WEST HOLLYWOOD, Calif. — Suzi Perry, a 23-year-old actress, was found dead in a room at the Chateau Marmont hotel early Monday, according to police and friends of the actress.

The cause of death was unknown, but friends said that Perry had been drinking heavily prior to her death.

Perry was a rising star in Hollywood, having appeared in several films and television shows. She was best known for her role as Martha in the television show "The Young and the Restless." Perry had been working on a new film project when she died.

A memorial service will be held at a later date. Contributions in memory of Suzi Perry can be made to the Substance Abuse Foundation of Los Angeles.

Megan Nguy, a senior who lived in Vietnam before moving to Iowa at the age of 3, wants to improve the USA image.

Gov. Branstad gives in to raising betting limits

Mike Glover

DES MOINES - Gov. Terry Branstad, saying he's made mistakes in handling the fight over legalized gambling, said he will propose that the Legislature raise Iowa's betting limits.

The governor said gambling is "a very important issue" that will be "understandable as well as other issues." He said his legislative proposal would deal with short-term concerns like betting limits and larger gambling interests.

Summers said he's been in the legislature for 26 years, though he's signed all the major gambling bills.

"We don't want to just say no," said Summers. "We don't want to just say no because we don't want to give up on this issue."

Board to make final decision on boundaries for new school

William Pepper

The Daily Iowan

After months of debate, revision, and public input, the Iowa City School Board will vote tonight on the final boundary change needed to make way for the new television & video lab. The lab will be located on the former site of the Black Hills campus.

Throughout the planning of the new boundaries, the board consid­ered 10 different scenarios and held several public hearings. The final proposal to the board will be the same as it was when the board approved it last year.

The new boundary will be a solid line drawn around the area that the Black Hills campus used to occupy.

The school board is expected to vote on the proposal at its meeting tonight, which begins at 7 p.m. at the Iowa City School Board chambers.

Chris Clinton

The Black Hills vote is from Hills Elementary to Weber City.

The parents made the request last year, and the board voted to make the change without public input, the Iowa City School Board president said.

The one boundary change the board may make will be for the Black Hills area. Earlier this year, parents in that area of Iowa City asked the board to allow their seven children to be reenrolled from Hills Elementary to Weber Elementary.

The parents made the request because Hills Elementary is about a mile away, while Weber is 2.5 miles away.

A board vice presi­dent said the Black Hills vote is the second-to-last one it involves such a small number of students.

In these difficult economic times, risky business ventures such as opening a new restaurant are easier said than done — at least not in most places. Co%'s Aikman may try acupuncturing

Danene H. Freeman

Associated Press

DALLAS - Dallas Cowboys quarterback Troy Aikman arrived for the first practice session of his career, Monday said he might try acupuncture in an effort to play this weekend against Phoenix.

Aikman went down in a heap in the second quarter of Sunday's 41-10 loss to the New York Giants, and he has been listed as questionable for this weekend. The injury was not listed as a sprain but as a bruise.

"We're going to try acupuncture," Aikman said. "It's not been tried in football, and I believe it could do a lot for me."

Aikman said he has never pulled muscles during high school in Hanover, Ind., or college at Oklahoma and UCLA.

"I didn't even know what it was called," he said. "I didn't know what it was called."

"It's been used in the National E.T. and I'm sure you can find it in the United States.

Aikman said he played the game against the Mavericks were Monday's "can't play.

"If I can't help the team and I can't move it, I'm going to jeopardize it," he said. "I'll do the doctor on this one.""

At Aikman spoke a team meeting case and took his lunch order, a double cheeseburger with Fries and a "at least there are some benefits to the thing," he said. The conservative approach in dealing with Aikman's injury, considering his Super Bowl MVP quarterback has never had a tonic to get him ready to go before we bring him in, is 100 percent.

Fran Griffith, who replaced Aikman on Sunday, and Hugh Mill in the game, said the Cowboys didn't fly. "If they're in a position to play, we'll play them," he said. "It's fine.""

Aikman said he would be ready to Wednesday to kick off the season's second day.

"At least this hamstring has made me forget my knee," Aikman said.

It's a day in day situation with Troy and it might be 2:30 p.m. on Sunday in San Antonio, it's 7 p.m., 11 p.m., whichever.

"We don't expect Troy to play," Aikman said. "It's too much amount of time."

Johnson added: "The team has a lot of confidence in Jones."

Aikman has a streak of 24 consecutive regular-season starts, second to only among NFL quarterbacks.

Aikman's long list of injury problems includes a herniated disc in his hip, operations on his right elbow and shoulder, and the broken thumb of his left hand.

"He's been bothered by a slightly turned ankle our most significant injury," he said. "Well, at least this hamstring has made me forget my knee," Aikman said.

Pippen out five games
Associated Press

CHICAGO — Scottie Pippen, the Chicago Bulls’ leader scorer, is out Monday because of a straddle he injured in training Tuesday.

Pippen, who averaged 23.5 points per game last season, also said he was not clear what caused the injury.

"I’m straight earlier this week, win versus the Bulls, we won," Pippen said.

In the past few weeks, Pippen has been recovering from a minor surgery on his right ankle.

He has missed three previous games this season because of injury, including a start last week against the Los Angeles Lakers.

"I've actually become a little relaxed," Pippen said.

In 1992, Pippen was named the NBA All-Star in the first two games, but was unable to play because of injury for five years.

The small forward became the third Bulls player in the injured.

In the past, the move appeared to be a "titanic" decision of the judges.

Saul Bellow comes to UI for open reading

Lisa Anne Taggart
The Daily Iowan

- At 7, Saul Bellow is not running out of things to say. He's just running out of time to say it.

Bellow came west to Iowa City to read a piece written with only a five-minute window next to him on a book with a title page that reads: "The World of Maps."

The novel, which Bellow said is "about the world, about people," was written in 1941. In 1942, it was published in The New Republic and later in book form by A. L. Burt Publishing Co.

The text is a reflection on the fragmented nature of modern life and the sense of dislocation that comes with it. It is a meditation on the limits of language and the power of imagination.

Bellow is known for his novels, which include "The Adventures of Augie March," "Humboldt's Gift," Alliance and "Maurice."

Bellow, who was born in 1915, grew up in Chicago and attended the University of Chicago, where he studied literature. He went on to study at the University of Wisconsin-Madison and received his doctorate in 1941.

Bellow's works have been translated into 50 languages and have sold over 20 million copies worldwide. His novels have been the subject of numerous film adaptations, including the 1987 film "House of Leaves," directed by Ignacio Aguirre and starring Willem Dafoe.

Bellow was awarded the Nobel Prize in Literature in 1976 and the Pulitzer Prize for Fiction in 1976 and 1987. He was also a member of the American Academy of Arts and Letters and the National Academy of Letters.

Bellow died on May 5, 2005, at the age of 89. His body was cremated, and his ashes were scattered in a private ceremony.
