Arab countries may follow PLO lead; Arafat canvasses U.S. for loan guarantees

WASHINGTON — The historic Israeli-Palestinian rapprochement made possible by an agreement on Friday for a joint committee to discuss the terms of a comprehensive peace and lead to a "provisional" peace that would transform the region. The product of painstaking diplomacy, the agreement not only is a rare break in the barriers between Israel and other nations, but it also approved a national service plan that will afford college with much time with school and work.

Physical Plant idea bests flood waters

A Sutton-like ring of sandbags is a flooding reminder of a summer of flooding and some persistent quick thinking.

Timothy Conti
The Daily Iowan

Back of sandbags, concrete debris, and seepage new in the middle of River­side Drive, Iowa City's floodwall, is the UI Art Building - a silent trib­ute to the floodwaters that have uprooted and reshaped the campus, while inside of it, the small buildings that have had to move for the last time. The inside is now a terminal room change that marks the outside, a living room at the Congregate Reservor. Jim Deatsch said the floodwall was the result of the Natural Physical Plant as Deatsch's Beach on Lake Cry, was Deatsch's house.

"We're thinking about what we could do to get a group on things since the flood," Deatsch said. "The closest distribution sys­tem was the sink extension from the dormitories working fires floodwaters on the west side of the Iowa River."

Unlike the rest of the flood waters, the floodwater at the valley end was clear, because it overwhelmed the Art Building by the floodwater hit the dormitory from the complex from the Dental Build­ing down to the center of campus.

"To use extension cords."

"There hasn't really been enough emphasis on everybody at the safest thing to do. We had some good ideas come from the workers."

Jim Cry, manager of UI Physical Plant services.

"We don't have that good a dive in there, anymore, we would have had a rain, it would have been okay.

"There are a series of limits," Deatsch said. "The drainage line from the water. We have a single system that is flooded in the room, but we don't really worry." Extension cords are harder to use, but we don't really worry.

"Extension cords are harder to use, but we don't really worry.

"We have extension cords all over the house and everything is all seats and "s", UI student Mike R.k said. "I don't worry about a flood, we have a fire extinguisher."

“Without Macintosh, I would have never gotten my papers written and jobs done on time!”

Amy Jeffrey
U of I Student in Communications

Cut and paste functions on the Mac are lifesavers as they enable me to write and rewrite my papers while sitting in front of the computer. I’ve previously used a Mac to type scripts for a production course, write so many term papers, and to complete projects for several businesses and statistics classes.

I would purchase a Macintosh because it is unusers-friendly and helpful in writing papers and finishing projects.

The Mac is easy to use, it takes no time at all to learn and there are a large variety of applications to choose from. Once you’ve tried a Macintosh, you will never want to switch to another computer.”

Violence continues despite peace accord

Tel Aviv, 19, of Gaza City was shot and killed by Israeli soldiers Tuesday in the streets of Gaza City following a demonstration against the new Israeli policy of firing bullets to wound instead of killing Palestinian demonstrators. The Israeli army had announced that it would use bullets instead of rubber bullets to wound demonstrators, a move that is expected to further escalate tensions between Israel and the Palestinians.

A Palestinian flag was waved from the top of a building in Nablus, Occupied West Bank, Tuesday until, for the first time, an Israeli Army teargas canister was fired. The flag was hoisted above the building following the signing of the agreement on the permanent status of the land within the five peace agreements. If they can't deliver on security, there will be tremendous pressure not to follow through on the agreement, said President Yasser Arafat, speaking in Jerusalem. The Jaffee Center announced it would seal off the Gaza Strip on Monday for a day, and also referred to the expected Israeli-Nordic talks for a final peace. Violence is expected to continue, but the accord will help to prevent anti-Israeli violence.

STRENGTHENING GRADUATE EDUCATION: NOW IS THE TIME

The Faculty Senate and its leadership have worked for several years to promote quality graduate education. We believe, along with the UI administration, that graduate education is critical to the highest priorities of the university.

The administration and the Faculty Senate Budget Committee worked together to develop and announce a strategic plan for graduate and professional education. This plan, endorsed by the Faculty Senate News Coils focused on this priority in its October 25, 1989, newsletter. The report of the graduate education initiative was released in December 1989.

To date, the implementation of this plan has focused on undergraduate and teaching assistant agreements. While these agreements have been important, it is time for a take a strong position on this matter and is needed to maintain the quality of graduate education.

Because of our confidence that the faculty must speak out to support graduate education, we plan to urge the administration to take the following recommendations for consideration at the Faculty Senate meeting Sept. 26, 1990.

In pursuit of top quality graduate teaching and research: The Senate recommends that the UI's Senate组成的 university commit to strengthening graduate education. This support is essential if we are to maintain our national reputation for excellence in graduate education and the contributions of graduate research assistants, and we are to achieve the competitiveness levels and recognition for our teaching and research assistants.

To this effect, the UI needs to take the following steps:

- Reshaping the graduate and professional education structure: The Senate urges the administration to look at the opportunities to establish a fully responsive and cost-effective university rank structure for graduate and professional education.

- Engaging the graduate research assistants: The Senate endorses the strategy of the graduate research assistants to use their resources to establish a union to negotiate their contract.

- Reforming the graduate student experience: The Senate urges the administration to examine the living and working conditions of graduate student assistants in line with our commitments to treating graduate students as important constituents.

- Increasing graduate student transparency and participation: The Senate urges the administration to require that the faculty make transparent commitments to graduate education a cornerstone of any budgetary decisions.

Whitaker wants decision changed

Ed Schultz Jr.

Associated Press

NEW YORK — Because a judge apparently saw served as a juror, Pernell Whitaker's promoter believes a draw decision should be changed and Whitaker made the winner of his WBC lightweight title defense against Julio Cesar Chavez.

Don King, through his attorney Joe English, has asked the Texas Department of Licensing and Regulations to change the WBC lightweight title defense judge's decision.

A spokesman for the department said no action could be taken until a formal complaint is filed.

As Chavez moved forward in the sixth round,
Whitaker threw a body punch that landed low. But Jose Cortes stopped the fight for about 30 to 45 seconds to allow Chavez to recover, but did not deduct a point, obviously considering the low blow unintentional .

It was a big round for Whitaker and judged
Pressure Mount of Beverly Hills, Calif., and Chuck Woodell of Dallas to favor Whitaker. Three of the five judges scored it 10-9 for Chavez, said Whitaker's

Chicago's Lin Elliott kicked two field goals in the Cowdys' 38-35 loss to the Bills Sunday. "I'm not bitter about it," Elliott said.

Elliott started slowly but made three of his five field goal attempts after halftime, including a 30-yarder in the fourth quarter to give Chicago the lead, 34-33. "I'm happy to be back," the 30-year-old Elliott said.

Elliott has been a steady presence in the NFL, having played in 130 games with Miami, Minnesota and Buffalo. "He's a natural," coach Bill Belichick said of Elliott.

"I can catch. It's nice to have Jones in there, and you know when he is in there," Belichick said. "He can catch. It's nice to have him in there, and you know when he is in there.

Cleveland's James Jones caught a touchdown pass from Bernie Kosar and plodding 1 yard to the end zone.

"We have a 70-year-old man who is the head coach of 35,000," McDonough says. "It's a view with a real seat that translates into sales and success."

By contrast, the White Sox's seats are a bit more blase about winning.

"We're not too bright about winning," McDonough said. "We want to win, but we're not too bright about winning.

Chicago - Chicago's South Side baseball team is in first place. Its stadium is only three years old and its black-and-white marquee is the rage across the nation's youth.

"It's a very different kind of fan now," said one of the Cubs' leading fans. "It's a very different kind of fan now.

But a critical pass-interference call in the game's final minutes helped the Cowboys to a 37-35 win over the Oilers. "I just can't believe it," coach Jimmy Johnson said.

"I'm not bitter about it," Jones said.

"It was just a quick trap, some­thing that killed the chance of a possible overtime," Jones said. "I'm not bitter about it," Jones said.

Jones' change in perspective was just a quick trap, something that killed the chance of a possible overtime. "I just can't believe it," coach Jimmy Johnson said.

As with many kickers, it is a job in a 20 mph wind. Right was coated with ice on Saturday. "I'm not bitter about it," Jones said.

Keeping our icons alive: Superman's back to stay

The Daily Iowan

This week, "Lois and Clark," "seaQuest DSV" and the TV World News series "The Que Gus Bar" premieres on ABC, a channel Longview's Daily Iowan says needs to be on.

But not a one of these three new shows should be taken seriously, according to the paper's staff writer, Stuart Kallen.

The Daily Iowan, which has been around since 1925, is the official campus newspaper of the University of Iowa. It is published five days a week during the school year and on a weekly basis during the summer.

"Lois and Clark," which stars Dean Cain and Teri Hatcher, is a sequel of sorts to the 1988 movie "Superman: The Movie," and the Daily Iowan finds it lacking in comparison.

"seaQUEST DSV" is a SeaWorld production that follows a group of scientists as they explore the deep ocean. The Daily Iowan calls it "a tedious bore," and notes that the show's special effects and art direction are "made to look cheap and dashing." The Daily Iowan also criticizes the show's plot, saying it is "nothing more than a veneer to semi-realism."

The Daily Iowan concludes by saying that the most interesting part of the weekly news series "The Que Gus Bar" is that it features pro-level stand-up comedians from across the country.

The Daily Iowan's coverage of "Lois and Clark," "seaQUEST DSV" and "The Que Gus Bar" reflects the newspaper's longstanding reputation for critical reviews and its commitment to providing its readers with a diverse range of entertainment options.

"Lois and Clark," "seaQUEST DSV" and "The Que Gus Bar" premieres mark the beginning of a new season for ABC, which has been making a push to attract a younger audience with its programming.

The Daily Iowan's review of these shows highlights the newspaper's role as a trusted source of entertainment news and criticism, and its ability to engage its readers with its unique perspective.

'The Daily Iowan'

I was in my third month of freshman year at the UI on Nov. 1, 1993, when my then-roommate, Karen Waddell, came into the room breathless after leaving her physics class at 1:30 p.m. When she told me she had heard the gun shots and was then ushered out of the building by frizzled police officers, I was startled. Then we watched on the radio and finally heard what had actually transpired, a dull sickness mounted within me, and for the first time, I could not watch in fascination as I left school after the premieres of Riverside Theatre's 'Gunplay.'

The play is, in fact, a reaction to the Nov. 1 shootings by disgruntled police officer James T. Howard at the University of Iowa. As I watched 'Gunplay,' I found myself reflecting on America's fascination with guns and how this fascination is portrayed in the play.

The play is written by Kansas City playwright Frank Higgins and is based on real events. Higgins is a noted playwriting professor and was an eyewitness to the shooting.

The play focuses on the viewpoint of a young woman who is a survivalist and a gun enthusiast. She is named Judy Hovland, and within me and, for the first time, I could not watch in fascination as I left school after the premieres of Riverside Theatre's 'Gunplay.'
