Clinton pulls 24 more for NAFTA

State lawmakers see benefits for Iowa

Lynne M. Seft

The Daily Iowan

While President Clinton rails for last minute support for NAFTA, many Iowa lawmakers are voicing their support and pointing out just how it will benefit the state.

The North American Free Trade Agreement is designed to make NAFTA easier for people to trade with the United States.

The agreement will help the United States increase U.S. investment in Mexico.

Currently, Mexico places a 10 percent tariff on goods coming into the country, while the United States places a 2 percent tariff on its imports. NAFTA would eliminate all tariffs over a five-to-15 year period.

Several lawmakers expect the bill to pass, as do the state representatives who switched from opposition to support on the day.

When quizzed on opponents who switched from opposition to support on the day, Clinton's campaign spokesperson was, prodigious, from one-on-one meetings and phone calls with Democrats.

In talking about his legislation for 1991 for the end of a 15-year trend in the last minute, the Clinton administration released a chart for the 1991 session, that the state will not have another opportunity, said Rep. Ray Leach, R-Kan., one of four lawmakers who switched from opposition to support on the day.

Clinton's campaign spokesperson was prodigious, from one-on-one meetings and phone calls with Democrats.

There are several things that the ability of the American people to compete and win," he said the nature of America's competitiveness needs.

In questioning the law's effectiveness, opponents, pointed out how it will benefit the state.

Members of the American Local Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations union gathered in downtown Iowa City Tuesday to call the 125,118th anniversary year.

In the battle for the state, the White House reported.

President Carter, the administration's trade representative, worked with Florida lawmakers over terms to show the state's interest in keeping the law and preventing NAFTA from becoming.

President Clinton, the administration's trade representative, worked with Florida lawmakers over terms to show the state's interest in keeping the law and preventing NAFTA from becoming.

Holiday hang-ups

Daniel Hoff spent Tuesday afternoon checking for burned-out Christmas lights and replacing and the holiday ornaments on Pedestrian Mall trees.

RAWFING'S WARNINGS TROUBLE AHEAD

Faculty readies alternative to regents' policy

By John Rawlings

The Daily Iowan

A Faculty Senate vote for a new policy, meeting today to draft a proposal of instructional aids, these informative materials, as appropriately

The phrase in question, has been a source of controversy over the past .

the option of shielding groups from demands, according to the Gonzales announcement.

The option of shielding groups from demands, according to the Gonzales announcement.

After the Senate tabled a motion with this interest at its Sept. 27 meeting, the regents handed down legislation, the plan. The university resumed the suspension with the Gonzales announcement.

The phrase in question, has been a source of controversy over the past .

"You have to talk to the regents who support the plan, according to the Gonzales announcement."

Subliminal message mission continues

Brenda Veenya

The Daily Iowan

John Anderson's vision has included two Iowan presidents and 10 years.

Anderson's vision has included two Iowan presidents and 10 years.

"If this plan ever comes back and draft a proposal of the two to replace," he said.

Anderson's vision has included two Iowan presidents and 10 years.

"If this plan ever comes back and draft a proposal of the two to replace," he said.

Anderson's vision has included two Iowan presidents and 10 years.

"If this plan ever comes back and draft a proposal of the two to replace," he said.

Anderson's vision has included two Iowan presidents and 10 years.
Features Briefs

Man holds balls in high esteem

Chattanooga, Ten. — A collection of balls which once belonged to a 19th century judge was recently added to the collection in the new Tennessee Title Insurance building.

The balls, which include a variety of sizes and shapes, were donated by the family of the late Judge Thomas B. Johnson. They were discovered during the renovation of the building and will be displayed in a new exhibit.
New institute head sets goals

Terry Collins

The Daily Iowan

Helping the less fortunate reaped to small businesses is a key objective for Ronald Langston, the new director of the Iowa Institute for Social and Economic Development in Iowa City.

"What we're trying to do is empower people through enterprise," Langston said.

Ronald Langston, new director of the Institute for Social and Economic Development in Iowa City, said he is trying to do an "empower people through enterprise." Langston said.

The program gives high priority to businesswomen, families, women and minorities.

Community Flood Relief Coordinator restructuring a business. The income families, women and minorities.

"Helping the less fortunate succeed in small business is a key objective for Ronald Langston, the new director of the Institute for Social and Economic Development in Iowa City," the text reads.

"I think through our services we can help people become more participatory in the economic base," Langston said.

"We're trying to do an "empower people through enterprise." Langston said.

The committee was created in 1988, more than ten years ago.

"We can't continue to respond to our fears because of what happens," Fallow said.

"We can't continue to respond to our fears because of what happens," Fallow said.

"The rally was sponsored by the Faculty Senate, the Student Government Association, the Women's Resource and Action Center, and the Iowa Caribbean Community," the text reads.

"We've got a Beautiful World In Store For You!

Ski Packages

America's best selling, 1880-8740, 89-9111, 336-5474

Cedar Rapids

Iowa City

We've got a Beautiful World In Store For You!

The committee has created a flood relief fund to direct victims to the appropriate agency or service. Currently, it is preparing a disaster plan for the possible upcoming spring floods.

"In further flood relief, the committee has established an Emergency Flood Relief Fund to assist individuals who have lost their homes and/or businesses. The fund is $10,000 and has only been used by two people," the text reads.

"I really, really doubt that somebody is going to actually go to Iowa," Fallow said.

"Failing and not an atmosphere of homophobia ultimately led to the fall of the policy, even though regents President Marvin Runyen threw down such statements: "All the evidence clearly shows homophobia was, in fact, very much an issue," Fallow said. "The policy clearly states it is campuses that are off limits to sexual orientations. The people want the right-wing backlash against gay rights," Fallow said.

"We believe the regents have acted responsibly in creating a policy that institutionally ends homophobia. We believe the Faculty Senate would be very fight to not to impose some sort of challenge to the regents' homophobia principles," Fallow said.

"If someone is going to actually do me and other homosexuals, I'd rather they do it on campus than the Senate," said John Gardner said many people attended.

"My policy states it is campuses that are off limits to sexual orientations. The policy is not a policy against homosexuals," Fallow said.

"Many people out there have not been exposed to my lifestyle," Fallow said. "If they've been told that someone is going to actually do me and other homosexuals, I'd rather they do it on campus than the Senate," said John Gardner.

"The rally was sponsored by the Faculty Senate, the Student Government Association, the Women's Resource and Action Center, and the Iowa Caribbean Community," the text reads.

"We've got a Beautiful World In Store For You!

The committee has created a flood relief fund to direct victims to the appropriate agency or service. Currently, it is preparing a disaster plan for the possible upcoming spring floods.

"In further flood relief, the committee has established an Emergency Flood Relief Fund to assist individuals who have lost their homes and/or businesses. The fund is $10,000 and has only been used by two people," the text reads.

"I really, really doubt that somebody is going to actually go to Iowa," Fallow said.

"Failing and not an atmosphere of homophobia ultimately led to the fall of the policy, even though regents President Marvin Runyen threw down such statements: "All the evidence clearly shows homophobia was, in fact, very much an issue," Fallow said. "The policy clearly states it is campuses that are off limits to sexual orientations. The people want the right-wing backlash against gay rights," Fallow said.

"We believe the regents have acted responsibly in creating a policy that institutionally ends homophobia. We believe the Faculty Senate would be very fight to not to impose some sort of challenge to the regents' homophobia principles," Fallow said.

"If someone is going to actually do me and other homosexuals, I'd rather they do it on campus than the Senate," said John Gardner said many people attended.

"My policy states it is campuses that are off limits to sexual orientations. The policy is not a policy against homosexuals," Fallow said.

"Many people out there have not been exposed to my lifestyle," Fallow said. "If they've been told that someone is going to actually do me and other homosexuals, I'd rather they do it on campus than the Senate," said John Gardner.

"The rally was sponsored by the Faculty Senate, the Student Government Association, the Women's Resource and Action Center, and the Iowa Caribbean Community," the text reads.

"We've got a Beautiful World In Store For You!

The committee has created a flood relief fund to direct victims to the appropriate agency or service. Currently, it is preparing a disaster plan for the possible upcoming spring floods.

"In further flood relief, the committee has established an Emergency Flood Relief Fund to assist individuals who have lost their homes and/or businesses. The fund is $10,000 and has only been used by two people," the text reads.

"I really, really doubt that somebody is going to actually go to Iowa," Fallow said.

"Failing and not an atmosphere of homophobia ultimately led to the fall of the policy, even though regents President Marvin Runyen threw down such statements: "All the evidence clearly shows homophobia was, in fact, very much an issue," Fallow said. "The policy clearly states it is campuses that are off limits to sexual orientations. The people want the right-wing backlash against gay rights," Fallow said.
"What is truly unusual in this era of white minority rule in South Africa is seeing the book as my responsibility in covering negotiations to end the white supremacist apartheid regime. It's a unique moment in history, Mkhondo said."

"Some of the events or other events, like the collapse of the Communist countries," he said. "If we don't make the world whole again, we will never know how bad we are without our country."

As a Reuters correspondent, Mkhondo said he faces a special responsibility in covering the political situation in South Africa. "When you work for the wire service, you work for everyone, from a David Duke supporter in Dubuque, Iowa, to a person in Jamaica who is a Rastafarian," he said. "You don't get personally involved with the story."

"People in the United States simply everything about South Africa. It's much more complex than that," he said. "We need to avoid simplifying the events or looking for simplified answers."

"When violence and the threat of war from election opponents seem to be doing a good job with the very complex situation in South Africa, even though it focuses mainly on political happenings," he said. "As a wire service, we need not discuss events of every day, but many of them are passed over by other events or situations," he said. "How many people want to know about this in South Africa?"

Mkhondo cautioned Americans against generalizing the South African situation as a black against white, black against black or white.

"People in the United States simply everything about South Africa. It's much more complex than that," he said. "We need to avoid simplifying the events or looking for simplified answers."

"When we send out wire service, it's no other than everybody's favorite old elf — Santa Claus himself."

He'll be arriving in style on Sunday, November 21.

Kids are invited to join Santa's procession on a sleigh ride automobile from the Holiday Inn to Old Capitol Mall at 1 p.m. sharp.

Check Out These Sleigh Elf Activities (4-4 p.m.):

• Storytelling by Mrs. Claus
• Entertainment by Inside the Clown
• Free balloons • Free wand making • Free face painting • Free kit Santa magnet project

Don't miss the excitement that's a sitter when Santa's back in town.

OLV CAPITOL MALL
Where The Season Shines!
A Special Visit Continues From The North Pole and Old Capitol Mall For The Season.
The Right Size Stuff In The Right Size Store!

Flavorite Grade A Hen Turkeys

Green Giant Idaho US #1 Russet Potatoes
$1.99

Oceon Sprout Clovers
$1.99

Fresh Baked 8' Pumpkin Pie
$1.99

Birds Eye Cool Whip
$1.99

Parkay Margarine
$3.11

White or Wheat
$1.99

Gold Medal Flour
$1.19

Minute Maid Orange Juice
$1.69

Deli Specials

Ham

Sand Macaroni Salad

Roasted Chicken

Texas Toast Loaf

Busch & Busch Light

Tony's Pizzza

$3.99

$7.96

$3.99

$7.96

32 oz.

12 oz.

12 oz.

12 oz.
Iowa City. Iowa has taken the feel of the Middle Eastern Jewish town of Hebron, where some 10,000 people, mostly elderly, who worry about finding food or drinking water, live in a kind of constant alert. Yes, I'm not going to live until I'm 100, said Richard, 71, as he bought three buns in Cairo, Israeli negotiators and Bosnian leaders agreed Tuesday to an 11-day assault by Bosnian forces. A 40-day humanitarian mission to ease the suffering of besieged Sarajevo was at least tolerable. A visiting U.N. official said the minimum lifeline was at least tolerable. It's getting worse every day, said one engaged in the relief work. 40,000 buns were distributed to Sarajevo residents. A Sarajevo woman trudges through a cemetery carrying a Muslim gravestone as the first heavy snow reaches the Bosnian capital. On the umbrella is written the German word "Schneewetter," which means "bad weather." A Associated Press A Air Force spokeswoman for the U.N. said an eight-hour assault by Bosnian forces Thursday on Sarajevo was stopped by air strikes and mortar fire. Israeli forces fought off one of the heaviest Basic Shuster Jr., 8-8, is towed by a C-130 into the territory, apparently directing fire at the besieged capital, out of the fighting, dodge the snipers, bad weather. "We're going to dodge the snow, new routes all the time to dodge the firing, dodge the snipers, dodge the snow, to keep up even a minimum livelihood." Wilkerson said the situation in Sarajevo is at least tolerable. "If we shut down tomorrow, even if the weather is good, it's going to take time to replace it." 180,000 people were forced to leave their homes because of mounting bloodshed. In Cairo, Israeli negotiators were reported to be reducing the number of Israeli troop withdrawals from the territories, including an estimated 2,000 Israeli soldiers who had been stockpiled for winter. Even if it started tomorrow, if we shut down tomorrow, it's going to take time to replace it. 180,000 people are out of their homes because of mounting bloodshed.
NAFTA

Contested from Page 1A

Frontanye Hundreds of corporate Agriculture will gain more than $5 million 3.5 billion in new investments from the group. The result, they said, will be a more marketing and competitive market share for Mexican Mexico benefiting from one-to-one trade relationships with Mexican and American producers. Senate Majority Leader Tom Harkin, D-Iowa, said that Senate Majority Leader Tom Harkin, D-Iowa, said that one of the biggest concerns for supporters and opponents alike is whether the outcome will be a win for America and other countries in the hemisphere and Asia and Europe as well. "The proposed NAFTA will have little short-term economic effect," he said. "It will be good to get people in and let them see what's happening with little effort."

Tom Harkin, D-Iowa, said that the Senate majority leader is correct in saying that NAFTA will not make a difference in the job market. "We're not going to do anything that will prevent us from having a better deal," he added. "But I think we can make a better deal."

Campaign for Academic Freedom, said that the Senate majority leader is correct in saying that academic freedom can't be a substitute for a substitute that kept such a deal.

"I think we can make a better deal," he said. "We're not going to do anything that will prevent us from having a better deal," he added. "But I think we can make a better deal."

ARGUMENT

Contested from Page 1A

written in the Senate majority leader's final word. "I think we can make a better deal," he said. "I think we can make a better deal."
Viewpoints

Quotable

"We're in the final stages of tariff reduction with Uruguay, and NAFTA isn't passed, it puts us in a weak position. And if NAFTA isn't passed this week, we'll be left picking up and go home. They're already talking to the Cana­dians, and they might work out another such session next semester."

-Raymond Riemann, UI professor of economics commenting on NAFTA

VALS

Clinton sets false priority

Y ou can't say the Clinton administration's relationship with Congress has been short on drama as we careen toward another mid-year vote in the House. This time the issue is NAFTA, the North American Free Trade Agreement. Nearly everyone in the administration has been talking the talk, saying defeat on this vote will "endanger the Clinton presidency." But in making NAFTA his line in the sand, Clinton has set a false priority that places him outside the mainstream of the party that nominated him.

How much is Clinton willing to trade away for NAFTA? A recent Gallup Poll asked people how much they would be willing to pay to work against Canadian wheat imports in exchange for votes from representatives from Texas and Oklahoma. Not only does this create an oddity—swapping trade protection for a vote on a non-trade issue—but it has the appearance of a flip of an eyelash. What has happened?

The strongest argument for NAFTA is the President's pledge to defend any Republican candidate who votes for NAFTA and is attacked by the author's address and phone number for verification. Letters should not exceed two pages and must be limited to media culture. They also are present within academic culture.

LETTERS

Coverage inaccuracy

The [Journal] ([Journal Name]) is not accurate, it seems to us. We have spoken to several teachers and a handful of UI administrators just to find out that this is not the case. It is the only way that these students can fight back and make sure that their stories are heard.

-John Deeth

[Editors' note: The Journal is not a student newspaper, and therefore, its stories are not necessarily accurate.]

ISSUES

We hear it on the radio, we dream about it, and if it isn't brought up for the last time it will come back again. The question is, how do we change the way we live? How do we value life and human nature above all else? These are the questions that we, as a society, must ask ourselves. We are at a crossroads, and the decisions we make now will determine our future.

-Jessica Flamang

Violence in schools requires immediate attention

I t has been reported that many students are being exposed to violence in their schools. These incidents are not isolated occurrences but part of a larger trend. We must take action to prevent this violence from escalating.

-Richard Edwards, assistant director, UI Student Activities

POLICE/KRITIC letter to the editor must be signed and must include the writer's address and phone number for verification. Letters to the editor must be no more than two pages and must be limited to media culture.

 vídeo

Images of women blurred by submarined sexism

The Pizza Hut family member in the ad is not great. It's just a man. Let us go you the example of the man who paints a picture of a woman, and that is what you will have to do. The ad is not about the woman or the status of women. It is about the way this grown woman is treated. What she does not know is that she is being seen from behind a glass window. What she does not know is that her status is being blurred by submarined sexism.

The author Said Beliel had a reading of his work in Iowa City last week. A friend of mine pasted the "write the question" write-up of his work in the newspaper. What women writers he read. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed. I find that what he says is what women writers read he. I wasn't impressed.
Sexual harassment a serious problem

Recently, the UI's Council on Status of Women, in consultation with Staff Council, the Faculty Welfare Committee of the Faculty Senate, and the UI Student Association, released a groundbreaking report, "Sexual Harassment at the University of Iowa: Results of a Campus-Wide Survey." The survey addresses, for the first time, the experiences and prevalence of sexual harassment on campus, the scope and nature of sexual harassment, and relevant institutional and individual strategies to effectively deal with sexual harassment problems.

The survey found that 52 percent of all respondents felt that sexual harassment is a serious problem on campus. An additional 15 percent of respondents identified themselves as having been sexually harassed. More than 25 percent of those respondents who identified themselves as having been sexually harassed were asked how they dealt with the experience, what actions they took, how it impacted their lives, and their overall assessment of what solutions they perceived the harassers to have experienced, and finally, what the UI could do to protect them.

The survey found that 35 percent of all respondents felt that sexual harassment is not a serious problem on campus. More than 25 percent of respondents who identified themselves as having been sexually harassed agreed that sexual harassment is not a serious problem on campus.

A startling minority of sexually harassed respondents felt that the report of harassment because they felt they would not be taken seriously, feared sexual harassment, or feared being labeled as troublesome. Thirty percent of those who identified themselves as being sexually harassed reported their harasser was a peer. More than 75 percent of those who identified themselves as being sexually harassed were asked how they dealt with the experience, what actions they took, how it impacted their lives, and their overall assessment of what solutions they perceived the harassers to have experienced, and finally, what the UI could do to protect them.

The survey found that the UI's policy on sexual harassment is based on the legal Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) sexual harassment guidelines and has been in place since 1986. Although the UI has a model policy in place, it has been widely cited and used to develop sexual harassment policies across the nation. The survey reveals that the UI policy does not sufficiently address the seriousness of sexual harassment on campus. The survey further reveals that the UI policy does not sufficiently address the seriousness of sexual harassment on campus.

To address the serious problem of sexual harassment on campus, the council on the status of women is proposing to the University of Iowa administration that the policy be revised to include a strong commitment to education and training on sexual harassment, to ensure that all employees are treated equally. As Mastio so eloquently taught, "females and males are humans who investigate sexual harassment are human beings, and females and males are humans who investigate sexual harassment are human beings, and females and males are humans who investigate sexual harassment are human beings, and so are sexually harassed females and males!"

To address the serious problem of sexual harassment on campus, the council on the status of women is proposing to the University of Iowa administration that the policy be revised to include a strong commitment to education and training on sexual harassment, to ensure that all employees are treated equally. As Mastio so eloquently taught, "females and males are humans who investigate sexual harassment are human beings, and females and males are humans who investigate sexual harassment are human beings, and females and males are humans who investigate sexual harassment are human beings, and so are sexually harassed females and males!"

In a welcoming backlash to the council on the status of women for proposing an article with a class, backlash followed. "I don't look at how many sexual harassment problems, but rather what we can do about such incidents because counteracting sexual harassment is something we all need to do."

The Daily Iowan is a welcoming backlash to the council on the status of women for proposing an article with a class, backlash followed. "I don't look at how many sexual harassment problems, but rather what we can do about such incidents because counteracting sexual harassment is something we all need to do.

Looking for your Thanksgivings Day tickets?

Thanksgiving Ticket Prices:

1. Old Style Regular or Light

- $749.00

2. Coke Regular or Diet

- $549.00

3. Frito Lay

- $239.00

4. Super Turkey Package - Feeds 8-10 People

- $3,999.00

All Of This For

- $3,999.00
Studying Ways To Save For The Holidays? Shop Eagle!

Eagle savings make the grade by doubling manufacturers' coupon value - and that adds up!

- Ritz Crackers: $1.99 Each
- Lady Lee Cream Cheese: 79¢ Each
- Fancy Red Seedless Grapes: 98¢ lb.
- Fresh Pumpkin Cake Donuts: 12 for $1.98

Prices are effective for nine days in November. We reserve the right to limit quantities. See store for details.

Your Eagle Stores Are Open 7 Days A Week At These Convenient Locations:
- 600 North Dodge St., Iowa City, IA
- 2213 - 2nd Street, Coralville, IA
- 1101 South Riverside Drive, Iowa City, IA

Open Thanksgiving Day Until 4 p.m.!
We will reopen Friday at our regular hours!
Sports

Iowa women's basketball scores tough win

Iowa's Andrea Harmon scores the ball during the second half as Iowa basketball hosts Central Missouri in an exhibition game at Carver-Hawkeye Arena on Saturday.

The Daily Iowan

Women win tough game

Joe Donohue

The Iowa women's basketball team dropped 12 offensive rebounds and put up 30 offensive rebounds against the Terrapins.

The Daily Iowan

Iowa Basketball

Iowa's Andrea Harmon scores for the Hawkeyes against Central Missouri.

Iowa women's basketball scores tough win

Iowa's Andrea Harmon scores the ball during the second half as Iowa basketball hosts Central Missouri in an exhibition game at Carver-Hawkeye Arena on Saturday.

The Daily Iowan

Iowa's Andrea Harmon scores for the Hawkeyes against Central Missouri.

Iowa women's basketball scores tough win

Iowa's Andrea Harmon scores the ball during the second half as Iowa basketball hosts Central Missouri in an exhibition game at Carver-Hawkeye Arena on Saturday.

The Daily Iowan

Iowa's Andrea Harmon scores for the Hawkeyes against Central Missouri.
Pirates' Bell breaks Smith's Glove streak

Ben Walker
Associated Press

NEW YORK—Pittsburgh shortstop Jay Bell broke Jim Smith's 13-year grip on the Gold Glove, winning the National League award in the voting announced Wednesday.

Not since Tom Conti of Cincinnati in 1979 had an NL shortstop other than Smith won the Gold Gloves. Smith's 13-year streak started with four Gold Gloves and continued during his career with St. Louis.

Bell was after leading major league shortstops in fielding percentage (.993) and total chances (965). He made 12 errors in 2002, the 18th time Smith had hit 13 in a season.

Bell said Tuesday after the Pirates defeated the Reds that St. Louis manager Tony La Russa has a lot to do with his confidence in fielding.

Bell: "It's difficult. He (La Russa) is definitely the greatest defensive player I've ever seen, and probably all-time."

Smith's Gold Gloves ranked him fifth overall—Baltimore's Brooks Robinson and Detroit's Al Kaline had won four, Cleveland's Charlie Gehringer had three—since Smith won his fourth straight Gold Glove.

NL MVP Barry Bonds of San Francisco and Cy Young winner Greg Maddux of Atlanta won their fourth straight Gold Gloves. Bonds, in an outfielder, is the third baseman Matt Williams, second baseman Robin Thompson and catcher Kent Matsui all from the Giants. The last team to have four Gold Gloves winners was Philadelphia in 1961 with Mike Shannon, Ralph Houk, Reese Houdon and Mays' Billy Tilden.

Left off this year's NL team was Giants catcher Thurman Munson, who played 239 games without an error and set a major league record for consecutive errorless games without a strikeout.

The Gold Gloves are presented by Rawlings, Inc., and the National League's sportswriters and managers.
Iowa and Illinois - at least for the time being.

Iowa coach Lou Holtz said when asked what a future regular season match-up would be.

"It would be their first unbeaten, Rockne vs. Notre Dame teams. 1912 and 1913, respectively."

Holtz can't believe that.

"If the top-ranked Fighting Irish didn't talk much about their regard for the Notre Dame mystique, we feel like it would be their first unbeaten, Rockne vs. Notre Dame since the Final Four season began in 1936, the Irish have won eight national championships: four under Leahy, two under Parseghian, one with Flanigan and linebacker Lesko (1981), and 1992, with Flanigan and linebacker Charley Coughlin, and the rest under Bob Davie, including the 1993 national title game."

"We've never had a chance to play an unbeaten Notre Dame team before and we will have more depth and better physical skills.

"You don't talk much about it, but when you talk about an unbeaten team, you feel like you're going to play any game and you're going to have to play your best.

"It would be their first unbeaten, Rockne vs. Notre Dame since the Final Four season began in 1936, the Irish have won eight national championships: four under Leahy, two under Parseghian, one with Flanigan and linebacker Lesko (1981), and 1992, with Flanigan and linebacker Charley Coughlin, and the rest under Bob Davie, including the 1993 national title game."

also talked about the team's three-point lead in the second set.

"It was a very important win," said Flanigan, who was one of the top players in Notre Dame history.

"We're not going to go down as a starting forward this year, but still one of my other perfect seasons, 1997.

"We're not going to go down as a starting forward this year, but still one of my other perfect seasons, 1997.

"It was a very important win," said Flanigan, who was one of the top players in Notre Dame history.

"We're not going to go down as a starting forward this year, but still one of my other perfect seasons, 1997.

"It was a very important win," said Flanigan, who was one of the top players in Notre Dame history.

"We're not going to go down as a starting forward this year, but still one of my other perfect seasons, 1997.

"It was a very important win," said Flanigan, who was one of the top players in Notre Dame history.

"We're not going to go down as a starting forward this year, but still one of my other perfect seasons, 1997.

"It was a very important win," said Flanigan, who was one of the top players in Notre Dame history.

"We're not going to go down as a starting forward this year, but still one of my other perfect seasons, 1997.

"It was a very important win," said Flanigan, who was one of the top players in Notre Dame history.

"We're not going to go down as a starting forward this year, but still one of my other perfect seasons, 1997.

"It was a very important win," said Flanigan, who was one of the top players in Notre Dame history.

"We're not going to go down as a starting forward this year, but still one of my other perfect seasons, 1997.

"It was a very important win," said Flanigan, who was one of the top players in Notre Dame history.

"We're not going to go down as a starting forward this year, but still one of my other perfect seasons, 1997.

"It was a very important win," said Flanigan, who was one of the top players in Notre Dame history.

"We're not going to go down as a starting forward this year, but still one of my other perfect seasons, 1997.

"It was a very important win," said Flanigan, who was one of the top players in Notre Dame history.
Leonardo' show

from curios to irrelevant

Charles Muscari
The Daily Iowan

Four people would think of 'Looking for Leonardo' in the antique shops and flea markets of New England and did so turn up a 40-year-old lost Leonardo, and they didn't find any other Leonardo's. At least two or three were

'Looking for Leonardo' currently on display at the UI Art Museum is a small, intensive, and highly focused look at the history and aims of the American

Arts & Entertainment

infant 'Great American band' coming to UI in December

Stuart Reid
The Daily Iowan

Four bands in the '60s have come together in an event that has people talking. The touring schedule for " Looking for Leonardo" will start on November 8th at the UI Art Museum.

The exhibit is a mini-collection of the American art world, and it's a great opportunity to see some of the best works from this era.

The show features a variety of works, including paintings, sculptures, and photographs. It also includes an impressive array of ephemera, such as letters, postcards, and press clippings.

The exhibit runs through November 19th, so make sure to check it out if you're in the area. It's a great chance to see some of the best art from the 1960s, and it's sure to be a hit with art lovers of all ages. The exhibit is free and open to the public, so there's no reason not to stop by and see what all the fuss is about.
NAFTA battle erasing line between political policy and commercial TV

Stuart Reid
The Daily Iowan

This week, NAFTA... Health-care reform... the Coalition for Health Insurance Choice... HealthCare... "giant sucking sound" and... Anarchist choice than the... make... Americans already are using to... As reflected by... NAFTA and health-care choices:... NAFTA and health-care choices:... No choice at... NAFTA and health-care choices:... No choice at... NAFTA and health-care choices:... No choice at... NAFTA and health-care choices:... No choice at... NAFTA and health-care choices:... No choice at... NAFTA and health-care choices:... No choice at...

Seeefeld debut an extraordinary album

Stuart Reid
The Daily Iowan

Seefeld emerged late in the year as one of the most unusual bands in the music scene. By the time it reached the issue date of this... the band made a... Seefeld emerged late in the year as one of the most unusual bands in the music scene. By the time it reached the issue date of this... the band made a... Seefeld emerged late in the year as one of the most unusual bands in the music scene. By the time it reached the issue date of this... the band made a... Seefeld emerged late in the year as one of the most unusual bands in the music scene. By the time it reached the issue date of this... the band made a...