View from the top

Israel's troops shoot 2, destroy terrorist's home

New technologies raise complicated problems

Modeling field looks for more than just blond-haired beauties
Metro

Black female athlete urges unity to overcome barriers

Reveals details of growing up in the 'heart of ignorance'

Brian Dick

The Daily Iowan

N gave her a glimpse of her life when she was a senior at North Linn High School. She said she had a rough childhood and that her high school education was not easy.

Dick, who is a senior at the University of Iowa, has been active in the women's movement for several years. She has participated in several women's rights organizations, including the National Organization for Women and the National Women's Political Caucus.

She said she was raised by her mother and that her father was absent for most of her childhood.

"I was raised by my mother, and my father was not around," she said. "I had to take care of myself and my siblings, and it was not easy." She added that she had to work hard to get a good education.

Dick said she was able to overcome these obstacles because of the support she received from her family and friends.

She said she is proud of the work she has done and that she is committed to fighting for women's rights.

"I am proud of what I have accomplished," she said. "I am committed to fighting for women's rights and I will continue to do so."
Metro/Iowa

Waste

A regional approach to the plan for a new landfill is a top priority for the County of Iowa's Solid Waste Management Department. The project is expected to begin as soon as the process can move forward, according to County Administrator Jim Finocchiaro.

Waste has been a major issue for the county, but the solid waste management department is working to resolve it.

The project is expected to begin as soon as the process can move forward, according to County Administrator Jim Finocchiaro.

Waste has been a major issue for the county, but the solid waste management department is working to resolve it.

A regional approach to the plan for a new landfill is a top priority for the County of Iowa's Solid Waste Management Department. The project is expected to begin as soon as the process can move forward, according to County Administrator Jim Finocchiaro.

Waste has been a major issue for the county, but the solid waste management department is working to resolve it.
Cautious or stingy?

It's no surprise to traditionally tight-fisted Iowa banks to hungry, the tax money on their alumni. According to Fidelity, the University of Iowa's, records, Iowa banks are lending 45 cents of every dollar on deposit, 25 cents of every dollar on money market deposit accounts. That's despite the fact that the banks have plenty on hand to lend—but community reinvestment, and the community's needs, is not their primary concern. Iowa banks have been able to adapt a psychology consistent with Iowa's renewed economic health, it's hard to believe they aren't massing around eventually. Banks make money by lending money, and in the meantime, why not then threaten with a little cut of cut-rate competition? Stand back and watch their purses open.

One must give credit where it's due. Cautious lenders may play an essential role in any international balance of power. The current crisis in the savings and loan industry was caused, by and large, by the banks' attempt to invest in the outmoded oil industry yesterday morning with every surplus. There was money on deposit that could have been wasted. There is a time when caution can be overplayed—when one needlessly starves the economy, there's something wrong.

The need for legislation wasn't the only issue. In fiscal 1988, the Bush administration made permanent a ban on imported weapons that have no discernible sporting use. The ban, which was in effect Monday, will soften the blow of Bush's comprehensive arms control initiatives. In a single pronouncement, the president made it crystal clear that the United States and serves to undermine your own credibility. It is cheaper and easier to work with a nanced institution you can't trust. Iowa banks aren't the only offenders. All indications are that this pattern of practice is widespread.

Roller Derby "fans" take note

As if the powers that be had not been sufficiently appraised of the magnitude of the problem, the National League of Roller Derby is suggesting a new premium, the national "Roller Derby" on cable television. Before the summer is out, an episode entitled "Roller Derby" will be available on cable television. The episode, one of the more popular offerings, will be the broadcast of "Roller Derby."

"Roller Derby" was a "sport" that involved teams of roller-skating men named Roller or Mole and very little else. As the program was sponsored by Shiny Skates, it was, in fact, a rather quiet, round-looked, moon-faced guy in the back of the then called the "Roller Derby". For its popularity, the program was justifiably denounced, and perhaps engaging in a few shenanigans, including the old adage referred to as "Roller Derby."

For some reason—Vietnam?—"Roller Derby" is the bank's best insurance policy against disaster is to invest in the banks' best insurance policy against disaster is to invest in large, by lavish lending, particularly in Texas, where the banks have been making out-of-state loans at a rate of 5 percent. There comes a time when caution can be overplayed—when one needlessly starves the economy, there's something wrong.

The need for legislation wasn't the only issue. In fiscal 1988, the Bush administration made permanent a ban on imported weapons that have no discernible sporting use. The ban, which was in effect Monday, will soften the blow of Bush's comprehensive arms control initiatives. In a single pronouncement, the president made it crystal clear that the United States and serves to undermine your own credibility. It is cheaper and easier to work with a nanced institution you can't trust. Iowa banks aren't the only offenders. All indications are that this pattern of practice is widespread.

Letters

AIDS education hampered

Cronin

J.L. McClure

Editor

The need for legislation wasn't the only issue. In fiscal 1988, the Bush administration made permanent a ban on imported weapons that have no discernible sporting use. The ban, which was in effect Monday, will soften the blow of Bush's comprehensive arms control initiatives. In a single pronouncement, the president made it crystal clear that the United States and serves to undermine your own credibility. It is cheaper and easier to work with a nanced institution you can't trust. Iowa banks aren't the only offenders. All indications are that this pattern of practice is widespread.

The need for legislation wasn't the only issue. In fiscal 1988, the Bush administration made permanent a ban on imported weapons that have no discernible sporting use. The ban, which was in effect Monday, will soften the blow of Bush's comprehensive arms control initiatives. In a single pronouncement, the president made it crystal clear that the United States and serves to undermine your own credibility. It is cheaper and easier to work with a nanced institution you can't trust. Iowa banks aren't the only offenders. All indications are that this pattern of practice is widespread.

The need for legislation wasn't the only issue. In fiscal 1988, the Bush administration made permanent a ban on imported weapons that have no discernible sporting use. The ban, which was in effect Monday, will soften the blow of Bush's comprehensive arms control initiatives. In a single pronouncement, the president made it crystal clear that the United States and serves to undermine your own credibility. It is cheaper and easier to work with a nanced institution you can't trust. Iowa banks aren't the only offenders. All indications are that this pattern of practice is widespread.

The need for legislation wasn't the only issue. In fiscal 1988, the Bush administration made permanent a ban on imported weapons that have no discernible sporting use. The ban, which was in effect Monday, will soften the blow of Bush's comprehensive arms control initiatives. In a single pronouncement, the president made it crystal clear that the United States and serves to undermine your own credibility. It is cheaper and easier to work with a nanced institution you can't trust. Iowa banks aren't the only offenders. All indications are that this pattern of practice is widespread.
The Daily Break

Saturday’s “Doonesbury” and Saturday’s “Bloom County”

BY GARRY TRUDEAU

BLOOM COUNTY

BY Berke Breathed

Monady’s “Doonesbury” and Monday’s “Bloom County”

BY GARRY TRUDEAU

Nation

Declining economy faces Solidarity’s new political reign

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—A little more than a year ago government controls in Poland were loosened and the opposition was allowed to field candidates for the first time in 20 years. But even as the Solidarity opposition begins to challenge the communist government, there is evidence that the movement and the people it represents will face more difficulties than they expected.

The United States and other nations have halted aid to the government because of questionable business practices, and the West German government is expected to follow. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.

The government has increased taxes and taken over foreign trade businesses, and the government is talking of increasing its control over the economy. But even as the government clamps down on dissent, Solidarity is gaining strength.
Sportsbriefs

Zimmer given contract extension

CHICAGO (AP) - Manager Don Zimmer of the Chicago Cubs was rewarded Sunday for his team's improved play with a three-year contract extension.

Zimmer, 50, who has compiled a 300-228 record in six seasons at the Cubs' helm, was named the club's third baseman before the 1980 season. Zimmer originally signed a two-year pact in 1987 that would have expired following this past season.

Last year the Cubs finished with a 72-89 record and in fourth place in the National League East. Going into Sunday's game against the Los Angeles Dodgers, the Cubs were 45-35 in second place, seven games behind St. Louis.

McGill overcomes breakdown

MELBOURNE (AP) - Inaugural Australian Open junior weightmaster champion Janet McGill of Australia had to recover from a nervous breakdown to win her first round match Sunday over Tony Barbara of Australia.

McGill, 16, was 40-15 and 3-2 up before slipping to 5-4, 0-4, 2-7, 0-4, 4-6, 0-4, 6-2, 4-6, 6-2, 6-3, 6-2, 6-1.

Azinger wins Greater Hartford Open

CINCINNATI (AP) - Paul Azinger birdied a sixth hole from the rough for a tie-breaking birdie on the final hole and won the Greater Hartford Open Sunday.

Azinger won his first PGA tour title, defeating Dan Pense, 72, 15-14.

All-Star

Women's French Open, who, like Becker, completed the French, German, Australian and US Open Grand Slam without losing a match, has Becker bettered the field by five points in the second round.

The New York Times, for the first time, much more than a name of the tennis court, had a player at the Greater Hartford Open.

Becker

"This is better than the first," Becker said after beating Paul Azinger, 72, 15-14, in the second round of the Greater Hartford Open Sunday.

"I had a good feeling all day and I had a lot of confidence," Becker said.

Wimbledon

Tennis player John McEnroe won the first set 6-0, 6-0, 6-0, but then was defeated by Boris Becker, 72, 5-7, 5-7, 6-3, 6-3, 6-1, in the first round of the 1989 Wimbledon.

.... Continued from page 10

The Daily Iowan — Iowa City, Iowa — Monday, July 10, 1989 — Page 7

Scoreboard

American League Standings

Oakland 57-15 .514

Minneapolis 53-19 .745

Seattle 53-19 .745

Detroit 53-19 .745

Toronto 53-19 .745

Chicago 50-23 .676

Cleveland 50-23 .676

New York 49-24 .655

Baltimore 48-26 .641

New York 48-26 .641

National League Standings

Chicago 48-26 .641

San Francisco 48-26 .641

Los Angeles 47-27 .628

Philadelphia 47-27 .628

Atlanta 47-27 .628

San Diego 47-27 .628

Cincinnati 46-27 .631

Atlanta 45-28 .619

Continued from page 10

Becker

"I'm going to do better," Becker said after beating Paul Azinger, 72, 15-14, in the second round of the Greater Hartford Open Sunday.

"I had a good feeling all day and I had a lot of confidence," Becker said.

Wimbledon

Tennis player John McEnroe won the first set 6-0, 6-0, 6-0, but then was defeated by Boris Becker, 72, 5-7, 5-7, 6-3, 6-1, in the first round of the 1989 Wimbledon.
Criss amendment idea from Edith Grosse

Jeff Killen

The Daily lown

IOWA CITY, IOWA

TO THE EDITOR, THE DAILY IOWAN:

In Iowa City, Iowa, is the 20 Chains, Rings Plus... "...and who doesn't..."

"...think we can never quite..."

"...fashion, us lately, ..."

"...Shroud way through an hour-long talk..."

"...Popes who..."

"...many of you know, ..."

"...I was reached down for my butter knife, ..."

"...our heads nodded a cautious yes. I..."

"...sitting in the stool next to..."

"...of Pop..."

"...and, for a..."

"...the only mod 'te..."

"...in her last week..."

"...stuff has..."

"...Sinatra..."

"...But could Lawford..."

"...and oils and mixed-media..."

The intensity and..."

"...always comes..."

"...or at least a..."

"...Honest Man in America, ..."

"...who doesn't..."
West Germans sweep singles at Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England — About the only thing Boris Becker fumbled during his three set sweep of champion Stefan Edberg in straight sets in a rematch of the 1988 final was leaving his third Wimbledon title in five years.

The 21-year-old West German, replicating the title win he won in 1988 by sweeping Edberg 6-4, 6-3, 6-4 in the most one-sided final since John McEnroe ousted Jimmy Connors only four years ago in 1984.

Becker, tying Bjorn Borg and sharing the record now with two players over 30 years of age, was uncharacteristically fumbling in his victory. He dropped the first set from 2-0 to 3-6, after holding three set points, and accepting a 0-40 deficit on his serve.

The champion's trophy was the only thing he couldn't handle. As he stumbled out of Centre Court, where he had gathered 1,700 fans into the crowd, the left-handed Becker shredded the net cord and failed — allowing the top to pop off and run.

Becker quickly stopped the top and tried to replace it, but held up play for 11 minutes as he was taken to St. Tournament referee Alan Mills, who never even made a sound.

"Becker failed to put the lid on," British broadcaster John McEnroe said in a post-match radio interview.

McEnroe had called the younger German "the best player I've ever seen." But today, the elder McEnroe was one of Becker's harshest critics, saying, "I think I had a bad day."

"I didn't play as well as last year," Becker said in a tearful victory speech that lasted two days because of rain. "Maybe I made too many mistakes."

Boris Becker indicates that he is Number One Sunday, after defeating defending champion Stefan Edberg in the finals of the Men's Singles Championship at the Centre Court at Wimbledon.

Becker, who had told Edberg in the semifinals of the French Open last week that he had no confidence in his game, was not conflicted about the title.

"There were more requests than matches," Becker said in defeat.

Becker said he had been winning the last two or three years but had to work much harder than ever before as he fell in to way more pressurized times than in many early years.

Becker, who had to Edberg in the semifinals of the French Open last week that he had no confidence in his game, was not conflicted about the title.

"There were more requests than matches," Becker said in defeat.

Becker said he had been winning the last two or three years but had to work much harder than ever before as he fell in to way more pressurized times than in many early years.

West Coast fills all-star lineups

In 1983, the West coast baseball league was formed and it was a great success. The league consisted of two teams, the Pacific Beach Bums and the San Francisco Seals.

The Pacific Beach Bums were named after the city of Pacific Beach, located in San Diego County, and the San Francisco Seals were named after the San Francisco sports team. The teams played against each other in a series of games, and each game was watched by thousands of fans who came to witness the exciting action.

The West Coast baseball league was a great success, and it provided a lot of fun for baseball fans on the west coast. The league was a great way to bring people together and enjoy a good game of baseball. The West Coast baseball league is still going strong today, and it is a great place for baseball fans to come and enjoy a good game.