Iowa City, Iowa: be a nightmare...

I was the English here, and I lived in the United States, but as a TA and as both a TA and as a foreign student, I had to think about my English language and teaching assistant. And when he took it, he had to think about his...
Opinions differ on new college loan plan

If President Clinton's proposal to abolish student loans in favor of student loans and tax incentives gets into law, it will end the discussion on how to pay for higher education.

We believe it will be harder for students and taxpayers to make ends meet because tuition will rise as the government pays for college education.

But we don't believe Clinton's obligations are as great as the administration makes them out to be.

Clinton's proposal will do what Congress has been doing all along:
Tackle the problem of student aid
by taxing students and not requiring those expenditures.

Clinton's plan will also mean that students will pay

throughout their years, not just when they take out loans.

We believe Clinton's plan will mean more financial aid for students because it will be financed by taxing students and taxpayers.

I purchased a last "new" swimsuit in spring of 1987. Of all it 1987! It's a little Empire-one-piece, black and had pink to it. It really didn't fit me. The back was too high, and the bust was too small. I wore it one day and then tuck it in the back. The last time I wear it was a few weeks ago. Now, the America's image is so different in the 20's, when women took care of the men and their children.

Any women who has ever purchased a high fashion swimsuit, please tell me how you understand the concept of size and fit. Does anyone know if there's a fit size chart? I have found none. Can women buy a new swimsuit without a new bra? I know I can't.

They were truly quite adorable - pink with white trim, made almost entirely of nylon, barely covered the lower torso, and barely covered the upper torso as well. It was a bather for women 36 of a centimeter and under. "Shy, petite gals who don't want a gimp and don't want to detract from her already small presence.

I don't know of any store that will guarantee a fit size chart. Some have been turned in the last six or seven years, other stores will have a very limited range. The question is, new those women who it is to wear it..."

Destructive mind control techniques quite pervasive today

By Joseph J. Spaulding

In his book "The God Delusion," Richard Dawkins argues that there is no evidence for the existence of any gods. He states that "religion is the opiate of the masses," and that it is a form of mind control. Many people have been brainwashed by religious organizations and cults. In this essay, I will discuss the techniques used by these organizations to control their members.

There are several techniques that are commonly used by religious organizations and cults. One of the most common techniques is mind control, which is the process of manipulating a person's thoughts and beliefs to achieve a specific goal. This can be done through various means, such as manipulation of language, propaganda, and manipulation of emotions.

Another technique used by these organizations is the use of fear. Fear is a powerful emotion that can be used to control people by making them feel threatened or vulnerable. This can be done through the use of threats, such as violence or isolation, or through the use of guilt or shame.

In addition to these techniques, cults and religious organizations also use other methods of mind control, such as the use of propaganda, manipulation of emotions, and the use of mind control techniques. These techniques can be used to manipulate people's thoughts and beliefs, and can be used to control their actions.

In conclusion, the use of mind control techniques by religious organizations and cults is quite pervasive. These techniques are used to manipulate people's thoughts and beliefs, and to control their actions. It is important to recognize these techniques, and to be aware of the dangers they pose.

Poet and UI alumna Rita Dove is remembered by her colleagues in the Iowa Writers' Workshop as "wonderful, smart and funny."

"I remember her as smart and funny," said instructor Marvos Bell. "Flannery O'Connor Professor of Poetry and English at the University of Virginia and winner of the Pulitzer Prize, Bell praised Dove as an excellent poet and teacher who was also an excellent role model because she was an accomplished and already widely read poet.

Monument will honor UI donors

Dave Strahan  The Daily Iowan

Construction of a monument to recognize major contributors to the Iowa Endowment 2000 fundraising campaign should begin in the fall, according to the University of Iowa's director of planning and administrative services.

The UI Foundation started the campaign in 1997, and it has raised more than $220 million. According to David Wyckoff, president of the UI Foundation and director of the campaign, the current goal is to raise $300 million. Wyckoff said that this goal is crucial to the university's ability to attract and retain the best and brightest students and faculty for the 21st-century university.

"We need to do this," Wyckoff said. "We need to raise these funds to continue to support the quality of education and research." The endowment will be housed in a new building on the UI campus, which will be named after the university's donors.

The monument will consist of a bench surrounded by 18 bronze plaques recognizing more than 1,000 donors who contributed $5,000 or more to the campaign. Wyckoff said that the plaque will be located near the main entrance to the UI campus.

"This is the first year that we have been able to identify the names of the donors," Wyckoff said. "We have 1,000 donors who have contributed $5,000 or more, and we want to recognize them in a special way." Wyckoff said that the plaque will include the names of the donors and their contributions.

Cuba extends good will despite economic woes

John Rice
Associated Press Writer

Havana (AP) - Cuba's bold overtures toward the United States carry all the more weight because of the country's economic woes.

The Communist country also offered a goodwill gesture toward the United States on Tuesday, in a move that came as U.S. officials were facing questions about their economic problems.

The developments follow other recent reports that Cuba has been inching closer to the United States. The United States has been trying to improve relations with Cuba after a long period of tension.

The photo essay, released by the Associated Press, shows a Cuban soldier holding a flag in front of a building in Havana.

The essay is titled "Cuba: A Country of Contrast." It features images of everyday life in Cuba, including scenes of people working in factories and fields, as well as images of historic sites and cultural landmarks.

Texas' ex-governor Connally dies at 76

Michael Grazzy
Associated Press

WASHINGTON — John Connally, a former Texas governor, senator and JFK aide, died Monday. He was 76.

Connally was married to the former Nellie Connally. She was 92.

During World War II, Connally served in both the Marine Corps and the Navy. He served as secretary of the Navy from 1968 to 1971, the same year President Nixon was elected.

During the 1960s, Connally was a strong supporter of Nixon's presidential campaign. He was a member of the Tennessee delegation to the 1964 Republican National Convention.

John Connally's body was taken to the hospital where he was pronounced dead at 1:00 a.m. Monday. He was hospitalized overnight with severe pneumonia.

Connally was born in Floresville, Texas, on Feb. 27, 1917, the fourth of John Bowden Connally Jr. and Lula Wright Connally's eight children. He attended public schools there and in San Antonio.

In 1939, he and Houston oilman J. D. Ewing and a group of investors, including Harry O. Howe, formed the Southern States Utilities Corporation with the object of providing electricity to small cities and towns in the South. The company was later acquired by the Gulf States Utilities Company.

nothing before I got that bill? That's 11. The state's second-lowest.
"But what can you do? There's no helping to just say it and let it snow. And if we say it, there's nothing to say, you'll just be in there, but no one will come.
I think the killings point to a secured bulwark to the legal process.

Still the best 10¢ Wings in town!
After slow start, Majerle on track

Phoenix Suns guard Dan Majerle set a franchise record last week against Portland and scored 52 points and tied the NBA single-game 3-point record with 10 in a 118-112 victory in Portland.

Majerle has scored 43 or more points five times this season, including the 52 in Portland, and five times in the record-shattering 118-109 overtime loss to the Seattle Seahawks.

The 52 points were the third-most for a Suns player in franchise history, trailing only Joe Dumars with 55 and Paul Westphal with 51.

Majerle finished with 10 3-pointers, tying the single-game franchise record.

The Suns have been in the playoffs every year and have made the Western Conference finals five times, but they have never won a championship.

The Suns' record is 13-15.

Majerle leads the team in scoring with 19.5 points per game, and he's averaging 4.2 3-pointers per game.

"He's had a great year," coach Mike D'Antoni said. "He's had a couple of games where he's had a rough night, but he's been consistent the rest of the season.

"The 3-pointers are a bit lower, but he's getting to the basket better. He's hitting his free throws better. He's playing better defense.

"He's just a different player than he was last year. He's been the leader of the team all season."

Torrid Olerud terrorizes Twins

The Associated Press

MINNEAPOLIS - Robert Olerud homered twice, the second leading off in the eighth inning, and the Blue Jays beat the Minnesota Twins 10-3 Sunday. The Blue Jays, who have been struggling offensively, finally broke through with a big inning against the Twins. Olerud, who has been struggling with the bat, finally came through with a big hit.

JORDAN: I'll take over

"I'm capable of carrying the load," he says.

Bill Harrod

Associated Press

CHICAGO - Michael Jordan is more than willing to take over for the Chicago Bulls now that he's back on the court after missing two games with a sore elbow. Jordan has been out of the lineup for two games this season, and the Bulls are struggling without him. "I'm capable of carrying the load," Jordan said. "I'm capable of stepping up and taking over."
