

The Daily Iowan

|                  |                  |                  |
|------------------|------------------|------------------|
| MON              | TUES             | WED              |
|                  |                  |                  |
| Hi: 65Lo: 38 | Hi: 59Lo: 35 | Hi: 53Lo: 32 |

MONDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1992

IOWA CITY'S MORNING NEWSPAPER

25c

NewsBriefs

$1 million suit filed against Johnson County authorities

A Dubuque man awaiting trial in the Johnson County Jail is suing the Johnson County Sheriff, the Johnson County Jail and the Johnson County Jail doctor for $1 million. In handwritten charges mailed to the Johnson County Courthouse, Ronald Oldham accused the defendants of refusal of medical treatment and malpractice. Oldham claimed the jail staff, despite having knowledge of his past medical history, refused him treatment for four days after his request when he re-injured his wrist in their custody. A month after the injury took place according to Oldham, he was checked into UI Hospitals and Clinics Oct. 7 for surgery on his wrist. Oldham is scheduled for a Nov. 30 trial on the charge of burglary in the third degree.

NATIONAL

19 injured at Miami Dolphins football stadium

MIAMI (AP) — Fans pounding on a glass partition during a Miami Dolphins football game on Sunday broke through it and sent glass showering onto a crowd below, injuring 19 people, authorities said. Two were seriously hurt, although their injuries didn't appear to be life threatening. Authorities said some of the injured were treated at Joe Robbie Stadium, where the incident occurred during the game between the Dolphins and Indianapolis Colts.

Thomas Edison finally receives college degree

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — Inventor Thomas Edison finally received his college degree Sunday, 61 years after his death. Thomas Edison State College conferred on its namesake a Bachelor of Science degree for lifetime achievement. "Academically speaking, Thomas Edison was a late bloomer, witnessed by the fact that it took him 61 years to get his degree," said Barry Sloane, Edison's great-grandson, who accepted the honor. College President George A. Pruitt said the degree was not honorary but was earned by Edison.

INTERNATIONAL

Fireworks explosion kills 25 during Indian holiday

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — An explosion in a fireworks shop during a national holiday celebration Sunday started a fire that killed at least 25 people and injured 100. The explosion in the eastern city of Jaria occurred as millions of Hindus across India celebrated Diwali, the festival of lights, with fireworks and lamps. The Press Trust of India news agency said at least 100 people were feared trapped in the rubble of several buildings destroyed by the explosion and fire.

INDEX

|                         |    |
|-------------------------|----|
| Features                | 2A |
| Metro & Iowa            | 3A |
| Calendar/News of Record | 5A |
| Viewpoints              | 6A |
| Nation/World            | 7A |
| Arts/Entertainment      | 5B |
| Movies                  | 5B |
| Classifieds             | 6B |
| Comics/Crossword        | 8B |

IOWA POLITICAL STOCK MARKET

| PRESIDENTIAL MARKET (in cents) | Value  | Change |
|--------------------------------|--------|--------|
| BUSH                           | 46.2 c | NC     |
| CLINTON                        | 54.2 c | +1.2 c |

For more information, call 335-0881.
NC: no change

Clinton rallies in Iowa as race concludes

James Anderson
The Daily Iowan

DES MOINES — With the race for the presidency careening towards its finish, Gov. Bill Clinton verbally hammered President George Bush's economic policies before roaring crowds at two campaign rallies Saturday on the Iowa State Fairgrounds.

The Democratic Party's presidential nominee courted support from AFL-CIO union members at a "get out the vote" rally and from those attending an outdoor campaign rally open to the public. It was Clinton's third trip to Iowa since he was nominated for president.

"George Bush tells you to watch your wallet," Clinton said, "but he is the one who has been picking it for four years."

Clinton then made his case before the capacity crowd of AFL-CIO union members and families gathered in an exhibition hall on the Iowa State Fairgrounds, on why his presidency would be better for working Americans.

A ruddy-faced, raspy-voiced Clinton said the final 10 days of the presidential campaign are about having "the courage to change," a theme which has been the core of the Arkansas governor's campaign. He said change must be fair and that the Bush administration is the "embodiment of unfairness."

Clinton said that during the 1992 presidential campaign he has tried to talk about personal responsibility and skewered the Bush administration for authorizing State Department searches into confidential files.

"They are so desperate to hang onto power they are sending State Department cronies to look into my mother, the well-known subversive," Clinton said sarcastically. "If they spent half as much time investigating the country's problems as they did my mother we would be in a lot better shape."

Before Clinton addressed the union members at the rally, which was televised live from Des Moines to 29 labor halls in 31 states, his running mate, Sen. Al Gore, spoke via satellite from a labor hall in Louisville, Ky., also pummeling President Bush.

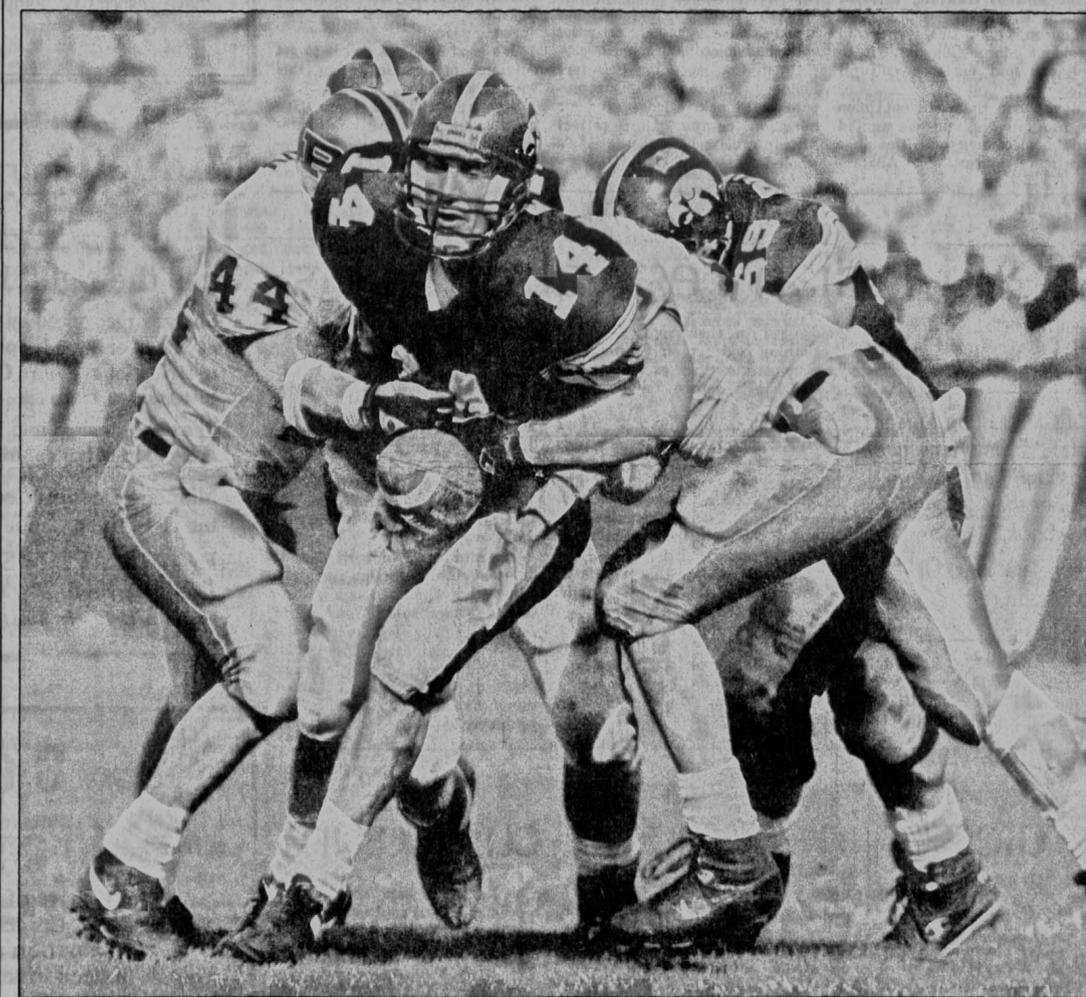

Clinton then made a short motorcade commute across the fairgrounds to the steps of the old red brick administration buildings where he was greeted by thousands of fired-up supporters and a handful of protesters, who waited in the balmy October sun.

Shedding his blue blazer to deliver a campaign stump speech to those gathered under toasted brown autumn leaves, Clinton continued

Carl Bonnett/The Daily Iowan

With only eight more days left for shaking hands and giving speeches, Bill Clinton jumps into the crowd for the obligatory "handshake and thank you" after his speech in Des Moines on Saturday.

Al Goldis/The Daily Iowan

One that got away

Purdue linebacker Don Dely and noseguard Eric Gray force Hawkeye quarterback Matt Eyde to fumble in Iowa's Homecoming football game Saturday at Kinnick Stadium. Eyde recovered the fumble but the Hawkeyes lost the game 27-16. See Pages 1B and 3B.

MOTIVATED BY EXPERIENCES

Gulf war vet seeks state house seat

James Anderson
The Daily Iowan

As a radar operator in a hawk anti-aircraft missile battery during the Persian Gulf War, Iowa State House candidate David Johnson said that what he witnessed in combat motivated him to run for public office.

"A lot of people were forced into joining the military to get a career," Johnson said. "If I can prevent one high-school graduate from making the same mistake I did, it would be satisfying."

If elected to the 49th District state house seat, Johnson said he would donate one-third of his legislative salary — which is currently $18,000 — to a scholarship fund for schools in the legislative district so that students in financial need would not have to join the military. He added he would put "pressure"

DAVID JOHNSON

Seeking election to a 2-year term in Iowa House of Representatives, District 49.
Party: Independent.

Born: June 3, 1965
Chicago, Ill.

Education: Currently enrolled at UI. Studying art and photography.

Military Service: Persian Gulf War Veteran.

David Johnson

on other legislators to do the same. In an attempt to reduce the state budget deficit, Johnson said the "peace dividend" should be taken to the state level and that the 3.2 million dollars Iowa taxpayers spend on the Iowa National Guard Armory should be redirected.

"This is definitely an area I want to target," Johnson said.

The West Branch, Iowa native said that being a state legislator is not something he wants to make a career out of but is running to fulfill a "moral obligation" to himself.

"It looks wonderful on your record and will help create an atmosphere that young people are going to live in," Johnson said.

Johnson said his policy views are "close" to those of the incumbent Democrat Bob Dvorsky. However as an independent candidate, Johnson feels he is at an advan-

See JOHNSON, Page 8A

DEBATE INCREASES IN FINAL DAYS

Last ERA drives begin as election day nears

Mike Glover
Associated Press

DES MOINES — Opposing sides in the Iowa Equal Rights Amendment battle characterized each other as zealots Saturday as they launched final organizational drives for an election only 10 days away.

"This is a dangerous crowd who will do anything to win and we must stop them right here in Iowa," said ERA supporter Eleanor Smeal, founder of the Feminist Majority Foundation. "If we don't stop them here we will find the nation will have to deal with them in 1996."

"We ought to know what kind of radicals are supporting the Equal Rights Amendment," Phyllis Schlafly said later at a rally of ERA opponents. "They are for the whole gay and lesbian agenda."

Feminist activists, labor leaders and politicians spoke at a pro-ERA rally Saturday morning on the steps of the Statehouse in an effort to fire up backers for an election-day grassroots effort. Schafly, head of the Alton, Illinois-based Eagle Forum, spoke to more than 300 people at the anti-ERA rally Saturday afternoon in downtown Des Moines.

Voters will be asked Nov. 3 to add the ERA to the state's constitution. Iowa is the only state in the nation this year voting on an ERA, and the campaign has drawn wide attention from around the country.

Main opposition has come from the religious right headed by Pat Robertson's Christian Coalition, but the 250 people attending Saturday's pro-ERA rally warned that the reverberations of the voting will be heard around the country.

Lynn Cutler, vice chairwoman of the Democratic National Committee, pointed to the growing influence of the Republican Party's right wing and said a defeat for the

See ERA RALLY, Page 8A

RELIEF SUSPENDED

Airlifts to Somalia halted due to gunfire

G.G. LaBelle
Associated Press

MOGADISHU, Somalia — An American plane delivering food to the starving in the central town of Baidoa was struck by a bullet on Sunday, and the United States suspended its airlift.

An American spokesman said workers did not know who had fired on the cargo plane.

Relief agencies are caring for an estimated 80,000 people in Baidoa, which is among the towns hardest hit by Somalia's famine. However, relief officials say the situation has improved with increased deliveries of food, and the daily death toll has dropped from a high of about 350 to 70.

Drought and war have killed more than 100,000 people in Somalia this year, and another 2 million are on the verge of starvation.

Clan warfare and banditry have periodically forced the suspension of international food airlifts, underscoring the difficulties relief workers face. As much as half the nearly 200,000 tons of relief supplies delivered to Somalia this year has been looted.

It was the second time a U.S. plane was hit by gunfire since the Americans began their emergency airlift of food on Aug. 21. Another C-130 was hit by a stray bullet on Sept. 18 in the western town of Belet Huen, causing a two-week

See SOMALIA, Page 8A

Features

HOMECOMING ALTERNATIVES PROVIDED

BSU 'embraces cultural differences'

Crowd entertained by stepshow, crowning of new king, queen

Timothy Connors
The Daily Iowan

"I've seen this show. This show is dope!" Master of Ceremonies Bill Knight shouted over the microphone to an audience of 150 only seconds before eight of his Phi Beta Sigma brothers took center stage to perform their stepshow "Sweet Juice."

Phi Beta Sigma and its sister sorority Zeta Phi Beta took full advantage of the extra daylight savings hour Saturday night, performing their stepshows after the Black Student Union crowned its homecoming king and queen at the Iowa City Recreation Center.

Kitonga Kiminyo, a member of Phi Beta Sigma who took part in "Sweet Juice" commented, "This has been one of the staple black events here at the university."

Phi Beta Sigma President Reggie Harris described stepping as "a style of cultural expression in which we create rhythmic beats with our hands, feet and body."

Stepping is energetic dancing, at times accompanied by music and cane tapping and almost always accompanied by hand clapping, foot stomping and chanting.

Shortly after the Black Student Union's 12:30 a.m. coronation, the audience formed a circle for the five Zeta Phi Betas to perform their 15-minute show.

Lashundra Hill, a Zeta Phi Beta pledge and performer, commented,

"Stepping is not easy, it takes a lot of time and a lot of practice."

The half-hour performance of "Sweet Juice" opened shortly before 1 a.m. with satiric imitations of the step styles of the three other African-American fraternities on campus. One stepper held a mirror to his face in imitation of a fraternity.

Signaling the end of imitations, the steppers peeled off their outer shirts to display their own letters, commencing a show of elaborately choreographed motions and chants.

Harris, who also was one of the steppers, said stepping "symbolizes working together to express ourselves culturally."

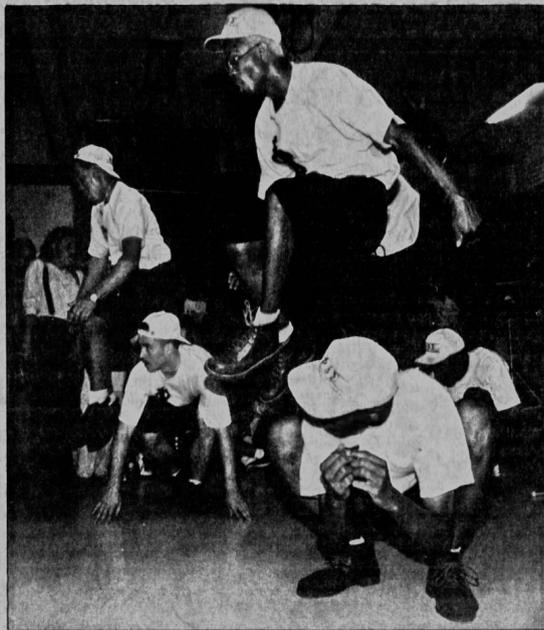

Charles Greer, another "Sweet Juice" participant said he has enjoyed the three weeks of preparation for this show.

"It's just brothers getting together, enjoying each other," added Greer.

The steppers said this show was useful, as well as entertaining, because it provided valuable experience for the step competitions put on by the Black Greek Conferences held in April.

The aim of crowning a Black Student Union homecoming king and queen is not to be divisive, said President Marci Cannon, but to "enhance and embrace cultural differences."

Maya Gavin, Black Student Union program director, said "We wanted some homecoming activities that were more interesting to African-

Al Goldis/The Daily Iowan

Members of the Phi Beta Sigma fraternity perform during their "Sweet Juice" stepshow Saturday night at the Iowa City Recreation Center.

American students."

In the future, Gavin said she hoped to have some joint activities with the homecoming council.

Union Corresponding Secretary Shanequa Smith said, "Our purpose is to acknowledge students here on campus that reflect African-American students as a whole."

Irwin Thomas and Stephanie Bryant were crowned king and queen.

"It's good for black people to get out and honor each other this way," Thomas said.

Bryant said of her award, "It's great to be a positive representation of the African-American population on this campus."

'DIWALI' CELEBRATES NEW YEAR

Over 500 attend Indian Festival of Lights

Lesley Kennedy
The Daily Iowan

Over 500 people from both India and the United States converged at the Union Saturday night to experience Indian food, dancing and storytelling.

The Indian Festival of Lights, an annual event known as Diwali, was celebrated in conjunction with the Indian New Year in October. The festivities included Indian foods, traditional dress, folk dancing and storytelling.

The night began with several cultural dances from the northern and southern parts of India, according to Rahul Jain of the UI India Association.

After the dances, a skit was performed by a group of children about Diwali.

"Diwali comes from Hindu mythology," Jain said. "It's a celebration of the return of King Rama to India after he spent 14 years in exile."

"It's interesting to learn about a different culture through participation rather than through a textbook,"

Angela Miller, UI sophomore

Jain said that when King Rama returned, the Indian people dressed in their most beautiful clothing and set off fireworks to demonstrate their excitement for the King's return to his home country.

"Diwali means a line of lights and on Rama's return the country was lighted in celebration," he said.

Following the skit a dinner was served featuring Indian foods such as curry dishes and rice pulao. The rest of the night included informal dancing and socializing.

According to Jain, this year's festival attracted the highest turnout ever.

"Last year there was a turnout of about 400, so this year we bought enough food for 500 people. So many people bought tickets that we had to stop selling them," Jain said.

UI sophomore Angela Miller was one of 200 Americans in attendance.

"I've met some people from India since I've been here and I'm interested in their culture. This seemed like a good way to see what it's like," she said.

Miller said seeing the traditional dances and later attempting to perform them was her favorite part of the evening.

"It's interesting to learn about a different culture through participation rather than through a textbook," Miller said. "You get to experience things like eating the food which is a lot different than the American hamburger and french fries. You can read about things like that all you want but you never get to experience it."

EXPLORING SPACE THROUGH MATH

NASA aids professor in recreating curriculum

The assistant math professor from Iowa used her time to develop an imaginary trip to Mars.

Elizabeth Bloom

Associated Press

WATERLOO — One Iowa professor is going to take a journey to Mars. And she plans to take her students with her.

Marcia Hoalt, assistant professor of math at Ellsworth Community College in Iowa Falls, spent 10 weeks last summer at the NASA Lewis Research Center in Cleveland, Ohio, where she developed a curriculum for teaching high school science and math students about taking an imaginary trip to Mars.

Hoalt, 41, applied for the fellowship last spring through the American Society of Engineer Educators. She said she believed the position was tailor-made for her.

"I was a (math) student and then a teacher. This seemed like an excellent opportunity to get out in the field," she said.

Hoalt was one of two of the 58 fellows who did not hold a doctorate and one of only three women on the project, which may explain why they accepted her with only a master's degree, Hoalt said.

"There's not enough women going into the technical areas," she explained. "As the need grows, we will have to expand the number of women and minorities going into those areas."

During the program, Hoalt interviewed scientists, researchers and mathematicians on prolonged space travel, development of a long-term space station and data collected from Mars.

Mars is one of the lightweight planets, meaning it has less atmosphere than Earth, less surface space and only one-third the amount of gravity.

Hoalt said Martian storms carry winds of 400 to 500 mph, but pack little punch. The thinner atmosphere gives the gusts no more force than a 50 mph wind on Earth. The scope of the dust storms, however, are incredible, at times covering the entire planet.

Between the winds and solar radiation that filters through the thin atmosphere, chances are slim that people could actually settle on the planet, Hoalt said.

An engineering school in Minnesota already is working on a model for an underground station on Mars. But perhaps a bigger obstacle is just getting there.

Long-term exposure to zero gravity holds a host of problems, Hoalt said. It becomes difficult to concentrate. Muscles lose their tone, blood collects around the heart and calcium begins to leak out of the bones into the blood stream.

Rewards from Mars may come on the technological side. Crystals, for example, grow faster and with fewer flaws in zero gravity, leading to speculation that zero-gravity micro chips may usher in the computers of the future.

"Some scientists claim that the next jump in technology is going to occur with what we learn from the space station, with prolonged scientific experiments," Hoalt said.

The project wasn't all complicated calculations. When considering how a transport ship might travel through Mars's dust storms, the group set up a big fan and dropped makeshift landing units into the blast. The winner was an old-fashioned parachute.

The teachers tried to communicate the same sense of fun in the problems devised for the manual. Hoalt said teachers need to rekindle interest in science and math, which aren't as popular at a time when the country should be developing its next crop of researchers, Hoalt said.

"The generation of people who are going to go to Mars have been born. They're in elementary school," Hoalt said.

If YOU break the law, you have to pay the piper. When the City Council breaks the law, the mayor calls it "nipped on a technicality."

Issue #2 on
THE SANDERS GROUP
Monday 6:30 pm
Channel 26/25
The Sanders Group is available on video cassette at the I.C. Public Library

Study Abroad FAIR

October 27, 1:00-5:30 PM
International Center Lounge

Representatives from various organizations throughout the United States, Mexico, and Europe will be on hand to discuss opportunities for travel and study abroad. Information about credit and non-credit programs for summer, semester, or academic year study and travel will be available.

Study Abroad Center
28 International Center

The Mears Law Office is pleased to announce that Patrick Ingram and Julia Mears have, respectively, joined and returned to the firm.

Minnette DODERER

Does the right thing:

- ✓ She was recognized by the Iowa City Press-Citizen as one of only 36 people who have made significant contributions to Iowa City during its 150 year history.
- ✓ She was admitted into Iowa's Hall of Fame in recognition of her contributions to the citizens of Iowa.

Minnette Doderer doesn't just talk about doing the right thing ... she does it.

DEMOCRAT FOR STATE REPRESENTATIVE DISTRICT 45

Paid for by Doderer for State Representative, Jinx Davison, treasurer

See 8 countries in one day.

A representative of Central College Abroad will visit the University of Iowa soon with information on study abroad opportunities in six European countries, China, and Mexico. Debbie Blaine, an international studies counselor at Central College, will be at the study abroad fair held in the International Center lounge from 1 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 27. Check it out!

- Carmarthen, Wales
- Granada, Spain
- Hangzhou, China
- London, England
- Leiden, the Netherlands
- Paris, France
- Vienna, Austria
- Yucatan, Mexico

Central College Abroad

Serving more than 5,000 students from 600 colleges and universities since 1965.

PROGRAM PROVES

Foreigners history of

Molly Spann
The Daily Iowan

Tackle, touchdown and quarterback words that many Americans think everyone should understand. But the sport of football, which is such a large part of American culture, may be a confusing one to people from other countries.

To help students from other countries better understand the sport, "Football for Foreigners" was a program offered at the Intern

tional Center Friday afternoon for people from foreign countries interested in learning more about the game.

"A lot of people, including myself, didn't know much about it before we came to the states," said Shu Chang, a UI graduate student who helped host the program. "This is a good opportunity to get more familiar with the football portion of American culture."

Chang said she expected about 30 people to attend the program, but around 40 people showed up. An equal number of men and women

Latest census figures not majority of

Associated Press

DES MOINES — It used to be you had a rural address, you were a farmer. Almost always, anyway.

But not any more. The latest census figures show that farmers for the first time, do not make up the majority of Iowans who live in rural areas.

With people moving off of the farm at an accelerated rate and commuters moving to the country, the number of nonfarmers in rural areas in 1990 exceeded the number of farmers by a ratio of 3-to-2.

MARINE CORPS ORIENTATI

Freshmen and Soph

U.S. Marine Corps seeks Flight Training Program. civilian flying lessons, a summer officer training. Aviators on October 29. E military during your fr obligations, just thrills. Ca City: 1-800-875-2285 Apr class schedule from 9:30

From A to Zoon

If you're wondering why so it's because we have so much packed with the services you Apple Macintosh® computer Zoomer copiers.

- Quality copies of all sizes
- Full color copies
- Computer services
- Binding and finishing
- Fax and mailing services
- Volume discounts

kinko's
the copy center

THE DAILY IOWAN

IOWA CITY'S MORNING NEWSPAPER

VOLUME 124, NUMBER 84

GENERAL INFORMATION

Calendar Policy: Announcements for the section must be submitted to The Daily Iowan newsroom, 201N Communications Center, by 1 p.m. one day prior to publication. Notices may be sent through the mail, but be sure to mail early to ensure publication. All submissions must be clearly printed on a Calendar column blank (which appears on the classified ads pages) or typewritten and triple-spaced on a full sheet of paper.

Announcements will not be accepted over the telephone. All submissions must include the name and phone number, which will not be published, of a contact person in case of questions.

Notices that are commercial advertisements will not be accepted.

Questions regarding the Calendar column should be directed to the Metro editor, 335-6063.

Corrections: The Daily Iowan strives for accuracy and fairness in the reporting of news. If a report is wrong or misleading, a request for a correction or a clarification may be made by contacting the Editor at 335-6030. A correction or a clarification will be published in the announcements section.

Publishing Schedule: The Daily Iowan is published by Student Publications Inc., 111

Communications Center, Iowa City, Iowa 52242, daily except Saturdays, Sundays, legal holidays and university holidays, and university vacations. Second class postage paid at the Iowa City Post Office under the Act of Congress of March 2, 1879. POSTMASTER: Send address changes to The Daily Iowan, 111 Communications Center, Iowa City, Iowa 52242.

Subscription rates: Iowa City and Coralville, $15 for one semester, $30 for two semesters, $10 for summer session, $40 for full year; Out of town, $30 for one semester, $60 for two semesters, $15 for summer session, $75 all year.

USPS 1433-6000

STAFF

|                          |                    |          |
|--------------------------|--------------------|----------|
| Publisher                | William Casey      | 335-5787 |
| Editor                   | Annette M. Segreto | 335-6030 |
| Managing Editor          | Fernando Pizarro   | 335-6030 |
| Metro Editor             | Loren Keller       | 335-6063 |
| Viewpoints Editor        | John Lyons         | 335-5863 |
| Nation/World Editor      | John Shipley       | 335-5864 |
| Sports Editor            | Jay Nanda          | 335-5848 |
| Copy Desk Editor         | Falak Kagda        | 335-5856 |
| Arts Editor              | Sandy Breiner      | 335-5851 |
| Photo Editor             | Al Goldis          | 335-5852 |
| Graphics Editor          | Sheri Schmidtke    | 335-5862 |
| Business Manager         | Debra Plath        | 335-5786 |
| Advertising Manager      | Jim Leonard        | 335-5791 |
| Classified Ads Manager   | Cristine Perry     | 335-5784 |
| Circulation Manager      | Francis R. Lalor   | 335-5783 |
| Day Production Manager   | Joanne Higgins     | 335-5789 |
| Night Production Manager | Robert Foley       | 335-5789 |

RECYCLING

The Daily Iowan uses soybean ink and is often printed on recycled newsprint. We encourage our readers to recycle their newspapers.

Metro & Iowa

PROGRAM PROVES HELPFUL

Foreigners hear rules, history of U.S. football

Molly Spann
The Daily Iowan

Tackle, touchdown and quarterback are words that many Americans think everyone should understand. But the sport of football, which is such a large part of American culture, may be a confusing one to people from other countries.

To help students from other countries better understand the sport, "Football 101 for Foreigners" was a program offered at the Interna-

came to listen.

All of the rules of football were explained, along with the system of scoring and game terminology. A bit of history about the sport was also given.

A Hawkeye uniform was displayed and the reason for heavy padding was explained. A football helmet was passed around and examined closely, inside and out, by those interested.

Demonstrations were also a part of the program, showing the people present how yardage is achieved and what the quarterback does.

Many questions were asked throughout the program by both men and women. Some of them knew little or nothing about football, while others were very knowledgeable about the sport.

"I've been watching football for about a year and a half," said Radhika Desai, a fourth-year UI graduate student from India. "This was a confirmation of things, like some of the definitions. It was very informative."

This is the third year the program has been offered, according to Chang. "Baseball for Foreigners" was also recently offered to students.

"A lot of students really like these programs," Chang said. "I watch games sometimes but I didn't know about the rules. Now that the rules have been explained, I understand."

tional Center Friday afternoon for people from foreign countries interested in learning more about the game.

"A lot of people, including me, didn't know much about it before we came to the states," said Shu-I Chang, a UI graduate student who helped host the program. "This is a good opportunity to get more familiar with the football portion of American culture."

Chang said she expected about 30 people to attend the program, but around 40 people showed up. An equal number of men and women

Latest census figures say farmers not majority of rural residents

Associated Press

DES MOINES — It used to be if you had a rural address, you were a farmer. Almost always, anyway.

But not any more. The latest census figures show that farmers, for the first time, do not make up the majority of Iowans who live in rural areas.

With people moving off of the farm at an accelerated rate and commuters moving to the country, the number of nonfarmers in rural areas in 1990 exceeded the number of farmers by a ratio of 3-to-2.

There were 371,000 rural nonfarm residents compared with 257,000 farm residents. Farmers edged nonfarmers in rural areas 10 years earlier, 391,000 to 319,000. And 50 years ago, only 66,000 nonfarmers lived in unincorporated areas, compared with 917,000 who lived on the farm.

Many of the new rural people commute to jobs in larger cities, said Iowa State University population expert Willis Goudy. He said they are often lured by lakes, river valleys and other natural resources.

Hi-ho — Members of the UI Marching Band took to the streets of downtown Iowa City Friday night to participate in the annual Homecoming Parade.

HOT LUNCHES JEOPARDIZED

USDA needs cause shortages for schools

Changing policies mean commodities that used to be freely available to schools must now be bought wholesale.

Amy Davis

Associated Press

HUDSON, Iowa — The federal government is taking a bite out of school lunch programs, and Iowa officials are starting to feel the financial heat in the kitchen.

Bit by bit, the U.S. Department of Agriculture is nibbling away at some of the free food supplies available to public schools, according to school officials.

"We used to be able to order those commodities by the truckload, no questions asked," said Ronald Riekens, commodity consultant for the Iowa Department of Education's Bureau of Food and Nutrition. "Now there are limits on what we can get over the year."

Since 1935, the USDA has been purchasing agricultural surplus and giving them to schools, a program that benefited both farmers and children. Five years ago, nationwide abundances in flour and cheese spurred area lunchroom directors to stock up on the government's handouts and plan menus around them.

But now cheese and flour are getting harder to come by because of decreases in farm production, increases in exports and growing domestic demand. The shortage of such items is forcing some schools to shop on the retail market, a move that costs more money and limits what other foods can be purchased.

"It really got scary last year because I had to buy flour . . . It makes it very expensive."

"It really got scary last year because I had to buy flour," said Becky Young, nutrition manager for Hudson Schools. "The salesman was surprised that schools had to buy flour because flour has always been a commodity that has been in abundance. It makes it very expensive. We lose money and get in the hole then."

Last spring her department had to borrow $15,000 from the school district's general fund.

The USDA's ability to throw budgets out of whack was most recently illustrated when the government decided to leave cases of ground beef off some schools' September shipments, diverting them for disaster relief.

"I was never told until the truck came. I didn't know anything about it," said Roy Dufel, food service manager for Jesup schools. "I didn't get any hamburger, so therefore I had to buy it. It really puts a bind on some schools."

The Jesup district was supposed to receive 18 boxes of ground beef, each containing 36 pounds, with a retail value of about $1.22 a pound. Thus, the USDA's decision cost Jesup about $800.

Dufel predicted the meat he bought will last through October, with the next commodity shipment due in late November or early December.

CELEBRATING BOOKS

Celebrities discuss joys of reading

Sara Epstein
The Daily Iowan

Ever wonder what books have inspired Iowa City City Council member Karen Kubby, former UI Athletic Director Chalmers "Bump" Elliott or UI Vice President of University Relations Ann Rhodes?

To help kick off the fifth annual Community Reading Month, which starts today, these local celebrities and others will talk about their favorite books at a book talk Wednesday from noon to 1 p.m. at the Iowa City Public Library, 123 S. Linn St.

In an effort to encourage the community to read, Hills Bank and Trust Co., the Iowa City Community School District and local public libraries are sponsoring four weeks of activities related to reading. Special emphasis is being placed on reading to and with children.

Jean Van Deusen, library media coordinator for the Iowa City Community School District and "founding mother" of Community Reading Month, said the primary goal of the various activities is to focus people's attention on reading.

"It's also a way for us to connect with the community," she said. "It's a very nice outreach."

Events will include several book talks, a five-day visit from children's author Janice Lee Smith and a 15-minute community-wide read-in on Nov. 18 at 10 a.m.

Tom Cilek, of Hills Bank, said the read-in is to encourage everyone to stop what they are doing and read.

"The goal is to remind people of the importance of reading and it seems like everyone should be able to spare a brief 15 minutes on one day of the year to read," he said.

Cilek said Community Reading Month started as a Hills Bank project in 1988, and each year the bank has invited a children's author to Iowa City to make presentations to local school children and members of the community.

Past guests have included Ashley Bryan, Jim Trelease, Pat Cummings and Jerry Spinelli.

MARINE CORPS FLIGHT ORIENTATION PROGRAM

Freshmen and Sophomores. Learn to FLY!

U.S. Marine Corps seeks applicants for Guaranteed Flight Training Program. We offer Financial Aid, Free civilian flying lessons, and U of I grants credits for summer officer training. Cruise over U of I with Marine Aviators on October 29. Explore the idea of flying with the military during your free introductory flight. No obligations, just thrills. Call to schedule your flight, Iowa City: 1-800-875-2285 Appointments made around your class schedule from 9:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

From Apples to Zoomers

If you're wondering why so many people rely on Kinko's, it's because we have so much to offer. We're a whole store packed with the services you need most. From self-service Apple Macintosh® computers to instant poster-making Zoomer copiers.

- ▶ Quality copies of all sizes
- ▶ Full color copies
- ▶ Computer services
- ▶ Binding and finishing
- ▶ Fax and mailing services
- ▶ Volume discounts

kinko's
the copy center

Open 24 hours
338-2679
14 South Clinton St.

The Ultimate Security System. $119.

There's more to owning a cellular phone than staying in touch from the fast lane. A cellular phone from CellularPlus delivers safety and security benefits that no one should be without.

Right now, cellular peace-of-mind can be yours for just $119.*

Look at everything you get: an advanced, high quality car phone or bag phone — loaded with features like auto redial, speed dial and multi-number memory. Plus free installation and antenna with any car phone purchase.

And then there's the value and convenience of CellularPlus

Service. Already, our CellularPlus Southeast SuperSystem is unparalleled, giving you a local calling area that encompasses your world from Iowa City to Ottumwa, Fairfield to Grinnell, Muscatine to Newton and everything in between. But we're not stopping there. Soon you'll be able to enjoy CellularPlus coverage in 24 counties!

Best of all, CellularPlus service is affordable. You can get started for less than a dollar a day. Supplies are limited, so hurry. Call 800-634-7587 and start enjoying the safety and convenience you deserve.

CellularPlus
YOU CAN'T BEAT THE EXPERIENCE
800-634-7587

*12 month service contract required with purchase. Some restrictions may apply. Battery not included.

MEALS PROVIDE NEEDED ENERGY

Eating healthy, balanced diet can relieve stress

Timothy Connors
The Daily Iowan

In the stress-filled weeks of the semester's midterm period, eating well isn't a high priority for students, though it should be, according to UI nutrition experts.

Concerning foods, Deborah Madden, a dietician for Student Health Services and the athletic department, noted: "People respond differently to test periods."

Some people like to quit eating while others tend to binge on junk foods, Madden said.

Students who don't eat aren't going to perform up to their potential, Madden said. "They're not going to have the energy for the brain power they'll need."

Madden recommended that students who tend to skip meals should set times to meet with their friends to force themselves to take a break and eat.

UI Hospitals and Clinics Dietician Beverlee Clearman pointed out that taking time to eat a meal can relieve studying stress.

Clearman added, "Eating more well-balanced meals will give students more energy, allowing them to study more."

According to Steve Bowers, food service director for UI residence halls, eating a balanced diet is one of the most important things students can do for themselves.

During midterm and final examinations, Bowers said he has noticed that some students eat more in the cafeterias, while others skip meals to study.

He said as long as students keep a balanced diet, eating more is a healthy way to compensate for nervous energy.

"There's a lot of microwaves in the residence hall rooms now," Madden observed. He said he believes this makes it easier for those who do skip meals to keep a nutritious diet.

Students who like to snack

"should have healthier snacks around," and should keep smaller one-serving portions available, Madden advised.

Clearman said although snacking is important, "students tend to snack more on vending-type food." Complex carbohydrate foods such as pretzels, graham crackers, popcorn and saltines all make snacks that are conducive to studying long hours, Madden said.

Clearman recommended students snack on dairy products, fruits and vegetables, foods she said students often don't eat enough of during meals.

When students need to supplement their caloric intake, Madden said, they should eat more breads, cereals, rice and pastas — complex-carbohydrate foods at the bottom of the food pyramid.

Madden listed cookies, potato chips, candy bars and doughnuts as foods high in fat which tend to make consumers feel "more sluggish."

While students are studying they tend to be more "sedentary," and eating foods high in fat can cause them to gain undesirable weight, Clearman said.

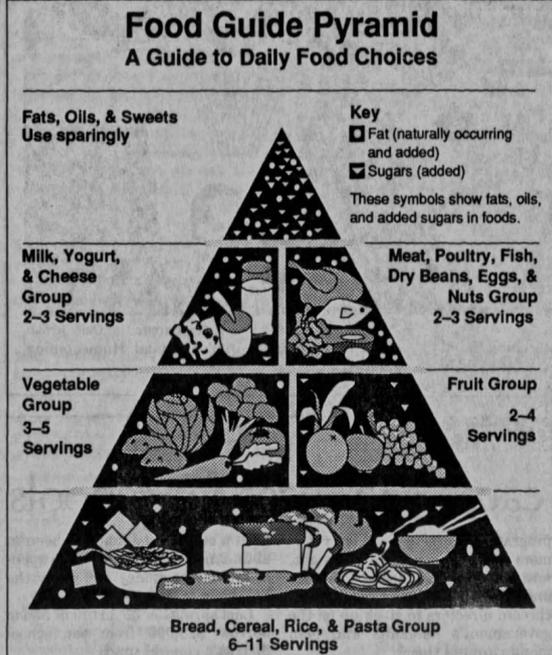

Acknowledging that many students use caffeinated beverages such as soda and coffee to stay awake, Madden said caffeine can increase stress levels and disrupt students' sleep when they actually are ready to rest.

"A lot of people drink pop thinking it will increase their energy," added Madden.

Clearman said foods high in simple sugars, including pop and candy bars, "will give you a momentary energy boost, but they don't last very long."

Some students like to rely on comfort foods such as ice cream when they find themselves in high-pressure situations like preparing for a test. Madden said this is acceptable as long as they also maintain a balanced diet.

FRENCH SITE BRINGS NEW OPPORTUNITIES

UI students visit archaeological dig to study, experience other cultures

Last summer students, scholars and volunteers from around the globe visited the French site.

Karl Hejlik
Special to The Daily Iowan

The hunters camped, spending their time making stone tools and waiting for the prey to come to them. Finally one day, someone voiced the awaited cry: the caribou were coming. The hunters grabbed their weapons, rushed the herd and hurled their spears, killing as many animals as possible before they fled.

That was 12,000 years ago.

Last summer students, scholars and volunteers from around the globe visited the same site — near Verberie, France, approximately 60 miles north of Paris — to participate in an archaeological dig and learn as much as possible about the ancient group of migratory hunters and gatherers.

Supervisor James Enloe, UI assistant professor of anthropology, and six others from the UI were among those assembled in Verberie for six weeks.

"Archaeological sites are rarely well-preserved," Enloe explained. "At Verberie, we have an extraordinary preservation of organic materials, particularly animal bones."

Because objects can be discovered exactly as the hunters left them, the Verberie site illustrates the spatial structure of a typical hunters' camp, giving valuable information about their social interaction and everyday lives.

Through their visit to Verberie, students obtained six semester hours of college credit, practical experience in archaeology and exposure to the many cultures represented by participants from around the globe.

Vince Warner, a UI senior anthropology major, was among the students who participated. Students who went to France received free room and board but had to pay tuition for six hours of credit and their own airfare. Warner thought it was worth the expense and went for the cultural exchange as well as the archaeological experience.

"All I've known is my own culture. I want to be able to compare and understand other people," he said. "You have to be able to understand the present before you can understand the past. If you can't understand someone standing right in front of you, you aren't going to understand someone who lived 12,000 years ago."

When he first arrived, however, Warner had trouble interacting with the other cultures that suddenly surrounded him.

"The first few days were kind of quiet. I'm on the introverted side, which compounded the problem," he said. "It took me two weeks to get social. I tried to keep to myself, but it was futile."

Communication between the various groups was naturally difficult, but cooperating solved the problem and the anthropologists were brought closer together.

"The language barrier made things even more interesting," Erin Broadston, a participating UI graduate, said. "It was a very intimate thing to be vulnerable like that and admit to someone that I don't communicate well, I don't understand what you're saying and I need your help."

The students from the UI shared a chateau near the digging site with participants from France, Scotland, Argentina, Chile, Canada and other countries. Over 30 people lived in the chateau, which had one private bathroom and two showers.

"Sometimes you didn't get a shower when you wanted one.

Sometimes you couldn't do laundry when you wanted, but it was communal living. Deal with it," Warner said.

While such living quarters inevitably caused some inconveniences, they also resulted in international understanding and friendships. Both Warner and Broadston still correspond with several people they met in Verberie.

In addition, the experience shattered cultural stereotypes.

"I did have one predisposition that I think every American has — that the French are rude and snooty. I didn't find that to be true at all," Warner said.

In fact, when Warner and Broadston missed their train and were stranded without French currency or a telephone number to contact the others at Verberie, a French couple became so concerned about them that they invited them to their home.

There, Warner and Broadston were given dinner and a place to shower and sleep. The following morning, they were served breakfast while the Frenchman called for the train schedule and then drove the Americans back to the station. Later the couple called Verberie just to see how Warner and Broadston were doing.

"Meeting those people just blew away anything I had accumulated talking to people in the states," Warner said.

Enloe said he found it gratifying to see how well people from Iowa managed to integrate themselves with the French.

"The tribal society we end up living in is in many ways like seeing two bands of hunters and gatherers working together and sharing resources," he said. "We live in their home. They eat our food. We share equipment. We help each other. It makes me very optimistic about humanity in general."

VORTEX
CRYSTAL & GEM
Most Excellent
Crystal Jewelry!
218 E. Washington • Downtown

Things for Wicked
Witch
Thingsville
351-3477
Tower Hotel Old Capital Center

The World's On Sale

London $245*
Madrid $269*
Guatemala City $225*
Rio $489*
Tokyo $415*
Sydney $514*

Council Travel
2615 N. Hackett Avenue 2nd floor
Milwaukee, WI 53211
414-332-4740
800-366-1950

Ten reasons for purchasing an Iowa City Transit monthly bus pass:

1. Save money - only $18 per month!
2. Convenient - no need to always have exact change.
3. Good for an unlimited number of trips.
4. Can be used on the Coralville Transit and CAMBUS systems.
5. Transferable - can be used by spouse, friend, or child.
6. Prevents expensive parking tickets.
7. Allows you to be chauffeur-driven.
8. Good way to stay warm and dry on your way to work or class.
9. You can read The Daily Iowan during your ride.
10. You can just relax!

IOWA CITY TRANSIT

For Route & Schedule Information
Call 355-5151
Mon.-Fri. 6 a.m.-10:30 p.m.
Sat. 6 a.m.-7 p.m.

A CHORUS OF STONES

A Chorus of Stones
Reg $22.00 Now $17.60
Published by Doubleday

Susan Griffin offers us a radical rethinking of the nature of war and gender and the illuminating interplay between private suffering and public tragedy.

Susan Griffin
will read from her book
A CHORUS OF STONES
Wed., Oct. 28 at 8:00 p.m. at
SHAMBAUGH AUDITORIUM
(broadcast live on WSUI AM 910)

Prairie Lights

open 9 a.m. daily
downtown Iowa City

wrap yourself in warmth

100% alpaca hand-knit sweaters from South America
A Not-For-Profit-Gift-Shop

WORLD MARKETPLACE
Corner of Burlington and Gilbert
338-2278

American Red Cross

11th ANNIVERSARY CHRISTMAS BREAK

LAST CHANGE!

STEAMBOAT
DECEMBER 12-19 * 5, 6 OR 7 NIGHTS from $166

VAIL/BEAVER CREEK
DECEMBER 14-21 * 5, 6 OR 7 NIGHTS from $181

BRECKENRIDGE
JANUARY 2-14 * 5, 6 OR 7 NIGHTS from $202

PICNICS • PARTY • LODGING • LIFTS

MORE WINTER COLLEGIATE SKI BREAK SPACE ADDED!

When you thought you might be left out in the cold during Christmas break — SunChase comes through again! Your response to our quality and low priced 11th Annual Collegiate Winter Ski Breaks has been overwhelming.

So, we've been able to add limited additional space at each destination, but don't wait too long as in year's past, it's sure to be a sell out!

Winter ski breaks include your choice of Fully Equipped Condominium or Hotel Lodging for 5, 6 or 7 nights; all Lift Tickets, Welcome Party, Mountain Chicken Barbecue, Ski Race, all Taxes and welcome Goodie Bag full of participating corporate sponsor product samples and area information.

Ski Break by yourself, with your friends or organize a group of 19 and you'll get a FREE SKI TRIP!

Steamboat, Vail/Beaver Creek or Breckenridge. The hardest part is choosing which destination to "conquer" this coming season!

Ask us about discount roundtrip airfares!

11th ANNUAL COLLEGIATE WINTER SKI BREAKS
TOLL FREE INFORMATION & RESERVATIONS
1-800-321-5911

FREE SPEECH MAY BE

Iowa attorney

Associated Press

MIDDLETOWN, Iowa — Iowa's new stalker law is intended to shield women threatened with domestic violence, but a defense attorney says it could also be used to prohibit constitutionally protected speech.

"We know where it (the stalker law) begins," said Randall Wilson, attorney for the Iowa Civil Liberties Union. "It begins with women who continue to be harassed despite a court order. But when the law ends we don't know, and that's the problem."

In the four months that the law has been on the books, domestic violence has not been a factor in the two known cases.

In Pottawattamie County, a sheriff's deputy contended he was being stalked by a Missouri Valley man. The lawsuit was later dropped.

JANITOR FEARS HE H

Man sues

Associated Press

DES MOINES — An Ankeny man who said he was stuck by a used needle while cleaning a room at Planned Parenthood of Greater Iowa Inc. is suing the agency over the fear he could have contracted AIDS.

There is no evidence Thomas Pickard has been infected, but he filed the lawsuit for an unspecified amount to compensate for his "pain and suffering, including emotional distress and worry due to a fear of contracting HIV."

CALENDAR

EVENTS

■ Economics Forum will sponsor a presidential economic debate between three UI economics professors playing the roles of the candidates at 7 p.m. in the Indiana Room of the Union.

■ The Iowa City Chorus — Sweet

LEGAL MATTERS

POLICE

David Jones, 38, 2541 Muscatine Ave., was charged with fifth-degree theft at Hy-Vee Food Store, 501 Hollywood Blvd., on Oct. 22 at 1:20 p.m.

Five naked men were reported running down the street at 500 S. Johnson St. on Oct. 23 at 4:14 a.m.

Shann Wren, 20, Rock Island, IL, was charged with indecent conduct and interference with official acts at Vito's, 118 E. College St., on Oct. 23 at 10:35 p.m.

Kendric McCray, 23, East Moline, IL, was charged with indecent conduct and interference with official acts at Vito's, 118 E. College St., on Oct. 23 at 10:35 p.m.

Thomas Knipper, 21, 440 S. Johnson St., Apt. 3, was charged with keeping a disorderly house on Oct. 23 at 1 a.m.

Allan Hotchkiss, 20, 440 S. Johnson St., Apt. 3, was charged with keeping a disorderly house on Oct. 23 at 1 a.m.

CELEBRITY

Katherine Moyers
Karen Kubby
Sir Geoffrey Palmer
Steve Atkins

FREE SPEECH MAY BE ENDANGERED

Iowa attorney argues against stalker law

Associated Press
MIDDLETOWN, Iowa — Iowa's new stalker law is intended to shield women threatened with domestic violence, but a defense attorney says it could also be used to prohibit constitutionally-protected speech.

"We know where it (the stalker law) begins," said Randall Wilson, attorney for the Iowa Civil Liberties Union. "It begins with women who continue to be harassed despite a court order. But where the law ends we don't know, and that's the problem."

The only other known case is pending in the southeastern town of Middletown, where Dennis Krieger is charged with stalking City Clerk Loretta Thomann. Krieger's purpose.

Wilson said those terms are open to interpretation and could be used to stifle free speech, distasteful as it may be.

"We haven't heard a thing that would cause us even a second's hesitation about the use of the law or its effectiveness or its value,"

William Roach, spokesman for Attorney General Bonnie Campbell

But William Roach, spokesman for Attorney General Bonnie Campbell, said the law is sound.

"It's a good law and it's working in some 20 other states around the country and in the same form we have in Iowa. We haven't heard a thing that would cause us even a second's hesitation about the use of the law or its effectiveness or its value," he said.

Stalking is a simple misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of $100 or 30 days in jail.

The charge against Krieger was filed after he allegedly blocked the clerk's car with his own, followed her family at an auto show and drove his car slowly past City Hall "in excess of 40 times."

Earlier, Krieger complained about a traffic ticket and said he was being pushed to drastic action.

says the charge is groundless, but city officials say his threats and harassment of Thomann meet the requirements of the stalker law.

The law states that it is a crime to "willfully follow" or harass another individual and to make "credible threats" without a "legi-

"The law might be used against an irate customer who refuses to leave and who follows the clerk to the back of the store. The U.S. Supreme Court has held that an individual can be obnoxious, distasteful, but has the right to criticize public officials."

Record absentee turnout results in ballot shortage

Officials say this year's absentee ballot total may reach 15%, breaking previous records.

Associated Press

DES MOINES — State election officials expect a record number of Iowans to vote by absentee ballot in the Nov. 3 presidential election.

Demand for ballots has been so heavy in some counties that county auditors have had to order additional supplies.

"People are excited about this election," said Mary Gaskill, Wapello County auditor, who had to order more ballots this week.

The record for absentee voting in the state was set in 1990, when 10 percent of the votes cast in Iowa were by absentee ballot. But the 1992 figure could exceed 15 percent, said Tim Waddell, the Iowa secretary of state's deputy for elections and public affairs.

"The auditors are seeing a substantial upswing in the number of absentee ballots," Waddell said. Auditors said an increase was anticipated; both political parties have been actively promoting absentee voting since the law governing the practice was relaxed. But they said the flood of ballot requests has exceeded expectations.

In Polk County, auditor Tom Parkins said requests for absentee ballots already have surpassed the 1988 total. Some 12,500 ballots had been requested as of Friday. Parkins estimates that 20,000 ballots will be claimed before the Nov. 3 election.

In the 1988 general election, 10,553 ballots were requested, Parkins said.

In Linn County, more than 7,000 absentee ballots have been requested so far.

"We ordered 10,000 and we have another week to go yet," said Linn County auditor Linda Langenberg. "I anticipate we'll get up to 9,000" ballot requests.

Voter registrations statewide exceeded 1.5 million in September and were up 35,000 from 1988.

JANITOR FEARS HE HAS AIDS

Man sues Planned Parenthood for negligence

Associated Press

DES MOINES — An Ankeny man who said he was stuck by a used needle while cleaning a room at Planned Parenthood of Greater Iowa Inc. is suing the agency over the fear he could have contracted AIDS.

There is no evidence Thomas Pickard has been infected, but he filed the lawsuit for an unspecified amount to compensate for his "pain and suffering, including emotional distress and worry due to a fear of contracting HIV."

He charged that Planned Parenthood "carelessly and negligently failed to dispose of the syringe and needle in a puncture-resistant container."

After a hearing earlier this month, Polk County District Judge Robert Hutchison denied a request by Planned Parenthood for a ruling in the agency's favor. Instead, the judge scheduled a jury trial for Nov. 9.

Nick Critelli, the lawyer for Pickard, and Robert Sharp, who represents Planned Parenthood, declined to comment.

Pickard, 32, who worked for Addey's Janitorial Service, which was retained to clean the Planned Parenthood building in Des Moines, filed the lawsuit in September 1991.

In written answers to a lawyer's questions, he said he was mopping a room at Planned Parenthood on Sept. 30, 1989, when he picked up a plastic bag full of trash and was stuck in the leg with a sharp object. When he examined the bag, he said, he saw a syringe needle sticking out of the bag.

Pickard has been tested three times for the virus, the last such test being in April 1990. Each test showed no evidence of HIV infection.

Judge Hutchison, in denying a ruling in favor of Planned Parenthood, said the agency has not been able to identify the patient on whom the syringe was used. The agency has acknowledged, however, that the possible group of patients includes women who were known to be at high risk of carrying HIV, the judge said.

CALENDAR

EVENTS

■ Economics Forum will sponsor a presidential economic debate between three UI economics professors playing the roles of the candidates at 7 p.m. in the Indiana Room of the Union.

■ The Iowa City Chorus — Sweet

Adelines International will have an open rehearsal tonight at 7 at the Robert A. Lee Recreation Center, 220 S. Gilbert St.

■ Students for ERA will meet at 8 p.m. in River Room 1 in the Union.

■ Jack Wright of Boulder, Colo. will play solo saxophone at The Secret Goldfish, located in the Hall Mall, 114

E. College St., at 6:30 p.m.

BIJOU

■ The Quiet Man (1952) 6:45 p.m.
■ The Man in the Moon (1991) 9:15 p.m.

RADIO

■ WSUI (AM 910) — Soundprint documentary, "Breast Cancer: Twenty Years Later," 11:30 a.m.; National Press Club Live with actress Cicily Tyson discussing her work with "Cities in School," noon.
■ KRUI (FM 89.7) — Sonic Nightmare, 6 to 9 p.m.

LEGAL MATTERS

POLICE

David Jones, 38, 2541 Muscatine Ave., was charged with fifth-degree theft at Hy-Vee Food Store, 501 Hollywood Blvd., on Oct. 22 at 1:20 p.m.

Five naked men were reported running down the street at 500 S. Johnson St. on Oct. 23 at 4:14 a.m.

Shann Wren, 20, Rock Island, Ill., was charged with indecent conduct and interference with official acts at 100 S. Clinton St. on Oct. 23 at 10:35 p.m.

Kendric McCray, 23, East Moline, Ill., was charged with indecent conduct and interference with official acts at Vito's, 118 E. College St., on Oct. 23 at 10:35 p.m.

Thomas Knipper, 21, 440 S. Johnson St., Apt. 3, was charged with keeping a disorderly house on Oct. 23 at 1 a.m.

Allan Hotchkiss, 20, 440 S. Johnson St., Apt. 3, was charged with keeping a disorderly house on Oct. 23 at 1 a.m.

Jason Donnelly, 19, 308 S. Gilbert St., Apt. 1131, was charged with public intoxication and urinating in public at 100 S. Clinton St. on Oct. 23 at 1:09 a.m.

Matthew Condon, 20, 529 N. Dubuque St., Apt. 12, was charged with the possession of alcohol under the legal age and with having an open container of alcohol at 500 E. Burlington St. on Oct. 24 at 1:30 a.m.

Steven Stanley, 21, 28 E. Towncrest Trailer Court, was charged with second-degree burglary at 27 E. Towncrest Trailer Court on Oct. 24 at 2:30 a.m.

Jason Reynolds, 22, 705 1/2 2nd St., was charged with interference with official acts, public intoxication and possession of a scheduled I controlled substance at 100 S. Linn St. on Oct. 25 at 1:48 a.m.

Thomas Krehbiel, 25, 101 Woodside Drive, was charged with second-degree attempted burglary at 330 S. Linn St., Apt. 4 on Oct. 25 at 12:56 a.m.

Compiled by Molly Spann

COURTS
Magistrate

Public intoxication — Jason Donnelly, 308 S. Gilbert St., Apt. 1131, fined $25; Nathan Hansen, 2123 Quadrangle Hall, fined $25; McGraw Jones, Quadrangle Hall, fined $25; Nicole Putensen, 4236 Burge Hall, fined $25; Craig Tobin, Worthington, Iowa, fined $25.

Interference with official acts — McGraw Jones, Quadrangle Hall, fined $15; Nathan Hansen, 2123 Quadrangle Hall, fined $15.

Underage possession of alcohol — Nicole Putensen, 4236 Burge Hall, fined $15.

Unlawful use of drivers license — Nicole Putensen, 4236 Burge Hall, fined $100.

Open container — Timothy McClaran, 2312 Muscatine Ave., fined $10.
Public urination — Craig Tobin,

Worthington, Iowa, fined $10; Jason Donnelly, 308 S. Gilbert St., fined $10.

The above fines do not include surcharges or court costs.

District

OWI — Liane Vang, West Liberty, Iowa, preliminary hearing set for Nov. 12, at 2 p.m.; Patricia Baker-Romita, Coralville, preliminary hearing set for Nov. 12, at 2 p.m.

Theft, third-degree — Ronald Jones, West Branch, Iowa. Preliminary hearing set for Nov. 12, at 2 p.m.

Theft, fourth-degree — Ronald Jones, West Branch, Iowa. Preliminary hearing set for Nov. 12, at 2 p.m.

Driving while revoked — Scott Westerhoff, 525 N. Johnson St. Preliminary hearing set for Nov. 12, at 2 p.m.

Driving while suspended — John Horrell, Hills, Iowa. Preliminary hearing set for Nov. 12, at 2 p.m.

Compiled by Timothy Connors

ALTERNATIVES
HAIR SALON

At Our Salon Only Pay For Your

|                                    |       |
|------------------------------------|-------|
| HAIRCUT .....                      | $9   |
| HAIRSTYLE .....                    | $9   |
| OUR NEW MINI-COLOR TREATMENT ..... | $9   |
| PERM (includes cut & style) .....  | $27* |

With selected stylists
We take appointments and walk-ins!

Our stylists listen. They won't touch a hair on your head until they know what you want.
* Additional charge for long hair.

Beauty Salon
Old Capitol Center
(319) 337-2232

Yourkers
SATISFACTION ALWAYS

B.J. RECORDS LIVE TONIGHT
AT GABE'S OASIS
DOWNY MILDEW
WITH SPECIAL GUEST PAISLEY BIBLE!

|                     |                     |
|---------------------|---------------------|
| DOWNY MILDEW | DOWNY MILDEW |
|                     |                     |
| $11.97 CD          | $7.97 CS           |

NEW!
JOHN GORKA

$11.97 CD
$7.97 CS

ALSO ON SALE!

- ★ NEW! PRINCE!
- ★ NEW! MUDHONEY!
- ★ NEW! PETER GABRIEL!
- ★ NEW! SUNDAYS!
- ★ NEW! MADONNA! ($12.97 CD $7.97 CS)
- ★ NEW! ALICE IN CHAINS!
- ★ NEW! R.E.M.!
- ★ SPIN DOCTORS!
- ★ NEW! IZZY STRADLIN!
- ★ THE SMITHS!

$11.97 CD UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED $7.97 CASS

6 1/2 S. DUBUQUE ST. 338-8251
HOURS M-F 10-9, SAT. 10-7, SUN 12-6

VISA MasterCard
CALCOVER

B.J. RECORDS
THE STORE THAT CAN SMELL A WEASEL A BLOCK AWAY!

CELEBRITY BOOK TALK

Wednesday, October 28

On Wednesday, October 28, ten "celebrities" will be describing their favorite books from noon to 1 p.m. at the Iowa City Public Library. Lunch will be provided by Hills Bank and Trust Company and Bushnell's Turtle.

Book talks will also be held on Wednesday, November 4, featuring books for children ages 0-5, Wednesday, November 11, featuring books for children ages 6-9, and on Wednesday, November 18, featuring books for children ages 11-15.

If you would like to attend the "Celebrity" Book Talk or any of the other book talks, please make your reservation by calling Julie Miller at Hills Bank and Trust Company (338-1277).

The book talks are part of Community Reading Month which focuses on the importance of reading in the Iowa City, Coralville and area communities. Community Reading Month is co-sponsored by Hills Bank and Trust Company, the Iowa City Community School District, the Iowa City Public Library and the Coralville Public Library.

COMMUNITY READING MONTH

Hills Bank and Trust Company

CELEBRITIES:

- Katherine Moyers
- Karen Kubby
- Sir Geoffrey Palmer
- Steve Atkins
- Philip "Phil" G. Hubbard
- George Matheson
- Willis "Bill" Bywater
- Chalmers "Bump" Elliott
- Ann Rhodes
- Jean van Deusen

wrap yourself in warmth

apaca hand-knit from South America

Profit-Gift-Shop

WORLD MARKETPLACE

Burlington and Gilbert

McL 10-5

an Red Cross

MARY

BREAK

OAT $166

CREEK $181

EDGE $202

LOGGING • LIFTS

CE ADDED!

in the cold during our response to our winter Ski Breaks at each destination, sure to be a sell out!

ipped Condominium Income Party, Mountain Goodie Bag full of and area information, nize a group of 19 and kenridge. The hardest r* this coming season!

SUNSHINE BREAKS

SKI BREAKS

RESERVATIONS

5911

an pass:

Viewpoints

KIM PAINTER

Hatred unchecked may become lethal

Terrible notes, notes of hope. Neil Young wrote a song called "A Lotta Love." A verse of it has been coming to mind lately when I finish reading my motley assortment of newspapers. It's gonna take a lotta love, to get us through the night. It's gonna take a lotta love, to make this work out right. / So if you look in my direction, and we can't see eye to eye, / My heart needs protection and so do I.

The lyric is apt. Sample this smattering of recently collected remarks uttered from sea to shining sea, and you'll see what I mean.

"Our goal is to have 10 trained activists in each of America's 75,000 precincts by the end of the decade. That would be 1.75 million trained activists in the country." — Ralph Reed, Jr., executive director of Pat Robertson's Christian Coalition (the neo-Nazi arm of the Republican party).

"We've learned how to move under the radar in the cover of the night with shrubbery strapped to our helmets. You don't know it's over until you're in a body bag." — The same nice guy quoted above.

"I resent Blue Cross / Blue Shield suggesting this is a minimal cost issue." — Renowned actuarial genius? No. Just UI Regent Thomas Dorr in a fit of pique that the insurer has guaranteed the same rates for the next year to the University in recognition of its possible extension of benefits to domestic partners.

"The same people say I should have the right to marry a woman and my brother the right to marry a man. Equality? You've got to be kidding." — Woman in ad currently airing to oppose the Equal Rights Amendment in Iowa.

"We don't hate homosexuals. We just hate their behavior. Homosexual power is growing. And they are trying to get what we want to stop them from getting — protected status." — Laid-off timberworker Bill Shockey, of Sweet Home, Oregon, quoted in the October 13, 1992 issue of the Village Voice.

"... assist in setting a standard for Oregon's youth that recognizes homosexuality as abnormal, wrong, unnatural, and perverse ... and to be discouraged and avoided." — Wording from Oregon's infamous Measure 9, spelling out the propaganda burden schools and public colleges will be forced to shoulder if it passes in November.

"Nigger dyke! Faggot!" — Shouts heard outside the Salem, Ore., home of an African-American lesbian and her white gay male roommate. That night, a Molotov cocktail was thrown into the home. It killed them both. This happened in October, 1992 (Oct. 13 Village Voice).

Too often today people say awful things, hear and believe lies, don't stop to think, and do the unthinkable to others. All for no good reason. Nobody is safe from it. No group has the market cornered on suffering at the hands of people willing to use terror as a weapon to achieve political, social or "religious" ends. Such behavior hurts us all. It ravages the present and diminishes the future.

The unemployed timberworkers of Oregon will leave their children a morally hollow future if the best they can do in response to present hardship is embrace hatred and forsake tolerance. But they, and thousands of others like them, have lost a lot in the past 12 years. They are looking for someone to blame and are willing to lay that blame with anyone. Typically, targets close to home are more desirable than those residing at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave. And when you're down and out, casting a stone provides a more tangible sense of accomplishment than casting a ballot. So here we are, folks. In scary times.

The measure of our age will be the measure of how well we come to terms with human difference. A graceful courage with which we acknowledge our fears of "others" must replace the brutal cowardice of past efforts to deny those fears. It will not matter to posterity whether we were rhetorical blowhards, fundamentalists with regard to the Bible, or loyal Democrats. It will only matter that we were able to sit down together — unemployed timberworkers with environmentalists, parents of young children with gay and lesbian school teachers, single mothers on welfare with senior citizens on Medicare, doctors with the uninsured, businessmen with academics — and find a way to make it work.

Reversion to denial will not carry America into the future. We tried to deny racial problems in this country. The alienation pent up within those who have less than enough to get by has erupted in flames in our major cities. We tried to deny that our children were having sex. The result was a dramatic increase in sexually transmitted diseases among the young. We tried to deny what we do in the privacy of our own homes as adults in intimate relationships. The result was fear, exhaustion and self-loathing among gays and lesbians.

I can make room in my heart for that timberworker's fear of being unable to provide for his family. I can make room in my heart for the fear many parents have that their children are growing up without any moral anchors in this nation. There's room enough for all of us in America's big heart, and as Americans we have a special obligation to make room in our hearts for the many "others" who are part of this family.

It is astonishing that people have died, and continue to die, because of the venom that grows powerful in those dark places where denial turns into hatred. If we cannot find the way to stop it, it will surely be the end of us.

Last week I got a mailing about an upcoming performance at Hancher Auditorium. It contained the following quote, which I am about to steal. It is a reminder that there are notes of hope sounded every day in this country. It is a reminder of how good we can be, if we accept the hard work involved.

"We have to begin to enjoy the differences in the human family like we enjoy the differences in a garden of flowers ... And there's very little time left to muster this broader vision against the ancient, conditioned reflexes and psychoses of mankind and his homicidal tendencies. But either we learn to live together, or we die together." — I. F. Stone, iconoclast, journalist, scholar.

Kim Painter's column appears on Mondays on the Viewpoints Page.

ANITA VERMA

An unexpected loss

Something none of us ever expects to happen occurred Sunday night, Oct. 18: A very young member of our student body died suddenly and unexpectedly. Anita Verma was a freshman at the UI, and a pledge with the Tri-Delta sorority. Most strongly affected will be her family, her closer friends, neighbors and her sorority sisters.

The university has offered help in coming to grips with the sudden loss of Anita's life by offering a series of "debriefings," and Delta Delta Delta sorority has had an open house commemorating her life.

An acquaintance of mine pointed out that Anita had always seemed to be quite a happy person; she had a great deal going for her. Her passing away at this early point in her life is a truly tragic occurrence, but it can be given meaning through the emotions and memories of who Anita Verma was.

And now the hard part comes. The real challenge for those affected by Anita Verma's sudden death — family, friends and acquaintances — will be not to forget her, but to always remember the person she was, the person they knew or came to know. And remember her fondly.

John Lyons
Viewpoints Editor

ELECTION '92

This side up, eh?!

George Bush apologized for a flip-flop made Sunday night, October 18, which could force voters to shift their views. No, not in American presidential elections; Canadians go to the polls today to vote on changes to the national constitution. On both this issue and passage of the North American Free Trade Agreement, a rise in patriotism and anti-American sentiment could make all the difference.

During game two of the World Series, a U.S. Marine Color Guard inadvertently inverted the Canadian flag, incorrectly aiming the red maple leaf downward. The resultant hue and cry brought an apology from Bush, who said, "If that had happened in Canada and we had seen the United States flag flown upside-down, every American would have been very, very upset."

Canadians certainly were upset, but mostly with the practiced disdain of people long since used to the ignorance and arrogance of their southern neighbors. Some fans calling radio talk shows sardonically suggested violent retribution just short of war. Others suggested boos during "The Star-Spangled Banner," which is common at NHL games played in Canadian cities. A boom market for T-shirts and both Canadian and American flags opened Monday, as customers sought to display their feelings.

While these actions are mostly light-hearted, the underlying anti-American sentiments are more serious. Some say that these feelings define Canada as a nation, thinking that whatever they are, they are not Americans. While this may be an exaggeration, it may be fairly asserted that fear of U.S. economic and cultural power has been a strong cohesive force in Canada over the years.

Opponents of the Canada-U.S. Free Trade Agreement, which was a precursor to NAFTA, blame it for the loss of thousands of jobs, and a growing number of critics reject the possibility of benefits from the elimination of trade barriers. A late September Gallup poll found that 60 percent of Canadians believed that NAFTA would be bad for Canada, which is a seven percent increase from last April.

Public debate over the constitutional referendum, whether to vote yes or no, has become a question of unity or separatism. The accords reached at Charlottetown, however, focused on the economy, health care and the relative powers of French-Canadians and Aboriginal peoples. The lack of distinction on this issue could decide the vote.

Elections are often determined by the emotions of the electorate, and Canadians are no different from us in that respect. While the American press and presidential candidates have brought out the issue of NAFTA, we seem to have forgotten that we are not the sole determiners of the agreement's fate. The faux pas in Atlanta may have piqued patriotism in Canada enough to turn elections and make moot our own debates.

Marc Wallace
Editorial Writer

STEVE KELLEY

•LETTERS POLICY. Letters to the editor must be signed and must include the writer's address and phone number for verification. Letters should be no longer than one double-spaced page. The Daily Iowan reserves the right to edit for length and clarity.

•OPINIONS expressed on the Viewpoints page of The Daily Iowan are those of the signed authors. The Daily Iowan, as a non-profit corporation, does not express opinions on these matters.

•GUEST OPINIONS are articles on current issues written by readers of The Daily Iowan. The DI welcomes guest opinions; submissions should be typed and signed. A brief biography should accompany all submissions. The Daily Iowan reserves the right to edit for length and style.

JEFF MACNELLY

GUEST OPINION

Socialism, Cuba, Columbus and the IISO

David Mastio simply lies in his guest opinion (Oct. 19 DI) when he states that the Iowa International Socialist Organization "are the same people who support Castro's Cuba" and "deny or downplay the horrendous crimes of Stalin."

International Socialists have argued since the early 1960s — when Castro first declared himself a Marxist — that Cuba was not and is not a socialist country. While the Cuban revolution in 1959 did represent the victory of a genuine national liberation movement, urban workers played no part in it.

Indeed, Castro himself proclaimed on May 21, 1959, that "our revolution is neither capitalist nor communist! ... Our revolution is not red but olive green. It bears the color of the rebel army from Sierra Maestra (a Cuban mountain region)."

Castro subsequently created a monolithic, statized economy and drastically curtailed political freedoms. Driven into the hands of Krushchev and the U.S.S.R., both by a U.S.-sponsored invasion that failed and a U.S. economic embargo that remains in place to this day, Castro imitated Stalin's model of a command economy and a one-party state.

All of that has nothing to do with genuine revolutionary socialism. Like the rulers of China and those of the former Soviet Union and its Eastern bloc satellites, Castro uses Marxist language as a mask for a reality quite different from Marxism.

Mastio thus engages in outright distortion when he states that the IISO supports "Castro's Cuba." We strongly oppose any U.S. or U.S.-backed efforts to overthrow the Castro regime, but this is not the same as endorsing the regime. In fact, we would welcome the growth of independent trade unions and genuine socialist dissent within Cuba.

Apparently not content with distorting IISO views, however, Mastio goes further and engages in pure falsification when he accuses the IISO of acquiescing in the face of Stalin's crimes.

The IISO is a student organization which shares the perspectives of a group of revolutionary socialists around the world, including those political organizations in over 14 countries that comprise the International Socialist "tendency," or current, on the left.

The International Socialist tendency stands in the tradition of Leon Trotsky. In the 1920s and '30s — first in the Soviet Union and later from exile — Trotsky led a courageous fight against Stalin's rise to power and Stalin's subordination of the international communist movement to Russia's foreign policy aims. A Stalinist KGB agent assassinated Trotsky in 1940.

Building on Trotsky's ideas, International Socialism was born in the late 1940s amid continued debate over the exact nature of Stalin's Russia — "degenerated socialism," "restored capitalism," or neither? — and new debates over whether the post-World War II societies of Eastern Europe could be considered "socialist."

Our analysis has always been that the economies and political forms of Stalinist Russia and Eastern Europe had nothing to do with socialism. They were instead "bureaucratic state capitalist" societies — societies in which workers did not control the economy democratically, but were completely subjected to the dictates of the state bureaucracy.

Furthermore, they were societies in which military and economic competition with the West compelled the state bureaucracy to plan economic production for the purpose of accumulating ever greater amounts of capital rather than for satisfying consumers' needs. "U.S.S.R., Inc." was like General Motors with state power — totalitarian internally, yet controlled externally by the world economy.

International Socialists later drew and published similar conclusions regarding China and Cuba, as well as other successful national liberation movements in the "third world" that claimed to be socialist, but in reality embarked upon the state capitalist road to development.

For Marx and the IISO, socialism is about working people emancipating themselves on their own behalf. It is about the majority of people taking control of their own lives by making the economy produce to meet their needs and wants rather than to line the pockets of a tiny minority with more profits.

And — in an election year that clearly reveals the need for real alternatives to the big business interests that control American politics — socialism is about the majority of the people rejecting the existing political system and replacing it with one that is truly democratic and capable of responding to real needs.

Therefore, either Mastio has maliciously and intentionally lied about IISO views, or he has failed to make even the most minimal effort to acquaint himself with our positions before printing charges that were impossible to substantiate.

I hope that others will be able to use space in "Letters to the Editor" to debate Mastio's grotesque perpetuation of the significance of Columbus and the quinquacentenary. Tom Lewis is a member of the Iowa International Socialist Organization.

President Perot will use techniques of 'bully pulpit'

James Rowley
Associated Press

WASHINGTON — If the voter turn to Ross Perot, he promises to use the presidency as a "bully pulpit" to provoke some fundamental changes in government.

Campaigning as a can-do business man who knows how to get things done, Perot describes a president that would be highly confrontational with Congress to force the Washington political establishment to adopt his programs.

"In order to lead, you first have to use the White House as a bully pulpit and lead; then you have to develop consensus or you can't get anything done," says Perot, who acknowledges his election would be unusual as well as historical.

"Everybody will faint in Washington, they've never seen anything happen in that town."

But instead of bringing about change, Perot could fly into a brick wall of resistance because he doesn't understand how the lever of power in Washington are manipulated.

The Texas billionaire envisioning running the federal government the way a chief executive officer operates a successful business. Whether this model of leadership can be transplanted from the business world to the political arena is open to question.

Perot has not "rubbed up against" the complexities of the federal government to see "how hard it is to get things done," says John White, a former supporter who helped Perot devise his deficit-reduction plan.

Nevertheless, Perot says he would roll up his sleeves "the day after the election" to start working to solve the nation's problems.

Task forces would prepare legislation on crime, economic development, health care and the deficit so Perot could "get off to a flying start" in '93 to execute these plans.

He would push to cut the staffs of

Politics of poli

John King
Associated Press

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — At Clinton campaign headquarters, there's talk already of ripping the sign from the strategy room and hanging it in a Clinton White House: "It's the economy, stupid."

That simple credo, Bill Clinton's compass toward election, would guide the Democrat in the early days of a presidency that would launch a revolution in Washington much like Ronald Reagan did 12 years ago.

The changing of the guard under Clinton would be generational, ideological and stylistic.

At 46, he would be the youngest president since John F. Kennedy, the first baby boomer in the White House. His lawyer-wife, Hillary, would no doubt be a groundbreaking first lady. And their 12-year-old daughter, Chelsea, would be the first adolescent in the White House since Amy Carter.

After 12 years as Arkansas governor, Clinton views government as an extension of politics and vice versa: no one in a Clinton White House would more keenly study the politics of policy than the president himself.

Clinton has his own priorities, but look for him to seek consensus with Democratic legislators and interest groups. All this under relentless pressure to keep his pledge to rein in the deficit and set the Democratic Party on an activist but moderate course.

"There is just simply not enough money to make everybody happy," said Clinton issues adviser Bruce Reed. "I suspect 'No' would be a frequently used word."

Clinton would set four or five immediate goals: jobs, short-term economic stimulus, a long-term economic package, health care and education.

"These are the things we have run on and these are the things we would want to address right out of the box," said Clinton campaign director and confidant Bruce Lindsey.

Clinton is likely to find an eager ally in Congress, where majority Democrats last saw a Democrat in the White House in 1980.

Clinton may summon Capitol Hill's power brokers and some of its new faces for a pre-inauguration summit to forge a first-year consensus on the centerpiece themes of his campaign.

"The mood up here is excitement and anticipation," said David Dreyer, a top aide to House Majority Leader Richard Gephardt. "They know that their performance is going to be judged by how well and how quickly they estab-

Presidential candidates lay out future administrative plans

Perot will use techniques of 'bully pulpit'

James Rowley
Associated Press

WASHINGTON — If the voters turn to Ross Perot, he promises to use the presidency as a "bully pulpit" to provoke some fundamental changes in government.

Campaigning as a can-do businessman who knows how to get things done, Perot describes a presidency that would be highly confrontational with Congress to force the Washington political establishment to adopt his programs.

"In order to lead, you first have to use the White House as a bully pulpit and lead; then you have to develop consensus or you can't get anything done," says Perot, who acknowledges his election would be unusual as well as historical.

"Everybody will faint in Washington, they've never seen anything happen in that town."

But instead of bringing about change, Perot could fly into a brick wall of resistance because he doesn't understand how the levers of power in Washington are manipulated.

The Texas billionaire envisions running the federal government the way a chief executive officer operates a successful business. Whether this model of leadership can be transplanted from the business world to the political arena is open to question.

Perot has not "rubbed up against the complexities of the federal government" to see "how hard it is to get things done," says John White, a former supporter who helped Perot devise his deficit-reduction plan.

Nevertheless, Perot says he would roll up his sleeves "the day after the election" to start working to solve the nation's problems.

Task forces would prepare legislation on crime, economic development, health care and the deficit so Perot could "get off to a flying start in '93 to execute these plans."

He would push to cut the staffs of

Associated Press

Ross Perot reacts to meeting a woman after his speech to a campaign rally at the Flemington Fairgrounds in Flemington, N.J., Sunday.

Congress and the White House and eliminate perks for lawmakers such as indoor gyms, cut-rate haircuts and travel aboard government airplanes.

Perot's paperback manifesto "United We Stand" outlines his proposals to save $754 billion and balance the budget over five years. It is a painful prospect: He would cut discretionary programs 15 percent, raise the gasoline tax by 50 cents, and make wealthy people pay higher taxes on their income as well as Social Security and Medicare benefits.

Perot, who is paying for his independent presidential bid out of his own pocket, also proposes a $1,000 limit on campaign donations and stricter limits on lobbying by former government officials to curb the influence of special interests in Washington.

He would propose term limits for members of Congress, a line-item veto for the president and the elimination of the Electoral College so that chief executives would be chosen by direct, popular elections.

Vowing to serve only one term for no salary, Perot casts himself as a reluctant warrior simply responding to the call of 5.5 million volunteers who helped put him on the ballot in all 50 states. But for them, Perot says he would stay home to tend to his businesses and family.

"Ross wants the system to change, he doesn't necessarily want to be the agent of change in the sense of being president," says White, adding that Perot has not thought hard about what it would take.

Perot says he would shake Washington out of its old habit of "slow dancing" around issues by going straight to "the people" via electronic town meetings to enlist their support for programs to reduce government waste and erase the deficit.

Tom Marquez, a longtime business associate from Texas, says Perot would draw on his experience leading successful lobbying campaigns for two Texas governors to win enactment of stricter anti-drug legislation and public school reform.

"The whole thing was to get the citizens involved, to go around the lobbyists, to go around the special interests and go directly to the legislators," Marquez said.

"That is the only way to get to these guys," says Marquez.

Going over the heads of members of Congress "can work sometimes if the president has a popular standing that makes Congress afraid to cross him," said political historian Alan Brinkley of Columbia University. "It worked for Reagan in the first years of his administration, it worked a bit for Lyndon Johnson in 1965."

Bush looks to fix problems, make changes if re-elected

Terence Hunt
Associated Press

WASHINGTON — Volume one of George Bush's presidency told the tale of overseas adventures and a foreign policy triumphs. The second volume, if there is one, promises to be the saga of George Bush discovering America.

The same energy that won the Cold War and the gulf war and brought Arab and Jew to the peace table now will be unleashed on the sickly economy, high unemployment and other problems at home.

Mr. Fixit, aka James Baker, would be at Bush's side. His top economic advisers would be tossed out, casualties of the recession, and the Cabinet would be turned upside down to recharge the administration.

Though weary from the campaign, the 68-year-old Bush shows no sign of slowing down. After four years, he still gets to the office by 7 a.m. and puts in 11 or 12 hours a day. After a campaign year of deprivation, he'd be sure to make frequent trips to his oceanfront home in Kennebunkport, Maine.

In the opening days of his first term Bush refused to set out a 100-day agenda of priorities; he says it'll be different this time.

He has prepared a list of goals to be completed in a year, from health-care reform and deficit reduction to tax cuts and incentives for businesses.

The list includes some ideas rejected or ignored by the Democratic-controlled Congress: a line-item veto, balanced budget amendment, limits on congressional terms and a ban on contributions from political action committees. Some goals are vague: streamlining government and cutting the salaries of the highest-paid officials.

While the domestic agenda would be on the front burner, there's still unfinished business in foreign policy — Bush's first love — such as the search for weapons in Iraq and nurturing capitalism and democracy in the former Soviet Union.

No longer worried about the nuclear threat, Bush pledges to turn to the challenges at home, the anxiety that many Americans feel about job security and their economic well being.

Despite the nation's staggering $4 trillion debt and an annual budget deficit running at $333 billion a year, Bush would somehow find money for a $10 billion job-training program, a $20 billion package of tax breaks and regulatory relief for small businesses. And he has promised across-the-board tax cuts for all Americans.

The debt would be shrunken by President George Bush

yet-unspecified spending cuts and restraints on entitlement programs such as Medicare, Medicaid, food stamps, farm subsidies and veterans benefits.

Bush says he'll spell out a plan to implement his agenda, after the election but before Congress returns to Washington in January.

Despite Bush's best efforts to portray himself as open to change, many believe that a second Bush administration would look much like the first.

For one thing, he'd immediately be a lame duck facing a hostile Congress, angry about four more years of Republican rule of the White House.

Politics of policy focus of Clinton campaign

John King
Associated Press

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — At Clinton campaign headquarters, there's talk already of ripping the sign from the strategy room and hanging it in a Clinton White House: "It's the economy, stupid."

That simple credo, Bill Clinton's compass toward election, would guide the Democrat in the early days of a presidency that would launch a revolution in Washington much like Ronald Reagan did 12 years ago.

The changing of the guard under Clinton would be generational, ideological and stylistic.

At 46, he would be the youngest president since John F. Kennedy, the first baby boomer in the White House. His lawyer-wife, Hillary, would no doubt be a groundbreaking first lady. And their 12-year-old daughter, Chelsea, would be the first adolescent in the White House since Amy Carter.

After 12 years as Arkansas governor, Clinton views government as an extension of politics and vice versa: no one in a Clinton White House would more keenly study the politics of policy than the president himself.

Clinton has his own priorities, but look for him to seek consensus with Democratic legislators and interest groups. All this under relentless pressure to keep his pledge to rein in the deficit and set the Democratic Party on an activist but moderate course.

"There is just simply not enough money to make everybody happy," said Clinton issues adviser Bruce Reed. "I suspect 'No' would be a frequently used word."

Clinton would set four or five immediate goals: jobs, short-term economic stimulus, a long-term economic package, health care and education.

"These are the things we have run on and these are the things we would want to address right out of the box," said Clinton campaign director and confidant Bruce Lindsey.

Clinton is likely to find an eager ally in Congress, where majority Democrats last saw a Democrat in the White House in 1980.

Clinton may summon Capitol Hill's power brokers and some of its new faces for a pre-inauguration summit to forge a first-year consensus on the centerpiece themes of his campaign.

"The mood up here is excitement and anticipation," said David Dreyer, a top aide to House Majority Leader Richard Gephardt.

"They know that their performance is going to be judged by how well and how quickly they establish an agenda. And people here are gnawing at the bit to get started."

Keenly aware that world leaders will have questions about Clinton and that financial markets will be wary of a Democratic president, among Clinton's first appointments would be the secretaries of State and Treasury, along with other economic advisers.

"He knows he needs to send reassuring signals to the economic community and world leaders," said a senior adviser who has discussed transition planning with

Clinton.

To put an early activist imprint on his administration, Clinton would quickly rescind Bush's gag rule on offering abortion advice at federally funded clinics, sign family leave and other legislation Bush killed with vetoes and seek a campaign reform measure covering congressional races and lobbying.

Surrounding Clinton in his White House will be a relatively young staff and a Cabinet that will "look like America" in its racial and ethnic composition and take an activist approach to government.

Leather Motorcycle Jackets

Only $99

Moda Americana
Affordable Fashion for men & women

MIKE STREB

For STATE REPRESENTATIVE
49TH DISTRICT

GAME PLAN

the bureaucracy
the special interest
the big spenders out on business as usual in Des Moines with NEW representation at the State Capitol

END RUN COUNTER SWEEP
PASS
SCORE

Paid for by Streb for State House Committee;
Byron Ross, Treasurer

New Sale Books!

FRIDA KAHLO
$19.95 ~~$6.98~~

BHARATI MUKHERJEE
$17.98 ~~$3.98~~

Also includes ...

Gramsci Reader
~~$24.95~~
$3.98

---

Video Night in Kathmandu
~~$24.95~~
$3.98

---

Middleman and Other Stories
~~$16.95~~
$3.98

---

Chemical Wedding
~~$21.95~~
$4.98

---

and dozens more!

HOCUS POCUS
$21.98 ~~$4.99~~

DIVINE INVASIONS
$28.98 ~~$5.98~~

FOUR PAST MIDNIGHT
$22.95 ~~$6.98~~

WHO BUILT AMERICA?
$34.98 ~~$6.98~~

Prairie Lights

downtown Iowa City
Open 9 a.m. daily

ethal
ctors with the unia-academics — and find not carry America into leny racial problems in ation pent up within n enough to get by has major cities. We tried were having sex. The increase in sexually mong the young. We o in the privacy of our intimate relationships exhaustion and self-lesbians.
n my heart for that eing unable to provide e room in my heart for ave that their children any moral anchors in nough for all of us in as Americans we have ake room in our hearts who are part of this people have died, and se of the venom that se dark places where
l. If we cannot find the rely be the end of us, ing about an upcoming r Auditorium. It came, te, which I am about to that there are notes of in this country. It is a ve can be, if we accept enjoy the differences in ve enjoy the differences
... And there's very er this broader vision nditioned reflexes and and his homicidal ten-arn to live together, or
F. Stone, iconoclast, ears on Mondays on the IISO

hina and Cuba, as well uccessful national libeents in the "third world it to be socialist, but it arked upon the state
ad to development.
and the IISO, socialism
ng people emancipating on their own behalf. It is ajority of people talking their own lives by making produce to meet their ants rather than to "live of a tiny minority with an election year that als the need for t control American poli-ism is abe y major ople rejecting the exist-system and replacing at is truly democraof responding to our either Mastio has intentionally lied about he has failed to make most minimal effort to himself with our positioning charges that
o substantiate.
others will be able to etters to the Editor
tio's grotesque perpe-gnificance of Columquecentenary.
s a member of the Socialist Organization

Nation & World

NUMBER OF MURDERS DOWN

FBI: nationwide crime down 2%

James H. Rubin
Associated Press

WASHINGTON — The amount of crime reported to police declined 2 percent in the first half of 1992 compared to the same period the previous year, the FBI said Sunday.

Some criminal justice experts expressed surprise at the drop, particularly the dip in the number of murders.

By contrast, the number of reported forcible rapes increased in the FBI survey. Some experts suggested that women, in the wake of the Anita Hill-Clarence Thomas sex harassment case, may be more willing to report rapes.

Violent crime reported to law enforcement agencies increased 3 percent compared with the same period last year, while property crime dropped 3 percent, the FBI said.

Since the volume of property crimes is far greater than the number of violent crimes, the overall crime rate was down.

About 16,000 law enforcement agencies nationwide contribute information to the FBI crime index. The agency did not provide a state-by-state breakdown. All figures in the report compared the first six months of 1992 to the first half of 1991.

FBI officials noted that the timing of the report is routine and coincidentally was released about a week before the presidential election.

A similar report — showing an increase in crime — was released by the FBI at this time last year.

Some regard the FBI figures as less reliable than a report due out soon from the Justice Department based on a household survey that is not limited to crime reported to police.

It is believed that less than 40 percent of major crimes are reported to police.

The FBI report showed a 3 percent drop in the number of reported murders, a 1 percent decrease in robberies, a 4 percent rise in forcible rapes and a 6 percent jump in aggravated assaults.

Alfred Blumstein, dean of the school of urban and public affairs at Carnegie Mellon University in Pittsburgh, said he is surprised by the decline in the number of murders.

He said he has heard reports that murders committed by people who were strangers to their victims may be increasing, while the number of murders among acquaintances is declining.

By contrast, said Blumstein, a reported dip in property crimes is easier to understand. There are fewer people nationally in the 15- to 19-year-old age group that accounts for most of the crimes.

The FBI — which does not break down statistics by age group — said burglary dropped 4 percent, larceny-theft 3 percent and car theft 2 percent. Arson increased 6 percent, the only rise among property crimes.

University of Massachusetts professor Jeff Sedgwick said, "Some of the figures are the exact opposite of what I would have expected."

CLINTON

Continued from Page 1A

his thrashing of Bush's trickle-down economics policies, making many of the same attacks as he did in his speech to union members.

"I don't think there is a person in the audience who objects to somebody making a million dollars," Clinton said. "As long as they make it the old-fashioned way, by putting the rest of us to work."

According to Clinton, no new private sector jobs have been created in the last four years, 100,000 Americans each month are losing their health insurance, and taxes have increased 65 percent while income has gone down. As president, he said he would give $100 billion in financial incentives to middle-class Americans.

"George Bush says things could be worse and I say things could get better," Clinton said. "I am a proud and unabashed member of the things-can-be-better crowd."

Clinton reiterated his proposal to cut the federal budget deficit and provide money for domestic programs by raising taxes on those who earn more than $200,000 a year.

He also called for a universal health care system in which all Americans can select their own physician and outlined his plan to establish a national college trust fund which would allow all Americans to borrow money for a college education. The money borrowed from the trust fund must then be repaid over time as a percentage of one's income or in some form of community service, according to his plan.

Concluding his speech, Clinton told the crowd that this campaign is about "hope against fear" and encouraged his supporters in the last 10 days of the campaign to "fight, fight, fight."

Clinton's campaign staff acknowledged that the race is tightening in Iowa, as they expected.

In the final weekend of September, Republican National Committee Chairman Rich Bond said Bush would not campaign in Iowa unless polling showed him with a 10 percent chance of winning.

The president is scheduled to campaign this Tuesday in Des Moines.

JOHNSON

Continued from Page 1A

tage running against Dvorsky and Republican challenger Michael Streb.

"I feel a lot freer as an independent," Johnson said. "As an independent I am not going to be tied down by party rules."

Johnson said he favors a more progressive tax system and that anyone making $10,000 or less should not be paying taxes.

He said that as an Iowan, he was one of only two people in his military unit, which was stationed 10 kilometers south of the Iraqi border, to have his combat pay taxed by the state.

"The current tax system stinks," Johnson said. "We need to increase the luxury tax and corporate gains tax."

A supporter of the Equal Rights Amendment to the Iowa Constitution and of a woman's right to have an abortion, Johnson said he also supports state funding of abortions for low-income women.

On the issue of gun control, Johnson said he would like to see a national checking system which could be accessed by law enforcement officers and those selling guns.

"As much as I want to see an increase in gun control, I don't think the waiting period is the answer," Johnson said.

A full-time UI student studying art and photography on the G.I. Bill, Johnson said he is conducting his campaign door-to-door and through candidate forums. His campaign is not accepting Political Action Committee money.

"I am paying for this out of my pocket," Johnson said. "I think at a state level position you don't need to spend that much money."

Johnson said that he has spent $40 on his campaign, most of which has been spent on copying flyers.

UNCERTAINTY, VIOLENCE CITED

Many whites now leaving South Africa

Tom Cohen
Associated Press

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — Inside the house that is no longer hers, with the "sold" sign out front, Glenda Holding explained that she and her family were moving to England out of fear.

"You're so scared, you have to live with locked doors and security gates and dogs," she said softly as her daughter Ashleigh, 20 months old, played on the carpet.

Thousands of whites, from doctors to farmers to artists, are either planning to leave South Africa or considering it as the country tries to end decades of apartheid in favor of multiracial rule.

Those leaving cite political uncertainty, a crumbling economy, or increasing crime and violence as reasons. The underlying message is that they believe black rule is imminent and will destroy the country and their way of life.

Some political leaders say the nation will become more stable when blacks are included in the government, which could happen next year. But South Africa's 5 million whites, accustomed to being coddled under apartheid, are facing growing hardship because of high inflation and unemployment.

Many whites point to Zimbabwe, the northern neighbor once known as Rhodesia that became a black-ruled republic in 1980, after seven years of bush war. Zimbabwe's economy has collapsed under a government accused of corruption and mismanagement.

"If Zimbabwe was still Rhodesia, I'd go back," said Hank Hankinson, who moved from there to South Africa in 1977. "We eventually folded up because of the economy. It wasn't politics, it wasn't the war: it was the economy."

Almost half the white population left in the late 1970s and in the first two years of independent Zimbabwe.

South African leaders express concern about white professionals leaving, but say they doubt the drain will equal that from Zimbabwe.

Doctors and other professionals are heading to the United States, Canada, England or other English-speaking Western nations.

Some white farmers contemplate moving to black-ruled Zambia, where the new government offers such incentives for foreign investors as customs exemptions on imported equipment and full retention of export earnings.

Chris Pretorius of the Home Ministry said it does not keep accurate figures on emigrants, but that the number appears to be increasing slightly.

JOHNSON

Continued from Page 1A

tage running against Dvorsky and Republican challenger Michael Streb.

"I feel a lot freer as an independent," Johnson said. "As an independent I am not going to be tied down by party rules."

Johnson said he favors a more progressive tax system and that anyone making $10,000 or less should not be paying taxes.

He said that as an Iowan, he was one of only two people in his military unit, which was stationed 10 kilometers south of the Iraqi border, to have his combat pay taxed by the state.

"The current tax system stinks," Johnson said. "We need to increase the luxury tax and corporate gains tax."

A supporter of the Equal Rights Amendment to the Iowa Constitution and of a woman's right to have an abortion, Johnson said he also supports state funding of abortions for low-income women.

On the issue of gun control, Johnson said he would like to see a national checking system which could be accessed by law enforcement officers and those selling guns.

"As much as I want to see an increase in gun control, I don't think the waiting period is the answer," Johnson said.

A full-time UI student studying art and photography on the G.I. Bill, Johnson said he is conducting his campaign door-to-door and through candidate forums. His campaign is not accepting Political Action Committee money.

"I am paying for this out of my pocket," Johnson said. "I think at a state level position you don't need to spend that much money."

Johnson said that he has spent $40 on his campaign, most of which has been spent on copying flyers.

ERA RALLY

Continued from Page 1A

ERA would add to that group's influence.

"You have a special responsibility in Iowa," said Cutler, a native of Waterloo.

ERA opponents also warned that much is at stake in Iowa.

"We're hearing family values laughed at and distorted," said

ERA opponent Beverly LaHaye, head of Concerned Women for America. "It is a situation that is very grave for our country."

The campaign over the ERA has grown hotter in the closing days. Opponents have launched television commercials linking the ERA to the expansion of gay rights.

Smeal said those attacks can't be dismissed.

"We must fight back on television, let there be no question about it," she said. "They are using fear tactics."

"Shame on the right-wing Christian zealot crowd," said ERA supporter Chuck Gifford, head of the United Auto Workers Union in Iowa.

SOMALIA

Continued from Page 1A

suspension of U.S. flights to that town.

In the last week, a German relief plane was hit by a bullet at Mogadishu's airport, and on Saturday two planes for the International Committee of the Red Cross were fired on in the southern port of Kismayu.

In Sunday's incident, the U.S. plane was making the second of 12 flights planned for Baidoa, said army Lt. Col. Robert Donnelly, the spokesman for the American operation, based in Kenya's coastal city of Mombasa.

Donnelly said the military C-130 Hercules was shot as it approached Baidoa's airstrip on Sunday morning.

The remaining 10 flights were suspended, with some diverted to Hoddur, 80 miles to the north.

TRADE-IN JEANS SALE

Now Through October 28

Our Charity Week is an opportunity to recycle much needed items to local charities. In conjunction with Goodwill Industries, Younkens is taking an active part in assisting those who are in need of basic items.

Bring in your old jeans and receive* ...

On Adult jeans:
•$10 Off any pair of jeans

Excludes Liz Claiborne, Elisabeth, Pepe, Guess?, Girbaud and Polo.

*Credits will be honored at the register at the time of your purchase. Only one monetary credit can be applied to the purchase of each new item. Value Price items are excluded in every category.

TRADE-IN COAT SALE

Bring in your old coat and receive* ...

On Women's & Junior coats:

- $30 Off purchase of all raincoats and long wool coats
- $20 Off purchase of all jackets and pant coats

On Men's coats:

- 30% Off purchase of any coat

Excludes Polo and Timberland coats.

TRADE-IN SWEATER SALE

Bring in your old sweater and receive* ...

On Adult Sweaters:

- $25 Off purchases of 100.01 or more
- $20 Off purchases of 75.01-$100
- $15 Off purchases of 40.01-$75
- $8 Off purchases of $24-$40

Excludes Liz Claiborne and Elisabeth.

TRADE-IN DRESS SHIRT SALE

Bring in your old dress shirt and receive* ...

On Men's dress shirts:

- $12 Off purchases of $36 or more
- $7 Off purchases up to 35.99

TRADE-IN TIE SALE

Bring in your old tie and receive* ...

On any Men's ties:

- $10 Off purchases of $36 or more
- $7 Off purchases of $26-35.99
- $5 Off purchases of $15-25.99

Use your Younkens Charge card at any of our 54 stores located in 7 states. We guarantee you'll find top quality merchandise, a marvelous selection of the latest fashions and reasonable prices for the best value for your money. Shop Younkens TODAY!

Younkens
SATISFACTION ALWAYS

Sp

THE DAILY IOWAN • M

Record Iowa bl

Curtis Riggs
The Daily Iowan

Mention the word "Hawkeye" around Iowa City and people nuts. Put a No. 2 in front of the moniker and it becomes bedlam.

A case in point is the 1,205 fans that squeezed into Grant Field to watch the second-ranked Hawkeyes (14-0 overall and 7-0 in the Big Ten) defeat St. Louis University 7-0 Sunday afternoon.

This is believed to be the largest crowd ever to witness a regular season NCAA Division I football game. The previous Iowa single-game mark was established Nov. 12, 1989, at that contest, Iowa shut out Providence 5-0 in an NCAA Region game.

Coach Beth Beglin was especially pleased by the enthusiastic throng that was treated to a perfect Indian summer afternoon, as well as another shutout for the home team.

"Obviously we are ecstatic. In a state that doesn't play the sport, it is amazing for this many people to come out and see a truly great team," Beglin said. "It is inspirational for the team."

It was a day for records at the three-year-old facility, as Iowa

IOWA-PURDUE

Purdue Lackluster play baffles Coach Fry

Jay Nanda
The Daily Iowan

Hayden Fry knew that with many of his top players dropping like flies due to injuries, a new quarterback would be at the helm.

He also planned on giving another chance to a freshman kicker who hadn't attempted a field goal since the Kickoff Classic.

But because of a lackluster performance showing against a club he hadn't lost to in 10 years, the Iowa coach had trouble recognizing his own team on Saturday.

"It just wasn't a typical Hawkeye performance, particularly in the second half," Fry said after Iowa's 27-16 setback to Purdue at Kinnick Stadium. "We just didn't play good football today. It just didn't look like our football team. We missed tackles we haven't missed since the Miami game."

What it did look like was the type of game Iowa (3-5, 2-2) could probably be excused for against to See HAWKEYES, Page 2

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

Seven mo

Iowa seniors Molly Tideback, Lauri Foster are looking to put the st

Sports

THE DAILY IOWAN • MONDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1992

WHO-WHAT-WHEN ...

Sports on TV

NFL
• Buffalo Bills at New York Jets, 8 p.m., ABC.
Boxing
• Myers vs. Campbell, lightweights, noon (taped), ESPN.

Iowa Sports

• Football hosts Ohio State, Oct. 31, 2:35 p.m., Kinnick Stadium, ABC.
• No. 2 Field Hockey hosts Ohio State Oct. 31, 12 p.m., Grant Field.
• Volleyball hosts Northwestern, Oct. 30 and Illinois Oct. 31, 7:30 p.m., Carver-Hawkeye Arena.

• Men's and women's cross country at Big Ten Championships, Oct. 31, Champaign, Ill.
• Women's tennis at Riviera All-American Championships, Pacific Palisades, Calif., Oct. 26-30.
• Men's swimming at Big Ten Relays at Northwestern, Nov. 1.

SPORTS QUIZ

Which team has Iowa played the most on Homecoming?
See answer on page 2B.

Record crowd witnesses Iowa blowout of Billikens

Curtis Riggs
The Daily Iowan

Mention the word "Hawkeyes" around Iowa City and people go nuts. Put a No. 2 in front of that moniker and it becomes bedlam.

A case in point is the 1,205 fans that squeezed into Grant Field to watch the second-ranked Hawkeyes (14-0 overall and 7-0 in the Big Ten) defeat St. Louis University 7-0 Sunday afternoon.

This is believed to be the largest crowd ever to witness a regular season NCAA Division I field hockey contest and shatters the previous Iowa single-game mark of 951 established Nov. 12, 1989. In that contest, Iowa shut out Providence 5-0 in an NCAA Regional game.

Coach Beth Beglin was especially pleased by the enthusiastic throng that was treated to a perfect Indian summer afternoon, as well as another shutout for the home team.

"Obviously we are ecstatic. In a state that doesn't play the sport, it is amazing for this many people to come out and see a truly great team," Beglin said. "It is inspirational for the team."

It was a day for records at the three-year-old facility, as Iowa midfielder Kristy Gleason moved into a tie for first-place on the Iowa all-time career goals chart with 88. Gleason's two scores against the Billikens, coupled with the two that she tallied in a 4-0 defeat of Michigan State on Friday, pulled her even with Anne-Marie Thomas, who played from 1979 to 1982.

Gleason garnered her 88 goals in 60 games, while Thomas needed 107 games.

But sharing the scoring record takes a backseat to the team's 26th straight win at Grant Field as far as Gleason is concerned.

"The win overall was most important," the 1990 first-team all-American said.

"I think the number of people that were here today shows how super Iowa fans are," Gleason added. "I think Beth wanted it more than anything."

Beglin is more impressed by Gleason's scoring efforts. "It is a phenomenal accomplishment," she said. "It is a reflection of her ability as well as her competitiveness."

Heather Bryant tallied two goals against the Billikens, while Kris Fillat, Jamie Rofrano and Mary Kravbill also added their names to the scoring column. Amy Fowler had four assists, Rofrano two and Amy Aaronson one.

Iowa goalkeeper Andrea Wieland registered six saves and goalie Rachel Smith had one. Billiken goalkeeper Julie Smith had nine saves against the Hawkeyes.

Iowa also dominated St. Louis statistically with 20 shots on goal to four for the Billikens, who dropped to 4-9-1 on the season. The Hawkeyes out-cornered the Billikens 18 to three.

The one-sided play enabled Beglin to empty her bench early in both games.

"We are not going to run up scores against anybody," Beglin said. "It is nice to have the opportunity to prepare for the future."

The Hawkeyes were able to maintain their two-game lead in the Big Ten with the victory over the Spartans (4-11 and 1-5 in conference play).

Beglin said her club could have beaten the Spartans even worse.

"I felt that we should have come away with more goals," she said. "But intensity and killer instinct have to come from within."

Gleason had a pair of goals against the Spartans, while Ann Paré and Kris Fillat each had one.

Rofrano, Fillat, Fowler and Tiffany Bybel each had one assist. Iowa

Al Goldis/The Daily Iowan

Sophomore Michelle Gaudette dribbles upfield in a 4-0 defeat of Michigan State Friday at Grant Field.

Freshman Jessica Enoch (16) looks on for the Hawkeyes, who host Ohio State at noon Saturday.

IOWA-PURDUE

Purdue dents Hawks' bowl chances

Lackluster play baffles Coach Fry

Jay Nanda
The Daily Iowan

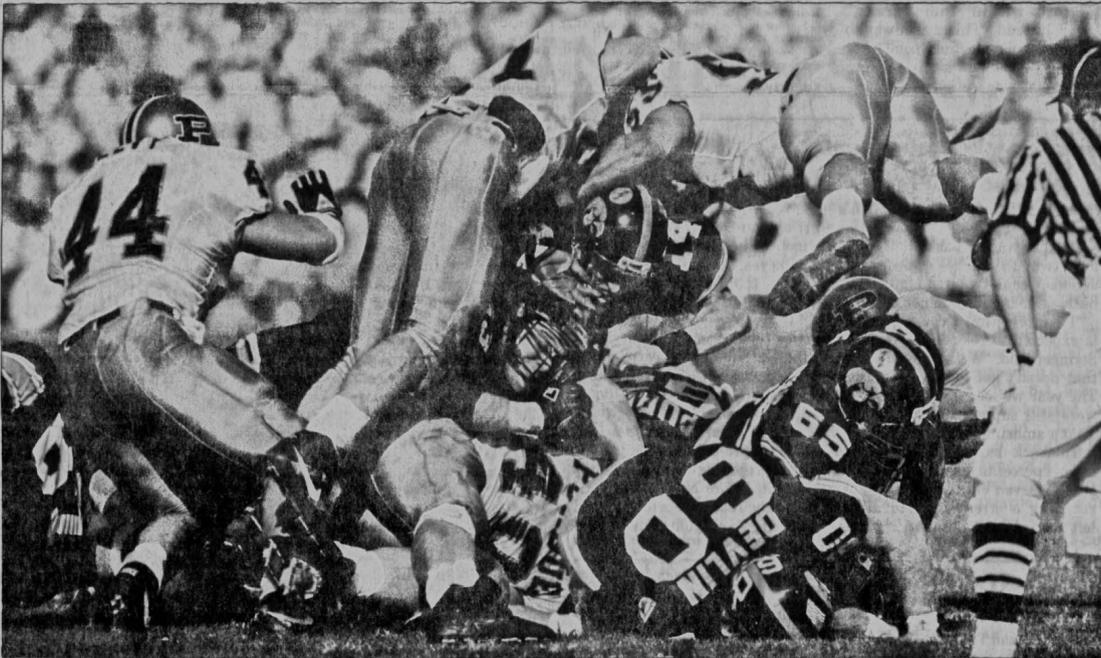

Hayden Fry knew that with many of his top players dropping like flies due to injuries, a new quarterback would be at the helm.

He also planned on giving another chance to a freshman kicker who hadn't attempted a field goal since the Kickoff Classic.

But because of a lackluster team showing against a club he hadn't lost to in 10 years, the Iowa coach had trouble recognizing his own team on Saturday.

"It just wasn't a typical Hawkeye performance, particularly in the second half," Fry said after Iowa's 27-16 setback to Purdue at Kinnick Stadium. "We just didn't play good football today. It just didn't look like our football team. We missed tackles we haven't missed since the Miami game."

What it did look like was the type of game Iowa (3-5, 2-2) could probably be excused for against top

Al Goldis/The Daily Iowan

Led by the blocking of Mike Devlin (60) and Scott Davis (65), quarterback Matt Eyde sneaks for a first down under Purdue's Eric Beatty (55) and a teammate during Iowa's 27-16 Homecoming loss to the Boilermakers.

Successful opportunity for Hunter

David Taylor
The Daily Iowan

Call it a rebirth of a quarterback. After enduring a frustrating season in which he has played very little, Purdue senior quarterback Eric Hunter made the most of a surprise starting opportunity Saturday afternoon.

Yes, it's the same Eric Hunter who set a Kinnick Stadium record two years ago with 32 completions in 60 attempts in a 38-9 loss to Iowa.

It's also the same Eric Hunter who threw the ball all of seven times during the Boilermakers' 27-16 upset over the Hawkeyes.

Go figure. Hunter threw for over 2,000 yards as a sophomore, but had fallen to No. 3 on the depth chart in his final season. He had thrown the ball only 10 times this year, completing four.

So how did he direct his team to a win over 11½-point favorite Iowa?

"We didn't pass today because we

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

Seven months later, Hawks can't forget

Al Goldis/The Daily Iowan

Iowa seniors Molly Tideback, Laurie Aaron and Toni Foster are looking to put the sting of last year's 61-60 NCAA first-round overtime loss behind them as they prepare for the 1992-93 campaign.

Roxanna Pellin

The Daily Iowan

Although it can never forget, the Iowa women's basketball team hopes to put last season's abrupt ending in the past by getting ready for the upcoming 1992-93 season.

Practice begins Nov. 1 for the Hawkeyes. This date is 10 days earlier than in previous seasons and gives Iowa 18 days to prepare for its opening exhibition game against the Czechoslovakian National Team at Carver-Hawkeye Arena.

"I'm trying to put it (the loss) behind me and go into the new year," Coach C. Vivian Stringer said Sunday as the Hawkeyes held their annual Media Day. "It still makes me very angry thinking about it. I just have to deal with it."

"On November 1, I'll remember that game when we came up short," she added, referring to the 61-60 loss in overtime that top-seeded Iowa suffered to No. 8 Southwest Missouri State in the opening round of the NCAA Tournament last season. It was Iowa's lone defeat at Carver-Hawkeye Arena.

See BASKETBALL, Page 2B

Bowlsby says Iowa not guilty of wrongdoing

Jay Nanda
The Daily Iowan

Iowa's excessive financial aid to athletes in several men's sports shouldn't warrant a forfeiture of any championships, athletic director Bob Bowlsby said on Saturday.

According to university reports, several Iowa programs allocated scholarships to out-of-state athletes on an in-state basis in 1989-90 and 1990-91. But after having met with NCAA committee members recently in Kansas City, Bowlsby remained optimistic about the penalties the NCAA may level against the university.

"It's probably presumptuous for me to say it but, I find it very hard to believe we're going to forfeit any awards or honors we have gained," Bowlsby said prior to the Iowa-Purdue game.

"That isn't to say that there won't be corrective measures taken, and I think it is appropriate that we probably be reduced by an amount equal to that which we gained an advantage. But beyond that, it's very difficult to penalize individual institutions when all we were doing was following the directives of the conference office."

According to the reports, Iowa allocated 11 more scholarships than they were allowed, including an excess of 3.6 scholarships in wrestling, which has won the NCAA title the last two years. But Bowlsby, who is also the Chairman of the NCAA Wrestling Committee, doesn't see wrestling, or any other sports such as golf, tennis, swimming and track suffering significant damages.

"Quite honestly, I don't think the NCAA knows how to deal with it, because it's the first situation I've been aware of where a whole league was involved in a misinterpretation of the rules," Bowlsby said.

Bowlsby explained that Big Ten schools allocated aid on a modular basis, meaning that there are separate modals for tuition, room and board and books — each with a given dollar value.

For example, in-state tuition is

See BOWLSBY, Page 2B

SCOREBOARD

Quiz Answer

Minnesota has played the Hawkeyes more than any other Homecoming opponent (15).

On The Line

- Purdue 27, Iowa 16
- Michigan 63, Minnesota 13
- Nebraska 34, Missouri 24
- N.C. State 20, Clemson 6
- Oklahoma State 27, Iowa State 21
- Indiana 10, Wisconsin 3
- Arizona 24, California 17
- Ohio State 27, Michigan State 17
- Texas 45, Houston 38
- Kansas 27, Oklahoma 10
- Tiebreaker: Princeton 21, Harvard 6

Out of 281 entrants, a grand total of one person went a perfect 10-0. Congratulations to Jerry Labor for outpicking everyone, but for those of you who know Jerry, you might want to give him some slack for shunning his school spirit by predicting Purdue's win over Iowa. Then again, he might not give you any of the $25 worth of Domino's Pizza he won.

Two people went 9-1: Ya-chi Chen and Alexei Abras. Other winners of hats are: Andy Kovacevich, Tom Casale, Kevin Singleman, Steve Bowers, Roland Glembine, Kathy L. Gregory, Al Stroh, Mike Hershberger.

NFL Today

SCOREBOARD
Buffalo at the New York Jets, 8 p.m. The Bills (4-2) can get within a game of the Miami Dolphins (6-1) in the AFC East when they visit the Jets (1-5).

HOCKEY

Continued from Page 1B
outshot Michigan State 24-1 and led in the penalty corner department 14-0.

Goalkeeper Smith recorded her first career save. Wieland had no saves, while Spartan goalkeeper Sarah Humpage had 16 on the day.

The Hawkeyes will host conference rival Ohio State Saturday at noon at Grant Field.

BOWLSBY

Continued from Page 1B
equal to $2,000, or .33 of a scholarship, while out-of-state tuition is $6,000 (.6 of a full-ride scholarship), according to Bowsby.

"Everyone in the Big Ten agreed to do it that way," he said, adding that each Big Ten institution was affected with the exception of Northwestern, whose tuition fees are the same for in- and Dolphins (6-1) in the AFC East when they visit the Jets (1-5).

STATS
The Washington Redskins are 11-2 at domed stadiums under Joe Gibbs, including 4-0 at the Metrodome. The Vikings have lost six straight games to the Redskins, including two in the playoffs.

STREAKS
The Seattle Seahawks broke a streak of 223 minutes, 14 seconds (dating to Oct. 4) without a touchdown when they scored on a 13-yard pass from Stan Gelbaugh to Tommy Kane in the third quarter of a 23-10 loss to the New York Giants.

STARS
Chip Lohmiller was perfect on five field goals, the last a 49-yarder with 1:09 remaining — to account for all the scoring in Washington's 15-13 victory over Minnesota.

Stan Humphries threw for a career-high 349 yards and two touchdowns and ran in for a third as San Diego beat Denver 24-21.

— Emmitt Smith rushed for 152 yards and three touchdowns as Dallas ended the Raiders' three-game winning streak.

SWINGS
Houston's Cris Dishman, who had six interceptions last season, does not have a theft in seven games this year.

Chicago's Jim Harbaugh matched a 28-year-old club record of 13 straight complete passes while leading the Bears to a 30-10 victory over the Green Bay Packers. He tied the record set by Rudy Bukich over two games in 1964.

STOPPERS
The Philadelphia defense — committing penalties that stretched four downs to seven plays — denied Phoenix the end zone from the 3 in a second-quarter goal-line stand that punctuated its 7-3 victory.

STEALER
San Diego's Gill Byrd intercepted Denver's John Elway twice, and now has nine career picks against the Broncos' quarterback.

SPEAKING
"We kept shooting ourselves in the foot. If you keep doing that enough, pretty soon you have no toes left." — New York quarterback Jeff Hostetler commenting on the Giants' slow start offensively against Seattle.

STINGY
It was the 15th consecutive game in which the Eagles held an opponent to less than 100 yards rushing and the 53rd straight game in which they held opposing running backs under 100 yards.

SPLIT ENDS
Anthony Miller and Derrick Walker gave the Chargers their first 100-yard receiving tandem in a game since 1985. Miller caught six passes for 129 yards and Walker four for 104. Both scored TDs.

SIDELINED
The Colts lost rookie linebacker Quentin Coryatt, who sustained a fractured wrist in the first period and will be sidelined four to six weeks.

World Series Records

ATLANTA — Individual and team records set and tied in the 1992 World Series between the Atlanta Braves and the Toronto Blue Jays:

- RECORDS SET
- Team Pitching
    - Most consecutive shutout innings, bullpen, series — 15 1-3, Toronto.
  - Batting
    - Most consecutive games with home run, team, postseason — 10, Toronto; old record 8, shared by Baltimore, 1970 and Milwaukee, 1982.
    - Most stolen bases, team, 6-game series — 14, Atlanta; old record 8, Chi (NL), 1906.
    - Most stolen bases, both clubs, 6-game series — 19 (Atlanta 14, Toronto 5); old record 14, New York (NL) vs. Phi. (AL), 1905.
  - Individual Batting
    - Most consecutive hitless at-bats, one post-season — 23, Kelly Gruber, Toronto, 1992; old record 22, Dave Winfield, 1981, and Dal Maxvill, 1967.
    - Consecutive games batted safely, postseason career, catcher — 14, Pat Borders, Toronto; old record 11, Thurman Munson, N.Y. (AL), 1976-78; and Yogi Berra, N.Y. (AL), 1953-55.
    - Most stolen bases, 6-game series — 5, Otis Nixon, Atlanta, and Deion Sanders, Atlanta; old record 4, Davey Lopes, Los Angeles, 1981.
  - RECORDS TIED
    - Team Pitching
      - Most saves, club, 6-game series — 3, Toronto; shared by 1980 Philadelphia Phillies.
      - Most saves, both clubs, 6-game series — 4 (Toronto 3, Atlanta 1); shared by 1980 Philadelphia Phillies (3) and Kansas City Royals (1).
    - Batting
      - Fewest caught stealings, team, series, 0, Toronto; shared by many.
      - Fewest triples, team, series — 0, Toronto and Atlanta; shared by many.
      - Fewest triples, both teams, series — 0, Toronto and Atlanta; shared by many.
    - Individual Pitching
      - Most games won, relief pitcher, 6-game series — 2, Duane Ward, Toronto; shared by five others.
      - Most games lost, total series, no victories — 4, Charlie Leibrand, Atlanta, 1991-92; shared by Edgar Summers, Det., 1908-09; Williams Sherdel, St. Louis (NL), 1926, 1928; and Don Newcombe, Brooklyn (NL), 1949, 1955, 1956.
      - Most saves, 6-game series — 2, Tom Henke, Toronto; shared by Tug McGraw, 1980 Philadelphia Phillies, and Rich Gossage, 1981 New York Yankees.
      - Most wild pitches, game — 2, John Smoltz, Atlanta, Game 2; shared by 13 others.

CFA Top 25
The Top Twenty-Five teams in the Associated Press 1992 college football poll, with first-place votes in parentheses, records through Oct. 24, total points based on 25 points for a first place vote through one point for a 25th place vote, and ranking in last week's poll:

| Rank | Team            | Record | Pts   | Pvs |
|------|-----------------|--------|-------|-----|
| 1    | Miami (32)      | 7-0-0  | 1,517 | 1   |
| 2    | Washington (29) | 7-0-0  | 1,516 | 1   |
| 3    | Michigan        | 6-0-1  | 1,402 | 3   |
| 4    | Alabama (1)     | 8-0-0  | 1,372 | 4   |
| 5    | Texas A&M       | 7-0-0  | 1,247 | 5   |
| 6    | Florida St.     | 6-1-0  | 1,245 | 6   |
| 7    | Georgia         | 7-1-0  | 1,144 | 7   |
| 8    | Colorado        | 6-0-1  | 1,046 | 9   |
| 9    | Nebraska        | 5-1-0  | 1,046 | 8   |
| 10   | Notre Dame      | 5-1-1  | 981   | 10  |
| 11   | Boston College  | 6-0-1  | 929   | 11  |
| 12   | Syracuse        | 6-1-0  | 886   | 12  |
| 13   | Southern Cal    | 4-1-1  | 795   | 15  |
| 14   | Penn St.        | 6-2-0  | 727   | 14  |
| 15   | Stanford        | 6-2-0  | 642   | 16  |
| 16   | Tennessee       | 5-2-0  | 580   | 17  |
| 17   | Arizona         | 4-2-1  | 547   | 21  |
| 18   | Kansas          | 6-1-0  | 513   | 22  |
| 19   | Washington St.  | 6-1-0  | 432   | 13  |
| 20   | Florida         | 4-2-0  | 428   | 20  |
| 21   | N. Carolina St. | 6-2-1  | 350   | 23  |
| 22   | North Carolina  | 6-2-0  | 210   | 24  |
| 23   | Virginia        | 6-2-0  | 206   | 24  |
| 24   | Mississippi St. | 5-2-0  | 191   | 25  |
| 25   | Texas           | 4-2-0  | 90    | —   |

Others receiving votes: Ohio St. 24, Georgia Tech 22, Clemson 18, Air Force 17, Hawaii 13, West Virginia 9, San Diego State 3, Auburn 1, Bowling Green 1.

NCAA Top 25 Fared

How the top 25 teams in the Associated Press college football poll fared this week:

- 1. Miami (7-0-0) beat Virginia Tech 43-23. Next: vs. West Virginia.
- 2. Washington (7-0-0) beat Pacific 31-7. Next: vs. No. 16 Stanford.
- 3. Michigan (6-0-1) beat Minnesota 63-13. Next: at Purdue.

BASKETBALL: First exhibition Nov. 19

Continued from Page 1B
"I still look at the game tapes, I'm still mad about it," senior guard Laurie Aaron said. "I think about it all of the time."

Aaron said that she uses the loss as motivation.

"Every time I feel like I'm not giving 110 percent, I go back and watch the tape," she said. "So, it'll help me be consistent everyday."

Aaron was an honorable mention all Big-Ten selection last season. She led the team in steals, assists and 3-point goals.

Now the Hawkeyes say they're ready to prove they deserve the high pre-season rankings accorded them by NCAA Preview Magazine

(5th) and Street and Smith's Basketball (8th).

"In the game of basketball, there are two things — words and actions," senior center Molly Tideback said. "Actions do not lie."

"It's interesting because everyone is expected to reload and rebuild," Stringer said. "We're the only team that doesn't get to do any of that. The year we lost three players, we were still supposedly number one. That's amazing."

Tideback led the team in free throw percentage with .790. She started seven of nine games before suffering a stress fracture in her left foot. After missing 12 games, she returned to the starting lineup in a win over Wisconsin that clinched the conference title for the Hawkeyes.

"I feel that I don't even know what an injury is anymore," Tideback said. "What's going to happen is going to happen. I mean I'm not going to say that in a great year we're going to win every game and a national championship. It starts with day one."

Senior Toni Foster said that besides pre-season conditioning, she is preparing herself mentally.

"Even before Nov. 1, I'm getting mentally ready," Foster said. "I'm thinking about going out there and just playing."

Foster, an all Big-Ten selection the past two seasons, led the Hawkeyes in scoring and rebounding. She averaged 15.5 points per game and 8.4 rebounds last year. In the off-season, Foster played on the Big Ten All-Star Team that toured Australia and New Zealand.

She said that her personal goal this year is to "play hard like there's no tomorrow."

Although she is the team's captain, Foster said that she really isn't feeling any additional pressure.

"I just have to do what I can," she said. "I just have to go out there and play, and not think about it."

HUNTER: Defies pulled hip muscle

Continued from Page 1B
didn't have to," Purdue coach Jim Colletto said. "We thought we had to get some speed in the thing, and we knew we couldn't drop back into the pocket against this team and win, so we decided we were going to go with option football and spread it out."

Hunter rushed for 78 yards on 16 carries, and guided the Boilermakers to 254 yards rushing on the day.

"I thought he did a great job today and we'll let him go the rest of the way," Colletto added. "He was real calm during the game and I got off his fanny, and I'm sure that helped a lot. It's nice to see him have some success... it's been a hard year for him."

Colletto said the decision to start Hunter in favor of Matt Pike was made after Purdue lost to Wisconsin 19-16 on Oct. 17.

"We wanted to make sure we did some different things and he gives you that kind of opportunity, because you have to make sure you know where he is going all the time," he said. "If we had to sit and drop back all day, we were going to get run over. He gives us a dimension that is a little bit different."

even more impressive was the fact that he played the entire second half with a pulled hip muscle.

"I had some good stretches and put some ice on it so I could come back out and play the second half," the Hampton, Va., native said. "I didn't want to come out; it was too big of a game for me."

And what did he have to say about the disparity in passes thrown in 1990 compared to this year?

"I was surprised because we felt we could throw the ball against them, but we came out and established our running game right at the beginning," he said.

Now with their bowl hopes hanging by a thread, the Hawkeyes must win each of the four remaining games to finish above .500. And even with an always tough Ohio State squad coming to Kinnick for a Halloween matchup, the Iowa players did their best to stay upbeat.

"Everybody's going to have a couple of losses and it's going to come down to the last week of the season," center Mike Devlin said. "If we go 7-5... that's our goal now."

HAWKEYES: Winning record becomes goal

Continued from Page 1B
ten teams Miami, Michigan and Colorado. But because the Hawkeyes needed to win the rest of their games to have a legitimate shot at the Florida Citrus Bowl, the Homecoming defeat to the 3-4, 2-2 Boilermakers made it that much harder to swallow.

"Any loss is bad but I think this really hurts because bowls are on the line," defensive back Marquis "Bo" Porter said.

With fifth-year senior quarterback Jim Hartlieb out indefinitely due to a sprained right shoulder, Michigan State transfer Matt Eyde was thrust into his first career start.

Eyde was up to the task early on, completing 13 of 18 passes for 96 yards in the first half, as the Hawkeyes and Boilermakers headed to the locker room tied at 10-10. But a 9-for-21 second half, including three sacks and two interceptions, spelled trouble for Iowa.

"I thought Matt Eyde did a very fine job for his first time to ever play," Fry said. "We tried to do what we could do with Matt... I'm sure that we all miss Jimmy."

"It's just one of those deals," Eyde said. "It was a good experience, that's for sure. I guess it felt alright. I just wanted to do the best I could."

The Boilermakers had been having their own quarterback dilemma, but Coach Jim Colletto may have found the final piece to his puzzle. Senior Eric Hunter, who broke Kinnick Stadium records in pass attempts (60), completions (32) and plays (67) in a 38-9 Hawkeye rout in 1990, only threw the ball seven times on Saturday.

But because Purdue outrushed the Hawkeyes 254-108, an air attack wasn't needed.

"I was standing there on the sidelines wondering why Coach Colletto hadn't played this big guy before," Fry said of Hunter. "He's really a great talent. His running hurt us as much, if not more, than his passing. I don't think there's any question of the fact that Eric Hunter was the difference in the ballgame."

"We didn't pass much today because we didn't have to," Colletto said of Hunter's 78 rushing yards on 16 carries and Arlee Connors' 107 yards on 14 attempts.

Fry may have found his own missing link in regards to the kicking game, as freshman Todd Romano booted three field goals, including a 47-yarder.

"He really was (a bright spot) on field goals," Fry said. "It was hard to believe he couldn't kick the ball any further than what he was kicking on the kickoffs, and then he put a 47-yarder through. That just shows our inconsistency."

"I just kept plugging and doing what I knew how to do," Romano said. "I know I put a lot of pressure on myself at the beginning of the year but last week, I said, 'Hey, I did it in high school, just go back to what you did in high school.'"

Now with their bowl hopes hanging by a thread, the Hawkeyes must win each of the four remaining games to finish above .500. And even with an always tough Ohio State squad coming to Kinnick for a Halloween matchup, the Iowa players did their best to stay upbeat.

"Everybody's going to have a couple of losses and it's going to come down to the last week of the season," center Mike Devlin said. "If we go 7-5... that's our goal now."

TONIGHT BLUE TUNAS BLUES JAM

BEST HAPPY HOUR IN TOWN

18 S. Linn 354-7430

GABE'S OABIE

TONIGHT Downy Mildew with Paisley Bible

WEDNESDAY ANSON FUNDERBURGH-SAM MYERS
THURSDAY BENT SCEPTERS
FRIDAY HIGH & LONESOME
SATURDAY FUNK FARM

The Infamous TACO TUESDAY

TACO JOHN'S

2 Hardshells 99¢

The good taste place

113 Iowa Ave. (next to Joe's)
230 Kirkwood Ave.

Tired of Pizza & Burgers?? Try...

Shwarma's

Jumbo Falafel $1.99

All week 11 am - 4pm

25¢ Delivery charge 4pm-11:30pm
340 E. Burlington • 337-2582

Things for The Werewolf

- *Ears
- *Fangs
- *Eyebrows
- *Nails
- *Masks
- *MakeUp

Thingsville

351-3477 Foster Field Old Capital

BODY DIMENSIONS

wants to help you build a better body... for as low as $19.95 (EFT)/month

• Stairmasters • Aerobics • Nautilus • Treadmills
• Universal • Free Weights • Lifecycle • Tanning

BODY DIMENSIONS

Call for a free workout Fitness or Aerobics 354-2252 111 E. Washington St. Downtown Iowa City 338-8447 Canterbury Inn Coralville

IN CASE YOU MISSED IT!!!

The Office of Campus Programs & Student Activities Business Service will sponsor a student organization financial workshop on

October 28, 1992 (Wednesday) 4:30 - 6:00 PM

Big Ten Room, IMU (Third Floor)

Bring your organization's financial & resource manual in order to get it updated. If your organization doesn't have a manual, you can check one out at the workshop.

(Groups need only come if no officers/authorized signers have been to a previous workshop and the group has a university Z account. Sports clubs, residence hall groups, and social Greek houses need not attend.)

Call the OCPA Business Service at 335-3065 for questions.

HAWKTALK

Spoiler

With North Carolina State, Miami, Colorado and Michigan out of the way, the Hawkeyes were thought to be through the toughest part of their schedule. However, another formidable opponent turned up for the 3-4 Purdue Saturday at Kinnick Stadium.

The Boilermakers have proven to be a thorn in Iowa's side when it comes to Homecoming, spoiling the Hawkeyes' day for the 10th time in 15 games (10-4-1). But a most telling stat may be that Purdue has won twice as many losses as the combined records of the teams mentioned above (25-2-3).

Afterwards, the Hawkeyes pondered the why's and the how's Saturday's 27-16 loss.

Haunted by Hunter

Coach Hayden Fry on his impressions of Purdue quarterback Eric Hunter, who rushed for 78 yards and only threw seven passes, after breaking a Kinnick record with 6 attempts and 32 completions two years ago: "I was standing there on the sidelines wondering why Coach (Jim) Colletto hadn't played the big guy before. He's really a great talent. His running hurt us as much, if not more, than his passing. We prepared for him even though he's still listed as third team. Maybe if I hadn't said anything about how great he was, Coach Colletto wouldn't have played him."

Equal time for Eyde

Fry on Iowa quarterback Matt Eyde, who completed 22 of 33 passes for 164 yards and two interceptions in his first collegiat start: "On both the interceptions he forced the ball and he shouldn't have. He's a smart young man, he knew he did the wrong thing. Of course, I knew he did the wrong thing as soon as I saw the Purdue guy with the ball. Bless his heart, he tries so hard. I'm rea

VOLLEYBALL

Iowa's Staci Morley, front, and Matt team up for a dig during the Haw

Hawks fi

Roxanna Pellin
The Daily Iowan

According to Coach Linda Schoenstedt and her players, the final score was little indication of how the Hawkeye volleyball team played when it hosted 11th-ranked Penn State Saturday.

"If it would have been a rally scoring match, I think we definitely would have beaten them," junior Courtney Gillis said of the 15-2, 15-9, 15-12 loss to the Lady Lions.

Iowa dropped to 1-9 in the conference and 9-13 overall, while Penn State remained unbeaten in the Big Ten at 13-0, 18-2 overall.

"We played much better than the score showed," Gillis said referring to the first game's score. Iowa led the game 2-0 before Penn State shut down the Hawkeye offense and scored the next 15 points for the win.

In Game 3, the Hawkeyes tied 9-9 before the Lady Lions tied the score at 9-9.

Coach Linda Schoenstedt said that despite the loss, she was pleased

Sports

HAWKTALK

Spoilermakers ruin Iowa's Homecoming

With North Carolina State, Miami, Colorado and Michigan out of the way, the Hawkeyes were thought to be through the toughest part of their schedule. However, another formidable opponent turned up in the form of Purdue Saturday at Kinnick Stadium.

The Spoilermakers have proven to be a thorn in Iowa's side when it comes to Homecoming, spoiling the Hawkeyes' day for the 10th time in 15 games (10-4-1). But a more telling stat may be that Purdue has twice as many losses as the combined records of the teams mentioned above (25-2-3).

Afterwards, the Hawkeyes pondered the why's and the how's of Saturday's 27-16 loss.

Big Ten Standings

|              | Conference |   |   |     | All Games |   |
|--------------|------------|---|---|-----|-----------|---|
|              | W          | L | T | Pts | W         | L |
| Michigan     | 4          | 0 | 1 | 54  | 6         | 0 |
| Ohio St.     | 2          | 0 | 0 | 90  | 62        | 5 |
| Indiana      | 2          | 0 | 0 | 72  | 79        | 4 |
| Wisconsin    | 2          | 0 | 0 | 64  | 65        | 4 |
| Purdue       | 2          | 0 | 0 | 81  | 83        | 3 |
| Iowa         | 2          | 0 | 0 | 91  | 115       | 3 |
| Mich. St.    | 2          | 0 | 0 | 89  | 108       | 2 |
| Northwestern | 2          | 0 | 0 | 65  | 99        | 2 |
| Illinois     | 1          | 3 | 0 | 75  | 85        | 3 |
| Minnesota    | 1          | 3 | 0 | 66  | 124       | 1 |

Purdue 27, Iowa 16

|  | Purdue   | Iowa |
|--|----------|------|
| 0-10-7-10-27                               | 7-3-3-16 |      |
| IWA—Hughes 2 pass from Terry (Romano kick) |          |      |
| PUR—Conners 23 run (O'Leary kick)          |          |      |
| PUR—FG O'Leary 25                          |          |      |
| IWA—FG Romano 34                           |          |      |
| IWA—FG Romano 47                           |          |      |
| PUR—Morrow 3 run (O'Leary kick)            |          |      |
| IWA—FG Romano 29                           |          |      |
| PUR—FG O'Leary 40                          |          |      |
| PUR—Coleman 1 run (O'Leary kick)           |          |      |

|                    | PUR    | IWA     |
|--------------------|--------|---------|
| First downs        | 16     | 17      |
| Rushes-yards       | 48-254 | 40-108  |
| Passing yards      | 53     | 166     |
| Return yards       | 1      | 12      |
| Passes             | 2-7-0  | 23-40-2 |
| Punts              | 5-38   | 3-42    |
| Fumbles-lost       | 3-2    | 4-2     |
| Penalties-yards    | 5-35   | 2-14    |
| Time of Possession | 25:32  | 34:28   |

INDIVIDUAL STATISTICS
RUSHING — PUR, Conners 14-107, Hunter 16-78, Coleman 10-42, Morrow 4-16, Alstott 3-9, Smikle 1-2. IWA, Lampkin 17-49, Terry 6-33, Montgomery 5-13, Eyde 10-8, Kujawa 2-5.
PASSING — PUR, Hunter 2-7-0-53, IWA, Eyde 22-39-2-164, Terry 1-1-0-2.
RECEIVING — PUR, Ross 1-36, Alstott 1-17, IWA, Montgomery 6-28, Jasper 4-51, Cross 3-16, Hughes 2-19, Lampkin 2-16, Terry 2-15, Anttila 2-12, Kujawa 1-5, Dean 1-4.

Defensive back Carlos James gets a leg up on Purdue senior quarterback Eric Hunter at Kinnick Stadium. The Spoilermakers turned Spoilermakers with a 27-16 upset in Iowa's 81st Homecoming game.

impressed. Certainly, it wasn't his fault.

Hartlieb may return, but...

Fry on the possible return of starting quarterback Jim Hartlieb: "It's too early to tell. The doctor did say he was ahead of schedule, whatever that means. Whether Hartlieb plays or not, it's not going to make up for the poor tackling, or the lack of blocking."

Kicking around the kicking game?

Fry: "I've probably gone for first downs on fourth down more this season than I have in an entire season in my whole coaching career just trying to keep this team aloft, trying to give it a chance."

Dejected freshman kicker Todd Romano, who booted three field goals in his first start since the Kickoff Classic Aug. 29, on learning of Fry's theory on fourth downs: "Well, I mean, you know, the special teams haven't performed like the coaching staff would've liked us to. It hasn't really shined or stood out. But if they want to go for it, you know, I'm glad, you know..."

Pancake defense

Defensive back Marquis "Bo" Porter: "We played flat as a defense. That's the bottom line. We didn't give the offense a chance."

Friendly rivals

Center Mike Devlin on going head-to-head with Purdue's Jeff Zgonina who, like himself, is a

Lombardi Trophy semifinalist: "This is our fourth time going against each other. I think we became pretty good friends the last couple of years. There's a lot of jawing, but it's all in good fun."

Eyde like to see the films

Eyde, when asked if he felt a sense of relief about getting his first collegiate start behind him: "It was a good experience, that's for sure. I wanna make sure I check out the film tomorrow and try to get better for next week."

"I just feel great that I'm playing with these guys."

A big difference

Colletto on part of the reason his offense had the success it did: "In this game, field position is a large percentage of it. When the kickoff's aren't real deep, it helps a lot."

Compiled by Jay Nanda

Haunted by Hunter

Coach Hayden Fry on his impressions of Purdue quarterback Eric Hunter, who rushed for 78 yards and only threw seven passes, after breaking a Kinnick record with 60 attempts and 32 completions two years ago: "I was standing there on the sidelines wondering why Coach (Jim) Colletto hadn't played this big guy before. He's really a great talent. His running hurt us as much, if not more, than his passing. We prepared for him even though he's still listed as third-team. Maybe if I hadn't said anything about how great he was, Coach Colletto wouldn't have played him."

Equal time for Eyde

Fry on Iowa quarterback Matt Eyde, who completed 22 of 39 passes for 164 yards and two interceptions in his first collegiate start: "On both the interceptions, he forced the ball and he shouldn't have. He's a smart young man, he knew he did the wrong thing. Of course, I knew he did the wrong thing as soon as I saw the Purdue guy with the ball. Bless his heart, he tries so hard. I'm real

VOLLEYBALL

Iowa's Staci Morley, front, and Michelle Thompson team up for a dig during the Hawkeyes' 3-1 loss to Ohio State Friday night at Carver-Hawkeye Arena. Iowa also lost to No. 11 Penn State on Saturday.

Hawks find moral victories

Roxanna Pellin
The Daily Iowan

According to Coach Linda Schoenstedt and her players, the final score was little indication of how the Hawkeye volleyball team played when it hosted 11th-ranked Penn State Saturday.

"If it would have been a rally scoring match, I think we definitely could have beaten them," junior Courtney Gillis said of the 15-2, 15-9, 15-12 loss to the Lady Lions.

Iowa dropped to 1-9 in the conference and 9-13 overall, while Penn State remained unbeaten in the Big Ten at 13-0, 18-2 overall.

"We played much better than the score showed," Gillis said referring to the first game's score. Iowa led the game 2-0 before Penn State shut down the Hawkeye offense and scored the next 15 points for the win.

In Game 3, the Hawkeyes led 9-5 before the Lady Lions tied the score at 9-9.

Coach Linda Schoenstedt said that despite the loss, she was pleased with the team's readiness to play in the first game, which had been a problem for Iowa the week before at Michigan and Michigan State.

"I think we really competed hard this weekend," Schoenstedt said. "That was a goal that we had and as I indicated earlier, being ready to play was a victory in itself."

"I think we were very respectable against top-ranked teams," she added.

Gillis led the Hawkeyes with 16 kills against the Lady Lions. Sophomore Staci Morley added 14 kills. Defensively, Gillis also led the team with 13 digs, while freshman setter Lisa Dockray and senior Michelle Thompson each added 11 digs.

Penn State was led by senior Leanne Kling with 23 kills. Schoenstedt said that the Lady Lions' strong hitting was the key to the win.

"I felt we could sidestep with them. We just couldn't stop their quick hitters," she said. "We had some difficulty scoring behind their serve. But that's why Penn State is ranked number 11 in the country."

"I think we really competed hard this weekend. That was a goal that we had and as I indicated earlier, being ready to play was a victory in itself. I think we were very respectable against top-ranked teams."

Linda Schoenstedt Iowa volleyball coach

The Hawkeyes were also defeated by the Ohio State Buckeyes on Friday night 5-15, 15-3, 15-7, 15-8. Gillis led Iowa with 10 kills and three service aces, giving her 22 for the season. Defensively, Thompson had eight digs and freshman Tiffany Meligan had five block assists.

WOMEN'S TENNIS

Netters show their mettle

Michael Watkins
The Daily Iowan

The Iowa women's tennis team headed west this weekend to the Riviera All-American Championships with a single mission in mind: to prove themselves worthy against the nation's tennis elite.

Backed by strong performances from Andrea Calvert, Laura Dvorak and Nikki Willette, the Hawkeye netters did indeed send a message to the rest of the country, including the Big Ten — they are ready and they mean business.

"I think that we showed a lot of people from all over that we are a very solid team and are a lot better than they may have originally thought," Coach Micki Schillig said. "We got out there and showed them that we're just as good as everybody else."

The 128-player prequalifying tournament, held in Santa Barbara, Ca., consisted of four rounds with each player having to win four consecutive matches to make it to the qualifying tournament.

Three victories in the qualifying round, which starts Tuesday, garners a spot in the actual 32-player tournament in nearby Pacific Palisades.

Team captain Calvert opened the tournament with two straight hard-fought matches before losing a heartbreaker in the third round.

The senior out of Greenwood, Indiana, knocked off the University of San Diego's Karen Lauer 6-4, 5-7, 6-4, and then rallied after losing the opening set to eliminate Jen Hyde of Florida State 4-6, 6-4, 6-3. But it was conference foe Michigan that took Calvert out in the third round, as she lost 6-7, 6-3, 6-3 to Jaimie Fielding.

"She beat me in straight sets last year, so I was really happy with the way I played even though I lost," Calvert said. "I think that my play was different from past matches because I really concentrated well and kept focused throughout each point."

Willette, a native of San Diego, left her home state with three victories before losing a tight three-setter in the fourth and final round.

After shaking first-set jitters, Willette took control of the final two sets and first opponent Corrina Bode of Syracuse 5-7, 6-1, 6-2. In the second round, she breezed past Angela Young of Loyola-Marymount 6-3, 6-0, and then had an equally easy time of it against UNLV's Suzi Agassi, the cousin of Wimbledon champion Andre Agassi, 6-3, 6-3.

But Willette's Cinderella run came to an abrupt end in the last round, as she finished just short of the 64-player qualifying round with a 6-3, 3-6, 6-1 loss to San Diego State's Paige Hammond. In her previous match, Hammond eliminated top-seeded Mercedes Fernandez of Oklahoma State.

"I think that we showed a lot of people from all over that we are a very solid team and are a lot better than they may have originally thought. We got out there and showed them that we're just as good as everybody else."

Micki Schillig Women's tennis coach

"If anything, it was a moral victory for Nikki because Hammond was coming off of a big win over the top seed," Schillig said. "Nikki really put her whole self into the match, and I was very pleased with her performance."

Freshman Sasha Boros' run for glory, however, came to a quick and somewhat painful ending in the first set of her opening match. Up 4-3, she sprained her ankle going after a shot, and although she finished the set 6-4, she was forced to default in the second set.

"She was disappointed, but we both decided that it was for the best that she not continue with the ankle," Schillig said. "She's just a freshman, so there will be many Andrea Calvert more opportunities in the future.

"I did want to continue playing, but I didn't want to do any more damage to my ankle," Boros said. "We have the ITCA-Rolux Midwest Regional in a couple of weeks, so I'm just going to concentrate on getting ready for that. The sprain isn't a severe one, so it should be OK by then."

Calvert and Dvorak, who begins singles play in the qualifying round Tuesday, won both of their doubles matches. The duo, who finished last season with a 14-3 mark, opened with a dominating 6-1, 6-1 win over a team from Northern Arizona, and followed that up with a 7-5, 6-1 victory over a pair from UNLV.

"I thought that we really played well against UNLV," Calvert said. "Although our score against Northern Arizona was better, we were really in sync with each other in our second match. I am very excited for the doubles rounds Tuesday."

Infamous
TACO
WEDNESDAY
JOHN'S
2 Hardshells
99¢
Good taste place
13 Iowa Ave.
next to Joe's Kirkwood Ave.
ings for he rewolf
*Fangs
*Nails *MakeUp ingsville
Folmer Field
Old Capital
SIONS
s to help uild a r body...
W as 9.95 (EFT)/month
lus • Treadmills
ycle • Tanning
SIONS
338-8447
Cantebury Inn
Coralville
SED IT!!!
Programs & ess Service rganization shop on 92
I MU financial & er to get it ion doesn't check one ers/authorized workshop and ccount. Sports social Greek ss Service
stions.

Sports

NFL

Dolphins fall to ranks of the defeated

Dick Brinster
Associated Press

While much was expected of Steve Emtman after the Indianapolis Colts made him the first pick in the NFL draft, nobody could have figured on this.

Here he was standing on his own 10-yard line as Miami quarterback Dan Marino tried to throw a decisive touchdown pass on the final play of Sunday's game. He did, but it was Emtman who scored.

"I just got my hands up. It hit my hands and stuck," Emtman said. "Next thing I knew, I was running."

He didn't stop until he reached the Miami end zone, giving the Colts a 31-20 victory that spoiled the Dolphins' status as the league's only unbeaten team.

Emtman's score came on a fourth-and-goal play at the Colts' 7-yard line. Taking the snap with 17 seconds left, Marino drilled a pass toward the end zone, but the 290-pound defensive end — standing just 5 yards in front of the quarterback — caught it and lumbered 90 yards down the left sideline.

"I thought he'd fall down, but he kept going," Colts linebacker Jeff Herrod said.

The Dolphins were not disheartened by the loss.

"There are a whole lot of other players who wish they were 6-1," tight end Keith Jackson said. "Only the media have been writing that this could be the team that would go 19-0."

The Colts lost rookie linebacker Quentin Coryatt, who fractured his wrist in the first period and will be sidelined four to six weeks. Coryatt was the second player taken in the draft.

Bears 30, Packers 10

Jim Harbaugh matched a 28-year-old club record of 13 straight completions while leading Chicago (4-3) over Green Bay (2-5). Harbaugh's string tied the record set by Rudy Bukich over two games in 1964 and it included a 4-yard touchdown pass to Keith Jennings. The passing game also set up two of Kevin Butler's three field goals.

"I didn't know it until after the game," Harbaugh said of the streak.

Sterling Sharpe caught nine pas-

NFL Standings

| AMERICAN CONFERENCE |   |   |   |      |     |     |  |  |  |  |
|---------------------|---|---|---|------|-----|-----|--|--|--|--|
| East                |   |   |   |      |     |     |  |  |  |  |
|                     | W | L | T | Pct. | PF  | PA  |  |  |  |  |
| Miami               | 6 | 1 | 0 | .857 | 188 | 125 |  |  |  |  |
| Buffalo             | 4 | 2 | 0 | .667 | 166 | 102 |  |  |  |  |
| Indianapolis        | 4 | 3 | 0 | .571 | 99  | 132 |  |  |  |  |
| N.Y. Jets           | 1 | 5 | 0 | .167 | 84  | 123 |  |  |  |  |
| New England         | 0 | 7 | 0 | .000 | 80  | 176 |  |  |  |  |
| Central             |   |   |   |      |     |     |  |  |  |  |
| Houston             | 5 | 2 | 0 | .714 | 179 | 120 |  |  |  |  |
| Pittsburgh          | 5 | 2 | 0 | .714 | 138 | 77  |  |  |  |  |
| Cleveland           | 4 | 3 | 0 | .571 | 107 | 101 |  |  |  |  |
| Cincinnati          | 2 | 5 | 0 | .286 | 109 | 174 |  |  |  |  |
| West                |   |   |   |      |     |     |  |  |  |  |
| Denver              | 5 | 3 | 0 | .625 | 121 | 154 |  |  |  |  |
| Kansas City         | 4 | 4 | 0 | .500 | 153 | 128 |  |  |  |  |
| LA Raiders          | 3 | 5 | 0 | .375 | 122 | 137 |  |  |  |  |
| San Diego           | 3 | 4 | 0 | .429 | 104 | 136 |  |  |  |  |
| Seattle             | 1 | 7 | 0 | .125 | 53  | 158 |  |  |  |  |
| NATIONAL CONFERENCE |   |   |   |      |     |     |  |  |  |  |
| East                |   |   |   |      |     |     |  |  |  |  |
| Dallas              | 6 | 1 | 0 | .857 | 167 | 112 |  |  |  |  |
| Washington          | 5 | 2 | 0 | .714 | 136 | 105 |  |  |  |  |
| Philadelphia        | 5 | 2 | 0 | .714 | 143 | 77  |  |  |  |  |
| N.Y. Giants         | 3 | 4 | 0 | .429 | 150 | 161 |  |  |  |  |
| Phoenix             | 1 | 6 | 0 | .143 | 113 | 177 |  |  |  |  |
| Central             |   |   |   |      |     |     |  |  |  |  |
| Minnesota           | 5 | 2 | 0 | .714 | 173 | 127 |  |  |  |  |
| Chicago             | 4 | 3 | 0 | .571 | 169 | 155 |  |  |  |  |
| Tampa Bay           | 3 | 4 | 0 | .429 | 136 | 152 |  |  |  |  |
| Detroit             | 2 | 5 | 0 | .286 | 144 | 135 |  |  |  |  |
| Green Bay           | 2 | 5 | 0 | .286 | 90  | 151 |  |  |  |  |
| West                |   |   |   |      |     |     |  |  |  |  |
| San Francisco       | 6 | 1 | 0 | .857 | 216 | 125 |  |  |  |  |
| New Orleans         | 5 | 2 | 0 | .714 | 117 | 82  |  |  |  |  |
| LA Rams             | 4 | 0 | 0 | .429 | 121 | 133 |  |  |  |  |
| Atlanta             | 2 | 5 | 0 | .286 | 133 | 179 |  |  |  |  |

| Sunday's Games  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
|---|--|--|--|--|--|--|--|--|--|--|
| Chicago 30, Green Bay 10  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| Houston 26, Cincinnati 10   |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| Detroit 38, Tampa Bay 7   |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| Philadelphia 7, Phoenix 3   |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| New York Giants 23, Seattle 10                                    |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| Washington 15, Minnesota 13                                       |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| San Diego 24, Denver 21   |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| Cleveland 19, New England 17                                      |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| Dallas 28, Los Angeles Raiders 13                                 |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| Indianapolis 31, Miami 20   |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| Pittsburgh 27, Kansas City 3                                      |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| OPEN DATE: Atlanta, Los Angeles Rams, New Orleans, San Francisco. |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |

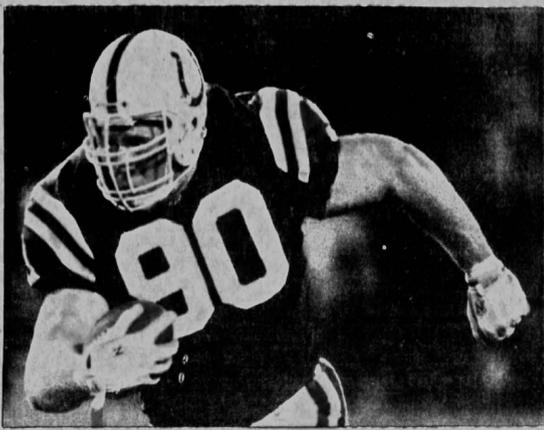

| Monday's Game   |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
|---|--|--|--|--|--|--|--|--|--|--|
| Buffalo at New York Jets, 8 p.m.                              |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| Sunday, Nov. 1  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| Green Bay at Detroit, 12 p.m.                                 |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| Houston at Pittsburgh, 12 p.m.                                |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| Los Angeles Rams at Atlanta, 12 p.m.                          |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| Miami at New York Jets, 12 p.m.                               |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| New England at Buffalo, 12 p.m.                               |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| Tampa Bay at New Orleans, 12 p.m.                             |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| Cleveland at Cincinnati, 3 p.m.                               |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| Indianapolis at San Diego, 3 p.m.                             |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| Philadelphia at Dallas, 3 p.m.                                |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| San Francisco at Phoenix, 3 p.m.                              |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| New York Giants at Washington, 7 p.m.                         |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  | ses for 144 yards and a touchdown for the Packers.
| OPEN DATE: Denver, Kansas City, Los Angeles Raiders, Seattle. |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |  |

Redskins 15, Vikings 13

Chip Lohmiller was right at home in the Metrodome and perfect on five field goals — the last a 49-yarder with 1:09 remaining — as Washington (5-2) beat Minnesota (5-2). Lohmiller kicked collegiately in the stadium for the University of Minnesota.

The Metrodome also is a home on the road for the Redskins, who are 4-0 there — including a Super Bowl victory over Buffalo in January.

The Colts' Steve Emtman lumbers his way to a 90-yard interception return in his team's 31-20 upset at Miami.

Eagles 7, Cardinals 3

Randall Cunningham's 40-yard touchdown pass to Calvin Williams in the second period was Philadelphia's only score, but it was the defense that saved the day for the Eagles (5-2).

They recovered three fumbles and intercepted a pass. But a goal-line stand in the second period was the showpiece. Because of Philadelphia penalties, Phoenix (1-6) was unable to score despite seven shots from inside the 3.

"What you saw out there was, I think, the best defense I've ever seen," Philadelphia coach Rich Kotite said. "It was magnificent."

Cowboys 28, Raiders 13

Emmitt Smith rushed for 152 yards and three touchdowns as Dallas retained its one-game lead in the NFC East.

"This was not my best day, but it will do," Smith said. "These were the biggest holes I've had to run through all year."

The Raiders (3-5), cheered on by a crowd of 91,505 at the Los Angeles Coliseum — the largest this season in the NFL — had won their previous three games.

Steelers 27, Chiefs 3

Rod Woodson's 80-yard punt return for a touchdown began

Pittsburgh's dominating performance in coach Bill Cowher's first game back in Kansas City since taking the Steelers' job during the offseason. Cowher spent seven seasons as an assistant for Chiefs coach Marty Schottenheimer.

Barry Foster had a touchdown and ran for 105 yards, keeping him ahead of Dallas' Emmitt Smith for the league's rushing lead.

Chargers 24, Broncos 21

Stan Humphries threw for a career-high 349 yards and two touchdowns and scored one himself, Gill Byrd intercepted John Elway twice and Tony Blaylock made a game-saving pickoff.

Byrd, whose nine interceptions of Elway are the most by any player, set up a touchdown and field goal with his thefts.

Lions 38, Bucs 7

Rodney Peete threw two touchdowns and Barry Sanders rushed for a season-high 122 yards and two touchdowns as the previously punchless Lions broke a four-game losing streak.

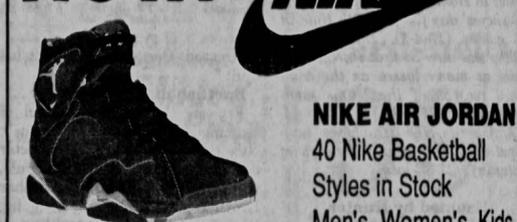

The Lions had a season-high 400 yards while handing Tampa Bay (3-4) its fourth loss in five games.

Giants 23, Seahawks 10

Jeff Hostetler scrambled 7 yards for a touchdown and hit Ed McCaffrey on a 7-yard TD pass in the third quarter to rally New York (3-4).

All American Deli Special of the Week
Reg. $3.60
$3.19
Chef Salad
 with diced ham and turkey or tuna salad.

BASKETBALL. WRESTLING. NOW. NIKE

NIKE AIR JORDAN
 40 Nike Basketball
 Styles in Stock
 Men's, Women's, Kids

NIKE GRECO SUPREME
 3 Colors in Stock.
 Adult Sizes 6 1/2 - 14
 Youth Sizes 1-6

The Athlete's Foot
 Old Capitol Center
 Iowa City
 Lindale Mall
 Cedar Rapids
 New Location
 Opening in November!
 Westdale Mall
 Cedar Rapids

THE EPICUREANS ARE HERE! Iowa City areas Best Places to Dine

They're housewives, secretaries, business executives, and professional people. You'll see them every night at the finest restaurants. What all Epicureans have in common is their "GOOD TASTE" and Epicurean membership card to prove it.

It all began back in 306 B.C., Athens, Greece; that's when Epicurus founded a school of philosophy which made an impact that would earn him a place in world history. Along with Epicurus' teachings of the value of high moral and ethical standards he believed and taught the importance of the relationship to a healthy body and a healthy soul. Epicurus believed that good food in moderation was good for the body, therefore, good for the soul.

Epicurus' students were called EPICUREANS. In later years, the word Epicure was adapted to the English language to mean "to dine well." Therefore, an Epicurean is one who dines well.

June 1977, A.D., in Pensacola, Florida, a modern EPICUREAN Movement was launched under the direction of W.F. Johns, a native Floridian known to his friends as Bud.

The Epicurean Club would provide a recommended list of Pensacola's best places to dine and discount dining privileges for card carrying members referred to as Epicureans.

As club popularity grew, membership rolls increased to 5,000 in the first year.

Not to be confused with dining discount punch cards nor coupon books, the EPICUREAN Club is America's ONLY true discount dining club. Records of members' names, addresses and telephone numbers are kept on a computer "confidential" file for member correspondence, restaurant updating, renewal notification, etc. EPICUREANS pay a nominal fee for a one year membership. Proof of membership is a prestigious plastic identification card.

When a member and guest dine at an EPICUREAN sponsored restaurant, they may each select any entree from the regular menu. They identify themselves to the waiter or waitress as EPICUREANS, and when the meal ticket is presented for payment, one of the entrees will be "paid for by the restaurant." The meal entree that is paid for is the lowest priced, or equal if both entrees are the same. Where more than two parties are dining only one meal is deducted for each membership card. Members receive a list of local restaurants with a daily schedule (7 day week) of restaurant participation. Several restaurants will honor a member's card each night of the week, allowing members a choice of restaurants every night. The schedule is repeated each week.

Along with local restaurant information, members receive lists and schedules of participating restaurants in other cities. All restaurants honor valid member cards of local traveling EPICUREANS.

Local residents will be happy to note that EPICUREAN endorsed restaurants are:

- |                     |                            |
|---------------------|----------------------------|
| Givanni's           | Riverside Steak and Ale    |
| Season's Best       | Happel's German Restaurant |
| Mondo's Sports Cafe | Greek Islands              |
| Mickey's Irish Pub  | Mark's Family Restaurant   |
| China Palace        | NanKing                    |
| Vito's              | Stillwater                 |
| Colony Marketplace  | Johnny's Parkway Inn       |
| Ronneburg           | Doc and Eddy's             |
| Top of the Seasons  | Carlos O' Kelley's (CR)    |
| Striolo n' Brew     |                            |

EPICUREANS are always proud to show their card because it "Shows Their Taste." Through this program, the EPICUREAN Club has developed an image of growth and vitality which attracts people who enjoy fine dining, good company, and special customer treatment.

EPICUREAN member enrollment since 1977 number more than 500,000, most of whom were contacted by telephone about joining after being recommended by a friend who was a happy EPICUREAN.

For information, the local club chapter office is located at: 1901 Broadway, Suite 305, Iowa City, IA 52240, ph. (319) 339-9868. National club office is 3300 N. Pace Blvd. Suite 317, Pensacola, FL 32505, ph. (904) 432-9834.

WORLD SERIES

Canadians celebrate stopping of the chop as Jays come home

Jeffrey Ulbrich
Associated Press

TORONTO — In a cheering, chanting delirium, a sea of humanity flooded the city center Sunday. The glow from the Toronto Blue Jays winning the World Series championship will keep Canadians warm all winter.

The Jays, who downed the Braves 4-3 in Atlanta Saturday night to win the series 4-2, took America's game and brought it home to Canada to cherish and protect, at least for a year, engendering no small amount of national pride.

In a land usually hotter on hockey than on baseball, hundreds of thousands of people surged into Yonge Street, Toronto's main north-south artery, early Sunday.

"We stopped the chop," or "The chop stops here," shouted revelers referring to the Atlanta fans' ritual.

"That infernal war chant finally died and 50,000 tomahawks suddenly went limp," noted one of the many stories in Sunday's Toronto Star.

"I've never seen anything like this," said police Supt. John Getty.

The excitement was enough to make you forget to set your clock back.

"You have united a nation behind you, capturing the imagination of Canadians from coast to coast," said Prime Minister Brian Mulroney in a congratulatory message.

Sunday morning's favorite radio song: "The Night They Drove Old Dixie Down."

Favorite adjective: "Southern-fried Braves."

The 51,000-seat SkyDome, home to the Blue Jays and sold out for all but 14 games this year in attracting over 4 million spectators, was filled with more than 45,000 people Saturday night and early Sunday just to watch the game on the big screen. The indoor stadium with the flip-top roof was afluster with foam rubber blue Js and Canadian flags.

"As far as we know, this is the largest crowd to watch a closed-circuit television event," said SkyDome vice president David Garrick.

That "Canada's Team" is made up of a talented group of Americans, Dominicans, Puerto Ricans and even one outfielder born in Blue Jay players celebrate their team, and country's, first World Series title Saturday night in Atlanta.

Jamaica, mattered little. The Jays are run by an equally talented Canadian organization that took an expansion team and built it into a World Series champion in 16 years.

"I think what it means for Canadians is that although baseball has been described as America's national pastime, it has been played in Canada as long as it has in the United States," said Mike Fox, a French teacher from northern Ontario.

"I like to think we have earned the grudging respect of Americans, even though it was a team of Americans."

The victory also backed up the spirits of the city of Toronto, which has lost three times recently in bids for international events. The victory over Atlanta was particularly sweet because it was Atlanta that beat out Toronto for the 1996 Olympics.

"I've seen the Blue Jays win a World Series, so now I can die in peace," said filmmaker Peter Monet.

The Daily Iowan

ON THE LINE

WEEK EIGHT

Pick the winners of these college football games and you could win a Daily Iowan On The Line hat! There will be 11 winners weekly and the top picker this week will also win a $25 Gift Certificate from Old Capitol Center.

ON THE LINE RULES:

Entries must be submitted by noon, Thursday to The Daily Iowan, Room 111 or Room 201 Communications Center. No more than five entries per person. The decision of the judges is final. Winners will be announced in Monday's D.I. GOOD LUCK!

The Daily Iowan
IOWA CITY'S MORNING NEWSPAPER

OHIO ST. ..... at ..... IOWA

INDIANA. ..... at ..... MINNESOTA

ILLINOIS ..... at ..... WISCONSIN

COLORADO. ..... at ..... NEBRASKA

MICHIGAN. ..... at ..... PURDUE

MICHIGAN ST. ..... at ..... NORTHWESTERN

STANFORD. ..... at ..... WASHINGTON

FLORIDA ST. ..... at ..... VIRGINIA

GEORGIA. ..... at ..... FLORIDA

PENN ST. ..... at ..... BYU

TIE BREAKER:

MISSOURI ..... at ..... IOWA ST.

Please indicate score _____

Name _____

Address _____ Phone _____

Lots of ho

Peter Coppock
The Daily Iowan

To borrow Bill Clinton's favorite adjective, the concert given by Branford Marsalis and his band at Hancher Friday night was "slick." The intoxicating combination of the Homecoming Parade may have been to blame, but Marsalis group seemed a bit of their mark when their set underw following a 20-minute plus delay.

After a somewhat shaky start Branford and his band managed find their blues groove on bassist Robert Hurst's tongue-in-cheek "Brother Trying To Catch A C On The East Side Blues." The auditorium filled with the thunderous propulsion of Jeff "Tai Watts' monstrous drumming. Marsalis dug in deep with an aggressive tenor solo — showing rich, full tone with just a slight edge. The "Tonight Show" s brilliant pianist, Kenny Kirkland, proceeded to radiate on the 88 in lengthy outing that exhausted the parameters of the blues scale in flurry of digital dexterity. As pianist and as a musician, Kirkland demonstrates tremendous competence, versatility and originality in all musical settings.

Drawing mainly from their ne

IC gets big

Sonja West
The Daily Iowan

Happy birthday to you. Happy birthday dear ... Hancher Auditorium ...

Maybe it won't be your everyday celebration, but it promises to be one of the biggest birthday parties Iowa City has ever seen when Hancher Auditorium turns 20 years old on Oct. 30.

"Planning a party for 2,000 people has been an interesting and challenging experience," said Barbara Nickish, past president of the Hancher Guild and co-chairperson of the 20th Anniversary committee. "Our desire is not just a party, but we hope to raise the awareness of Iowa City and surrounding communities of the privilege of Hancher Auditorium."

The gala celebration will feature soprano Kathleen Battle, who was the performing artist at the 150th anniversary of the New York Philharmonic in September. The performance will be followed by a champagne and dessert reception and a dance on the Hancher stage. The event is black tie optional.

Maybe it won't be your everyday celebration, but it promises to be one of the biggest birthday parties Iowa City has ever seen.

The anniversary party will kick off the public phase of renovation, the fund-raising effort to renovate the auditorium, called "For the Love of Hancher."

Nickish said Hancher is something that people in the Iowa City community shouldn't take for granted. "Hancher Auditorium is very easy to get to, has free parking, reasonable ticket prices and offers world-class entertainment," she said.

Hancher Auditorium opened in 1972 after nine years of planning and construction. It was named for former UI President Dr. Virgil M. Hancher, who lobbied for a first-class performing arts hall during his tenure from 1940-1964.

Hancher was built on a plot of flood plain which had been previously used for temporary student housing. Before it was opened, a visiting artists performed either in the Main Ballroom of the Union or in MacBride Auditorium.

The total cost of Hancher reaches $7 million. It has the seating capacity for 2,664 people and the seat is more than 150 feet from the stage.

HAMBURG INN
 214 N. Linn
 337-5512
 CARRY OUT AVAILABLE
REUBEN SANDWICH $3.10

Micky's
 Fresh Country
 Brunch Platter $4.99
SUNDAY
OPEN 10 am
 11 S. Dubuque St. 338-6860

Arts & Entertainment

Lots of homecoming blues for Iowa Hawkeyes and Hancher

Peter Coppock
The Daily Iowan

To borrow Bill Clinton's least favorite adjective, the concert given by Branford Marsalis and his band at Hancher Friday night was not "slick." The intoxicating commotion of the Homecoming Parade may have been to blame, but the Marsalis group seemed a bit off their mark when their set got underway following a 20-minute-plus delay.

After a somewhat shaky start, Branford and his band managed to find their blues groove on bassist Robert Hurst's tongue-in-cheek "Brother Trying To Catch A Cab On The East Side Blues." The auditorium filled with the thunderous propulsion of Jeff "Tain" Watts' monstrous drumming as Marsalis dug in deep with an aggressive tenor solo — showing a rich, full tone with just a slight edge. The "Tonight Show's" brilliant pianist, Kenny Kirkland, then proceeded to radiate on the 88 in a lengthy outing that exhausted the parameters of the blues scale in a flurry of digital dexterity. As a pianist and as a musician, Kirkland demonstrates tremendous competence, versatility and originality in all musical settings.

Drawing mainly from their new blues-based recording I Heard You Twice The First Time, the Marsalis band performed a variety of blues forms for the small but enthusiastic Hancher audience; one highlight of which was a newly arranged version of an ancient Louis Armstrong blues for which Marsalis pulled out his "fish horn" (soprano saxophone). Of the many younger saxophonists favoring the instrument in recent years, Marsalis produces one of the more pleasantly rounded tones (no offense Kenny G) on the inherently shrill-sounding horn. The Armstrong number also featured some traditional New Orleans slap-neck bass technique from Robert Hurst (who, sadly, struggled with a bad amplifier most of the night).

Proffering a spoken challenge to the music students in the audience, Marsalis kicked off Jeff Watts' "Stretto From The Ghetto" — an "out" blues that features some tricky shifts in meter, tempo and key. The extended version eventually segued into a vamp setup for the entrance of guest guitarist Albert Collins — who has seen a lot of highway bearing the blues over the years.

The "Ice Man" heated things up considerably with a blues instrumental that showcased his unique pickless guitar style, with his octave clamp placed high on the fret board for maximum crying effect.

The veteran bluesman continued to sing of deceitful women and hard-headed men, as he drew the audience in with the emotional drama of the blues. Collins' stringent, urban sound meshed surprisingly well with the acoustic jazz quartet, and Branford added barroom bass lines on his tenor saxophone — although it was an odd aggregation to say the least.

This fact did not seem to hinder the Hancher crowd's enjoyment of the music, as they stood and cheered following the final tune. Marsalis returned with just bass and drums to pay an original musical tribute to New Orleans jazz master Sidney Bechet and delta blues master Blind Lemon Jefferson.

With this selection and all of the music he played, Marsalis demonstrated an ease with the jazz language and a formidable capacity for improvisation — proving without a doubt that he has grown significantly as a musician, especially since his days with Sting. Despite his personal attitudes or vacillating musical taste, Branford Marsalis is now entering into the realm of jazz master — his jazz prodigy days are over.

The Branford Marsalis Trio from left: Jeff Watts, Branford Marsalis and Leslie Hurst III.

IC gets biggest birthday party ever

Sonja West
The Daily Iowan

Happy birthday to you. Happy birthday dear ... Hancher Auditorium ...

Maybe it won't be your everyday celebration, but it promises to be one of the biggest birthday parties Iowa City has ever seen when Hancher Auditorium turns 20 years old on Oct. 30.

"Planning a party for 2,000 people has been an interesting and challenging experience," said Barbara Nicknisch, past president of the Hancher Guild and co-chairperson of the 20th Anniversary committee. "Our desire is not just a party, but we hope to raise the awareness of Iowa City and surrounding communities of the privilege of Hancher Auditorium."

The gala celebration will feature soprano Kathleen Battle, who was the performing artist at the 150th anniversary of the New York Philharmonic in September. The performance will be followed by a champagne and dessert reception and a dance on the Hancher stage. The event is black tie optional.

Maybe it won't be your everyday celebration, but it promises to be one of the biggest birthday parties Iowa City has ever seen.

The anniversary party will also kick off the public phase of Ovation, the fund-raising effort to renovate the auditorium, called "For the Love of Hancher."

Nicknisch said Hancher is something that people in the Iowa City community shouldn't take for granted. "Hancher Auditorium is very easy to get to, has free parking, reasonable ticket prices and offers world-class entertainment," she said.

Hancher Auditorium opened in 1972 after nine years of planning and construction. It was named for former UI President Dr. Virgil M. Hancher, who lobbied for a first-class performing arts hall during his tenure from 1940-1964.

Hancher was built on a plot of flood plain which had been previously used for temporary student housing. Before it was opened, all visiting artists performed either in the Main Ballroom of the Union or in MacBride Auditorium.

The total cost of Hancher reached $7 million. It has the seating capacity for 2,664 people and no seat is more than 150 feet from the stage.

Hancher is currently maintained through the $1.25 million Hancher Auditorium Enrichment Fund.

In the last 20 years numerous artists have graced the Hancher stage, including Vladimir Horowitz, Itzhak Perlman, Luciano Pavarotti, Dizzy Gillespie, Bill Cosby, Ella Fitzgerald, the New York Philharmonic, the Boston Symphony, the Royal Philharmonic, the Joffrey Ballet, the Dance Theatre of Harlem and the Kirov Ballet.

Nicknisch said one of the best ways to support Hancher is by attending and encouraging others to attend the performances of the artists who come to Iowa City. "Hancher Auditorium must never be taken for granted," she said.

Tickets for the anniversary celebration are on sale at the Hancher Auditorium Box Office. Prices are $50 for Orchestra I and II and Balcony I, $35 for Balcony II, $40 for student Orchestra I and II and $28 for Balcony II.

Doonesbury

Doonesbury

Crossword

Edited by Eugene T. Maleska

No. 0914

ACROSS

- 1 Served perfectly
- 5 Complain
- 9 Type of electron tube
- 14 Naked
- 15 Turgenev's birthplace
- 16 Billie Sol
- 17 Concerning
- 18 Actress Turner
- 19 Sacred vocal work
- 20 Memorable Met star
- 23 Fields
- 24 Convened
- 25 Tabby
- 26 Rebut
- 31 Author of "The Devil's Dictionary"

DOWN

- 33 "When I was ..."
- 37 Freeman F. Gosden role
- 39 Mount the soapbox
- 40 Pop star
- 43 — a minute
- 44 Observed
- 45 City on the Yonne
- 46 Great Venetian painter
- 48 Pedestal section
- 50 Airport abbr.
- 51 Cow or ewe, sometimes
- 53 Play
- 57 Israel Baline

ACROSS

- 61 En — (Watch it!)
- 64 Lucre
- 65 Weak, as an excuse
- 66 First sign of spring
- 67 Daughter of James II
- 68 Cupid, to Zeno
- 69 Contemptible person
- 70 Require
- 71 Transmitted

DOWN

- 1 "... carry — stick"
- 2 City in Crete
- 3 Mistake
- 4 Farm-machine manufacturer
- 5 Side dish
- 6 An inland sea
- 7 City on the Truckee
- 8 Projects
- 9 A kick downstairs
- 10 "When the frost —"
- 11 Master Melvin
- 12 Ruby or Frances
- 13 Erhard's technique
- 21 Empty talk
- 22 Flatfish
- 25 Shipping-room item
- 26 A literary Bell
- 27 High schoolers

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE

NAPA SELL ODES
ORAL SCREE NOVA SILENCEITSGOLDEN
YAM OUNCE LIONS
SADE SIN
CLAIMS CONVERTS
ROSS MARIE AIL
IMSTITTINGPRETTY
MAE HINDS DELA
ENTIRETY CRISES
ROD TOOT
EATIN DOUBT EBB
CLOSEBUTNOICIGAR
HATE UNTIL CARY
ONES TKOS EDEN

ACROSS

- 29 You love, to California
- 30 Offered a puzzle
- 32 Work units
- 33 "— With Judy," 1948 film
- 34 Boundary
- 35 Singer Baker
- 36 Famed Surrealist
- 38 Mets' place
- 41 Car-seat adjunct
- 42 Beholden

DOWN

- 47 U.S. sea arm
- 49 United
- 52 Lombardy's capital
- 54 Van Gogh slept here
- 55 Mrs. Luce
- 56 Shakespeare's misanthrope
- 57 January 13, to Cato
- 58 One minus one
- 59 Left
- 60 Robin's roost here
- 61 Chatter
- 62 Plural of is
- 63 Creek

Voted "Best Bookstore in Iowa City" by U of I students
15 S. Dubuque St. • 337-2681

THE FIELD HOUSE
U of I ATHLETIC CLUB
111 E. COLLEGE STREET, IOWA CITY, IA

BURGER BASKETS $2.25
PITCHERS $2.50 till 8:00 PM

KITCHEN OPEN
11:30 AM-8:00 PM
Serving Lunch & Dinner

It's almost scary how quick they'll be goblin' it up!

Celebrate with Domino's, the Official Pizza of Halloween, and you'll have a houseful of happy ghosts and goblins. Just be sure to order enough... they'll really wolf it down, and you don't want anybody leaving hungry!

CALL US FOR SPECIAL PARTY DEALS THAT'LL PLEASE YOUR GUESTS & FIT YOUR BUDGET

338-0030
529 S. Riverside Dr.
IOWA CITY

354-3643
Hwy. 6 & 22nd Ave.
CORALVILLE

GOBLIN' GOOD DEAL

MEDIUM PIZZA WITH CHEESE & 2-TOPPINGS $6.99

COUPON REQUIRED. EXPIRES 11-15-92. Valid at participating stores only. Not valid with any other coupon or advertised offer. © 1992 Domino's Pizza, Inc.

SPOOKY SPECIAL

LARGE PIZZA WITH CHEESE & 2-TOPPINGS $8.99

COUPON REQUIRED. EXPIRES 11-15-92. Valid at participating stores only. Not valid with any other coupon or advertised offer. © 1992 Domino's Pizza, Inc.

HALLOWEEN FAVORITE

2 MEDIUM PIZZAS EACH WITH CHEESE & 1-TOPPING $9.99

COUPON REQUIRED. EXPIRES 11-15-92. Valid at participating stores only. Not valid with any other coupon or advertised offer. © 1992 Domino's Pizza, Inc.

MONSTER SAVINGS

2 LARGE PIZZAS EACH WITH CHEESE & 1-TOPPING $13.99

COUPON REQUIRED. EXPIRES 11-15-92. Valid at participating stores only. Not valid with any other coupon or advertised offer. © 1992 Domino's Pizza, Inc.

al of the Week
319 Reg. $3.60

ALL...
NG...
E

AIR JORDAN Basketball in Stock
Women's, Kids

CO SUPREME Stock.
1/2 - 14
1-6

Old Capitol Center
Iowa City
Lindale Mall
Cedar Rapids
New Location
Opening in November!
Westdale Mall
Cedar Rapids

BE HERE!
es to Dine atives, and professional rants. What all Epicurerean membership card

when Epicurus founded ould earn him a place in alue of high moral and ce of the relationship to red that good food in or the soul.

later years, the world to dine well." Therefore,
EPICUREAN Movement
: Floridian known to his list of Pensacola's best ard carrying members sed to 5,000 in the first ards nor coupon books, dining club. Records of re kept on a computer rant updating, renewal

one year membership.
tion card.

sponsored restaurant,
u. They identify them-when the meal ticket is qual if both entrees are y one meal is deducted ocal restaurants with a Several restaurants will ig members a choice of 1 week.

receptive lists and schedestaurants honor valid
EAN endorsed restaak and Ale man Restaurant

y Restaurant

way Inn y's ley's (CR)

because it "Shows Their as developed an image enjoy fine dining, good er more than 500,000, ing after being recom-

office is located at:
19) 339-9868, National
sacola, FL 32505, ph

HAMBURG INN
IOWA CITY, IOWA
214 N. Linn
337-5512
CARRY OUT
AVAILABLE
REUBEN SANDWICH
$3.10

Micky's
Fresh Country
Brunch Platter $4.99
SUNDAY
OPEN 10 am
11 S. Dubuque St. 338-6860

Arts & Entertainment

'Night and the City' one of De Niro's best

Kevin Ruby
The Daily Iowan

You can go either way about the characters in Irwin Winkler's "Night and the City," a black comedy remake from the 1950 Jules Dassin film of the same name. Either this bunch of individuals recently fell off the Little Italy Circus Wagon, or their collection of tics, gestures, and word phrasings are so peculiar that they go right beyond stereotypes and into the realm of eclecticism.

Harry Fabian (Robert De Niro) is the film's central creepy crawler, a pathetic ambulance-chasing lawyer who is inclined to zoom in on the quick kill. He hangs out at a bar called Boxers, a seedy joint whose inhabitants talk about Yankees games and can engage in some forgery or theft, if they so desire.

One day, he decides to take a gander at the ritzville restaurant across the street from his watering hole. It is there that he meets Regis Philbin (a self-indulgent cameo), and after an awkward interchange with the talk-show host, he decides to embark on a more worthwhile career as a fight promoter, where he can "become somebody."

Other people are interested in Fabian's latest scheme. Helen Nasser (Jessica Lange) sees the fight promotion bag as a way to open up a bar of her own, far away from her overbearing, overprotective husband Phil (Cliff Gorman), who runs Boxers. Also "concerned" is Boom Boom Grossman (comedian Alan King), in a complete change of character, the king rat of the neighborhood who has long since muscled out any competition. This includes Boom Boom's older brother Al (Jack Warden), whom Fabian digs up at an old folks home in Coney Island and takes in as a partner.

This will undoubtedly be remembered as a textbook Robert De Niro film. He plays an Italian, who hits all the BING-BANG-BOOM innuendos with uncommonly hilarious timing; Joe Pesci may have a legitimate case for plagiarism. I also liked the scene where he and lover Nasser/Lange talk about moving up in the big world, and he gives a mock "American Express Card" ad in the middle of his living room. The monologue has the same insane momentum as the famous "You talkin' to me?"

Harry Fabian (Robert De Niro) decides to take a shot at the big time and involves Helen Nasser (Jessica Lange) in his schemes, in the drama "Night and the City."

monologue in "Taxi Driver." De Niro fans will have a lot to enjoy and reminisce about with "Night," if they don't mind that the story and everything else in it play second fiddle.

The basic problem with "Night and the City," however, is, like Fabian, it talks too much, suffering from severe painted-in-corner concussions. There is a good brother/bad brother subplot between Boom Boom and Al that is never fully developed or executed adequately, so one can only guess why Al is so feisty all the time. Jack Warden seems to be struggling most of the time to figure out what his character is all about. The film also ends in a dark alleyway, where two thugs should simply shoot Fabian, but instead allow him to give a long, meandering monologue that disrupts the story instead of tying it all together.

The strength of "Night and the City" comes when it transforms into a Manhattan-esque Mad magazine cover, where all the little characters are chasing each other with meat cleavers. A plot or an explanation isn't needed to understand what is going on, and besides, the picture of chaos itself makes enough of an impact. Kind of like talking to a guy who doesn't tell much of a story, but gets a hell of a laugh just by waving his arms.

Classifieds

111 Communications Center • 335-5784

11 am deadline for new ads & cancellations.

|  |  |  |
|--|--|--|
| PERSONAL UI LESBIAN, GAY &amp; BISEXUAL STAFF &amp; FACULTY ASSOCIATION Information/Referral Services 335-1125. NATIVE AMERICAN: Flutes, Drums, Blankets, Rugs, Jewelry, Emerald City Hall Mall, 354-6391 MAKE A CONNECTION ADVERTISE IN THE DAILY IOWAN 335-5784 335-5785 YOGA classes, tarot readings, astrology charts, metaphysical classes. Rhonda, 337-3712. FEELING emotional pain following an abortion? Call I.R.I.S. 338-2625. We can help! CHAINS, STEPH'S Wholesale jewelry 107 S. Dubuque St. EARRINGS, MORE Lesli Gayline. For confidential listening, information and referral. Tuesdays, Wednesday and Thursday, 7-9pm. 335-3877. ATTENTION! Scientific breakthrough. FDA approved supplement reported on CNN burns fat while retaining lean muscle mass. Call Connie, Ideal Systems, 354-5265. READ Ross Perot's book, "United We Stand." Phone 1-800-685-7777 to obtain Perot's upcoming media appearances, in which he will describe America's problems and some solutions. PERMANENT hair removal. Complementary consultations. Medically trained professionals. Clinic of Electrology, 337-7191. SEX ADDICTS ANONYMOUS P.O. Box 703 Iowa City IA 52244-0703 FREE BIBLE CORRESPONDENCE COURSE. Send name, address: BCC P.O. Box 1851, Iowa City, Iowa, 52244. NEED TO PLACE AN AD? COME TO ROOM 111 COMMUNICATIONS CENTER FOR DETAILS ALL ABOUT states with no income tax. Ross Perot lives in no. Send $3.00 to: J. Maldon PO Box 20201 Suisun CA 94585. | PERSONAL GAY? No one to talk to? Alone? Come to Outreach. Sponsored by the Gay, Lesbian, and Bisexual People's Union, 8pm Tuesday October 27, 10 S. Gilbert. PERSONAL SERVICE AIDS INFORMATION and anonymous HIV antibody testing available. FREE MEDICAL CLINIC 120 N. Dubuque Street 337-4459 Call for an appointment. COMPACT refrigerators for rent. Three sizes available, from $34/semester. Microwaves only $39/semester. Dishwashers, washer/dryers, camcorders, TV's, big screens, and more. Big Ten Rentals Inc. 337-RENT. TARDOT and other metaphysical lessons and readings by Jan Gault, experienced instructor. Call 351-8511. HYPNOTHERAPY for anxieties, phobias, problems with concentration and memory. NLP Center 354-7434. WANT TO MAKE SOME CHANGES IN YOUR LIFE? Individual, group and couple counseling for the Iowa City community. Sliding scale fees. 354-1229. Hera Counseling Services. | PEOPLE MEETING PEOPLE MAN TO MAN DATING SERVICE PO Box 3438 Iowa City, IA 52244 "A Few Goodlooking Men" Information and application form: $5. WHITE female in 30's is looking for a widowed white male in his 50's who is sincere with a sense of humor. Are you looking for a companion? Write to: Daily Iowan, Box 158, Rm 111 CC Iowa City, IA 52242. SWM, handsome, fit, compassionate, seeks SF, 24-37, for fun, romance. Write: The Daily Iowan, Box 150, Room 111 CC, Iowa City, IA 52242. SINGLE Mingle dance, Friday October 30, 6:30-midnight. Highlander Inn, Exit 246, I-80, D.J., costumes optional. $5 admissions. |
|--|--|--|

PEOPLE MEETING PEOPLE

STUDENT DATING SERVICE PO Box 3438 Iowa City, IA 52244 For men and women. Information and application form: $5.

NEED TO PLACE AN AD? COME TO ROOM 111 COMMUNICATIONS CENTER FOR DETAILS

***** METAPHYSICAL CLASSES

Beginning Yoga
Beginning Astrology
Beginning Tarot
Radical Nutrition
Dance Yoga
Color & Gem Vibrations
Distillation Ancient & Modern Hedgehogge Metaphysical
Survival Meditations
Automatic Writing/Higher Self
Past-Life Regression
Auric Development
Psychic Polarity Therapy

THE DAILY IOWAN CLASSIFIED AD OFFICE IS LOCATED IN ROOM 111, COMMUNICATIONS CENTER, (ACROSS FROM THE MAIN UNIVERSITY OF IOWA LIBRARY).

$8 HOUR We need four energetic phone professionals in our Coralville office. Flexible hours in a fun environment. $8/hour plus bonuses. Call 338-2763 until 1pm or 338-3076 after 1pm.

MARKETING REP We are EcoSystems and need three field reps in the Iowa City area. Must be available afternoons and early evenings. $1600 per month to start. Scholarships available. Call 338-3076 after 1pm.

SKI FOR FREE! Ski area employment guide $19.95, western U.S. California, Colorado, Idaho, New Mexico, Oregon, Utah, and Wyoming. 1-800-879-8366.

EARN MONEY reading books! $30,000/year income potential. Details: (1805-962-8000) EXT 1812

POSTAL JOBS. $18,392-$67,125/year. Now hiring. Call 1-805-962-8000 EXT. P-9612.

PART-TIME janitorial help needed. A.M. and P.M. Apply 3:30pm-6:30pm, Monday-Friday. Midwest Janitorial Service 510 E. Burlington Iowa City, Iowa

NANNIES wanted east, west coast, Chicago North Shore. One year commitment, top salaries. Midland Nancy, 1-800-995-9501.

TEMPORARY: full-time clerical and data entry, computer experience preferred. Resume to: Educational Concepts, Ltd. P.O. Box 2970 Iowa City, IA 52244

PART-TIME receptionist/switchboard operator position available in retirement residence. Communications skills and ability to meet the public are essential. Experience preferred. Varied hours including weekends and holidays. Excellent job opportunity for a student. Call 351-1720 for interview appointment. Oaknoll, EOE.

POSITION available for RN or LPN, part-time, every other weekend days at Oaknoll Retirement Residence in a 46 bed health center licensed for skilled and intermediate care. Competitive salary. Call 351-1720 for interview appointment. EOE.

BIRTHRIGHT offers Free Pregnancy Testing Confidential Counseling and Support

No appointment necessary
Mon. 11am-2pm
T & W 7pm-9pm
Th & Fr 1pm-4pm
CALL 338-8665
118 S. Clinton
Suite 250

Classed one hour per week, for 4 or 7 week duration. Each class is $25 total cost. Call Rhonda, 337-3713, for info. Class begins soon!

BIRTH CONTROL SERVICES

- Fees based on income
- Financial assistance available
- Confidential services & location
- All female providers
- Call 356-2539

Iowa City Family Planning Clinic
242 Westlawn Building, Newton Rd., Iowa City.

FREE PREGNANCY TESTING

CONFIDENTIAL COUNSELING
Walk in: M-W-F 9-1, T & TH 2-5 and 7-9, or call 351-6556

Concern for Women
Suite 210, MID AMERICA SECURITIES BLDG., Iowa City

Free Pregnancy Testing

- Factual information
- Fast, accurate results
- No appointment needed
- Completely confidential
- Call 337-2111

NOW OPEN SATURDAYS

Emma Goldman Clinic
227 N. Dubuque St. Iowa City, Ia. 52240

HELP WANTED

PERSONAL care attendant needed for 8-12 noon, Monday through Friday. Please call 353-1381 for more information and ask for Twyla.

HUMAN SERVICES Do you like helping others? Do you want the flexibility of working a variety of shifts? Do you want to work between 10-35 hours per week? If you answer yes to these questions, then you should come to our orientation sessions to learn more about job opportunities at Systems Unlimited, the largest employer serving the developmentally disabled in the area. Orientation time: Tuesdays and Wednesdays at 8:15am at: Systems Unlimited, Inc. 1556 1st Ave South Iowa City, IA 52240 EOE/AA

SELL AVON EARN EXTRA $$$-Up to 50% Call Mary, 338-7623 Brenda, 645-2276

APPLICATIONS being taken for bar staff. Experience preferred but not necessary. Apply between 2-4pm, M-F, at 1910 S. Gilbert St.

HOUSEKEEPING and laundry help needed. Also, part-time desk clerk. Apply in person, KINGS INN, 815 1st Avenue, Coralville.

INTERNATIONAL EMPLOYMENT Make money teaching English abroad. Japan and Taiwan. Make $2,000-$4,000 plus per month. Many provide room and board plus other benefits! Financially and culturally rewarding! For International Employment Group: (206)632-1146 EXT. J5641.

INSTRUCTORS needed to teach creative writing and watercolor painting. Send resume to: Arts and Craft Center, IMU.

STUDENT EMPLOYEES needed for immediate openings at U of I Laundry Service to process clean and soiled linens. Good hand/eye coordination and ability to stand for several hours at a time necessary. Days only from 6:30am to 3:30pm plus weekends and holidays. Scheduled around classes. Starting wage $5.00 to $5.35 per hour, maximum of 20 hours per week. Apply in person at U of I Laundry Service at 105 Cedar Rapids, IA 52401.

$800 weekly possible! Working at home! 37 different opportunities. Rush $1 and self-addressed stamped envelope to: Randee Seber, 284 Foot St. S.W. Cedar Rapids, IA 52401.

NOW HIRING: Students for part-time positions, University Hospital Housekeeping Department, day and night shifts. Weekends and holidays required. Apply in person at C157 General Hospital.

EASY WORK! EXCELLENT PAY! Taking snapshots. Send SASE to: Snapshot!, P.O. Box 373, Iowa City, IA 52244.

HELP WANTED

STUDENT ACTIVISTS THE WINDS OF CHANGE ARE BLOWING! It's an exciting time to be working for a clean healthy environment and national health care. Fall and permanent positions. Salary, paid training, benefits. Call ICAN 354-8116.

NEED CASH? Make money selling your clothes. WE BUY! Offers top dollars for your fall and winter clothes. Open at noon. Call first 2203 F Street (across from Senior Pabst), 338-6454

HELP WANTED

HISTORICAL TECHNOLOGIST

Mercy Hospital, Iowa City, is currently accepting applications and scheduling interviews for new half-time opportunity. Work schedule is 1:00-5:00 p.m., Monday-Friday. The position offers a salary range of $10,34-$14,52 per year, plus an employee benefit package which includes paid vacation, health and dental insurances, free on-site parking, pharmacy and meal discounts, etc. An associate degree in science, with courses in biology chemistry, and a minimum of two years laboratory experience in histotechnology are required. Experience in immunoperoxidase staining techniques is preferred.

Further information regarding this position may be obtained by contacting the Human Resources Department at 1-338-4100.

MERCY HOSPITAL
500 East Market Street
Iowa City, Iowa 52245
Equal Opportunity Employer

SPECIAL PEOPLE
Needed to care for our special clients

CNA's, RN's, LPN's
HOME HEALTH AIDES
HOMEMAKERS, LIVE-INS

Part time positions to provide home care in the Iowa City and Surrounding areas. Flexible schedule. Call Nurse's House Call, 8 am - 4:30 pm

354-4050 EOE

Nurse's House Call
THE HEALTHCARE DIVISION OF HOOPER HOMES, INC.

START EARNING CHRISTMAS CASH

Put cash in your stocking Christmas

Flexible Full & Part Time Hours

Zacson Corp. in Iowa City, one of the nation's largest consumer products marketing firms, has excellent opportunities to perform direct sales over the phone working days or evenings.

- Guaranteed wage & commission
- Paid training • Professional fun atmosphere

Call Matt between noon and 4 pm

ZACSON
209 E. Washington Ste. 303
(Above Godfather's) EOE 339-9900

Join the Team

McDonald's

We are now hiring for all shifts: breakfast, lunch, evenings and weekends.

- Earn Extra Money
- Free Uniforms
- Set Your Hours
- Job Variety
- Meal Benefits
- Meal Benefits

Starting Wages:
Full-time $5.00
Part-time $4.75

All that's missing is you.

APPLY AT MCDONALD'S TODAY.
618 1st Avenue
Coralville, Iowa 52241

Always an equal opportunity affirmative action employer.

ATTENTION: LATINOS AND AFRICAN AMERICANS

You are invited to attend an information session sponsored by National Computer Systems for an Ethnicity Scoring Study.

DATE: NOVEMBER 2, 1992
TIME: 6 P.M. - 8 P.M.
PLACE: UNIVERSITY OF IOWA IOWA MEMORIAL UNION ILLINOIS ROOM

National Computer Systems in Iowa City will be hiring qualified Latino and African American individuals with a bachelors degree or advanced degree in English, Reading, General Studies, Mathematics, Science, or Social Studies to assist with a professional test scoring project. The professional test scorer will evaluate responses to test questions on the National Assessment of Educational Progress.

These temporary positions will begin in February, 1993 and will be completed in April, 1993.

- Paid training provided.
- NCS provides a comfortable working environment and free parking.
- Pay is $7/hour.

If you are interested in learning about these positions, please attend the information session on Monday, November 2. If you cannot attend, please call for more information.

National Computer Systems
Hwy. 1 and I-80
Iowa City, Iowa 52244
339-6526.

HOUSE INSPECTORS

No Exp. Necessary. Up to $800 wkly. Will train. Call (219) 769-8649 ext. H367, 8 AM to 8 PM 7 days.

The Epicureans are here!

Operators needed, full & part-time positions available immediately. Will work around students' schedules. 20 telephone operators needed for fun job. Be excited, energetic & smiling when you apply.

START NOW!
For interview call 339-9869.

HELP WANTED

PAPER CARRIERS IN FOLLOWING AREAS:

- Westwinds; Samoa; Hawaii; Willowind
- Jefferson; Market; Gilbert; Van Buren; Johnson
- Iowa Ave; Washington; Van Buren; Johnson

Apply: THE DAILY IOWAN CIRCULATION Ph. 335-5782

NATIONAL COMPUTER SYSTEMS

Equal Opportunity Employer

HELP WANTED

CNA Join our health care team. Positions available full-time or part-time. Opportunity for personal growth. Westside location, on busline. Apply in person at Greenwood Manor, 605 Greenwood Drive, Iowa City, between 8:00 am and 4:00 pm. EOE.

STUDENTS - Promote our packages. Earn trips. Organize groups. Call C 800-423-5264.

PEDIATRIC N PRACTITIONERS pregnant and their infants. Strategies, guidelines, agencies. $3 per year plus resume by United Academics 410 Iowa Ave. EOE.

GOVERNMENT $16,400-$59,250 Call (1805-962-8000) current ledger HELPER wants to help you with day care group Monday-Friday 337-2043.

NANNIES Entry level position east and west Hawaii, and overseas. Benefits. 612-643-4399.

CO Leader in the seeking energy individuals who communicate ability to motivate in resume and cover letter. 301 W. I. Davenport

WANTED A two month part-time position starting Friday. Competitive wage. 337-5647.

CARPENTER, experience preferred. 337-2043.

RETAIL Merch Hallmark University Book 3 hours a week. K. Hanson 4804 EP Tree West Des Moines

LIFE A private non-profit agency is accepting resumes for a part-time Direct Service Life Skills instructor. 1700 1st Ave. Iowa City IA 52242

NOW accepting front desk clerk. Foundation for Apply in person 2850 Heartline EOE. 646-2910

JACK & JILL needs an assistant 1-5pm. 338-3858

ATTENTION! extra cash stuff home. All materials. P.O. Box 1961 65522. Immediate.

COMFORT AM looking for people mildly ill children hours and fees free training in health issues.

HOME typist $35,000 position. (1805-962-8000)

ATTENTION! persons needed per hour taking Day evening shifts needed. Apply Communication Lodge Coralville 339-3034. Man positions available 9am-5pm. Saturday

FLA Now hiring full servers. Must be 17+. Apply between through Thursday 501-501-5011

POWER THE

COLLEGE FINANCIAL

$ COLLEGE M Scholarships $5,000. Since 1960 guaranteed million worth of financial provided, or we US Bond. COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIPS LOCATORS BOX 1181 Joplin 1-800-879-7485

H&H SCHOLARSHIPS SERVICES. 1-800-EXT 1504.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

HIGH INCOME Low start-up cost information: S.P. P.O. Box 2976 Iowa City, IA 52242

PROFESSIONAL SERVICE

A1. TREE SERVICE removal. I. C. ADAM'S Roof repairs, small. Free estimate! mobile phone

ACT Position located in ACT's modern headquarters complex in Iowa City. Compensation includes excellent benefit program. To apply, send letter of application and resume to Human Resources Dept. (D) ACT-National Office 2201 N. Dodge St. P.O. Box 168 Iowa City, Iowa 52243. (Position contingent on contract.) ACT is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer

1212 5th

Wendy's

Now hiring all shifts $4.75 per hour. Apply in person 840 S. Riverside Iowa City 1480 1st Ave Iowa City

ATTENTION! Hiring Several Will Train X-Mat Portrait Studio announces the expansion of our photography staff. We need SEVERAL Children's Traveling Photographers. Experience helpful, not necessary. We offer comprehensive benefits & paid training. Must have dependable transportation & the ability to travel extensively. Must bring drivers license, proof of auto insurance and soc. sec. card to interview. Call Audrey at our HQ Mon 8:30 - 5 EST to arrange an interview. 1-800-275-4967 Ext. 2816. EOE.

ACT

TEST SPECIALIST American College Testing (ACT) is seeking persons with training in verbal reasoning fields. Test Specialist positions involve reviewing submitted test questions, writing/editing questions and related material. Requirements include graduate degree with emphasis in formal/informal logic, philosophy, linguistics, critical thinking, or cognitive psychology. Background in math or physical science beneficial. Candidates should be widely read and have strong writing, organization, and communication skills, plus experience working with deadlines.

Position located in ACT's modern headquarters complex in Iowa City. Compensation includes excellent benefit program. To apply, send letter of application and resume to Human Resources Dept. (D) ACT-National Office 2201 N. Dodge St. P.O. Box 168 Iowa City, Iowa 52243. (Position contingent on contract.) ACT is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer

CALENDAR BLANK

Mail or bring to The Daily Iowan, Co. Deadline for submitting items to the prior to publication. Items may be not published more than once. No advertisements will not be accepted.

Event

Sponsor _____

Day, date, time _____

Location _____

Contact person/phone _____

Danny Frazier/The Daily Iowan
Cast members enjoy a glass of wine in "The First Landing of Well-Dressed Men on the Moon," which played this past weekend at UI Theatres.

Lots of ups 'n' downs within 'First Landing'

Michelle-Therese Forcier
The Daily Iowan

Forget suspension of disbelief. Throw it out the window if you want to enjoy "The First Landing of Well-Dressed Men on the Moon," by Christopher Hatton, which played this past weekend at UI Theatres.

The plot centers around Jenny Robbins, played by Marisa Justine Urkovich. One day she wakes up with a hangover and in the process finds two strange, tuxedo-clad men in her apartment who won't acknowledge her presence.

Don't go expecting to learn anything earth-shattering. The play is full of cliché characters; the Sgt. Friday-esque detective, the divorced, hot-to-trot best friend of Jenny's, the stuffy, rich widow boss and the 35-year-old single artist who everyone thinks is going insane.

Heather Hudson as Emma had a lot of work to do. At first her dialogue was crowded with too much written language, not spoken language: "I thought that was just a passing notion..." They're so staid and stuffy." This dialogue isn't so bad for the over-35 character except for the fact that Hatton already set up her attitude and personality with a line like "Sounded like my baby brother when he urinated on an electric fence."

The only lines that really seemed to come out of extreme left field were Emma's, responding to Jenny's complaints about being 35: "I would have been lucky to feel (at 35), that's what happens when you get married at 20." Huh? This is a tragedian's line of dialogue in a play that was purely farcical before and after that line.

The actors did the best they could with the limited dialogue they were given. However, it was the physical comedy that made the play. It was "Laverne and Shirley" type humor at its best.

Sloan Raney, who played the astronaut Buzz, was the funniest character. It wasn't lines like, "Back in college I got a C in geology, look at me now!" that made the character, rather it was Raney's facial expressions, sometimes reminiscent of a lizard choking, that made him hilarious.

Marc Anthony as detective Broncho was excellent as the straight man in the play. He successfully delivered lines like "I sometimes jump up and down on my bed, usually wearing a superman suit," with perfect composure as if he were rattling off algorithms in a lecture hall.

HELP WANTED

NEED CASH? Make money selling your clothes... THE SECOND ACT REBATE SHOP offers top dollars for your fall and winter clothes.

TECHNOLOGIST

Actively accepting applications and resumes... Position available full-time or part-time. Opportunity for personal growth.

WANTED

Simulated Patient Teaching Associates, utilizing their interpersonal skills and bodies... Position available at 1-330-4500.

PEOPLE

Our special clients... LPN's, LPN's, LPN's... Flexible schedule, 8 am - 4:30 pm.

WARNING

Make cash in your stocking Christmas... Flexible Full & Part Time Hours.

ATTENTION!

Hiring Several Will Train... K-Mart Portrait Studio announces the expansion of our photography staff.

COMFORT AND CARE

of 4're is looking for people to care for mildly ill children... Set your own hours and fees.

TEST SPECIALIST

American College Testing (ACT) is seeking persons with training in verbal reasoning fields... Test Special-ists position involves reviewing submitted test questions.

COLLEGE FINANCIAL AID

Private Scholarships & Grants. America's finest. Since 1981, you're guaranteed minimum of $250 worth of financial aid from sources provided.

TEST SPECIALIST

American College Testing (ACT) is seeking persons with training in verbal reasoning fields... Test Special-ists position involves reviewing submitted test questions.

TEST SPECIALIST

American College Testing (ACT) is seeking persons with training in verbal reasoning fields... Test Special-ists position involves reviewing submitted test questions.

TEST SPECIALIST

American College Testing (ACT) is seeking persons with training in verbal reasoning fields... Test Special-ists position involves reviewing submitted test questions.

TEST SPECIALIST

American College Testing (ACT) is seeking persons with training in verbal reasoning fields... Test Special-ists position involves reviewing submitted test questions.

TEST SPECIALIST

American College Testing (ACT) is seeking persons with training in verbal reasoning fields... Test Special-ists position involves reviewing submitted test questions.

TEST SPECIALIST

American College Testing (ACT) is seeking persons with training in verbal reasoning fields... Test Special-ists position involves reviewing submitted test questions.

HELP WANTED

$52.50. Sell 50 funny, college T-shirts and make $252.50. No financial obligation. A risk free program.

HELP WANTED

CLEANING SPECIALIST NEEDED. Full or part-time hours available. Daytime and weekend hours available.

HELP WANTED

STUDENTS or ORGANIZATIONS. Promote our Florida Spring Break packages. Earn MONEY and FREE trips.

HELP WANTED

Wanted for small, in-home day care group. 9-noon. Monday-Friday. $4.65/hr. Call 337-2043.

HELP WANTED

Wanted a loving caretaker for two month baby girl preferably in our Coralville home. Monday through Friday, 8am to noon.

HELP WANTED

RETAIL Merchandiser to service Harkmark Greeting Cards at the University Bookstore. $4.50/hr, 3 hours/week. Send resume to: K. Hanson.

HELP WANTED

JACK & JILL Nursery School needs an assistant teacher to work 1-5pm. 338-3890.

HELP WANTED

ATTENTION! Students! Earn extra cash stuffing envelopes at home. All materials provided.

HELP WANTED

COMFORT AND CARE of 4're is looking for people to care for mildly ill children. Set your own hours and fees.

HELP WANTED

HOME TYPISTS, PC users needed. $35,000 potential. Details. Call (1-800-962-8000 EXT. 8-9912).

HELP WANTED

ATTENTION! Ten enthusiastic students needed now. Up to $10 per hour taking orders. Day/ evening shifts. No experience needed.

HELP WANTED

FLANNIGAN'S Now hiring full or part-time food servers. Must have lunch availability. Apply between 2-4pm Monday through Thursday.

HELP WANTED

THE IOWA RIVER POWER COMPANY 501 1st Ave. Coralville

HELP WANTED

COLLEGE MONEY. Private Scholarships & Grants. America's finest. Since 1981, you're guaranteed minimum of $250 worth of financial aid from sources provided.

HELP WANTED

TEST SPECIALIST American College Testing (ACT) is seeking persons with training in verbal reasoning fields... Test Special-ists position involves reviewing submitted test questions.

PROFESSIONAL SERVICES

HAWKEYE Roofing & Repair. Shingles, flatroofs, chimney repair, gutter cleaning.

MISC. FOR SALE

FUTON'S IN CORALVILLE FREE FUTON! Get a free foam core futon with purchase of high quality oak frame.

PROFESSIONAL SERVICES

PEDIATRIC NURSE PRACTITIONER. Work with pregnant and parenting teens and their infants.

PROFESSIONAL SERVICES

GOVERNMENT JOBS $18,040-$59,230/year. Now hiring. Call (1-800-962-8000 EXT. 9612 for current federal list).

PROFESSIONAL SERVICES

HELPER wanted for small, in-home day care group. 9-noon. Monday-Friday. $4.65/hr. Call 337-2043.

PROFESSIONAL SERVICES

WANTED a loving caretaker for two month baby girl preferably in our Coralville home. Monday through Friday, 8am to noon.

PROFESSIONAL SERVICES

RETAIL Merchandiser to service Harkmark Greeting Cards at the University Bookstore. $4.50/hr, 3 hours/week.

PROFESSIONAL SERVICES

JACK & JILL Nursery School needs an assistant teacher to work 1-5pm. 338-3890.

PROFESSIONAL SERVICES

ATTENTION! Students! Earn extra cash stuffing envelopes at home. All materials provided.

PROFESSIONAL SERVICES

COMFORT AND CARE of 4're is looking for people to care for mildly ill children. Set your own hours and fees.

PROFESSIONAL SERVICES

HOME TYPISTS, PC users needed. $35,000 potential. Details. Call (1-800-962-8000 EXT. 8-9912).

PROFESSIONAL SERVICES

ATTENTION! Ten enthusiastic students needed now. Up to $10 per hour taking orders. Day/ evening shifts. No experience needed.

PROFESSIONAL SERVICES

FLANNIGAN'S Now hiring full or part-time food servers. Must have lunch availability. Apply between 2-4pm Monday through Thursday.

PROFESSIONAL SERVICES

THE IOWA RIVER POWER COMPANY 501 1st Ave. Coralville

PROFESSIONAL SERVICES

COLLEGE MONEY. Private Scholarships & Grants. America's finest. Since 1981, you're guaranteed minimum of $250 worth of financial aid from sources provided.

COLLECTIBLES

BUY, SELL, TRADE. VIDEO GAMES, COMICS, BALL CARDS.

USED FURNITURE

KING SIZE waterbed, free floating mattress, no headboard. $60. 351-3452.

FIREWOOD

"OAK FIREWOOD" Seasoned, split, delivered. $65/ half cord, $125/ full cord.

PETS

BRENNEMAN SEED & PET CENTER Tropical fish, pets and pet supplies.

FREE TO A GOOD HOME!

Schipperke, Beagle mix, 10 months old, fixed female. FOR SALE: crate, leash, other supplies.

FREE TO A GOOD HOME!

Two white kittens to a good home. 351-3455.

ANTIQUES

JUST opened! Treasures Between the Tracks, 700 S. Dubuque 11-7 everyday. Antiques, collectibles, oddities.

ANTIQUES

THE ANTIQUE MALL Has the USABLE: comodes, dressers, tables and more.

ART

CANVAS stretched. Custom stretchers built. Quality work. Reasonable prices. 337-7870.

RECORDS

CASH PAID for quality used compact discs, records and cassettes. RECORD COLLECTOR, 4 1/2 South Lynn. 337-6029.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENT

NEW AND USED PIANOS J. HALL KEYBOARDS 1851 Lower Muscatine Rd. 338-4500

BASS guitar

Carvin 5-string fretless. Nine months old, with fret inlays, extra 1995 or offer. 319-391-8196.

DON'T pawn your musical equipment...

WEST MUSIC 1212 5th St. Coralville. 351-2000

PHOTOGRAPHY

NIKKOR lens, 300mm IF-ED 14.5 priced to move $525. 339-4257.

COMPUTER

MACINTOSH SE 420, accessories and programs, perfect condition! $850. 337-2097.

COMPUTER

MACINTOSH SE 420, accessories and programs, perfect condition! $850. 337-2097.

STEREO

FOR sale: Alpine 60x60 car stereo, power amp. $150. 353-4064.

LIKE NEW Sony component stereo...

160 watt speakers, great sound. Moving, must sell. $300/ OBO. 339-1579 or 338-7977.

MIND/BODY

IOWA CITY YOGA CENTER Experienced instruction. Classes beginning now.

WHO DOES IT?

CHIPPER'S Tailor Shop, men's and women's alterations. 128 1/2 East Washington Street. 351-1229.

CHILD CARE

4-C's CHILD CARE REFERRAL AND INFORMATION SERVICES. Day care homes, centers, preschool listings.

INSTRUCTION

SCUBA lessons. Eleven specialties offered. Equipment sales, service, trips. PADI open water certification in two weekends.

TUTORING

WANT TO tutor French. Call Blaindie. 351-8146, leave message.

MOVING

ONE-LOAD MOVING Providing 24-foot moving truck (enclosed) plus manpower.

ENTERTAINMENT

P & E TRANSPORTATION SYSTEMS. No load too small. LICENSED, LEGAL AND INSURED.

ENTERTAINMENT

WEST music company 1212 5th St., Coralville, Iowa 52241 351-2000

ENTERTAINMENT

CLUBS and Lounges • Weddings • Special Events • School Functions • Dorm Parties • Fraternity/Sorority Exchanges

ENTERTAINMENT

WEST music company 1212 5th St., Coralville, Iowa 52241 351-2000

ENTERTAINMENT

CLUBS and Lounges • Weddings • Special Events • School Functions • Dorm Parties • Fraternity/Sorority Exchanges

ENTERTAINMENT

WEST music company 1212 5th St., Coralville, Iowa 52241 351-2000

TYPING

WORD PROCESSING, brochures, manuscripts, reports, letters, computer rental, resumes, labels. 354-7465

RESUME

QUALITY WORD PROCESSING 329 E. Court Expert resume preparation by a Certified Professional Resume Writer

RESUME

IF YOU WANT to miss a job interview because of a poor resume, don't call us. If you want a guarantee of satisfaction, call Janet at 351-8523.

WORDCARE

Professional Word Management 310 E. Burlington Suite 19 338-3888

WORDCARE

Professional Word Management 310 E. Burlington Suite 19 338-3888

WORDCARE

Professional Word Management 310 E. Burlington Suite 19 338-3888

WORDCARE

Professional Word Management 310 E. Burlington Suite 19 338-3888

WORDCARE

Professional Word Management 310 E. Burlington Suite 19 338-3888

WORDCARE

Professional Word Management 310 E. Burlington Suite 19 338-3888

WORDCARE

Professional Word Management 310 E. Burlington Suite 19 338-3888

WORDCARE

Professional Word Management 310 E. Burlington Suite 19 338-3888

WORDCARE

Professional Word Management 310 E. Burlington Suite 19 338-3888

WORDCARE

Professional Word Management 310 E. Burlington Suite 19 338-3888

WORDCARE

Professional Word Management 310 E. Burlington Suite 19 338-3888

WORDCARE

Professional Word Management 310 E. Burlington Suite 19 338-3888

AUTO DOMESTIC

CHEAP! FBI/US. SEIZED 89 MERCEDES $200 86 VW $50 87 MERCEDES $100 85 MUSTANG $50.

1982 Oldsmobile Cutlass Supreme...

New tires, new brakes, rebuilt engine in 1987. $1200. Call Traci at 337-5663 between 8-5pm.

1983 Chevy Citation, A/C, 5-door...

automatic, front wheel drive under warranty. $800. 337-2097.

1975 Pontiac Le Mans, dependable...

winter car. New battery, block heater, good tires. AM/FM. $400/OBO. 335-1592.

FORD Pinto 1978, Engine perfect...

condition. Rustless body. Runs perfect. Good student car. $500/OBO. Call 339-4351.

1983 Mercury Zephyr, Auto, new...

muffler, A/C, AM/FM cassette, runs great! $860/OBO. 354-6794 after 5:30pm.

WANT TO buy wrecked or unwanted cars and trucks...

Toll free 628-4971.

1979 LTD Ford, 92,000 miles, $500...

or best offer. 354-9026.

AUTO FOREIGN

1985 VW Jetta, 5-speed, air, AM/FM cassette. $2000/OBO. Call Joe 354-2705.

1987 Maxima GXE, Loaded, two-tone paint...

93k highway miles. Have completed 9k factory maintenance, ready for winter. $525. 338-6633.

1991 Honda CRX HS, 5-speed, A/C, 30k miles...

AM/FM cassette, rd. $700. 354-2203.

HAWKEYE Country Auto Sales, 1847 Waterfront Drive, Iowa City...

338-8872.

1983 Nissan Pulsar Turbo, 5-speed, 338-8872.

roof, stereo. $1500/OBO.

VW, BLACK GTI Ford 1985, 88k, sunroof, AM/FM cassette, air, $2500/OBO. Call 351-4855.

1984 Toyota Camry liftback, fully loaded. Book $3450, asking $3100. 353-4512.

Complete Japanese and European Auto Repair Service

Whitedog 424 Highland Ct. Iowa City, IA 52240 319/337-4616

ROOMMATE WANTED

NEED TO PLACE AN AD? COME TO THE COMMUNICATIONS CENTER ROOM 111 MONDAY-THURSDAY 8am-5pm FRIDAY 8am-4pm

OWN PRIVATE ROOM IN LARGE MODERN HOME...

On busline, patio, linoleum, hardwood floors, cable, microwave, dishwasher, washer/dryer, great roommates and more. $185/month, non-smokers only. 351-2715.

M/F, grad professional. Own room in two bedroom condo with garage...

near Finkbine. On busline. $295 plus 1/2 utilities. Robin 338-0614, 356-6034.

FEMALE to share four bedroom house...

Close-in. $248.75/month plus 1/4 utilities. 339-7024.

ROOMMATE wanted to share first floor of house...

Own room, very clean. Non-smoker. $240/month plus gas, water, electric. $162. 1/3 electric. Available now. Pioneer Co-Op. $200/month. 351-4638.

FEMALE roommate needed for two bedroom apartment...

at Maize. Must share room. $162. 1/3 electric. Available now. Pioneer Co-Op. $200/month. 351-4638.

MALE, Two bedroom, October free...

$190, plus 1/2 utilities. HW paid. 338-9557.

PROFESSIONAL or Grad to share a nice two bedroom in Coralville...

On busline, C/A, $225/month. 354-2242.

ROOMMATES: We have residents who need roommates for one, two and three bedroom apartments...

Information is posted on door at 414 East Market for you to pick up. $349-7948.

BRAND new complex, own room, partial, spacious. Available now...

339-7948.

M/F to share room in large apartment...

near campus. $150/month, near campus. Available January. 337-0661.

M/F TO SHARE two bedroom apartment in Coralville, A/C, D/W, parking, no pets...

Available now. $240/month plus gas and electric. Call Dave 338-0128.

ROOMMATE needed! N/S, M/F, available immediately...

W/D, A/C, deck, off-street parking. 351-8053.

OWN room in three bedroom apartment. Close to campus...

HW paid. $210/month. Available January. 339-8315.

M/F, own room in newer apartment. Parking, laundry, $190/monthly deposit...

1/4 utilities. 353-4834.

APARTMENT FOR RENT

LARGE two bedroom downtown apartment. Off

Arts & Entertainment

Award-winning Eisenberg to read from 'Under the 82nd Airborne'

Doren Robbins
Special to The Daily Iowan

It is her almost flawless instinct for revealing the unmentioned emotional crises of her characters through dramatic action as well as through their incapacity to act that makes Deborah Eisenberg a storyteller of the first rank.

There has been an attempt by some reviewers to frame her sensibility within the historical context of the 1980s, and elements of that perception are unavoidable. However, the imminence of self-discovery, the revelation of personality her characters undergo, or fail to undergo, and the unique contexts in which they happen, transcends the possible pigeonhole devices of marketing psychology.

Eisenberg, with her talent for capturing people "... all trapped in things that had already happened," is as much in her own place as Sherwood Anderson, Flannery O'Connor or Raymond Carver are in theirs. In her stories there are psychological insights denuding behavior as good as those by Ford Maddox Ford.

In "Rafe's Coat," for instance, Eisenberg reflects that "stuffiness is often an adjunct of infatuation," as she notes how Rafe, her erotically compulsive male friend, inflates and self-consciously chats about his most recent attachment. One of the most satisfying aspects of the above-mentioned writers, distinct as they are, is the mysterious inevitability in which their stories rise again out of their conclusions with an added resonance.

Eisenberg brings about similar results through her insights into the quirkiness and habits of individual psychology and how their symbolic value can work to present the inevitable in such a way that it appears to be part of the character's destiny. This is especially true of Caitlin, the failed actress ("the imposter"), in the title story of her new book "Under the 82nd Airborne." It is 20 years after she recklessly (vengefully?) got pregnant and then divorced three years later.

She travels to see her now grown daughter who is engaged to a cordially mindless type who flies illegal "cargo" missions out of Honduras to the Contras in Nicaragua. The toilet that was "paralyzed in a permanent flush" in her hotel room parallels the intolerable background of clandestine imperialist operations, but much more it mirrors the indigestible waste of unconscious acts and decisions that have stumped Caitlin's life as a woman. The sexual unconsciousness of overlooking "the stunning tedium of his (her first husband's) conversation" past the point of danger later suggests how one's self-blinding leads to the higher stakes of self-debasement.

The issue is raised when Caitlin, stoned and virtually "trapped" in the ugly apartment of her future son-in-law's superior, is summoned by him — already lying in bed and having turned out the light while Caitlin sits like a tormented but still unsuspecting pet on the floor. "Look," he said, "I thought I told you to come here." And the story ends. But earlier in the story after another lover has left her, Caitlin, who worked as a bartender heard, "... as she poured their drinks, the talismanic episodes of their past; the ghoully whispering of her own future."

In discussing the uses of symbolic writing Ford Maddox Ford wrote: "... the anemic shoppirl at the exhibition, with her bad teeth and her cheap black frock, is safer than Isolde. She is more down to the ground and much more touching." Eisenberg's stories convey with humor, violence, and an entirely unsentimental sense of vulnerability what the American shoppirls and the American Isolde, as well as their male counterparts, are the emotional archetypes of. In her stories we are in the resorts, provinces and big cities of the U.S. in the 1980s, just as we occupy similar geographies in Chekov's first stories, published almost 100 years ago.

Deborah Eisenberg will read tonight at 8 in Shambaugh Auditorium.

Philip Levine to share his ideas of 'What Work Is'

Doren Robbins
Special to The Daily Iowan

Philip Levine's poetry evokes the vibrant durability and continuity of things. It is no accident that the seemingly unbreakable thistle, which survives California's harsh summers, is his "flower." At least he has celebrated in such a way throughout his books. Possibly he has done so because its work is to survive, and it does.

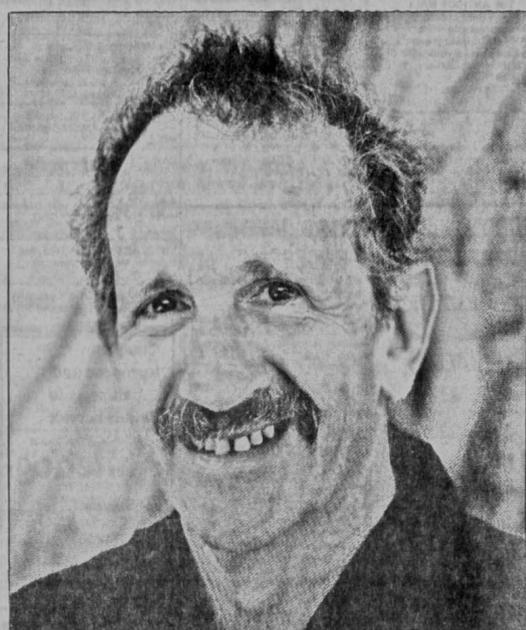

Levine's most recent book, "What Work Is," should be read in the dual context of what work is and what it takes. To work is to survive, and the details of how difficult, or debased, work can be, are evoked in the title poem and the poem "Growth." Levine was the man; he suffered, he was there. But the symbolic importance of work operates as an emblem of the soul as well, since not knowing how to love, Levine writes, is to not "know what work is."

We may seem to be closer here to the meaning of work as it occurs in the tragedies, desolations, and betrayals that make up the remarkable book of poems "Hard Labor" by the Italian poet Cesare Pavese, than to the Whitman of "A Song of Occupations." But the paradox that Whitman extols, where "Objects gross and the unseen soul are one," are filtered through a rich groove into Levine's book in the poem "Soloing." In the poem his mother tells him "she dreamed/of John Coltrane, a young Trane/playing his music with such joy/and contained energy and rage/she could not hold back her tears."

Levine sees the dream vision as Dream Vision, where a gift of music is presented from the great musician, who is so lasting in the force of his passion that he is retained within, and resurfaces out of, the "unseen" in the mother's dream. And here the poet, almost Dante-like, coming into the smogged-over, sea-dead L.A. basin, simultaneously presents the dignified but age-burdened solitude of the mother with the mother who is still a source of sustenance, whose work as a mother is not over.

There is then a placental quality to the poem since the mother's dream itself was the substance that fed the poet-son's language. The remarkable quality of Levine's later poems is this capacity for lucidly evoking the subtleties of how the inner and the outer worlds of experience overlap. He could also be saying that you sometimes have to go through hell, and that it is worth going through hell to receive a gift from the mother — herself the symbol of what primarily sustains and devours all. But the possibly deeper comical or mystical intent is incidental. At the foundation of Levine's poetry is the durability that arises out of integrity:

Philip Levine
he is committed to finishing the "job," knowing there are all the reasons in the world to hesitate, but that if he did quit, is he were to ever "have turned back," he would have "lost the music."

Philip Levine will be reading from his selected works tonight at 8 in Shambaugh Auditorium.

Where's the Pepperoni? Don't ask the other guys, call

IOWA CITY
351-6900
225 S. Gilbert

CORALVILLE
337-6400
106 5th Street

Happy Joe's All-You-Care-To-Eat
SMORGASBORD $3.99
A 16 oz. drink, all you can eat pizza (deep pan or original), pasta, cheese bread, new salad bar items and more!

Noon Buffet Mon. thru Fri. 11:00 am-1:30

15" Large Taco Pizza $9.95
One coupon per pizza. Not valid with any other offer. Expires Nov. 1, 1992

Medium Pepperoni Pizza & Breadsticks $7.99
One coupon per pizza. Not valid with any other offer. Expires Nov. 1, 1992

Medium Pepperoni Pizza $5.99
One coupon per pizza. Not valid with any other offer. Expires Nov. 1, 1992

Any Large Pizza for a Medium Charge
One coupon per pizza. Not valid with any other offer. Expires Nov. 1, 1992

Halloween FUNNY Accessories BUSINESS
624 S. Dubuque • 339-8227

Every Monday & Wednesday
One-eyed Jakes
18-20 S. CLINTON 351-9821

25¢ DRAWS
9 TO CLOSE

On ALL DRAFT BEER We Don't Serve Swill (Now Serving Happy Joe's Pizza By the Slice)

BIJOU

dedicated to Alfred Hitchcock Truffaut's THE BRIDE WORE BLACK stars Jean Moreau Tues. 6:45 Wed. 8:45

ALSO THIS WEEK...
THE MAN IN THE MOON Mon. 9:15
John Wayne in John Ford's THE QUIET MAN Mon. 6:45; Tues. 8:45

MONDO'S
SPORTS CAFE

212 South Clinton Street • Iowa City • 337-6675

10¢ Hot Wings
from Kickoff to the End of the Game

$2.50 Pitchers
Bud, Bud Light, and Miller Life Kickoff to close

CAMPUS III AFTERNOON MATINEES ALL SEATS
Old Capital Center Downtown • 337-7484
PURE COUNTRY (PG) $3.00
1:30; 4:00; 7:00; 9:30

DR. GIGGLES (R)
1:45; 4:00; 7:00; 9:30

1492 CONQUEST OF PARADISE (PG-13)
1:15; 4:00; 7:00

ENCLERT 102
221 E. Washington Downtown • 337-9151

SNEAKERS (PG-13)
EVE 6:45 ONLY

HERO (PG-13)
EVE 7:00; 9:30

MR. BASEBALL (PG-13)
EVE 9:30 ONLY

CORAL IV
Hwy. 6 West Coralville • 354-2449

CANDYMAN (R)
6:45; 9:00

UNDER SEIGE (R)
7:00; 9:00

CONSENTING ADULTS (R)
8:00; 9:00

NIGHT AND THE CITY (R)
7:00; 9:00

CINEMA 101
Bytowne Mall Eastside • 351-8283

THE MIGHTY DUCKS (PG)
7:15; 9:15

LAST OF THE MOHICANS (R)
7:00; 9:30

MICKY'S
Bar & Grill
MONDAY

Who says you can't please everyone? $2.50
The Burger Basket is back! 4 to 10 pm

Grilled Chicken Sandwich w/ Fries $3.00
4 to 10 pm

Carry-out Available
Open Daily at 11 a.m.
11 S. Dubuque

Rocky Rococo
PAN STYLE PIZZA

FREE DELIVERY 10:30am-2:00am 351-4556

FREE DELIVERY 10:30am-2:00am 351-4556

LARGE FOR MEDIUM $7.99
Get a large pizza for the price of a medium.
Please mention coupon when ordering. Limit one pizza per coupon. Not valid with other offers. Expires 11-26-92.

"TRIPLE PLAY" $7.99
16" Thin pizza with any 3 toppings
Please mention coupon when ordering. Limit one pizza per coupon. Not valid with other offers. Expires 11-26-92.

$9.99 Meal Deal
Includes a medium one topping pizza, breadsticks and Coke®.
Please mention coupon when ordering. Limit one pizza per coupon. Not valid with other offers. Expires 11-26-92.

$5.89 SNACK ATTACK
Get four orders of Breadsticks with sauce, and two 32 oz. Cokes®.
Additional toppings available at regular price. Please mention coupon when ordering. Limit one pizza per coupon. Not valid with other offers. Expires 11-26-92.

Super Snack $7.99
Includes 2 super slices, 2 orders of breadsticks and two Cokes®.
Please mention coupon when ordering. Limit one pizza per coupon. Not valid with other offers. Expires 11-26-92.

Study Snack $6.79
Includes 2 regular slices, 2 orders of breadsticks and two Cokes®.
Please mention coupon when ordering. Limit one pizza per coupon. Not valid with other offers. Expires 11-26-92.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1992

NewsBriefs

LOCAL
Coralville company ranked among nation's best

DES MOINES (AP) — Heartland Express Inc., a Coralville trucking company, has been ranked among the nation's top small businesses for a second time this year.

Forbes magazine ranked the eastern Iowa company 45 in its list of the 200 best small companies. The annual rankings are based on the magazine's calculations of each company's performance over the past five years and were released Sunday in the Nov. 9 edition of Forbes.

Earlier this year, Heartland Express was No. 96 in Business Week magazine's rankings of the nation's 100 hot-growth companies.

UI colleges receive record sum in grants

(AP) — The UI's College of Medicine will use a $4 million grant to research the relationship between fats and cardiovascular disease, officials announced Monday.

Separately, the school announced the College of Nursing has received more than $2.75 million in research grants this fall. That's the largest amount in one quarter in school history.

Arthur Spector, professor of biochemistry and internal medicine, will be director of the $4 million grant from the National Institutes of Health.

"We want to gain a better understanding of how certain fats that we eat put us at an increased risk of atherosclerosis — or hardening of the arteries — while other fats protect against its development," Spector said.

The five-year project is considered unique because it will combine human clinical studies with basic biochemical and molecular biological research, Spector said.

INTERNATIONAL

U.S. to admit 1,000 Bosnian refugees

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department, responding to an urgent U.N. appeal, said Monday that up to 1,000 former detainees of camps in Bosnia and their immediate family members will be admitted to the United States.

The administration generally has refrained from allowing refugees from the Bosnian crisis to come to the United States.

But State Department spokesman Richard Boucher said an exception was made following an assessment last week by the U.N. High Commissioner for Refugees that there is an urgent need to move released detainees away from the conflict zone.

Rescuers save 36 from sinking Russian ship

MOSCOW, Russia (AP) — Rescuers battled darkness and high seas Monday to pull 36 people out of the Black Sea after a ship carrying more than 200 passengers nearly sank in a storm.

The Russian navy initially said the ship, reportedly carrying most women and children, was going down, but the ITAR-Tass news agency said it was being towed to the port of Sochi.

INDEX

|                           |    |
|---------------------------|----|
| Features                  | 2A |
| Metro & Iowa              | 3A |
| Calendar / News of Record | 3A |
| Viewpoints                | 6A |
| Nation / World            | 7A |
| Arts & Entertainment      | 7A |
| Classifieds               | 4E |
| Crossword / Comics        | 6E |
| Movies                    | 6E |

IOWA POLITICAL STOCK MARKET

| PRESIDENTIAL MARKET (in cents) | Value  | Change |
|--------------------------------|--------|--------|
| BUSH                           | 45.5 ¢ | -7 ¢   |
| CLINTON                        | 55 ¢   | +8 ¢   |

For more information, call 335-0881.
N/C: no change