The Associated Press

The company said yesterday that it will mail a 10-week booklet to parents listing 100 topics of concern.

Advise study prompts buyer-protection rules

The program will be available to all parents, with the exception of those who have already requested counseling.
A spokesperson for the company said it will provide a booklet to anyone who requests it.

The program is designed to help parents educate their children about consumer issues and to provide a forum for parents to discuss their experiences.

Ul’s Coffey urges collaboration in Radio Comedy Workshop

Dr. Bunny’s “Duck’s Breath” personality responsible for “Dr. Science”

By Susan Stiplington

Radio Iowa

Jan Coffey encourages collaboration when working in comedy. "You have plenty of time to work if you need a lot of exposure before you work as a solo performer," he says. "Duck’s Breath, Murder Mystery Theatre is a great place to start."

Coffey, a member of the Iowa State University Communication Studies faculty, says his course on the making of comedy is "The City of the Hundred Shops." "Duck’s Breath Mystery Theatre produced the 1983 comedy 'Duck’s Breath,' " he says. "The show was performed twice a week at 7:30 p.m. in the IMU Ballroom."

Coffey says his course is "The City of the Hundred Shops," and that the "Duck’s Breath" show was his "prototype" for future comedy shows. "It was a great success," he says. "It ran for two years and was performed 26 times during that period."

Democrats accuse Branstad of impropriety in fund raising

Governor won't plan past race

By Mike Glover

DES MOINES—Democrats on Thursday said Gov. Terry Branstad has taken more than $354,000 in campaign contributions from companies that have gone state aid.

"Terry Branstad should have known there would be an appearance of impropriety," Iowa Democratic Chairman John Roehrick said. "To avoid that appearance, he should have never received the money. Now that he has, he should return it.

A Branstad aide dismissed the charge as "another attack of the political naysayers.

Cold snap raises issues on homeless

By Mike Glover

DES MOINES—Activists and Democrats sought to use the homeless issue against Republicans on Thursday as the season's first cold snap spread across Iowa.

Branstad aide dismissed the moral and political fiber to do what's right.

Robert Nathan-Cook, head of the Des Moines Coalition for the Homeless, and Branstad received $12.15 million in spending on homeless programs.

"When you have thousands of homeless families, 4,000 who are children, you don't throw them to the elements because of 'budget responsibility,'" he said. "You extend the moral and political meaning to do what's right." Branstad has defended the veto, saying the Legislature went overboard and was forced to cut back spending to avoid constitutionally prohibited budget deficits.

"One Avenue has a record as a legislator and could have proposed the last year—and he proposed the last year—" the governor said. "He proposed a policy to save the governor." Branstad's office confirmed the statement.

"There are millions of dollars available to people who are formally homeless, for one reason or another, might become homeless," Vohs said. "People have never been nicer. Homeless have been remarkable.

Soviet personality reflects on issues

President Jimmy Carter, speaking to a group of reporters at a White House reception Wednesday night, answered questions about his new defense strategy.

Mr. Carter, who is to meet this week with European and Asian leaders to discuss the current international situation in the wake of the U.S. invasion of Grenada, said he was disturbed that many people have interpreted the move as a "militarist" policy.

Group opposes Mideast involvement

By Jim Mann

The Associated Press

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — A diverse coalition is taking to the streets, banding together in an effort to counter growing U.S. intervention in the Middle East.

The coalition, called the Associated Students of Harvard University, where students are waging a battle against the Vietnam war, is organizing protests against the increasing U.S. role in the Middle East.

The coalition is made up of a wide range of groups, including the Vietnam era student protest movement, the civil rights movement, the women's liberation movement, the peace movement, and the labor movement.

The coalition is planning a series of protests over the next few days, including a demonstration on the Harvard campus on Saturday, Oct. 20.

“We're trying to build up opposition to the Vietnam war,” said Winston Eckfeldt, spokeswoman for the Associated Students of Harvard University.

Execution prompts criticism

By Richard Cassilly
The Associated Press

WASHINGTON — Justice Thurgood Marshall, now a Supreme Court minority of one on the death penalty, still has an abiding fervor. He blistered his fellow justices for their "indifferent shrug of the shoulders" in allowing a Virginia execution Wednesday.

Marshall, indisputably the court's most fervent to end the death penalty, condemned capital punishment dataIndex=" digitalreadystorage" mapping="text">

"I can see no principled objection to a justice refusing to follow a precedent if he feels it is sufficiently important to register continued disagreement," McConnell said in his opinion, in which he joined with three other dissenting justices.

"We hope our movement will help Justice Marshall feel less isolated," said Leigh Dingerson of the National Coalition to Abolish the Death Penalty.

"We are going to say, 'We've been here, we've been on top, and haven't given up,'" said Jerome Hauer of the National Coalition to Abolish the Death Penalty.

"A death sentence that is, as this one was, based on evidence that could be shattered by the passage of time, must be viewed as a legal nullity," said Hauer. "It is a system that cannot stand: a system of capital punishment that is so defective that it is a system that cannot exist."

Jurors ask for permission to laugh during Crew trial

By Tracy Feliciano
The Associated Press

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. — Jurors in the 2 Live Crew obscenity trial, who have sat stone-faced during the trial but were seen doubled over in laughter in the hall, have been told they can laugh to keep from laughing during some testimony had they wished, the judge told attorneys Wednesday after jurors notified that their efforts to keep from laughing during some testimony had failed them.

"That's what this music is about," Campbell said. "They're supposed to be laughing. We're not doing our job when we're not laughing."

Jurors in the 2 Live Crew obscenity trial were summoned by Judge June Field to the Broward County Courthouse to hear a tape Wednesday night. The tape played Wednesday is the state's primary evidence against Campbell and fellow 2 Live Crew members Mark "Miami Graffiti" Baze and Cher "Kid Ice" Wongwon.

"That's what this music is about," Campbell said. "They're supposed to be laughing. We're not doing our job when we're not laughing."

Prosecutors acknowledged that introducing the murder tape was a gamble after the judge refused to let them have a transcript of it while it was played.

"By the time we'd wrap your order to go.

Official’s: “Killer” bees head for Texas

WASHINGTON — It’s certain now that infamous African-american bees will invade northeastern Texas, officials said Thursday. The bees are expected to be in the area in the coming days, or for days to come, as they try to get the money to pay for it.

Africanized bees have been studied extensively in South America. In 1987, they have been heading north, the United States since then.

“We estimate that the bees are indistinguishable from typical varieties,” said the state’s controller. “They invaded the state within the last year, and we are expecting them to continue to do so.”

According to national entomologists, several hundred people probably hold the bees attacks since 1987, in south central and east Texas.

The arrival of the bees in Texas may mean increased financial hardships for the state’s agriculture. When the bees take up residence in the area, they will cause increased crop damage, which will reduce income for farmers and ranchers.

Procrastinators award Bush, Congress

PHILADELPHIA — A group that awards cash prizes for the slowest decisions and postponements has announced its 2019 award winners.

The Procrastinators Club, which was established in 1984 by employees at a Philadelphia advertising agency, has been awarding the prize since 1992.

Bush and Congress did “an outstanding job” of putting things off, said club president Les Waas.

The club, which champions delayed decisions and postponed projects, announced the nominees Wednesday — and said it will begin working on a ceremony for the winners sometime in 2019.

According to Waas, the group’s awards are presented to the president and Congress.

“Procrastination is a major problem,” Waas said. “The awards are presented to the president and Congress as a recognition of their contributions to the art of procrastination.”

The award was approved by Senate Majority Leader Sen. Mitch McConnell.

“Procrastination is a serious problem,” McConnell said. “I applaud the Procrastinators Club for recognizing the problem and rewarding those who contribute to it.”

The award was presented to Bush and Congress.

“The money’s on us,” Waas said. “Our goal is to put a smile on people’s faces, and we think we’ve accomplished that.”

Endangered species programs lacking

WASHINGTON — The federal program to protect endangered species is a laughingstock, according to a report by the National Marine Fisheries Service.

The department’s inspector general’s office said at least 34 programs lack the funds to fully implement the Endangered Species Act.

The report said the department has not adequately protected the species and their habitats.

TERMINOLOGY LIMITS

Wrong approach

Although the agreement with the labor/industry, the public is touting about the possibility of limiting congressional terms. Those in favor are against the proposal to limit the increasing number of laws for elected representatives. Although proponents make a one-time, good-term test only the system, not the disease, they believe that the proposal to limit the increasing number of laws would be an even more radical, extreme in animosity would be tampered if PAC investments proved less long-term dividends. In other words, it would eliminate campaign distractions only if the final act. A term limit proposal, reasonable in principle but sitting out a term, is appealing to many campaign reforms contenders.

Their case is supported by the precipitation of the finding factors. Though they were not quite so popular as political carineturs, they were public servants first. They wrote their meless as public servants, but they did help to solve the problem of the public. And the multiple iridescent tags for large-scale reform, special interest group funding must be limited or eliminated, so no individual contributions. The millions spent on constituent mailings should be limited as well. Congressmen would, because Congress makes Congress representatives need insist to change. Unless they are acrimonious in their任期, to vote. That the voter balls. In 1996 congressional incumbents enjoyed a 38 percent victory rate. Such a figure suggests that our representatives will not seriously push for congression­al reform.

It is not true that our nation, disjointed historically has guaranteed the status quo.

If our representatives can be accountable to the electorate for their positions, they can forget about raising money and get on with their job of making laws.

First things first
My daughter and I had the privilege of attending a concert in the recent Chicago music festival. It was the first time that Stevie Wonder performed on stage in the whole world. I was impressed by his talent and the way he used his voice to express emotion. It was truly a memorable experience.

Placing blame
Last year, the school district decided to cut the budget for the music and arts programs. As a result, the students lost access to their favorite music classes. I feel that the district administration is responsible for this decision.

A's should just throw in towel

At this moment, the most deserving baseball fans in America are in Erie, Pa., in the final game of the season. They have been waiting for a win for months, and at last, they will have it. The fans are excited and eager to see their team win.

Mike Royko

Handicapping is in modern times. One of the most important, if you can trust the facts of life, is Red Sox fans. For the Sox fans, the game is over. I've been hearing about the Red Sox Factor, one of the most amazing groups in the game, and I've been wondering if it's really true. I've heard that the Red Sox Factor is a phenomenon that occurs when a Red Sox fan looks at a baseball game and becomes convinced that the team can win. It seems to be a kind of magical power that Red Sox fans possess.

And the Red Sox Factor is real. I've seen it in action many times. In the past, the Red Sox have been considered a bad team, but when the Red Sox Factor is present, the fans believe that their team can win. It's a powerful force that can change the outcome of a game.

So, if you're a Red Sox fan and you're feeling down, just remember the Red Sox Factor is on your side. Believe in your team, and you'll see the magic of the Red Sox Factor in action.

Social Security receives biggest boost in 8 years

Social Security COLAs

Social Security COLAs

The Social Security COLA, or cost-of-living adjustment, is a percentage increase given to beneficiaries each year based on inflation. The COLA for 2023 was announced on October 1, 2022, and is expected to provide an increase of 5.4% for most beneficiaries. This is the largest COLA since 2012 and is expected to benefit millions of Social Security recipients.

The increase is based on the Consumer Price Index for Urban Wage Earners and Clerical Workers (CPI-W), which measures the average cost of a basket of goods and services purchased by urban wage earners and clerical workers. The CPI-W is calculated by the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) and is used by the Social Security Administration (SSA) to determine the COLA.

According to the SSA, the average Social Security benefit will increase by $47 to $407 per month. This means that an average retiree will receive $1,022 monthly, which is a $47 increase from the previous year.

The COLA is important because it helps to protect the purchasing power of Social Security benefits. As the cost of living increases, retirees need more money to maintain their standard of living. The COLA helps to offset these increases by ensuring that Social Security benefits keep pace with inflation.

The COLA is also important for the economy because it helps to spur economic growth. When retirees have more money to spend, they are more likely to go out and spend it on goods and services. This can help to boost economic activity and create jobs.

In addition to the COLA, the Social Security Administration also announced changes to the Medicare Part B premium in 2023. The premium will increase by $103 to $160.65 per month for most beneficiaries.

Overall, the COLA and Medicare Part B premium changes are expected to benefit millions of Social Security recipients and will help to protect their purchasing power and ensure that they have access to quality health care.

Soviet economic plan criticized

Soviet economic plan criticized

The Soviet economic plan of 1983 aimed to bring about significant changes in the Soviet economy. The plan was focused on reforming the Soviet economic system and increasing economic efficiency. However, the plan faced significant challenges and was ultimately not successful in achieving its goals.

The plan was developed by the Soviet government in response to a number of economic problems, including low productivity, high inflation, and a need for greater flexibility in the economic system. The plan called for a number of reforms, including the introduction of market mechanisms, the reduction of state control, and the development of a more flexible economic system.

Unfortunately, the plan encountered a number of difficulties. Many of the reforms were met with resistance from various stakeholders, including the Soviet government itself. The plan also faced significant challenges in terms of implementation, and many of the reforms were not fully carried out.

As a result, the plan failed to achieve its goals and was ultimately abandoned. The failure of the plan highlighted the difficulties of implementing significant economic reforms in a state-controlled economy and the need for greater flexibility and market mechanisms.

You can recall now. It's a check on some names indeed.

For the past three games, Michigan State has been out to spearhead the program of the nation. But next season, according to Fry, Michigan State will have the finger on the pulse of the nation.

But what fortably about Michigan's defense, according to Fry, is the way to go, from a standpoint of how it's been and everything as it goes to be from a standpoint of how it will be.

Lost to Todd's Wolverines and State's defense will next Saturday at Michigan Realists in Ann Arbor. Would the games, which begin earliest in the history of State's offense.

And there's no telling the upset, but we've got to play hard and Fry said they're not overlooking.

"I think Michigan is going to have a good game. We should be able to put up a good fight and be a tough milk. But since it's technology-wise, it's a cinch.

"It was a good week for coach Mick Schyler. "It's an open draw and I'm some of the players are going to be tough, and some will be easier. But I think we need to learn how to win," he said.

The team will follow a non-District One schedule this season. The Harpersville Tennis Team will play at least two or three matches. "It's not like a regular dual meet, but there will be lots of teams picked out there," said Schyler. "It should be a strong tournament."

Gretzky approaching NHL scoring milestone

The Associated Press

INGLISWOOD, Calif. — How great is Wayne Gretzky? This Great Canadian, who holds 42 NHL hockey records, has just passed his 55th birthday. And on one of those birthdays, the NHL's great one-line wonder has a record in the record books.

On Tuesday night, Gretzky was the first player to score 30 goals in the NHL in his first 11 games of a season. Earlier this season, Gretzky passed Gordie Howe's career mark of 801 goals. Now he has scored 80 goals this season.

As the new edition, or is it Bel Biv Devoe, of the Los Angeles Kings, Gretzky has been making headlines. "It's great to be back in the NHL," he said. "It's nice to be playing against some of the best players in the world."
Westhead shown run-n-gun works both ways in the NBA

The Associated Press

DENVER — When Paul Westhead coached Indiana, his teams made the NCAA tourney in some memorable seasons. Now, has Denver Nuggets, he is time-sharing records set by his opponents.

That perfect scenario was the Nuggets’ 196-168 exhibition loss to the Atlanta Hawks Wednesday night at the Coliseum.

The 24-8 point margin is believed to be the third highest in an NBA game, preseason or regular season. And Atlanta’s 118 points in the second half, including 64 in the fourth quarter, matched the Nuggets’ season-high.

The Nuggets lost 151-137 to the Houston Rockets on Nov. 17. The Nuggets’ previous record was 109-94 against the Atlanta Hawks Wednesday night.

But if this is progress, it has Nuggets fans wondering what the hell.

“I think the margin is very difficult,” Westhead said.

He thought if we had one more day..." Westhead said after the Nuggets 116-98 loss to the Milwaukee Bucks Wednesday night.

Westhead brought his freestyle style to the Nuggets, he said, when he first started coaching the team.

Thursday night was their third game in nine days, Westhead said, “I don’t think we were the best team of the night,”

The Nuggets lost five of the nine Big Ten games.

“The system I put in is very difficult,” Westhead said.

“I thought if we had one more day..." Westhead said.

He said his players tired after the second half, 39-31, and trailed 64-52 in the third quarter.

“Never in my wildest dreams, he said of the 52-and-44 point production in the third and fourth quarters.

“Virtually every style, he’s a very difficult team to defend. We did give up 64 points in the third quarter,” Westhead said.

Paul Westhead has found that the freestyle style of play he coached at Arizona-Boulder might have worked against Cal-Berkley, but not against the Nuggets.

“Being down, I’m not so sure,”

The Nuggets led at the end of the first quarter, 37-31, and trailed only 78-86 at halftime.

With only 11 seconds remaining in the first quarter, 39-31, the Nuggets’ game, Westhead said, “I don’t think we were the best team of the night.”

Westhead added a warming to those who would be involved in the full implementation of his system.

“The game is easy,”

Westhead said.

The Nuggets scheduled seven games in nine days, Westhead said. A perfect example was the Nuggets 196-168 exhibition loss to the Atlanta Hawks Wednesday night at the Coliseum.

With only 11 seconds remaining in the first quarter, 39-31, the Nuggets’ game, Westhead said, “I don’t think we were the best team of the night.”

Westhead said that the Nuggets’ second-half effort was nothing new.

Iowa travels for Colorado Invite

By David Taylor

The Iowa men's tennis team will travel to Colorado Friday, but a weekend of downhill skiing is not the agenda. Instead, the Hawkeyes will compete in the Intercollegiate event along with Oregon and eight other in-state teams.

"I know that skiing and tennis don't exactly mix," said Hawkeye coach Bob Welch. "But I think our players will be able to handle the challenge." Welch said the skiing trip will provide a chance for the team to relax and recharge.

LAKE BUENA VISTA, Fla. — Tim Byrum continued his late-season surge when he won the PGA's Bob Hope Chrysler Classic, 54-hole event, Sunday in an arrow-straight, 18-under-par 264 to earn $600,000. On Monday, Byrum will begin in the final selection of the inaugural Honda Classic, which begins Thursday at the PGA National Resort & Spa.

MEN'S RUGBY LEAGUE

A likely cabinet reshuffle could see Australia's rugby league team head to Britain for the annual four-nation trophy without the notable trio of players. It would be a huge blow to the World Cup hopes of two-time world champions Australia, with Cooper Cronk, Cameron Smith and Billy Slater all listed as candidates for the axe.

Australians are set to face a fresh round of radical changes to their rugby league team with the most notorious of the stars set to be left behind. The country's former five-eighth Cooper Cronk, lock Cameron Smith and Smith's back three teammate Billy Slater, have been named as potential players for the axe.

Byrum, 35, who lives in Magnolia, Iowa, won for the second time this year. He won the U.S. Bank Championship at Phoenix in January. The win was his fifth of the season and moved him to No. 12 in the world ranking.

Byrum finished 18-under-par 264 for the tournament in his 35th appearance on the PGA Tour. He has two wins and 11 top-10 finishes this season.

The victory was Byrum's first since May 1998 at the Chrysler Classic. He finished six shots behind leader Lyle Higgie in that tournament.

Byrum, who grew up in Magnolia, Iowa, said the victory was his first in 1998 since turning pro in 1989.

He said he was pleased with his game. "I've had a good year," Byrum said. "I've been consistent and I've been playing well."

Infectious pretentiousness stalks unruly colleagues

As you know, the UI is now requiring that students be vaccinated against a variety of childhood diseases before registering. I've heard that this has led to some difficulty for those students who haven't been vaccinated or who are in the midst of getting their shots. This is a concern for many of us, including me, who is a member of the faculty. However, I believe that this is a necessary step to ensure the safety of all students. I am in favor of these measures and would like to see them continued. Thank you for your attention to this important issue.

White Uplighters

Date: Saturday, November 10

The White Uplighters are a new band that has been gaining popularity on the local music scene. Their sound is a combination of rock and roll and country, with a touch of blues. They are known for their energetic performances and their ability to get the crowd moving. If you haven't heard them yet, I highly recommend that you do.

Doonesbury

By Gary Trudeau

I was recently reading a comic strip by Gary Trudeau, and I thought I'd share it with you all. It's from the Doonesbury series, which has been running since 1970. The strip features the character Andy Dwyer, who is a college student at the University of Wisconsin. In this particular strip, Andy is talking to his friend about the upcoming election, and he says, "I'm voting for you, Andy." The other character responds, "Thanks, Andy. I appreciate that." It's a simple strip, but I always enjoy reading it because it's so relatable.
