Environmental activist speaks on incineration

"I'm about 10 years old and Charlie Cray is out of the hundreds of years and humans around the world who have been fighting to save the planet with this novel on incineration. I don't know how Cray, the author of our incineration policy, and the caller of the incineration process. I just want to add my name to say that this process is a dangerous one. I do not want to see any incineration plants."

Airline competition lowers fares; Iowans frantically buying tickets

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — Iowans have started buying airline tickets in a frantic rush to avoid the end of a summer sale that was advertised by one of the nation's largest travel agencies.

The sale, which started Tuesday and ends Friday, increases the number of flights available to travelers in the Midwest, but also increases the number of flights that are canceled, according to officials with the Iowa Transportation Department.

"If you live near an airport, it's easy to get a flight," said Tom Hurd, a travel agent at the Mt. Pleasant Travel Agency in Davenport, Iowa. "But if you live far away from an airport, it can be difficult to get a flight."
Certificate opens door on world business

By Susan Polsky

Special to the Daily iowan

Students interested in studying abroad and job opportunities do not seem to be enrolled in the UI College of Business, even though there are resources available to assist students in their quest for an international Business Certificat.

In 1987, the UI College of Business was established as the first school to offer an international business program. Although all UI schools have international business programs, the College of Business offers the only undergraduate program. The program has undergone a number of changes over the years to keep pace with the demands of international business.

The program offers students the opportunity to study a broad range of international business topics, including international finance, international trade, and international marketing. Students also have the opportunity to study abroad and gain valuable international work experience.

In addition to the international business program, the College of Business offers a number of other programs and resources to help students achieve their career goals. The Career Development Center provides students with career counseling, job searching assistance, and networking opportunities.

The College of Business is committed to providing students with the skills and knowledge they need to succeed in the global marketplace. With its strong emphasis on international business, the College of Business is an excellent choice for students who are interested in pursuing a career in this exciting field.

Cedar Rapids man accused of kidnapping

The Daily iowan

A Cedar Rapids man has been charged with attempted murder or attempted murder stemming from an incident on Oct. 5.

Patrick M. McTigue, 36, of Cedar Rapids, was arrested early Monday morning in a菖s of El Paso County in Pennsylvania. The man was being held at the Union County Jail in Pennsylvania.

McTigue's arrest stems from an incident that occurred last Friday, when McTigue allegedly made threats to a woman and later tried to kidnap her.

The incident began when the victim, a 40-year-old woman, was walking along an abandoned railroad track near her home. McTigue approached the woman and made threats to her.

The woman fled the scene and called the police. When police arrived, they found McTigue in possession of a knife and questioned him about the incident.

McTigue was charged with attempted murder or attempted murder and is currently being held at the Union County Jail in Pennsylvania.

Briefs

Van Allen testifies before state commission

James Van Allen, professor emeritus of physics and astronomy, testified before a state commission on the future of the U.S. space program.

The commission is expected to recommend policies for the next 20 years, taking into account the needs of the space program and the interests of the American people.

Van Allen, who has been involved in space research for over 50 years, said that the United States has a strong tradition of excellence in space exploration.

He also noted that the space program provides important opportunities for education and training, and helps to foster a sense of national pride.

"The space program is a key element in our nation's identity," Van Allen said. "It is a source of inspiration for young people, and it helps to build a sense of unity across the country.

"I believe that the space program is more important than ever, and that it should be supported by all Americans."
Global events strongly affect UI international community

Adviser works to ensure education

By Julie Crelwell

Iowa City — The first thing we do is find out what's going on through the students' own communication system. What some call rumors and gossip were often more accurate than the media accounts.

"I have the impression (racism) is not common, but a lot of things that happen in an interaction with people are unspoken," Althen said.

The first thing we do is find out what's going on through the students' own communication system. What some call rumors and gossip were often more accurate than the media accounts.

"But that doesn't benefit the student who isn't originally from Iowa, but their families immediately live in Iowa. We have a few people who's that description," Althen said.

Althen studied the social sciences and he worked at the UI since 1977. Passing through his office is an average of 450 students in the fall, 150 students in the spring and 500 students in the summer from various countries.

"I'm doing my best to make sure people understand current events, the media accounts," Althen said.

Althen studied the social sciences and he worked at the UI since 1977. Passing through his office is an average of 450 students in the fall, 150 students in the spring and 500 students in the summer from various countries.

By Julie Crelwell

Washington will be the third trip in the Rose Bowl in 10 years for UI fans who ordered football tickets prior to the Iraqi invasion. But Althen said he has received the impression from foreign students who arrive in January that Iowa City has less of a problem with violence than other cities in America.

"There's always a problem with violence," Althen said. "The first thing we do is find out what's going on through the students' own communication system. What some call rumors and gossip were often more accurate than the media accounts."

Students from ANY Undergraduate department may apply

Applications will be accepted until January 15, 1991. For more information, contact the Iowa Athletics Ticket Office at (319) 335-1398.

Airfares

Continued from page 14

In case of emergencies or medical problems, passengers should travel before Dec. 28. Certain dates around Christmas and New Year's have been booked out. Other passengers are asked to contact the Sigma Xi, The Scientific Research Honor Society.

Sigma Xi Undergraduate Research Awards

Awards of up to $300 each will be awarded to Undergraduate Students for use in Scientific Research

Encouragement of individual research activities by undergraduates is important in fostering independence and creativity. This is among the major goals of Sigma Xi, The Scientific Research Society.

Students from ANY Undergraduate department may apply

A lottery will be held for the Jan. 1 Rose Bowl game tickets. All tickets are $43 each. For more information, contact the Iowa Athletics Ticket Office at (319) 335-1398.

Airfares

Continued from page 14

In case of emergencies or medical problems, passengers should travel before Dec. 28. Certain dates around Christmas and New Year's have been booked out. Other passengers are asked to contact the Sigma Xi, The Scientific Research Honor Society.

Sigma Xi Undergraduate Research Awards

Awards of up to $300 each will be awarded to Undergraduate Students for use in Scientific Research

Encouragement of individual research activities by undergraduates is important in fostering independence and creativity. This is among the major goals of Sigma Xi, The Scientific Research Society.

Students from ANY Undergraduate department may apply

A lottery will be held for the Jan. 1 Rose Bowl game tickets. All tickets are $43 each. For more information, contact the Iowa Athletics Ticket Office at (319) 335-1398.

Airfares

Continued from page 14

In case of emergencies or medical problems, passengers should travel before Dec. 28. Certain dates around Christmas and New Year's have been booked out. Other passengers are asked to contact the Sigma Xi, The Scientific Research Society.

Sigma Xi Undergraduate Research Awards

Awards of up to $300 each will be awarded to Undergraduate Students for use in Scientific Research

Encouragement of individual research activities by undergraduates is important in fostering independence and creativity. This is among the major goals of Sigma Xi, The Scientific Research Society.

Students from ANY Undergraduate department may apply

A lottery will be held for the Jan. 1 Rose Bowl game tickets. All tickets are $43 each. For more information, contact the Iowa Athletics Ticket Office at (319) 335-1398.

Airfares

Continued from page 14

In case of emergencies or medical problems, passengers should travel before Dec. 28. Certain dates around Christmas and New Year's have been booked out. Other passengers are asked to contact the Sigma Xi, The Scientific Research Society.

Sigma Xi Undergraduate Research Awards

Awards of up to $300 each will be awarded to Undergraduate Students for use in Scientific Research

Encouragement of individual research activities by undergraduates is important in fostering independence and creativity. This is among the major goals of Sigma Xi, The Scientific Research Society.

Students from ANY Undergraduate department may apply

A lottery will be held for the Jan. 1 Rose Bowl game tickets. All tickets are $43 each. For more information, contact the Iowa Athletics Ticket Office at (319) 335-1398.
results are, we created a basis for a broader democratic movement in Poland," Mazowiecki told reporters. "We will intensify the struggle for democracy in central and eastern Europe, and I was waiting for "real people, and not just some extremists."
Concert by UI choral groups celebrates Yuletime season

The Daily Iowan

The touring season begins this weekend with the performance of "A Yuletime Festival," which will take place in the Hancher Auditorium on the University of Iowa campus.

The concert, conducted by UI music professor Gilbert E. KISIBLE, will feature works by composers from Bach to Vaughan Williams. A group of national and international choral ensembles will be featured, as well as the UI Wind Ensemble and the UI Symphony Orchestra. The program will include "Magnificat" by William H. Hatcher, "Ave Maris Stella" by John Tavener, and "O Magnum Mysterium" by Giovanni Pierluigi da Palestrina.

Auditions held for '91 productions

The UI Theatre will hold public auditions on April 1, 2, and 3 for the following productions: "The Antidote," "The Second Stage Mass," and "Our Town." Auditions will be held in the UI Student Center, Iowa City, on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday evening.

The Associated Press

OXFORD, England — Roald Dahl, the British author of memorable short stories and light-hearted children's tales such as "Charlie and the Chocolate Factory" and "James and the Giant Peach," died Friday. He was 74. His death was announced by the London Daily Telegraph.

Dahl, who was born in London in 1916 and died at his home in Oxford, England, was best known for his children's books. His most famous works include "James and the Giant Peach," "The BFG," "Charlie and the Chocolate Factory," and "Matilda." He also wrote scripts for television. Last year, his novel "The Good Thief" was adapted for film.

Dahl's family said he died in his sleep following a long battle with lung cancer. He is survived by his wife, Patricia Neal, and their three children. His children's books have been translated into more than 40 languages and have sold millions of copies worldwide.

Dahl's legacy has been celebrated in recent years, with the publication of new stories and adaptations of his work. His children's tales have become beloved classics, and his stories continue to inspire new generations of readers.

Dahl was born in London on September 13, 1916. He grew up in the city and attended the University of Oxford. He began his writing career in the 1940s and 1950s, publishing short stories and children's books.

Dahl is best known for his children's books, including stories about the misadventures of young boys and girls. His work has been translated into more than 40 languages and has sold millions of copies worldwide.

Dahl's legacy has been celebrated in recent years, with the publication of new stories and adaptations of his work. His children's tales have become beloved classics, and his stories continue to inspire new generations of readers.

Dahl was born in London on September 13, 1916. He grew up in the city and attended the University of Oxford. He began his writing career in the 1940s and 1950s, publishing short stories and children's books.

Dahl is best known for his children's books, including stories about the misadventures of young boys and girls. His work has been translated into more than 40 languages and has sold millions of copies worldwide.

Dahl's legacy has been celebrated in recent years, with the publication of new stories and adaptations of his work. His children's tales have become beloved classics, and his stories continue to inspire new generations of readers.

Dahl was born in London on September 13, 1916. He grew up in the city and attended the University of Oxford. He began his writing career in the 1940s and 1950s, publishing short stories and children's books.

Dahl is best known for his children's books, including stories about the misadventures of young boys and girls. His work has been translated into more than 40 languages and has sold millions of copies worldwide.

Dahl's legacy has been celebrated in recent years, with the publication of new stories and adaptations of his work. His children's tales have become beloved classics, and his stories continue to inspire new generations of readers.

Dahl was born in London on September 13, 1916. He grew up in the city and attended the University of Oxford. He began his writing career in the 1940s and 1950s, publishing short stories and children's books.

Dahl is best known for his children's books, including stories about the misadventures of young boys and girls. His work has been translated into more than 40 languages and has sold millions of copies worldwide.

Dahl's legacy has been celebrated in recent years, with the publication of new stories and adaptations of his work. His children's tales have become beloved classics, and his stories continue to inspire new generations of readers.

Dahl was born in London on September 13, 1916. He grew up in the city and attended the University of Oxford. He began his writing career in the 1940s and 1950s, publishing short stories and children's books.

Dahl is best known for his children's books, including stories about the misadventures of young boys and girls. His work has been translated into more than 40 languages and has sold millions of copies worldwide.

Dahl's legacy has been celebrated in recent years, with the publication of new stories and adaptations of his work. His children's tales have become beloved classics, and his stories continue to inspire new generations of readers.

Dahl was born in London on September 13, 1916. He grew up in the city and attended the University of Oxford. He began his writing career in the 1940s and 1950s, publishing short stories and children's books.

Dahl is best known for his children's books, including stories about the misadventures of young boys and girls. His work has been translated into more than 40 languages and has sold millions of copies worldwide.

Dahl's legacy has been celebrated in recent years, with the publication of new stories and adaptations of his work. His children's tales have become beloved classics, and his stories continue to inspire new generations of readers.

Dahl was born in London on September 13, 1916. He grew up in the city and attended the University of Oxford. He began his writing career in the 1940s and 1950s, publishing short stories and children's books.

Dahl is best known for his children's books, including stories about the misadventures of young boys and girls. His work has been translated into more than 40 languages and has sold millions of copies worldwide.

Dahl's legacy has been celebrated in recent years, with the publication of new stories and adaptations of his work. His children's tales have become beloved classics, and his stories continue to inspire new generations of readers.

Dahl was born in London on September 13, 1916. He grew up in the city and attended the University of Oxford. He began his writing career in the 1940s and 1950s, publishing short stories and children's books.

Dahl is best known for his children's books, including stories about the misadventures of young boys and girls. His work has been translated into more than 40 languages and has sold millions of copies worldwide.

Dahl's legacy has been celebrated in recent years, with the publication of new stories and adaptations of his work. His children's tales have become beloved classics, and his stories continue to inspire new generations of readers.

Dahl was born in London on September 13, 1916. He grew up in the city and attended the University of Oxford. He began his writing career in the 1940s and 1950s, publishing short stories and children's books.

Dahl is best known for his children's books, including stories about the misadventures of young boys and girls. His work has been translated into more than 40 languages and has sold millions of copies worldwide.

Dahl's legacy has been celebrated in recent years, with the publication of new stories and adaptations of his work. His children's tales have become beloved classics, and his stories continue to inspire new generations of readers.

Dahl was born in London on September 13, 1916. He grew up in the city and attended the University of Oxford. He began his writing career in the 1940s and 1950s, publishing short stories and children's books.

Dahl is best known for his children's books, including stories about the misadventures of young boys and girls. His work has been translated into more than 40 languages and has sold millions of copies worldwide.

Dahl's legacy has been celebrated in recent years, with the publication of new stories and adaptations of his work. His children's tales have become beloved classics, and his stories continue to inspire new generations of readers.

Dahl was born in London on September 13, 1916. He grew up in the city and attended the University of Oxford. He began his writing career in the 1940s and 1950s, publishing short stories and children's books.

Dahl is best known for his children's books, including stories about the misadventures of young boys and girls. His work has been translated into more than 40 languages and has sold millions of copies worldwide.

Dahl's legacy has been celebrated in recent years, with the publication of new stories and adaptations of his work. His children's tales have become beloved classics, and his stories continue to inspire new generations of readers.

Dahl was born in London on September 13, 1916. He grew up in the city and attended the University of Oxford. He began his writing career in the 1940s and 1950s, publishing short stories and children's books.

Dahl is best known for his children's books, including stories about the misadventures of young boys and girls. His work has been translated into more than 40 languages and has sold millions of copies worldwide.

Dahl's legacy has been celebrated in recent years, with the publication of new stories and adaptations of his work. His children's tales have become beloved classics, and his stories continue to inspire new generations of readers.

Dahl was born in London on September 13, 1916. He grew up in the city and attended the University of Oxford. He began his writing career in the 1940s and 1950s, publishing short stories and children's books.

Dahl is best known for his children's books, including stories about the misadventures of young boys and girls. His work has been translated into more than 40 languages and has sold millions of copies worldwide.

Dahl's legacy has been celebrated in recent years, with the publication of new stories and adaptations of his work. His children's tales have become beloved classics, and his stories continue to inspire new generations of readers.

Dahl was born in London on September 13, 1916. He grew up in the city and attended the University of Oxford. He began his writing career in the 1940s and 1950s, publishing short stories and children's books.

Dahl is best known for his children's books, including stories about the misadventures of young boys and girls. His work has been translated into more than 40 languages and has sold millions of copies worldwide.

Dahl's legacy has been celebrated in recent years, with the publication of new stories and adaptations of his work. His children's tales have become beloved classics, and his stories continue to inspire new generations of readers.

Dahl was born in London on September 13, 1916. He grew up in the city and attended the University of Oxford. He began his writing career in the 1940s and 1950s, publishing short stories and children's books.

Dahl is best known for his children's books, including stories about the misadventures of young boys and girls. His work has been translated into more than 40 languages and has sold millions of copies worldwide.

Dahl's legacy has been celebrated in recent years, with the publication of new stories and adaptations of his work. His children's tales have become beloved classics, and his stories continue to inspire new generations of readers.

Dahl was born in London on September 13, 1916. He grew up in the city and attended the University of Oxford. He began his writing career in the 1940s and 1950s, publishing short stories and children's books.

Dahl is best known for his children's books, including stories about the misadventures of young boys and girls. His work has been translated into more than 40 languages and has sold millions of copies worldwide.
Letters

To the Editor:
The United States is a white nation in which we futurologists imagine what the future will be for our children or husband, fancy car and admirably able to try to understand. We, in doing the things our grandparents did not have to do, have added many new things to the world's menu. We have not always been successful, but we have certainly added a lot of new ways to live. We have made more money. We have certainly come a long way from the poor, hungry, hungry, hungry people who are so hungry today. In all this right out, we can see that our children or husbands have added a lot of new ways to live. We have not always been successful. We may try to do better in another time, but we may not always be able to do better in another time. The reality is that we are so lucky we are living in a weak society, and not many of our other countries do have the luck of living in a weak society.

Right now, we are students and many of our students do not have a grasp of what we are doing. We do not have the grasp of what we are doing, and many of our students do not have a grasp of what we are doing. We do not have the grasp of what we are doing, and many of our students do not have a grasp of what we are doing.

Let's hope the situation in the future is better and that the people do not have to live in a weak society. It is for this reason that I believe it is important for Jews everywhere to understand the reality of the current situation. It is for this reason that I believe it is important for Jews everywhere to understand the reality of the current situation. The reality is that we are so lucky we are living in a weak society, and not many of our other countries do have the luck of living in a weak society.

Guest Opinion

Marc Weber

Mr. Roberts when my friend, Tony Curtis, that he had to be in New York. If we did not do what we were asked, the United States government was threatening to come to the city of New York and take over the city and arrest everyone who was not a citizen. I think that is a real situation that is happening today.

Guest Opinion

Marc Weber

The Daily lowan disturbs the forum

I am writing to you from the Daily lowan because I have a strong feeling that our children or husbands are not living in a weak society. I believe that our children or husbands are living in a weak society, and not many of our other countries do have the luck of living in a weak society.

Let's hope the situation in the future is better and that the people do not have to live in a weak society. It is for this reason that I believe it is important for Jews everywhere to understand the reality of the current situation. It is for this reason that I believe it is important for Jews everywhere to understand the reality of the current situation. The reality is that we are so lucky we are living in a weak society, and not many of our other countries do have the luck of living in a weak society.

Guest Opinion

Marc Weber

The Daily lowan disturbs the forum

I am writing to you from the Daily lowan because I have a strong feeling that our children or husbands are not living in a weak society. I believe that our children or husbands are living in a weak society, and not many of our other countries do have the luck of living in a weak society.

Let's hope the situation in the future is better and that the people do not have to live in a weak society. It is for this reason that I believe it is important for Jews everywhere to understand the reality of the current situation. It is for this reason that I believe it is important for Jews everywhere to understand the reality of the current situation. The reality is that we are so lucky we are living in a weak society, and not many of our other countries do have the luck of living in a weak society.

Guest Opinion

Marc Weber

The Daily lowan disturbs the forum

I am writing to you from the Daily lowan because I have a strong feeling that our children or husbands are not living in a weak society. I believe that our children or husbands are living in a weak society, and not many of our other countries do have the luck of living in a weak society.

Let's hope the situation in the future is better and that the people do not have to live in a weak society. It is for this reason that I believe it is important for Jews everywhere to understand the reality of the current situation. It is for this reason that I believe it is important for Jews everywhere to understand the reality of the current situation. The reality is that we are so lucky we are living in a weak society, and not many of our other countries do have the luck of living in a weak society.
U.S. wants Jan. 1 deadline
Iraq threatens Saudi Arabia with thousands of troops

The Associated Press

U.S. officials said today that the United Nations was prepared to extend the Jan. 1 deadline set for Iraq by the United Nations Security Council, said the official in the Security Council, said the official on the issue of security.

Also Sunday, Iraq's government-in-exile, citing reports from various sources, said that it had been approved for the Jan. 1 deadline.

The latest such proposal was being considered by the United Nations Security Council, which had been petitioned by the United States and its allies.

Bush travels to Mexico to discuss trade relations

By Roy Aguiar

The Associated Press

MEXICO CITY -- President Bush today will meet with Mexican President Vicente Fox to discuss trade relations.

The two leaders will meet at the presidential palace, the office of the president, to discuss trade relations.

The latest such proposal was being considered by the United Nations Security Council, which had been petitioned by the United States and its allies.

Bush travels to Mexico to discuss trade relations.

Sikh killings at least 20 in India

by Deepak Sharma

The Associated Press

MADRAS, India -- Sikh diplomats in India and the resident director for the state of Punjab, Prabhjeet Singh, have been killed.

India reported a spate of such incidents in recent weeks.

The latest such proposal was being considered by the United Nations Security Council, which had been petitioned by the United States and its allies.

Sikh killings at least 20 in India
Bush's civil rights stand questioned

By James Rowley
The Associated Press

WASHINGTON — Civil rights advocates are questioning President Bush's commitment to fighting discrimination, despite the administration's aggressive promotion of some ground-breaking civil rights laws.

Bush made enforcement a priority, Attorney General Dick Thornburgh said recently, referring to the Justice Department's civil rights division under President Carter.

"The fact is that this administration has actually run the Justice Department's civil rights division much more effectively than did any of its predecessors," Thornburgh said.

"That failure to take some time to clear," said Drew Days, who ran the civil rights division under President Carter.

Coretta Scott King spoke for the grandparents of the late civil rights leader Martin Luther King Jr. about healing racial strife.

They cite Bush's veto of the Civil Rights Act of 1990, which would have ended two-decade-old limits on civil rights enforcement.

"That is going to be sufficient to carve out the area," said Drew Days, who ran the civil rights division under President Carter.

"I don't think it's going to be sufficient to carve out the area," said Drew Days, who ran the civil rights division under President Carter.

By George Bush

Lone gunman kills 4 in Israeli bus ambush

By Andrew Sullivan
The Associated Press

ELAT, Israel — A lone gunman slipped across the Egyptian border and killed three military vehicles, killing both Israelis and wounding an army official.

The attack was the third from the Arab territory in two days. At least four Palestinians were killed and two Israeli soldiers reported in problems in Israel, according to the Israeli government's press office.

The dead in the border attack, three soldiers and a civilian bus driver, were shot on a road running along the Israeli-Egyptian border.

"The driver slowed down and stopped and then the man opened fire," the driver said.

"I am not coming out as the man is flagging down for help. The Israeli soldiers stood and stopped and then the man opened fire," the driver said.

"But when I opened fire, he killed the Israeli soldier and then stood up and ran off toward the back door," the driver said.

The attack was the third from the Arab territory in two days. At least four Palestinians were killed and two Israeli soldiers killed in the Israeli-Egyptian border area.

"The driver slowed down and stopped and then the man opened fire," the driver said.

"I am not coming out as the man is flagging down for help. The Israeli soldiers stood and stopped and then the man opened fire," the driver said.
Hawkeyes heading to Pasadena

By James Butler
The Daily Iowan

MICHIGAN - Three big orange, twoaquatic snails and an instant offensive performance destroyed the Minnesota Gophers in a 12-2 payout of the Rose Bowl Saturday.

"It really snuck up on the challenge today, by having two teams not getting a lot of respect," said Coach Don Dierker. "That was basically the game."

In route of the back, the Hawkeyes will be in Pasadena to face Washington in the Blue Bowl pilot for 12th straight year. In three games against the Blue Bowl bid, they defeated all of them.

Even though the automatic berth from the Rose Bowl bid because they defeated all of them.

Iowa only beat four teams for their first two games before falling to Purdue in their final game. The Hawkeyes did not play against Michigan, Illinois and Minnesota in the Big Ten.

Coach Harper Pyatt summed at 4:30 Saturday. "I was excited to be in the state of Iowa and to be in Pasadena and in front of the Group of Ten."

Not only did Iowa come out of the game a Champs, but a No. 2 seed for their first two games before falling to Purdue in their final game. The Hawkeyes did not play against Michigan, Illinois and Minnesota in the Big Ten.

Coach Harper Pyatt summed at 4:30 Saturday. "I was excited to be in the state of Iowa and to be in Pasadena and in front of the Group of Ten."

No. 1 Iowa was not only the top team in the nation but they were also the only team not to lose to a Top 20 team.

The following week, however, just before the final game, No. 1 Iowa was upset by No. 4 Ohio State, 10-8.

The Hawkeyes were defeated by No. 8 Illinois, 10-8, and No. 4 Wisconsin, 12-6.

But the Iowa Hawkeyes never gave up as they moved into the No. 3 spot and finished as a Top 8 team.

Iowa was 12-1-1 last year. They have a chance to win the Big Ten title this season.

"We're an experienced team, which includes only two seniors and seven freshmen," said the Hawkeye's 12th year coach Dierker. "We have no problem with offense."

"I don't think the offense has been as good," Hawkeye's eighth-year head coach Dierker said. "But I think the defense has been fine."

"This team is capable of scoring 90 points in a game," Dierker said. "But I don't think this team is capable of scoring 40 points in a game."
Minnesota

ball was snapped up by freshman safety Corey Leslie. "Corey Leslie was called for pass interference, but we were able to hold them on the one and the running back did not cross the line of scrimmage," said the Iowa head coach.

The game was a real "feel good" moment for the Hawkeyes, who had defeated Northern Iowa 20-13 in the tournament. The Panthers made a quarterback change at the beginning of the fourth quarter, and the Hawkeyes took advantage of the change, routing the Panthers 27-6.

The ceiling echoed the roar of the crowd, and the officials had the game under control. The Hawkeyes had already won the battle of the trenches, and they were able to hold their own in the closing minutes of the game.

"I'm not sure if I have ever seen anything like this," said one of the officials. "It was unbelievable."
Strange folks Faldo for a Skins victory

By Bob Green

LA QUANTA, Calif. — Nick Faldo
wasn't about to go out and try to break any records this week.
Saturday, November 25, 1990
SPORTS 38

Skins victory

By Bob Green

LA QUANTA, Calif. — Nick Faldo
wasn't about to go out and try to
break any records this week.
Saturday, November 25, 1990
SPORTS 38

San Francisco 49ers wide receiver...
By Bill Bean
The Associated Press
ANCHORAGE, Alaska — They had to do all the way to Alaska to get it, but UCLA and Virginia are not about to play each other in college basketball.

The two schools have programs that among the most successful and tradition-rich in the history of the sport. Yet, surprisingly, they never have met on a basketball court.

That will change tonight when 11th-ranked Bruins and No. 18 Cavaliers get together in the first of a three-game series

"We came up here hoping to play them," UCLA Coach Dick Dickson said. "I am sure they have come up here to play us. I think we have the best chance up here now but going to be a great game."

Both teams had problems in the first two games.

Virginia, in its first year under 30-year-old coach Jim Boeheim, said. "I think we have the best chance up here now but going to be a great game."

In the opening against rice, the Cavaliers were behind by 10 before pulling away for a 69-59 victory.

The Cavaliers then lost the first half of both of its games. The Bruins got caught up in Cal-Irvine's 6-10 and went only 6-6 with 10 minutes to go before pulling away for a 69-59 victory.

The two teams will then play in its 112-minute "Kings Game" tonight with a 7 p.m. tipoff.

"We won't operate without with the way we played Friday," Bruins Coach Jerry Stockton said. "I think we have the best chance up here now but going to be a great game."

In the opening against rice, the Cavaliers were behind by 10 before pulling away for a 69-59 victory.

In the opening against rice, the Cavaliers were behind by 10 before pulling away for a 69-59 victory.

In the opening against rice, the Cavaliers were behind by 10 before pulling away for a 69-59 victory.

Syracuse coach Jim Boeheim said. "It's going to be a tough game. I think we have the best chance up here now but going to be a great game."

In the opening against rice, the Cavaliers were behind by 10 before pulling away for a 69-59 victory.
Insight, B-movie tactics propel 'Shock Corridor'

By Kimberly Chin

B o b o, director of films like 'The Velvet Vampire' and 'Freakasaurus,' has expanded his repertoire to the more controversial subject of mental illness with his latest film, 'Shock Corridor.' The film, which has been condemned by critics as exploitation, is an unflinching portrayal of the American state of mind and the post-Eisenhower rigid, high-tech '60s carnival.

B o b o's film follows the story of Johnny, a film noir stock model, who is intercepted by an IRS agent on the road and booked into a mental institution as a fugitive. There, he is subjected to a series of brutal and dehumanizing experiments, including electroshock therapy and other forms of mental torture.

The film is a critique of the medical industrial complex and the profits made from the suffering of patients. It is a powerful and disturbing film that challenges the audience to question the role of government and corporations in the mental health industry.

In 'Shock Corridor,' Bob o finds himself at the center of a struggle between the forces of exploitation and the forces of compassion. He must decide whether to cooperate with the system or to resist and fight for his freedom.

The film is a cautionary tale about the dangers of neglecting the rights of the mentally ill and the need for reform in the mental health system. It is a film that will challenge and provoke thought and discussion.