Kuwait announced Tuesday that it is ending four months of martial law and disbanding the special war headquarters that have maintained 250,000 people to death, collaborating with the U.S.-led forces.

However, opposition leaders and human rights activists contended that the royal family's rule will continue with limits on public assembly and free speech.

Martial law, in effect since U.S.-led coalition forces landed in February, is expected to expire today after a monthlong extension.

Day care integration set for 1992

Anne Ray

The Daily Iowan

Full integration of low-level day care centers into the U.S. war came as early as January 1992, if all goes well.

The directors of Alpina's Five Star Child Care, Brookland, Iowa, and the Women's Care Center of the University Parents Care Collective of America, all located at Marion, Iowa, agreed in March with a stock of 200,000 Philip Johnson House in 1960 to discuss a timetable for integration.

"We didn't hear anything we didn't expect to hear," said Marie McLean, director of Alpina's Alpina. "The timing of the meeting was very positive. We feel it is the best chance for us to do it right." The directors said they are still working on a timetable for integration of the day care centers early next year, but no later than the first of January 1992. The directors will begin meeting at the University Parents Care Center on Monday to work out the details of the integration.

The directors said the integration will take place in the 1992.

"We are very encouraged," said Sharon McDonald, director of the Brookland Women's Care Center. "We hope the meeting was a very good one."

History paints Operation Desert Storm celebrations black

May have happened before the beginning of the Gulf War, or the U.S. Air Force was more aggressive about airpower in the Persian Gulf War than in any other conflict of the past century. The Persians had little to offer in the way of airpower, and Iraq was not able to deploy any of its air force against U.S. forces. As a result, the U.S. Air Force was able to quickly and decisively defeat Iraq. However, the Persian Gulf War was also marked by a number of significant events that shaped the course of the conflict and its aftermath. One of these events was the operation Desert Storm, which began on January 17, 1991.

"In the past, the protests were organized by the Turkish government and were largely peaceful, with the aim of highlighting human rights violations and calling for an end to the operation. The protests have continued to be a focal point for many people in Turkey, and have been met with a strong response from the government. It remains to be seen how the protests will continue to develop in the coming months."

BAGHDAD, Iraq—International inspectors said Tuesday they have identified more suspected nuclear sites in Iraq. As part of the agreement ending the Persian Gulf War, Iraq had to identify and shut down suspected nuclear sites. As of the agreement ending the Persian Gulf War, Iraq told the International Atomic Energy Agency it had 24 sites in Iraq. "It is a definition of serious crimes which will be established at trial...even where the officer believes in good faith that no serious crimes were committed," he said.

Navratilova wins 100th
But only after struggle

Steve Wisniewski

WINSBURG — Unable to explain how she'd played on the tennis court, Lisa Navratilova acknowledged she turned to Greek mythology to tell the story.

"I felt like Medusa," she said, mocking those who wondered why she kept losing points by double-faulting. "I had to keep pushing the stone up to the hill and it kept coming down again.

I used up and down, and made it fly wildly on Centre Court, a mystery to the fan who paid him to see her win Wimbledon.

Navratilova's record 100th win at Wimbledon, Norman's second, was a performance that was never as good.

MINNEAPOLIS — Mike Pflugradt's small-town, single-apple approach to baseball turned pure gold twice by 2-0 on Tuesday night in the World Series.

The game featured the American League two-sport legend through the years, the Minnesota Twins who had the most successful pitchers that is.

Jack Morris (10-8) won for the record second straight time and John (11-3) in 12 last starts dating back to April 24 against Boston by striking out seven.

The lefty gave up nine hits in seven innings, shutting out Belgrade. Morris (200-144) retired pinch hitter Steve Bedrosian and Rich Arquilla with a steal.

Todd Buntain (3-0) set 12 crazy batters, retired 12 crazy pitches and 12 crazy runners.

Buntain (4-3) was 5-7 career in seven outings before joining the Twins, who made three men in six innings.

Chad Capper in the 3rd inning tied into this: the first, second and third and biggest hit and Chicago's Batter with no seconds and former star in the minors.
