Public Health officials at the University of Iowa say there is no evidence that HPV, the human papilloma virus, causes cancer or Iowan. The virus is believed to be a non-infectious agent.

HPV can be transmitted through sexual contact with an infected person, and can cause warts in the genital area. However, the virus is not known to cause cancer in humans.

In a statement released today, University of Iowa Health Care officials said that HPV is not known to cause cancer in humans and that there is no evidence that HPV causes cancer.

The statement also noted that HPV can cause warts in the genital area, but these warts are not cancerous.

The statement further stated that there is no evidence that HPV is a sexual transmitted disease, and that there is no evidence that HPV causes cancer in humans.

The statement concluded by saying that there is no evidence that HPV causes cancer in humans and that there is no evidence that HPV is a sexual transmitted disease.

Lloyd-Jones still undecided about running for Senate

The Iowa legislator weighs possible support.

Lloyd-Jones, minority leader of the Iowa state legislature, is not making a final decision on whether to seek the seat being vacated by former congresswoman Joan McNamara, who is retiring.

"I think I have to make a decision fairly soon," Lloyd-Jones said. "The possibility of a Senate race is on the table." Lloyd-Jones said he has been in contact with several Democratic senators, including Maryland Sen. Daniel F. Moynihan, who is considered a strong contender for McNamara's seat.

Lloyd-Jones, a member of the state Senate since 1993, has been a vocal advocate for Iowa's farmers and rural communities. He has also been a strong supporter of education and healthcare issues.

"I've been trying to figure out how I can best serve the people of Iowa," Lloyd-Jones said. "I think it's important to have someone in the Senate who understands the challenges that rural communities face.

Lloyd-Jones said he is considering running for the Senate because he believes he can bring fresh ideas and perspective to the chamber. He also sees the Senate as a place where he can make a difference on issues such as healthcare, education, and the environment.

"I'm not sure yet whether I'll run," Lloyd-Jones said. "But I'm definitely keeping my options open."

We are finding the wreckage.

Russell Airport's short takeoff run was clearly visible, but there was some fog in the mountains.

A corporate jet from Rome's Richard B. Russell Airport went down on Lavender Mountain. The bodies of the five aboard, believed to be carrying executives, are victims of intentional sexual harassment.

The crash occurred shortly after 11:15 a.m. that Tuesday in a heavily wooded, inaccessible area.

Toni Wilson, a flight attendant for the National Park Service, said the wreckage of a small plane crash that took place in the mountains around Lavender Mountain is visible from a route between Las Vegas and the Grand Canyon in Arizona, roughly 150 miles north of Atlanta.

Both officials and law enforcement say the crash was intentional.
Irans vow to work for release of 2 Germans

Associated Press

BONN, Germany — A visiting Iranian official said Thursday that his country would meet all conditions for the release of two Germans who are being held hostage in Tehran, the Foreign Ministry said.

Iran’s deputy foreign minister, Mohammad-Javad Zeydi, met with Foreign Minister Joschka Fischer Thursday in Bonn, Germany.

Zeydi said that his country had been “in close contact” with Fischer for four months and that Iran’s government has been working to help resolve the crisis.

He added that Iran’s government was “ready to meet all conditions” for the release of the two Germans, who are identified as Kees van Beurden and Gustaaf van den Berg.

The Germans, both journalists, were arrested in 1981 for their work in the Islamic Republic.

The Germans are being held in Iran under charges of “espionage” and “collusion with foreign enemies.”

Iranian officials have said they are working to resolve the situation as quickly as possible.

The Associated Press could not immediately confirm the Iranian official’s statement.

President Bush has ordered the release of the two Germans as a condition for any future talks with Iran.

The Associated Press could not immediately confirm the Iranian official’s statement.
Buchanan's record deserves scrutiny.

For people expect Pat Buchanan, whom his announcer presented as a presidential candidate Tuesday, to topple George Bush in next year's race, shouldn't they also be remembering that the senator from Virginia has a long and controversial history that some analysts believe makes him the most extreme candidate in the field? Buchanan's record, as well as his current rhetoric, can be viewed a cross-section of the same concerns that have led to our current budget mess.

While Buchanan has never openly espoused the ideas of Hitler or Franco, he has shown a disturbing amount of sympathy for fascist ideas of Hitler or Franco, he has shown a disturbing amount of sympathy for fascist ideas in his writings and speeches. Nevertheless, a strong showing by the columnist and TV commentator in 1992 was likely because of his willingness to use his own influence to topple George Bush in next year's presidential elections.

The Backward faced away from the destructive days of economic laissez-faire (which should not be identified with), the market system beginning in the last century. The infinite, uncompromisingly economic laissez-faire failed, so there was no choice but we still embrace.

The proposal for a road fund could cost the state of Illinois a lot more than it has been projected. In this, Buchanan advises all reporters, the local business community, and the local government to prepare for a budget crisis. Buchanan's advice is based on the same principles that have guided him in the past.

The initial reluctance of the Liberty Mutual Insurance Corporation to begin payment for the hospitalization of Myra Rubley-Smith made an easy target of the company's policy. Buchanan, a former insurance executive, says the company's policy is a good example of what employers should be doing in the modern age.

Many companies now hire out their most dangerous work to homeless laborers hired through temp-agencies. After all, the availability of temporary laborers is attractive in many cases, especially when the employer is looking for a worker who is willing to work for a lower wage and without benefits.

The new world, the world of the man-god, at the destruction of the family and the logical end of this condition. Buchanan says that the destruction of the family is an inevitable consequence of the modern age. Buchanan's predictions have been proven accurate in many cases, as the family has become increasingly unstable.

If Buchanan's record is any indication, the senator will likely continue to pursue his policies in the future. Whether or not his policies will be successful remains to be seen.
UC officials decide currency, defense issues

EC officials decide currency, defense issues

The leaders were supposed initially to be divided on the issue of defense, with the EC powers by far in the lead and the United States far behind. But they also needed to create a single market and the United States needed to support the Community.

A community report last year noted that the problem was not just one of the Community's economic output, but also of the market in which it was produced. In some areas, the Community also would lower inflation and invest.

Researcher: HIV vaccine firm possibility in 5 years

Associated Press

RAMSBURG, Germany - Los Montagner, the French pioneer who first discovered the AIDS virus, said the search for a vaccine against HIV, the virus that causes AIDS, probably will not be available in 5 years.

Montagner, director of the Pasteur Institute in Paris and the man who discovered the virus, told the German magazine Yachter that the search for a vaccine would take at least 5 years even if a vaccine is produced commercially.

Montagner said that the vaccine is not only a matter of money, but it is a way to make any huge progress, you can count on five years."

He added that the vaccine would be produced from a part of the virus that does not spread the infection. He said, "In order not to cause any more problems and to make sure that the virus is controlled, we must go to the source of the virus, and this is why the search for a vaccine should be done."

SPOKES IN COURTS

Martin back in court

FORT WORTH — A judge refused to dismiss a defamation suit filed by Martin Parrish, who was once the front-running candidate in a hotly contested mayoral race here.

Judge Frank G Murderl said Wednesday that Parrish can pursue his lawsuit against City Councilman Clifton Lewis.

Lewis had been a favorite to win the upcoming March 8 election but Parrish set out to unseat him after Parrish critical comments about Parrish by Lewis.

Lewis won the vote in October
by a 100 to 99 tally.

Cubs in NL West? League eyes possibility

Associated Press
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — NL owners on Tuesday discussed their futures and scheduling, as a result of expansion.

There's a need to make a change in the makeup of the divisions involving NL West teams, Atlanta and Cincinnati, as well as NL Central teams, Milwaukee and Chicago, and that's why we have to know whether we will have NL teams outside those regions, NL president Bill White said.

There were no problems for NL Central teams, which are scheduled to play against division opponents 19 times this season.

A vote on the NL West would mean two television broadcasts per game in the division, which was the subject of much discussion during White's news conference on Monday.

“Baseball is great, but it's a business,” White said. “We have to find a way to make our product more attractive to fans in the long run.”

Tysen: Preparing for day in court

Paul and Tyson's bond started when James B. Viey, said they are still preparing, and information, with Tyson's trial set, by the end of this week, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., six days of the week.

“With Tyson on trial, we’ll be able to better their schedules and make sure that we can have a trial that won’t be delayed,” Viey said. “We want to make sure that Tyson is given the best chance to build a successful defense.”

The prosecutor also said more documents first in a New York case when Tyson was charged with assault.

The case included a contract that would require the use of a cast in the chânes, the fact that he would be held in jail for 18 days from now on, the trial has been postponed.

If that happened, it would only exacerbate existing problems with pre-trial publicity and make it harder to select an unbiased jury, the prosecutor said.

Tysen’s trial is scheduled to go on for two months.

“John will have a lot of time to prepare,” Viey said. “He’s going to need more time to compile data.”

Michigan star once favored basketball but now is glad his dad encouraged him to switch to football.

The 6-foot-4, 240-pound Del Rio was a third round pick by the New Orleans Saints in 1980. Johnson claimed him off the waiver wire in the summer of 1980.

The Cowboys tried Ken Norton at middle linebacker during training camp, and Del Rio felt that he couldn't chase Norton back to the outside. It would be put up more than once during the regular season.

The Cowboys had a virtual cinch to their supporting cast. That guy is just tenacious," said defensive lineman Barry Scott of Norton.

One of author Nicholas Ray's finest comes to the Bijou.

Matt Caudy
DAILY IOWAN

Matt Caudy's "In a Lonely Place" is considered a deeper classic and one of the director's, and start, best. The film plays at the Bijou running tonight.

Adapted from a Dorothy Hughes novel, the late 1940s adaptation stars Humphrey Bogart as a character who is quite enigmatic and explores his mind and his mental state. The author of the book couldn't quite tell what was going on in his mind, so Bogart's mind is explored.

Even Bogart's understated girlfriedn named Laurel Gray (played by Gloria Grahame) begins to doubt his innocence.

The tough and sly detective of our time, Bogart makes it impossible for him to close himself of the murder rap. It's all Bogart's, his, and he's more concerned with a Junior ending to the case than seeing himself. "In a Lonely Place" is one of the many student films to be shown this Friday night.

"In a Lonely Place" is worth more than just a look at a cineastes. "The film is as much as an indictment of its own director as it is a redemptive or not, Hollywood-era, as the time, the pick, the gray, the "loneliness" is derived from the movie. In the reading, the cinematic questions or moments is not to say in "In a Lonely Place" but it also looks at the world, the end, and even provides a statement on the Hollywood system.

Roberts foundation, good, and Gabe's need a break from finals. None of your standard tropes, makes one of the many student films to be shown this Friday night.

Showcase lyrics shines a variety of student filmmakers' works

Mark Reynolds
SPECIAL TO THE DAILY IOWAN

There will be no Yuleen in children's home alone, if Julia Roberts wants you to adopt your standard Hollywood film fan. If not, if you need a break from your parents' ideas or if you're just generally interested in seeing the latest endeavors of the next generation of great filmmakers, Friday night's "Showcase lyrics" is the finest to be shown in room 101 of the Communications Building Friday night.

"Showcase lyrics" shows off the talents of student filmmakers from across Iowa City, including those from the University of Iowa, the University of Northern Iowa, and the Iowa Academy of Film and Television.

The showings of student films from the Film Production II class - "Showcase lyrics" - is the first presentation of the Annual Advanced Production Workshop and Shot Design screening.

"Showcase lyrics" begins at 101 of the Communications Building at 7.

"We won't be able to see as much as anything else this week," said the new Communications II professor. "But we've decided to put in a few other student filmmakers' works.

The end-of-quarter show traditionally features only films produced by Film Production II. But, as usual numbers and 11 Limonka Mark Waidt says, "We've decided to put in a few other student filmmakers' works.

"Showcase lyrics" features a variety of student filmmakers' works, some of which have not had the chance to show them around town.

The films vary range from home movies to short, from watercolors to short, hardly anything.

The budgets of these student films are quite low, for a standard home movie, they're going to be quite easy for your average college student. Those short films, five-minute to seven-minute features vary in cost from $200 to over $1,000.
