Havlicek denounces

Former Iowa Hawkeye basketball star Bob Havlicek denounces the Iowa University Senate's approval of a budget proposal by the Iowa Student Affiliation Coalition.

Havlicek, a member of the UISC, said he would have voted against the budget proposal if he had been present at the meeting. Havlicek said he was not aware of the budget proposal until after the meeting and that he was not informed of the budget proposal until after the meeting.

Havlicek said he was concerned about the lack of representation in the UISC budget proposal. He said the UISC budget proposal did not adequately address the needs of Iowa students.

Havlicek said he was also concerned about the lack of transparency in the UISC budget proposal. It was not clear how the UISC budget proposal was developed, and Havlicek said he was not given the opportunity to review the proposal before it was approved by the UISC.

Havlicek said he was concerned about the lack of consultation with Iowa students in the UISC budget proposal. He said the UISC budget proposal was developed without input from Iowa students.

Havlicek said he was also concerned about the lack of accountability in the UISC budget proposal. It was not clear how the UISC budget proposal would be implemented, and Havlicek said he was not given the opportunity to review the proposal before it was approved by the UISC.

UI looks at proposal to merge biology, botany departments

By Chris Parker

The Daily Iowan

A proposal to combine the UI Department of Biology and Botany has met with broad support as well as some criticism from family members of both department heads.

The proposal, recommended to UI's Board of Regents by Liberal Arts Dean Gerhard Loewenberg, would reorganize the two departments for at least three reasons:

- To better represent the changing nature of the biological sciences department.
- To create a more dynamic environment with a larger, single department.
- To reduce administrative burdens.

Several faculty members said they were not fundamentally opposed to the reorganization but did indicate some concerns about the proposal. They said the potential drawbacks of the single department would be the loss of the current structure.

"I think it's in the long-term best interest of the department," said a junior professor. "But there are some reservations as well."

Several professors have come from the biology department and opposition from each discipline might be lost if the two departments were combined.

"It's not realistic to think the two departments could be merged without some problems," said another junior professor. "The biology program has been very complete due to the coordination of putting a combined curricula."

The proposal was met with broad support from the biology department. By a vote of 10-2, the professors said they favored the proposal.

"I think the faculty in general are very much in favor of the proposal," said a professor. "It's a matter of putting a combined program together, a greater attraction for students of the current use of the research facilities in that area."

A colloquium will be held around the Old Capitol, Mr. Murray, the director, said.

"The biggest drawback is there is no prospect of the combining of the two departments," said another professor.

"The UI approves the proposal," said another professor. "We're trying to see whether the energy exists in this time to make something happen."

Local blind celebrate special day with procession

An Iowa City man was found guilty of contempt of court Tuesday for pulling rubber from a tire dumped on a street.

According to Johnson County District Court records, James A. Shiott, 309 E. Jefferson St., Iowa City, was charged with desecrating a corpse.

Shiott was arrested in November when he was stopped by police for having a corpse on his street.

"The defendant was sentenced to six months' probation at the Ripley House," said Shiott.

The Iowa Writers' Workshop will host a special event this weekend.

A special weekend event will be sent to principals and directors of the department at high schools during December.

"It's a slightly different experience, a slightly different event," said a professor. "It's a chance to draw people into a new department."

A special exhibition and the celebration with the circulation and community services departments of the Iowa division of the American Library Association will be held on Saturday.

"We've had to rebuild the circuit, to rebuild the community service, to build a sense of the community," said a professor. "The Iowa division has just released the winning photos for the 1981 Project, ""This is the way we live.""

MARION, Iowa — Residents of a Marion nursing home were ignored and not fed in one case, and in another case a resident was found dead and not in his own room, in two cases summarized by inspectors in Marion's first report to the state's facilities bureau.

The Iowa Department of Inspections and Appeals took the action against Crosswinds Abuse because of serious violations of the state's rules for nursing home care, the report said.

The Marion facility was the first nursing home in the state to be sanctioned in more than two years. The Marion report is the first since the case of the Meadows Nursing Home in Des Moines.

Crisis in the Gulf

Waiting game

No value can be assigned to peace. With that in mind, one can only hope that President George Bush waits for signs to indicate that the United States policy in the Persian Gulf has been effective thus far. Unfortunately, President Bush pushed for and secured United Nations sanctions against Iraq. He united world opinion in a manner that no other contemporary European leader has accomplished. Unfortunately, Bush seems to have forgotten the U.S. actions he pushed for. Now, 40,000 soldiers and their military technology, poised for death and destruction. The fragile state of affairs in the Persian Gulf is threatened with ever more disruption by an active U.S. military.

Few doubts that Saddam has been a nagged aggressor or be in a threat to world peace. The question remaining now is whether Bush will give peace a chance. There are several reasons why the United States should stop trying to oust Saddam from power in Iraq. The sanctions imposed on Iraq go up to an unprecedented level. No one before has the world community imposed and enforced such an exchange. Any U.S. unilateral military action in the gulf would remove all confidence in the United Nations peace-keeping body and would fail to prove the belief that the U.S. is a nation that can play only by its own rules.

Americans, and especially their leaders, must recognize how destructive it would be for the U.S. to go to war with Iraq. It should also be considered the effects of the Vietnam war. Certainly, the country would have learned a lesson, but caution and peace would be a similar experience.

If Bush decides to go to war, was exactly what GIs would be fighting for. Bush claimed the U.S. needs to stop aggression and keep oil supplies available. Since the U.S. forced the gulf to the point of brinkmanship. Whatever the answer, Congress needs to debate the issue.

The administration of the U.S. is the lingering cancer that infected the Department of Anatomy and forced Dr. Jew into the courtroom.

Remember that the problem is the cancer. The people who study organization behavior learn that any behavior that is not an apology is not an apology. The statute of limitations on the former behavior would have been more appropriate.

The College of Medicine, in the person of the current chief administrator, Dr. John Ebeling, has behaved inhumanly toward the computation that the College of Medicine's administrator. The cancer must be removed in order to begin the healing process. The U.S. administration shows no signs of remission. The society, we are not asking for justice. The cancer must be removed.

This is a must. Does the U.S. administration really value college students? If the affiliation of student lobbying is any indication, the answer to this question is a resounding no. This year, the National Student Association, General Union of Palestinian Students, American University Students Association and Student Representative for Building-Student Congress in City Hall offered to help the administration. Whatever the answer, Congress needs to debate the issue.

Edward's death and the failure to offer him adequate care is one of the more salient issues of the recent debate over the quality of health care. If someone, the student of the FacultySenate, experience must be dealt with more appropriately. As a result, the administration must change its policies.

For example, in a case where I was involved, a 17-year-old student and his family were involved in a severe automobile accident, the family was distraught. But it probably was worse than that. If, however, he was treated, an underwriting system in this country to undergo drastic improvements to enhance security around airports and helped pass legislation mandating background checks. The NRA has taken the stance that it is in favor of immediate background checks, but that it is absolutely necessary for the crime reporting system in this country to undergo drastic improvements to enhance public safety. This NRA may now be ruled for the NRA to oppose this law? Yes. Do you know why? Probably not. The NRA has stated clearly that it is in favor of immediate background checks, but that it is necessary for the crime reporting system in this country to undergo drastic improvements to enhance public safety.

The NRA, as an organization, is in favor of keeping guns out of the hands of criminals and the mentally unbalanced. But will it really prevent crime? In 1985, 31,075 people were killed or injured in gun violence. "Iowa's legacy," Sept. 7, 1985

Lawmakers prepare to counter recession

By Alan From
The Associated Press
WASHINGTON - Back in Rep. Jim McEachin's northern Michigan district, the signs of a recession are everywhere. "Building has stopped. There are an estimated 900 foreclosures in the Kalkaska County area, and we have real factories that have closed. There's a real lack of confidence about the future," the Demo­crat says.

When the U.S. Congress begins in January, Dover will respond to the Depression-era spending programs, the state's vice governor, William Blassingame Jr., said he plans to make this a priority. Congress, he said, would help get the economy moving again.

The Bush administration's tax-cut program to boost the economy and its plan for a stimulus package, including tax rebates for individuals and businesses and low-income people, "We're talking about a trillion dollars in tax cuts and $200 billion in spending, which would help get the economy moving. That would be good for overall growth and provide incentives for increased production," presidential advisor Martin Fortner and Tuesday.

Senator Richard Gephardt, D-Mo., and House Speaker Nancy Pelosi, D-Calif., have surged up with more than 100,000 Chinese, Japanese and other Asian slave laborers during the war. The slaves, prisoners discovered in November 19, 1990, were forced to work in the railroads and had their faces covered with paper at the grave.

"If we're going to do anything, we have to get the U.S. people to address the standard of living, which they see as either stagnant or falling behind," said Ladda's mother, Pab. "That's the way we want to see them. There's a good reason for that."
Purdue women's basketball team has won just one time this season, according to Our State magazine, and everyone knows the team has been a top candidate for the national championship. The Hawkeyes are not only the nation's top team, but they've also won every Big Ten meet so far and are now in the lead of the regional meet, leading the nation in the standings after just one day.

Of course we're all going to be watching this game with our eyes on the scoreboard, cheering for the heart of the Hawkeyes. But this is also a big opportunity for the younger Hawkeye players to step up and shine. We're all excited to see how they perform.

We hope you enjoy this fantastic match. It's going to be a great day for Hawkeye basketball fans. Let's go Hawkeyes!

The Buffalo Bills have the most predictable offense in the NFL. The way they go about it, you could say they'd be willing to swap quarterbacks and start Tyrod Taylor at quarterback.

"We're very happy," coach Rex Ryan said. "We're playing everybody. We've got some mismatches, we're starting to see people pick us up. We're going to get it out there."

The Bills, like the Buffalo Bills, have the second-most sacks in the league, but Buffalo has the second-most sacks in the league. The Bills have the second-most sacks in the league, but Buffalo has the second-most sacks in the league.

And after the Bills rolled to the championship game by halting a 14-15 drought at the hands of the Tennessee Titans, they were playing against the Baltimore Ravens, who have the most sacks in the league, and Buffalo had their second-most sacks in the league.

Wisconsin dumps spikers

If the UW badger volleyball team was to provide the last real obstacle to the Wisconsin Badger's Big Ten title run, then it appears that any hopes Iowa State's team was to crush the hopes of any other team in the conference. The Hawkeyes defeated the Badgers Saturday night with a 15-1, 15-0, 15-3 win.

The Badgers had a 19-11 lead in the first set, but Hawkeye's diced ice and a combination of errors led to their downfall. The Badgers had a 13-12 lead in the second set, but a combination of errors and Hawkeye's comeback with a 15-13 win.

In the third set, the Badgers had a 6-5 lead, but a combination of errors and Hawkeye's comeback with a 15-13 win.

"I think we did well on our serve, but we didn't return as well as we should have," said Iowa State's coach, Donn Bandy. "We need to work on our defense and improve our blocking."

The Hawkeyes won the overall season series 3-0 with a 15-1, 15-0, 15-3 win.

In other action, Erik Heikkila won the horizontal bar competition with a 7.80 performance and a personal-best 11.26, while junior Ian Chayton won a personal-best 11.26 on the floor. Chris Kabat took first place in the all-around competition with a 7.80 performance and a personal-best 11.26, while junior Ian Chayton won a personal-best 11.26 on the floor. Iowa tankers beat Badgers

By Michael Wefer
The Daily Iowan

For the second consecutive weekend, the Iowa men's swimming and diving team captured a Big Ten dual meet by taking the last two of the day.

The Hawkeyes narrowly defeated Wisconsin with a score of 170-164.5.

With a first-place time of 1:38.34—nearly 7 seconds faster than the second-place finish by Wisconsin—the Iowa team of Eric Kaiser, Skip Brown, Thomas Govers and Mike Johnson won the 400-yard freestyle relay and the meet.

The Hawks won 11 of 13 events (500 freestyle, 200 breaststroke and 400 freestyle relay), were done by 17 points, as the guys really tightened their belts for the wall.

Presented, Poland native Artur Wojdat and Govers swept events for the Hawkeyes, with Wojdat opening both the 100 and 200 freestyle with times of 44.12 and 1:44.27 respectively, and Govers taking both the 50 and 100 freestyle in 0:22.58 and 0:44.50 respectively. Wojdat also won the 300-yard butterfly in 0:30.10 and the 100-yard backstroke in 0:57.81.

Tiger McCullough, who took the 500 freestyle with a time of 4:54.65 for the Iowa team, won the 500-yard individual medley in 4:43.99 and the 200-yard butterfly in 1:90.96.

On the board, freshman diver B.J. Bay of the University of Maryland, Maryland, placed second in the 1-meter diving event with a score of 204.35, seven points out of first. He also took second in the 1-meter event.
