The budget harmful to UI students could decrease the competitive nature of current professor salaries, UI Faculty-Contract President Dennis Given said.

"But the trend must continue," he said.

"The University of Iowa is not going to compete in the tennis room," said UI junior Deanne Lack. "That is where the real competition is."
State House OKs air pollution plan; program relies on voluntary efforts

By Mike Glover

The Des Moines Register

The House of Representatives has passed a bill that would ban cars downtown from April 20 through May 20, 1987, in an effort to reduce air pollution.

The bill, sponsored by Rep. Edward Smith, a Democrat from Des Moines, would require the State Department of Natural Resources to develop a plan for reducing emissions from vehicles in the downtown area.

The bill now heads for the Senate.

Library Hall

State Library

The Iowa City Public Library will host a book sale on Thursday, April 16, from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. The sale will feature a variety of books, including fiction, non-fiction, and children's books.

The sale is open to the public and will be held in the library's auditorium. All proceeds will go towards supporting the library's programs and services.

The art show will feature paintings, photographs, sculptures, and other works of art created by students in Winfield High School's art classes.

Alaska cleanup

By Cynthia Taylor

The Daily Iowan

The State was one of the Palmer family's recent victims, according to accounts from Alaska.

The Palmer family was killed by a volcano in 1980, which caused the family to evacuate and move to Alaska.

The family's home was located on the outskirts of Anchorage, and the volcano erupted, causing the family to evacuate.

The family members were reported missing and later discovered to be alive, but with burns and other injuries.

The volcano erupted again in 1989, killing several people and causing widespread destruction.

Tee-off

Jeffrey P. Martin was told by his organ donor coordinator at the University of Iowa Hospitals, 25 months after donating. He said that since donating, he has a new lease on life.

The demand for organs increases as more people become aware of organ transplantation. According to the Virginia Transplantation Foundation, 42 percent of the people who are currently on the organ transplant waiting list have been added to the list within the past year.

“Everyone should discuss organ donation with their family members...because it can make something like death a positive situation.”

Czechoslovakians rally for new elections

By Dan Petrella

The Associated Press

BUCHAREST, Jan. 10 - Protesters in a square crowded Bucharest's central landmark today to demand new elections in a noisy demonstration for the release of 180 political prisoners.

The crowd gathered in Union Square was shocked by the deaths of five workers killed when two crumbled highways and Fifty-three of the dead were in homes.

Environmental groups lack minority membership

By Cynthia Taylor

The Des Moines Democrat

The United States Senate last week approved a bill that would have withheld funds from a federal environmental coalition unless its membership was drawn from minority groups. The coalition is predominantly white.

"It's true that minorities are not involved in organized environmental groups, but that doesn't mean they're not involved in environmental issues," said Sen. Lautenberg (D-N.J.). "It's a problem that the whole black group is not involving itself in environmental issues and that's what we're focusing on.

"Every time I've been approached by a minority group and asked if they're interested in participating in an environmental coalition, they've told me that they don't have the time or the energy to do so."

"There's a lack of interest on the part of minorities in organized environmental issues."

"The problem is that minorities are not involved in environmental issues, but that's what we're focusing on."
Gorbachev foises outset attempt; says departure would lead to dictatorship

MOSCOW — President Mikhail Gorbachev on Wednesday announced his resignation and asked his party leader, Gennady Yeltsin, to take his place.

"I think that the Russian people have understood that it would be better for me to resign," he said before leaving Damascus.

Gorbachev’s announcement to the reformist leaders — including the Central Committee, the Communist party apparatus, the decision-making body of the party’s leadership — was a direct challenge to Yeltsin.

The process, he said, accomplished a transfer of power from Gorbachev to Yeltsin.

Also, Gorbachev has faced resignations of the party apparatus, the so-called Central Committee.

RESIDENCE HALL SECURITY

Get serious

On Saturday, December resident William Lauenroth awoke to find his room full of men. He was forced to break window and jump three stories to escape the flame. Fortunately, he suffered only minor injuries. But Lauenroth's case is not an anomaly. Injuries and the fire itself might have been prevented if University of Illinois police and public safety officers had been on duty.

Security problems have plagued UI residence halls throughout the year. The provost entered female residents' rooms and "made up" of clothing, the vice president patrolled through Bunge and submitted sets of vandalism. A resident on the third floor of the UI's newest residence hall, South Circle, was found dead on a hot plate with a towel over it was found in December; the cause of death was never determined. The resident remains in the residence halls prior to April 20, when Lauenroth made his story.

The UI responded to these security breaches with little or no action.

The UI residence halls are not as safe as they should be.

The provost incident resulted initially in no action other than quiet instructions to RAs in the affected buildings to remove or destroy evidence of wrongdoing. The signed and posted signs, applied, signs and flyers were distributed to all residents and posted throughout the dormitories. Patrolling was increased in the common areas.

"Please lock your doors, and confront strangers in your hall. Confront a fellow RA if you're not sure about his right and report any suspicious activity you observe. Your actions may equal the safety measures that we are taking," said a note.

If the plots spread, the federal government will be forced to intervene. The UI is currently being assessed a $700 million dollar fine for a lack of security. The fines will increase if the UI fails to comply with the government's demands.

The other component of the UI residence plan includes a police force of 1000 officers, a police department and the appointment of a full-time security officer. The new department will be immediately reorganized to prevent any security breaches.

The UI residence halls are the community's responsibility in the residence halls by its residents. The UI residence community is in trouble when the UI community is in trouble.

More serious while the UI residence community is in trouble is the problem of crime in the residence halls.

Carter won the presidency by campaigning against the Washington establishment. He had an honest and open presidency. However, aberrant, it is from these fundamental bases that the strength of his presidency emerged.

As a presidential hopeful, Carter told the public, "I will never lie to you." To attempt to restore public trust in government following the Watergate scandal, Carter used his presidency to bring about change. He did this by taking on the issue of energy dependency and its role in the energy crisis. George Bush, bearing slight resemblance to either Thomas Jefferson or Lincoln, time, space, and history in the words of the count of his plan for revitalizing American education.

The Italian Renaissance was financed by wealthy nation-states, while the Ralph Waldo Emerson, an educational revolution that has not yet been witnessed. But who is that "something else" that George Washington had in mind?

The Bush plan has seven major components, but the greatest ingredient is boundless. The plan will be long and slow process.

The Bush administration is allowing America's education system to remain intact, and the reeducation initiatives have gone from the origin of the Bush administration, to a plan, a plan that purports to paying away the state's money. The state's money is consistent with credible budgets, administration, and legislation, so another plan is expected to emerge.

The prime ingredient is chicken feed. The plan will be a failure because no plan is expected to emerge. The plan will be a failure because no plan is expected to emerge. Bush defends Sununu's extensive travel

By Nita Beese
The Associated Press
WASHINGTON — President Bush and Wednesday would review the White House travel record, suggesting Chief of Staff Nick Ayers' extensive travel abroad might be unnecessary.

Bush said he was considering the broader issue of the White House travel record when asked specifically about Ayers' recent trips, which have included visits to Europe, the Middle East and Asia.

"The president is aware of the issues and will review them," White House spokesman Dan Bartlett said.

Bush said Ayers had been traveling at the request of the administration.

"I don't think this is an issue that's going to be resolved in the course of a day," Bartlett said.

Separately, the Associated Press reported that Ayers had traveled to Peru on a personal trip.

Bush, who is a frequent traveler himself, has faced criticism from some in Congress for his frequent overseas trips.

"We're reviewing it," Bartlett said of the White House travel record.

Bush said he would consider the broader issue of the White House travel record, which he said includes both official and personal travel.

"That's an issue," he said.

Federal suit filed to gain access to Arkansas records

The Associated Press

PERRYVILLE, Ark. — The attorney general of Arkansas is seeking a court order to force the state Department of Environmental Quality to release information in some database searches.

Arkansas Attorney General Mike Hunter filed a motion in federal court Friday seeking information in a database search of names of women who have had abortions.

Hunter said he is seeking the information to determine if the state has complied with federal laws to protect women's privacy.

The lawsuit argues the state has failed to release all information in the database, which includes names, addresses and other identifying information.

The state has 30 days to respond to the lawsuit. If the state does not comply, Hunter said he will ask the court to issue a temporary restraining order.

The lawsuit also asks the court to order the state to release all information it has collected through the database search.

The case is Hunter v. Arkansas Department of Environmental Quality.

CLEVELAND — Rick Gibson tied a record with a game-winning home run in the ninth inning Wednesday night, giving the Cleveland Indians a 2-1 victory over the visiting Kansas City Royals.

Gibson hit his 12th home run of the season, tying the American League record held by New York Yankees' Don Mattingly and Chicago White Sox's Carlton Fisk.

The Indians' victory, combined with two losses by the Royals, kept the wild-card race in the American League tight.

Marinovich to Undergo Mandatory Counseling

By Associated Press

IRVINE, Calif. — Todd Marinovich, the former Southern Cal quarterback drafted in the first round by the Los Angeles Raiders, will spend a year in drug counseling and continue to play football, a judge and Wednesday.

The pro football player apologized in court to two Los Angeles County judges for using marijuana and cocaine, but he was sentenced to a year of drug counseling instead of prison. Judge Susan I. O'Sullivan ordered Marinovich to undergo counseling and said the pro football player shouldn't be allowed to return to the NFL until he proves himself in counseling.

The drug program includes psychological counseling. Marinovich must complete it before he can play in the NFL or make a $1 million personal appearance offer.

The length of the six-month drug program was determined because Marinovich will be traveling around the country with the Raiders, O'Sullivan said.

Marinovich attorney Gary Puhlman said the quarterback has been undergoing regular psychological counseling and will meet the terms of Wednesday's sentence.

"I hope that he continues on that road," Puhlman said. "I think this has been more on him than anyone else." Marinovich was not present in court.

Falcons, Bears bit by drug problem

The Associated Press

ATLANTA — Denver has given up on its waiver request of Jefferson, who was suspended for the past few years — or at least for the foreseeable future. The Falcons are still interested in the veteran receiver, so they can't go back on their word and release him. The NFL has suspended Jefferson for the next three games due to his drug violation.

Video teaches headbangers how to rock 'n' roll confidently

By Joseph Holt

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Though most fans of thrash-rock are too young to remember the heyday of rock 'n' roll, a new television commercial aims to change that.

A commercial for the popular rock band "The Lost Boys" introduces the concept of "Rock 'n' Roll Etiquette" to teenage thrash-rock fans. The commercial, which will be aired during music videos and on popular TV shows, intersperses hip music and lyrics with traditional rock 'n' roll etiquette.

"We want to teach our fans about some of the basic rules of rock 'n' roll," said lead singer of "The Lost Boys," John Doe. "We believe that everyone, regardless of age, should understand the etiquette of rock 'n' roll."
