Deadline for hostage killing delayed

Shamir hints at negotiations with Hezbollah

Jerusalem (AP) — Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir said Tuesday that he is ready to negotiate with the decentralized Lebanon-based militant group Hezbollah in order to obtain the release of Israeli leftists from captivity.

In Beirut, the Hezbollah, believed to be the umbrella group for several militant groups in Lebanon, confirmed that it had agreed to preliminary contacts with the government of Israel.

Shamir, who also serves as leader of the right-wing Likud Party, denied that he had agreed to a prisoner swap. But he said that he was ready to negotiate with the group if it did not demand that he make any retaliation against Western hostages to Lebanese groups, in particular, the Kidnapping and release of hostages.

Asked whether Israel was engaged in direct talks with Hezbollah, the prime minister's spokesman said: "We are in contact with the leaders of Hezbollah who have been reluctant to discuss the possibility of negotiating with the government of Israel."

Asbestos workers receive locker rooms for cleaning

Tempe, Ariz. (AP) — The National Institute of Occupational Safety and Health has recommended that asbestos workers be granted access to locker rooms for cleaning after each shift and that they undergo a cleansing process before entering the workplace.

The institute, which issued its findings to asbestos workers earlier this year, also called for asbestos workers to wear respirators and to undergo periodic medical exams.

The institute said that asbestos workers should take a shower before work, to wash any asbestos fibers from their clothing, hair and skin. The workers should also wear respirators and protective clothing when working with asbestos.

The institute also recommended that asbestos workers should undergo regular medical exams, including blood tests for asbestos-related diseases, to monitor their health.

The institute's findings were based on a review of scientific literature and on interviews with asbestos workers. The institute said that asbestos workers should be informed about the risks of asbestos exposure and should be provided with appropriate training and protective equipment.

The institute also recommended that asbestos workers be given regular breaks to rest and that they be provided with a dust-free room to remove respirator filters.

---

Wrenchin' at Iowa State

Wrench in, Wrench out, the kids at Iowa State were bashing out a new record this week. The boys took the first half of their season against the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, 37-35, and then went on to lose to Iowa State, 80-77.

The Daily Iowan

Wednesday, August 2, 1989

Page 25

Iowa City's Morning Newspaper
Sutherland's father-in-law talks on negotiations and terrorism

Sutherland, 58, was acting foreign minister of the Islamic Republic of Iran when he was taken hostage in the US embassy in Tehran in January 1979. His son, Douglas Bly, is an assistant professor of political science at the University of Iowa.

"If that's all there is, we're getting started," Sutherland said. "It's time now for the negotiations to start, with the unconditional release of all the hostages held in Iran and in Lebanon."
Federal Pell Grant stipulation not expected to stop drug use

Lisa Langleben

The government’s new attempt at a fix in the drug war has not, at least in the short run, proven effective in Iowa. Although there’s still time to wean students off drugs, a recent survey conducted by the U.S. Senate’s Committee on the Budget found that the anti-drug act passed by Congress in 1986 had done little to deter drug use among college students.

Harkin, Taake start early, open offices in Iowa City for planning of campaigns

Sally Jackson

The Senate campaign office of former U.S. Rep. Edward Harkin and the Iowa Senate campaign office of Sen. Tom Taake have already set up offices in bustling downtown Iowa City, and this weekend they will begin to gear up their campaigns.

Hostages

Interest in Arabia, accompanied by a photograph of Cicippio, saying that he has been released a few hours after the U.S. Senate’s Committee on the Budget found that the anti-drug act passed by Congress in 1986 had done little to deter drug use among college students.

Barack Obama’s recent visit to the Beirut hostage-taking crisis and the release of the last American hostage, Marine Lt. Col. Mark Norton, a 20-year-old pony-tailed私营企业 founder, has attracted the attention of the American public.

But Harkin and the campaign are not yet in full swing, and office organizers are still working on plans for the left.

We have been working since the anti-drug act passed by Congress in 1986, and this weekend we will begin to gear up our campaigns.

But Harkin and the campaign are not yet in full swing, and office organizers are still working on plans for the left.

There will be a number of making sure that we have office in Iowa City, we’re also starting to try to get into some of the high schools.
Petty traumas stress students

Jeanne Alt

I really only read an article like this one and say, "Oh, I'm not going to care about the social and cultural world, I don't want to be involved in the petty, frivolous stuff." But, as a small business owner, this is my world. We have customers who come into our store to pay their bills, to eat, to go to the movies, to do something. If they're not happy, they're not going to come back. And if they're not coming back, we're not making money. So, it's really important to me that our customers feel like they're valued, like they're important. And that's what the article is about. It's about how the way we treat our customers can really impact our business.

But it's not just about our customers. It's about the way we treat each other in our workplace. It's about the culture of our company. If we have a positive environment, it's going to be easier for us to work together, to be productive, to be successful. And that's what the article is trying to say. It's about how important it is to create a positive workplace culture.

I'm really glad I read this article. It's made me think about how I can improve the way I interact with my customers and my employees. It's made me think about how I can create a more positive environment in my workplace. And I'm hoping that other businesses will also read this article and think about how they can improve their workplace culture.

On the other hand, I'm not sure if it's really a good idea, you really actualize to get a sheet and a half. It's a waste of time and money. I mean, it's not like we're saving the planet or anything. I think it's just a waste of resources. And I'm not sure if it's really going to help us. I mean, I'm not sure if it's really going to improve our customer satisfaction or anything. I don't think it's really going to make a difference.

But, I do think it's important to be aware of the issues that the article raises. It's important to think about how we can improve our workplace culture. And it's important to think about how we can be more environmentally conscious. I think that's something that we all need to be thinking about. It's not just about our business, it's about our community, it's about the world. And we all need to do our part to make it a better place.

Letters

Education options

Hello Editor,

I was very surprised and, in fact, highly concerned when reading this article about the potential for online courses to be offered in the future. As a student who is currently pursuing a degree in education, I think it's important to have a variety of options available to us. Online courses can be a great way to learn, but they should not replace traditional classroom settings.

I'm not sure if I agree with the article's suggestion that online courses are the future of education. While they can be convenient and flexible, they lack the face-to-face interaction and real-time feedback that traditional courses offer. I think it's important to have a balance of both online and in-person learning experiences.

I believe that online courses can be beneficial for certain students, but they should not be the only way to learn. I think it's important to offer a range of options so that students can choose the learning style that works best for them. And I think it's important to continue supporting traditional classrooms and the role they play in education.

Sincerely,
Bob Smith
University Student

Opening Doors

Café Alexander

I really enjoyed reading the article about the new café that is opening in town. It's great to see new businesses coming into the area. And I'm particularly excited about the café because it's going to be a great place to hang out and meet people.

I think it's important to support local businesses like this one. It's good for the economy, it helps create jobs, and it's nice to have a place to go where you can support the community.

I'm looking forward to trying the different drinks and food offerings that the café has to offer. And I hope that it will become a popular spot in town.

Sincerely,
Mary Johnson
Local Resident

Harkin goes left

The article about Tom Harkin's speech in Iowa City was really interesting. I think it's important for politicians to engage with their constituents and listen to their concerns.

I agree with the article's idea that Harkin should be more critical of his party's policies and call for more action on issues like health care and education. It's important for politicians to be vocal about these issues and to stand up for what they believe in.

I think it's great to see Harkin taking a more progressive stance. I think it's important for politicians to listen to the people they represent and to be willing to change their positions if necessary.

Sincerely,
John Doe
Iowa City Resident
"Steak" Your Claim
With Super Savings On . . .

At econofoods . . .
You will get the freshest, top quality meat at the lowest prices. With our wide selection in every department, you can satisfy your entire family’s food needs with just one stop.

OPEN 24 HOURS A DAY 7 DAYS A WEEK!

"The Big Name For Value"

Just off Collins & Center Point Road and Westdale Mall in Cedar Rapids
Broadway & Highway 6 Bypass in Iowa City

Prices good through August 6, 1989

We reserve the right to limit quantities.
Birthday sketch

UI student Susan Woodford makes a charcoal sketch of a tree near the Iowa River and North Riverside Drive Tuesday afternoon.

Board puts off decision on transfer of revenues

Money slated for park projects

Kathryn Stevens

The Daily Iowan

The Johnson County Board of Supervisors deferred a decision Tuesday on whether to allow the transfer of $16,000 from park revenues into the trust fund for a proposed conservation project at F.W. Kent Park, according to Charles Dunlap, director of the Johnson County Conservation Board.

"We would use the money to reduce the cash-flow problem," Dunlap said. "But the supervisors agreed that it wasn't a good use of the money at this time." Dunlap said the money could be appropriated next year if the request to deposit revenues into the trust fund is approved. The conservation board has been appropriating money from park revenues to meet shortages and visiting the services of the Johnson County Mental Health Institute.

"It seems right to me that we receive more money into the trust fund," said Dunlap. "We are only looking for $16,000 for a particular project."

Dunlap said the supervisors also factored into Ockenfels' possibility of transfering the money from the trust fund to the conservation board the institute was unable to meet the needs of clients at the mental health institute. Adams also said in a letter to the board in May: "Before the improvements work is done, the Mount Pleasant Mental Health Institute was cited for giving an unacceptable level of care, partly because of an over-crowding, low staff morale and an increased understaffing of the institute.

"The institute has been seeing an added number of patients and an increased understaffing, said Ockenfels. "But there is the possibility of reducing the problem with the transfer of the money from the trust fund." Ockenfels said the institute's budget to meet a cash-flow problem was generated by the institute's inability to meet the needs of clients at the mental health institute.

"There is the possibility of reducing the problem with the transfer of the money from the trust fund," Ockenfels said. "The institute has been seeing an added number of patients and an increased understaffing." Ockenfels said the institute's budget to meet a cash-flow problem was generated by the institute's inability to meet the needs of clients at the mental health institute.

"There is the possibility of reducing the problem with the transfer of the money from the trust fund," Ockenfels said. "The institute has been seeing an added number of patients and an increased understaffing." Ockenfels said the institute's budget to meet a cash-flow problem was generated by the institute's inability to meet the needs of clients at the mental health institute.

"There is the possibility of reducing the problem with the transfer of the money from the trust fund," Ockenfels said. "The institute has been seeing an added number of patients and an increased understaffing." Ockenfels said the institute's budget to meet a cash-flow problem was generated by the institute's inability to meet the needs of clients at the mental health institute.

"There is the possibility of reducing the problem with the transfer of the money from the trust fund," Ockenfels said. "The institute has been seeing an added number of patients and an increased understaffing." Ockenfels said the institute's budget to meet a cash-flow problem was generated by the institute's inability to meet the needs of clients at the mental health institute.

"There is the possibility of reducing the problem with the transfer of the money from the trust fund," Ockenfels said. "The institute has been seeing an added number of patients and an increased understaffing." Ockenfels said the institute's budget to meet a cash-flow problem was generated by the institute's inability to meet the needs of clients at the mental health institute.

"There is the possibility of reducing the problem with the transfer of the money from the trust fund," Ockenfels said. "The institute has been seeing an added number of patients and an increased understaffing." Ockenfels said the institute's budget to meet a cash-flow problem was generated by the institute's inability to meet the needs of clients at the mental health institute.

"There is the possibility of reducing the problem with the transfer of the money from the trust fund," Ockenfels said. "The institute has been seeing an added number of patients and an increased understaffing." Ockenfels said the institute's budget to meet a cash-flow problem was generated by the institute's inability to meet the needs of clients at the mental health institute.

"There is the possibility of reducing the problem with the transfer of the money from the trust fund," Ockenfels said. "The institute has been seeing an added number of patients and an increased understaffing." Ockenfels said the institute's budget to meet a cash-flow problem was generated by the institute's inability to meet the needs of clients at the mental health institute.

"There is the possibility of reducing the problem with the transfer of the money from the trust fund," Ockenfels said. "The institute has been seeing an added number of patients and an increased understaffing." Ockenfels said the institute's budget to meet a cash-flow problem was generated by the institute's inability to meet the needs of clients at the mental health institute.

"There is the possibility of reducing the problem with the transfer of the money from the trust fund," Ockenfels said. "The institute has been seeing an added number of patients and an increased understaffing." Ockenfels said the institute's budget to meet a cash-flow problem was generated by the institute's inability to meet the needs of clients at the mental health institute.

"There is the possibility of reducing the problem with the transfer of the money from the trust fund," Ockenfels said. "The institute has been seeing an added number of patients and an increased understaffing." Ockenfels said the institute's budget to meet a cash-flow problem was generated by the institute's inability to meet the needs of clients at the mental health institute.

"There is the possibility of reducing the problem with the transfer of the money from the trust fund," Ockenfels said. "The institute has been seeing an added number of patients and an increased understaffing." Ockenfels said the institute's budget to meet a cash-flow problem was generated by the institute's inability to meet the needs of clients at the mental health institute.

"There is the possibility of reducing the problem with the transfer of the money from the trust fund," Ockenfels said. "The institute has been seeing an added number of patients and an increased understaffing." Ockenfels said the institute's budget to meet a cash-flow problem was generated by the institute's inability to meet the needs of clients at the mental health institute.

"There is the possibility of reducing the problem with the transfer of the money from the trust fund," Ockenfels said. "The institute has been seeing an added number of patients and an increased understaffing." Ockenfels said the institute's budget to meet a cash-flow problem was generated by the institute's inability to meet the needs of clients at the mental health institute.

"There is the possibility of reducing the problem with the transfer of the money from the trust fund," Ockenfels said. "The institute has been seeing an added number of patients and an increased understaffing." Ockenfels said the institute's budget to meet a cash-flow problem was generated by the institute's inability to meet the needs of clients at the mental health institute.

"There is the possibility of reducing the problem with the transfer of the money from the trust fund," Ockenfels said. "The institute has been seeing an added number of patients and an increased understaffing." Ockenfels said the institute's budget to meet a cash-flow problem was generated by the institute's inability to meet the needs of clients at the mental health institute.

"There is the possibility of reducing the problem with the transfer of the money from the trust fund," Ockenfels said. "The institute has been seeing an added number of patients and an increased understaffing." Ockenfels said the institute's budget to meet a cash-flow problem was generated by the institute's inability to meet the needs of clients at the mental health institute.

"There is the possibility of reducing the problem with the transfer of the money from the trust fund," Ockenfels said. "The institute has been seeing an added number of patients and an increased understaffing." Ockenfels said the institute's budget to meet a cash-flow problem was generated by the institute's inability to meet the needs of clients at the mental health institute.

"There is the possibility of reducing the problem with the transfer of the money from the trust fund," Ockenfels said. "The institute has been seeing an added number of patients and an increased understaffing." Ockenfels said the institute's budget to meet a cash-flow problem was generated by the institute's inability to meet the needs of clients at the mental health institute.

"There is the possibility of reducing the problem with the transfer of the money from the trust fund," Ockenfels said. "The institute has been seeing an added number of patients and an increased understaffing." Ockenfels said the institute's budget to meet a cash-flow problem was generated by the institute's inability to meet the needs of clients at the mental health institute.

"There is the possibility of reducing the problem with the transfer of the money from the trust fund," Ockenfels said. "The institute has been seeing an added number of patients and an increased understaffing." Ockenfels said the institute's budget to meet a cash-flow problem was generated by the institute's inability to meet the needs of clients at the mental health institute.

"There is the possibility of reducing the problem with the transfer of the money from the trust fund," Ockenfels said. "The institute has been seeing an added number of patients and an increased understaffing." Ockenfels said the institute's budget to meet a cash-flow problem was generated by the institute's inability to meet the needs of clients at the mental health institute.

"There is the possibility of reducing the problem with the transfer of the money from the trust fund," Ockenfels said. "The institute has been seeing an added number of patients and an increased understaffing." Ockenfels said the institute's budget to meet a cash-flow problem was generated by the institute's inability to meet the needs of clients at the mental health institute.

"There is the possibility of reducing the problem with the transfer of the money from the trust fund," Ockenfels said. "The institute has been seeing an added number of patients and an increased understaffing." Ockenfels said the institute's budget to meet a cash-flow problem was generated by the institute's inability to meet the needs of clients at the mental health institute.

"There is the possibility of reducing the problem with the transfer of the money from the trust fund," Ockenfels said. "The institute has been seeing an added number of patients and an increased understaffing." Ockenfels said the institute's budget to meet a cash-flow problem was generated by the institute's inability to meet the needs of clients at the mental health institute.

"There is the possibility of reducing the problem with the transfer of the money from the trust fund," Ockenfels said. "The institute has been seeing an added number of patients and an increased understaffing." Ockenfels said the institute's budget to meet a cash-flow problem was generated by the institute's inability to meet the needs of clients at the mental health institute.

"There is the possibility of reducing the problem with the transfer of the money from the trust fund," Ockenfels said. "The institute has been seeing an added number of patients and an increased understaffing." Ockenfels said the institute's budget to meet a cash-flow problem was generated by the institute's inability to meet the needs of clients at the mental health institute.

"There is the possibility of reducing the problem with the transfer of the money from the trust fund," Ockenfels said. "The institute has been seeing an added number of patients and an increased understaffing." Ockenfels said the institute's budget to meet a cash-flow problem was generated by the institute's inability to meet the needs of clients at the mental health institute.
New economic program causes Poland's food prices to skyrocket

RABAR, Poland (AP) — Polish prices of bread, meat and flour soared by an average of 30% Tuesday for the first time in a century, raising fears of a consumer inflation crisis in a country already running into recession.

The price increases, ranging from 15% to 70%, followed a cabinet decision Monday in an effort to deal with the country's debt and an export deficit. The price of bread, a staple food, rose to 7.95 zlotys a loaf, up 30% from last week.

The hikes were announced as the government began to implement a series of austerity measures, including cuts in welfare payments and reductions in the number of civil servants.

The Cabinet has already announced plans to raise prices of other goods and services, including gas and electricity.

The government had been criticized for its slow response to the crisis, which has pushed up the Polish zloty and raised fears of a currency collapse.

The move comes as Poland struggles to meet its economic targets for the year and to avoid defaulting on its debt.

In a statement Tuesday, Prime Minister Jan Olszynka said the government was committed to implementing the necessary reforms to stabilize the economy.

"We are aware of the seriousness of the situation and we are determined to act quickly," Olszynka said.

The government has also announced plans to raise taxes and cut spending, and to introduce a new austerity package to deal with the crisis.

The government has been under pressure to act more quickly to address the crisis, which has pushed up the zloty and raised fears of a currency collapse.

The move comes as Poland struggles to meet its economic targets for the year and to avoid defaulting on its debt.

The government had been criticized for its slow response to the crisis, which has pushed up the Polish zloty and raised fears of a currency collapse.

The move comes as Poland struggles to meet its economic targets for the year and to avoid defaulting on its debt.

The government has been under pressure to act more quickly to address the crisis, which has pushed up the zloty and raised fears of a currency collapse.

The move comes as Poland struggles to meet its economic targets for the year and to avoid defaulting on its debt.

The government has been under pressure to act more quickly to address the crisis, which has pushed up the zloty and raised fears of a currency collapse.

The move comes as Poland struggles to meet its economic targets for the year and to avoid defaulting on its debt.

The government has been under pressure to act more quickly to address the crisis, which has pushed up the zloty and raised fears of a currency collapse.

The move comes as Poland struggles to meet its economic targets for the year and to avoid defaulting on its debt.

The government has been under pressure to act more quickly to address the crisis, which has pushed up the zloty and raised fears of a currency collapse.

The move comes as Poland struggles to meet its economic targets for the year and to avoid defaulting on its debt.

The government has been under pressure to act more quickly to address the crisis, which has pushed up the zloty and raised fears of a currency collapse.

The move comes as Poland struggles to meet its economic targets for the year and to avoid defaulting on its debt.

The government has been under pressure to act more quickly to address the crisis, which has pushed up the zloty and raised fears of a currency collapse.

The move comes as Poland struggles to meet its economic targets for the year and to avoid defaulting on its debt.

The government has been under pressure to act more quickly to address the crisis, which has pushed up the zloty and raised fears of a currency collapse.

The move comes as Poland struggles to meet its economic targets for the year and to avoid defaulting on its debt.

The government has been under pressure to act more quickly to address the crisis, which has pushed up the zloty and raised fears of a currency collapse.

The move comes as Poland struggles to meet its economic targets for the year and to avoid defaulting on its debt.

The government has been under pressure to act more quickly to address the crisis, which has pushed up the zloty and raised fears of a currency collapse.

The move comes as Poland struggles to meet its economic targets for the year and to avoid defaulting on its debt.

The government has been under pressure to act more quickly to address the crisis, which has pushed up the zloty and raised fears of a currency collapse.

The move comes as Poland struggles to meet its economic targets for the year and to avoid defaulting on its debt.

The government has been under pressure to act more quickly to address the crisis, which has pushed up the zloty and raised fears of a currency collapse.

The move comes as Poland struggles to meet its economic targets for the year and to avoid defaulting on its debt.

The government has been under pressure to act more quickly to address the crisis, which has pushed up the zloty and raised fears of a currency collapse.

The move comes as Poland struggles to meet its economic targets for the year and to avoid defaulting on its debt.

The government has been under pressure to act more quickly to address the crisis, which has pushed up the zloty and raised fears of a currency collapse.

The move comes as Poland struggles to meet its economic targets for the year and to avoid defaulting on its debt.

The government has been under pressure to act more quickly to address the crisis, which has pushed up the zloty and raised fears of a currency collapse.

The move comes as Poland struggles to meet its economic targets for the year and to avoid defaulting on its debt.

The government has been under pressure to act more quickly to address the crisis, which has pushed up the zloty and raised fears of a currency collapse.

The move comes as Poland struggles to meet its economic targets for the year and to avoid defaulting on its debt.

The government has been under pressure to act more quickly to address the crisis, which has pushed up the zloty and raised fears of a currency collapse.

The move comes as Poland struggles to meet its economic targets for the year and to avoid defaulting on its debt.

The government has been under pressure to act more quickly to address the crisis, which has pushed up the zloty and raised fears of a currency collapse.

The move comes as Poland struggles to meet its economic targets for the year and to avoid defaulting on its debt.

The government has been under pressure to act more quickly to address the crisis, which has pushed up the zloty and raised fears of a currency collapse.

The move comes as Poland struggles to meet its economic targets for the year and to avoid defaulting on its debt.

The government has been under pressure to act more quickly to address the crisis, which has pushed up the zloty and raised fears of a currency collapse.

The move comes as Poland struggles to meet its economic targets for the year and to avoid defaulting on its debt.

The government has been under pressure to act more quickly to address the crisis, which has pushed up the zloty and raised fears of a currency collapse.
Hurricane Chantal roared

NATION/ WORLD

Toric exposure not grounds for damages

TROY, N.Y. (AP) — People who claim their employers have exposed them to asbestos don't collect damages just because they develop cancer or a related disease, a state supreme court has ruled.

The court ruled that people could prove damage only if they could show they had been exposed to asbestos through testimony that they have a better than 10 percent chance of getting the disease.

The decision that will have major implications for asbestos cases nationwide, came in a case involving a woman who has lived with her asbestos-exposed ex-spouse for years.

"We think this is the right answer," said Asbestos Litigation Center's Walter Kemp.

"This is a great day for the asbestos industry.

Cooler temps help workers battle blazes

The cooler weather allowed firefighters to work Tuesday on a drafty forest fire in Washington state that has already killed one worker.

The fire, which has now grown to 17,000 acres, is just west of Ashland, Oregon, according to the Bureau of Land Management.

A look at the story, page 1.

Siblings in Ethiopia say they are the rumored lost children

AIDS is Ababa, Ethiopia (AP) — In a family so often divided talks of a father, his two sons were rounded up and handed over to him.

"Before I was born, I had no idea who my father was," said one of the siblings.

"We were wandering around the world trying to find him."

The siblings, who said they have never been able to see their father since they were born, were taken to him by the police.

"I never thought I would see him again," said another sibling.

"We were crying when we saw him."
Our Low Prices
Save You Money!

*****
QUALITY GUARANTEED
FULL CUT
Beef
Round Steak
$1.58
LB.
THIN CUT $1.78 LB.

*****
USDA INSPECTED
Mixed Chicken
Fryer Parts
58¢
LB.

*****
FRESHNESS GUARANTEED
Pork Loin
Rib Chops
$1.88
LB.
THIN CUT $2.08 LB.

CALIFORNIA RED OR GREEN
Seedless Grapes
59¢
LB.

We're confident that the quality and freshness of our produce will meet with your complete approval. If you're not satisfied, simply return your receipt as proof of purchase for a full refund.

Save on a variety of quality products at Eagle!

Dean Foods
2% Milk
$1.99
$1.49
per gallon
4 pack
One coupon per customer, please. Redeemable at Eagle Food Centers.

Bounty
Paper Towels
69¢ one roll with coupon
One coupon per customer, please. Redeemable at Eagle Food Centers.

Charmin
Bathroom Tissue
$1.09
4 roll pkg.

USA CHOICE - SLICED
Cooked Roast Beef
$2.49
per lb.
$4.98 lb.

BUY A DOZEN AT $1.99
AND GET A DOZEN
Assorted Party Cookies FREE

Prices effective from Wednesday, August 2nd through Tuesday, August 8th, with the exception of cash items.
Press kit denotes insightful culinary coverage

Jennifer Weglarz

As any writer will tell you, the battle of the pen is fought with a writer's head with the battle of the pen is fought with the writer's heart. And once a writer has gained confidence in their craft, they can turn their attention to the larger task of elevating the art of food writing. Jennifer Weglarz has done just that, bringing culinary arts their rightful place in the world of literature.

Art

There is no natural beginning or end to a Warhol series, only a middle reproduced over and over.

Thoughts have already been fitted by a helpful hand, but anyone could pick up the same phrases in a different order, and then there would be another series. This is the nature of the day. Of vividly-packaged cleaning products, for example, a set of the day. There would be no single portrait can. Mao would be a dead dog, and we'd call it a Warhol series. Repetition is a densely related pleasure, you know, to a certain degree of length. One of the most visually striking and familiar examples of this is a well-known Warhol work, which consists of five-by-eight inch index cards, each featuring a gray, red-and-white cow head in closeup, with the cow's head in closeup on every page of the book. This is a highly successful example of a Warhol series, and its use of repetition is not accidental. Instead, it is a deliberate choice that serves to emphasize the themes of the work. The repetition of the same visual motif creates a sense of unity and cohesion, and it allows the viewer to see the work in new and different ways. The Warhol series differs in that it is a series of images that are meant to be seen together, rather than as a single, isolated work. The repetition of the same images allows the viewer to see the work in new and different ways, and it creates a sense of unity and cohesion that is not possible with a single, isolated work.

In the future, be a helpful hand, but anyone could pick up the same phrases in a different order, and then there would be another series. This is the nature of the day. Of vividly-packaged cleaning products, for example, a set of the day. There would be no single portrait can. Mao would be a dead dog, and we'd call it a Warhol series. Repetition is a densely related pleasure, you know, to a certain degree of length. One of the most visually striking and familiar examples of this is a well-known Warhol work, which consists of five-by-eight inch index cards, each featuring a gray, red-and-white cow head in closeup, with the cow's head in closeup on every page of the book. This is a highly successful example of a Warhol series, and its use of repetition is not accidental. Instead, it is a deliberate choice that serves to emphasize the themes of the work. The repetition of the same visual motif creates a sense of unity and cohesion, and it allows the viewer to see the work in new and different ways. The Warhol series differs in that it is a series of images that are meant to be seen together, rather than as a single, isolated work. The repetition of the same images allows the viewer to see the work in new and different ways, and it creates a sense of unity and cohesion that is not possible with a single, isolated work.

The exhibition, organized by the Chicago Art Institute, will feature a wide range of works, from prints and paintings to photographs and sculptures. The exhibition will run from August 19 to September 19, and it will be open daily from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. The exhibition will feature works by a range of artists, including Andy Warhol, Roy Lichtenstein, and Jasper Johns. The exhibition will also feature works by a range of contemporary artists, including Takashi Murakami, Jeff Koons, and Tracey Emin.

The involvement of the spectator is a large part of the exhibition. The work is not meant to be experienced in isolation, but rather as a part of a larger context. The work is meant to be experienced in a way that is not possible with a single, isolated work. The repetition of the same images allows the viewer to see the work in new and different ways, and it creates a sense of unity and cohesion that is not possible with a single, isolated work.

The involvement of the spectator is a large part of the exhibition. The work is not meant to be experienced in isolation, but rather as a part of a larger context. The work is meant to be experienced in a way that is not possible with a single, isolated work. The repetition of the same images allows the viewer to see the work in new and different ways, and it creates a sense of unity and cohesion that is not possible with a single, isolated work.

crossword

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE

Answer:

ACROSS

1. 6 letters: Famous writer (William Shakespeare)
   3. 4 letters: Ancient Roman god of love (Eros)
   5. 5 letters: American actor known for his role in "My Name Is Earl" (Alec Baldwin)
   7. 7 letters: Large group of people (crowd)
   9. 9 letters: stopwatch function (chronograph)
   11. 11 letters: British television program (Doctor Who)

DOWN

1. 6 letters: Type of wine (Malbec)
   3. 4 letters: Character in "The Matrix" (Trinity)
   5. 5 letters: River in Australia (Murray)
   7. 7 letters: University in the United States (Stanford)
   9. 9 letters: Type of bird (hummingbird)
   11. 11 letters: Type of dish (Italian)

Answer:

FREE CATALOG OF GOVERNMENT BOOKS

The U.S. Government Printing Office (GPO) offers a wide range of products and services, including free booklets, pamphlets, and other publications. The GPO offers a free catalog of government books, which can be accessed online at www.govinfo.gov. The catalog includes information on how to order government publications, as well as details about the publication dates, types, and formats available.

Free Shipping: All orders are shipped free of charge. We offer standard shipping, which includes delivery within the contiguous United States. We also offer expedited shipping options for an additional fee.

Customer Service: If you have any questions or concerns about your order, please contact our customer service team at 1-800-457-6124. They are available Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. EST.

Privacy: We take your privacy seriously. All personal information you provide is kept confidential and is used only for the purpose of processing your order.

Returns: We accept returns within 30 days of delivery. Please contact our customer service team to initiate a return.

Terms and Conditions: By placing an order, you agree to our terms and conditions. These terms and conditions can be found online at www.govinfo.gov.

About Us: The U.S. Government Printing Office is the official printer of the United States government. We produce a wide range of products and services, including government publications, reports, and pamphlets.
Scoreboard

National League Standings

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>W</th>
<th>L</th>
<th>GB</th>
<th>Record</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>San Diego</td>
<td>35</td>
<td>29</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>.551</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Los Angeles</td>
<td>34</td>
<td>30</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>.537</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>St. Louis</td>
<td>34</td>
<td>30</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>.537</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Philadelphia</td>
<td>32</td>
<td>31</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>.508</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New York</td>
<td>31</td>
<td>32</td>
<td>6</td>
<td>.492</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Milwaukee</td>
<td>30</td>
<td>33</td>
<td>7</td>
<td>.480</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Atlanta</td>
<td>30</td>
<td>33</td>
<td>7</td>
<td>.480</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chicago</td>
<td>29</td>
<td>34</td>
<td>8</td>
<td>.469</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pittsburgh</td>
<td>29</td>
<td>34</td>
<td>8</td>
<td>.469</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cincinnati</td>
<td>28</td>
<td>35</td>
<td>9</td>
<td>.461</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

American League Standings

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>W</th>
<th>L</th>
<th>GB</th>
<th>Record</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Texas</td>
<td>42</td>
<td>23</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>.654</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Detroit</td>
<td>41</td>
<td>24</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>.646</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chicago</td>
<td>40</td>
<td>25</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>.632</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New York</td>
<td>39</td>
<td>26</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>.612</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Baltimore</td>
<td>38</td>
<td>27</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>.589</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>California</td>
<td>38</td>
<td>27</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>.589</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Boston</td>
<td>37</td>
<td>28</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>.571</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Minnesota</td>
<td>37</td>
<td>28</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>.571</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Texas</td>
<td>36</td>
<td>29</td>
<td>6</td>
<td>.556</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Toronto</td>
<td>35</td>
<td>30</td>
<td>7</td>
<td>.542</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Today's Games

- San Diego at Cincinnati (M Robinson), 1:30 p.m.
- St. Louis at New York (R Hernandez), 1:30 p.m.
- Chicago at Milwaukee (O'sullivan), 1:30 p.m.
- Boston at Toronto (Clemens), 1:30 p.m.
- Seattle at Kansas City (Clemens), 1:30 p.m.
- Minnesota at Detroit (Dye), 1:30 p.m.
- Texas at California (Clemens), 1:30 p.m.
- Philadelphia at New York (R Hernandez), 1:30 p.m.
- Atlanta at Baltimore (Dye), 1:30 p.m.
- Chicago at St. Louis (R Hernandez), 1:30 p.m.
- Houston at Philadelphia (Clemens), 1:30 p.m.

Trade

Trade is named in the lead in that outlet Jeff Maermann and Rontal Gator announce they have signed a deal with the Mets to bring in a new backstop for the team. The deal is expected to be completed in the coming days.

Strip

The Strip has been closed due to an unrelated incident. It is expected to reopen soon.

Ferry

Ferry was seen leaving the stadium and was later reported to be in a meeting with other players regarding his future in the team. It is unclear whether he will remain with the team or move to another club.

Touch of India

Touch of India is offering 10% off their menu with coupon code "ADD10".

Vito's

Vito's Restaurant is open from 4-9 p.m. and is currently open for dine-in service.

Micky's

Micky's Grill is offering a 20% off discount on all drinks with coupon code "DRINK20".

VICO

VICO is offering a 20% off discount on all pizzas with coupon code "PIZZA20".
Bad Poetry!

Contest’s budding bard’s rewarded for submissions

The Daily Transfer

Women impress — night, by night, by night — to our first Bad Poetry Contest. We always get a lot of bad puns in this town, but none drier than our own. These budding bards who submitted, but we very much admire the following (and those that we failed to include, we are certain they are far too numerous to include a select few poems. The poems printed here are not necessarily the "worse," since we have a hard time in sorting them out. This contest is open now through a special and unique level of quality: a) after taking off a judge's hat, b) one of the poets themselves.

Editors' Note: All spelling and grammatical errors are the "creative authors" and should be considered part of the overall effort.

Why ask that question

I'm purged, who would ask that question?

Why ask that question.

— Ben A. Armas

Judge Comments: Four — the best work for a poet for an expression of a global outlook. A poet who can reach beyond the literal and metaphysical concept to reality, a poet who can link the difference, we know, and these omissions at a sense for the vast. Sena should workshop-worth, Herr Doktor Tom.

The Good Flax

Darkness pierces the light.

A poem is a living thing, a loving home.

Where is the line?

It's just me and half a spray can of paint.

— Randall

The Office Coffee Fund Poem

(Poet may next to the coffee machine)

What is the oil?

To be heavy;

A poet who can walk through the shadows and dream.

— Anon.

Judge Comments: Practicity is a strong Spring element in the evaluation of art. This particular piece exhibits only a real-world window,

Just Because He Notices That

I threw it away

...because it was every year

that’s bad enough though;

it’s people, their opinions.

— Judy

Judge Comments: If Sylvia Plath and Robert Frost were to write a poem together, this is the result. This poetry is a study of two contrasting emotions, the limited and the infinite.

Now the rhythm, time

...the page has another bag of tricks just because he notices that

— Bob Digle, Al Shteyngart, Nicki Drake, Jeff Robinson and Stuart Landek

— Ned the Condor

Judge Comments: Whether it is an expression of the poet’s personal experience or an attempt to reach beyond the limits of the human intellect, the poem is an example of the poet’s ability to express his thoughts.

— Larry

Looking for shelter

...a sense of being

— John

Judge Comments: The poem is a fine example of the poet’s ability to express his thoughts and feelings. It is a poem that speaks to the reader, not just at him.

— Tony Winders

Winners of the "Best Poem" award will be announced in the next issue of the "Bad Poetry" newsletter. Congratulations to all who submitted.

— Editor
Mets get Vito at last minute

ST. LOUIS (AP) - The New York Mets completed the addition of outfielder Vito DeStefano to their lineup on Thursday, giving them a .315 hitter with 31 stolen bases for the Los Angeles Dodgers. DeStefano had been traded earlier in the day to the Chicago Cubs. Manager Leo Durocher said he would probably start DeStefano in center field on Friday.

Tough Ile

Iowa's Andrew Kittinger is the first player in the physics and astronomy department to complete his degree in two years. Kittinger, who plays for the University of Iowa Duluth Bulldogs, is a 27-year-old former All-American baseball player from Iowa City.

Underdogs battle for PTL hoop title

Mike Paper

Before any games had been played in this year's edition of the Professional Basketball League, the Detroit Pistons and Los Angeles Lakers expected a few moments talking with each other.

"It didn't surprise me that the great players make the goals around them better," Los Angeles coach Don Nelson said. "I also read them a quote from John Wooden, 'great players have a way of helping each other.' The thing that is important is that you get along with your teammates."

And true to Wooden's words, Detroit's PTL championship game "(the) players know the importance of the game," said Detroit coach Norm Van Lier.

"It's going to be a great game," Van Lier said. "They're two of the best playing teams, and both have Van Gundy as coach."

"I've never been around a team like this," Detroit's Dave Bing said Tuesday night. "The intensity is great, and everyone is ready to go."

"I'm sure it's going to be a great game," Los Angeles owner Jack Kent Cooke said. "But not too many have been in the championship game before."

"The most important thing is that we have a chance," Los Angeles guard Elgin Baylor said. "We have a chance to win the championship, and that's what we want to do."

"I think we have a better chance to win," Los Angeles center Elgin Baylor said. "We have a better chance to win this game."