Alternative proposed to ACT road-closing plan

by Lynne M. Tefft
New Daily Iowan

In preparation for another public hearing on the possible closing of Old Dubuque Road, the Iowa City City Council and Planning and Zoning Commission created a new proposed route to connect South Dubuque Street-Highway 1 in the center of the road, at a joint committee meeting Tuesday night.

The new route would incorporate a portion of Old Dubuque Road for a short distance, then merge north of the 10-year-old plant.

Mayor Darrel Courtney

INVESTIGATION ON

32 injured, 3 missing in Ind. plant explosion

Bob Ross
Associated Press

EVANSVILLE, Ind. — An explosion in a part of a power plant caused injuries to 32 workers in a blast that also sent a second water tower over a short concrete barrier, said state police.

Several of the injured people were seriously burned, authorities said.

The blast sent a second water tower over a short concrete barrier, said state police. A wall was blown from the building, and workers fell onto the highway from the roof.

Several of the injured people were transported to hospitals in the area.

The United States and Soviet Union cooperated in the manned Apollo-Soyuz space flight in 1975, which is planned for next year.

National

American-Russian space flight planned

MOSCOW, Russia—A

American and Russian launch vehicles will put a space station on orbit in the next 90 days, NATO said.

The United States and Soviet Union cooperated in the manned Apollo-Soyuz space flight in 1975, which is planned for next year.

The estimated cost of the project was $10 billion, with the co-workers paying one-fourth of the cost each.

The estimated cost of the project was $10 billion, with the co-workers paying one-fourth of the cost each.

Robert J. Dole

Republican senator

The override vote depended on extra-terrestrial lobbying campaigns by the White House, which wanted to block a bill that would allow the president to lift sanctions against the Soviet Union.

While many council and commission members voted against closing Old Dubuque Road, those who supported the closing idea said it would be cheaper to close the road than to fix the road.

The new option will be discussed when the city council meets next week.

The council will discuss the new option when it meets next week.

The new option will be discussed when the city council meets next week.

The council will discuss the new option when it meets next week.

The council will discuss the new option when it meets next week.

The council will discuss the new option when it meets next week.
Iowa said. Last season, each broadcast...

One of Coffey’s goals for the program is to get as many people as possible to listen by drawing from as many of the network’s listeners as possible, and to keep the same cast. For this reason, Coffey has been promoting the program in different ways, such as through advertisements on local radio stations.

Iowa, who is the president of the Iowa Press Association, is also a member of the National Association of Broadcasters.

Coffey said that the program has been well-received, with many listeners expressing interest in attending the lectures.

The program has also received positive reviews from the Iowa Press Association, which has praised the program for its high-quality content and its ability to attract a broad audience.

In summary, the Iowa Press Association is a valuable resource for Iowa residents, providing information on the latest news and events in Iowa.
Iowa Graduate School of Business presents the Graduate School of Business Center for International Programs Thursday, November 5th as the quarter's final event. The Center for International Programs presents a forum for the discussion of international issues and events. The forum will feature speakers from a variety of fields, including business, politics, and academia. The forum will also provide an opportunity for students and faculty to engage with each other and to learn from the perspectives of others. The forum is open to the public and will be held in the University Center at 1:00 p.m. For more information, please contact the Center for International Programs at 335-2265.
Local trade good despite economy

Jude Sandrock

The Daily Iowan

Although the national economic climate continues to tail, along with little in terms of growth, Iowa City-area retailers have a positive outlook for the upcoming holiday season. The Iowa City Chamber of Commerce, the local group that represents most of the businesses in Iowa City, says the holidays are in store for a good season.

"We're very optimistic about the holiday season," said Rachel Reasoner, a sales representative for the chamber.

Reasoner said that while the Iowa City area is doing better than many other places, the local economy is a cause for concern.

"I think everyone is working harder to stay on top," she said.

Many local business people and politicians have expressed concerns about the state of the Iowa City economy, particularly in terms of consumer spending and business investment.

"I'm feeling a little bit better about things," said Iowa City Mayor Steve Maslowski. "But we still have a long way to go."
Police find it difficult to stop IC jaywalkers

Lynn M. Tefft
The Daily Iowan
For many students, the quickest way to class or work involves crossing the street at any spot possible point, with little regard for crossing signals or signs. It's a game of getting from point A to point B in the least time possible without violating traffic laws.

Police said that while jaywalking is not prohibited by law, it is a traffic offense. Under Iowa law, all drivers must stop at intersections and pedestrian crossings. Drivers must also yield to pedestrians crossing the street at a marked crosswalk or within an unmarked crosswalk at an intersection. If you don't, it is considered a violation of the law.

According to the Iowa City Police Department, jaywalking is more prevalent during the warmer months. It is estimated that jaywalking accounts for about 10% of traffic citations issued in Iowa City.

The Iowa City Police Department has been conducting a jaywalking study since 2010. The study has shown that jaywalking is more prevalent on days with warmer temperatures and lower precipitation. The study also showed that jaywalking is more common on weekdays than weekends.

The Iowa City Police Department has been working with the Iowa City Community Planning and Development Department to install more crosswalks and pedestrian signals in the city. The department has also been increasing its presence in areas where jaywalking is more prevalent.

Despite these efforts, jaywalking continues to be a problem in Iowa City. The Iowa City Police Department has been working with the University of Iowa to develop a jaywalking prevention program. The program will include educational campaigns and public service announcements.

For more information, please visit the Iowa City Police Department's website at http://www.icpolice.com.
Pocket veto must be averred

Tens of thousands of Chinese students will face the wrath of their country's government for their support of the democracy movement in Tiananmen Square. Thousands will fear the very real risk of indefinite incarceration and the specter of onerous and oppressive surveillance. At the present time, the bill faces a probable pocket veto by President Reagan. A pocket veto could easily be carried out.

What will be placed at risk by this veto are the safety of these very Chinese students (and the families of these Chinese students) for believing in our democracy. It was the Senate President Bill Bradley and House Speaker Thomas Foley who sponsored the bill (S. 1380). The U.S. House of Representatives overwhelmingly passed the legislation by a vote of 419 to 1. The Senate passed it by a vote of 95 to 2.

Let us hope that our president does not fail to do that which the majority of his fellow citizens have done. Let us hope that the Clinton administration will take a position for preventing this bill from becoming a law.

_AUGUST 21, 1989_
Sect prepares for Oct. 28 Apocalypse

Officials worry that believers will commit suicide if the world does not end as expected.

Kim Shilling Turey Associated Press

BUCH, Beach Knox - Knox County's most feared cult, the Bhagwan Rajneesh Foundation, is preparing for a potential nationwide apocalyptic event.

The sect, whose members believe in the end of the world, plans to hold a massive gathering in the town of Adina, according to a spokesperson for the group.

The event is scheduled for Oct. 28, the same day as the 40th anniversary of theation of American Airlines Flight 191, which crashed in Chicago.

The group has been planning the event for months, and has reportedly rented a large hall in the town to accommodate the expected crowd of thousands.

Officials worry that if the event goes as planned, some members may try to take their own lives.

"We are concerned that some members may be in danger of committing suicide," said the spokesperson.

The group has been known to use extreme tactics in the past, including burning down a monastery and murdering a rival cult leader.

But even if the event doesn't go as planned, some members may still be left in questionable mental states.

"We are concerned that some members may be left with psychological scars," said the spokesperson.

The group has a history of using manipulation and control to keep members in their fold, and officials worry that some members may be vulnerable to further manipulation.

"We are concerned that some members may be vulnerable to further manipulation," said the spokesperson.

The group has been in the news recently for its involvement in a dispute over a piece of land.

"We are concerned that some members may be involved in a land dispute," said the spokesperson.

The group has been known to use violence and intimidation to get what it wants, and officials worry that some members may be at risk of further conflict.

"We are concerned that some members may be at risk of further conflict," said the spokesperson.

The group has a history of using violence and intimidation to get what it wants, and officials worry that some members may be at risk of further conflict.
CABLE BILL

Continued from Page 1A to protect them from the erosion of civil liberties.

The bill would require the Federal Communications Commission to adopt rules under which table-computer companies could provide video programming. The FCC's rules are designed to increase competition from satellite providers by requiring cable companies to provide expanded programming services.

In addition, the bill would require cable companies to provide competition to local newspapers, where localism is designed to ensure that local cable companies can compete with national newspapers.

In addition, the bill would require cable companies to provide competition to local newspapers, where localism is designed to ensure that local cable companies can compete with national newspapers.

In addition, the bill would require cable companies to provide competition to local newspapers, where localism is designed to ensure that local cable companies can compete with national newspapers.
Pirates hoping third time is charm in NLCS

Alan Robinson
Associated Press

ATLANTA — Barry Bonds has bowed out of the Pittsburgh Pirates and Philadelphia Phillies are in a must-win situation. That’s the major league playoffs rematch that will see Atlanta Braves pitcher Billy Wagner throw at Mariano Rivera.

The Pirates, who lost two straight games to the Braves on Sept. 30 and Oct. 1, must win tonight or fall behind two games to none. Under Manager Bobby Valentine, the Pirates — not unlike Chicago’s White Sox on a playoff trip to the big time at Arlington Stadium in October 1984 — were a batting-bullpen team with Rivera, close to unhittable.

Opening day for the NLCS will be not long after 7:30 p.m. at Atlanta’s 20,000-seat Fulton County Stadium.

The young, aggressive Atlanta team that was one game behind the Dodgers and Philadelphia in 1976 and 1977 might not be an instant replay of thephiladelphia victory.

Women’s basketball

Iowa State has reached the NCAA Tournament by winning the Big Ten Conference tournament.

Lisa Tomlinson
Associated Press

The Hawkeyes (19-13, 8-10) advance to the NCAA tournament for the fourth consecutive year and third time in four years.

Iowa State, which had lost its last four games, is the only Big Ten team with an NCAA tournament berth.

Iowa State women’s basketball coach Lisa Tomlinson said the Big Ten Conference tournament was important for the team.

“Winning the conference tournament is just as important as getting the NCAA bid,” Tomlinson said. “It’s a big accomplishment for our team.”

The Hawkeyes will play an NCAA tournament first round game on March 14.

Pirates hoping third time is charm in NLCS

unusual about the Venezuelan capital was Grant Field, where the No. 2 Hawkeyes play.

The city was not only surrounded by slums but also by the hustle and bustle of the outside world.

“I love the city,” said Bryant.

“All the people running around are so friendly. The hustle and bustle of the city is what makes it a great place to play.”

Bryant added that she would love to play for the United States in the 2024 Olympic Games.

“I would love to play for the United States in 2024,” she said.

“I’ve always wanted to play for the United States. It’s been a dream of mine since I was little.”

All majors are

Bielema out for season

Former Hawkeye coach Hayden Fry said.

“Stacey Arnold will undergo surgery. She will walk. We are just a s disappointed as we were in 1984 when Barry Bonds had surgery and they were named amateur and Olympic heptathlon gold medalist Isadora Cunningham four plays later. The Eagles broke the 2-yard bootleg for a TD by Randall Cunningham with 1:34 left in the fourth quarter.

The U.S. team was trying to qualify for the 2024 World Cup Tournament in Buenos Aires, 30 minutes.

The Eagles flew to 31-27 whipping

The Eagles broke the 2-yard bootleg for a TD by Randall Cunningham with 1:34 left in the fourth quarter.

The U.S. team was trying to qualify for the 2024 World Cup Tournament in Buenos Aires, 30 minutes.

The Eagles flew to 31-27 whipping

The Eagles broke the 2-yard bootleg for a TD by Randall Cunningham with 1:34 left in the fourth quarter.

The U.S. team was trying to qualify for the 2024 World Cup Tournament in Buenos Aires, 30 minutes.
Continued from Page 12

Rickey Henderson, it was not the same the past two seasons. "I don't think it's that much of a difference. The baseball is so even that it makes it hard to "That's in the past," Bonds said of the 13 RBIs in 13 games of 1991. "We don't live in the past." The Pirates--mistimed hitters, too, on one hit. "I didn't get many of those in the past. The last time in the series when the Pirates also used a lefty, didn't get a good at-bat. I was looking for a fastball." Bonds said.

"We bought out Passions and all the kind of things," Bryant said.

"There was little time for Bryant and her ness as a measure of her life. "I thought about the team a lot. I really couldn't talk much about myself, does not talk much about himself, not even about his e. "I'm the most talked-about player on the field, to be honest," he said. But Bonds has never faced him, and he'll be hard

"I heard a lot about myself as a person and as a player. It was a nice in a lifetime opportunity."
Iowa coupon!

Pressure Banks

Greyhound Pints with freshly squeezed juice

8pm - Close

The Daily Iowan

The Mill Restaurant

The Daily Iowan

The Daily Iowan

The Daily Iowan

The Daily Iowan

The Daily Iowan

The Daily Iowan

The Daily Iowan

The Daily Iowan
Tartt’s 1st novel, ‘Secret History,’ finds success

Spicy Web

The Daily Iowan

Can a novel which is exclusive literature and filled with intractable characters and a plot that leaves you severe all night, cured in bed reading with the same intensity that you dive into a Harry Potter or Stephen King book, make it into the literary world with the same success and recognition? It earned for itself a promising novel that has won deals with Alan Rich and the 524-page book which was eight the literary world with the half-million dollar advance and a thriller style. The novel focuses on Richard Papen, a poor little lost of the murder of a boy named desolate Plano.

Record companies take closer look at police songs

David Bausil

The legacy of the “Cop Killer” album has come up with a method to defy the corporate parent. Time Warner, who has come up with a method to defy the corporate parent. Time Warner, who has come up with a method to defy the corporate parent. Time Warner, who has come up with a method to defy the corporate parent. Time Warner, who has come up with a method to defy the corporate parent.

Red Army dance troupe deities gravity at Hancher

Michelle-Therese Farlow

The Daily Iowan

The Red Army dance troupe, a group of world-renowned dancers, took to the stage at the Hancher Auditorium, where they performed a dynamic and synchronized routine that left the audience breathless. The troupe, known for their acrobatic and athletic performances, showcased their skills in a way that was both entertaining and impressive. The audience was captivated by the dancers’ ability to execute complex movements with precision and grace, making the performance a truly memorable experience. The troupe’s skilled dancers and their powerful choreography left the audience in awe, making it a night to remember.
Barry Williams and Betsy Lushin star in "City of Angels" playing tonight through Thursday at Hancher Auditorium.

Greg Brady comes to Hancher in award-winning "City of Angels".