The Daily Iowan

Tuesday, April 25, 1989

TUESDAY

NBC takes on racism

A one-hour NBC special entitled "8 to 9" will be broadcast this week on the differences in black-white relations in the United States and how racism affects the lives of blacks. See Sports, page 10.

Soviets request chemical antidote

Soviet Georgians hospitalized with burns to their hands and faces caused by the explosion of a gas pipeline last week asked the government Monday to request chemical antidotes used during the April 9 April 21 government demonstrations which caused personnel of troops to use a new kind of tear gas.

Czd, Czd

WEATHER

Scattered showers and thunderstorms today. High today around 50. Another chance for rain or storm in the Wednesday or Thursday area. See World-Page 5.

Takeshita steps down after scandal

TOKYO (AP) - Prime Minister Noboru Takeshita has decided to resign because a widening political scandal involving his family and property interests has threatened his government's standing.

The scandal, which has sharply reduced the level of support for the Prime Minister, has forced him to resign.

Health problems plague jurors

WASHINGTON (AP) - One of the jurors who was being questioned by a medical examiner has been questioned by a medical examiner has been found dead in his room at the federal prison where he was being held for questioning.

The examiner, James E. Sargent, said that the juror had died of a heart attack.

Bush praises 'heroes of ship'

KORFORD, Va. (AP) - Thousands of people braved heavy rain and scattered sheets of ice to welcome the heroes of the grounded freighter "William G. Mather," the first American ship to be captured by Russian forces in the Persian Gulf.

The ship's crew of three men and a woman were rescued by the Russian navy and are now in a hospital in Moscow.

Audit nears completion with campus interviews

By Deborah Giles

The Daily Iowan's "Audit nears completion with campus interviews" article was published on April 25, 1989. The article discusses the ongoing audit of the University of Iowa's financial and business practices, which is expected to be completed soon.

CAC votes to impeach appointees

Shanes, Kalman elected by Council

By Diane Wallace

The chairman of the CAC, the Council of Appointees, has asked the Council to vote on whether to impeach the appointees on the board of directors.

The CAC is responsible for managing the university's money, and the chairman has accused the appointees of using it for their own personal gain.

April showers could prevent May drought

By Nicole Reiter

If you were unhappy about the record-breaking drought conditions over the last week's rains, you might be happy to hear that April showers could help prevent a May drought.

The Iowa City Daily Iowan's "April showers could prevent May drought" article was published on April 25, 1989. The article discusses the potential impact of April showers on the May weather pattern.
One page of the document contains text about local defense concerns in Iowa. It seems to be an excerpt from a newspaper article discussing the Iowa Legislative Session's end, created in conjunction with how the government spends money and focuses on defense-related spending. The text mentions the Iowa House had approved a measure that would allow the governor to go one step further in cutting defense-related spending. It also touches on the future of the second-language requirement and how it has survived the legislative session's end. The text is written in a formal tone, typical of news articles, and provides a snapshot of the political climate in Iowa during that time period.
Metro/Iowa

‘Drug czar’ may head $2.4 million crackdown

IOWA CITY, Iowa

I’m Monan, prof, u.s. lee went log en combined direc:tor major approved a $2 .4 million tapping with new treatment and education you quibbled about how far the Legislature should go. tough public Carpen , R-West Des bout cIwlp.-lped.nth onteomery would recomm pelnut IUpport proaram -plaID 00 tl.1 Clu II then a Item In a1ternlv llak humAN IUide JIIIOIIlble “Let’s Critica Neurol ogy “W mbnkin, “Without co-in to th traditional JYltem In the phase of work . After more

Pesticides top concerns for 1990 federal farm bill

BETDWON, Ala. (AP) — The Senate Agriculture Appropriations Committee will go to the barn Monday to learn how farmers use pesticides and how much they cost, but they would like Washington and Capitol Hill to agree on a new law. Senators and farmers are waiting to hear from a new task force that is meeting in Montgomery. For nearly those who farm, pesticides are a way of life. They must be used to control the weeds and pests that could damage crops. But there is concern about the impact of pesticides on the environment and on human health. The committee has been working on an agreement for the past three years, and it is expected to vote on the bill this week.

Ul’s Pahl wins research award

The Daily Iowan

A UI College of Medicine researcher has been awarded a National Alliance for Research on Schizophrenia and Depression award for research into the causes of mental illness. Dr. Sheila Pahl, a research associate professor, is being honored for 23 years of research investigating the causes of mental illness.
Simulcasting could boost track betting

The right choice. The Iowa Racing and Horse Breeding Commission voted Monday to permit simulcasting of races from out-of-state tracks.

"One thing that Chicago needs more than anything is a strong, aggressive leadership to make this city one, not two, people, working together." - Mayor Richard J. Daley

"No matter how bad they are, Grandma loves to hear the latest jokes." - George Carlin

Cronin leaves superintendent post for Wisconsin offer

Daley takes oath, promises a more open style to City Hall

"One thing I will be looking for is an open and honest government about the inner workings, someone with good people skills, and who is a good communicator," he said.

Townsend said he didn't plan to "minimize the involvement of the majority vote." But he added, "We have a responsibility," Townsend said. "I think it is important for the community to have input in the district to have input."
Metro/Iowa

Downpour of bullish data gives investors reason to sing in rain

By Dean Jaron

BUSINESS WEEKLY

In a world where rain is often a sign of good fortune, it appears that relief from the recent bout of economic downturn is at hand. The latest data indicates a positive trend that could be a welcome sight for investors looking to capitalize on the opportunities at hand.

In the past year, the stock market has seen a significant decline, with investors looking for any sign of relief. The latest data, however, suggests that the worst may be behind us. The market has rebounded, with the Dow Jones Industrial Average gaining nearly 4.6% in the last two weeks, reaching its highest levels since the 2007 peak. The last bell of Monday's trading and this month so far is hardly any surprise. In fact, this month's gains have been significant, and the market is currently valued at 2010 levels.

The rebound in the market has been driven by a number of factors, including a slowdown in the US economy, a decline in inflation, and a rise in the demand for commodities. The US Federal Reserve has been aggressive in its attempts to stimulate the economy, with interest rates expected to remain low for an extended period. This has helped to boost the demand for commodities, particularly oil, which has seen a rise in prices.

The data points to an improved economic outlook, with a number of indicators suggesting that the worst may be over. The unemployment rate has fallen to 5.0%, the lowest level since 2007, and the US economy is expected to grow at a rate of 2.2% this year. This has helped to boost investor confidence, with the market reacting positively to the news.

The rebound in the market has also been helped by a number of other factors, including a slowdown in the US economy, a decline in inflation, and a rise in the demand for commodities. The US Federal Reserve has been aggressive in its attempts to stimulate the economy, with interest rates expected to remain low for an extended period. This has helped to boost the demand for commodities, particularly oil, which has seen a rise in prices.

The data points to an improved economic outlook, with a number of indicators suggesting that the worst may be over. The unemployment rate has fallen to 5.0%, the lowest level since 2007, and the US economy is expected to grow at a rate of 2.2% this year. This has helped to boost investor confidence, with the market reacting positively to the news.

The rebound in the market has also been helped by a number of other factors, including a slowdown in the US economy, a decline in inflation, and a rise in the demand for commodities. The US Federal Reserve has been aggressive in its attempts to stimulate the economy, with interest rates expected to remain low for an extended period. This has helped to boost the demand for commodities, particularly oil, which has seen a rise in prices.

The data points to an improved economic outlook, with a number of indicators suggesting that the worst may be over. The unemployment rate has fallen to 5.0%, the lowest level since 2007, and the US economy is expected to grow at a rate of 2.2% this year. This has helped to boost investor confidence, with the market reacting positively to the news.

The rebound in the market has also been helped by a number of other factors, including a slowdown in the US economy, a decline in inflation, and a rise in the demand for commodities. The US Federal Reserve has been aggressive in its attempts to stimulate the economy, with interest rates expected to remain low for an extended period. This has helped to boost the demand for commodities, particularly oil, which has seen a rise in prices.

The data points to an improved economic outlook, with a number of indicators suggesting that the worst may be over. The unemployment rate has fallen to 5.0%, the lowest level since 2007, and the US economy is expected to grow at a rate of 2.2% this year. This has helped to boost investor confidence, with the market reacting positively to the news.

The rebound in the market has also been helped by a number of other factors, including a slowdown in the US economy, a decline in inflation, and a rise in the demand for commodities. The US Federal Reserve has been aggressive in its attempts to stimulate the economy, with interest rates expected to remain low for an extended period. This has helped to boost the demand for commodities, particularly oil, which has seen a rise in prices.

The data points to an improved economic outlook, with a number of indicators suggesting that the worst may be over. The unemployment rate has fallen to 5.0%, the lowest level since 2007, and the US economy is expected to grow at a rate of 2.2% this year. This has helped to boost investor confidence, with the market reacting positively to the news.

The rebound in the market has also been helped by a number of other factors, including a slowdown in the US economy, a decline in inflation, and a rise in the demand for commodities. The US Federal Reserve has been aggressive in its attempts to stimulate the economy, with interest rates expected to remain low for an extended period. This has helped to boost the demand for commodities, particularly oil, which has seen a rise in prices.

The data points to an improved economic outlook, with a number of indicators suggesting that the worst may be over. The unemployment rate has fallen to 5.0%, the lowest level since 2007, and the US economy is expected to grow at a rate of 2.2% this year. This has helped to boost investor confidence, with the market reacting positively to the news.

The rebound in the market has also been helped by a number of other factors, including a slowdown in the US economy, a decline in inflation, and a rise in the demand for commodities. The US Federal Reserve has been aggressive in its attempts to stimulate the economy, with interest rates expected to remain low for an extended period. This has helped to boost the demand for commodities, particularly oil, which has seen a rise in prices.

The data points to an improved economic outlook, with a number of indicators suggesting that the worst may be over. The unemployment rate has fallen to 5.0%, the lowest level since 2007, and the US economy is expected to grow at a rate of 2.2% this year. This has helped to boost investor confidence, with the market reacting positively to the news.
Taxes
A trip to five southeast Asian nations has cost the state $130. C.P. Sensabaugh, the governor's deputy for Asian affairs, said the trip was to look at the economic and military situation of the region.

Rain
Minneapolis, Minn., the chairman of the state's high school football association, has been cited as a possible suspect in the Minneapolis Lynching.

Drugs
The state has reported no new cases of illegal drug use.

Raid
The state has begun a raid on a suspected drug gang.

The University of Iowa
WRITERS' COLLECTIVE presents
A Poetry Reading by
VICTOR MARTINEZ
Tuesday, April 25 8:00 pm
English-Philosophy Building
Special admission to attend if you call 364-4794.

The Daily Iowan
is currently accepting applications for regular editorial columns for the fall and summer semesters. Applications are due in the Daily Iowan, 355-Mon, Fri., 1:30-3:30 pm.

Audit
The state has completed its annual audit.

CAC
Mc2832rfte, April 24, but raised a week earlier to avoid the election rhetoric in the fall.

Auditor
The state has announced its annual audit.

Follow the Hawks in the Daily Iowa

Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
Continued from page 14
WASHINGTON (AP) - Two senior West German officials urged the United States on Monday to open negotiations with Berlin, warning new tension could rear its head if the Reagan administration and such talks would be "a Heineken ••• and instead strengthen the NATO unity.

The leaders of two American newspapers called Monday for visits to Berlin. President Ronald Reagan and, in the absence of West German Chancellor Helmut Kohl, whose visit had been announced for next spring, would shore up the alliance and strengthen the NATO unity.

The leaders said the United States should open negotiations with Berlin to work out a new strategic accord that would shift the balance of power in Europe.

"We have just come from Europe and we know that the new round of tension can't continue," said George W. Bush, President of the Star Times, and Peter Gerhard Stoltenberg, President of the Star Times, both of which publish The Daily Iowan in Iowa City.

Bush and Stoltenberg gave no indication that if they made any headway.

"Our advice is: Why didn't you ask for the German government to come to the United States and explain to you the problems? We believe that the Germans want to move to modernize our relationship with the United States," Bush said.

"They have been criticized for calling on the United States to do something about the arms race," Stoltenberg said.

"We are determined not to allow this round of tension to continue," Bush said.

"We have just come from Europe and we know that the new round of tension can't continue," said George W. Bush, President of the Star Times, and Peter Gerhard Stoltenberg, President of the Star Times, both of which publish The Daily Iowan in Iowa City.

Bush and Stoltenberg gave no indication that if they made any headway.

"Our advice is: Why didn't you ask for the German government to come to the United States and explain to you the problems? We believe that the Germans want to move to modernize our relationship with the United States," Bush said.

"They have been criticized for calling on the United States to do something about the arms race," Stoltenberg said.

"We are determined not to allow this round of tension to continue," Bush said.

"We have just come from Europe and we know that the new round of tension can't continue," said George W. Bush, President of the Star Times, and Peter Gerhard Stoltenberg, President of the Star Times, both of which publish The Daily Iowan in Iowa City.

Bush and Stoltenberg gave no indication that if they made any headway.

"Our advice is: Why didn't you ask for the German government to come to the United States and explain to you the problems? We believe that the Germans want to move to modernize our relationship with the United States," Bush said.

"They have been criticized for calling on the United States to do something about the arms race," Stoltenberg said.

"We are determined not to allow this round of tension to continue," Bush said.

"We have just come from Europe and we know that the new round of tension can't continue," said George W. Bush, President of the Star Times, and Peter Gerhard Stoltenberg, President of the Star Times, both of which publish The Daily Iowan in Iowa City.

Bush and Stoltenberg gave no indication that if they made any headway.

"Our advice is: Why didn't you ask for the German government to come to the United States and explain to you the problems? We believe that the Germans want to move to modernize our relationship with the United States," Bush said.

"They have been criticized for calling on the United States to do something about the arms race," Stoltenberg said.

"We are determined not to allow this round of tension to continue," Bush said.

"We have just come from Europe and we know that the new round of tension can't continue," said George W. Bush, President of the Star Times, and Peter Gerhard Stoltenberg, President of the Star Times, both of which publish The Daily Iowan in Iowa City.

Bush and Stoltenberg gave no indication that if they made any headway.

"Our advice is: Why didn't you ask for the German government to come to the United States and explain to you the problems? We believe that the Germans want to move to modernize our relationship with the United States," Bush said.

"They have been criticized for calling on the United States to do something about the arms race," Stoltenberg said.

"We are determined not to allow this round of tension to continue," Bush said.

"We have just come from Europe and we know that the new round of tension can't continue," said George W. Bush, President of the Star Times, and Peter Gerhard Stoltenberg, President of the Star Times, both of which publish The Daily Iowan in Iowa City.

Bush and Stoltenberg gave no indication that if they made any headway.

"Our advice is: Why didn't you ask for the German government to come to the United States and explain to you the problems? We believe that the Germans want to move to modernize our relationship with the United States," Bush said.

"They have been criticized for calling on the United States to do something about the arms race," Stoltenberg said.

"We are determined not to allow this round of tension to continue," Bush said.

"We have just come from Europe and we know that the new round of tension can't continue," said George W. Bush, President of the Star Times, and Peter Gerhard Stoltenberg, President of the Star Times, both of which publish The Daily Iowan in Iowa City.

Bush and Stoltenberg gave no indication that if they made any headway.

"Our advice is: Why didn't you ask for the German government to come to the United States and explain to you the problems? We believe that the Germans want to move to modernize our relationship with the United States," Bush said.

"They have been criticized for calling on the United States to do something about the arms race," Stoltenberg said.

"We are determined not to allow this round of tension to continue," Bush said.
Desire for vengeance

The United States and Iran have little in common. The two nations have diametrically opposed political systems and foreign policies. They do not speak the same languages or share the same values. The United States and Iran are two of the most powerful nations in the world, but they are also two of the most incompatible. The United States is a democracy with a free press and a strong economy. Iran is a theocratic state with a strict censorship regime and a weak economy. The United States is a member of the United Nations and the World Trade Organization, while Iran is not. The United States is a member of NATO, while Iran is not.

Yet, despite these fundamental differences, the United States and Iran are locked in a bitter rivalry. In recent years, this rivalry has escalated into a full-scale cold war, with both sides engaging in a variety of forms of aggression, including cyber attacks, sabotage, and propaganda warfare. The United States and Iran are both nuclear powers, and there is a very real possibility that this rivalry could escalate into a nuclear war.

The United States and Iran are also locked in a battle for influence in the Middle East. Iran is a major player in the region, and it has used its influence to support a variety of regional actors, including Hamas, Hezbollah, and the Syrian government. The United States has long been opposed to Iran's influence in the region, and it has used a variety of means to try to contain Iran's influence.

The United States and Iran are also locked in a battle for influence in the international community. The United States is a member of the United Nations and the World Trade Organization, while Iran is not. The United States is a member of NATO, while Iran is not. The United States is a member of the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank, while Iran is not. The United States is a member of the World Trade Organization, while Iran is not.

The United States and Iran are also locked in a battle for influence in the energy market. The United States is a major producer of oil and gas, while Iran is a major producer of oil and gas. The United States is a major consumer of oil and gas, while Iran is a major consumer of oil and gas. The United States is a major exporter of oil and gas, while Iran is a major exporter of oil and gas. The United States is a major importer of oil and gas, while Iran is a major importer of oil and gas.

The United States and Iran are also locked in a battle for influence in the international financial system. The United States is a member of the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank, while Iran is not. The United States is a member of the World Trade Organization, while Iran is not. The United States is a member of the World Bank, while Iran is not. The United States is a member of the International Monetary Fund, while Iran is not.

The United States and Iran are also locked in a battle for influence in the international political system. The United States is a member of the United Nations and the World Trade Organization, while Iran is not. The United States is a member of NATO, while Iran is not. The United States is a member of the International Monetary Fund, while Iran is not. The United States is a member of the World Bank, while Iran is not.

The United States and Iran are also locked in a battle for influence in the international security system. The United States is a member of NATO, while Iran is not. The United States is a member of the United Nations and the World Trade Organization, while Iran is not. The United States is a member of the International Monetary Fund, while Iran is not. The United States is a member of the World Bank, while Iran is not.

The United States and Iran are also locked in a battle for influence in the international environmental system. The United States is a member of the United Nations and the World Trade Organization, while Iran is not. The United States is a member of NATO, while Iran is not. The United States is a member of the International Monetary Fund, while Iran is not. The United States is a member of the World Bank, while Iran is not.

The United States and Iran are also locked in a battle for influence in the international cultural system. The United States is a member of the United Nations and the World Trade Organization, while Iran is not. The United States is a member of NATO, while Iran is not. The United States is a member of the International Monetary Fund, while Iran is not. The United States is a member of the World Bank, while Iran is not.

The United States and Iran are also locked in a battle for influence in the international legal system. The United States is a member of the United Nations and the World Trade Organization, while Iran is not. The United States is a member of NATO, while Iran is not. The United States is a member of the International Monetary Fund, while Iran is not. The United States is a member of the World Bank, while Iran is not.
Opposition rallies, West aims to correct 'wrongful' decision

Opposition rallies against establishment of Lebanon's new elections as being established in 'wrongful' decision, other estimates put the number all high as murder, but also adultery, prostitution, showing pornographic needed fuel unloaded the tanker in Britain.
Apple Makes Your Spring Sizzle

Even if you’re up to your eyebrows in work, you needn’t carry the world on your shoulders.
Not with a Macintosh® on your desk!
Think of a project that weighs heavily on your mind right now—say, a simple research paper. With Macintosh you can bring instant order to the jumble of notes, scribbles, quotes, and excerpts that’ll go into your paper. You can quickly outline, change the order of topics, and jot down related ideas at will.
With Macintosh you can proofread your paper, illustrate your ideas, graph that equation, in less time than you might spend reviewing for a Monday morning quiz. Starting Sunday.
And here’s the clincher: We have just made owning a Macintosh more affordable. Now you can save on the purchase of an Apple Macintosh Plus or selected models of Macintosh SE, with our new lower prices.
Come and see the new Apple Product Line on Thursday April 27, in the Lucas-Dodge room at the Iowa Memorial Union, at 9:00, 10:30, 12:00, 1:30 and 3:00. An Apple representative will be there to answer all of your questions.

Inquire about the Faculty/Staff/Student Purchase Program at:
Personal Computing Support Center
Weeg Computing Center
Room 229, Lindquist Center

The power to be your best.
Two wins move Iowa into first

BY BOB SAVAGE

The Iowa Hawkeyes have moved into a first place tie in the Big Ten Conference after defeating Purdue, 6-0, and Northwestern, 3-0, this weekend.

In the Purdue game, Iowa staked its claim to the top of the conference as it dominated all aspects of the contest.

The Hawkeyes scored the first run of the game in the top of the first inning when Kelli Horton, batting leadoff, hit a double and scored on a wild pitch by the Boilermakers.

Iowa added two more runs in the second inning when Horton and Nicole Fellers scored on a hit by Ed Womack.

The Hawkeyes took control of the game with a four-run third inning. Horton led off with a single and scored on a double by Fellers. Fellers scored on a wild pitch by Purdue's pitcher.

Iowa's pitching was a dominant force throughout the game, allowing only three hits and striking out 10 batters. The Hawkeyes' defense was flawless, committing no errors.

In the Northwestern game, Iowa stormed to a 5-0 lead in the first inning on a sacrifice fly by Horton and a three-run home run by Fellers.

The Hawkeyes added two more runs in the second inning on an error by Northwestern's catcher and a sacrifice fly by Horton.

Iowa's pitching again was outstanding, allowing only four hits and striking out eight batters. The Hawkeyes' defense was errorless for the second straight game.

With this weekend's sweep, the Hawkeyes are now 21-11 overall and 6-1 in the Big Ten Conference, putting them in a first place tie with Purdue and Michigan.

Edwards charged with battery

By Bob Savage

Iowa pitcher400

Former Indiana baseball star Jay Edwards was charged with battery after allegedly punching a woman in the face.

The incident occurred on Thursday night at a bar in Iowa City. Edwards, who had a 3.84 GPA and a 1.344 batting average for the Hawkeyes, was suspended indefinitely from the team.

Edwards was charged with battery after allegedly punching a woman in the face.

NSC special will tackle racial issues

By Bob Savage

The NSC special will tackle racial issues in a series of talks and workshops.

The series, titled "Race and Sports," will bring together athletes, coaches, and community leaders to discuss the intersection of race and sport.

The first event, "Race and Sports: A Dialogue," will take place on Monday, April 30, at 7 p.m. at the Iowa Memorial Union. The event will feature a panel discussion on the topic of race and sports.

The second event, "Race and Sports: A Workshop," will be held on Tuesday, May 1, at 1 p.m. in the Hawkeye Softball Stadium. The workshop will provide an opportunity for attendees to engage in hands-on activities and discussions related to race and sport.

The series will conclude with a keynote address by civil rights activist and former NFL player John Lewis on Wednesday, May 2, at 7 p.m. at the Iowa Memorial Union. Lewis will discuss his experiences as a civil rights activist and his work promoting social justice through sports.

The NSC special is co-sponsored by the Iowa Women's Football Association and the Iowa Men's Basketball Association. For more information, visit nsconline.org/raceandsports.
Sportsbriefs

Boekie says Rose bet a bundle

NEW YORK (AP) - A New York bookie who said he lost $11,000 to bets from Pete Rose, according to a federal wiretap obtained Monday by The Associated Press, said Tuesday he did not bet with the Cincinnati Reds player.

"I got a call Friday night from the bookmaker, Donald Peters, asking me about Mr. Rose," said the bookie, who asked that his name be withheld. "He had turned over a couple of years' worth of money to Mr. Rose that could well have totaled $11,000. He told me to call him."

âm-941-

Saturday's Drake Relays sold out

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) - The 101st and final Drake Relays is a sellout for the 29th straight year, Drake officials announced Thursday.

All 18,000 tickets have been sold for the event at Drake Stadium, and about 2,000 were still outstanding during the opening session.

The Drake program has 28 final events, including the 3,000-meter steeplechase, a race in which a meet record is possible. Illinois' Dave Brichler said:

"This is the ninth time I've ran, almost won and hated myself during the week.

Other notables for the event were Tim Flanagan of Philadelphia, who ran the mile in 4:01.73, and Charlie Constable of Evanston, Ill., who won the high jump with a leap of 7 feet, 6 inches."

"I am happy to say that this is the first time in my life that I have had a secret," Mr. Peters said.

Clark garners NL honor

NEW YORK (AP) - Bill Clark, who hit two home runs and batted 300 for San Francisco last season, was named National League Player of the Week on Monday.

The first baseman drove in eight runs, scored seven runs, stole a base and walked seven times during the week.

Other notables for the award were Tim Flanagan of Philadelphia, who ran the mile in 4:01.73, and Charlie Constable of Evanston, Ill., who won the high jump with a leap of 7 feet, 6 inches."

"I am happy to say that this is the first time in my life that I have had a secret," Mr. Peters said.

CLARK GARNERS NL HONOR

AL tabs Jackson Player of the Week

NEW YORK (AP) - Kansas City outfielder Mike Jackson, who hit .369 in his first 52 games for the American League Player of the Week on Monday.

Jackson, who averaged .349 with 14 home runs, stole a base and walked seven times during the week.

Also nominated for the award were Nolan Ryan of Texas, Donnie Anderson of California, Carl Yastrzemski of Baltimore, Rick Monday of San Diego and Ron LeFlore of Detroit.

Tyrone earns honorary degree

NEW YORK (AP) - Heavyweight champion Mike Tyson will receive an honorary degree in business from Columbia University in Westwood, N.J. Columbia President Alvin Thomas said the school is honoring Tyson for his influence on young people.

Baseball

John Ringo moved to put distance on first and third. On a double play squeeze situation, he not at second but Haber moved right for the third.

"We've been doing the little things of late," tacos said. "But we still have to maintain the offense." The coach points to the game in the fifth inning as a mark by the Capitol of all true baseball.

"I thought we did a good job of hitting," Haber said. "But we still have to come back off the game." She recently scored the competitive victory to improve his record to 5-1. The catcher打击 right and left and hit batter with a pitch.

"I'm happy to report to you today," she said. "We are happy to say that this is the first time in my life that I have had a secret."

"I am happy to say that this is the first time in my life that I have had a secret," Mr. Peters said.

Races

In have smaller laps... and prop- erly cautious less last on their entre-

race day.

The program, hosted by Tom Bro-

brow, typically started with Canadian researcher Claude Brandt of New York, who presented the American League Player of the Week on Monday.

Brandt, who averaged .349 with 14 home runs, stole a base and walked seven times during the week.

Also nominated for the award were Nolan Ryan of Texas, Donnie Anderson of California, Carl Yastrzemski of Baltimore, Rick Monday of San Diego and Ron LeFlore of Detroit.

Tyson earns honorary degree

NEW YORK (AP) - Heavyweight champion Mike Tyson will receive an honorary degree in business from Columbia University in Westwood, N.J. Columbia President Alvin Thomas said the school is honoring Tyson for his influence on young people.

"We've been doing the little things of late," tacos said. "But we still have to maintain the offense." The coach points to the game in the fifth inning as a mark by the Capitol of all true baseball.

"I thought we did a good job of hitting," Haber said. "But we still have to come back off the game." She recently scored the competitive victory to improve his record to 5-1. The catcher打击 right and left and hit batter with a pitch.

"I'm happy to report to you today," she said. "We are happy to say that this is the first time in my life that I have had a secret."

"I am happy to say that this is the first time in my life that I have had a secret," Mr. Peters said.

Races

In have smaller laps... and prop- erly cautious less last on their entre-

race day.

The program, hosted by Tom Bro-

brow, typically started with Canadian researcher Claude Brandt of New York, who presented the American League Player of the Week on Monday.

Brandt, who averaged .349 with 14 home runs, stole a base and walked seven times during the week.

Also nominated for the award were Nolan Ryan of Texas, Donnie Anderson of California, Carl Yastrzemski of Baltimore, Rick Monday of San Diego and Ron LeFlore of Detroit.

Tyson earns honorary degree

NEW YORK (AP) - Heavyweight champion Mike Tyson will receive an honorary degree in business from Columbia University in Westwood, N.J. Columbia President Alvin Thomas said the school is honoring Tyson for his influence on young people.

"We've been doing the little things of late," tacos said. "But we still have to maintain the offense." The coach points to the game in the fifth inning as a mark by the Capitol of all true baseball.

"I thought we did a good job of hitting," Haber said. "But we still have to come back off the game." She recently scored the competitive victory to improve his record to 5-1. The catcher打击 right and left and hit batter with a pitch.

"I'm happy to report to you today," she said. "We are happy to say that this is the first time in my life that I have had a secret."

"I am happy to say that this is the first time in my life that I have had a secret," Mr. Peters said.

Races

In have smaller laps... and prop- erly cautious less last on their entre-

race day.

The program, hosted by Tom Bro-

brow, typically started with Canadian researcher Claude Brandt of New York, who presented the American League Player of the Week on Monday.

Brandt, who averaged .349 with 14 home runs, stole a base and walked seven times during the week.

Also nominated for the award were Nolan Ryan of Texas, Donnie Anderson of California, Carl Yastrzemski of Baltimore, Rick Monday of San Diego and Ron LeFlore of Detroit.

Tyson earns honorary degree

NEW YORK (AP) - Heavyweight champion Mike Tyson will receive an honorary degree in business from Columbia University in Westwood, N.J. Columbia President Alvin Thomas said the school is honoring Tyson for his influence on young people.

"We've been doing the little things of late," tacos said. "But we still have to maintain the offense." The coach points to the game in the fifth inning as a mark by the Capitol of all true baseball.

"I thought we did a good job of hitting," Haber said. "But we still have to come back off the game." She recently scored the competitive victory to improve his record to 5-1. The catcher打击 right and left and hit batter with a pitch.

"I'm happy to report to you today," she said. "We are happy to say that this is the first time in my life that I have had a secret."

"I am happy to say that this is the first time in my life that I have had a secret," Mr. Peters said.

Races

In have smaller laps... and prop- erly cautious less last on their entre-

race day.

The program, hosted by Tom Bro-

brow, typically started with Canadian researcher Claude Brandt of New York, who presented the American League Player of the Week on Monday.

Brandt, who averaged .349 with 14 home runs, stole a base and walked seven times during the week.

Also nominated for the award were Nolan Ryan of Texas, Donnie Anderson of California, Carl Yastrzemski of Baltimore, Rick Monday of San Diego and Ron LeFlore of Detroit.

Ti...
Sports

IOC will welcome Johnson for '92 Olympics

DENVER: (AP) — The United States Olympic Committee will present an endorsement to the United States Olympic Committee for Johnson to compete in the 1992 Olympics. The endorsement comes after Johnson, who has been banned from the United States for two years, was denied entry into the United States last month.

Johnson was denied entry into the United States last month because of his drug use. He has been banned from the Olympics for two years, but the United States Olympic Committee has endorsed his participation.

Johnson has been suspended from the Olympic program since 1988 for a positive drug test. He was stripped of his Olympic gold medal in 1988 and has been suspended from the Olympic program since then.

His latest suspension came after a positive drug test at the 1991 World Championships in Tokyo. He tested positive for a banned substance and was banned from the Olympics for two years.

The United States Olympic Committee has endorsed his participation, but Johnson will have to meet certain conditions before he can compete. He will have to undergo a drug test at least once a month and pass it to continue training.

Johnson has been training at the Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs, and has been working with a top coach.

The United States Olympic Committee has said Johnson will have to pass a drug test every month before he can continue training. He will also have to meet certain other conditions.

Johnson has said he is committed to getting clean and has been working hard to meet the requirements set by the United States Olympic Committee.

The United States Olympic Committee has said Johnson will have to pass a drug test every month before he can continue training. He will also have to meet certain other conditions.

Johnson has said he is committed to getting clean and has been working hard to meet the requirements set by the United States Olympic Committee.

The United States Olympic Committee has said Johnson will have to pass a drug test every month before he can continue training. He will also have to meet certain other conditions.

Johnson has said he is committed to getting clean and has been working hard to meet the requirements set by the United States Olympic Committee.
Iowa City, Iowa

A/C, garage, yard, table. 351-2715 RENT

Bedroom

Apt. for sale

Close to campus

Available August 1

361-5185

Two bedroom

1-2-3-4

Patio

DI Classified Ad Blank

Write ad below using one word per blank

Name

Phone

Address

County

No. Days

Rate per week

Space rate multiplies the number of words (excluding address and phone number) times the appropriate rate given below. Cost equals rate per word x 30 words. Include 10 words for island. Deadline is 11 AM previous working day.

1-word words: 60 cents

2-word words: 1.00

3-word words: 1.25

4-word words: 1.50

5-word words: 1.75

6-word words: 2.00

7-word words: 2.25

8-word words: 2.50

9-word words: 2.75

10-word words: 3.00

Ten\n
111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center

111 Communications Center
Balinese dance, music troupe brings exotic image to stage
The Daily Iowan

H avenichterst and her troupe, the Dancers and Musicians of Bali, will present "The Dance of the Legends" tonight at the Center for International Music at the University of Iowa. The performance will begin at 8 p.m.

The center is in the basement of the Mathematics building. Tickets are $10 for adults, $5 for students and senior citizens, and free for children under 12. Tickets are available at the center's box office.

The program will feature an evening of Balinese dance and gamelan, the traditional music of Bali. The dancers will perform a variety of dances, including the famous "Kecak" and "Barong" dances, which tell the story of the Balinese gods and demons. The gamelan will provide a musical backdrop to the dances, with its characteristic clanging gongs, xylophones, and metallophones.

The Dancers and Musicians of Bali, which is based in San Francisco, is one of the leading Balinese dance and gamelan groups in the United States. The group was founded in 1972 and has been performing Balinese dance and music for over 30 years. The group's performances are known for their high level of skill and authenticity, as well as their ability to capture the spirit and culture of Bali.

The program tonight will feature a variety of dances, including the "Barong" dance, which tells the story of a battle between the evil demon Rangda and the protective spirit of the island. The "Kecak" dance, which tells the story of the monkey king who must overcome many obstacles to save his people, is also a highlight of the program.

The Dancers and Musicians of Bali is one of the leading Balinese dance and gamelan groups in the United States and is known for its high level of skill and authenticity. The group's performances are known for their ability to capture the spirit and culture of Bali.

The program tonight will feature a variety of dances, including the "Barong" dance, which tells the story of a battle between the evil demon Rangda and the protective spirit of the island. The "Kecak" dance, which tells the story of the monkey king who must overcome many obstacles to save his people, is also a highlight of the program.