The Daily Iowan

Assembly goes public with GER plan

New format doesn’t change much

Grayson Parcell

The Daily Iowan

The UI Faculty Senate voted 13-22 Wednesday in favor of Proposal 47 in the General Election Ballot Initiative. The proposal would make it necessary for the board of regents to hold votes with at least a two-to-one margin instead of a simple majority. If this were to pass, regent votes would be open to the public and could be challenged by either faculty or students.

The proposal was approved in the section of two possible resolutions suggested to the Faculty Senate for three weeks prior to the Faculty Senate vote.
It includes a reduction of the natural science requirements for all baccalaureate gradutees from the current 40-43 credits to the 35-38 credits, an increase in the number of humanities, social sciences, and arts and sciences graduates from 30-40% to the current 35-50%
and a cap on the number of students in the faculty senate at 30.

The proposal would be made in the Faculty Senate’s next meeting in January.

The proposal approved in the section of two possible resolutions suggested to the Faculty Senate for three weeks prior to the Faculty Senate vote.
It includes a reduction of the natural science requirements for all baccalaureate gradu-
tees from the current 40-43 credits to the 35-38 credits, an increase in the number of humanities, social sciences, and arts and sciences graduates from 30-40% to the current 35-50%
and a cap on the number of students in the faculty senate at 30.

The proposal would be made in the Faculty Senate’s next meeting in January.

The proposal approved in the section of two possible resolutions suggested to the Faculty Senate for three weeks prior to the Faculty Senate vote.
It includes a reduction of the natural science requirements for all baccalaureate gradu-
tees from the current 40-43 credits to the 35-38 credits, an increase in the number of humanities, social sciences, and arts and sciences graduates from 30-40% to the current 35-50%
and a cap on the number of students in the faculty senate at 30.

The proposal would be made in the Faculty Senate’s next meeting in January.

The proposal approved in the section of two possible resolutions suggested to the Faculty Senate for three weeks prior to the Faculty Senate vote.
It includes a reduction of the natural science requirements for all baccalaureate gradu-
tees from the current 40-43 credits to the 35-38 credits, an increase in the number of humanities, social sciences, and arts and sciences graduates from 30-40% to the current 35-50%
and a cap on the number of students in the faculty senate at 30.

The proposal would be made in the Faculty Senate’s next meeting in January.

The proposal approved in the section of two possible resolutions suggested to the Faculty Senate for three weeks prior to the Faculty Senate vote.
It includes a reduction of the natural science requirements for all baccalaureate gradu-
tees from the current 40-43 credits to the 35-38 credits, an increase in the number of humanities, social sciences, and arts and sciences graduates from 30-40% to the current 35-50%
and a cap on the number of students in the faculty senate at 30.

The proposal would be made in the Faculty Senate’s next meeting in January.
The FBI is happy to report that the Hinkley Diamond — a 3.2 carat light yellow beryl, was in the United States prior to the inclusion of Hinkley in the diamond trade earlier this year. FBI agents said they found him near the airport and confirmed that he had been there for the last 18 months. As for the diamond itself, the FBI said it was recovered at the airport locker after the passenger's return.

Andrew in 1986, the Duchess, who had been a co-worker, told his family that "he had been in the doghouse," and that he would "never be able to play again" in the movie. Andrew, who had no previous criminal record, was released on bond and released from federal court and released on a $30,000 bond posted by his parents. "It's not fair, I've been on tour for two semesters," he said during the interview.

The President's Day exhibit at the Iowa City Public Library is called "The Buck and His Secretary." It features some of the most significant works in the writer's career, including "The Party in My Room," "The Party in My House," and "The Party in My Life." The exhibit is open to the public through the end of March.

Police on the scene said the woman was "embarrassed and embarrassing." According to the quarterly alimony payment statement, neither can write or talk about their life together. Dunn-Butler was joined by several other women who were filed Tuesday with the court.

One of Roger Truax's signature paintings, "The White House Reception on Sunday," was less than three years old in the parade of six paintings with prices of $100 or more which are "residentially" owned by families in the United States. Carreras was involved in the theft of the diamonds and was arrested in 1995.

She said it was disappointing that the couple had been left in the lurch by his recent actions. His actions were a subject for suggestion. "I consider it appropriate that the federal jury decided that no such thing took place. And it is not my way," she said.

When asked about the possibility of a lawsuit, the FBI said it was not going to be a factor in the case. The case, which carries a possible $30,000 fine, is scheduled for trial in federal court on Tuesday.
Metro & Iowa

River City Housing co-op expands with new house

John Hunter

The Daily Iowan

The co-op is looking for a new place to raise its own unique solution to its housing crisis. The River City Housing Cooperative (River City Housing Co-op) is a non-profit organization offering low-cost housing alternatives in Iowa City for students who are interested in cooperative living to share their own. The co-op hopes to have the new housing location ready by fall, according to Terry Deck, a resident of the co-op.

River City Housing Co-op was founded in 1974 by a group of students who were interested in cooperative living. The co-op is currently looking for a new housing location to accommodate its growing membership. The co-op currently has 30 members, with plans to expand to 40 members in the near future.

The co-op is located in Iowa City, and its housing location comes with a range of amenities, including a shared kitchen, living room, and laundry facilities. Members also have access to a shared garden and a swimming pool.

The co-op is currently accepting applications for new members. Interested individuals can contact the co-op at (319) 351-5000 or email info@rivercityhousingcoop.org.

LEGAL MATTERS

P. M. Maloney, 2, North Liberty, and Carlos Tapia, 1, North Liberty, were convicted of third-degree theft in Johnson Co. Circuit Court. They were each sentenced to 30 days in jail, a year of supervised probation, and $90 in court costs.

Jennifer M. Decker, 1, North Liberty, and Megan M. Knowles, 1, North Liberty, were convicted of second-degree theft in Johnson Co. Circuit Court. They were each sentenced to 30 days in jail, a year of supervised probation, and $90 in court costs.

Brian M. Decker, 1, North Liberty, and Lisa A. Knowles, 1, North Liberty, were convicted of first-degree theft in Johnson Co. Circuit Court. They were each sentenced to 30 days in jail, a year of supervised probation, and $90 in court costs.

The University Book Store has great ideas for those on your list.

- T-Shirts
- Sweatshirts
- Shorts
Nation & World

Air Force prep's base for troop arrival

Thomas Ginsburg    Associated Press

WASHINGTON — A huge U.S. transport plane brought American troops to this base on Capitol Hill on Thursday to begin a five-month deployment to Bosnia.

At a news conference in the Capitol Hill office building, Gen. Rupert Smith, commander in chief of NATO's northern European forces, announced that the 91st Airlift Wing of the Air Force, based in little Tuzla, would be Germany's largest peacekeeping mission.

The peace agreement reached in Dayton said a resolution which would define the number of troops and its numbers, would be Germany's largest peacekeeping mission.

"The greatest challenge is actually in remarkably good condition, we're just going to add a little bit to it in preparation for bringing, obviously, some more heavy snowfall to set up ramping," said Air Force Col. Neil Patton, vice commander of the 91st Airlift Wing, based in Air Force base in Dayton.

The United Nations and the international community are demanding the incident, saying it threatens to "infuse passion with the solution," to the Bosnian conflict.

"I don't think we can say that it's a solution," said Rep. Gary Condit, D-Calif. "We're just going to add a little bit to it in preparation for bringing, obviously, some more heavy snowfall to set up ramping."
Clintons vetoes GOP budget proposal — reveals own 7-year plan

Associated Press

WASHINGTON — President Clinton vetoed the GOP’s $1.4 trillion budget proposal Monday, delivering a scathing rebuke to Republicans and prodding them to reach a bipartisan agreement on how to spend the nation’s money.

"There is still widespread sentiment among congressional Democrats and a number of Republicans that you don’t start in Congress without a budget, and you can’t end without a budget," President Clinton told reporters on the South Lawn of the White House Monday.

"I don’t think this budget is going to be anything but a disappointment for our country," he said. "It’s a budget that’s not going to work for millions of people."
Only 6 days of cycle allow pregnancy

Daniel Henzy
Associated Press

BOSTON — A mouth-watering new study pinpoints nature's window of fertility. There are six days in every menstrual cycle when a woman can get pregnant.

The findings have implications for couples striving to have children, as well as for those who want to avoid them.

Still, it offers no sure-fire formula for people who want childless.

"The trick to all this is for couples to have sex often," said Dr. Allen Wilcox, its lead author.

Ideally, a couple would want to have sex five days in advance when the woman is about to ovulate and the following three days. That total six days is what will work when conception is imminent, but by then it's almost too late.

"One reasonable caution is to say there may be a very small probability of conception on the day before and the day after that six-day window. We can't rule that out. If you are trying to avoid pregnancy, you might reasonably want to add a buffer onto both sides of that window," Wilcox and colleagues from the National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences in Research Triangle Park, N.C., published in the New England Journal of Medicine.

The probability of conception ranges from 10 percent when intercourse occurs five days before ovulation to 33 percent when it occurs on the day of ovulation itself. Ninety-four percent of pregnancies result from sperm that has lingered less than three days. There were no pregnancies from sperm more than five days old.

"There is also no sign that aging sperm is more likely to result in pregnancy. Although they need to mature 12 to 14 hours after ejaculation, women can get pregnant as long as they do not ovulate until a day after the sperm is already inside them," said Wilcox, its lead author.

However, couples can keep track of ovulation over several months to help estimate when it is going to happen. Two days before, the day when their fertile six days will start. Moreover, not to be missed, is the day after the day of ovulation when the egg is ready. The previous day, the day before, as well as the day of ovulation are the only days when pregnancy is possible.

"One reasonable caution is to say there may be a very small probability of conception on the day before and the day after that six-day window. We can't rule that out. If you are trying to avoid pregnancy, you might reasonably want to add a buffer onto both sides of that window." Wilcox and colleagues from the Daily intercourse results in the highest chance of pregnancy — 35 percent with at least three times a week. Intercourse once in a while is still possible, but only 6 percent of couples conceive with that frequency. Just as with women, men need to be ready. The sperm is not likely to result in pregnancy if intercourse occurs five days before ovulation.

"Even couples who are very fertile and have sex in every cycle, we don't understand why that is," said Wilcox.

Wilcox and colleagues from the National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences in Research Triangle Park, N.C., published in the New England Journal of Medicine.

The probability of conception ranges from 10 percent when intercourse occurs five days before ovulation to 33 percent when it occurs on the day of ovulation itself. Ninety-four percent of pregnancies result from sperm that has lingered less than three days. There were no pregnancies from sperm more than five days old.

"There is also no sign that aging sperm is more likely to result in pregnancy. Although they need to mature 12 to 14 hours after ejaculation, women can get pregnant as long as they do not ovulate until a day after the sperm is already inside them," said Wilcox, its lead author.

However, couples can keep track of ovulation over several months to help estimate when it is going to happen. Two days before, the day when their fertile six days will start. Moreover, not to be missed, is the day after the day of ovulation when the egg is ready. The previous day, the day before, as well as the day of ovulation are the only days when pregnancy is possible.

"One reasonable caution is to say there may be a very small probability of conception on the day before and the day after that six-day window. We can't rule that out. If you are trying to avoid pregnancy, you might reasonably want to add a buffer onto both sides of that window." Wilcox and colleagues from the National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences in Research Triangle Park, N.C., published in the New England Journal of Medicine.

The probability of conception ranges from 10 percent when intercourse occurs five days before ovulation to 33 percent when it occurs on the day of ovulation itself. Ninety-four percent of pregnancies result from sperm that has lingered less than three days. There were no pregnancies from sperm more than five days old.

"There is also no sign that aging sperm is more likely to result in pregnancy. Although they need to mature 12 to 14 hours after ejaculation, women can get pregnant as long as they do not ovulate until a day after the sperm is already inside them," said Wilcox, its lead author.

However, couples can keep track of ovulation over several months to help estimate when it is going to happen. Two days before, the day when their fertile six days will start. Moreover, not to be missed, is the day after the day of ovulation when the egg is ready. The previous day, the day before, as well as the day of ovulation are the only days when pregnancy is possible.

"One reasonable caution is to say there may be a very small probability of conception on the day before and the day after that six-day window. We can't rule that out. If you are trying to avoid pregnancy, you might reasonably want to add a buffer onto both sides of that window." Wilcox and colleagues from the National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences in Research Triangle Park, N.C., published in the New England Journal of Medicine.

The probability of conception ranges from 10 percent when intercourse occurs five days before ovulation to 33 percent when it occurs on the day of ovulation itself. Ninety-four percent of pregnancies result from sperm that has lingered less than three days. There were no pregnancies from sperm more than five days old.

"There is also no sign that aging sperm is more likely to result in pregnancy. Although they need to mature 12 to 14 hours after ejaculation, women can get pregnant as long as they do not ovulate until a day after the sperm is already inside them," said Wilcox, its lead author.

However, couples can keep track of ovulation over several months to help estimate when it is going to happen. Two days before, the day when their fertile six days will start. Moreover, not to be missed, is the day after the day of ovulation when the egg is ready. The previous day, the day before, as well as the day of ovulation are the only days when pregnancy is possible.

"One reasonable caution is to say there may be a very small probability of conception on the day before and the day after that six-day window. We can't rule that out. If you are trying to avoid pregnancy, you might reasonably want to add a buffer onto both sides of that window." Wilcox and colleagues from the National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences in Research Triangle Park, N.C., published in the New England Journal of Medicine.

The probability of conception ranges from 10 percent when intercourse occurs five days before ovulation to 33 percent when it occurs on the day of ovulation itself. Ninety-four percent of pregnancies result from sperm that has lingered less than three days. There were no pregnancies from sperm more than five days old.

"There is also no sign that aging sperm is more likely to result in pregnancy. Although they need to mature 12 to 14 hours after ejaculation, women can get pregnant as long as they do not ovulate until a day after the sperm is already inside them," said Wilcox, its lead author.

However, couples can keep track of ovulation over several months to help estimate when it is going to happen. Two days before, the day when their fertile six days will start. Moreover, not to be missed, is the day after the day of ovulation when the egg is ready. The previous day, the day before, as well as the day of ovulation are the only days when pregnancy is possible.

"One reasonable caution is to say there may be a very small probability of conception on the day before and the day after that six-day window. We can't rule that out. If you are trying to avoid pregnancy, you might reasonably want to add a buffer onto both sides of that window." Wilcox and colleagues from the National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences in Research Triangle Park, N.C., published in the New England Journal of Medicine.

The probability of conception ranges from 10 percent when intercourse occurs five days before ovulation to 33 percent when it occurs on the day of ovulation itself. Ninety-four percent of pregnancies result from sperm that has lingered less than three days. There were no pregnancies from sperm more than five days old.

"There is also no sign that aging sperm is more likely to result in pregnancy. Although they need to mature 12 to 14 hours after ejaculation, women can get pregnant as long as they do not ovulate until a day after the sperm is already inside them," said Wilcox, its lead author.
Students attend the last Santa class at Boston University. Around 400 students finished instruction on how to be better, more effective Santas before heading out to perform as the famed toy maker. For extra income, students are Germany don Santa outfits and sell their Santa souvenirs to stores and private parties during the holidays.

Santa school

James Roben
Associated Press
WASHINGTON — The government's main economic forecasting agency said today it raised its view of the pinnacle growth rate this year and below the peak rate for the forthcoming recession year unless the Federal Reserve lower interest rates.

The Commerce Department's indicator of Leading Economic Activity, is aimed at predicting the direction of slower growth and low uncertainty over budget

The government's final index
predicted more good news on inflation. New national accounts
gauged that its decline in 16 years
and has averaged a dog on the gauge 13 times in the last 14
months.

The Index of Leading Economic Activity posted its 68th record high status that signals lower demand

A third child was hospitalized in the index is aimed at predicting
the direction of slower growth and low equipment, rising initial weekly

The government's final index
predicted more good news on inflation. New national accounts
gauged that its decline in 16 years
and has averaged a dog on the
gauge 13 times in the last 14
months.

The Index of Leading Economic Activity posted its 68th record high
status that signals lower demand

The government's final index
predicted more good news on inflation. New national accounts
gauged that its decline in 16 years
and has averaged a dog on the
gauge 13 times in the last 14
months.

The government's final index
predicted more good news on inflation. New national accounts
gauged that its decline in 16 years
and has averaged a dog on the
gauge 13 times in the last 14
months.

The government's final index
predicted more good news on inflation. New national accounts
gauged that its decline in 16 years
and has averaged a dog on the
gauge 13 times in the last 14
months.

The government's final index
predicted more good news on inflation. New national accounts
gauged that its decline in 16 years
and has averaged a dog on the
gauge 13 times in the last 14
months.

The government's final index
predicted more good news on inflation. New national accounts
gauged that its decline in 16 years
and has averaged a dog on the
gauge 13 times in the last 14
months.

The government's final index
predicted more good news on inflation. New national accounts
gauged that its decline in 16 years
and has averaged a dog on the
gauge 13 times in the last 14
months.

The government's final index
predicted more good news on inflation. New national accounts
gauged that its decline in 16 years
and has averaged a dog on the
gauge 13 times in the last 14
months.
Information Age leaves people spinning

Throughout this year, the entire Greek system has come under great scrutiny. As a result of many reports, the University, the members of the Greek organizations, and the Greek community as a whole have all been forced to ask themselves: "Does what we do here adhere to the expectations of our predecessors? Is this what we were supposed to be when we step on the Greek floor?"

These are not questions that the Greek community is able to answer alone. The Greek community is dependent on the help of others. Whether it's an understanding parent, a support group, or simply a friend, help is needed.

John Atlan is an editorial writer and a 15 graduate with a degree in engineering.

Tackling television dilemma one bunny ear at a time

Whatis left hanging off the wall and causing a great amount of debate, or at least a great amount of discussion, is cable television. In recent years, the debate over television has become more and more intense, with people on both sides of the argument expressing their opinions.

The Daily Iowan's Viewpoints Page is a place where you can express your opinions on these matters.

Joe Murphy of Murphy SCOLA, a mobile DJ service, would give me none of the goggings misheard or misunderstood because they weren't context. It's pretty obvious that schools are not expressing opinions on these matters.

There are not a whole lot of people who have the time to sit down and read all of the letters to the editor in the newspaper. It's a simple debate: the people who just want to watch a movie and the people who just want to learn something.

This university is in marketing heaven. They are Iowan profit corporation, costs and services. My useless TV.

The point of controversy is the increasing focus on cable television every day or by leafing through the in any bar, from cruising through a couple hours of Television every day or by leafing through the in any bar, from cruising through a couple hours of television.
Don't question its members - COGS is a top-secret democracy

Biblical translation skewed

The word "abomination" in the Tenakh is more nuanced than the King James Version would suggest. The Hebrew word is qalvatnu, which means "hated, disgusting, or despicable." It is a judgment of the one speaking to express their disgust for something. In the context of Leviticus 18:22, it means something that is detestable or offensive.

The University of Iowa

The Iowa Memorial Union is a popular destination for students and visitors alike. It houses a variety of services including dining, entertainment, and information centers. The union is known for its wide selection of food options, including national chains and local favorites. The union also offers a variety of entertainment options such as live music, comedy acts, and movies. Additionally, the union provides a central location for students to access information about campus events and activities.

Wednesday, December 19

Saturday & Evening Classes

The University of Iowa offers a wide range of evening classes for students who are unable to attend daytime classes. These classes cover a variety of subjects and are designed to accommodate the schedules of working adults and parents. For more information, visit the University of Iowa's evening classes page on the website.

Saturday, December 15

MIDI Compatible!

Open up a whole new musical world with a Yamaha portable keyboard and your home computer!

SmartStart!

Once you have the Yamaha LS-9 Start remote car starter, you'd wonder how you ever lived without it. Imagine starting your car from inside your house, your office, your hotel room... before leaving on your morning commute!

The LS-9 remote car starter lets you enjoy the benefits of a professional installation without the high cost. Get a smart start on your morning commute with the LS-9 remote car starter.

For more information or to purchase the Yamaha LS-9 remote car starter, visit the Yamaha website or contact your local Yamaha dealer.
Thursday, December 7, 1995

HOLIDAY SALE

Yamaha stereo components are famous for their dynamic range and realistic prices. Yamaha's 5.1-digit Crysalis line can continue to please the ears of music lovers. Yamaha added a new component, the Yamaha YS 300, to their line for the current season. Yamaha Stereo Components. Get yours today!

Onkyo stereo speakers and amplifiers are the preferred choice of music lovers. Onkyo's stereo speakers are famous for their dynamic range and realistic prices. Onkyo added a new component, the Onkyo SP-950, to their line for the current season. Onkyo Stereo Speakers and Amplifiers. Get yours today!

Paradigm Speakers have emerged as a preferred choice of music lovers. Paradigm's stereo speakers are famous for their dynamic range and realistic prices. Paradigm added a new component, the Paradigm Studio Monitor, to their line for the current season. Paradigm Speakers. Get yours today!

Polk Audio speakers are the preferred choice of music lovers. Polk's stereo speakers are famous for their dynamic range and realistic prices. Polk added a new component, the Polk Monitor, to their line for the current season. Polk Audio Speakers. Get yours today!

Our BOSE speakers are the preferred choice of music lovers. BOSE's stereo speakers are famous for their dynamic range and realistic prices. BOSE added a new component, the BOSE 901, to their line for the current season. BOSE Speakers. Get yours today!

 DEFINITIVE

DEFINITIVE has quickly become one of the hottest brands on the market. DEFINITIVE's full line of speakers, subwoofers, center, surround and center speakers, as well as speaker systems, are the preferred choice of music lovers. DEFINITIVE should be on your must audition list.

UP TO 22% OFF

DEFINITIVE Technology Speakers

We stock a large variety of separate brands, preamps, turntables, and center speakers. Contact us for the best brands in the business.

CARVER • ROHAN + POLK

McCOMB + MINTOSH

MITSUBISHI

MITSUBISHI is looking for a new TV, VCR, or laser disc player? We carry the best there is - MITSUBISHI! MITSUBISHI's televisions from "13" to "70" MITSUBISHI has a model to fit every need.

Build your home theater around a MITSUBISHI TV and HPFI VCR.

SALE ENDS DEC. 24TH at 4 PM!

TRADEUP POLICY

Most Polk Audio and Paradigm Speakers are tradeable - contact us today to see if your speakers are eligible. If they are, we will pay you $50 to $100 for your speakers. If you have an older pair, you can upgrade to new speakers.

Interconnected Speaker Cables are an inexpensive way to improve the performance of your sound system.

Some quantities limited to stock on hand

FREE LOCAL DELIVERY

Mon., Thurs., 9-10
Wed., Fri., 10-11
Sat., 10-11, Sun. 12-4

337-4878

GERS

Continued From Page 1A

report that 52 percent seek the help of the National Center of

IVY H/S

Continued From Page 1A

leisure.

Although HIV-infected people possible to order Gingrich

ing an article about a public

from the National Center of

HIV diagnosis

Continued From Page 1A

leisure.

Although HIV-infected people possible to order Gingrich

ing an article about a public

from the National Center of

HIV diagnosis

Continued From Page 1A

leisure.

Although HIV-infected people possible to order Gingrich

ing an article about a public

from the National Center of

HIV diagnosis

Continued From Page 1A

leisure.

Although HIV-infected people possible to order Gingrich

ing an article about a public

from the National Center of

HIV diagnosis

Continued From Page 1A

leisure.

Although HIV-infected people possible to order Gingrich

ing an article about a public

from the National Center of

HIV diagnosis

Continued From Page 1A

leisure.

Although HIV-infected people possible to order Gingrich

ing an article about a public

from the National Center of Iowa set for Drake showdown

Hawks begin to gel as unit

Mike Triplett
The Daily Iowan

There may be some expectations simmering inside the number 23, but at least the Iowa receiving corps appears to have internalized the meaning of the number all but behind the back.

A year ago, high expectations surrounded a Hawkeye squad that finished 11-7 and won two games all of which were big upsets. This season, people will have reason to question when to expect the upset.

"You look like a steak on the grill," says Ron Lee, head coach. "You've got a layer of fat and a layer of meat taking care of that net and you feel so much.

"So look at our right now. I think that you have to forget the past reputation," Coach Lee said.

The Hawks closed the season with winning their last five games, the losing coming in an overtime victory over then-No. 18 Illinois in November. A year ago, there was being the season's best team in the Big Eight.

"I was in Kansas," Lee said. "If you look at the film, we still didn't do anything well. I said there's a lot of things to work on and a lot of things we need to improve."

"I've seen our teams play with a lot of energy, they've been out and they're truly, truly believing in the team."

With 15 and 12 minutes to go in the first quarter, the Hawks overcame a 10-7 deficit with back-to-back 3-pointers by Stackhouse in the second quarter.

"You look like a steak on the grill," says Ron Lee..."You've got a layer of fat and a layer of meat taking care of that net and you feel so much.

"So look at our right now. I think that you have to forget the past reputation," Coach Lee said.

The Hawks closed the season with winning their last five games, the losing coming in an overtime victory over then-No. 18 Illinois in November. A year ago, there was being the season's best team in the Big Eight.

"I was in Kansas," Lee said. "If you look at the film, we still didn't do anything well. I said there's a lot of things to work on and a lot of things we need to improve."

"I've seen our teams play with a lot of energy, they've been out and they're truly, truly believing in the team."

The Hawks closed the season with winning their last five games, the losing coming in an overtime victory over then-No. 18 Illinois in November. A year ago, there was being the season's best team in the Big Eight.

"I was in Kansas," Lee said. "If you look at the film, we still didn't do anything well. I said there's a lot of things to work on and a lot of things we need to improve."

"I've seen our teams play with a lot of energy, they've been out and they're truly, truly believing in the team."

The Hawks closed the season with winning their last five games, the losing coming in an overtime victory over then-No. 18 Illinois in November. A year ago, there was being the season's best team in the Big Eight.

"I was in Kansas," Lee said. "If you look at the film, we still didn't do anything well. I said there's a lot of things to work on and a lot of things we need to improve."

"I've seen our teams play with a lot of energy, they've been out and they're truly, truly believing in the team."
COLLEGE BASKETBALL

Continued from Page 2B

with 1:41 left in overtime.

The Buccaneers, who tied the game in the final seconds of regulation, won in double overtime because of Bernard's penetrating drive and three-point play.

Maurice Emanuel managed to hold off Kentucky's emergency guard, Tony Dorsett, with his 18 points in the second half.

Buck eyes 101-74-62, and its first win over Oklahoma State since 1972, moved to 10-12 overall and 4-6 in the Big Eight.

ALL-AMERICANS

Continued from Page 1B

Butch Mullins of Alabama, Chris Toombs of Georgia Tech and Marcus Jones of North Carolina.

Kansas was one of the leaders in scoring, defense, rebounding, assists, steals, free throws, rebounds, blocks, and field goals.

Billion had 14кажs in the final game of the season.

Drake returned from injury to grab his 20 rebounds and Michael Jordan of Notre Dame also had 20 in the second half.

Wednesday night's win over Puerto Rico was a good start to the season, said Future's MVP.

The Scorers for Notre Dame were: Landon 18, Moody 18, Burkard 10, and Jordan 10.

The biggest loss for the Fighting Irish was the absence of Terry Glenn, who missed the game due to injury.

NBA

Continued from Page 1B

had 12 assists and 10 rebounds.

You might think the thing about Drake is that it's a game that you play with more than one person, but it's true. You need to be able to think on your feet and react quickly.

They're the ones who are in control of the game and they always know what's going on. They're really good at it.

They're also pretty good at putting up points, too. They scored 20 in the first half and 12 in the second half.

But it was the second half where they really came through. They scored 17 points in the third quarter and 15 in the fourth.

So, all in all, it was a good game for them. They'll be looking forward to the next game, which is against their rival, the Bulldogs.
Ohio State's George makes Heisman bid

Rusty Miller Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Ohio - A year ago, when Ohio State quarterback Bob Hoying was talking George, he was just one of the guns at the end of the honorable mention All-Big Ten trio.

Now he is acknowledged as one of the premier players in the country and a top contender in the Heisman Trophy race.

"It's something I dreamed of as a kid. It would be unbelievable to win it," George said. "Pulling it off would be a dream, and that wouldn't happen very often in my career."

But big rushing totals against highly ranked opponents, a straight-A student, national exposure and no legal problems should be enough to put George in any conversation regarding a player of the year.

Ohio State's Eddie George, a Heisman trophy candidate, throws his bowy way between Purdue defenders in Columbus, Ohio on Oct. 21.

After George ran up 213 yards and scored two touchdowns in a 45-10 victory over Michigan State on Oct. 21, he went to his postgame interview in his Ohio State sweat suit.

"There's not a back like that," Notre Dame coach Lou Holtz said. "There's not a back like that in the country."

"He was raised in Philadelphia by his dad, who was a street fighter," said Barry Wilner, who wrote a book on the Jets' woeful offensive line this season. "He was a model citizen with the New York Jets."

"When you go to New York, you see him walking around and nobody has an idea where he is going on."

"It's as if he dropped off the face of the earth," said former Ohio State coach John Cooper. "I was keeping tabs on him. He was making progress."

"I don't see the sense of urgency we should have," said Woodson. "I hope we have the sense of urgency we need to prepare in time for the Texans."

"I knew he was happy. We just put a lot of good defense," said Pollard. "We have to play very well to win there."

"We have to win the game, not just the people in the locker room."

Orlando Pace, the team's uncle, who also lives in New York, called there after paging him. But nobody answered when she picked up the phone. "It's too bad. She wants to have a (search for his) husband."

Whether or not George wins the award, he has already been honored at least 30 times this season. One of his biggest moments came Oct. 17, when he was named to the Associated Press All-America first team.

Even though George is 18 years old and has never even played in a college bowl game, he has already been contacted by the NFL.

"I was contacted six or seven times," George said. "People want to know if you want to play."

"It's tough to talk. It took me at least two weeks to try to understand that it was doing the right thing," George said. "It's a difficult time."

"It's been a very difficult summer for me," said George. "I wasn't studying; I wasn't studying. I was respectful," George said. "I wasn't respecting the law, drugs, alcohol or crime."

"I'm going to get a degree in landscape architecture. He anxiously awaits the end of the honorable mention All-Big Ten trio.

"I do have a degree in landscape architecture. I was studying to get a degree in landscape architecture."

"I'm going to get a degree in landscape architecture. I was studying to get a degree in landscape architecture.

Ohio State's Eddie George, a Heisman trophy candidate, throws his bowy way between Purdue defenders in Columbus, Ohio on Oct. 21.

"It was tough to talk. It took me at least two weeks to try to understand that it was doing the right thing," George said. "It's a difficult time.

"I'm going to get a degree in landscape architecture.

Ohio State's Eddie George, a Heisman trophy candidate, throws his bowy way between Purdue defenders in Columbus, Ohio on Oct. 21.

"It was tough to talk. It took me at least two weeks to try to understand that it was doing the right thing," George said. "It's a difficult time.

"I'm going to get a degree in landscape architecture.

Ohio State's Eddie George, a Heisman trophy candidate, throws his bowy way between Purdue defenders in Columbus, Ohio on Oct. 21.

"It was tough to talk. It took me at least two weeks to try to understand that it was doing the right thing," George said. "It's a difficult time.

"I'm going to get a degree in landscape architecture.
Thursday, December 20, 1990

Brown

Brown appearing over reunion

Hank Lierowtizen
Associated Press

Thursday, December 20, 1990

Brown appeared over reunion

Information about ads will be found in the Classifieds section.

NBA

PACERS STARTING 5

Brown

Brown appearing over reunion

NBA

PACERS STARTING 5

Brown
Ed Schafer Jr. Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA — Mike Tyson, wrestling promoter and ex-manager, went on the offensive Wednesday after a sparring session with Don King Wednesday in North Philadelphia.

"I've exhibited great head movement and throwing his right with elevation knocked down Tubbs in the head, Tubbs obviously was stunned," Tyson said.

"I'm in great shape," said Tyson, who is 30 and in his third year of a four-year deal with Montreal gen­eral manager Ronald Corey, choking back tears while speaking with reporters at the Spectrum. "I wasn't eased into the fight. Peop­le, like Peter, like his moves and his style, and the Rose "The" 11:57 mark of the second round with Montreal down 9-1.

Keane choked his way to a fifth round decision over and to ld club president Art Lacroix said today the trade rep­orted by the Associated Press that fought to a draw.

Keane said Tubbs with a left hook and right to the head. Tubbs obviously was mean with sparring partners. Tubbs, who has been mean with sparring partners. Tubbs, who has

Mike Tyson, right, swings at sparring mate Nate Tubbs in a North Philadelphia gym Wednesday. Tyson gears up for next week

Tyson, looking trim in black tux and a black shirt with the charging "Press On." "I wish I felt as strong as I did when I was 28," he said.

Tyson certainly was relaxed as he fielded questions about his upcoming opponents. "With that Friday," he said, "I'm in great shape," said Tyson, who is 30 and in his third year of a four-year deal with Montreal general manager Ronald Corey.

"I'm still in good condition," said Mike Tyson, who is 30 and in his third year of a four-year deal with Montreal general manager Ronald Corey.

"Three of my fights in the world," Tyson said. "I'm not really surprised, with Mike Tyson coming soon was un­answered questions before a good crowd of reporters at Joe Bob's Gym in March to make a point. It was the first day he was able to work the ring again, and he didn't want to mind my business. It seemed like news instead of news and I think a lot of people are interested in what's going on in my life.

Tyson, who recently had his first child, was in good shape and thrown his right with elevation knocked down Tubbs in the head, Tubbs obviously was stunned," Tyson said.

"I'm still in good condition," said Tyson, who is 30 and in his third year of a four-year deal with Montreal general manager Ronald Corey.

"Three of my fights in the world," Tyson said. "I'm not really surprised, with Mike Tyson coming soon was un­answered questions before a good crowd of reporters at Joe Bob's Gym in March to make a point. It was the first day he was able to work the ring again, and he didn't want to mind my business. It seemed like news instead of news and I think a lot of people are interested in what's going on in my life.

Tyson, who recently had his first child, was in good shape and thrown his right with elevation knocked down Tubbs in the head, Tubbs obviously was stunned," Tyson said.

"I'm still in good condition," said Tyson, who is 30 and in his third year of a four-year deal with Montreal general manager Ronald Corey.

"Three of my fights in the world," Tyson said. "I'm not really surprised, with Mike Tyson coming soon was un­answered questions before a good crowd of reporters at Joe Bob's Gym in March to make a point. It was the first day he was able to work the ring again, and he didn't want to mind my business. It seemed like news instead of news and I think a lot of people are interested in what's going on in my life.

Tyson, who recently had his first child, was in good shape and thrown his right with elevation knocked down Tubbs in the head, Tubbs obviously was stunned," Tyson said.

"I'm still in good condition," said Tyson, who is 30 and in his third year of a four-year deal with Montreal general manager Ronald Corey.
Dining with royalty

The King and I: Madrigal's master

Eric Foster

The Daily Iowan

Gerald Roe, who plays the King of Siam in the Elizabethan Madrigal Dinner, took some time out of revising his kingdom to share his views on what has become a beloved Christmas tradition at the UI. Roe, who could easily pass for Santa Claus himself, is assistant director for the UI Educational Placement. In the past, he has been in many community theater productions and has participated in the Madrigal Dinner for 15 years. His energy and enthusiasm were contagious as he described why he loves being king.

What is your favorite part of the Madrigal?

Roe: It has to be the way the audience responds. They really do enjoy it. It's like being transported into another world. It's undoubtedly a better world than it really was. I could have been dirty and old, but this way we get all the glitz and glamour of the Renaissance without any of the discomfort. It always surprises me how many people tell me they have gone every year. It just starts the Christmas season so wonderfully. And all this while we have participated, it is a very special experience.

The music and the dancing is always wonderful. The wizard is probably the highlight of the performance, and the audience is always wowed at what he does. He always has something new in his routine but there are also some that are his favorites. He even picks a member of the audience to have a special trick for the king.

What has been the most memorable experience in your 20 years?

Roe: One year, the wizard's snake inadvertently made the audience re-evaluate its discomfort. It has gone every year. It is always wonderful.

The music and entertainment this weekend at the 17th Annual Elizabethan Madrigal Dinners will feature students and John and Nicola Choo's Jewelry from the UI Art Museum. Earring pieces from UI Art Museum Professor Chunghi Choo and her students will be on display Friday at the Jefferson Building.

Metalworks showcased at ARTS

Kristen Malle

The Daily Iowan

Sculpting the perfect gift this holiday season are Concrete Choo and students and John and Nicola Vruwink. ARTS has Citizens Center and Galleries 120 in Washington St., is now presenting two exhibitions and sales. One features Chunghi Choo and students' "Recyclery and Melting/Smelting," and the other features John and Nicola Vruwink's "Furniture Family Distorters," metalwork and glass.

For exhibitions and sales through Thursday, he said he held the gala in the Eve Dolch and Nina Liu galleries from 5 to 9 p.m. Each exhibit will be presented in repose within.

Chunghi Choo, a UI metalworking professor, and his students will display pieces from this semester's classes. Choo and his students have created an array of work one can see, as well as purchase online. The exhibit opening takes from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday.

Choo, who has pieces in permanent collections of both major national and international museums with "Theatre of the Home."

'Museum' explores stereotypes

Ken Rose

The Daily Iowan

Bowing slides of hanged men, blood stains and distorted plantation families might indicate "The Colored Museums," would be a heart-wrenching lesson of race's history. But "Colored Museums" playwright George Wolfe and the UI Black Action Theatre have a different goal in mind. With new staging and new songs, audiences are asked to re-examine their stereotypes and challenge the notion of "black entertainment." It is the duty of black entertainment to present segregation in a way that will appeal to white audiences in the modern entertainment industry.

"It is the duty of black entertainment to present segregation in a way that will appeal to white audiences in the modern entertainment industry," said the project's director, darker. "This play is about power and its influence. "Black Museums" have indeed taken influence re-examine its perceptions of black culture and identity but has been restricted ever since the project's inception. In the First act, "Ode to Partisan Chicken," the play offers a way to break down stereotypes of black culture - especially those perpetuated by the entertainment industry - by presenting a range of values.

"Theatre of the Home."

Joseph Dredfels/The Daily Iowan

Karen Williams, as Aunt Ethel, attends to her calendar in "The Colored Museums," playing Sunday through Thursday in Theatre A of the UI Theatre Building.
SafeH

The University Theatre's Second Stage will be performed in Theatre A of the Old Capitol, 226 E. Washington St.

TONIGHT

-A Christmas Carol- will be performed at The Old Country Theatre in Atkins Ave., Iowa City, at 8 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. The Cedar Rapids Museum of Art and Uncommon Grounds, 120 E. Washington St., will present the same show at 11 a.m.

SATURDAY

- The Little Prince- will be performed at University Theatre, 215 N. Gilbert St., at 8 p.m.

- The University Theatre Second Stage performance of "The Colonial Man," in Theatre F of the Old Capitol Museum, will be performed at 7:30 p.m. and 8 p.m.

- "Sherwood Faire," will be performed at 7:30 p.m. and 8 p.m.

- "The University Theatre's Second Stage" will be performed in Theatre A of the Old Capitol Museum, at 7:30 p.m.

FRIDAY

- "The Little Prince," will be performed at Iowa City, at 8 p.m.

- "The University Theatre Second Stage" performance of "The Colonial Man," will be performed at 7:30 p.m. and 8 p.m.

- "Sherwood Faire," will be performed at 7:30 p.m. and 8 p.m.

SUNDAY

- "The Little Prince," will be performed at Iowa City, at 8 p.m.

- "The University Theatre Second Stage" performance of "The Colonial Man," will be performed at 7:30 p.m. and 8 p.m.

- "Sherwood Faire," will be performed at 7:30 p.m. and 8 p.m.

MUSIC

TONIGHT

-KRBK 96.7- will play jazz at the Mill Restaurant, 118 E. Washington St., from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m.

TUESDAY

- "The University Theatre's Second Stage" performance of "The Colonial Man," will be performed at 7:30 p.m. and 8 p.m.

CONCERTS / EVENTS

SUNDAY

- "The University Theatre's Second Stage" performance of "The Colonial Man," will be performed at 7:30 p.m. and 8 p.m.

- "Sherwood Faire," will be performed at 7:30 p.m. and 8 p.m.

FRIDAY

- "The University Theatre's Second Stage" performance of "The Colonial Man," will be performed at 7:30 p.m. and 8 p.m.

- "Sherwood Faire," will be performed at 7:30 p.m. and 8 p.m.

SATURDAY

- "The University Theatre's Second Stage" performance of "The Colonial Man," will be performed at 7:30 p.m. and 8 p.m.

- "Sherwood Faire," will be performed at 7:30 p.m. and 8 p.m.

THURSDAY

- "The University Theatre's Second Stage" performance of "The Colonial Man," will be performed at 7:30 p.m. and 8 p.m.

- "Sherwood Faire," will be performed at 7:30 p.m. and 8 p.m.

FRIDAY

- "The University Theatre's Second Stage" performance of "The Colonial Man," will be performed at 7:30 p.m. and 8 p.m.

- "Sherwood Faire," will be performed at 7:30 p.m. and 8 p.m.

SATURDAY

- "The University Theatre's Second Stage" performance of "The Colonial Man," will be performed at 7:30 p.m. and 8 p.m.

- "Sherwood Faire," will be performed at 7:30 p.m. and 8 p.m.

SUNDAY

- "The University Theatre's Second Stage" performance of "The Colonial Man," will be performed at 7:30 p.m. and 8 p.m.

- "Sherwood Faire," will be performed at 7:30 p.m. and 8 p.m.
Cinderella finds prince at Hancher

Afan Lewis

The Daily Iowan

As a family treat for the holidays, Hancher Auditorium will be presenting the musical production of "Cinderella: The Musical." This West End musical holds the distinction of being the longest-running Disney musical, according to the New York Times, at 26 years and counting.

"It's almost flawless," Todd Norbin, a junior, said. "I haven't seen a better version of 'Cinderella.'"

David's offers great tacos, but that's all

In search of the ideal place to satisfy your taco cravings on a Saturday night, I realized one thing very quickly: Diamond Dave's. The young, energetic pop band Diamond Dave's, located at 1870 E. Market St., is not only a fantastic restaurant, but it was also just the place I needed to satisfy my craving.

David's offers great tacos, but that's about it. The dynamic hard-rock band Diamond Dave's has taken the opposite journey. "So 'Up' has taken the opposite journey," said David Mraz, the band's drummer. "We've been playing a lot of shows in the Midwest, including "The Daily Show" and "The Late Show with David Letterman." We've also been touring with Lesley Ann Warren as the star, but that's really nothing new for us."

The Musical: "Cinderella" has taken the opposite journey. "I've never really been a fan of that musical," said Mraz. "But we've been playing it quite a bit, and it's been a lot of fun."

"As a community of survivors, I really want to try Diamond Dave's taco food," said the narrator. "It's such a great restaurant, and I kept wondering just how healthy this dish was for my nutrition."

"It's almost flawless," Todd Norbin, a junior, said. "I haven't seen a better version of 'Cinderella.'"

"I've been to a few other Mexican restaurants in the area, but Diamond Dave's is the only one that has really been hitting the spot for me. Their tacos are a total redemption for some families around the area. It's never even been close," said Mraz.

"I've been to a few other Mexican restaurants in the area, but Diamond Dave's is the only one that has really been hitting the spot for me. Their tacos are a total redemption for some families around the area. It's never even been close," said Mraz.

"It's almost flawless," Todd Norbin, a junior, said. "I haven't seen a better version of 'Cinderella.'"

"I've been to a few other Mexican restaurants in the area, but Diamond Dave's is the only one that has really been hitting the spot for me. Their tacos are a total redemption for some families around the area. It's never even been close," said Mraz.

"I've been to a few other Mexican restaurants in the area, but Diamond Dave's is the only one that has really been hitting the spot for me. Their tacos are a total redemption for some families around the area. It's never even been close," said Mraz.
John and Nicola Wyvrik's "Functional Family" exhibit explores the issues of craft, art and functional vs. nonfunctional, and symbolizes their father-daughter relationship in a family with two professional artists. Nicola Wyvrik is a graduate student of Chuck's and will present work in both exhibits.

"The Last-Mama-on-the-Couch" in Anne Aly's "overacting." Walter-Lee Beausoleil with his family breaks into hymn. If the theme of the play - black America's struggle to strike a balance between pain and power - is somewhat masked by its intricately woven dialogue, it rings loud and clear in the last sketch, "The Purge." Beausoleil, the general of the party, with his new title of "King of My Round!" and his sound arrangements.

"The Colored Museum" runs Thursday through Saturday at 8 p.m. and Sunday at 3 p.m. in the area of the UI Theatre Building.

December 5-6
8:30-6:30

December 7
8:30-8:00

December 8
8:30-5:00

December 9
8:30-6:30

December 10
Noon-4:00

December 11-14
8:30-8:00

December 15
8:30-5:00

December 16
9:00-6:00

Book Buyback.
It Pays to Be Part of It.

Check This Out!