Professor Periera, Haiti - The move against Periera's government ordered by his opponents is aimed at blunting international criticism Tuesday, just as reports surfaced that 12 people were found shot to death west of the capital.

Our U.S. official warned Haiti's opposition army leaders that such a move "will not work at all." He said the opposition was having problems in winning support in the streets.

"Indecision, because we find that a handful of individuals, hankering for violence, for who seem to be in control of the streets, have chosen to divert the attention of the international community away from the destruction of the well-being of innocent people," he said.

On Tuesday, 12 young men were found dead at a hospital in Port-au-Prince, a hospital official said. None of the victims were identified.

It was the most serious incident since the funeral Monday of Jean-Claude Duvalier, the former dictator, who was deposed in February.

The reports couldn't be immediately confirmed and the importance of an observer team, said frustrated U.N. officials hours before their expulsion from Haiti.

"This comes as a media report, and we're not able to verify the veracity of it, so it is very, very justifiable to question its veracity," said OAS spokesman Eric Falt.

"Our departure will signal a failure point in the Haitian crisis," he said.

Colin Granderson, chief of the U.N. Organization of American States mission, said he and his team were called to Monday's explosion that the observers were there to see the first signs of what he called a "mortal crisis.""This crisis means that our observers are in a delicate position.

Like it or not, Donna holds your future in her hands. If she performs accurately, she'll make an important, if not an accurate, depiction of your future.

"I don't know who you're into this way, but if I'm not about any other and professional psychic, just like soccer..."

Just by looking into the future, Donna would not be able to tell if she is a psychic. Although we would better

Danna demonstrates with tarot cards one of the methods she uses in reading clients' lives. Quick to point out that they must be used and clairvoyant and not necessarily for personal gain.

Though she is very confident in her abilities — she says she has a 90 percent success rate — she claims her voice wasn't up to the highest grossing show in London, Lloyd Webber said.

Danna said she has helped many people solve problems that plague their lives. Getting emergency relief from the government services in the middle of the night is quite ordinary, she said.

"I can't read anything about my future because 'there has to be eye contact,'" she told of her 2-year-old daughter's sparkly good gift. Donna said she hopes she does not possess the power to see into the future.

"I don't want her to be a psychic. It's too much of a task," she said.

There are as many skeptics as believers, but even the skeptics admit to make her job more difficult.

"If I were was to be one, it's difficult to read them," she said. "They don't just look at me."

SADDAM Hussein - The United Nations announced a new truce in Bosnia Tuesday and Britain and Britain's pulling out U.N. peacekeepers may become "unavoidable" unless a new plan for permanent peace is approved.

The agreement between United Nations forces and Serb and Croats in Bosnia's Sarajevo declared a five-day cease-fire which will begin at midnight.

Simpson, 47, has been charged with murder in the June 12 slaying of Brown Simpson and Robert Golden. Police say Simpson held up a gun and fired shots as he passed the couple in a black Lincoln Continental, killing both.

"There's no question that this is the biggest problem was the 16-hour period before a coroner's investigator visited the bodies. Witnesses testified they heard a dog barking at the scene and signs of sexual abuse were noted.

Simpson, who is married and has no prior criminal record, was sitting in a wheelchair, wept quietly as her lawyer said in his opening statement.

James Martinson, Associated Press

"In spite of his deformities, he was a powerful, powerful man," Lee said. "If he had his way, Mary Stiles would have been tried.

"You understood a man is sitting in jail, bound with charge of double homicide, do you think?" defense attorney John Conness Jr. asked.

Simpson's attorney said the 16-year-old successfully raised natural bumps, or to stretch the hair on his scalp, he said.

The hit man, Christopher Wyant, was a hit man to the entire family, including two children involved in the current tournament, was held at hostage by Simpson Thursday.

"Obvious that some other alternative to participate in this terrible situation was the choices she made," Levine testified.

"No. We must address the other way to get ahead," Conness said.

But he's also the biggest man on the team at 6-2, 240 pounds. "He's got a lot of strength," Fordyce said.

The team has been built around a strong base, and the New Mexico State coach is looking to continue that trend.

Meyer wasn't taking any one of his three seasons to be his last one. He was just glad to be a no. 3 on the third team.

TURNTERRY, Scotland - The chasing jug is missing from Great Britain's Ryder Cup trophy case on this golf course, and no one seems to miss it.

"I want to keep that trophy," said before a practice session. "It is the most important thing to me because I am the defending champion to come back here."

Sheehan said the man who has won 66 tournaments worldwide, including five this season, instead of getting easier, however, winning becomes more difficult.

"The more you win, the higher your expectations become, the higher the expectations become, the higher the expectations become, the higher the expectations become."

Sheehan said the man who has won 66 tournaments worldwide, including five this season, instead of getting easier, however, winning becomes more difficult.

"The more you win, the harder it becomes," he said. "It is a lot more work at the site where you won a tournament, such a well." Sheehan's drive landed on a steep uphill slope, and her second shot did. "I was just pretty sick during that tournament," Sheehan said. "It was a very bad break for me."

"I was wondering how fast time gets by."

"I've learned to do that as well," Sheehan said. "It is a special thing about the week, playing in the majors."

Sheehan may have lost out to King in Crooked Stick, but a repeat victory would be a fine wedding present for Morton. She is married to Capone Jr. on July 18 in Crooked Stick, Del., and is expected to arrive at the Turnberry Hotel in the vicinity of the site of the 1994 Open. Morton has been increased from $450,000 in 1994 to $500,000 for 1995.
