Race is on for UI support

Iowa City Council Primary

Primary: 'Students could take over city'

Evelyn Casar is the Daily Iowan's Jefferson County political reporter.

If UI students expressed their concerns at a meeting of the Iowa City Council primary, they could have a huge impact on the election. A student group, the Iowa City Council primary candidates for the two open spots said Tuesday.

The primary will narrow the field of eight UI candidates to one for the seat, and they should exercise this power wisely.

The primary will serve the field of eight UI candidates to one for the seat, and they should exercise this power responsibly and wisely. The decision to exercise this power wisely was announced by young people and students as a result of the election.

UI students have told the Daily Iowan that they would make an overwhelming impact and control the election, she said. 'Students take over the city and they should exercise this power responsibly and wisely.'

The primary will serve the field of eight UI candidates to one for the seat, and they should exercise this power wisely. The decision to exercise this power wisely was announced by young people and students as a result of the election.

The primary will serve the field of eight UI candidates to one for the seat, and they should exercise this power responsibly and wisely. The decision to exercise this power wisely was announced by young people and students as a result of the election.

At the Daily Iowan, Evelyn Casar reported that UI students could take over the city. The Iowa City Council primary could have a huge impact on the election with their votes.

The decision to exercise this power wisely was announced by young people and students as a result of the election. The Daily Iowan reported that UI students could take over the city. The Iowa City Council primary could have a huge impact on the election with their votes.

The decision to exercise this power wisely was announced by young people and students as a result of the election. The Daily Iowan reported that UI students could take over the city. The Iowa City Council primary could have a huge impact on the election with their votes.

The decision to exercise this power wisely was announced by young people and students as a result of the election. The Daily Iowan reported that UI students could take over the city. The Iowa City Council primary could have a huge impact on the election with their votes.

The decision to exercise this power wisely was announced by young people and students as a result of the election. The Daily Iowan reported that UI students could take over the city. The Iowa City Council primary could have a huge impact on the election with their votes.

The decision to exercise this power wisely was announced by young people and students as a result of the election. The Daily Iowan reported that UI students could take over the city. The Iowa City Council primary could have a huge impact on the election with their votes.

The decision to exercise this power wisely was announced by young people and students as a result of the election. The Daily Iowan reported that UI students could take over the city. The Iowa City Council primary could have a huge impact on the election with their votes.

The decision to exercise this power wisely was announced by young people and students as a result of the election. The Daily Iowan reported that UI students could take over the city. The Iowa City Council primary could have a huge impact on the election with their votes.
Schaeffer progress right on target

Stacy Forrest

The Daily Iowan

'The dedication of about 15 classes and the life-long work of the administration will normally be housed in Schaeffer Hall. It took about 18 months, but the construction is running on schedule. Currently, two components of the project have been built on site and one has been occupied. Right now, the construction team is occupied. Right now, they are working on the entire building, including the atrium and the main hall.

Schaeffer was occupied. Right now, they are working on the entire building, including the atrium and the main hall. It's going in ahead of time so the tractor can start work right away, any delays due to the asbestos.'

"There was no harm while we were working on the asbestos. I didn't have to worry about waiting or the asbestos should be completed by the time was built at the time of buckman said. the removal of asbestos should be completed by either the contractor or the new developer is to be completed in the future.

The classes and offices located on the main floor in Schaeffer Hall before the construction began have been relocated to the basement Hall. The relaxation is going to take place, and there have been no problems, buckman said.

Proposal may give gender identity protected status

Sandra Kennedy

The Daily Iowan

A community vote by the Human Rights Commission added trans-identified individuals — such as transgendered, drag queens and cross-dressers — to a protected class in the city on Monday. The City Council will vote in either April or May and the commission agreed that it's time to pass the act. The addition of 'gender identity' as a protected class provides discrimination in cases of employment, public accommodation, credit transactions, education, housing, employment of public service employees, public safety workers, and protection of transsexuals and transgendered individuals. The previous wording specified protection of transgendered and non-transgendered, but left out other transgendered people, such as cross-dressers and drag queens, Buckman said. Rachel Koelsch, a redevelopment technician who has not yet had any experience, said she supports the order. "If there's a chance for one person in the United States, the better it is."

Congratulations to our New Fall Members

Beth Alcott

Jennifer Nehre

Julianne Cox

Sarah Jane Runchey

Lorie Diers

Beth Alcott

Julianne Cox

Sarah Jane Runchey

Nicki Dudley

Jenny Nehre

Jenny Nehre

Sarah Jane Runchey

Buckman said. The classes and offices located on the main floor in Schaeffer Hall before the construction began have been relocated to the basement Hall. The relaxation is going to take place, and there have been no problems, buckman said.

"One reason we chose to release the offices and classes is to allow the contractors to have access to the whole building," buckman said. "This way we don't have to worry about waiting or the asbestos."

The classes and offices located on the main floor in Schaeffer Hall before the construction began have been relocated to the basement Hall. The relaxation is going to take place, and there have been no problems, buckman said.

The classes and offices located on the main floor in Schaeffer Hall before the construction began have been relocated to the basement Hall. The relaxation is going to take place, and there have been no problems, buckman said.

"One reason we chose to release the offices and classes is to allow the contractors to have access to the whole building," buckman said. "This way we don't have to worry about waiting or the asbestos."

The classes and offices located on the main floor in Schaeffer Hall before the construction began have been relocated to the basement Hall. The relaxation is going to take place, and there have been no problems, buckman said.

"One reason we chose to release the offices and classes is to allow the contractors to have access to the whole building," buckman said. "This way we don't have to worry about waiting or the asbestos."

The classes and offices located on the main floor in Schaeffer Hall before the construction began have been relocated to the basement Hall. The relaxation is going to take place, and there have been no problems, buckman said.

"One reason we chose to release the offices and classes is to allow the contractors to have access to the whole building," buckman said. "This way we don't have to worry about waiting or the asbestos."

The classes and offices located on the main floor in Schaeffer Hall before the construction began have been relocated to the basement Hall. The relaxation is going to take place, and there have been no problems, buckman said.

"One reason we chose to release the offices and classes is to allow the contractors to have access to the whole building," buckman said. "This way we don't have to worry about waiting or the asbestos."

The classes and offices located on the main floor in Schaeffer Hall before the construction began have been relocated to the basement Hall. The relaxation is going to take place, and there have been no problems, buckman said.

"One reason we chose to release the offices and classes is to allow the contractors to have access to the whole building," buckman said. "This way we don't have to worry about waiting or the asbestos."

The classes and offices located on the main floor in Schaeffer Hall before the construction began have been relocated to the basement Hall. The relaxation is going to take place, and there have been no problems, buckman said.

"One reason we chose to release the offices and classes is to allow the contractors to have access to the whole building," buckman said. "This way we don't have to worry about waiting or the asbestos."

The classes and offices located on the main floor in Schaeffer Hall before the construction began have been relocated to the basement Hall. The relaxation is going to take place, and there have been no problems, buckman said.
Utilities clause delays Bosnian cease-fire

Bosnia's latest cease-fire was delayed Monday after a day of sharp shelling, NATO air strikes and efforts to restore utilities cut off by the fighting. Talks last week's U.N.-brokered cease-fire 'will not happen because the conditions have not been met,' said Haris Muratovic, the Bosnian government's ambassador to the United Nations. Both sides accused each other of not doing their part.

We would be fully prepared to go along with the cease-fire agreement if the utilities are repaired.

Haris Muratovic, Bosnian minister in charge of relations with the United Nations

Early Monday, NATO warplanes attacked Serb targets in southeastern Bosnia after starting the day by launching a new round of shelling. The Bosnian government said it wanted to talk more about the cease-fire and restore utilities cut off by the fighting.

Bosnian President Alija Izetbegovic and Friday although the usually work late into the night, the former guerrilla fighter, was among the most vocal critics of the peace agreement. His side has been accused of not fully committing to the peace and has accused neighboring states of not adequately supporting the Bosnian cause.

Bosnian Serb politician Radovan Karadzic, speaking in the Bosnian city of Tuzla, said the Bosnian side was doing everything possible to ensure the repairs were done.

"We are fully prepared to go along with the cease-fire agreement if the utilities are repaired," Karadzic said.

The Bosnian official in charge of relations with the United Nations, Maksim Vukasinovic, said the Bosnian Serbs were not fully committed to the repairs, as they had been accused of not fully committing to the peace agreement.

Bosnian Serb President Alija Izetbegovic and Friday although the usually work late into the night, the former guerrilla fighter, was among the most vocal critics of the peace agreement. His side has been accused of not fully committing to the peace and has accused neighboring states of not adequately supporting the Bosnian cause.

Bosnian Serb politician Radovan Karadzic, speaking in the Bosnian city of Tuzla, said the Bosnian side was doing everything possible to ensure the repairs were done.

"We are fully prepared to go along with the cease-fire agreement if the utilities are repaired," Karadzic said.

The Bosnian official in charge of relations with the United Nations, Maksim Vukasinovic, said the Bosnian Serbs were not fully committed to the repairs, as they had been accused of not fully committing to the peace agreement.

Bosnian Serb President Alija Izetbegovic and Friday although the usually work late into the night, the former guerrilla fighter, was among the most vocal critics of the peace agreement. His side has been accused of not fully committing to the peace and has accused neighboring states of not adequately supporting the Bosnian cause.

Bosnian Serb politician Radovan Karadzic, speaking in the Bosnian city of Tuzla, said the Bosnian side was doing everything possible to ensure the repairs were done.

"We are fully prepared to go along with the cease-fire agreement if the utilities are repaired," Karadzic said.

The Bosnian official in charge of relations with the United Nations, Maksim Vukasinovic, said the Bosnian Serbs were not fully committed to the repairs, as they had been accused of not fully committing to the peace agreement.

Bosnian Serb President Alija Izetbegovic and Friday although the usually work late into the night, the former guerrilla fighter, was among the most vocal critics of the peace agreement. His side has been accused of not fully committing to the peace and has accused neighboring states of not adequately supporting the Bosnian cause.

Bosnian Serb politician Radovan Karadzic, speaking in the Bosnian city of Tuzla, said the Bosnian side was doing everything possible to ensure the repairs were done.

"We are fully prepared to go along with the cease-fire agreement if the utilities are repaired," Karadzic said.

The Bosnian official in charge of relations with the United Nations, Maksim Vukasinovic, said the Bosnian Serbs were not fully committed to the repairs, as they had been accused of not fully committing to the peace agreement.

Bosnian Serb President Alija Izetbegovic and Friday although the usually work late into the night, the former guerrilla fighter, was among the most vocal critics of the peace agreement. His side has been accused of not fully committing to the peace and has accused neighboring states of not adequately supporting the Bosnian cause.

Bosnian Serb politician Radovan Karadzic, speaking in the Bosnian city of Tuzla, said the Bosnian side was doing everything possible to ensure the repairs were done.

"We are fully prepared to go along with the cease-fire agreement if the utilities are repaired," Karadzic said.

The Bosnian official in charge of relations with the United Nations, Maksim Vukasinovic, said the Bosnian Serbs were not fully committed to the repairs, as they had been accused of not fully committing to the peace agreement.

Bosnian Serb President Alija Izetbegovic and Friday although the usually work late into the night, the former guerrilla fighter, was among the most vocal critics of the peace agreement. His side has been accused of not fully committing to the peace and has accused neighboring states of not adequately supporting the Bosnian cause.

Bosnian Serb politician Radovan Karadzic, speaking in the Bosnian city of Tuzla, said the Bosnian side was doing everything possible to ensure the repairs were done.

"We are fully prepared to go along with the cease-fire agreement if the utilities are repaired," Karadzic said.

The Bosnian official in charge of relations with the United Nations, Maksim Vukasinovic, said the Bosnian Serbs were not fully committed to the repairs, as they had been accused of not fully committing to the peace agreement.

Bosnian Serb President Alija Izetbegovic and Friday although the usually work late into the night, the former guerrilla fighter, was among the most vocal critics of the peace agreement. His side has been accused of not fully committing to the peace and has accused neighboring states of not adequately supporting the Bosnian cause.

Bosnian Serb politician Radovan Karadzic, speaking in the Bosnian city of Tuzla, said the Bosnian side was doing everything possible to ensure the repairs were done.

"We are fully prepared to go along with the cease-fire agreement if the utilities are repaired," Karadzic said.

The Bosnian official in charge of relations with the United Nations, Maksim Vukasinovic, said the Bosnian Serbs were not fully committed to the repairs, as they had been accused of not fully committing to the peace agreement.

Bosnian Serb President Alija Izetbegovic and Friday although the usually work late into the night, the former guerrilla fighter, was among the most vocal critics of the peace agreement. His side has been accused of not fully committing to the peace and has accused neighboring states of not adequately supporting the Bosnian cause.

Bosnian Serb politician Radovan Karadzic, speaking in the Bosnian city of Tuzla, said the Bosnian side was doing everything possible to ensure the repairs were done.

"We are fully prepared to go along with the cease-fire agreement if the utilities are repaired," Karadzic said.

The Bosnian official in charge of relations with the United Nations, Maksim Vukasinovic, said the Bosnian Serbs were not fully committed to the repairs, as they had been accused of not fully committing to the peace agreement.

Bosnian Serb President Alija Izetbegovic and Friday although the usually work late into the night, the former guerrilla fighter, was among the most vocal critics of the peace agreement. His side has been accused of not fully committing to the peace and has accused neighboring states of not adequately supporting the Bosnian cause.

Bosnian Serb politician Radovan Karadzic, speaking in the Bosnian city of Tuzla, said the Bosnian side was doing everything possible to ensure the repairs were done.

"We are fully prepared to go along with the cease-fire agreement if the utilities are repaired," Karadzic said.

The Bosnian official in charge of relations with the United Nations, Maksim Vukasinovic, said the Bosnian Serbs were not fully committed to the repairs, as they had been accused of not fully committing to the peace agreement.

Bosnian Serb President Alija Izetbegovic and Friday although the usually work late into the night, the former guerrilla fighter, was among the most vocal critics of the peace agreement. His side has been accused of not fully committing to the peace and has accused neighboring states of not adequately supporting the Bosnian cause.

Bosnian Serb politician Radovan Karadzic, speaking in the Bosnian city of Tuzla, said the Bosnian side was doing everything possible to ensure the repairs were done.

"We are fully prepared to go along with the cease-fire agreement if the utilities are repaired," Karadzic said.

The Bosnian official in charge of relations with the United Nations, Maksim Vukasinovic, said the Bosnian Serbs were not fully committed to the repairs, as they had been accused of not fully committing to the peace agreement.

Bosnian Serb President Alija Izetbegovic and Friday although the usually work late into the night, the former guerrilla fighter, was among the most vocal critics of the peace agreement. His side has been accused of not fully committing to the peace and has accused neighboring states of not adequately supporting the Bosnian cause.

Bosnian Serb politician Radovan Karadzic, speaking in the Bosnian city of Tuzla, said the Bosnian side was doing everything possible to ensure the repairs were done.

"We are fully prepared to go along with the cease-fire agreement if the utilities are repaired," Karadzic said.

The Bosnian official in charge of relations with the United Nations, Maksim Vukasinovic, said the Bosnian Serbs were not fully committed to the repairs, as they had been accused of not fully committing to the peace agreement.

Bosnian Serb President Alija Izetbegovic and Friday although the usually work late into the night, the former guerrilla fighter, was among the most vocal critics of the peace agreement. His side has been accused of not fully committing to the peace and has accused neighboring states of not adequately supporting the Bosnian cause.

Bosnian Serb politician Radovan Karadzic, speaking in the Bosnian city of Tuzla, said the Bosnian side was doing everything possible to ensure the repairs were done.

"We are fully prepared to go along with the cease-fire agreement if the utilities are repaired," Karadzic said.

The Bosnian official in charge of relations with the United Nations, Maksim Vukasinovic, said the Bosnian Serbs were not fully committed to the repairs, as they had been accused of not fully committing to the peace agreement.

Bosnian Serb President Alija Izetbegovic and Friday although the usually work late into the night, the former guerrilla fighter, was among the most vocal critics of the peace agreement. His side has been accused of not fully committing to the peace and has accused neighboring states of not adequately supporting the Bosnian cause.

Bosnian Serb politician Radovan Karadzic, speaking in the Bosnian city of Tuzla, said the Bosnian side was doing everything possible to ensure the repairs were done.

"We are fully prepared to go along with the cease-fire agreement if the utilities are repaired," Karadzic said.

The Bosnian official in charge of relations with the United Nations, Maksim Vukasinovic, said the Bosnian Serbs were not fully committed to the repairs, as they had been accused of not fully committing to the peace agreement.
Viewpoints

Labeling people as ‘problems’ maintains racism

It is a strange fact how few Americans ever consider how very unpleasant, to say the least, it must be to constantly be lumped together either as a national problem or a societal peril. And this kind of thinking is both dangerous and foolish in the face of the issues in which it is dismissive of, as if we’re somehow above those problems and able to walk away instead of having to grapple with the structures that make these issues so difficult to overcome.

If this complaint sounds eerily familiar, it should. It is exactly what Langston Hughes is talking about in the following quote. While he is speaking of the history of African Americans, the issues he describes are appropriate for our current discussion:

“Labeling people as ‘problems’ maintains our distance from them, and this is their greatest problem. It is what underlies much of the tension associated with the United States and the world. It is not desirable to do anything about it, because that is what it does to a ‘problem’ to someone who is not black. It means that the people who consider you a ‘problem’ not only don’t know about you but don’t want to learn about what happens to you, but the mainstream media has the power to do that. It is the same media that makes these issues so difficult to overcome.

It is really true that too many people are relatively effectively unknown and ignored by the mainstream media. The difference is that there can be black people who can stand up and make a difference, whereas we need more white people to do so. It is easy that many things are not more white than they are. That we are, at best, one

EDITORIAL

VIEW

There will be no justice in America until minorities are treated as peope, not problems to be dealt with.

Perhaps this is what’s really exciting about the era of the O.J. Simpson trial. The first of its kind innovation is, it is most likely not preventable. What is not preventable is the fact that three men at last count, are in jail or on parole or probation for a crime that will go on forever. This means that there is no justice for them.

It is relevant that too many have been relatively effectively unknown, and that even the mainstream media has the power to do that. It is impossible that black people have so much more experience with the justice system than we do.

It is easy that many things are not more white than they are. That we are, at best, one good, everyone. Should we be rich?

People who are not treated as black, are sometimes treated as if they are black, but their race is not the defining characteristic.

Stevens got a dream job. It was composed of people who had every reason to feel uncomfortable in the context of the United States. The context was almost made up of an unhappy group of people who had no way of knowing the status of O.J. Simpson. The point was that they were not treated the same way as people, and were not important to the context.

At that point, his ability and traits had never been so widely noticed by the Los Angeles to Atlanta area. They were looking for two things: a dream job that was exciting, and not one that was just right. O.J. Simpson was not treated that way.

The L.A.P.D. that reached out to three black and white officers, told them that more justice for them, to think of themselves as black.

Prince fans disappointed

Fans of O.J. Simpson’s arrested status, and the alleged evidence, may be disappointed. This is because they should not have been so quick to jump to conclusions about Prince’s actions or decisions. This is because they should not have been so quick to jump to conclusions about Prince’s actions or decisions.

The title track ‘gold’ is possibly the closest that Prince has come to making a record that is not just about the music, but is also about the social and political implications. ‘The Revolution’ is the same thing.

The issue is that Prince has never been one to shy away from controversy. He has always been one to stand up for what he believes in, and has never been afraid to use his music as a tool for social change. This is why his music has always been so powerful, and why his fans have always been so passionate.

The issue is that Prince has never been one to shy away from controversy. He has always been one to stand up for what he believes in, and has never been afraid to use his music as a tool for social change. This is why his music has always been so powerful, and why his fans have always been so passionate.

The issue is that Prince has never been one to shy away from controversy. He has always been one to stand up for what he believes in, and has never been afraid to use his music as a tool for social change. This is why his music has always been so powerful, and why his fans have always been so passionate.
This is a typical text that might be found in an English language newspaper or magazine article. It contains a mix of news stories, articles, and advertisements. The text is written in paragraphs with proper punctuation and sentence structure. It appears to be a typical layout for a newspaper or magazine page, with headlines, subheadings, and paragraphs of text. There is no evidence of any unusual formatting or layout that would indicate a shift in the document's purpose or content. The text is written in a clear and readable font, with no visible errors or anomalies. It appears to be a standard newspaper or magazine page.
Your MONEY hasn't gone this far since you lived with your PARENTS.

AM/FM stereo radio - standard? heck yeah! (what's driving without a little driving music?)

Clearcoat paint - paint you can't see keeps the paint you can see looking good (see?)

100,000-mile spark plugs* - we're talking a long-term relationship here.

Fold-down rear seats - means you can go places and take lots of stuff with ya.

5-speed transmission and tubular rear axle with spring-over shock sport suspension and progressive ride tuning - this is a real set of wheels or what?

Your choice of a great-looking coupe (shown), sporty four-door sedan (not shown) or a hot new convertible (hey, we told ya this was a cool car)

A HUGE glove box - some glove boxes are merely mouse-sized; this one holds a whole laptop computer.

Dual air bags and anti-lock brakes - two things you don't need until you really need 'em (and always wear those safety belts, even with air bags)

Daytime running lamps in '96 - they're a safety feature, but hey, they look good too.

PASSLock™ theft-deterrent system - means you might save some $$$ on insurance (!!!)

High-revving, 120-horsepower, fuel-injected engine (hey, this car's for driving, not just looking at)

Single-key locking - one key locks & unlocks doors, trunk and all the fun of Sunfire.

Oh, Courtesy Transportation - that's part of PONTIAC CARES too (see? we really do care)

Finally, a real set of wheels you can really afford.

*See Owner's Manual for limitations. See Owner's Manual for limitations. © 1995 GM Corp. All rights reserved.
Steve we haven't won a ball game

I ~ Creene

•

I

It was Montana's Arso, with Bono hitting Lake, Denson for 27 yards on the sideline and eventual­ly finding Webster Shaw for 15 yards on the last 29 yards. A fumble by the Wildcats near midfield led to a successful field goal by Bono.

Humphreys, who had left at the end of the previous quarter, said Bono's field goal was 3½ at 215 yards and eventually made good-down plays, including a 44-yard pass to Bernie Hrapovic that set up Humphreys' field goal.

The score was 13-13 at the half and the teams played through a dreary third quarter before Los Elisots' 49-yard field goal 2:44 into the fourth gave the Chiefs a 13-13 lead.

Vanover, a rookie who played in only 3½ of the Chiefs' season, had the ball the game with 18 seconds left. He took off from his own 30, scored a touchdown, and kicked into the end zone for an extra point, his second TD of the game -- he had a 69-yard return for a score against Atlanta.

"I'm feeling pretty right now," Vanover said. "I've been catching all my life. I've been catching all my life, but the surgery was prob­ably over.

... the Mariners themselves must have known this game was second to none. At least that's what the Seattle Press, who have never been big to the playoffs in 15 years of existence, has written editorials and editorials and editorials and editorials, but that doesn't come.

The Yankees needed just one more game to win the World Series, and the Mariners' victory was another example of how the team has done.

Dan Marino, the Miami quarterback, talked to the seniors during their last home game against Nebraska, saying the players must focus on getting ready for the next game and not getting confident.

The Chiefs, who won their third straight game this season, had the ball with 18 seconds left on a 30-yard drive engineered by Bono, who had understudied for Montana at Kansas City and San Francisco.

"I know is I can't pitch. I feel like I can do any time I want to," Phillips said. "I just want to be out there and pitch.

... the Mariners are bent over in the sunbath, following the success of the Seattle Mariners in the American League. The Mariners have already swept through the Kansas City Royals and Houston Astros, and are now facing the Los Angeles Dodgers in the World Series.

The Mariners kick off their playoff run with two games in New York, lost the first one, but fell in the second, losing 29-28.

"The Mariners kick off their playoff run with two games in New York, lost the first one, but fell in the second, losing 29-28.

Hawks stand in need of time off

The team has been on a roll since the 1986 season, when it defeated the Kansas City Chiefs a 29-23 win in overtime Monday night, giving the Hawks a 3-0 lead.

The Ravens were informed by the National Football League that they would not be able to use the team's stadium in Baltimore for the game due to scheduling conflicts.

The Seahawks were informed by the NFL that they would not be able to use the team's stadium in Seattle for the game due to scheduling conflicts.

... the Eagles are bent over in the sunbath, following the success of the Seattle Seahawks in the National Football League. The Seahawks have already swept through the Arizona Cardinals and the Los Angeles Rams, and are now facing the New England Patriots in the Super Bowl.

Seattle's Matt Rodgers jumps onto teammates.

Rodgers, who is another player chosen after the NFL Draft, has been with the Seahawks since 1981.

... the Eagles are bent over in the sunbath, following the success of the Seattle Seahawks in the National Football League. The Seahawks have already swept through the Arizona Cardinals and the Los Angeles Rams, and are now facing the New England Patriots in the Super Bowl.

... the Eagles are bent over in the sunbath, following the success of the Seattle Seahawks in the National Football League. The Seahawks have already swept through the Arizona Cardinals and the Los Angeles Rams, and are now facing the New England Patriots in the Super Bowl.
Iowa City, Iowa · Igor Korelev's goal ·

gives credit to him and I'm thankful ·

that game, though.

season.

end zone, stopping a Michigan ·
down at that point would have ·

Iowa's 21-7 win. An · best pitcher in · said. "He's ·

oulfie ·

NoI~lleolue

Mariners are still riding high.

the Indians' 10 1st , 102nd and ·

RANSACTIONS

For one thing, Cleveland may · give ·

..." ·

Tickets on ·

..."

"He's ·

..." ·

..."

"He's ·

..."

"He's ·

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."

..."
George 937-4058

Continued

Chris Sheridan
Associated Press

Chris Sheridan

Associated Press

Chris Sheridan
Associated Press

Chris Sheridan

Associated Press

Chris Sheridan

Associated Press

Chris Sheridan

Associated Press

Chris Sheridan
Associated Press

Chris Sheridan

Associated Press

Chris Sheridan

Associated Press

Chris Sheridan

Associated Press

Chris Sheridan

Associated Press

Chris Sheridan

Associated Press

Chris Sheridan

Associated Press

Chris Sheridan

Associated Press

Chris Sheridan

Associated Press

Chris Sheridan

Associated Press

Chris Sheridan

Associated Press

Chris Sheridan

Associated Press
Haley apologizes for associated Press

Dennis A. Voaklander
Associated Press

BOSTON — Associated Press reporter Charles Haley made a mistake when he wrote a story about New England Patriots defensive end and quarterback Tom Brady.

"I was speaking for the team," Haley said. "I don't want to say anything else."

Haley was scolded by the New England coaching staff on Sunday, but he said he's not sure what the future holds for him.

"I've been around for a long time," Haley said. "I've seen it all."

Patriots struggle to get a grip on season

Howard Ulman
Associated Press

BOSTON — The New England Patriots have a lot of problems, and they're not all on the field.

"It's not just the offense," said coach Bill Belichick. "It's the whole team."

Out next week

Esiason absolves myth of cheap hit

Barry Wilner
Associated Press

HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. — It was Esiason's first game as quarterback for the New York Giants, and he was struggling.

"I didn't know what I was doing," Esiason said. "I was just throwing the ball as hard as I could."

The Rifles defense quickly ended the game, and Esiason was sidelined with a broken leg.

"I'll never be the same," Esiason said. "I can't even walk normally."