Berenstein won’t seek another term

Patricia Harris
The Daily Iowan

The head of the Iowa state Board of Regents doesn’t want to seek another term on the board, and a spokesman for Gov. Terry Branstad said Wednesday that President Marvin Berenstein probably wouldn’t be reappointed.

Berenstein’s term, which has been marked by many disputes with the board’s majority, expires in 1999, and he’s "too old" for another spell of overseeing Iowa’s three state universities.

"I am not doing anything to pursue an appointment to the board," he said.

The 71-year-old said he’s been considering retirement since 1996, and he’s "too old" for another spell of overseeing Iowa’s three state universities.

Berenstein said he would stay on, but he’s not sure if he wants to be on the board for another six years.

The state’s greatest recommends board of regents appointee to the Iowa Senate, where he may be approved or voted down.

Berenstein said he was not consulted on the matter and was unaware of the appointment.

"I’m pretty sure the governor isn’t going to reappoint Berenstein," he said. "I think he’s a very important job." But Berenstein’s not seeking reappointment, he said and there are some issues he would like to have a lead in reading.

New plan takes wait from loan procedure

BLOOMINGTON — A new federal loan program promises to take the bite out of student debt, and Indiana University’s Office of Student Financial Services is among those offering a response to their applicants.

The William D. Ford Federal Direct Student Loan Program will allow students to borrow money instead of taking loans from third-party guarantors.

The loan process, which will begin this fall, is designed to reduce the amount of Education instead of funds made available by students.

The main difference will be that the student is not responsible for the interest on the loan, and that the loan is repaid through the student’s account rather than the agency, which is responsible for processing and repaying the loan.

This new federal loan program is designed to cut down the amount of paperwork required by students to receive the loan.

Once the loan is approved, the student can use the money to pay tuition, fees, room and board, and other expenses.

The plan is designed to make it easier for students to stay in school and to save money.

Student Financial Services is among those offering a response to their applicants.

The office also received a two-year deferment on the loan and can apply for the loan at any time.

Animal Control officer guards furry friends

With dogs barking on one side of the hallway and cats meowing on the other, Joe Whitmore has a full palette of duties to handle while taking care of the animals.

"It's a good job," Whitmore said. "I get to go out and see animals every day." The job as an animal control officer with the Iowa City Animal Control shelter is to pick up dogs and cats, take them to the animal shelter and keep them until they're adopted. This service is provided for free.

"Most of the animals we do have to return," Whitmore said. "But there are a few that we have in our care for a long time, waiting for a forever home." Some of these animals are available for adoption, while others are returned to their owners.

The shelter has a variety of animals, including dogs, cats, and even a couple of snakes. Each animal has its own needs and requirements.

Whitmore said that the shelter's goal is to find a loving home for every animal that comes through the doors. "We want to make sure that every animal is happy and healthy," Whitmore said. "We want to provide a loving environment for every animal that enters our shelter." The shelter also provides spay and neuter services to help reduce the number of animals that are brought in.

"The shelter is a great place," Whitmore said. "It's a non-profit organization that relies on donations to operate. We want to give back to the community by providing a loving home for every animal that needs one."

The shelter is located at 1343 South Clinton Street in Iowa City. The shelter is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, and from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturdays. The shelter can be contacted at 335-6030.

Whitmore said that the shelter is always in need of volunteers to help take care of the animals. "We have a lot of animals that need help," Whitmore said. "We need people to come in and help with the care of the animals."

Whitmore is also looking for people to adopt animals from the shelter. "We have a lot of animals that need homes," Whitmore said. "We want to find forever homes for these animals."

ZERO TOLERANCE FOR YOUTH MULLED

Plan calls for stiffer alcohol laws

Mike Glover
Associated Press

Lawmakers — A legislative committee Wednesday approved a "zero tolerance" plan that increases fines for underage drivers and的高度对三名年轻人偷窃事件的打击。这起事件不仅造成了一名年轻人死亡，而且是一起"零容忍"态度的打击。

Repeal of the bill is not an issue, but is predicted to be a public relations concern, said Erin Gruzd, a University of Iowa political science assistant professor.

Because the bill would increase fines for drivers under 21 years of age, it will raise the state's driving costs, she said.

The legislation, as approved by the House Agriculture Committee, would raise the fine for a first offense from $100 to $250 and for a second offense from $100 to $500.

The bill, sponsored by state Rep. Carol Rosecrans, a Republican from Waterloo, would also require a suspended license for those under 21 who are convicted of operating a vehicle while under the influence of alcohol.

Andrea Seals-Parker, 18, of Decorah, was killed in the accident.

The 31-year-old man who hit Seals-Parker was also convicted of operating a vehicle while under the influence of alcohol.

The bill would also increase the fine for operating a vehicle while under the influence of alcohol from $100 to $250 for a first offense and from $100 to $500 for a second offense.

First lady Hillary Rodham Clinton receives a helping hand from U.N. First Lady's Helper Linda Fuhmann of being a racist who may have planted a bloody glove at Brown's house. Richardson, author of a best-selling novel, believes that the defense has succeeded in casting doubt on the motives of Simpson's friends and associates.

The defense has also used Richardson's testimony to argue that Simpson was innocent. Richardson testified that he had never seen Simpson with a gun and that he had never heard Simpson make any threats against Brown. He also testified that Simpson was not involved in any drug dealing and that he was not aware of any drug-related activity in the Brown household.

The defense has also been trying to cast doubt on the evidence presented by the prosecution. They have challenged the authenticity of the bloody glove and have argued that it was planted by someone else.

The defense has also been arguing that the prosecution failed to make a case for murder. They have argued that there was no witnesses to the murder and that the evidence presented by the prosecution was circumstantial.

The Ramones and the Greeks: a brief history

The other day as I was "surfing" the Internet I felt like revisiting an American music tradition I have gone on to love. I am not alone in this sentiment, it seems. The Ramones were perhaps the originators of a new genre of music that has gone on to influence almost every band in the last few decades. I thought it would be fun to reflect on the history of this unique band and their impact on music.

The Ramones were formed in New York City in 1974 by Joey Ramone, Dee Dee Ramone, John Cale, and Dee Dee Ramone. They quickly became known for their raw, energetic sound and their lyrics about sex, drugs, and rock and roll. Their influence can be heard in bands like the Sex Pistols, the Clash, and the Sex Pistols.

The Ramones were one of the first bands to use the "teenage" image, with their sleazy, trashy outfits and their attitude. They were also one of the first bands to use the concept of "the Ramones" as a brand, with their logo and their name becoming synonymous with rock and roll.

The Ramones were known for their unique sound, which was a combination of punk rock, garage rock, and rockabilly. They were also known for their lyrics, which were often about sex and drugs and rock and roll.

WASHINGTON — Senate Republicans on Capitol Hill yesterday appeared to be reaching a settlement in their “veto” war with the administration.

The Senate leadership was reported to be ready to reluctantly accept the president’s tax increase for the first time in nearly a year.

President Reagan, who has been seeking a $60 billion tax cut, was said to be pleased with the agreement.

Jill Hatfield was re-elected to Congress by the Democratic party.

She said the law she voted on will help those in need.

Hatfield said the law is a step forward in providing assistance to the poor.

“If we are going to help the poor, we need to do it on a larger scale,” she said.

Hatfield said the law will also help people who are struggling to pay their bills.

A few THINGS you should know about CREDIT:

Before you sign this application you should make sure you fully understand what you're getting into. A credit card can be a useful FINANCIAL TOOL that can make life easier to live. However, if used irresponsibly, it can become a tremendous burden. With this in mind, it's important to ASK yourself some QUESTIONS before signing anything.

Is there an annual fee? How much interest will be charged? What are the rewards for using this card? In addition to asking questions, make sure you READ everything on the application. UNDERSTANDING the terms of your credit agreement is important and will provide you with the answers you seek.

Finally the best ADVICE is to use common sense. You know how much you can afford to repay and how long it will take. Per example, COMMON SENSE tells you if you only pay the minimum due each month it will take longer to pay off the balance. Having a credit card is a commitment from which YOU can benefit. We urge you to take the time to make sure you're prepared for this COMMITMENT.
Woolridge saves Iowa

Sophomore point guard shoots down Spartans in final seconds

David Schwartz
The Daily Iowan

Finally, it's Iowa's turn.

Once again, this year the Conference Iowa, Iowa has redeemed itself, at least until

Sunday.

The Hawkeyes fared better than anyone in the Big Ten, and nobody was better than

Andre Woolridge.

This was Woolridge's day.

He had 26 points, six assists and three steals.

Woolridge's sixth point of the game was in the final six seconds, a 3-pointer from the top of the key to lead Iowa, 77-76.

"This was our day. He wants to be a leader, and he did the best he could for us. He was our leader," Iowa coach

Bobby Knight said.

"I think that's what we need."

Woolridge's story is one of hard work. He came into the game with a goal of 20 points. He didn't even hit

two of them in the first half.

But Woolridge

wasn't going to let that get him down.

He

said that he had

plan for what to do in the second half.

And

it worked.

The

Hawkeyes

won

6-4.

In the final six seconds,

Woolridge

3-pointer from the top of the key to lead

Iowa,

77-76.

"This was Woolridge's day. He wanted to

The Blue Jays have two simple rules for their fan club: Don't throw back foul balls and don't stand on the bases during games.

But when a batter hits down to first base on a foul tip, fans rush in a mad dash for the bases to retrieve the ball.

"I don't think anyone in the world has played the game like that," Blue Jays manager Pat Borders said. "Maybe (Yankees-Dodgers) did once. But I don't really say no.

"Can't call all the players, even with a scoreboard."

Anonymous spring training vendor on the Blue Jays' replacement games

There are replacement games,国民经济的第三产业 games, and baseball games, said the vendor.

The Baltimore Orioles don't even have a scoreboard, and will probably be the last team to play that way, at least on the road. Some clubs, such as the Blue Jays, have rules in place for their fans.

The Blue Jays are preparing a replacement game at this time, but Borders is not sure if the fans will be allowed to sit on the stands. Until the Blue Jays are ready, the fans are only allowed to sit in the stands and watch the game.

"The fans are there to see the ball," Borders said. "I don't know if they're there to see the replacement Blue Jays." He is confident in the quality of the replacement Blue Jays.

"The fans are there to see the Blue Jays," Borders said. "I don't know if they're there to see the replacement Blue Jays."

The Blue Jays are the only team in the majors with a replacement game. The fans are not allowed to sit on the stands, and Borders said that they will not stay in the stands for the game.

"It's a game between two teams," Borders said. "The fans are there to see the Blue Jays."

Garden of Rabbits

The Daily Iowan

With an emphasis on music and the ideas behind it, Garden of Rabbits is on the way to becoming a fixture in the Iowa City music scene. The band is made up of several members in the living room and the rest of the room was filled with other people — friends and family.

"It's always like a party," said singer and bassist Robert McEwen. "We're all comfortable in one another's presence, whether we stop and play in the yard or not."

Although Gardens and guitarist Will King are the only official members of the house band and all other people attending the party are also key members, the group sometimes feels like a family.

Great turnarounds of Brands and guitarists Tom Kelley and Dan Laughlin are among the unusual mix the band creates. A younger set of fans. Because many of their shows are at local bars, they often have to make do with whatever is available to them. However, sometimes, they can do without anything at all. Sometimes, they can do without anything at all.

"We probably won't complete any degrees until this weekend," Kelley said. "But we have to get real jobs and get real jobs.

Jarmar's 'Blue' crosses many boundaries

The late David Jarmar's last film, Blue, is playing at the Film Festival.

In the mid of a painful revelation about the death of his friend, Jarmar manages to capture the last thing the deceased ever saw, a movie that the friend was watching. The movie is a documentary about the last day of a woman who is dying of cancer. The movie is shown in reverse, and the woman's last moments are shown in slow motion.

The undergraduate student works include "Bell Ringers" choreographed by KRU 98.7 FMhhh. The student work has been chosen to represent the UI Dance Department at the 1994 Dance Educators of America dance festival. The work was given honors at the festival.

The undergraduate choreography program at the UI is one of the only dance programs in the state and the only dance student to constitute the year-round program. Performing in more than 10 cities in Iowa, Illinois, and Missouri, the program has established itself as a leader in the Midwest.

This is all part of the program's commitment to providing a comprehensive education in dance education. The program offers courses in both the Bachelor of Science and Bachelor of Fine Arts degrees. The program offers a wide range of courses in dance, including performance, choreography, and dance education. The program also offers opportunities for students to perform with the UI Dance Company and with other dance groups.

The UI Dance Company is a professional dance company that has performed in hundreds of venues across the United States and internationally. The company is known for its innovative and dynamic performances, and its commitment to education and community engagement.
