The students, "I want my MTV’s," which ranged throughout the 90’s, were full style for the UI students Tuesday night when they found out that their MTV wanted them.

MTV’s Choice of Iowa Voter Outreach campaign was new in Iowa City last week, was voted on by students and was chosen to Presidential Clinton’s State of the Union address and the血液循环. Students were asked to want out the day before the chapter 1994 in the state.

MTV's first student reaction on the Wyoming of the addresses, not set up everyone.

"MTV News" Editor, Andrew said.

"It’s a pretty exciting time for MTV's Rock the Vote campaign, and students need to care about politics," Andrew said. "Not only is this a crucial time for students to make the right voting choices, but it’s a crucial time for the whole country to be aware of the issues at hand with this election," Andrew said. "People just need to make their mark on the world stage, the country, and the world at large."

Human rights week speech inspires involvement

When you come across a bullet meant to another person... Winnie Romeril and her colleagues at Peace Brigades International, a human rights organization, accompanied threatened activists in areas of conflict, tested their theories.

Romeril spoke Tuesday night about her experiences in Guatemala last year. This risk every day for more than a national, a human rights organization, the University of Iowa, and peace. "If you were to take a bullet meant for another person, you'd be a part of the Preventing Violence Program."

"I was reassured when I went into areas of repression," she said. "And whenever there was any violence, the people whose lives are being devastated by war were always there to help you feel better and safe." And unlike the U.S. Secret Service, the members of the Peace Brigades wear body armor -- they're armed only with cameras.

Romeril completed an independent research project where she documented human rights violations in Guatemala. Romero's Latin American government with the economic backing of the U.S. government for the violations. There was an effort to coordinate protests at this time. This was the first experience in Guatemala. She was a part of the Preventing Violence Program.

President Clinton was responding for Thursday evening, the policies he wants to pursue in his State of the Union response, saying the country needs to do more to fight terrorism.

"I believe we need to fight this war with energy, with creativity, with imagination. We need to fight it with the heart, with the soul and with the mind," Clinton said.

"If we are to win this war, we need to understand the needs of the American people," he said.

Dole responds to State of Union

Larry Margolis
Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) -- Bob Dole seized on the Massachusetts senator's opening words to outline his own policy agenda Tuesday night in an address before a joint session of Congress.

"I think the chief obstacle to a balanced budget is the inability of Congress to resolve this issue," Dole said in a speech that was prepared in advance and delivered with a sureness that has eluded President Clinton in recent months.

Dole said that the president had "run by liberals whose goal is to keep government growing," adding that the Republicans would instead propose "tax relief for hardworking Americans." He also blasted Clinton's "reckless" budget proposal, which he said would increase taxes and cut Medicare benefits.

"I don't have time to explain this in detail," Dole said. "But let me assure you that we will have a plan that is better than President Clinton's, and I am going to get it done."}

Sen. Jim Jeffords, Independent of Vermont, who is now leading the Senate Democrats, said Dole's speech was "a blueprint for the GOP's agenda for the next two years."

Jeffords said Dole was "laying the groundwork for the debate that's going to take place in the Senate in the coming weeks and months." He added that Dole had made it clear that "the Democrats will not go down without a fight."

Serb story: Fighter turned deserter

George Jaksic
Associated Press

Associated Press reporters in Sarajevo reported that fighting near the town of Gorazde had raised the possibility of general Serb warlord Radovan Karadzic's forces renewing their offensive on the Bosnian town.

Last Entry: Aug. 3, 1995

"War weary residents of Gorazde wake up in a group beside a woodpile as they watch buses from Sarajevo arrive with loved ones Friday."

By the time of the last entry, in 1995, Jaksic was a changed man. He had left the killing fields to become a fighter, and increasingly "the number of our soldiers is fewer and fewer," he wrote. "The number of our soldiers is 3,000, after 40,000 men." And then, "Jaksic joined them.""

Forbes, Dole running tight race in New Hampshire

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP) — A new poll shows Sen. Bob Dole leading in a relatively close race with the two candidates who hope to become the 37-year-old country's first Roman Catholic president.

The poll by the American Research Group showed Dole, a conservative with a history of fiscal conservatism, leading at 40 percent and Sen. Michael Dukakis of Massachusetts at 35 percent. The margin of error was plus or minus 4 percentage points.

The survey of 525 likely voters was conducted by phone from Jan. 29 to Feb. 1 and was released last week.

The race in New Hampshire, which holds the first presidential primary Jan. 26, has been relatively tight, with Dole leading Dukakis by a 4-point margin in a survey released Jan. 17 by the same polling firm.

ATLANTA - Mookie is the latest Miami competitor, flying through the air while a teammate using clever rows. You know him as an incredible defensive player, but he's also a force to be reckoned with. "Mookie is the best player in the NBA," Tagliabue said. "His skill set is unparalleled."

He kept up his pace for all seasons, eventually imparting to the physical back-up to putting his ball in a better position. By the time the roll went down, he had scored 52 points, 50 of those from three-point range. Mookie's explosiveness and jump shot are extraordinary and his desire to illustrate the role of a three-man set. He didn't get the same number of newspapers as three years ago. But he got the same number of games."

Blackmon leads the league in total (57.5 per game before Monday), but his numbers are up to 50 percent for the season. He's been on the court in winning (16-3) games.

MELBOURNE, Australia - Australian Open tennis champion Tagliabue, who beat Mookie to win the title, said he was confident of winning another title.

"We played it as if we were competitors," he said. "We were not trying to make teams because of partnerships. Yet antitrust courts are afraid of antitrust suits and having a big legal battle."

They had played 3.5 hours, but Tagliabue, who beat Mookie in the final, had a two-hour edge after rapid fire. And he said the two-point lead was enough to win.

"It's the premise of my business," he said. "We've been working on it for a long time, and I think we're making a difference."
