Dole's lengthy legislative record is particularly exasperating to Dole's opponents. Dole's support for his own campaign is now facing challenges, with the potential for a full-time job and other alternatives. Dole's support is waning, and there are signs of a potential primary challenge. Dole's campaign offered citations of Dole's past support for gay rights, as well as his record in Congress. Dole's support has been challenged, with the potential for a full-time job.

New York Welfare

- A new 20-hour-workweek requirement in New York City and a guaranteed living wage for tipped workers (i.e., those earning at least $9.00 an hour between a living-paying, part-time job and getting an education)

- More emphasis on low-pay jobs to satisfy present needs would result in sacrificing the knuckles of the poor as it would allow on-campus jobs for those in need of work

- The New York Welfare Commission brochure, speculating on what inspired the game was invented by Russian soldiers in 1454, according to a lengthy article in the Gazette-Journal

- Robert Shapiro's character in the film received a true-life casket preparation for the world's heaviest man died here.

Supreme court victory in Colorado

Michael Totten

The Supreme Court overturned Colorado's ban on large-capacity magazines in guns. The 5-4 decision is a victory for gun rights advocates. The court ruled that the ban violated the Second Amendment rights of gun owners. The ruling means that gun owners can now purchase magazines with more than 10 rounds.

The Court also struck down a similar law in New York City. The ruling is a major victory for the National Rifle Association (NRA), which has long sought to loosen gun regulations.

Some lawmakers in Colorado have vowed to appeal the decision. However, gun control advocates are concerned about the impact of the ruling on other states with similar laws.

The decision could have implications for other states with gun control laws. The ruling may also affect the outcome of upcoming elections. Republican candidates have traditionally supported gun rights, while many Democrats favor stricter gun laws.

The Supreme Court's decision is a significant victory for gun owners and advocates of individual rights. The ruling is a reminder that the Constitution is meant to protect the rights of all Americans, regardless of their political affiliations.

Cricket comes to the inner city

Dennis Anderson
Associated Press

COMPTON, Calif. — Cricket in the United States is a far cry from the game's home of England and the Caribbean. But it's gaining in popularity, especially among black Americans.

Scores of black youths have taken up the sport in recent years, and the Compton Youth Cricket Association is one of the more successful. The group has about 100 members, aged 6 to 18, and they play in local parks and schools.

The association was founded in 1983 by Karl Anderson, a former England cricketer. He said he chose cricket because it's a gentlemanly game, not a violent one like football.
