A Muslim demonstrator holds a portrait of Iraqi President Saddam Hussein during a rally in the center of Amman, Jordan, Thursday.

In an interview with the official Iraqi News Agency, nicknamed in Beirut, he said, "Courts here have been ordered to impose life imprisonment sentences for those found guilty of escaping after the June 28 deadline." Jordanian officials said the deadline for Iraqi prisoners was set at 6 a.m. for the 14-hour drive across the desert to Jordan.

Volunteers kick off call for United Way campaign

By Stacy Williamson

Local human-service volunteers served as a goodwill ambassador for the United Way's Day of Giving on Friday. Volunteers from agencies, including Jewish Family Services, served in 13th Ward volunteers, and in the 2A Metro area.

"It is difficult for people in the United Way's Day of Giving," said Willis County, "The help you provide to people in situations is very different. Specialized agencies do not provide such a service." Willis County added that the United Way agency, which is in charge of the United Way agency, is "the hardest thing we do." Branstad speaks out at Union

By Jennifer Olen and Amy Distel

IOWA MEMORIAL UNION DES MOINES -Gov. Terry Branstad Thursday kicked off Democratic gubernatorial candidate Fred Hubbell's final campaign push with a stop at the UI Union's Atrium. The governor met with a group of more than 50 students, faculty and staff to deliver a speech and take questions. He referenced UI President Bruce Harreld's recent comment that too many students feel they've been harassed or discriminated against during the past three years.

The governor said, "I worked at Hillcrest and at things to help pay my way. The governor referenced Terry Branstad's speech during the UI's bicentennial celebration in 2013, where he said, "If you're president, if I can't say, "I worked at the UI and it was a great experience, "or if I can't say, "I went to the UI and it was a great experience, "or if I can't say, "I was a UI student and this is my alma mater," then UI students and alumni have no pride in their alma mater." He referenced the UI's bicentennial celebration in 2013, where he said, "If you're president, if I can't say, "I worked at the UI and it was a great experience", or if I can't say, "I went to the UI and it was a great experience", or if I can't say, "I was a UI student and this is my alma mater", then UI students and alumni have no pride in their alma mater."

Branstad also acknowledged the importance of diversity and inclusion at the UI, saying, "I was a UI student and this is my alma mater, and UI students and alumni have no pride in their alma mater."

Tauke blasts Harkin's spending policies

By Mike Glover
The Associated Press

DES MOINES—Incumbent Democrat Sen. Tim Harkin is facing a strong challenge from Republican Jim Tauke, who is targeting the federal spending the senator has fostered in Iowa and elsewhere.

Harkin supporters claim that Tauke is trying to mislead Iowa with "baloney," and say that Tauke is trying to mislead Iowa with "baloney." Iowa's population has been growing at a rate of about 3.5% per year, they say.

"Harkin and Tauke are locked in a tough and crucial battle in the Senate," said a Tauke campaign spokesperson.

Harkin has been in office for 10 years, and Tauke has been in office for 8 years. Harkin's term would be up in 2018, and Tauke's term would be up in 2020.

Tauke has repeatedly called Harkin a "Shyster," and has accused him of "taxing our children into poverty." Tauke has also accused Harkin of "spending too much money on pork projects." Harkin has responded by calling Tauke a "job killer," and has accused him of "not creating enough jobs in Iowa."
Soviets consider supporting U.N. military force

By Alan Cooperman

The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — A senior Western diplomat said Thursday that French President François Mitterrand would not offer the Soviet Union a new proposal to negotiate a resolution of the Iran-Iraq war unless it shows evidence of a real desire for peace.

The diplomat, who spoke on condition of anonymity, said the purpose of a new Soviet proposal would be to explore the possibility of reaching a U.N. agreement that would help end the war.

"We have to get back to the U.N. and see if there is any possibility of making progress," the diplomat said.

The Soviet Union has not yet indicated whether it is willing to consider a new proposal, and there are signs that some members of the Security Council are skeptical.

The diplomat said that the Security Council was concerned about the continued fighting in the Gulf region and that it wanted to see evidence of a real desire for peace before it would consider a new proposal.

Most South Koreans remained opposed to the war, but the government said it would not allow its citizens to leave the country unless they were directly involved in the fighting.

The corporation, which had been involved in the oil spill since March, has been inactive since 1946, but it has been able to provide some assistance to local communities affected by the spill.

The company, which has a long history of oil spills, has been involved in several major spills, including the Exxon Valdez disaster in Alaska in 1989.

The Iranian regime has been under international pressure to end the war, and its leaders have indicated that they are willing to negotiate a resolution of the conflict.

The diplomat said that the United States had been working with other countries to try to negotiate a resolution of the conflict, and that there was real hope for a peaceful solution.

Armed student holders hostage

ST. PAUL, Minn. — An armed young man held the entire student body hostage for more than six hours Thursday, releasing them only after he talked with authorities.

The shooter identified himself as John Talent, who was teaching a language class at the school. Addis and the gun police pulled a student out of the classroom and searched the building.

The police said the student was found in a room, and said that the school was closed for the day.

The police said that the student had told them that he was going to stay in the building and that he wanted to talk to them.

The police said that they were still trying to determine the identity of the student.

Fitzwater: Egypt ‘special case’

By Joe attendees, The Associated Press

WASHINGTON — President Bush’s move toward forgiving nearly $7 billion in old military debts Egypt owes the United States ‘is likely to create a stir among similar transactions in the future,” says a congressional aide.

And the move announced this week by the White House, which requires congressional approval, is meeting with a cool reception from lawmakers who want more than a piecemeal approach to the much larger foreign aid assistance program.

But the administration is not backing down on the Bush proposal.

And a lot of people are asking: Why Egypt?

There are a lot of reasons why the administration’s move to cancel a large portion of Egypt’s debt, a move that is “a special case, and it’s not open season on this kind of thing,” is so controversial.

By reality, everyone else who owes money already is calling for similar treatment,” said Robert Fitzwater, an aide at the Center for Strategic and International Studies.

Bush’s move toward forgiving Egypt’s $7 billion in old military debts is an effort to deal with the growing seriousness of allies’ debt toward the United States.

The United States is owed nearly $11 billion by foreign governments. Roughly $8 billion of that is for past sales of military equipment, such as the $65 billion by foreign governments.

But the admonition is not being heard.

Much of it also is owed by Pakistan.

The $4 billion that is owed by Pakistan now has the most leverage, having separate lines of $65 billion by foreign governments. Roughly $8 billion of that is for past sales of military equipment, such as the $65 billion by foreign governments.

But the admonition is not being heard.

Much of it also is owed by Pakistan.

The $4 billion that is owed by Pakistan now includes Cairo’s $7 billion in unrefunded debt, $65 billion by foreign governments.

HANDGUN CONTROL
Iowa’s legacy
A story of gun control legislation in the past three months has put the House in a position from which it can easily do something constructive for the American people. The House has passed the Federal Firearms Act, a measure that would have a profound impact on the lives of potential handgun buyers, is now before the full House. Iowa’s legacy is being decided in one of the most defining moments of the American human rights movement.

In Iowa, there are legitimate reasons for concern. Lorengers of Iowa’s African-American community are organizing to halt the right to bear arms. Lorengers have been successful in lobbying for gun control legislation in several other states and in some cases have even managed to pass laws that are favorable to gun control issues. It is important to note that these groups are largely composed of individuals who are not part of the mainstream political discourse. They are people who have been historically excluded from participating in the political process. It is crucial that we support their efforts to ensure that their voices are heard.

background testing on potential buyers, a provision non-existent in the updated Gun Control Act of 1968. Finally, statistics from states with gun-owning populations show the potential for such legislation to reduce the number of potential handgun buyers. It is crucial that we support the efforts of these groups to ensure that their voices are heard.

I honestly don’t care about my special rights, adventurous ventures or innovations geared to my education because way of the city’s public schools, available to anyone. I join this discussion to show that the impact of the Brady Bill on potential handgun buyers, although I’ve looked at least my fair share for anything. Anything I can’t vote. I don’t think I have anything that isn’t currently available to me or someone willing to spend a little extra. The more I can’t vote, the more I think of those on the Brady Bill. It is because it is now a law that I am a male heterosexual, for which I am qualified, although some votes weighed differently in favor of these same heterosexual provisions as ‘morals’. Apparently they don’t appreciate the fact that without ‘bread-’men’ the ‘bread’ would all vanish and the planet would eventually be devastated to know and want to be very, very responsibly, plan.

I want to be a source of people who are the struggle of working people for democratic control over economy. The definition is a way of saying something about the Art Act against AIDS. As such, each also the administrative measure that can be placed on public transportation platforms in Chicago and other cities.

I suggested that this was wrong to put my AIDS advocating politics into something that is likely to be appear to be little more than an end run around public responsiveness.

VI
The public-service poster that shows a woman holding a gun, a woman wearing a gun, and a man holding a gun, with the slogan "Handguns: Iowa’s Brady Bill", was the most visible. But before the posters went up, I expressed doubt about the strategy's profitability. I thought the campaign was going to be a lot more engaging than just pictures and slogans.

I asked about the legal and indifference to the existence of Handgun control. The issue of gun control is a legitimate concern for those who are opposed to it. However, the NRA has been able to influence public opinion on gun control issues, which is why it is important that we support the efforts of those who are opposed to it.

The Iowa Legislature and Governor have mandated changes in waste management for all Iowans. Included in these directions are specific requirements for all state agencies, including the University of Iowa.

Our Goals

• REDUCE AMOUNT GOING TO LANDFILL BY 25% IN 1994 and 50% IN 2000
• INCREASE THE PURCHASE OF RECYCLED PRODUCTS
• USE DEGRADABLE OR REUSABLE CONTAINERS
• PROHIBITION OF WASTE OIL, LEAD-ACID BATTERIES, YARD WASTE, NON-DEGRADABLE PLASTIC BAGS AND CONTAINERS, FOAM PRODUCTS AND TIRES FROM THE LANDFILL.
• IMPLEMENT WASTEPAPER RECYCLING

How It Works

Daily each person generates items for either the garbage or recycling at their desk or week vision.

Categories stable. Embrace the central containers, then recycling centers and crew remove the resources from the building.

What To Recycle

• White and Colored Office paper
• Newsprint

What Cannot Be Included

Books, magazines, file folders, envelopes with windows or labels, carbon paper (NCR forms are accepted), blueprints, film, photos, dossiers, products, Scotch tape, glue, sticky back notes, fasteners, spiral binders, paper clips, metal objects (STAPLES ARE ACCEPTED), anything with food contamination or smoking material.

Some buildings are participating at this time. Others will be included as resources permit. Check with your Departmental Office.

The Sept. 7, PT (staff newsletter) has instructions for departmental involvement.

Physical Plant Waste Management

A Regional Approach

East Central Iowa Council of Governments is serving as the lead agency to assist local governments in meeting the requirements for comprehensive planning as mandated by the General Waste Management Act. While the Council of Governments need comprehensive solid waste management planning on a regional basis, each planning is provided for and encouraged. This planning permits the orderly, regional development of waste management and disposal, while allowing for advantages of economies of scale. The regional plan provides for overall direction for solid waste management, and recommends flexible, long-term, low capital expenditure approach that emphasize waste reduction at the source and recycling.

NFL ready for Sunday kickoff

The Associated Press

The Denver Bronco coaches were smart enough to send their starters to San Francisco for last week's 49ers win. And that, warned Coach Dan Reeves, should be incentive enough to make sure they're ready when they return on Sunday.

"They have to prepare well over the next few days. It must be a regional plan," said Reeves. "I guess they'll try to mix it up, simulate games against each other."

Most of the NFL's 32 teams in 1990's season schedule have nine or 10 starters in the lineup. The Broncos plan to turn that around.

"We're really only running our starters that past week just to keep them sharp. We may have only three healthy defensive linemen, but that doesn't stop them from trying to make that the playoff game,

"They'll try to run plays tp try to open up some of the plays. We're going to try to keep the big play big and try to really open up some of the plays."

The Broncos, led by quarterback John Elway, are currently fourth in the AFC West.

Becker, Agassi showdown next

By Steve Witten

NEW YORK — Andre Agassi put in a show to set up a match against Boris Becker in the U.S. Open semifinals.

Becker, looking for his first Grand Slam title, defeated Stefan Edberg 7-5, 3-6, 6-4 on Thursday.

Isner Davis, who beat Andy Roddick in the third round, faced 6-3, 6-2, 6-3 in the third round. He again took advantage of Edberg's drop. The Briton played well and won the third set 7-6.

Agassi then beat Davis with an assault that had the Sobieski out of the BNP Paribas Cup. He hit Edberg's backhand with a forehand and won the third set 6-4, 4-6, 6-4.

"I think I played better than him in the final set on Sunday," said Davis. "I hit the ball stronger than him.

"But it was not as easy as the first set. I thought I played well in the third set."

Becker, 23, has played well in the last few seasons and has earned 16 Grand Slam titles. He has a 3-2 record in Grand Slam finals.

"I don't want to say that last weekend was a disaster. I'm sure I'll be able to do it again," said Becker.

"But I might not. I'm sure I'll be able to do it again."

"I'm always working on my swing."

Becker's game is often described as "contrived." He always has the option of swinging at the ball, but he never does.

"I don't want to say that I'm not a good player."

Men look to continue improving

By Scott Garringer

The Daily Iowan

In 1990-91, the Hawkeye men’s cross country team finished second in the Big Ten Conference. This year, Iowa look to improve on last year’s second-place conference finish.

"This season, Iowa men’s cross country has a shot at the Big Ten title," head coach Ross DePrez said. "It’s not just a shot at the conference, but also a shot at some national recognition." The Hawkeyes were runner-up in the Big Ten and fourth at the NCAA Championships.

"This season, we have a lot of talent returning," DePrez said. "We have a good mix of returning runners and some new faces on the team." The Hawkeyes hope to improve on last year’s conference finish and look to challenge for a national title.

Thomason hopes underclass helps out

By Steve McLean

The Daily Iowan

Iowa State has been a perennial power in the Midwest, scoring a Big Ten title and NCAA championships.

Among the seniors this season is the returner of the year, Bobbie Nichols. Nichols has been a dominant player in the conference and national level, being a contender at both the conference and national level.

"Our expectations are high," Thomason said. "We want to see our team improve throughout the season." The Hawkeyes hope to improve on last year’s conference finish and look to challenge for a national title.

Cavs weather Miami's Heat

The Associated Press

CLEVELAND — The Cleveland Cavaliers have matched the Miami Heat's $48.9 million, seven-year offer sheet for forward Larry Nance, extending Thursday night.

"We glad this issue is behind us," said General Manager Wayne Embry. "Now we can continue working to improve our team as we pursue our goal of winning an NBA championship."

If the Heat permitted Nance to test free agency, they would have to pay the Cavaliers a projected $30 million in salary. Miami made to Williams.

Boston ace Roger Clemens, who is suffering from a painful right shoulder, was "much more comfortable" Thursday when he under­went extensive tests at the University of Massachusetts Medical Center.

"Congratulations, Pappas. Clemens said.

Clemens had surgery by Dr. Gilbert Pappas, an orthopedic specialist, after he was driven to the mound and says, 'What did he hit?'

"Roger's pain level was completely, Pena said.

"We've had a bit, the conference breaks. However, you can't really rule out any serious stuff now and Clen­cens problem is not limited to seesaw in the front of the shoulder."

"The doctor said he's a man of 15 degrees. "The pain islocalized to the tendons or muscles of the front of the shoulder. It hurts. It is several and painful."

"The big right-hander leads the major leagues this year with a 1.86 earned-run average and 204 strikeouts in 209 innings. On Sat­urday, he takes on what is projected as the longest-inning game in the history of the regular season.

"Heath says, 'If we can win out, you got it. We just have to be better at doing this.'"

"I'm going to try to get out of it. Strike out. Double play. I thought Darrell was going to hit me too.

Wright, a veteran of the year, plans to stress academics as well as athletic excellence. He said he can use-up-tempo and using the skills that we have. Wright said a news conference at Midfield, where his Kansas will play in the early 1970s. Wright was chosen captain of the Jayhawks and all-Texas conference. In 1972, his 1,572 career points place him 15th on Indiana's scoring list.

"I can understand the importance that must be placed on the requirements to be successful and the role of a student-athlete," Wright said.
