Residents to adopt green tinge for day

It's MAGICALLY DELICIOUS

By Victoria Brown

A lot of beer, a lot ofIrishness, a lot of fun. But the limelight will be on those who don't drink. How do you feel about the St. Patrick's Day beer trend?

St. Patrick's Day is the perfect time to avoid the bars bright and early and instead read, "It's a wonder what a bit of green does for the Irish!

Everyday should be National Irish Day, not just the day before St. Patrick's Day, so students could take advantage of the "free" beer that the bars offer. Then we wouldn't have to drink all day long. Thursday luncheons should be the highlight of the day. Mondays should be the highlight of the week for people who don't drink.

Thursday: One beverage for every student in the dining hall. No mix-ups, because everyone gets their own drink.

Tuesday: One beverage for every student in the library. No mix-ups, because everyone gets their own drink.

Wednesday: One beverage for every student in the bookstore. No mix-ups, because everyone gets their own drink.

Thursday: One beverage for every student in the computer lab. No mix-ups, because everyone gets their own drink.

Friday: One beverage for every student in the cafeteria. No mix-ups, because everyone gets their own drink.

Saturday: One beverage for every student in the dorms. No mix-ups, because everyone gets their own drink.

Sunday: One beverage for every student in the church. No mix-ups, because everyone gets their own drink.

St. Patrick's Day is the perfect time to avoid the bars bright and early and instead read, "It's a wonder what a bit of green does for the Irish!

Everyday should be National Irish Day, not just the day before St. Patrick's Day, so students could take advantage of the "free" beer that the bars offer. Then we wouldn't have to drink all day long. Thursday luncheons should be the highlight of the day. Mondays should be the highlight of the week for people who don't drink.

Thursday: One beverage for every student in the dining hall. No mix-ups, because everyone gets their own drink.

Tuesday: One beverage for every student in the library. No mix-ups, because everyone gets their own drink.

Wednesday: One beverage for every student in the bookstore. No mix-ups, because everyone gets their own drink.

Thursday: One beverage for every student in the computer lab. No mix-ups, because everyone gets their own drink.

Friday: One beverage for every student in the cafeteria. No mix-ups, because everyone gets their own drink.

Saturday: One beverage for every student in the dorms. No mix-ups, because everyone gets their own drink.

Sunday: One beverage for every student in the church. No mix-ups, because everyone gets their own drink.

St. Patrick's Day is the perfect time to avoid the bars bright and early and instead read, "It's a wonder what a bit of green does for the Irish!

Everyday should be National Irish Day, not just the day before St. Patrick's Day, so students could take advantage of the "free" beer that the bars offer. Then we wouldn't have to drink all day long. Thursday luncheons should be the highlight of the day. Mondays should be the highlight of the week for people who don't drink.

Thursday: One beverage for every student in the dining hall. No mix-ups, because everyone gets their own drink.

Tuesday: One beverage for every student in the library. No mix-ups, because everyone gets their own drink.

Wednesday: One beverage for every student in the bookstore. No mix-ups, because everyone gets their own drink.

Thursday: One beverage for every student in the computer lab. No mix-ups, because everyone gets their own drink.

Friday: One beverage for every student in the cafeteria. No mix-ups, because everyone gets their own drink.

Saturday: One beverage for every student in the dorms. No mix-ups, because everyone gets their own drink.

Sunday: One beverage for every student in the church. No mix-ups, because everyone gets their own drink.
Features

Funnies that aren't funny anymore

The Daily Iowan

Ricky Tracy may drive Tresscheek-Blankes actually went out and started her own coloring business. After more than two years of striking out, Charlie Brown finally hit a home run. The comic page is starting to match up with the real world, he said. “It was just a weird coincidence, to have two people with the same name.”

Blondie actually went out and started her own senior J.J. Weiss said. “That's missing the point.”

“Judge Parker” so many of them “just aren’t funny.” Instead, she said.

“Blondie” actually went out and started her own senior J.J. Weiss said. “That’s missing the point.”

“Judge Parker” so many of them “just aren’t funny.” Instead, she said.

“Blondie” actually went out and started her own senior J.J. Weiss said. “That’s missing the point.”

“Judge Parker” so many of them “just aren’t funny.” Instead, she said.

“Blondie” actually went out and started her own senior J.J. Weiss said. “That’s missing the point.”

“Judge Parker” so many of them “just aren’t funny.” Instead, she said.

“Blondie” actually went out and started her own senior J.J. Weiss said. “That’s missing the point.”

“Judge Parker” so many of them “just aren’t funny.” Instead, she said.

“Blondie” actually went out and started her own senior J.J. Weiss said. “That’s missing the point.”

“Judge Parker” so many of them “just aren’t funny.” Instead, she said.

“Blondie” actually went out and started her own senior J.J. Weiss said. “That’s missing the point.”

“Judge Parker” so many of them “just aren’t funny.” Instead, she said.
UI ranks high in family practice

The Daily Iowan

UI College of Medicine graduates are more than six or seven times more likely to go into family practice medicine than their counterparts nationwide.

The most recent National居民 Survey of Graduates shows that 43 percent of UI residents entered primary family practice, the highest percentage going into this field.

In Pekin, Ill., the residents associate dean for family medicine, "We don't want to lose any..." Dr. John K. Madsen says the medical ethics of the UI College of Medicine has made its home in recent years.

"We are delighted by the continued increase in the number of seasonal fires. It is essential for residents as it is for the UI and the UI community," said Marianne Francisco, director of public relations for the Red Cross.

In a January fire which caused millions of dollars in damages, the Red Cross has plans to educate on how we can do our part to reduce the number of residential fires.

"When you think about how many people live in communities like this, it's essential for residents as it is for the UI and the UI community," said Marianne Francisco, director of public relations for the Red Cross.

The institute, held annually, is sponsored by the Red Cross and is seen as a training ground for those who would like to volunteer in disaster response and preparedness.

Students who are interested in disaster education can help reduce the number of residential fires.

In Multifamily fires, the number of residential fires was reported to be 40,000 in 2001, a 20 percent increase from last year's flood.

The forum precedes the university's accomplishments with education and training program.

"It's almost to the point where..." Dr. Pete Bakosh, acting associate dean for students, said today at a news conference. "It's almost to the point where..." Dr. Pete Bakosh, acting associate dean for students, said today at a news conference.

"It's almost to the point where..." Dr. Pete Bakosh, acting associate dean for students, said today at a news conference. "It's almost to the point where..." Dr. Pete Bakosh, acting associate dean for students, said today at a news conference.

"It's almost to the point where..." Dr. Pete Bakosh, acting associate dean for students, said today at a news conference. "It's almost to the point where..." Dr. Pete Bakosh, acting associate dean for students, said today at a news conference.

The institute, held annually, is sponsored by the Red Cross and is seen as a training ground for those who would like to volunteer in disaster response and preparedness.

"Better to be prepared in case of an..." Dr. Pete Bakosh, acting associate dean for students, said today at a news conference. "Better to be prepared in case of an..." Dr. Pete Bakosh, acting associate dean for students, said today at a news conference.

"Better to be prepared in case of an..." Dr. Pete Bakosh, acting associate dean for students, said today at a news conference. "Better to be prepared in case of an..." Dr. Pete Bakosh, acting associate dean for students, said today at a news conference.

"Better to be prepared in case of an..." Dr. Pete Bakosh, acting associate dean for students, said today at a news conference. "Better to be prepared in case of an..." Dr. Pete Bakosh, acting associate dean for students, said today at a news conference.
n Covid of the Week

Iowa City, Iowa — Thursday, March 17, 1994

CENTRALIZED REPRORHED

Serbs, Croats to begin talks to end war

Albert Smole
Associated Press

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia — Serbs and Croats, the main rivals in the Bosnian war, have agreed Wednesday to hold their first talks to end the conflict, which began in 1992.

"Both leaders of Croats and Serbs in the Bosnian pro-democracy federation, which includes Bosnia and Herzegovina, agreed Wednesday to hold their first talks to end the conflict which began in 1992.

The meeting was killed at least 50,000 people in a U.S.-backed braces through an unseen gap to the once-thriving seaport that Serbs control. More than 30,000 people had died or missing in the ensuing two-year-long Bosnian conflict.

Vladimir Churkin, Russia's special envoy to Yugoslavia, said the two sides were both "very hard on both sides.

Serb and Croat leaders are meeting Monday to try to agree on an agenda to end the conflict.

Churkin's departure from Belgrade on Monday was a sign that the first talks on the war are in the offing.

"They have agreed to work out a program to support the production and presentation of women's activities at the university of Iowa featuring:

- Nancy Huesman
- Rusty Barcelo
- JuPong Lin
- Debbie Hicks

sponsored by the Council on the Status of Women and WAC

TAPED

CO3 Upcoming Performances
- University Box Office
- Gray Hall's "900 & More"

Manager's Weekly Specials -- This Week's Blowouts

Iowa City's ORIGINAL FACTORY OUTLET STORE

One Day Only -ST.PHAT'S DAY Thursday, March 17, 10am-9pm

Preferred Stock

APPLICATI0NS AVAILABLE

University of Iowa Fine Arts Council

Student Art Grant Program 1994

This year, the Fine Arts Council is offering student grants of up to $400.00 to support the production and presentation of literary, visual, performing arts and/or artistic compositions.

Deadline for submissions for applications: Monday, March 28, 1994

Artists MUST obtain applications at the Fine Arts Council office, room 154, Iowa Memorial Union

For questions, please contact the Council at 335-3393.
Viewpoints

Quotable
"There's really no increase in problems. The only thing is when they poke, they poke greens." - Lt. Dan Sellers

RACISM

Truth will set them free

Long ago in a galaxy far, far away, a white male assumed the chair of the office of the president. In a snap of his fingers, he and his ilk dissolved the laws, the complicated and contradictory laws, that we, the oppressed, have been forced to live under. He declared that now, in his reign, there would be no talk of rights and wrongs, no talk of justice and equity. It was simply, in his words, "right or wrong, good or evil, whatever you think will be the outcome of any situation that arises."

And so, in his reign of terror, the white male brought about the destruction of theolis, the destruction of the structure that held all of us together. He took away our rights, our freedoms, our opportunities, and he forced us to live in a world where we were nothing more than pawns on a chessboard. He forced us to live in a world where we were nothing more than numbers on a chart, where we were nothing more than a means to an end.

But the truth will set them free. And so, as the years went by, we began to realize that we could not live in a world where we were nothing more than a means to an end. We began to realize that we had to stand up for ourselves, that we had to fight for our rights, for our freedoms, for our opportunities. And so, we began to organize, we began to fight, we began toイト

A few minutes after waking up, I heard the news report from Hebrew University with a machine gun, entering the Mosque of Abraham and killing... how many people? While they were praying. Oh, God. I was so shocked. I couldn't believe it. I was so angry. I couldn't believe it. I was so angry. I couldn't believe it. I was so angry.

What came next in the report was even more shocking. "A Palestinian militant group claimed responsibility for the attack," said the northern commander of the IDF, General Rabin, in a televised address. "This is a direct attack on Israel and the entire world." The Israeli military said it was investigating the attack and would not comment further.

What followed was a wave of international condemnation. The United Nations Security Council, the European Union, and the United States all issued statements condemning the attack and calling for peace in the region.

On the weekend, the Israeli government announced a crackdown on the Palestinian territories, including the Hamas organization, which has been blamed for the attack.

But some say that the focus on Hamas as the perpetrator is misplaced. "Hamas is not the real problem," said a member of the Knesset. "The real problem is Israel's occupation and the endless cycle of violence."
Brazilian human rights activists released after prisoner standoff

Hebron mosque massacre amplified by soldiers according to pioneers

Hebron mosque massacre amplified by soldiers according to pioneers.
TALKS
Continued from Page 1A
Several developments may signal a new initiative in the Middle East. First, the Clinton administration is expected to begin arming the Palestinians to protect their people against Israeli attacks. Second, the Clinton administration is likely to move against Israel, possibly by asking the United Nations to impose sanctions against Israel for its continued military operations in the Occupied Territories. Third, the United States may seek to mediate the conflict between Israel and the Palestinians, possibly by inviting representatives of both sides to a peace conference. Finally, the Clinton administration may seek to foster a cultural exchange program between Israel and the Palestinians, to help promote understanding and cooperation between the two peoples.

HARDING
Continued from Page 1A
As Harding had done in the past, he was determined to win the presidency.
Harding was a hardworking man, but his policies were often controversial.
Harding had always been a strong supporter of the federal government and had opposed efforts to limit its powers. After being shot, Deputy Attorney General Van Fleet and there were "substantial evidence" that Harding's involvement prior to the assassination.

Tonia Harding receiving a $750,000 settlement with prosecutors. He told authorities that
the plot to kill Harding
had started several months ago. After the hearing, Deputy
Attorney General
Van Fleet and
there were "substantial evidence"
of Harding's involvement prior to the
assassination.

More charges awaiting students upon return from break. They have confessed to their involvement in the plot.

More than 30 people were injured in the sweep, which began just before 7:30 a.m.

SWEEP
Continued from Page 1A
More than 30 people were injured in the sweep, which began just before 7:30 a.m.

Tonia Harding was questioned in a plea bargain
with prosecutors. He told
authorities that
the plot to kill Harding
had started several months ago. After
the hearing, Deputy
Attorney General
Van Fleet and
there were "substantial evidence"
of Harding's involvement prior to the
assassination.

More than 30 people were injured in the sweep, which began just before 7:30 a.m.

Tonia Harding was
questioned in a plea bargain
with prosecutors. He told
authorities that
the plot to kill Harding
had started several months ago. After
the hearing, Deputy
Attorney General
Van Fleet and
there were "substantial evidence"
of Harding's involvement prior to the
assassination.

More than 30 people were injured in the sweep, which
began just before 7:30 a.m.
Iowa breezes past Mountaineers

Tusinl, Yarbrough net 15; Hawks coast 70-47 in first-round action

Iowa guard Nicole Tunsil drives the lane during Saturday's first half of the Hawkeyes' 70-47 victory over Mount St. Mary's, on the first round of the NCAA tournament Wednesday at Carver-Hawkeye Arena.

Women's Swimming

Widmyer to compete against nation's finest

Wisconsin sports

Karns Post

SPORTS BRIEFS

NFL

Bears beat Harbaugh

Last year, in the 1997 Super Bowl, the Chicago Bears, who lost last month's meeting with the Iowa Hawkeyes, beat Kansas City, who had already signed their free agents - Jiwan Goosey-Tate, who he managing his team against Utah State.

Iowa's Joe Baur drives the lane during a SWAC title game.

Iowa Sports

Iowa Wrestling

Mountaineers

COLUMBUS, Mo. - Guard Polly Widmyer qualified for the NCAA women's basketball tournament for her second time in three years.

No. 7 Wisconsin women beat Michigan 84-59

The Daily Iowan

Widmyer qualified for the NCAA women's basketball tournament for her second time in three years.

Tusinl, Yarbrough net 15; Hawks coast 70-47 in first-round action

Iowa guard Nicole Tunsil drives the lane during Saturday's first half of the Hawkeyes' 70-47 victory over Mount St. Mary's, on the first round of the NCAA tournament Wednesday at Carver-Hawkeye Arena.

Women's Swimming

Widmyer to compete against nation's finest

Wisconsin sports

Karns Post

SPORTS BRIEFS

NFL

Bears beat Harbaugh

Last year, in the 1997 Super Bowl, the Chicago Bears, who lost last month's meeting with the Iowa Hawkeyes, beat Kansas City, who had already signed their free agents - Jiwan Goosey-Tate, who he managing his team against Utah State.

Iowa's Joe Baur drives the lane during a SWAC title game.

Iowa Sports

Iowa Wrestling

Mountaineers

COLUMBUS, Mo. - Guard Polly Widmyer qualified for the NCAA women's basketball tournament for her second time in three years.

No. 7 Wisconsin women beat Michigan 84-59

The Daily Iowan

Widmyer qualified for the NCAA women's basketball tournament for her second time in three years.

Tusinl, Yarbrough net 15; Hawks coast 70-47 in first-round action

Iowa guard Nicole Tunsil drives the lane during Saturday's first half of the Hawkeyes' 70-47 victory over Mount St. Mary's, on the first round of the NCAA tournament Wednesday at Carver-Hawkeye Arena.
In the tournament, three Cowboys fouled the Green Wave's first nine shots. As a result, five different players made 3-pointers, which tied the game at 19.

Although Gable said he was more comfortable a year ago when the Hawkeyes finished first with two champions in McIlravy and Tidwell, he isn't ruling out a title again.

"I think it will affect its performance dimly to athletic director. No need to me every minute of the..."
Cowboys lose two linemen

Associated Press

IOWA CITY, IOWA - Junior tackle Jason Housman's decision to return for his senior season is a good one for Iowa athletics, especially with the loss of All-American tackle Brad Peterson. Peterson's return, along with senior linebacker John Gesek, is important for the Hawkeyes' success this year.

The Hawkeyes will have to replace two key linemen from last year's team. Right tackle David Brabham, who was an All-Big Ten selection, and left tackle Matt Zeller, who was selected to the first team by The Football News, have both graduated.

Offensive lineman John Gesek will be a key player for the Hawkeyes. Gesek played a key role in Iowa's offensive line, helping to pave the way for tailback Orson Charles to have a successful season. Gesek's return will be crucial for the Hawkeyes' success this year.

Gesek, a senior, was a first-team All-Big Ten selection last season. He helped lead the Hawkeyes to a 10-2 record and a trip to the Rose Bowl.

Corinna, a junior, was a second-team All-Big Ten selection last season. He helped lead the Hawkeyes to a 10-2 record and a trip to the Rose Bowl.

The Hawkeyes will have to replace two key linemen from last year's team. Right tackle David Brabham, who was an All-Big Ten selection, and left tackle Matt Zeller, who was selected to the first team by The Football News, have both graduated.

Gesek, a senior, was a first-team All-Big Ten selection last season. He helped lead the Hawkeyes to a 10-2 record and a trip to the Rose Bowl.

Corinna, a junior, was a second-team All-Big Ten selection last season. He helped lead the Hawkeyes to a 10-2 record and a trip to the Rose Bowl.

The Hawkeyes will have to replace two key linemen from last year's team. Right tackle David Brabham, who was an All-Big Ten selection, and left tackle Matt Zeller, who was selected to the first team by The Football News, have both graduated.

Gesek, a senior, was a first-team All-Big Ten selection last season. He helped lead the Hawkeyes to a 10-2 record and a trip to the Rose Bowl.

Corinna, a junior, was a second-team All-Big Ten selection last season. He helped lead the Hawkeyes to a 10-2 record and a trip to the Rose Bowl.
Dances pose life questions

Molly Faulkner
The Daily Iowan
A low of 76 degrees on Friday and a high of 90 degrees on Saturday just part of this week's student dance contest, "Passing Questions." The student Dance at Rawn University Monday, as all students with breaks between classes were invited to come view the improvisations of the "Passing Questions." Theme on the show's program.

Two on one acts - that seems to be the appropriate faster for a mixed-into contest.

The choreographers Mark Brabham, Eric Jarna and Lima Hesker have contributed two works each to the evening. UI graduate student Jeffrey Pilkul also has a work on the bill. The corn's running theme is life and love, and the choreographer Mark Brabham's "De" is a piece on love. In the "De" act, a female back bender that was a duet between a man and his bed. The bed is more of a representation or symbol of love and longing.

Jarna's "Swiftly Milk" and "Shepherd" will be performed. The "Swiftly Milk" will be the last piece performed at the American Dance Festival in Durham, North Carolina. The company continues to change constantly, Jarna says. "Every time I perform, it means something else. One day it might be about being trapped, another day it might be about being turned on or off. It depends on the lighting in a lot of ways."

"Passing Questions" is a fast work about dealing with daily schedules. It is set up to three sections, a light, a board look at the morning ritual of the student life, a device that means sleep, a power lunch and a look at the "true life" reality of the students. The "early morning" section is about a couple breaking up in the morning and needing to get up to work. The "lunch hour" section of the show has the students eating andaborating into what he calls a "wordless emotional relationship between the student and the essentials.

Between the broad range of life and themes and the innovative program set, "Passing Questions" is a great entry into the arts, the laboratory of the American Dance as a work of art. The Iowa State University Dance Festival is March 17, 1994 in the Place Theatre in North Hall.
‘Duckman’: another stab at prime-time animation

Tasha Robinson

The Daily Iowan

With “The Critic” already off the air after only half a dozen episodes, there’s not much looking to at the prime-time situation. While “The Critic” may not have found a home on NBC, it did show promise as a new venture in television comedy.

John Lesher, the detective duck short on temper, has a license plate that reads “Duckman.” The show airs at 9:30 p.m. on Saturday nights on the USA Network.

The series is a spin-off from “Beavis and Butt-Head,” a cartoon series that has been running on the USA Network for several years. “Duckman” centers around a detective named Duckman, who is a member of the USA Network’s “Capital Critters,” a group of characters who try to solve crimes.

The show is a dark comedy, with a lot of violence and profanity. It is not for everyone, but it is a popular show with a lot of dedicated fans.

The series was created by Dan Harmon, who also created “Rick and Morty.” Harmon is known for his dark and twisted sense of humor, and “Duckman” is no exception.

The show is set in a world where animals and humans coexist, and the characters are often involved in situations that are both funny and disturbing.

The series was canceled after two seasons, but it has been revived for a limited run. It is not clear if the show will be renewed for a full run, but the fans are hoping for more.

For more information about “Duckman,” check out the show’s website or follow the show on social media. You can also watch the show on streaming services like Netflix or Hulu.