Cease-fire
Foreign tourists evacuated in Philippines

MANILA, Philippines (AP) - Government and rebel forces declared a temporary cease-fire Wednesday and began transporting Americans and other foreigners from hotels in the besieged district where they spent the last three days taking shelter from snipers fighting a guerrilla army that has threatened the capital with historic chaos.

"All Americans read," the rebels said on UPI. On Tuesday, a rebel official said the United States might not be able to free because of "the gigantic problem caused by the war against the enemy and the American forces." Media reports quoted Chinese students studying in the U.S. on Thursday night that its 19 top officials were freed because of "the great blood of the American people.

Nagle: Chinese students at U1 won't be deported

JULIANA NAGLE
The Daily Iowan

OSIYA, Japan (AP) - The government of the tiny scrap of land known to the Chinese as Manchuria and to the Japanese as Osaka won't deport Chinese students studying in the U.S. if they fear doing so, "We have not totally closed the door," Nagle said. "Although they don't appeal of the law, the government will not deport them if they have valid legal status and are not in violation of the law and regulations.

Nagle said many students have been brought to Osaka by the U.S. government, and that the government has promised to deport those who have legal status if they return to Osaka. Nagle said that the students had been told they would be in Osaka for about a month before they were rescued.

"We are in a difficult situation," Nagle said. "We have not decided if we will deport them or not. The government will not deport them if they have legal status and are not in violation of the law.

Chinese students studying in the U.S. are in danger, according to the rebels. The rebels say the rebels will not allow the students to return to the United States.

In addition to those suspected of being involved in the coup attempt, the rebels said they have arrested 15 other Chinese students, including automatic rifles, hand grenades, and anti-aircraft guns.

Nagle said that Congress must act to prevent the president's la dicates from taking power. If Congress does not act, Nagle said, the Chinese students staying in the United States will be in danger.

"We are now in a difficult situation," Nagle said. "We have not decided if we will deport them or not. The government will not deport them if they have legal status and are not in violation of the law."

Pot sparked through window deemed inadmissible in court

A 27-year-old man who fired shots from a car into the window of a 7-Eleven store in Iowa City on Aug. 28, 2018, was found not guilty by reason of insanity Monday after a jury deliberated for nearly 12 hours.

District court Judge William Gerlach ruled Monday that there was insufficient evidence to prove beyond a reasonable doubt that the man, who had a history of mental illness, had the ability to distinguish between right and wrong at the time of the shooting.

The shooting was one of four incidents involving armed robbery and attempted murder that occurred in Iowa City on Aug. 28, 2018. The other three incidents involved the same man and his co-defendant, who was later convicted and sentenced to life in prison.

The man was found guilty of first-degree arson and attempted murder in the first incident, second-degree assault in the second incident, and attempted murder in the third incident.

Gerlach said the evidence presented during the trial did not prove beyond a reasonable doubt that the man had the capacity to conform his conduct to the requirements of law at the time of the shooting.

The jury had heard testimony from experts in psychology and psychiatry who testified about the man's mental health and the role it played in his actions on Aug. 28, 2018.

The man's defense attorney had argued that the man was not able to understand the nature of his conduct or follow the law at the time of the shooting because of his mental illness.

The prosecution had argued that the man had the ability to distinguish between right and wrong and was fully capable of understanding the consequences of his actions when he fired shots into the windows of the 7-Eleven store.

Gerlach ruled that the evidence was insufficient to prove beyond a reasonable doubt that the man had the ability to conform his conduct to the requirements of law at the time of the shooting.

The man's attorney, Jolene Stachow, said she was pleased with the verdict and that it was a fair decision.

"It's a tremendous relief," she said. "We're just glad the jury saw through the lies and saw the truth."

Iowa Gov. Terry Branstad gave a talk Thursday at Iowa State University in Ames, one of several town hall meetings across Iowa this week.

Branstad's educational assistant Kristine Lecce said Thursday, which US Student Senate, Iowa State Senate and ISU President Steven Leath were also present.

"We talked about hopefully putting together an annual forum next year," Rejas-Carmona said. "We would love to continue this meaningful conversation with smaller colleges as well as ISU."

Sofi Bert, Student Senate Vice president, was present at the meeting. "I was very pleased to hear the governor express an interest in questions with a larger group of students," Bert said.

Quarterly magazine designed to offer a better

dating medium for busy heartland

bachelors

GARY, Ind. (AP) — Heartland Bets is introduced in Illinois after a quarterly magazine that focuses on single heartland bachelors.

"We have a surplus of guys from states like Michigan, but we need more from Indiana and Ohio," said Larry Winston of East Chicago, who is the publisher of the Indiana-based magazine that features local singles.

Making all of Illinois and areas from states such as Wisconsin, Michigan and Ohio have a surplus of single heartland bachelors but no one knows about them, Winston said.

"About a year ago, I read an article about this magazine," said Gary Cabalka, an editor for the magazine. "I thought the concept would go well with singles in our area."

"People are looking for new opportunities and meeting people — for dinner dates — was a good idea," said Cabalka.

"There are still other men," Cabalka said. "All that's required of a individual is to be open to meeting a woman and start a relationship and that he answers someone who writes to him."

First, they sent out 200,000 pieces by mail.

"They've been slightly revised," Cabalka added. "All that's required of a individual is to be open to meeting a woman and start a relationship and that he answers someone who writes to him."

The magazine has been in circulation for two years, and approximately 500 people have responded to the magazine.

"In two years, we've been able to get a good response," Cabalka said. "We've been able to get a good response, which is not bad for a new magazine.

"We're not putting it out to be a magazine for singles," Cabalka said. "We're putting it out to be a magazine for singles."

The prudent job-seeker should be well-suited

Dress-for-success suits comprise many styles and fabrics

"In the summer it is advisable to keep the neck area close to the body and to use light fabrics," John Smith, a suit manufacturer, said. "Many people prefer to wear a suit that is made of a lightweight fabric, such as cotton or wool."

For the businessperson, a suit made of nylon or polyester can be more comfortable and will not easily wrinkle. However, the use of these fabrics may not be as common in the traditionally styled suit.

Smith also noted that there is an increasing trend towards suits that are made of a combination of materials. This is due to the fact that certain materials are better suited for certain seasons or occasions. For example, a suit made of wool may be more appropriate for the winter months, while a suit made of cotton may be more appropriate for the summer months.

The choice of fabric can also impact the cost of the suit. Suits made of natural fibers such as wool or cotton tend to be more expensive than those made of synthetic fibers such as nylon or polyester. This is due to the fact that natural fibers are more durable and require less maintenance than synthetic fibers.

In conclusion, the choice of fabric for a suit is a personal preference and should be based on the individual's lifestyle, occupation, and budget. It is important to consider the fabric's suitability for the season and the occasion when choosing a suit.

One-upmanship

President George Bush and Mikhail Gorbachev at the Helsinki Summit last month made a promise to the world's nations: "We are determined to ensure that Central America is freed from the yoke of totalitarianism." But they may have made a more important promise to each other: "We are determined to outdo each other in one-upmanship.

One-upmanship is a game of psychological dimension, the aim being to establish a superiority over one's opponent. It is a game that is often played between political leaders, and it is a game that Bush and Gorbachev may have engaged in during their summit.

But it certainly wasn't easy. After the summit, Bush was able to steer discussion gracefully away from the issue of Soviet involvement in the region. But Gorbachev's refusal to end, or even discuss, Soviet involvement in Central America remains a major stumbling block to progress.

Hawks have obstacles on, off court

BYRE MILLER
The Daily Iowan

Lest anyone think it's a relief that Iowa is entering its first game of the season four games into the season, think again.

Blake Butkus, Iowa's head coach, is not looking too far ahead to the game against Missouri State on Saturday.

"Butkus said in a news conference Monday that the Hawkeyes will be "100 percent" prepared for Missouri State but that he declined to comment on the possibility of the Hawkeyes playing in the NCAA Tournament if they win.

"I don't want to get too far ahead. We have a lot of work to do." Butkus said.

The Hawkeyes need to improve their defense, which has been one of the team's weaknesses throughout the season. Butkus said the team needs to "get better in all phases of the game." He also mentioned the importance of "playing better" in games against ranked opponents.

"We have a lot of work to do. But we're improving every day," Butkus said.

"All that stuff was mostly Tracy because the NCAA was investigating him at the time when I first started picking up the money," an Oklahoma coach said.

Gervin added that he didn't do it if you ask him. "But Armstrong said he didn't know if any Oklahoma coaches were aware of it at the time," the coach said. "I'm not sure Armstrong said that to the AP that I don't think that's really true." But an Oklahoma official denied the report.

All the men, women and boys who have been associated with Oklahoma football programs, including three former players who said they did not know about the money, said they have been "accused" of similar violations.
