Frank Conroy, director of the UI Writers' Workshop, has written a new novel, "Body and Soul," in which he explores the priesthood and the life of a young man coming of age in the 1960s.

"I thought it was a very good novel," said Conroy, who stayed two semesters and then began reading at the University of Iowa. "I had never taught a class. I was a little intimidated, but it was a good experience.

"What I really enjoyed was the way Conroy had written the book," said one of his former students. "He was able to hit the right notes and get the reader interested."

Conroy's novel is getting good reviews, and he hopes to sell it to a publisher for a large sum of money.

"I'm very pleased with the way Conroy has written the book," said his former student. "He has a natural talent for storytelling, and he has a great sense of humor.

"The book is a great read, and it's a very good thing for us," said another of Conroy's former students. "He's a great writer, and he deserves to be published.

"I'm very excited about the book," said Conroy. "I think it's going to be a big success, and it's going to be a great way for me to start my career as a writer."

Students, staff work together to take hassle out of moving day

They’re glad to be moving into Mayflower Residence Hall, but students and administrators agree that cooperation and perseverance made temporary housing a positive experience.

Everyone involved with Mayflower had to act quickly and strategically. Last Tuesday, UI Director of Residence Services George Dill said, “People worked together diligently,” he said. “There was a spirit of cooperation between both the students and the staff. If we could go back, I don’t think we would do a thing differently. I’m just glad we got everyone out of Mayflower as fast as we have.”

Mayflower residents were temporarily housed in dorms in every residence hall on campus. In an average of seven to 10 dorms living in each lounge, phones, stereo systems, TVs, microwaves and other appliances had to be shared due to a lack of space.

“We basically had to resurface our attempts to accommodate rooms,” Burge Hall coordinator Cheryl Hangerott said. “Mayflower reopening is going to be great for everyone. Lounge students can now feel like they have a home to go to.”

Professor Heather Larson said that living in temporary housing spoiled her how much a normal room meant.

“There were many inconveniences, such as having to go to the bathrooms to brush their teeth or wash their hands and having very little in dividual space,” she said. “The small amount of individual space started to grate on me after a while.”

Study space was also limited. Mayflower so this was a unique experience.

“It’s been an extremely high,” Droll said. “Everyone’s happy to be getting back into their building and that is good.”

Matt Niko, left, helps friend Jason Schaffer move into his new room in Mayflower Residence Hall. Residents were able to start moving from temporary housing to Mayflower at 8 a.m. Saturday.

“Looks like the lounge situation, about the lounge situation. Everyone was understanding and cooperative,” she said. “But overall, students were ready to move into Mayflower.”

Larson believes the six weeks have made everyone miss the place. “The positive aspect was that I didn’t have to do their cleaning,” she said. “We were able to do their cleaning and lack of space.”

The traditionally low rate of unemployment in Johnson County sagged even further in August as Iowa recorded its lowest unemployment rate in 15 years.

The state had a 3.2 percent unemployment rate in July which fell to 3 percent in August. After adjusting the rate to compensate for seasonal employment trends, the August number was a record low of 2.9 percent.

Activists report rapes of Somali women, girls

Associated Press

NAGORE, Kenya — A human rights group has accused Kenya of failing to prevent Somali refugees from being raped.

"The government has done an appalling lack of concern for the rights of Somali refugees," the New York-based Africa Watch said in a report released Sunday.

"Vic tims of rape and sexual assault are in and around Somalia's largest refugee camps and among nine-year-old girls in 10-year-old women, the report said. Most victims are abducted, raped, beaten, tortured or killed, it said.

Refugees have been attacked by Kenyan bandits and Somali raiders from across the porous border, the report said. Those attacks have been reported being raped by Kenyan police or militia personnel.

The report said 192 refugee women reported being raped in just seven months of this year.

If you have not already registered for Tuesday's City Council primary election, it's too late. If you have, you probably should have done so. If you are undecided, then, as an objective reviewer of the issues and the contenders' positions, it is incumbent upon you to conduct a campaign, complete with stop signs, of the most intelligent candidate. The big issues, incidentally, include: who will change the city's face; whose ideas will develop low-income housing, Valentine-based roads on garbage, reduction of downtown parking, and worsening traffic, downtown to campus; St. Stan, whose ideas will develop the U's thinking, low-income housing, volume-based rates on garbage, reduction of downtown parking, and worsening traffic, downtown to campus.

It was another week of overall defeat for Northwestern (2-9, 2-2 in the Big Ten) in its second fall appearance today at Carver-Hawkeye Arena.

"We had no chemistry, and I'm not going to blame the fact that we lost three starters out of the lineup as a reason. It's frustrating. We've got very capable people coming off the bench, and I think our reserve players are as good as any we've had in recent years. But just that fact that we lost three starters is embarrassing," coach Greg Giovanazzi said.

Winning for Iowa was injured junior middle blocker Jennifer Webb, who had eight kills. Senior right side hitter Joanne Sharp had a career-high 13 kills. Senior middle blocker Weaver and Oelschlager led Iowa with 12 kills apiece.

The Hawkeyes' absences in the middle at the position could be a real problem for the team.

New novel breathes fresh life into stocky history

Health That
By Stu Reid

Most of us are not aware of the early revival of the slave trade, not because our high-school American history books silenced the topic, but because the junior high students who began the struggle to abolish the trade long ago, the first generation of abolitionists, had so thoroughly thought this into the heads and hands of their fellow schoolmates that it was viewed as a natural, normal, and expected part of the curriculum.

The career story of Mildred Bors, a character widely known and respected for her role in the fight against slavery, is one of the most important in the history of the American struggle against the trade. Bors, in her early life, was a slave, but upon gaining her freedom, she devoted her life to the fight against the trade, and in doing so, helped to bring about the end of it.

In her story, Bors learns the harsh realities of the trade, and how it affected the lives of so many. She also learns the importance of working together, and the power of unity. Through her dedication and hard work, Bors helps to end the slave trade and brings about a new era for the black community.

But Bors's story is not just about her. It's about all those who were affected by the trade, and the fight against it. It's about the sacrifices made, and the resilient spirit of those who fought to end it. It's about the legacy that they left behind, and the impact that it continues to have today.

Bors's story is one of hope, and a story of victory. It's a story of resilience, and a story of courage. It's a story of the power of the human spirit, and the power of hope. And it's a story that should be told, and remembered.

As Mildred Bors, we must continue to fight for the future of our children and grandchildren. We must continue to work towards a world where slavery is no more. And we must remember the lessons of the past, so that we can avoid the mistakes of the past, and create a better future for all.

In the end, Bors's story is a story of hope, and a story of victory. It's a story of resilience, and a story of courage. And it's a story that we must never forget.
MOVIE REVIEW

'Malice' wastes taut premise, strong actors on weak ending

Ted Pᴀᴜʟsᴏɴ, The Daily Iowan

"Though it may seem terribly boasts, forgetter Scudder's Gloria, starring Nicole Kidman and the charming kidman, with any average "Tire Truck." The Next Generation."" It's a terrible performance from viewers on the edge of their seats and an incredibly entertaining and fantastic ending maintained throughout most of its respective.

These are the positive aspects.

Malice

Director: Herbert Bline
Screenwriter: Aaron Sorkin

Trey, Andy's young, hot-headed son, and Tracy, his wife, are the central characters in the film, playing off each other's personalities. Trey is a very charismatic and confident character, while Andy is more reserved and introverted. Their dynamic interaction adds a lot of tension and excitement to the film.

Trey's mother, Charm, is a very powerful and energetic character, and her relationship with her son is both close and very competitive. She often tries to control Trey's behavior and keep him in line, which leads to a lot of conflict and tension in their relationship.

The film is set in a small town, where everyone knows each other. The community is very, very close-knit, and the film does a great job of depicting the dynamics of this kind of social setting.

The Economics of the Citibank Classic Visa card. How Student Discounts and Price Protection contribute to upward growth. A variety of factors have been suggested as contributing to the economic growth of students, including (1) more lottery winners between the ages of 18 and 22, (2) a 37% increase on earnings from bottles and can returns, (3) more students doubling earnings in the lightning round of game shows, and (4) the Citibank Classic Visa card. It's this last one, however, that affects most students. The Citibank Classic Visa card offers immediate savings to student cardmembers. You can save up to 26% on long distance calls versus AT&T with the free Citibank Calling Service from MCI! And you can capitalize on a $20 Airfare Discount for domestic flights. Savings on mail order purchases, sports equipment, magazines and music also abound. Maximize these savings with a low variable interest rate of 15.4% and no annual fee, and you can significantly improve your personal bottom line (especially if one's net income tends to be pretty gross). Put another way, one might even have enough savings to reinvest in a CD or two (the musical kind, of course). On the way to the record store, or any store for that matter, take stock of the 3 services concerned with purchases made on the Citibank Classic card. Citibank Price Protection assures one of the best prices. See the same item advertised in print for less, within 60 days, and Citibank will refund the difference up to $150. To protect these investments, Buyers Security can cover them against accidental damage, fire or theft (ordinarily causes for Great Depressions) for 90 days from the date of purchase. And Citibank Lifetime Warranty can extend the expected service life of eligible products up to 12 years. But perhaps the features which offer the best protection are your eyes, your nose, your mouth, etc.—all featured on The Photocard, the credit card with your photo on it. Carrying it can help prevent fraud or any hostile takeover of your card. (Insiders speculate that it makes quite a good student ID, too.) Even if one's card is stolen, or perhaps lost, The Lost Wallet Service can replace your card usually within 24 hours. So never panic. As we all know, panic, such as in the Great Panics of 1837, 1857, and 1929 can cause a downswing in a market. But with 24-hour Customer Service, there's no reason for it. A question about your account is only an 800 number away. (Panic of the sort experienced the night before Finals is something else again.) Needless to say, building a credit history with the support of such services can only be a boost. You're investing in futures—that future house, that future car, etc. And knowing the Citibank Classic Visa card is there in your wallet should presently give you a sense of security, rare in today's—how shall we say?—fickle market. To apply, call. Students don't need a job or a cosigner. And call if you'd simply like your photo added to your regular Citibank Classic Visa card. Here's the number: 1-800-CITIBANK, extension 19. The Law of Student Supply and Demand states, "If a credit card satisfies more of a student's unlimited wants and needs, while reducing the Risk Factor in respect to limited and often scarce resources—with the greatest supply of services and savings possible—then students will demand said credit card." So, demand away—call. Not just Visa. Citibank Visa.
