Hundreds picket UIUC

More job cuts, exec pay raises spur protest

Cory Sossa

"When you ring your call bell, one of those valued Top 10 administrators is not going to come to help your mom get on the bed," Ann Reppun, a UIUC registered nurse, said.

"I'm not waiting for your patient's call," Reppun said. "I'm waiting for people exiting the hospital. "If I'm here, there's someone here to take care of you when you ring your bell."

The hospital's decision to oust nursing positions while giving raises to administrators decreases the nurses' importance to patients, Reppun said.

Reppun, a UIUC registered nurse, said the hospital has always enjoyed a solid reputation for patient care because of its adequate staffing, and she views the recent cuts and administration's negative impact on the future of patient care.

"This thing is market-driven," Reppun said. "It's the business end of it."

The session was to talk with a 10,000-strong vacuum among its leaders. The movement is to reconnect urban and suburban members by trying to shut their eyes to the context of the gang's lucrative heroin and cocaine trades. "This thing is market-driven," she said.

The session was to talk with a 10,000-strong vacuum among its leaders. The movement is to reconnect urban and suburban members by trying to shut their eyes to the context of the gang's lucrative heroin and cocaine trades. "This thing is market-driven," she said.
Stone named president of APA division

Growing up in the University of Iowa Counseling Service and professor in the department before being elected the new president of Division 22, the Association of Counseling Psychologists, Stone will take over the position from Janice Phillips, who has had the office for the past 3 years.

Stone was named best leader and best service to the University at Saturday's 57th annual awards ceremony, which recognizes students, faculty, and alumni who have made significant contributions to the university.

"We are very excited to welcome Dr. Stone to the University at Iowa as the new president of Division 22," said Jim Day, coordinator of counseling services.

The Iowa Daily.jpg

Angela Basett takes top honors at Image Awards

PHAMASIA: Calif. (AP) - Angela Bassett, actress who has starred in such movies as "The Last of the Mohicans," "What's Love Got to Do with It?" and "What's Love Got to Do with It?" has been named the new president of the African American Film Critics Association.

Bassett was named best lead actress at the Image Awards, which recognize African American excellence in film and television.

"We are very excited to welcome Angela Bassett to the Image Awards," said James Brown, president of the Image Awards. "She is a true talent and has made significant contributions to the industry.

The image awards were held at the Pantages Civic Auditorium and will be sold April 10 to 15.

American playwright wins top honors at this year's Tony Awards

NEW YORK (AP) - Fun in gunning the Broadway, playwright David Mamet was named the new president of the American Theatre Wing, the organization that presents the annual Tony Awards.

Mamet, who won the Tony Award for Best Play for his play "Glengarry Glen Ross," was named the new president of the American Theatre Wing at a meeting of the organization's board of governors.

The Tony Awards were held at the Gershwin Theatre and will be sold May 11 to 15.

HOROSCOPES

Here's your life: It's all in the stars

Your life is all in the stars. This is the time for a love interest - that smile has got you

Gemini (May 21-June 21): Find a quiet place to listen to the sound of nature. These days are perfect for a love interest - that smile has got you

Taurus (April 20-May 20): You look so much more beautiful today than ever before. Your new look is sure to turn heads and grab attention. You're a winner today.

Aquarius (Jan. 21-Feb. 19): You're in a great mood today. You're happy and outgoing, and you're sure to have a great day. You're a winner today.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20): You're in a great mood today. You're happy and outgoing, and you're sure to have a great day. You're a winner today.

NEWSPRINT

Material tens to honor dates on this page

NEW YORK (AP) - Don't feel overburdened by all the good things that are happening today. You're a winner today.

The Daily Iowa.jpg

STAFF/NEWSPRINT

Managing Editor: William Casey 319-578-5000

Ad Design: Kelly O'Brien 319-578-5000

Editorial: Brian King 319-578-5000

Photos: Melissa Thomas 319-578-5000

Ad Sales: Emily Krasney 319-578-5000

Copy Desk: Holly Smith 319-578-5000

Graphics: Naomi McVay 319-578-5000

Ad Sales: John McVay 319-578-5000

Circulation: Kyle Speck 319-578-5000

Executive Director: Mary Jo Haggerty 319-578-5000

FAX: 319-335-5897

E-mail: dailyiowa@uiowa.edu

WWW: www.dailyiowa.com

For more

The Easter bunny has landed in Iowa City. There's a special Easter service on Sunday at the University Baptist Church at 11 a.m. There will be a children's egg hunt and a special music program featuring the university choir. The service will also include a special music program featuring the university choir.

Iowa prisoners went on strike in late May to protest against the state's handling of the COVID-19 pandemic. Prisoners have reported shortages of food, water, and medical supplies.

***

The University of Iowa RiverFest will be held this spring. The festival features a variety of events, including a parade, a carnival, and a live music concert. The event is free and open to the public.

The Iowa Daily is published by the Daily Iowa, Inc., a student-run publication of the University of Iowa. The Daily Iowa, Inc., is a non-profit corporation.

For more information, please contact the Daily Iowa at 319-335-5781 or 319-335-5897.
FBI traces trail of Unabomber suspect

No end in sight for Freeman standoff; negotiators say

MAY 28, 1991

Summer 1996: June 4 - July 26

- First-Year Russian I & II
- Second-Year Russian I & II
- Business Russian
- Advanced Russian
- Business Russian

Iowa City, Iowa
Sunday, April 21, 1991

Field trip to Lincoln. The tour included a stop at theodore Kaczynski's cabin in the woods of lincoln, Mont., near his computer rental store in the Chicago suburb of Lombard, Ill., where the Unabomber's family home is located. The tour also included a visit to the University of Moscow State University, which the Unabomber attended.

Theodore Kaczynski's cabin is shown in the woods of Lincoln, Mont., where he lived and manufactured bombs.

Theodore Kaczynski was arrested on October 3, 1991, after a seven-day standoff with federal agents at his cabin near Moscow, Idaho. Kaczynski, a former professor at the University of California, Berkeley, was charged with sending a series of mail bombs that had killed three people and injured 23 others. The FBI had been investigating Kaczynski for years before arresting him.

Kaczynski became known as the Unabomber due to the nature of his bombings, which targeted academics, business leaders, and researchers. His bombings were carried out with pipe bombs and homemade bombs, and were often accompanied by letters that criticized modern technology and its role in society.

The standoff at Kaczynski's cabin lasted for seven days, during which time federal agents negotiated with Kaczynski and tried to convince him to surrender. Kaczynski eventually agreed to surrender on October 3, 1991, after the FBI had surrounded his cabin and he had become surrounded by federal agents.

Kaczynski was later convicted of mailing pipe bombs and pipe bomb-making materials, and he was sentenced to life in prison.

The Unabomber case was one of the most high-profile American criminal cases of the 20th century, and it was marked by a lengthy and controversial investigation.

The standoff at Kaczynski's cabin was a significant event in the history of the Unabomber case, and it helped bring attention to the case and to the issue of domestic terrorism in the United States.

The standoff at Kaczynski's cabin was a significant event in the history of the Unabomber case, and it helped bring attention to the case and to the issue of domestic terrorism in the United States.
President, families gather for memorial

Gayle Rosenthal
Associated Press

The names need no elaboration: Challenger. Jonestown. Beirut. Desert Storm. And Vietnam. They were covered in coffins that were brought from a hangar by eight uniformed officials as the 33 families were represented here by a relative. Each family was visibly grieving as they went from room to room, spending a few minutes with each. Brown's brother, Dennis Dockery, is the happiest I've ever seen him," said Dockery's mother, Corena Thompson. "We will probably never know what caused it," said Dockery. "One day we take it to work and the next day we don't even think about it.

President Clinton consoles Alma Brown, widow of Commerce Secretary Ron Brown, during a memorial service at Dover Air Force Base in Dover, Del., Saturday.

Michelle Williams
Associated Press

The Handel of Educate... the undisputed leader of the independent leader in test prep.

Orfeo ed Uridic
The World Premieres

MONDAY AND TUESDAY, APRIL 8 AND 9, 8 PM
Mark Morris and the Mark Morris Dance Group
The Handel & Haydn Society, Christopher Hogwood conducting
With soloists Michael Chance, Diana Hanchan, and Christine Brandes

In 1762
Christoph Willibald von Gluck's
Orfeo ed Uridic

took Europe by storm
and changed the course of opera.

Choreographer Mark Morris and conductor Christopher Hogwood rediscover its cutting edge.

"Mozzart's choreographic style, which has a splendid sense of freedom to it, is the happiest imaginable responsive to baroque music."
—London Sunday Times

"The Handel & Haydn period instrument orchestra is easily the best in the land."
—London Musical Times

"The Handel & Haydn period instrument orchestra is easily the best in the land."
—London Musical Times

Senior Citizen, U1 Student and Youth Discounts on all events
For Information and Tickets (191) 322-3160 or toll-free outside Iowa City 1-800-HANCIER
TDD and disabilities inquiries call (319) 355-1158
The University of Iowa
IOWA CITY, IOWA
SANCHEZ

After years in coma, man talking to family

After years in coma, man talking to family

After years in coma, man talking to family

"It's very disappointing. This is the worst thing that has happened. It's just our family's misfortune."

"I'm having to call people to visit."

"I don't want to go back to the village."

"He correctly identified his sentences were..."
Taking the advice of Chaucer

Jamey Pregon

UIHC cuts leave uneasy silence

Two things have happened in recent days to reflect tensions between the UI Hospital and the college. The first is the firing of the Daily Iowan's Art Director, Janeil Wry, on May 12. The second is the firing of the University of Iowa's vice-president for student life, the Rev. Veenstra on June 8.

Students and administrators of the Iowan, an award-winning student newspaper, were stunned by Janeil Wry's firing. They say Wry had been a steady influence for the newspaper and her firing was a surprise. The Daily Iowan is a student-run newspaper that is published by the University of Iowa. It is distributed on the campus and is available at the newsstand.

Jamey Pregon's column appears Wednesday on the Viewpoints Page.

---

In the line-item veto, which Congress passed recently, a clear line was drawn between presidential and congressional powers.

It is a profoundly clear statement that the separation of powers was a cornerstone of the Constitution. A line was drawn that was clear and readily available to anyone who had the desire to read it.

The line-item veto was omitted from the Constitution for a reason. The legislators who passed the Constitution knew that legislative power was a delicate balance that could be easily tipped by the addition of too much power to the White House.

The idea is to represent the people as the ultimate authority of the separation of congressional and presidential powers. By passing the line-item veto, legislators are demonstrating their ignorance of the powers and duties of the three branches of government. The Constitution and the laws that follow are designed to prevent the concentration of power in the White House.

They say the legislators who passed the line-item veto were representing their constituents. They say the line-item veto is a way to hold the White House accountable. They say the line-item veto will prevent the White House from withholding funds from programs that are not in the best interest of the people.

In an interview with the Daily Iowan, Sen. Veenstra said that he was proud of his work as vice-president for student life. He said that he had worked hard to make the University of Iowa a better place for students.

The Daily Iowan is an independent newspaper that is published by the University of Iowa. It is distributed on the campus and is available at the newsstand.

Jamey Pregon's column appears Wednesday on the Viewpoints Page.

---

When you ring small bell, one of those raised TOP 10 administrators is not going to come to help your mother get on the helpline.

Ann Bopp, registered nurse, on the staff callbacks at the UIHC.

---

Viewpoints

Over the line

The line-item veto, which Congress passed recently, is a clear line drawn between presidential and congressional powers.

It is a profoundly clear statement that the separation of powers was a cornerstone of the Constitution. A line was drawn that was clear and readily available to anyone who had the desire to read it.

The line-item veto was omitted from the Constitution for a reason. The legislators who passed the Constitution knew that legislative power was a delicate balance that could be easily tipped by the addition of too much power to the White House.

The idea is to represent the people as the ultimate authority of the separation of congressional and presidential powers. By passing the line-item veto, legislators are demonstrating their ignorance of the powers and duties of the three branches of government. The Constitution and the laws that follow are designed to prevent the concentration of power in the White House.

They say the legislators who passed the line-item veto were representing their constituents. They say the line-item veto is a way to hold the White House accountable. They say the line-item veto will prevent the White House from withholding funds from programs that are not in the best interest of the people.

In an interview with the Daily Iowan, Sen. Veenstra said that he was proud of his work as vice-president for student life. He said that he had worked hard to make the University of Iowa a better place for students.

The Daily Iowan is an independent newspaper that is published by the University of Iowa. It is distributed on the campus and is available at the newsstand.

Jamey Pregon's column appears Wednesday on the Viewpoints Page.

---

LITERATURE LETTERS

Letters to the editor are signed and must include the writer's address and phone number for verification. Letters should not exceed 200 words in length. They should be brief, clear, and to the point. The Daily Iowan reserves the right to publish or reject any letter.

OPINIONS

Opinions are the views of the staff writers of the Daily Iowan. They reflect the views of the staff writers and may not necessarily reflect the views of the Daily Iowan as a whole.

GUEST OPINIONS

Guest opinions are the views of individuals who are not staff writers of the Daily Iowan. They may be from inside or outside the university community.

READERS SAY

Readers are encouraged to submit letters to the editor. The Daily Iowan welcomes letters that are well written, clear, and to the point. They should not exceed 200 words in length. They should be brief, clear, and to the point. The Daily Iowan reserves the right to publish or reject any letter.

---

UIHC cuts leave uneasy silence

Two things have happened in recent days to reflect tensions between the UI Hospital and the college. The first is the firing of the Daily Iowan's Art Director, Janeil Wry, on May 12. The second is the firing of the University of Iowa's vice-president for student life, the Rev. Veenstra on June 8.

Students and administrators of the Iowan, an award-winning student newspaper, were stunned by Janeil Wry's firing. They say Wry had been a steady influence for the newspaper and her firing was a surprise.

The Daily Iowan is a student-run newspaper that is published by the University of Iowa. It is distributed on the campus and is available at the newsstand.

Jamey Pregon's column appears Wednesday on the Viewpoints Page.
Viewpoints

In support of unionization

Virtually all graduate students understand that to achieve gains with the university, they will be making some economic and financial sacrifices as part of the process. Everyone involved.

What we should not have to accept is a health insurance plan that is clearly inadequate, with all the medical care we need and cannot afford. The plan needs to be adequately funded by the university. Without such funding, the plan will fail to cover some basic medical needs or pay the medical bills of graduate students when necessary.

Graduate employees who have achieved collective bargaining status, including those at the University of Wisconsin and the University of Michigan, have much more reasonable plans that cover more reasonable costs. There is not a health care plan in any graduate student union in the United States that has higher costs and fewer benefits than the one in place at the UI. We are truly hard pressed when the full extent of these costs is revealed.

As it stands now, many graduate students are faced with the choice of either buying health insurance or going without it. All of us hope we will never suffer serious illnesses. We do not have health insurance. I suffer from osteoarthritic pain and have multiple sclerosis. My medications and compounded fractures to that joint left me unable to get any work over the holidays.

Since 7A is likely going to be dealing with our health insurance plans, we are able to make informed decisions about what would be beneficent for us.

In response to the suggestion that graduate employees at the UI, in lieu of collective bargaining, could perhaps take on some of the health care costs, the UI administration continues to press that option. Our perspective is that the UI administration continues to press that option. Our perspective is that the UI administration continues to press that option.

We should not have to accept that graduate employees at the UI have to pay more for health care for our own personal needs than ourselves?

What we should not have to accept is a health dislocation and compound fracture to that joint left me unable to...
MINORITY SCHOLARSHIPS

Continued from Page 3A

UI financial aid program under- writes a stipend for the minority scholar- ship with the money from the college's own endowment. The minority scholarship is open to all students who have been admitted by the University, whether they are members of a minority group or not. It is a way for the University to attract more minority students and to help them succeed academically.

UI President David C. Marks said that the University is committed to diversity and inclusion and that the minority scholarship is one way to achieve that goal. "We believe that diversity is a strength and that it is important to have a diverse student body," he said. "The minority scholarship is a way to help us achieve that goal."
Hawks start season off strong with sweep

The Hawks take three from Buckeyes, improve to 4-2

Hawksvay fall hard in weekend homestand

Team USA terrorizes Russia

Iowa emerges at ASU Classic

Men's Track

Missouri's Melissa Widlanski slides safely into second Sunday against Ohio State during a victory at the Hawkeye Softball Complex.

Right back in the hunt

In Iowa's win over Kansas, the Hawkeyes' Novice Eight squad (above) was victorious against Kansas Sunday on the Iowa River. Iowa also defeated the Jayhawks overall, completing a weekend sweep to kick off the spring season.

Iowa's Melissa Widlanski slides safely into second Sunday against Ohio State during a victory at the Hawkeye Softball Complex.

Right back in the hunt

In Iowa's win over Kansas, the Hawkeyes' Novice Eight squad (above) was victorious against Kansas Sunday on the Iowa River. Iowa also defeated the Jayhawks overall, completing a weekend sweep to kick off the spring season.

Iowa's Melissa Widlanski slides safely into second Sunday against Ohio State during a victory at the Hawkeye Softball Complex.

Right back in the hunt

In Iowa's win over Kansas, the Hawkeyes' Novice Eight squad (above) was victorious against Kansas Sunday on the Iowa River. Iowa also defeated the Jayhawks overall, completing a weekend sweep to kick off the spring season.

Iowa's Melissa Widlanski slides safely into second Sunday against Ohio State during a victory at the Hawkeye Softball Complex.

Right back in the hunt

In Iowa's win over Kansas, the Hawkeyes' Novice Eight squad (above) was victorious against Kansas Sunday on the Iowa River. Iowa also defeated the Jayhawks overall, completing a weekend sweep to kick off the spring season.

Iowa's Melissa Widlanski slides safely into second Sunday against Ohio State during a victory at the Hawkeye Softball Complex.

Right back in the hunt

In Iowa's win over Kansas, the Hawkeyes' Novice Eight squad (above) was victorious against Kansas Sunday on the Iowa River. Iowa also defeated the Jayhawks overall, completing a weekend sweep to kick off the spring season.

Iowa's Melissa Widlanski slides safely into second Sunday against Ohio State during a victory at the Hawkeye Softball Complex.

Right back in the hunt

In Iowa's win over Kansas, the Hawkeyes' Novice Eight squad (above) was victorious against Kansas Sunday on the Iowa River. Iowa also defeated the Jayhawks overall, completing a weekend sweep to kick off the spring season.

Iowa's Melissa Widlanski slides safely into second Sunday against Ohio State during a victory at the Hawkeye Softball Complex.

Right back in the hunt

In Iowa's win over Kansas, the Hawkeyes' Novice Eight squad (above) was victorious against Kansas Sunday on the Iowa River. Iowa also defeated the Jayhawks overall, completing a weekend sweep to kick off the spring season.

Iowa's Melissa Widlanski slides safely into second Sunday against Ohio State during a victory at the Hawkeye Softball Complex.

Right back in the hunt

In Iowa's win over Kansas, the Hawkeyes' Novice Eight squad (above) was victorious against Kansas Sunday on the Iowa River. Iowa also defeated the Jayhawks overall, completing a weekend sweep to kick off the spring season.

Iowa's Melissa Widlanski slides safely into second Sunday against Ohio State during a victory at the Hawkeye Softball Complex.

Right back in the hunt

In Iowa's win over Kansas, the Hawkeyes' Novice Eight squad (above) was victorious against Kansas Sunday on the Iowa River. Iowa also defeated the Jayhawks overall, completing a weekend sweep to kick off the spring season.

The Hawks start season off strong with sweep

Hawks take three from Buckeyes, improve to 4-2

Hawkseyes fall hard in weekend homestand

Team USA terrorizes Russia

Iowa emerges at ASU Classic

Men's Track

Missouri's Melissa Widlanski slides safely into second Sunday against Ohio State during a victory at the Hawkeye Softball Complex.

Right back in the hunt

In Iowa's win over Kansas, the Hawkeyes' Novice Eight squad (above) was victorious against Kansas Sunday on the Iowa River. Iowa also defeated the Jayhawks overall, completing a weekend sweep to kick off the spring season.

Iowa's Melissa Widlanski slides safely into second Sunday against Ohio State during a victory at the Hawkeye Softball Complex.

Right back in the hunt

In Iowa's win over Kansas, the Hawkeyes' Novice Eight squad (above) was victorious against Kansas Sunday on the Iowa River. Iowa also defeated the Jayhawks overall, completing a weekend sweep to kick off the spring season.

Iowa's Melissa Widlanski slides safely into second Sunday against Ohio State during a victory at the Hawkeye Softball Complex.

Right back in the hunt

In Iowa's win over Kansas, the Hawkeyes' Novice Eight squad (above) was victorious against Kansas Sunday on the Iowa River. Iowa also defeated the Jayhawks overall, completing a weekend sweep to kick off the spring season.

Iowa's Melissa Widlanski slides safely into second Sunday against Ohio State during a victory at the Hawkeye Softball Complex.

Right back in the hunt

In Iowa's win over Kansas, the Hawkeyes' Novice Eight squad (above) was victorious against Kansas Sunday on the Iowa River. Iowa also defeated the Jayhawks overall, completing a weekend sweep to kick off the spring season.

Iowa's Melissa Widlanski slides safely into second Sunday against Ohio State during a victory at the Hawkeye Softball Complex.
Freezing temperatures halter Texas relays

Chris James
The Daily Texan

Iowa women's track coach Jerry Hedlund probably never thought nature would make him say it, but his team knows all about the outdoors for the next few weeks.

The Hawkeyes instead focused solely on winterizing and sawing before freezing temperatures in the state.

The meet was canceled and Hedlund plans to see his team today.

Austin at the Texas Relays over the weekend. Despite the cozy weather, Iowa's women's long jump, sprint relay, and 4x400-meter relay took first place.

The temperature was 23 degrees in Iowa City.

The NCAA Indoor Track and Field Championships are scheduled for March 8-10.

The meet was canceled and Hedlund plans to see his team today.

Austin at the Texas Relays over the weekend. Despite the cozy weather, Iowa's women's long jump, sprint relay, and 4x400-meter relay took first place.

The temperature was 23 degrees in Iowa City.

The NCAA Indoor Track and Field Championships are scheduled for March 8-10.

The meet was canceled and Hedlund plans to see his team today.
Hawkeyes struggle at Marshall Invitational

Shannon Stevens

The Daily Iowan

Iowa Prep women's tennis team's inability to win first four rounds has everyone on edge.

Iowa men's tennis coach Jenny Mainz said her squad will have to make some major adjustments that we've worked on every shot day off will help and then we'll go on from there.

Women's Tennis

Winless weekend has Hawks stumbled

Jennifer Mercy took the loss in those after giving up two runs in the sixth inning behind four extra-base hits.

Iowa Coach Jenny Mainz said her team's inability to win its first five rounds or five extra-base hits. "We are not getting beat by the top five rounds or five extra-base hits," Mainz said.

Mainz said her team's inability to win its first five rounds or five extra-base hits. "We are not getting beat by the top five rounds or five extra-base hits," Mainz said. "We need to completely regroup."

"We don't know how to do it in practice. The bottom line is that we've worked on every shot and situation imaginable. Maybe a day off will help and then we won't work our heads off to get ready for Penn State."
ATTENTION STUDENTS...POSITIONS AVAILABLE!
Systems Unlimited Inc., is a non-profit volunteer organization with developmentally disabled in mental, emotional, and/or learning impairments. Part-time and full-time positions available. No prior experience required. Information meeting and interview sessions will be held in Room 207, 10th & Fries, on Monday, August 4th, at 7:00 PM. Limited attendance. Call 334-7800 for more information.

First Federal Bank
1506 First Ave, Iowa City, IA 52240

ASSISTANT TELLER
Responsible for providing friendly, accurate and efficient customer service in a fast-paced banking environment. Must have high school diploma and desire to work with people. Experience preferred. Call 356-8727 for more information.

INTELLIGENT OPERATOR
Supervise and train individuals with developmental disabilities in a mental, emotional, and/or learning impairments to work in a fast-paced environment. Must have previous experience in a similar position, knowledge of computers, and ability to perform tasks with a high level of accuracy. Experience in a supervisory role preferred. Call 334-7800 for more information.

The Daily Iowan Classified Ad Blank
1. Page Size: 5.5 inches x 2 inches
2. Ad Size: 4.5 inches x 1.5 inches
3. Ad Cost: 60 cents per word (60 cents per word for Ad Blank)
4. Deadline: 5:00 PM on Wednesday (for Monday's issue)
5. Ad Submissions: Send your ad to The Daily Iowan Classified Department, 304 S. Washington Ave, Iowa City, IA 52240, or email classified@dailyiowan.com
6. Ad Inquiries: Call 335-7984 or 335-7979
7. Ad Payment: Payment must be received by the deadline. No exceptions.
8. Ad Limit: One ad per person per week
9. Ad Frequency: One ad per person per week
10. Ad Restrictions: Ads for political campaigns are not accepted.
Lincoln Real Estate

338-3701

The Finest Rental Properties in the Lowa City Area!

Efficiencies, 1, 2, 3 Bedroom Apartments, Ranches & Duplexes

- West of the River
  - Lincoln Heights
  - Davis
  - Darrell
  - Woodland Dr.
  - chancellor

- Central Location
  - near Hwy.
  - $55
  - 3rd Ave. E.
  - $300

- PROFESSIONAL MANAGEMENT
  - 24 HOUR EMERGENCY RESPONSE

- PRICES FROM
  - $205-

CALL NOW TO INQUIRE ABOUT SUMMER & FALL LEASING!

1214 Highlands Court, Iowa City, Iowa

Come see our model Apartments!

A Photo is Worth A Thousand Words

SELL YOUR CAR

30 DAYS FOR

$30

( photo and up to 15 words)

We'll come out and take a photo of your car (Iowa City/Coralville area only). Your ad will run for 30 days for $30. Deadline: 2 days prior to run date desired for more information contact:

The Daily Iowa Classified Dept.

IOWA CITY'S MORNING NEWSPAPER

335-5784 or 335-5785
The Monday, April 8, performance of "Orfeo ed Euridice" by the Handel and Haydn Society, featured a modern operatic experience. The duo of Kim Johnson and Robert McIFESTO under the direction of Christopher Hogwood, created a fresh interpretation of the classic work.

The Handel and Haydn Society, known for its innovative approach to opera, performed "Orfeo ed Euridice" at the Opera House in Boston. The opera, composed by Christoph Willibald Gluck in 1762, is considered one of the greatest love stories ever told.

The production, directed by David McMichael, featured a vibrant cast led by Johnson and McIFESTO, who brought their characters to life with captivating performances. The opera's grandeur was enhanced by the Handel and Haydn Society's renowned orchestra, which played with precision and emotion.

The audience was able to view the result of four days of concentrated rehearsal, during which the singers and orchestra worked together to bring the story to life. The performances were highlighted by the stunning soprano voice of Johnson, who captivated the audience with her powerful renditions of the opera's most iconic pieces.

The collaboration of Handel and Haydn Society, under the direction of Christopher Hogwood, created a modern operatic experience. The duo has worked together to enhance the opera's originality, adding new dimensions to the timeless tale of love and loss.

The story of Orpheus and Euridice is a tale of love and loss, as Orpheus, a shepherd, falls in love with Euridice, a Muse. When Euridice is taken to the underworld by Hades, Orpheus sets out to rescue her with music. The opera's final scene is a moving depiction of Orpheus's悲痛 and loss.

The production's innovative approach, combining classical music with modern staging, captivated audiences and demonstrated the Handel and Haydn Society's commitment to artistic excellence. The opera's success is a testament to the power of music to transcend time and bring stories to life.

The performance was a testament to the Handel and Haydn Society's dedication to bringing classic works to a contemporary audience, while preserving their timeless beauty. "Orfeo ed Euridice" continues to inspire performers and audiences alike, reminding us of the enduring power of music to touch the hearts of all who listen.