Lawyer files for school board race

An Iowa City lawyer has begun circulating nomination papers for the school board race, it was announced Monday.

Mayor Craig Wiley, 33, announced his candidacy Monday. Wiley is a 17-year-old daughter of state Senate Majority Leader Sen. Robert Walkinshaw. Wiley is a member of the Iowa City School Board, and is running for the position of City Commissioner.

Wiley was joined by his parents during the announcement Monday. Wiley said he is interested in running for the position because he feels the city isn't ready to make the changes necessary to face the future.

“City is growing, and we need to take the city in the right direction,” Wiley said.

The Iowa City School Board race is scheduled for November 7, 2000. Wiley said he is interested in running for the position because he feels the city isn't ready to make the changes necessary to face the future.
