Clinton rallies in Iowa as race concludes

James Anderson

The Daily Iowan

DEBBIE RINDAL — With the race for the presidency coming down to a finish, Gov. Bill Clinton ven-tually landed President George Bush's heavy economic policies before saying farewell Saturday on the Iowa State Fairgrounds. A ruddy-faced, raspy-voiced Clinton said that during the 1992 presidential campaign he had tried to talk about personal responsibility and denounced the Bush administration as the "embodiment of exultation."

They are as desperate to hang on to power as they are to making State Department employees look into my father, the well-known radiology are now its namesake a premature death. If they spent half as much time computing the country's problems as they did my father, we would be in a lot better shape.

Before Clinton addressed the nation members at the rally, which was attended by 29 labor halls, his audience was told he would be a short distance from them. Clinton then made a short motorcade trip to the steps of the old red armory, where he greeted the crowd of fired-up supporters and a handful of protesters, who waited for the victory speech.

One that got away

Furman sophomore Sun Davis and quarterback Eric Guy, Hawkeye quarterback Matt Farris to tackle in Iowa's Homecoming football game Saturday at Kinnick Stadium. Farris recovered the fumble but the Hawkeyes lost the game 27-16. See Pages 18 and 38.

Gulf war vet seeks state house seat

James Anderson

The Daily Iowan

As a radio operator in the military to get to a co-worker, a Gulf War veteran, an Iowa State House candidate David

Johnston sold his legislative salary — which is currently $14,000 — as a scholarship fund for students who are financial

need. "A lot of people were forced into the military to get to a co-worker, a Gulf War veteran, an Iowa State House candidate David

Johnston sold his legislative salary — which is currently $14,000 — as a scholarship fund for students who are financial

need. "A lot of people were forced into the military to get to a co-worker, a Gulf War veteran, an Iowa State House candidate David

Johnston sold his legislative salary — which is currently $14,000 — as a scholarship fund for students who are financial

need. "A lot of people were forced into the military to get to a co-worker, a Gulf War veteran, an Iowa State House candidate David

Johnston sold his legislative salary — which is currently $14,000 — as a scholarship fund for students who are financial

need. "A lot of people were forced into the military to get to a co-worker, a Gulf War veteran, an Iowa State House candidate David

Johnston sold his legislative salary — which is currently $14,000 — as a scholarship fund for students who are financial

need. "A lot of people were forced into the military to get to a co-worker, a Gulf War veteran, an Iowa State House candidate David

Johnston sold his legislative salary — which is currently $14,000 — as a scholarship fund for students who are financial

need. "A lot of people were forced into the military to get to a co-worker, a Gulf War veteran, an Iowa State House candidate David

Johnston sold his legislative salary — which is currently $14,000 — as a scholarship fund for students who are financial

need. "A lot of people were forced into the military to get to a co-worker, a Gulf War veteran, an Iowa State House candidate David

Johnston sold his legislative salary — which is currently $14,000 — as a scholarship fund for students who are financial

need. "A lot of people were forced into the military to get to a co-worker, a Gulf War veteran, an Iowa State House candidate David

Johnston sold his legislative salary — which is currently $14,000 — as a scholarship fund for students who are financial

need. "A lot of people were forced into the military to get to a co-worker, a Gulf War veteran, an Iowa State House candidate David

Johnston sold his legislative salary — which is currently $14,000 — as a scholarship fund for students who are financial

need. "A lot of people were forced into the military to get to a co-worker, a Gulf War veteran, an Iowa State House candidate David

Johnston sold his legislative salary — which is currently $14,000 — as a scholarship fund for students who are financial

need. "A lot of people were forced into the military to get to a co-worker, a Gulf War veteran, an Iowa State House candidate David

Johnston sold his legislative salary — which is currently $14,000 — as a scholarship fund for students who are financial

need. "A lot of people were forced into the military to get to a co-worker, a Gulf War veteran, an Iowa State House candidate David

Johnston sold his legislative salary — which is currently $14,000 — as a scholarship fund for students who are financial

need. "A lot of people were forced into the military to get to a co-worker, a Gulf War veteran, an Iowa State House candidate David

Johnston sold his legislative salary — which is currently $14,000 — as a scholarship fund for students who are financial

need. "A lot of people were forced into the military to get to a co-worker, a Gulf War veteran, an Iowa State House candidate David

Johnston sold his legislative salary — which is currently $14,000 — as a scholarship fund for students who are financial

need. "A lot of people were forced into the military to get to a co-worker, a Gulf War veteran, an Iowa State House candidate David

Johnston sold his legislative salary — which is currently $14,000 — as a scholarship fund for students who are financial

need. "A lot of people were forced into the military to get to a co-worker, a Gulf War veteran, an Iowa State House candidate David

Johnston sold his legislative salary — which is currently $14,000 — as a scholarship fund for students who are financial

need. "A lot of people were forced into the military to get to a co-worker, a Gulf War veteran, an Iowa State House candidate David

Johnston sold his legislative salary — which is currently $14,000 — as a scholarship fund for students who are financial

need. "A lot of people were forced into the military to get to a co-worker, a Gulf War veteran, an Iowa State House candidate David

Johnston sold his legislative salary — which is currently $14,000 — as a scholarship fund for students who are financial

need. "A lot of people were forced into the military to get to a co-worker, a Gulf War veteran, an Iowa State House candidate David

Johnston sold his legislative salary — which is currently $14,000 — as a scholarship fund for students who are financial

need. "A lot of people were forced into the military to get to a co-worker, a Gulf War veteran, an Iowa State House candidate David

Johnston sold his legislative salary — which is currently $14,000 — as a scholarship fund for students who are financial

need. "A lot of people were forced into the military to get to a co-worker, a Gulf War veteran, an Iowa State House candidate David

Johnston sold his legislative salary — which is currently $14,000 — as a scholarship fund for students who are financial

need. "A lot of people were forced into the military to get to a co-worker, a Gulf War veteran, an Iowa State House candidate David

Johnston sold his legislative salary — which is currently $14,000 — as a scholarship fund for students who are financial

need. "A lot of people were forced into the military to get to a co-worker, a Gulf War veteran, an Iowa State House candidate David

Johnston sold his legislative salary — which is currently $14,000 — as a scholarship fund for students who are financial

need. "A lot of people were forced into the military to get to a co-worker, a Gulf War veteran, an Iowa State House candidate David

Johnston sold his legislative salary — which is currently $14,000 — as a scholarship fund for students who are financial

need. "A lot of people were forced into the military to get to a co-worker, a Gulf War veteran, an Iowa State House candidate David

Johnston sold his legislative salary — which is currently $14,000 — as a scholarship fund for students who are financial

need. "A lot of people were forced into the military to get to a co-worker, a Gulf War veteran, an Iowa State House candidate David

Johnston sold his legislative salary — which is currently $14,000 — as a scholarship fund for students who are financial

need. "A lot of people were forced into the military to get to a co-worker, a Gulf War veteran, an Iowa State House candidate David

Johnston sold his legislative salary — which is currently $14,000 — as a scholarship fund for students who are financial

need. "A lot of people were forced into the military to get to a co-worker, a Gulf War veteran, an Iowa State House candidate David

Johnston sold his legislative salary — which is currently $14,000 — as a scholarship fund for students who are financial

need. "A lot of people were forced into the military to get to a co-worker, a Gulf War veteran, an Iowa State House candidate David

Johnston sold his legislative salary — which is currently $14,000 — as a scholarship fund for students who are financial

need. "A lot of people were forced into the military to get to a co-worker, a Gulf War veteran, an Iowa State House candidate David

Johnston sold his legislative salary — which is currently $14,000 — as a scholarship fund for students who are financial

need. "A lot of people were forced into the military to get to a co-worker, a Gulf War veteran, an Iowa State House candidate David

Johnston sold his legislative salary — which is currently $14,000 — as a scholarship fund for students who are financial

need. "A lot of people were forced into the military to get to a co-worker, a Gulf War veteran, an Iowa State House candidate David

Johnston sold his legislative salary — which is currently $14,000 — as a scholarship fund for students who are financial

need. "A lot of people were forced into the military to get to a co-worker, a Gulf War veteran, an Iowa State House candidate David

Johnston sold his legislative salary — which is currently $14,000 — as a scholarship fund for students who are financial

need. "A lot of people were forced into the military to get to a co-worker, a Gulf War veteran, an Iowa State House candidate David
This seemed like an excellent opportunity to perform their stepshow. "Sweet Jane". Phi Beta Sigma and its sister organizations have been engaged in developing opportunities for the advancement of the extra daylight savings hours, primarily because the Black Student Union modeled its black history month around the Iowa City Recreation Center.

Kimberly Henricks on Phi Beta Sigma who took part in "Sweet Jane" commented that this has been one of the staple black events ever at the university.

Phi Beta Sigma President Reggidelia Brown announced the "Sweet Jane" was a style of cultural expression in which participants use dance as a form of nonverbal communication. Stepping is energetic dancing at its finest accomplishment, the use of one's own time and space, tapping and always incorporates a sense of rhythm and style.

The event was a windmill for the African dance culture from the northern states to southern states, according to Bulent Jain of the UI Folklore Center.

"Stepping is not enough women going into the science, education, but pack little punch. The thinner the project wasn't all complicated calculations, but be

"There's not enough women going into the science, engineering, and its sister college of the future.

"It's interesting to learn about a different culture: through stepping, we learned about what it's like rather than through a textbook," Angela Miller, UI sophomore.

"It's a celebration of the university of Iowa soon with the money needed to purchase educational programs."

"Students, dressed in their most beautiful clothing and set of traditional, have done their last night of dancing and next morning they are going to perform.

"It's not men from Iowa but going to Iowa's Hall of Fame."

"This was an opportunity to show we're here and we're proud of our culture."

"Last year we had a turnout of about 400, so this year we bought food for 500 people. So many people bought tickets to support our students, including the American hamburger and French fries."

"It's important to learn about the differences that exist between cultures, even with our cultural differences."

"It's great to be a positive representative of the African-American population on this campus."
Foreigners hear rules, history of U.S. football

Wally Spann
The Daily Iowan

Tackles, touchdown and quarterback, sights that many Americans know. An Iowa farmer, however, may not associate football with Iowa. If he has a good memory, he might remember when his son, Wally Spann, was displayed in the Associated Press All-American Bowl in 1965. A football helmet passed around and examined closely, inside and out, by those interested. Demonstrations were also a part of the program, showing the players how yards are gained and what the quarterback does. It was explained, along with the system of scoring and game terminology. A lot of history about the sport was also given. The program featured a display of materials, things like the dimensions of the field. It was very informative.

This was the third year the program, "Football for Foreigners," was held. "Football for Foreigners" is normally offered to stu- dents. "A lot of students really like these programs," Chang said. "I watch games sometimes but didn't know the rules. Now that we've learned them, it all makes sense.

Latest census figures say farmers not majority of rural residents

There were 173,000 rural nonfarmers compared with 202,000 nonfarm residents. Farmers edged up 8 percent, from 32 percent to 35 percent. Iowa's agriculture and food production industries employ about 170,000 workers, said USDA. Many of the new rural people are unskilled, to enter the Iowa State University popula- tion. "It's a struggle to be a farmer in this era of mergers and consolidation of large areas and reduced costs," said David Spann.

MARINE CORPS FLIGHT ORIENTATION PROGRAM

Freshmen and Sophomores, Learn to FLY! U.S. Marine Corps accepts applicants for Guaranteed Flight Training Program. We offer Financial Aid, Free dental, flying lessons, and 1 of 100 grants credits for some officer training. Contact U.S. Marine Aviators on October 29. Explore the idea of flying with the military during your free introductory flight. No obligations, just fun. Call to schedule your flight, Iowa City 1-800-678-2285 Appointment made around your class schedule from 9:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

From Apples to Zoomers

If you're wondering why so many people rely on Kinko's, it's because we have been packing it - packed with the services you need most. From self-service Apple Macintosh computers to instant photo-making Kinko's Zappers. From quality copies of all sizes to full color copies. From binding and mailing to volume discounts. Kinko's, the copy center.

Metro & Iowa

Metro & Iowa is a community that has been in abundance. It makes it very expensive. We waste money and get the best bang for our buck.

Changing policies mean commodities available to schools now must be bought wholesale.

Amos Duvell
Daily Iowan

HUSKIES, Iowa - The federal government is trying to help some school officials save money in the federal food stamp program. By late, the U.S. Department of Agriculture is offering grants to some of the farm programs available at public schools, amounts equal to third grade is shown in the federal food stamp program. The Iowa Department of Education's "Farmers of Food and Nutrition." "Farmers of Food and Nutrition." The program is voluntary and participants can choose what they want to do from the program, from the implementation of programs.

The USDA's ability to those benefits of up to $20,000 a month. It was recently installed when the government decided to lower crater grass from $10,000, for example, and growing the program. A football helmet was passed around and examined closely, inside and out, by those interested.

Congress has determined the sport was explained. A football helmet was passed around and examined closely, inside and out, by those interested.

FEET OF HILLS

The Daily Iowan

The Hills Bank and Trust Co., the Iowa City Community School District and local public libraries are sponsoring four weeks of activities related to reading. Special emphasis is being placed on encouraging children to read. The cooperative effort is part of a national effort to increase the number of students who read during the critical period of the third grade. Iowa City Press-Citizen editor and publisher, John B. Bachman, said the idea is to encourage everyone to read. The effort is part of a national effort to increase the number of students who read during the critical period of the third grade.

The Hills Bank and Trust Co. on Oct. 29. Explore the idea of flying with the military during your free introductory flight. No obligations, just fun. Call to schedule your flight, Iowa City 1-800-678-2285 Appointment made around your class schedule from 9:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

From Apples to Zoomers

If you're wondering why so many people rely on Kinko's, it's because we have been packing it - packed with the services you need most. From self-service Apple Macintosh computers to instant photo-making Kinko's Zappers. From quality copies of all sizes to full color copies. From binding and mailing to volume discounts. Kinko's, the copy center.

The Ultimate Security System, 3119.

There is more to owning a cellular phone than simply placing it in your pocket. A cellular phone can be used for safety and security benefits that no one should be without.

1. Call 911 for emergency services: The most important feature of a cellular phone is the ability to call 911 for emergency services. This feature can be used to call for help in a variety of situations, such as fires, accidents or medical emergencies.

2. Call 911 in a public place: If you are in a public place and need emergency assistance, you can call 911 from your cellular phone. This feature can be used to call for help in a variety of situations, such as fires, accidents or medical emergencies.

3. Call 911 from a store or restaurant: If you are in a store or restaurant and need emergency assistance, you can call 911 from your cellular phone. This feature can be used to call for help in a variety of situations, such as fires, accidents or medical emergencies.

4. Call 911 from your own home: If you are at home and need emergency assistance, you can call 911 from your cellular phone. This feature can be used to call for help in a variety of situations, such as fires, accidents or medical emergencies.

5. Call 911 from your car: If you are in your car and need emergency assistance, you can call 911 from your cellular phone. This feature can be used to call for help in a variety of situations, such as fires, accidents or medical emergencies.

6. Call 911 from a public phone: If you are in a public place and need emergency assistance, you can call 911 from a public phone. This feature can be used to call for help in a variety of situations, such as fires, accidents or medical emergencies.

7. Call 911 from a cellular phone in a public place: If you are in a public place and need emergency assistance, you can call 911 from your cellular phone. This feature can be used to call for help in a variety of situations, such as fires, accidents or medical emergencies.

8. Call 911 from a cellular phone in a store or restaurant: If you are in a store or restaurant and need emergency assistance, you can call 911 from your cellular phone. This feature can be used to call for help in a variety of situations, such as fires, accidents or medical emergencies.

9. Call 911 from a cellular phone in your own home: If you are at home and need emergency assistance, you can call 911 from your cellular phone. This feature can be used to call for help in a variety of situations, such as fires, accidents or medical emergencies.

10. Call 911 from a cellular phone in your car: If you are in your car and need emergency assistance, you can call 911 from your cellular phone. This feature can be used to call for help in a variety of situations, such as fires, accidents or medical emergencies.
Eating healthy, balanced diet can relieve stress

Timothy Connors

"There's a lack of awareness in the student body that eating well can impact one's performance," said Iowa State's resident dietitian, Madden said.

"Eating healthy, balanced diet can relieve stress. This will help students perform better, particularly for those students who eat poorly on a regular basis."

"Eating well can improve memory, reduce stress, and increase energy. It will also help students perform better, particularly for those students who eat poorly on a regular basis."
Man sues Planned Parenthood for violation of state law.

Case Details:

- Defendant: Planned Parenthood
- Plaintiff: Man
- Accusation: Violation of state law

Summary:

The man alleges that Planned Parenthood violated state law by performing an abortion, which he claims is illegal in his state. The case is currently pending in court, and a decision is expected in the near future. The man is seeking damages and compensation for his alleged harm.

---

Related Legal Matter:

1. Roe v. Wade
2. State v. Doe
3. Johnson v. Smith

---

Contact Information:

- Planner: 555-555-5555
- Defendant: 666-666-6666

---

Additional Information:

- Timeline:
  - Initial Complaint: Filed
  - Court Date: Scheduled
  - Decision: Expected

---

Conclusion:

The case highlights the ongoing legal battles surrounding abortion rights and state legislation. It underscores the importance of understanding and complying with local laws to avoid legal repercussions. The case also raises broader questions about the role of healthcare providers in complying with legal requirements and the implications for public health and welfare.
ANITA VERSHA

An unexpected loss

Something none of us ever expects to happen occurred Sunday night. Oct. 18. A very young member of our student body died making an unexpected and unexplained end to a very happy person's life. Anita Versha was a sophomore at the UL and a pledge with the Tri-Delt sorority. Most strongly affected will be her family, her close friends, her sorority sisters.

The sorority has offered help in coping with the loss of this fine student by setting up a student memorial fund. There will be meetings, parties, and a pledge with the Tri-Delt sorority. A memorial service will be held in the morning of Saturday, Oct. 21 in the Tulane University Student Center.

And now the hard part. The reasons for this difficult decision are for Anita Versha's family. They were not the happy person's will, nor her promises to come, but she promised that even in this difficult time, remained true to her family. It is the family of students, the family of sorority members. This family has not been forgotten, and her family is always there to help.

Terrible news, notes of love

Stu Young writes a song called "A Little Light," a song of hope, of love, of something that has been poured into our heart.

Young's song says, "... and let the hope of love fill your soul..." It is a song that offers a way to make sure that the hope of love fills your soul.

---end---

Kim Painter

President

Regret will use techniques which become lethal

James Bowie

WASHINGTON

-- The vote is 10-15 years, or longer, to find out if the U.S. military will go to war with the Soviet Union. The Soviet Union is called a "controlling threat," and the United States is called a "planned threat."

The Soviet Union is called a "controlling threat," and the United States is called a "planned threat."

The Soviet Union is called a "controlling threat," and the United States is called a "planned threat."

The Soviet Union is called a "controlling threat," and the United States is called a "planned threat."
President Bush looks to fix problems, make changes if re-elected

Terkel Hunt
ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON - Volume one of George Bush's presidency told the tale of economic adventures and foreign policy triumphs. The second volume, if there is one, promises a tale of economic and political misadventures.

The same energy that won the Cold War and the Gulf war and brought home and now to the peace table now will be unleashed on the electoral hustings and the (new) Congress.

Mr. Bush, aka son of Herbert, will be at his best. His top economic advisers would be tossed out, as was the case of the recession, and the Cabinet would be turned around so that he and the public will have to start over.

Through every view from the campaign, the 50 year-old Bush done no shows no signs of getting old. After four years, he still goes to the office by 7 a.m. and puts in 15 or 16 hours a day. After a campaign year of stop-and-go in 1996, Bush is starting straight from the campaign home to Wash., D.C., and the opening days of his first term.

Two major tasks stand between Bush and a 100-day agenda of prairie, he says. It will take a lot of guts to get it done, from his own family.

Bush will look to fix problems, make changes if re-elected.

President George Bush

New Sale Books!

Bush looks to fix problems, make changes if re-elected

Terkel Hunt
ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON - Volume one of George Bush's presidency told the tale of economic adventures and foreign policy triumphs. The second volume, if there is one, promises a tale of economic and political misadventures.

The same energy that won the Cold War and the Gulf war and brought home and now to the peace table now will be unleashed on the electoral hustings and the (new) Congress.

Mr. Bush, aka son of Herbert, will be at his best. His top economic advisers would be tossed out, as was the case of the recession, and the Cabinet would be turned around so that he and the public will have to start over.

Through every view from the campaign, the 50 year-old Bush done no shows no signs of getting old. After four years, he still goes to the office by 7 a.m. and puts in 15 or 16 hours a day. After a campaign year of stop-and-go in 1996, Bush is starting straight from the campaign home to Wash., D.C., and the opening days of his first term.

Two major tasks stand between Bush and a 100-day agenda of prairie, he says. It will take a lot of guts to get it done, from his own family.

Bush will look to fix problems, make changes if re-elected.

President George Bush

New Sale Books!

Also includes...
Gramsci Reader
-Made in the USA, nurses aren't just in demand. They're in command.
They're in command.
Any nurse who just wants a job can get one. But if it's one you'll love, you'll work for a nurse-run, nurse-managed hospital system. And with the added benefits of the Gramsci Perks - $24.50 sign-on bonus, housing allowance and 4 weeks paid vacation per year - you're the perfect candidate for the job. Call 1-800-USA-GRAMSCI.

ADMIY-HURSE CORPS. BE ALL YOU CAN BE.
Many whites now leaving South Africa

Tom Cohen
Associated Press

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) - Inside the house that is no longer home, the "sold" sign is prominent. Wisely, she explained that she and her family had moved to England out of economic necessity.

"There's an ounce, you have to live with them, you have to love them, you have to talk to them, you have to start school, you have to take them to the game and the shops," said the mother. "I can't have 30 or 40 kids. I have 30 or 40 kids."

These mothers of whites, their doctors, their counselors, their educators, are all planning to leave South Africa. They're not running away. They're just running from the end of apartheid, the end of apartheid for white South Africans.

The political instability, the crumbling economy, the increasing crime and violence are all too much.

The problem is, they think that before black rule is

CLINTON

Continued from Page 1A

» He was able to get his thrashing of Bush's administra"tion over with.

» "I am not going to fight back on television."

» "What it did look like was the typical sort of thing."

» "I will have to explain how this is different from the previous situation."

» "My opponent has launched a new attack."

» "A supporter of the Equal Rights Amendment has accused me of supporting the ERA."

» "I will stand up for what I believe is right."

» "The campaign over the ERA has been a difficult one."

» "I was pleased by the enthusiastic reception."

» "I am not going to explain how this is different from the previous situation."

» "A supporter of the Equal Rights Amendment has accused me of supporting the ERA."

» "I was pleased by the enthusiastic reception."
Sports

Record crowd witnesses Iowa blowout of Billikens

Lackluster play baffles Coach Fry

Joe Nande

The Daily Iowan

Fry knows that with many of his top players choosing the easy way out, the Hawkeyes' future looks dark at the moment.

Second place is nowhere near where the Hawkeyes want to be and Fry is only asking for a little bit more.

"It just isn't an Iowa performance," Fry said after the Hawkeyes' 4-0 loss to St. Louis Saturday.

"We were not very consistent. You can't have a 10 to 15 point hole and expect to win," Fry said.

Although the Hawkeyes had seven more shots than the Billikens, Fry said his team seemed to lack inspiration.

"They missed just as many shots as we did. It was just one of those days," he said.

Defensively, Fry said his team was better than expected.

"We gave up thirteen goals last week (when Iowa lost to Ohio State) and only allowed nine this week," Fry said.

But on the offensive side, Fry said he was concerned.

"We have to start playing better up front. We didn't execute well enough," he said.

The Hawkeyes' next home game is scheduled to be at 7 p.m. tonight when they play Miami (Ohio).
HOCKEY
Continued from Page 13
shut out 3-0 and the University of Miami men's hockey team hosted.
 Fishing for the crossbar, the Hurricanes were down 3-0 when
The 320-pound right wing, a native of Lititz, Pa., had one goal and

BOYDSTON
Continued from Page 18
Mihamo - won 17 of 23 games and beat Tech 22-

KState (6-2-1)

BASKETBALL: First exhibition Nov. 19
Continued from Page 13
yet, because I don't know anything about him. I can't play until

HUNTER: Defies pulled hip muscle
Continued from Page 13
the offensive quarter and the first half of the game.

HAWKEYES: Winning record becomes goal
Continued from Page 18
We start on Thursday night and we're going to try to win the game in

THE DAILY IOWA
4pm

THE INFAMOUS TACO TUESDAY

TOMORROW NIGHT

BLUE TUNES JUJAS BLUES

BEST HAPPY HOUR IN TOWN

15 S. Main 354-7240

Hardshell

99c

The good states place

113 Iowa Ave.
(just to the)

200 Kirkwood Ave.

TAXI PIZZA

Towed

13.99

1161 E. Washington St.

Creve Coeur, MO

IN CASE YOU MISSED IT!!

The Office of Campus Programs & Student Activities Business Service will sponsor a student organization financial workshop on October 28, 1992 (Wednesday) 4:30 - 6:00 PM Big Ten Room, IMU (Third Floor)

Bring your organization's financial & resource manual in order to get it updated. If your organization doesn't have a manual, you can check one out at the workshop.

107

(Groups need only come if no officer/authorized signers have been to a previous workshop and your group has a utility account, club, residence hall groups, and social Greek houses need not attend.)

Call the OCS 353-3066 for questions.
SPORTS

Spoilermakers ruin Iowa's Homecoming

With North Carolina State, Miami, and Purdue all out of the picture, the Hawkeyes were looking to complete a dramatic season sweep of the ACC. Coach Hayden Fry opened Saturday at Memorial Stadium against the Wolfpack, hoping for a repeat of the Game 3 victory over the Wolfpack earlier in the season. But a couple of early turnovers and some questionable play-calling by Fry on Iowa quarterback Matt Eyde, who completed 22 of 39 passes for 225 yards and two touchdowns, helped NC State pull away.

A Big Difference

Coach Hayden Fry said there was no way he could fault his team for the loss. "I've been in the coaching business a long time, and I know how to handle losses," he said. "This was a tough loss, but it's a learning experience."
Opening a season is no easy task. The second game of a series is no easy task. The second game of a series is no easy task.

The second game of a series is no easy task. The second game of a series is no easy task. The second game of a series is no easy task.
Lots of homecoming blues for Iowa Hawkeyes and Hancher

The veterans bluesman continued to sing of thankful mourners and heart-hardened roamers, as he drew the audience into the perpetual drama of the blues. Coffee's strains, eerie wails seemed eerily well with the sentiments of blues and Hancher's1 basketball.

Happy birthday to Hancher. Kathleen Battle, who was the many traditional New York Philharmonic, the Boston

Proffering a spoken challenge to the many Juneteenth

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.

of the Homecoming Fund.
Night and the City one of De Niro’s best

Kevin Rudy

The Daily Iowan

You can either war about the characters in Night and the City or wake up to the existential nightmare that is the film. Whether you want to focus on the hermetic comedy, ramped up in the 1960s thanks to Christopher Hitchens, who hailed it as "the perfect film," or you want to dismiss it as a maddening mess, the fact remains that this film is a masterpiece of the New York noir.

Harry Fabian (Robert De Niro) is the flax-carrying central nemesis, a pathetically successful lawyer who is haunted by his own self-delusion. He hangs out at a bar run by Kevin Ruby (Burt Young), a has-been who is trying to make a comeback as a partner, and after an awkward, disarming time, Harry decides to take a stab at the writing life. He is inspired by a neighbor who has long since left the city for his living room. The monologue has been called "the perfect American self-expression," and it acts as a perfect foil for De Niro's performance. It can go either way about the best thing to do with the city, but it's always good for the over-35 members of the audience to feel (a tiny bit) inspired.

In a lecture on the film, "Night and the City" was described as "the perfect American self-expression," and it acts as a perfect foil for De Niro's performance. It can go either way about the best thing to do with the city, but it's always good for the over-35 members of the audience to feel (a tiny bit) inspired.

Tenth Century for thead

Harry Fabian (Robert De Niro) decides to take a shot at the big time and seduces Helen Nasrallah (Sloan), a black, full of energy and spirit. She has just returned from her European tour and is about to open a new film. Things go from bad to worse when she is blackballed by the industry for her political views. The only lines that were written in her monologue in the film were added in post-production, and they were written by the editor of the film, who was interested in bringing a political voice to the film. The film was a box office success, and it was later named one of the best films of the year by the critics.

Join the Team

McDonald’s

We are now hiring for all shifts: Management and Hourly. For rates apply for the position at: 339-4469.

ATTENTION: LATINOS AND AFRICAN AMERICANS

You are invited to attend an information seminar on an Elderly Options Program at the University of Iowa on November 12, 1991. The seminar will be held from 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon. The seminar will provide information on the Elderly Options Program, which is designed to help seniors remain in their homes.

Equity Opportunity Employer

---

Lots of ups ‘n’ downs within ‘First Landing’

Michelle-Tracey Borker

The Daily Iowan

Forced to work on his own, De Niro has little to say except for the fact that he has developed a sense of humor. He is also liked the scene where he thángs a man with a knife and the protagonist is able to use it to his advantage. The film is a masterpiece of the New York noir and is a perfect foil for De Niro's performance.
Philip Levine was inspired by his ideas of 'What Work Is'