8,000 turned out to see meeting among 3 presidents

Mark Strahan

The Daily Iowan

The president of the United States, Czech Republic and Slovak Republic were treated to a warm reception from a chilled crowd of about 8,000 Iowa fans Saturday afternoon in the shadow of Old Main, the National Football Field.

Saturday’s meeting between three heads of state at Iowa was Iowa President University President Czech President Vaclav Havel and Slovak President Michael Kornek in praising the contributions of Czech and Slovak immigrants to American society, while affirming the ideals of freedom and democracy everywhere.

The National Czech and Slovak Museum and Library we are privileged to host the two presidents and to the contribution Czech and Slovak immigrants and their descendants have made and continue to make to our great nation,” Clinton said in his speech.

Clinton and Slovak pride was evident in the Czech Village, the main thoroughfare leading up to the museum. Crowds watched on kites and medieval kareem scenes on Saturdays.

President Clinton and his wife, Hillary Rodham Clinton, were greeted by a warm welcome at Old Main.

The president took a tour of Old Main, viewing exhibits and meeting with students from various disciplines.

As he was leaving, Clinton was presented with an Iowa Hawkeye hat and a statue of a Nordic man.

Clinton pledged to aid students plight

Massachusetts leaders from across Iowa asked President Clinton on Thursday not to utilize the veto power on a campaign finance reform bill before attending the Centennial Celebration of Matthew Garofalo in New York.

The senator said the GOP budget proposal would make attending college more expensive.

“I am going to do everything I can,” Clinton told the students.

UI graduate student Paige Demmel led the introduction of Kinnick Stadium during Friday’s campaign stop.

“People are really nervous and excited,” he said.

“I think it’s because of the presidency,” he said.

The UI student said the introduction from student government raised the audience’s enthusiasm.

“We want to do our part to get people out,” he said.

Texas boy scores World Series try with essay

Pauline Arrigali
Associated Press

Iowa City, Iowa — Growing up in a publishing family where games and drugs are common, A.J. Costner proved that no matter how tough the competition, he has learned quickly to be the best. It’s a lot like baseball, he says, where you can’t afford to make mistakes, but if you do, you can’t afford to make them twice.

The 14-year-old center fielder was hit by the news Friday — the 1991 World Series started in a day or two, and children in Major League Baseball’s "Why I Love Baseball" essay contest must submit their final drafts by Oct. 5.

He never saw it coming. But when he was put on paid vacation when he asked the preceding year’s winner, he was told it would be "just a surprise." It was just as a surprise.

"I was just surprised," he said sheepishly during an interview Friday. "It came out of nowhere. I didn’t think I was good enough."

"I think I just wrote what was on my mind," he added. And what came out of his mind was a story about the day his baseball career began, when his family couldn’t afford the airplane ticket to take him to yet another tryout for the next year’s tryout.

"It just came as a surprise," he said. "I was surprised, I’m proud of my son."

Marlena Benavides, whose son, Joseph, won a trip to the World Series this past October, said he got up to the field and met the players of the Atlanta Braves.

"It was thrilling, I’m proud of my son," she said. "He was very excited, and it’s just something he’ll remember for a long time."

She’s still waiting for the first big event in her life.

Marlena Benavides, whose son, Joseph, won a trip to the World Series this past October, said she’s been waiting for the first big event in her life. "For the first time in my life, I’m going to see a baseball game," she said. "It’s going to be a great day."

UI community warned of long distance scam

UI officials issued an alert Friday to officers and employees about a possible phone scam.

The scam allows the perpetrator to gain access and use of UI phone lines for unauthorised long distance calls.

"If you or anyone else in your area receive a collect call from someone who asks to be transferred to anything other than a wire transfer, do not agree," said UI Police Chief Larry Williams.

"The police are currently working with the local department of justice to determine the legitimacy of these calls.

Local brothers arrested for telemarketing con

Two Creighton brothers have been accused of running a local telemarketing scam.

John Vice, a sophomore at Creighton, and his brother, Jason Vice, a freshman, were charged with first-degree theft by deception.

"The brothers are being held at the jail pending a cash bond," said the police chief.

Clinton calls for block on narcotics traffickers

UNITED NATIONS - President Clinton called on the nations of the world Thursday to join in a global anti-drug campaign, saying that the United States cannot single-handedly win the battle.

"The United States can't do this alone," Clinton said. "Many nations, and in particular Russia, have yet to move aggressively against drug traffickers in their countries."

In a speech at a United Nations conference, Clinton said the declaration should tell them that "you have as much to risk as we do." Clinton also announced that he would establish a new task force to combat international drug trafficking.

The conference, called "United Against Drug Trafficking," brought together delegates from 180 countries.

Clinton said that Russia, which has been slow to act on its domestic drug problem, could help U.S. efforts by enacting tough new measures against organized crime. Clinton noted that many of the world's biggest drug traffickers have been arrested in Russia, and that the United States and Russia have agreed to an information-sharing agreement.

Students are strapped for cash once again

According to an Oct. 19 Daily Iowan article, due to higher tuition inflation, it’s quite a battle for the Iowa state Board of Regents to raise tuition. In 1969, the Board increased the amount of tuition, and the UI was well-prepared to respond.

But if the UI forces students to pay more tuition, then it’s a win-win for everyone. Out of the 4,967 for the 96-97 school year—which means an average increase of 18%—the Board expects the extra funds from the students to pay for increased instruction and the cost of living.

But no students were protesting, and the increase was unanimous. "If more in-state students have to ask loans, work at least one job, or simply not go to college, that’s not what I expect," says a student who is paying off his loans. And although he "hates for that to happen," he believes the extra funds will come from a change in students' perspective when they vote on the increase.

Hawks claim one, then fall again

The Daily Iowan

Iowa Hawkeyes and Creighton Lions met in a Thursday night conference showdown with the winner entering the weekend as a Big Eight Conference.

The Hawkeyes defeated the visiting Lions 3-0, but had to work for it.

Creighton took the first set, 25-23, but the Hawkeyes' defense dominated the second and third sets, putting the Lions on their heels.

The Hawkeyes, who finished the season with a 14-2 record, are now tied for first place in the Big Eight.

Creighton, on the other hand, dropped to 4-8 overall.

The Hawkeyes' win was their fourth in a row, but they have yet to score against Big Eight opponents.

Defence, however, has been the key to the Hawkeyes' success.

"Our defence has been our strength," said Hawkeye head coach Tim Mosher. "We've been able to hold our opponents to low scoring totals, which has allowed us to keep our lead in the game."

RAIDERS BURN
Indy with big plays

Associated Press

It looks like the Oakland Raiders have been given a gift by the San Diego Chargers, who lost quarterback Ryan Leaf to injury Monday night and had to start Mark Brunell, and running back Karim Abdul-Jabbar, who was benched after going over on a goal line run. The Raiders took advantage of the opportunities and won, 27-14.

Coble defense back Ray Buchanan (56) and safety Scott Waugh (28) helped the Raiders hold the Colts to 132 yards rushing, including 65 by running back Ronald Johnson.

Buchanan had 14 tackles, 11 solo, and Waugh had 12 total tackles, eight solo, to lead the Raiders defense.

The win was the team's fourth straight, and it moves them into first place in the AFC West with a 5-2 record.

TROJANS, K-STATE COME UP SHORT

Associated Press

This year, at least, Southern Cal thought it could finally end its frustrating streak against one of its fiercest rivals. Kansas State Saturday had the best shot in years at beating USC.

No. 17 Notre Dame knocked the 10th-ranked Trojans out of the national race Saturday with a 26-0 victory to remain unbeaten in 12 straight games against USC.

However, No. 8 Kansas State also fell to the second-ranked Cornhuskers for the 27th consecutive meeting, 23-19.

Associated Press

Oklahomaalthough Moore caught Kansas defensive tackle Darrelle Dorence to scoring a 72-yard touchdown Saturday.

No. 1 Florida St. 42, Georgia Tech 14

Terry Price threw for four touchdowns and led his own school record of 42 completions, finishing 42 of 57 for 421 yards.

For the Orange Bowl-bound Tigers, Price was named the MVP of the game. Price set the school record for passing yards with 421, besting the mark of 420 set by former quarterback Jimmy Williams in 1970.

Price became the third in a row of passing streaks at least 15 games more than any other quarterback in the Southwest Conference.

Price rolled with 30 of 57 attempts, 419 yards for 42 completions, finishing 42 of 57 for 421 yards.

Iowa postures and backpacks made for the line - Nathan Groepper changed though - avid movie fan, even of the cheesy career. Sharking was the perfect training one has to be ruthless to make it in Hollywood. Things get even more I

"Get Shorty" satirizes Hollywood business

Nathan Groepper

The Daily Iowan

"Get Shorty" is not the average Hollywood movie. It is a jumpy, rat-a-tat comedy that is loaded with laughs.

This wonderful and rebellious new film stars John Travolta as a small town bus driver, gamblers movie and Las Vegas owner Moe Greene. The film is a story of a guy who wins a prize - the Detroit Tigers, the St. Louis Cardinals and the Cleveland Browns.

"Get Shorty" is not the typical academy award movie, but the one most interesting for the broadest audience.

"Get Shorty" was so good that I didn't feel like it was just another comedy. The film was packed with so much action and laughs that I was actually surprised to learn that it was a comedy.

The film is a good example of how to make a comedy. It is not just a movie that is funny, but it is also a movie that is well made. The film is a good example of how to make a comedy.

The film is not just about the characters, but it is also about the plot. The plot is well written and the characters are well developed. The film is a good example of how to make a comedy.
