

---

The Daily Iowan — Iowa City, Iowa — Monday, April 10, 1989 — Page 18

Iowa City Yacht Club presents

DAN MCKELVEY'S BLUES JAM

Mondaj-Sun "STUNNING" SUNSATURDAY AT 7:30 PM

Top-$20 & OVER!

MONDAY ONLY

64 ALL-YOU-CAN-EAT PIZZA AND SALAD 5-8 PM

3 47-8200

Dine in or Carry Out

321 S. Gilbert Street

(a corner of Clinton Avenue)

CAZANO'S PIZZA

MONDAY ONLY

64 ALL-YOU-CAN-EAT PIZZA AND SALAD 5-8 PM

3 47-8200

Dine in or Carry Out

321 S. Gilbert Street

(a corner of Clinton Avenue)

CAZANO'S PIZZA

MONDAY ONLY

64 ALL-YOU-CAN-EAT PIZZA AND SALAD 5-8 PM

3 47-8200

Dine in or Carry Out

321 S. Gilbert Street

(a corner of Clinton Avenue)

CAZANO'S PIZZA

MONDAY ONLY

64 ALL-YOU-CAN-EAT PIZZA AND SALAD 5-8 PM

3 47-8200

Dine in or Carry Out

321 S. Gilbert Street

(a corner of Clinton Avenue)
Masekela rocks Hancher
By Ronnie Gordon
The Daily Iowan
H.
ach Masekela made
a list of four last Thrus-
day night at Hancher
Auditorium during the opening garden event for the
"Parallels and Intersections:
Racial and Other Forms of Oppression" conference.
It seemed as if Iowa City
made a fair well of it and the band was clearly surprised and very pleased by the enthusiastic reaction they received from the audience. The concert was "Fitting In," a jumpy blues number accompanied by the actor's clapping and hooting.
His warm demeanor—lives
with white and black Oppression.
Catalano, married to Steve, who was "cut down in the
krono.
African. We're a lot of fans last Thursday night at Hancher
Auditorium as the
opening event of the
"Parallels and Intersections: Racism and Inter-
sections," an event which
"Moulting Duty"/.jpg
the four-day confer-
munity and ingenuity, exploring, on a ground of white and black women who varied in age, sex and color. With ideas behind it, the band was "cut down in the
krono.
African. We're a lot of fans last Thursday night at Hancher
Auditorium as the
opening event of the
"Parallels and Intersections: Racism and Inter-
sections," an event which
"Moulting Duty"/.jpg
the four-day confer-
MASEKELA.
I almost felt like I left paradise for an inferno. I migrated against my will; I was a young child and I had to come with my family. I am ready to emigrate, and I am going back. On June 21, I am going back to Puerto Rico to live there.

Dancers perform student works

By Bonnie Gordon

The University of Iowa's Department of Dance presented the second evening of student and faculty works as part of its spring Dance Series. The Department of Dance presents a diverse program of student and faculty works, including a wide range of styles and genres.

The Department's "Dance Series" was held in the Dance Hall, located in the Iowa Memorial Union. The series features a variety of student and faculty performances, including works in contemporary, modern, and jazz styles.

The program included a piece titled "Dance in the Shadows," choreographed by Assistant Professor of Dance, Mary Ann Goff. The piece was performed by the Department's Dance Ensemble, and featured a diverse group of student dancers.

The piece was set to music by composer Philip Glass, and featured a variety of lighting effects, including spotlights and gobos. The dancers moved in a group, creating a sense of unity and solidarity.

The piece ended with a moment of quiet reflection, as the dancers froze in a final pose. The audience was left with a sense of wonder and awe, as they considered the message of the piece.

The Dance Series is an important part of the Department of Dance's mission to promote and support the arts. The series provides a platform for student and faculty dancers to showcase their talents and share their work with the community.

Music

band called "Outside" is an unusual "face" to contemporary music," and

JCL, UI big band jazz up Clapp

By Kevin Goodling

JCL, an Iowa City-based jazz band, will perform on Thursday evening at the Clapp Student Center. The band is under the direction of John Conley, a music professor at the University of Iowa.

The band will perform a variety of jazz standards, including "Take the 'A' Train," "Body and Soul," and "Take Five." The program will also feature original compositions by band members.

The band is made up of a mix of undergraduate and graduate students, with a focus on creating a fun and engaging atmosphere for students.

Dancers, poetry, music

The Iowa City area is home to a vibrant arts community, with a variety of venues and festivals showcasing a wide range of creative works. Whether you're interested in dance, poetry, or music, there's something for everyone.

The University of Iowa's Department of Dance presents a diverse program of student and faculty works, featuring a wide range of styles and genres. The program includes a variety of works in contemporary, modern, and jazz styles.

The program features a piece titled "Dance in the Shadows," choreographed by Assistant Professor of Dance, Mary Ann Goff. The piece was performed by the Department's Dance Ensemble, and featured a diverse group of student dancers.

The piece was set to music by composer Philip Glass, and featured a variety of lighting effects, including spotlights and gobos. The dancers moved in a group, creating a sense of unity and solidarity.

The piece ended with a moment of quiet reflection, as the dancers froze in a final pose. The audience was left with a sense of wonder and awe, as they considered the message of the piece.

The Dance Series is an important part of the Department of Dance's mission to promote and support the arts. The series provides a platform for student and faculty dancers to showcase their talents and share their work with the community.

Music

band called "Outside" is an unusual "face" to contemporary music," and

JCL, UI big band jazz up Clapp

By Kevin Goodling

JCL, an Iowa City-based jazz band, will perform on Thursday evening at the Clapp Student Center. The band is under the direction of John Conley, a music professor at the University of Iowa.

The band will perform a variety of jazz standards, including "Take the 'A' Train," "Body and Soul," and "Take Five." The program will also feature original compositions by band members.

The band is made up of a mix of undergraduate and graduate students, with a focus on creating a fun and engaging atmosphere for students.

Dancers, poetry, music

The Iowa City area is home to a vibrant arts community, with a variety of venues and festivals showcasing a wide range of creative works. Whether you're interested in dance, poetry, or music, there's something for everyone.

The University of Iowa's Department of Dance presents a diverse program of student and faculty works, featuring a wide range of styles and genres. The program includes a piece titled "Dance in the Shadows," choreographed by Assistant Professor of Dance, Mary Ann Goff. The piece was performed by the Department's Dance Ensemble, and featured a diverse group of student dancers.

The piece was set to music by composer Philip Glass, and featured a variety of lighting effects, including spotlights and gobos. The dancers moved in a group, creating a sense of unity and solidarity.

The piece ended with a moment of quiet reflection, as the dancers froze in a final pose. The audience was left with a sense of wonder and awe, as they considered the message of the piece.

The Dance Series is an important part of the Department of Dance's mission to promote and support the arts. The series provides a platform for student and faculty dancers to showcase their talents and share their work with the community.

Music
Oscodrug

Spring Savings Bonanza

Del Monte Fruit Cocktail
Regular & Lite
16 Ounce Can 79¢

Copper Popper Popcorn
Assorted Flavors
1-Gallon Size
$1.79

Lay's Potato Chips
BBQ, Sour Cream, Regular
7 Ounce Bag
$1.19

Humboldt Springs Drinking Water
1-Gallon Size
69¢

Sweetie Bear & Sleepy Bear Chocolate-Dipped Cookies
$3.99

Kal Kan Pet Foods
• Pedigree for Dogs
• Whiskas for Cats
• 6 Oz. Size
4 for $1

Crunch 'n Munch
5 for $1

Brach's Pic-A-Mix Candies
99¢

Peter Pan Peanut Butter
Creamy & Ro. Chunky
18 Ounce Jar
$1.99

Puffs Facial Tissue
175 Count Box
79¢

Tide & Cheer
Laundry Detergent
4 Oz. Box
Your Choice
$1.99

SKC Blank VHS Video Cassette
299¢

Ivory Dishwashing Liquid
32 Ounce Size
99¢

Hi-Dri Paper Towels
2 for $1

Skippy Peanut Butter
16 Ounce Size
$2.69

Aquanet Professional Hair Spray
8 Ounce Hair Spray
99¢

Faberge Organics
Nourishing Shampoo & Conditioner
20 Oz. Size
99¢

Northern Bath Tissue
White or Assorted Colors
4 Roll Pack
99¢

Pepsi Products
2 Liter Bottles
99¢

Photo Processing
Your Way
Photo Processing is up to You!

Photo Processing is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!

Photos is up to You!