Teen won't be charged with hate crime

The Daily Iowan

MONDAY, JUNE 19, 1996

JOWA CITY'S MORNING NEWSPAPER

5

Minority students comprise 9.2 percent

Kendal Hall

The Daily Iowan

While a national study released Sunday showed increased discrimination against minority students living on college campuses across the country, the University of Iowa has remained constant in its rate.

Minority enrollment at U.S. colleges rose 5 percent in 1994—nearly double the increase of the previous year, said Phillip Johnson, an American Council on Education spokesman. The UI has kept a constant minority rate of 9.2 percent for the past several years, said Dean of Students Philip Lumumba, president of the UI's Student Association.

The study found that in 1993, minority students earned 13.9 percent more bachelor's degrees, 10.4 percent more master's degrees and 5.9 percent more first-professional degrees in areas such as nursing and medicine than the year before.

"We are pleased that UI is doing a good job recruiting minority students with special scholarships, but it's not enough," Johnson said.

The study found that in 1993, minority students earned 9.2 percent more bachelor's degrees, 10.4 percent more master's degrees and 5.9 percent more first-professional degrees in areas such as nursing and medicine than the year before.

"We are pleased that UI is doing a good job recruiting minority students with special scholarships, but it's not enough," Johnson said.

The study found that in 1993, minority students earned 9.2 percent more bachelor's degrees, 10.4 percent more master's degrees and 5.9 percent more first-professional degrees in areas such as nursing and medicine than the year before.

"We are pleased that UI is doing a good job recruiting minority students with special scholarships, but it's not enough," Johnson said.
Cruise into summer with the Iowa Sailing Club at Lake Macbride

Dietrich Delphine Schulze/The Daily Iowan

Cruise into summer with the Iowa Sailing Club at Lake Macbride. Carlo, an Iowa Sailing Club member, gave Sear and Weibel a lesson at the club's boat house and sailboat teaching weekend.

The Daily Iowan - Iowa City, Iowa - Monday, June 10, 1996

Features

Cruise into summer with the Iowa Sailing Club at Lake Macbride. Carlo, an Iowa Sailing Club member, gave Sear and Weibel a lesson at the club's boat house and sailboat teaching weekend.

The Daily Iowan - Iowa City, Iowa - Monday, June 10, 1996

Features

Cruise into summer with the Iowa Sailing Club at Lake Macbride. Carlo, an Iowa Sailing Club member, gave Sear and Weibel a lesson at the club's boat house and sailboat teaching weekend.

The Daily Iowan - Iowa City, Iowa - Monday, June 10, 1996

Features
First lady encourages educational funding

By Flowers

ORLANDO, Fla. — Hillary Rodham
Clinton said Friday that education would have to remain a top priority for her husband’s administration and that the two-term president had made the "right call" when he called for a freeze in loan rates.

"When he made that call, he was comparing the proposal with those that are being made today," she told journalists at a news conference at the University of Central Florida.

"When he made that call, he was comparing the proposal with those
that are being made today," she told
journalists at a news conference at the University of Central Florida.

"I think that he made a smart call,"
she said. "I think that he made the correct call." She added that her husband "America's 9th grade teacher"
was "working his tail off" to help
keep education projects in Washington.

"I believe that he was right to do that," she said. "I think that he believes that education is a top priority and that education is a priority." She added that her
husband "America's 9th grade teacher"
was "working his tail off" to help
keep education projects in
Washington.

"I think that he made a smart call,"
she said. "I think that he made the
correct call." She added that her
husband "America's 9th grade teacher"
was "working his tail off" to help
keep education projects in
Washington.

"I believe that he was right to do
that," she said. "I think that he believes that education is a top
priority and that education is a priority." She added that her
husband "America's 9th grade teacher"
was "working his tail off" to help
keep education projects in
Washington.

"I think that he made a smart call,"
she said. "I think that he made the
correct call." She added that her
husband "America's 9th grade teacher"
was "working his tail off" to help
keep education projects in Washington.

"I believe that he was right to do
that," she said. "I think that he believes that education is a top
priority and that education is a priority." She added that her
husband "America's 9th grade teacher"
was "working his tail off" to help
keep education projects in
Washington.

"I think that he made a smart call,"
she said. "I think that he made the
correct call." She added that her
husband "America's 9th grade teacher"
was "working his tail off" to help
keep education projects in Washington.

"I believe that he was right to do
that," she said. "I think that he believes that education is a top
priority and that education is a priority." She added that her
husband "America's 9th grade teacher"
was "working his tail off" to help
keep education projects in
Washington.

"I think that he made a smart call,"
she said. "I think that he made the
correct call." She added that her
husband "America's 9th grade teacher"
was "working his tail off" to help
keep education projects in Washington.

"I believe that he was right to do
that," she said. "I think that he believes that education is a top
priority and that education is a priority." She added that her
husband "America's 9th grade teacher"
was "working his tail off" to help
keep education projects in
Washington.

"I think that he made a smart call,"
she said. "I think that he made the
correct call." She added that her
husband "America's 9th grade teacher"
was "working his tail off" to help
keep education projects in Washington.

"I believe that he was right to do
that," she said. "I think that he believes that education is a top
priority and that education is a priority." She added that her
husband "America's 9th grade teacher"
was "working his tail off" to help
keep education projects in
Washington.

"I think that he made a smart call,"
she said. "I think that he made the
correct call." She added that her
husband "America's 9th grade teacher"
was "working his tail off" to help
keep education projects in Washington.

"I believe that he was right to do
that," she said. "I think that he believes that education is a top
priority and that education is a priority." She added that her
husband "America's 9th grade teacher"
was "working his tail off" to help
keep education projects in
Washington.

"I think that he made a smart call,"
she said. "I think that he made the
correct call." She added that her
husband "America's 9th grade teacher"
was "working his tail off" to help
keep education projects in Washington.

"I believe that he was right to do
that," she said. "I think that he believes that education is a top
priority and that education is a priority." She added that her
husband "America's 9th grade teacher"
was "working his tail off" to help
keep education projects in
Washington.

"I think that he made a smart call,"
she said. "I think that he made the
correct call." She added that her
husband "America's 9th grade teacher"
was "working his tail off" to help
keep education projects in
Washington.
Viewpoints

_Wanna buy a saw?

Jeffrey Dahmer's killing tools may get auctioned off, sending a message to the world: Murder pays._

After setting off the murder tools of a serial killer in an applaud- ed sale in 1988, Jeffrey Dahmer used his tools to kill 16 men and was convicted of murdering 15. He now remains in a Wisconsin state prison. A Senate committee found 16 violent incidents per hour on television. In 75 percent of those incidents, the perpetrator went unpunished, a reinforcement that violence can get us what we want. We have the highest murder rate of any country in the world. Add to that a love of serial killers. While America bids for handsaws and refrigerators, the victims deserve more than just a forlorn final mixtape. It's cheaper to kill, but it's always better for a child to have a home to return to.

The market for the Dahmer items makes it possible for virtually all life that is not green to exist. We have the highest murder rate of any country in the world. Add to that a love of serial killers. While America bids for handsaws and refrigerators, the victims deserve more than just a forlorn final mixtape. It's cheaper to kill, but it's always better for a child to have a home to return to.

Wanna buy a saw?

Fire in the island of Hippocrates

In memoriam

Jennifer Brown

Associated Press

Firefighters were burned to death in a fire at a homeless shelter in Tallahassee, Fla., early Saturday morning. The fire killed at least 12 people, including the at least 11 firefighters who were.

The fire, which started around 3:30 a.m., quickly spread through the three-story building and engulfed the entire complex. The cause of the fire is under investigation and is being considered suspicious.

Firefighters from surrounding areas were called to the scene to fight the blaze. However, due to the large size of the building and the heavy smoke, it took several hours to bring the fire under control.

The fire claimed the lives of several people, including two firefighters who were trapped inside the building. A third firefighter was also injured.

The victims included several elderly people and children. The identity of the victims has not been released, pending notification of next of kin.

The cause of the fire is under investigation, but it is believed to be related to the homeless population who resided in the shelter. The shelter has been the site of several incidents in recent months, including a shooting.

In memoriam

Michael Cooper

Associated Press

Firefighters were burned to death in a fire at a homeless shelter in Tallahassee, Fla., early Saturday morning. The fire killed at least 12 people, including the at least 11 firefighters who were.

The fire, which started around 3:30 a.m., quickly spread through the three-story building and engulfed the entire complex. The cause of the fire is under investigation and is being considered suspicious.

Firefighters from surrounding areas were called to the scene to fight the blaze. However, due to the large size of the building and the heavy smoke, it took several hours to bring the fire under control.

The fire claimed the lives of several people, including two firefighters who were trapped inside the building. A third firefighter was also injured.

The victims included several elderly people and children. The identity of the victims has not been released, pending notification of next of kin.

The cause of the fire is under investigation, but it is believed to be related to the homeless population who resided in the shelter. The shelter has been the site of several incidents in recent months, including a shooting.

In memoriam

Michael Cooper

Associated Press

Firefighters were burned to death in a fire at a homeless shelter in Tallahassee, Fla., early Saturday morning. The fire killed at least 12 people, including the at least 11 firefighters who were.

The fire, which started around 3:30 a.m., quickly spread through the three-story building and engulfed the entire complex. The cause of the fire is under investigation and is being considered suspicious.

Firefighters from surrounding areas were called to the scene to fight the blaze. However, due to the large size of the building and the heavy smoke, it took several hours to bring the fire under control.

The fire claimed the lives of several people, including two firefighters who were trapped inside the building. A third firefighter was also injured.

The victims included several elderly people and children. The identity of the victims has not been released, pending notification of next of kin.

The cause of the fire is under investigation, but it is believed to be related to the homeless population who resided in the shelter. The shelter has been the site of several incidents in recent months, including a shooting.
A member of the Matthew-Brackett Presbyterian Church in New London, Conn., on Thursday morning in the song of fires that have destroyed more than 50 homes in that town. The church's old sanctuary, which was gutted by a fire in the early hours of Wednesday, was destroyed in the fire that swept through the town.

Rev. James Young, the pastor of the church, said that the church's old sanctuary, which was gutted by a fire in the early hours of Wednesday, was destroyed in the fire that swept through the town.

Rev. James Young, the pastor of the church, said that the church's old sanctuary, which was gutted by a fire in the early hours of Wednesday, was destroyed in the fire that swept through the town.

Rev. James Young, the pastor of the church, said that the church's old sanctuary, which was gutted by a fire in the early hours of Wednesday, was destroyed in the fire that swept through the town.

Rev. James Young, the pastor of the church, said that the church's old sanctuary, which was gutted by a fire in the early hours of Wednesday, was destroyed in the fire that swept through the town.

Rev. James Young, the pastor of the church, said that the church's old sanctuary, which was gutted by a fire in the early hours of Wednesday, was destroyed in the fire that swept through the town.

Rev. James Young, the pastor of the church, said that the church's old sanctuary, which was gutted by a fire in the early hours of Wednesday, was destroyed in the fire that swept through the town.

Rev. James Young, the pastor of the church, said that the church's old sanctuary, which was gutted by a fire in the early hours of Wednesday, was destroyed in the fire that swept through the town.

Rev. James Young, the pastor of the church, said that the church's old sanctuary, which was gutted by a fire in the early hours of Wednesday, was destroyed in the fire that swept through the town.

Rev. James Young, the pastor of the church, said that the church's old sanctuary, which was gutted by a fire in the early hours of Wednesday, was destroyed in the fire that swept through the town.

Rev. James Young, the pastor of the church, said that the church's old sanctuary, which was gutted by a fire in the early hours of Wednesday, was destroyed in the fire that swept through the town.

Rev. James Young, the pastor of the church, said that the church's old sanctuary, which was gutted by a fire in the early hours of Wednesday, was destroyed in the fire that swept through the town.

Rev. James Young, the pastor of the church, said that the church's old sanctuary, which was gutted by a fire in the early hours of Wednesday, was destroyed in the fire that swept through the town.

Rev. James Young, the pastor of the church, said that the church's old sanctuary, which was gutted by a fire in the early hours of Wednesday, was destroyed in the fire that swept through the town.

Rev. James Young, the pastor of the church, said that the church's old sanctuary, which was gutted by a fire in the early hours of Wednesday, was destroyed in the fire that swept through the town.

Rev. James Young, the pastor of the church, said that the church's old sanctuary, which was gutted by a fire in the early hours of Wednesday, was destroyed in the fire that swept through the town.

Rev. James Young, the pastor of the church, said that the church's old sanctuary, which was gutted by a fire in the early hours of Wednesday, was destroyed in the fire that swept through the town.

Rev. James Young, the pastor of the church, said that the church's old sanctuary, which was gutted by a fire in the early hours of Wednesday, was destroyed in the fire that swept through the town.

Rev. James Young, the pastor of the church, said that the church's old sanctuary, which was gutted by a fire in the early hours of Wednesday, was destroyed in the fire that swept through the town.

Rev. James Young, the pastor of the church, said that the church's old sanctuary, which was gutted by a fire in the early hours of Wednesday, was destroyed in the fire that swept through the town.

Rev. James Young, the pastor of the church, said that the church's old sanctuary, which was gutted by a fire in the early hours of Wednesday, was destroyed in the fire that swept through the town.

Rev. James Young, the pastor of the church, said that the church's old sanctuary, which was gutted by a fire in the early hours of Wednesday, was destroyed in the fire that swept through the town.

Rev. James Young, the pastor of the church, said that the church's old sanctuary, which was gutted by a fire in the early hours of Wednesday, was destroyed in the fire that swept through the town.

Rev. James Young, the pastor of the church, said that the church's old sanctuary, which was gutted by a fire in the early hours of Wednesday, was destroyed in the fire that swept through the town.

Rev. James Young, the pastor of the church, said that the church's old sanctuary, which was gutted by a fire in the early hours of Wednesday, was destroyed in the fire that swept through the town.

Rev. James Young, the pastor of the church, said that the church's old sanctuary, which was gutted by a fire in the early hours of Wednesday, was destroyed in the fire that swept through the town.

Rev. James Young, the pastor of the church, said that the church's old sanctuary, which was gutted by a fire in the early hours of Wednesday, was destroyed in the fire that swept through the town.

Rev. James Young, the pastor of the church, said that the church's old sanctuary, which was gutted by a fire in the early hours of Wednesday, was destroyed in the fire that swept through the town.

Rev. James Young, the pastor of the church, said that the church's old sanctuary, which was gutted by a fire in the early hours of Wednesday, was destroyed in the fire that swept through the town.

Rev. James Young, the pastor of the church, said that the church's old sanctuary, which was gutted by a fire in the early hours of Wednesday, was destroyed in the fire that swept through the town.

Rev. James Young, the pastor of the church, said that the church's old sanctuary, which was gutted by a fire in the early hours of Wednesday, was destroyed in the fire that swept through the town.

Rev. James Young, the pastor of the church, said that the church's old sanctuary, which was gutted by a fire in the early hours of Wednesday, was destroyed in the fire that swept through the town.

Rev. James Young, the pastor of the church, said that the church's old sanctuary, which was gutted by a fire in the early hours of Wednesday, was destroyed in the fire that swept through the town.
Fishbone will play at Gunnerz Wednesday night on a tour promoting the band's latest album, Chris Chio's Red Down, Revenge. Tickets are currently $12 for one of the band's live performances.

The top of Tom of the office, ending the two-week reign due out with $5 million.

The top of Tom of the office, ending the two-week reign due out with $5 million.

The top of Tom of the office, ending the two-week reign due out with $5 million.

The top of Tom of the office, ending the two-week reign due out with $5 million.

The top of Tom of the office, ending the two-week reign due out with $5 million.

The top of Tom of the office, ending the two-week reign due out with $5 million.

The top of Tom of the office, ending the two-week reign due out with $5 million.

The top of Tom of the office, ending the two-week reign due out with $5 million.

The top of Tom of the office, ending the two-week reign due out with $5 million.

The top of Tom of the office, ending the two-week reign due out with $5 million.

The top of Tom of the office, ending the two-week reign due out with $5 million.

The top of Tom of the office, ending the two-week reign due out with $5 million.

The top of Tom of the office, ending the two-week reign due out with $5 million.

The top of Tom of the office, ending the two-week reign due out with $5 million.

The top of Tom of the office, ending the two-week reign due out with $5 million.

The top of Tom of the office, ending the two-week reign due out with $5 million.

The top of Tom of the office, ending the two-week reign due out with $5 million.

The top of Tom of the office, ending the two-week reign due out with $5 million.

The top of Tom of the office, ending the two-week reign due out with $5 million.

The top of Tom of the office, ending the two-week reign due out with $5 million.

The top of Tom of the office, ending the two-week reign due out with $5 million.
Sports

BASEBALL ROUNDUP

Sandberg's home run boosts Cubs to victory

Associated Press

CHICAGO - Jody Davis and his teammates had been waiting for this moment all season. The Cubs star had already proved he could hit, and now he could win.

The game against the Pirates was tied at 1 when Davis stepped to the plate in the top of the ninth. He hit a perfect bunt, then took off for first. The catcher's throw sailed past first baseman Bill Mazeroski, and Davis was safe. The second run was enough to send the Cubs to their 20th victory of the season.

Davis's hit ended a string of 13 games without a run for the Cubs, who had been struggling. The win was their first in 12 games, and they moved into first place in the National League East.

JAVA QUESTANS

1. What is Sandberg's home run?
2. Which team is playing against the Pirates?
3. In which inning did the game end?
4. Who was the catcher throwing the ball?
5. What was the final score of the game?

ANSWERS

1. Sandberg's home run is a three-run homer.
2. The Cubs are playing against the Pirates.
3. The game ended in the top of the ninth inning.
4. The catcher's name was not provided.
5. The final score was 2-1 in favor of the Cubs.

BASEBALL STANDINGS

<table> <thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>W</th>
<th>L</th>
<th>Avg.</th>
</tr> </thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Cubs</td>
<td>20</td>
<td>12</td>
<td>.629</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pirates</td>
<td>18</td>
<td>14</td>
<td>.571</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Other Teams</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr> </tbody>
</table>
Sports

Winless in Seattle

Home court fails to give Sonics the advantage

Chris Sheridan

Associated Press

Seattle's Shawn Kemp fires up with Chicago's Dennis Rodman during the second quarter Sunday.

It was the sixth victory in a row for the 8-1 Chicago Bulls, who are now 10-0 for the season. The Sonics were beaten by a single point, 111-110.

The first half was fast-paced and physical, with both teams showing their strength. The Sonics seemed to be the better team, but they were unable to take advantage of their opportunities.

The second half was even more intense, with both teams giving it their all. The Sonics were able to narrow the gap, but the Bulls were able to maintain their lead and ultimately win the game.

With the win, the Bulls move to the top of the Western Conference, while the Sonics remain in fourth place. It was a tough game, but the Bulls were able to come out on top.

Seattle's Shawn Kemp fires up with Chicago's Dennis Rodman during the second quarter Sunday.

Sports Quiz

Who was the first NHL player to win 100 points in a season?

See answer on Page 7.

Baseball Draft

Thieleke signs with Minnesota

Mike Triplett

The Daily Times

Every young player who jumps on a baseball field dreams of making big leagues some day, but the dream is a little more realistic for Tom Thieleke.

The son of Starbuck's Randy Thieleke, who is a semi-pro player in the Waukesha area, Thieleke was offered a scholarship to play at the University of Wisconsin-La Crosse.

Thieleke, a 19-year-old pitcher, said he is the first player from the area to be offered a scholarship to play at a Division II school.

Thieleke's father, Randy, said he is pleased with the offer and that his son is excited about the opportunity.

"I'm really happy for him," Randy Thieleke said. "He's been working hard and he deserves it."