Festival to honor Gay Pride Month

Katharine Horowitz
The Daily Iowan

Although the serious topic of AIDS will be prevalent among the events of Gay Pride Month, organizers of Saturday's Pride Parade say the month's first major event will be a fun event celebrating gay, lesbian, bisexual and transgendered culture.

"It's an opportunity for the local gay/transgendered population and their supporters to come together, have fun and celebrate diversity," said Laura Hill, executive director of Iowa Center for AIDS Resources & Education (ICARE), 320 E. College St. "It's important for people to see what we have." See PRIDE, Page 9

Pride Events

TODAY

Queer Mingle at the Sanctuary, 5-7 p.m., 405 S. Gilbert St.

Community Discussion: Redefining Families, 7 p.m., Union's Indiana Room.

SATURDAY

Festival and Parade, Noon to 6 p.m., College Green Park, corner of Washington and Dodge streets

Ladies on the Couch Comedy Troupe, 7-8 p.m., Iowa City Recreation Center, 220 S. Gilbert St.

Pride Moon Dance, 9 p.m., Iowa City Recreation Center

620: The Fruit Bowl, 8 to 10 p.m., 620 Night Club, 620 S. Madison St.

SUNDAY

Special Pride Month Ecumenical Service at Faith United Church of Christ, 9:30 a.m., 1609 Deforest Ave.

ICARE Breakfast, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., Pedestrian Mall

Source: WRAC

---

Flirtations honor local hero

Sara Kennedy
The Daily Iowan

What is expected to be the biggest draw of the three-weekend Iowa Arts Festival came together easier than any other event, and the Iowa Arts Festival came together Thursday evening as a tribute to the late T.J. Myers, a 1982 Phi Beta Kappa graduate of the UI.

Myers, who died of AIDS-related pneumonia at the age of 30 on Aug. 28, 1990, performed and recorded an album with The Flirtations shortly before his death. At the UI, Myers performed in the Dance Gala and several Iowa City Community Theatre productions. After graduation, he moved to New York City, where he became a professional dancer, singer, actor and choreographer.

"This is a great opportunity to bring a national group to the festival that has a direct community connection," said Larry Eckhold, president of the Iowa Arts Festival board of directors. "They're a great group here who have successfully left us too early, and who represent the spirit of what Arts Fest is all about."

Eckhold said he knew Meyers when he was a UI student and presented The Flirtations with the idea of dedicating the show to him. They loved the idea that it was an outdoor festival and they would perform in a very public setting. Eckhold said, "Then, during our ongoing discussion, they got excitedly excited about coming to Iowa City."

The performance will include a 12-minute dance program with Horowitz choreographed by Alicia Brown, UI dance professor and one of Myers' teachers.

See Flirtations, Page 9

---

Round and Round

Cindy Griggs/The Daily Iowan

Thursday night's warm weather was perfect for Iowa City residents Dominique Wells, Beth Ryan and Tiffany Wells to ride the ferris wheel at City Park. Thursday's temperatures climbed into the low-90s, and Iowans can expect more warm weather for the coming weekend.

---

Not Just Ties

I.C. full of dad's day gifts

Paul Sablin/The Daily Iowan

---

Pedestrian Mall slated for modernization

The Daily Iowan

"Nothing is that old," said Clayton, "but we do need to repair it." It was designed in the 1960s, and the implausible à la 1960s—300 feet wide, flat and green—area needed a refresh. Clayton said he would like to see the area more of a pedestrian safety zone.

Clayton said he would like to see "more enforcement of city ordinances such as noise, ordinance and illegal parking, and the assignment of a full-time foot police officer to patrol the area."

"There is a need for safety—and a lot of it is perception," Atkins said. "We have bike patrols that are intended to bring a semblance of safety. We simply don't have enough police. We're not sure when we can put a full-time police officer down there. I can understand the interest, but we don't have the personnel to do it."
Road Trip

Red, Red Wine

you make me feel so fine...

Vintage wineries draw connoisseurs to Amanas

This week, Arts & Entertainment writer Danyelle Bolstad wrote about Elde Bros. Winery in Hometed, Iowa, to test ten fine wines it has to offer.

The Daily Iowan

The Germans have a saying: "Das macht das Leben an Schichten Wein zu Trinken."

Translation: Life is too short to drink bad wine.

And according to popular opinion, the homemade wines Road and Elde Bros. Winery, located in Hometed, Iowa, in the Amana Colonies, make life worth living.

Eighty miles west of Iowa City, off Interstate 80, the seven villages of the Amanas were established in 1855 by a group of German immigrants.

Known for their meticulous craftsmanship, workmanship, handcrafted baskets and industries that serve authentic German customs, the Amanas offer a true German experience and a look into how the past lived.

The quaint atmosphere and charming charm is something that brings a smile to most people. Many are charmed by a heritage that is still preserved in our present generation.

"Our century-old formula consists of juice, sugar and water makes the taste more delicious."

Ray Kraus, part owner of the Elde Bros. Winery, on their homemade wines.

These famous wineries in the Elde Bros. Winery. Established in 1980 in the basement of a winery, the road was Iowa's oldest operating winery. Elde Bros. knowledge of wine and fine craftsmanship is combined in the boiling wine process.

Ray Kraus says everything is done in house with water and yeast. The wine then ferments for three to six months, depending on sweet or dry.

The winery is open June 15 to Sept. 15.

Kraus said, "Our century-old formula of wine is unique in the aspect that sorbate, instead of sulfite, is used at a percentage. The wines are unique in the aspect that sorbate, instead of sulfite, is used to keep yeast from reproducing. This makes Elde Bros. quality a step up from the wines found in California.

Top Five Wines

1. Piestengel rubarb
2. Catawba grape medium
3. Cranberry sweet
4. Raspberry sweet
5. Dandelion sweet

As one of the Amana 15 wineries, Elde Bros. offers a taste clone, and rubarb and raspberry and other unique wines.

The name Elde Bros. Winery comes from the old German word "Elde," which means "bottle." Kraus" which makes one of Iowa's most fascinating historical sites.

People come in to experience homemade wines, taste and create a product worthy of the shrine of the Winery.

There are given daily April through November from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. through March. Free sampling of Elde Bros. Winery wines are also available.

Wine flavors range from sweet basins such as grape, cherry, blackberry, peach and cranberry to more unique tastes like wild strawberries or dandelion.

The flooring at Elde Bros. Winery is a modern touch and made to create a product worthy of the label. The flooring is made of wood.

Ruth DiHert is one of the many people who are a part of the charm and authenticity of the Elde Bros. Winery.

She passes out free homemade fruit wine to tourists at Amana Colonies.

How to get from here to there:

Take Highway 6 to Homestead.

or

Take Interstate 80 to East

225 to Home-

stead.

Bottles of wine are available for sampling. Bottles in splits, half gallons and jugs can also be purchased for $3.50-$4.50.

For more information, call 335-6063.

GIVANNI

Father's Day Sun Brunch

featuring Italian food

Olive's Special Bloody

$r6.00

 linewidths

Current

Italian Artichoke

.. and more

Medical

start with research

American Heart

Association

Evelyn Lauer

Editor

Sara Kennedy

Metro Editor

Prasant Leonard

Features Editor

Gena Everhart

Business Manager

Bernadette Schwenzfeuer

Graphic Designer

Robert Stover

Advertising Manager

Sara Kennedy

Layout Editor

Marla Hick

Graphics Editor

Christian Schurman

Desk Manager

Sara Inman

Copy Desk Editor

Carolyn S. Clinton

Petty Officer

$335-6770

"Seminarian in fortnight for over 76 years"
Iowa gets some sun, warm...finally

Iowa City

Jennifer

Friday, June

An 10' •

The Daily Iowan

Iowan Iowa City's normal season...can make plans for tanning and returning this month. It's finally going to warm and sunny.

The weather in Iowa City will not only be sunny, but also be hot, as the forecast for this weekend is sunny all day, 60's with the possibility of thunderstorms late today and into Monday morning.

"It's gotten rather depressing. The weather was affecting everyone's mood."

Kristen Kramer, an employee of Dorothy's

But even that could change. "It's hard to talk about this for work. Change might not last long on the weekends."

Towne said those who feel like it has been awhile since they've seen the sun are right. Weather remained Iowa City's last warm and sunny weekend was May 12-13. Temperature has been below normal since. "This is the last time I've had out this month," said. "I was just riding along and I decided to stop the car and I was surprised to see clouds."

Tom Kramer and his family were hunkering down in the 94 degree heat. Thursday on parcels of grass and plants and near the future "My name is Jean Fisher and I'm a beat reporter for the Daily Iowan."

in the garage. He said he was not going to stick around like it has for the past few weeks.

Suckin' wind

Enrollment降至56, of Rapid City, S.D., principal as he renews the city for the 800-meter run Thursday at the Iowa State Games. in West Des Moines, Iowa.

Tom Kramer said the weather was "normal" for 800-meters.

Iowan Iowa City's normal season can make plans for tanning and returning this month. It's finally going to warm and sunny.

The weather in Iowa City will not only be sunny, but also be hot, as the forecast for this weekend is sunny all day, 60's with the possibility of thunderstorms late today and into Monday morning.

"It's gotten rather depressing. The weather was affecting everyone's mood."

Kristen Kramer, an employee of Dorothy's

But even that could change. "It's hard to talk about this for work. Change might not last long on the weekends."

Towne said those who feel like it has been awhile since they've seen the sun are right. Weather remained Iowa City's last warm and sunny weekend was May 12-13. Temperature has been below normal since. "This is the last time I've had out this month," said. "I was just riding along and I decided to stop the car and I was surprised to see clouds."

Tom Kramer and his family were hunkering down in the 94 degree heat. Thursday on parcels of grass and plants and near the future "My name is Jean Fisher and I'm a beat reporter for the Daily Iowan."

in the garage. He said he was not going to stick around like it has for the past few weeks.

Suckin' wind

Enrollment降至56, of Rapid City, S.D., principal as he renews the city for the 800-meter run Thursday at the Iowa State Games. in West Des Moines, Iowa.

Tom Kramer said the weather was "normal" for 800-meters.

Iowan Iowa City's normal season can make plans for tanning and returning this month. It's finally going to warm and sunny.

The weather in Iowa City will not only be sunny, but also be hot, as the forecast for this weekend is sunny all day, 60's with the possibility of thunderstorms late today and into Monday morning.

"It's gotten rather depressing. The weather was affecting everyone's mood."

Kristen Kramer, an employee of Dorothy's

But even that could change. "It's hard to talk about this for work. Change might not last long on the weekends."

Towne said those who feel like it has been awhile since they've seen the sun are right. Weather remained Iowa City's last warm and sunny weekend was May 12-13. Temperature has been below normal since. "This is the last time I've had out this month," said. "I was just riding along and I decided to stop the car and I was surprised to see clouds."

Tom Kramer and his family were hunkering down in the 94 degree heat. Thursday on parcels of grass and plants and near the future "My name is Jean Fisher and I'm a beat reporter for the Daily Iowan."

in the garage. He said he was not going to stick around like it has for the past few weeks.

Suckin' wind

Enrollment降至56, of Rapid City, S.D., principal as he renews the city for the 800-meter run Thursday at the Iowa State Games. in West Des Moines, Iowa.

Tom Kramer said the weather was "normal" for 800-meters.

Iowan Iowa City's normal season can make plans for tanning and returning this month. It's finally going to warm and sunny.

The weather in Iowa City will not only be sunny, but also be hot, as the forecast for this weekend is sunny all day, 60's with the possibility of thunderstorms late today and into Monday morning.

"It's gotten rather depressing. The weather was affecting everyone's mood."

Kristen Kramer, an employee of Dorothy's

But even that could change. "It's hard to talk about this for work. Change might not last long on the weekends."

Towne said those who feel like it has been awhile since they've seen the sun are right. Weather remained Iowa City's last warm and sunny weekend was May 12-13. Temperature has been below normal since. "This is the last time I've had out this month," said. "I was just riding along and I decided to stop the car and I was surprised to see clouds."

Tom Kramer and his family were hunkering down in the 94 degree heat. Thursday on parcels of grass and plants and near the future "My name is Jean Fisher and I'm a beat reporter for the Daily Iowan."

in the garage. He said he was not going to stick around like it has for the past few weeks.

Suckin' wind

Enrollment降至56, of Rapid City, S.D., principal as he renews the city for the 800-meter run Thursday at the Iowa State Games. in West Des Moines, Iowa.

Tom Kramer said the weather was "normal" for 800-meters.

Iowan Iowa City's normal season can make plans for tanning and returning this month. It's finally going to warm and sunny.

The weather in Iowa City will not only be sunny, but also be hot, as the forecast for this weekend is sunny all day, 60's with the possibility of thunderstorms late today and into Monday morning.

"It's gotten rather depressing. The weather was affecting everyone's mood."

Kristen Kramer, an employee of Dorothy's

But even that could change. "It's hard to talk about this for work. Change might not last long on the weekends."

Towne said those who feel like it has been awhile since they've seen the sun are right. Weather remained Iowa City's last warm and sunny weekend was May 12-13. Temperature has been below normal since. "This is the last time I've had out this month," said. "I was just riding along and I decided to stop the car and I was surprised to see clouds."

Tom Kramer and his family were hunkering down in the 94 degree heat. Thursday on parcels of grass and plants and near the future "My name is Jean Fisher and I'm a beat reporter for the Daily Iowan."

in the garage. He said he was not going to stick around like it has for the past few weeks.

Suckin' wind

Enrollment降至56, of Rapid City, S.D., principal as he renews the city for the 800-meter run Thursday at the Iowa State Games. in West Des Moines, Iowa.

Tom Kramer said the weather was "normal" for 800-meters.

Iowan Iowa City's normal season can make plans for tanning and returning this month. It's finally going to warm and sunny.

The weather in Iowa City will not only be sunny, but also be hot, as the forecast for this weekend is sunny all day, 60's with the possibility of thunderstorms late today and into Monday morning.

"It's gotten rather depressing. The weather was affecting everyone's mood."

Kristen Kramer, an employee of Dorothy's

But even that could change. "It's hard to talk about this for work. Change might not last long on the weekends."

Towne said those who feel like it has been awhile since they've seen the sun are right. Weather remained Iowa City's last warm and sunny weekend was May 12-13. Temperature has been below normal since. "This is the last time I've had out this month," said. "I was just riding along and I decided to stop the car and I was surprised to see clouds."

Tom Kramer and his family were hunkering down in the 94 degree heat. Thursday on parcels of grass and plants and near the future "My name is Jean Fisher and I'm a beat reporter for the Daily Iowan."

in the garage. He said he was not going to stick around like it has for the past few weeks.

Suckin' wind

Enrollment降至56, of Rapid City, S.D., principal as he renews the city for the 800-meter run Thursday at the Iowa State Games. in West Des Moines, Iowa.

Tom Kramer said the weather was "normal" for 800-meters.
Supreme Court abolishes race-based voting districts

Richard Carver
Associated Press
WASHINGTON — Declaring voters "are more than mere statistical entities," the Supreme Court is making it more difficult for states to draw election districts that favor ethnic minorities.

The 5-4 vote Thursday that struck down four predominately minority congressional districts in Texas and North Carolina also reprimanded those states for using "discredited" racialgroup voting districts.

Such districts "unconstitution­alize the use of race as a basis for defining 'districts' within the meaning of the Fifteenth Amendment," the court stated in an opinion by Justice Sandra Day O'Connor.

"The decisions are too often a reflection of the political realities of our times," she observed. "The rulings is 'a signal for those who would use race as a wedge issue.'"

But State Dons of the NAACP Legal Defense Fund said the deci­sions "really nullify the fundamental rights of citizens of every race to participate in the electoral process in their communities in this democracy."

The American Civil Liberties Union's Lee G. Montgomery said, "It is the inevitable consequence that people will be excluded from the political process in their communities...since the nation is becoming increasingly diverse."
Clinton promises federal aid to congregate fires

Lawrence Knutson

WASHINGTON - President Clinton says he is considering whether to send additional federal aid to 11 states to help them deal with the wave of church fires.

"It isn't promised, but it isn't negated," Jackeon, who flew back to Los Angeles Thursday, some 90 members of the federal church fires task force are in 11 states, including Colorado.

"We are working very closely with the states, with the governors and with the local fire officials," said Jackeon. "And we are providing whatever assistance they need and we are working with the states to coordinate their efforts."
Viewpoints

School lawsuits: F

Iowa City, Iowa

When children walk through the doors at school, many parents think that the outside world should simply disappear. In the process, they believe, children should be protected from the troubles of the outside world - the stresses of divorce, the tests of racism or poverty - with in with the students.

But, increasingly, schools are being asked to do more than their traditional role of teaching children for the test of life or school or societal problems - with in with the students.

"Iowa City, Iowa","You can't call for an easin of racial tension and keep on sending messages. The message, the meanings, must change,"

Res. Jesse Jackson, on the nationwide church fires

A different Father's Day party

This Father's Day, I will be in my home town of Montezuma, Iowa. Tonight, I will be attending a Father's Day banquet for this year's Outstanding Father of the Year by the local Jaycees. It seems that I have a good chance of winning, which would be a great honor for me.

On May 9th, 2018, I graduated from high school, and on Sunday, and on all of the Father's Days for the rest of his life, I will be and have been fighting for a long time for freedom from abuse and I just broke the bond to a new life. It was the most important thing that happened to me.

I was once a little boy, who loved to play the violin. I played for the first time in front of a large audience, and it was a great experience.

I have never been to a school in Iowa. However, I have always felt a strong connection with the state, as it is my birthplace.

Iowa is the most beautiful state in the United States, and many of the most important events in my life have taken place here. I have always felt a strong sense of pride and ownership towards the state, and I am very proud to have been born and raised here.

Lea Haravon

CORRUPTION IN ZAIRE

President Mobutu Sese Seko is renouncing democratic nations in order to gain support in elections. At the same time, he is robbing his country blind, and has been for the past 36 years.

By Henry A. Levine

U.S. only responsible for its own

I am Gary Levine, a congressional correspondent and the author of "The Father's Day Syllabus." I am a writer and editor, and I have been writing about the Father's Day holiday for over 10 years.

I live in Iowa, and I have been a father for 10 years. I have three children, and I love them very much.

I am a member of the National Association of Fatherhood Researchers, and I have been a member of the group since 2005.

I am also a member of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, and I have been a member since 2000.

I have written for many newspapers and magazines, including the New York Times, the Washington Post, and the Chicago Tribune.

I have also written books on fatherhood, including "The Father's Day Syllabus," which was published in 2012 by the University of Wisconsin Press.

The book has been well-reviewed, and it has been praised for its fresh perspective on the subject of Father's Day.

I am proud to have written the book, and I hope that it will help others to think about the importance of Father's Day, and to understand the role that fathers play in our lives.

I am looking forward to hearing from you, and to continuing the conversation about Father's Day.

Gary Levine
Viewpoints

A cleaner image for those who clean

Dear Editor:

I am so pleased about everything. Every time I walk into you, we are always greeted by smiling faces. Don’t let this happen. You are so important to our community. I am writing to thank you for your excellent service. I hope that you will continue to provide the same level of service.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Guest Opinion

Kevin Ho

No reason to raise parking fees

To the Editor:

I am writing to express my concern regarding the recent report about the potential increase in parking fees. The report states that the parking rates will be increased in the near future.

I believe that parking fees should be kept at a reasonable level. Raising fees too much can deter people from visiting the area. The city should consider alternative methods of generating revenue, such as increasing the cost of other services or exploring new avenues like advertising.

I urge the city to reconsider this decision and find a more balanced approach.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

酚X-writer needs to do his math

The state of Iowa has always been committed to supporting a quality education system. However, the recent increases in tuition rates and other fees have raised concerns among students and their families.

I believe that the university, the state government, and the students themselves need to work together to find a solution that is fair and affordable for all.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Leach votes to bleed students dry

To the Editor:

The state of Iowa has always been committed to supporting a quality education system. However, the recent increases in tuition rates and other fees have raised concerns among students and their families.

I believe that the university, the state government, and the students themselves need to work together to find a solution that is fair and affordable for all. This requires a balanced approach that considers the needs of all stakeholders.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Nix on endowed faculty

To the Editor:

The University of Iowa has a long history of excellence in education and research. However, the recent decision to cut funding for endowed faculty positions is a cause for concern.

I believe that endowed faculty positions are crucial for the long-term success of the university. These positions support top-notch research and teaching, and they attract the best and brightest scholars.

I urge the university to reconsider this decision and find a way to support endowed faculty positions.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Nix on endowed faculty

To the Editor:

The University of Iowa has a long history of excellence in education and research. However, the recent decision to cut funding for endowed faculty positions is a cause for concern.

I believe that endowed faculty positions are crucial for the long-term success of the university. These positions support top-notch research and teaching, and they attract the best and brightest scholars.

I urge the university to reconsider this decision and find a way to support endowed faculty positions.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Nix on endowed faculty

To the Editor:

The University of Iowa has a long history of excellence in education and research. However, the recent decision to cut funding for endowed faculty positions is a cause for concern.

I believe that endowed faculty positions are crucial for the long-term success of the university. These positions support top-notch research and teaching, and they attract the best and brightest scholars.

I urge the university to reconsider this decision and find a way to support endowed faculty positions.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Nix on endowed faculty

To the Editor:

The University of Iowa has a long history of excellence in education and research. However, the recent decision to cut funding for endowed faculty positions is a cause for concern.

I believe that endowed faculty positions are crucial for the long-term success of the university. These positions support top-notch research and teaching, and they attract the best and brightest scholars.

I urge the university to reconsider this decision and find a way to support endowed faculty positions.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Nix on endowed faculty

To the Editor:

The University of Iowa has a long history of excellence in education and research. However, the recent decision to cut funding for endowed faculty positions is a cause for concern.

I believe that endowed faculty positions are crucial for the long-term success of the university. These positions support top-notch research and teaching, and they attract the best and brightest scholars.

I urge the university to reconsider this decision and find a way to support endowed faculty positions.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Nix on endowed faculty

To the Editor:

The University of Iowa has a long history of excellence in education and research. However, the recent decision to cut funding for endowed faculty positions is a cause for concern.

I believe that endowed faculty positions are crucial for the long-term success of the university. These positions support top-notch research and teaching, and they attract the best and brightest scholars.

I urge the university to reconsider this decision and find a way to support endowed faculty positions.

Sincerely,

[Signature]
No condom? No chance!

If someone asks you to talk to your kids about sex, you might be thinking, "Boy, that person must really wish this world was a lot more like the one I grew up in," isn't it?

The chances are, you do! But if you do, you're not alone.

Many parents and families are worried about how much they can talk to their kids about sex, and how much they need to talk to them. And if you're one of those parents, you're not alone.

The good news is that there are lots of resources available to help you talk to your kids about sex. The bad news is that you might not know where to start.

One of the best places to start is with your own values and beliefs. What do you think about sex? What do you think about consent? What do you think about the role of sex in relationships?

Once you've got a handle on your own values and beliefs, you can start thinking about how to talk to your kids. What age is too young for them to know about sex? What age is too old?

There are lots of resources available to help you talk to your kids about sex. The best place to start is with the National Campaign to Prevent Teen and Unplanned Pregnancy. They have a lot of information on their website about how to talk to your kids about sex.

You can also talk to other parents and families about how they talk to their kids about sex. They might have some great tips and ideas for you.

And if you're really struggling, you might want to talk to a professional. There are lots of therapists and counselors who specialize in working with parents and families about sex education.

So don't be afraid to start talking to your kids about sex. It's never too early or too late, and you're not alone.

The National Campaign to Prevent Teen and Unplanned Pregnancy

For more information, visit www.nat操场.com.

The text is not relevant to the image provided.
Sports

---

QUIZ

Sports QUIZ

Who was the first man to play for and lead both teams in one baseball championship?

See answer on Page 28.

---

SPORTS

---

Revenge: One of Bulls’ many specialties

Mike Nolan
Associated Press

SEATTLE — Vengeance has never been sweeter for the Bulls and Steve Kerr, who has never forgotten the Alexandria, Va., teen who attacked him when he was 12.*

Kerr said: “We’ve always held it in the back of our minds, like a secret." He vowed Friday that the Bulls would be avenged — a deciding two-out hit after 2 a.m.

Yes, but did the Bulls awaken a slumbering crowd by losing to Seattle 107-104 Wednesday and failing to sweep an opponent in a two-game weekend series, two games after Kerr’s cousin, Jaret, failed two breath tests in the stadium parking lot Friday night, after Jr. was arrested in Alexandria, Va., for driving at a high rate of speed, registering blood-alcohol readings of 0.13 percent and 0.16 percent. Jaret, 18, was free on $3,000 bond, and his legal guardian, Myra Kerr, is 38 percent.

“Kerr was not just an ordinary co-conspirator, he was a key figure in the murder,” said his lawyer, John Finnegan. "Kerr was involved in the planning and execution of the murder."

It’s the second time Kerr has been involved in a murder. In 1986, he was convicted of murder in the first degree for the 1985 slaying of 19-year-old John D. Settles Jr., who was shot to death in the driveway of his Alexandria, Va., home.

Kerr was sentenced to life in prison, and his mother, Myra Kerr, was sentenced to five years in prison. In 1990, Kerr was paroled, and he was released from prison in 1990. He was then arrested for murder in the first degree for the 1985 slaying of 19-year-old John D. Settles Jr., who was shot to death in the driveway of his Alexandria, Va., home.

Kerr was sentenced to life in prison, and his mother, Myra Kerr, was sentenced to five years in prison. In 1990, Kerr was paroled, and he was released from prison in 1990. He was then arrested for murder in the first degree for the 1985 slaying of 19-year-old John D. Settles Jr., who was shot to death in the driveway of his Alexandria, Va., home.

Kerr was sentenced to life in prison, and his mother, Myra Kerr, was sentenced to five years in prison. In 1990, Kerr was paroled, and he was released from prison in 1990. He was then arrested for murder in the first degree for the 1985 slaying of 19-year-old John D. Settles Jr., who was shot to death in the driveway of his Alexandria, Va., home.

Kerr was sentenced to life in prison, and his mother, Myra Kerr, was sentenced to five years in prison. In 1990, Kerr was paroled, and he was released from prison in 1990. He was then arrested for murder in the first degree for the 1985 slaying of 19-year-old John D. Settles Jr., who was shot to death in the driveway of his Alexandria, Va., home.

Kerr was sentenced to life in prison, and his mother, Myra Kerr, was sentenced to five years in prison. In 1990, Kerr was paroled, and he was released from prison in 1990. He was then arrested for murder in the first degree for the 1985 slaying of 19-year-old John D. Settles Jr., who was shot to death in the driveway of his Alexandria, Va., home.

Kerr was sentenced to life in prison, and his mother, Myra Kerr, was sentenced to five years in prison. In 1990, Kerr was paroled, and he was released from prison in 1990. He was then arrested for murder in the first degree for the 1985 slaying of 19-year-old John D. Settles Jr., who was shot to death in the driveway of his Alexandria, Va., home.

Kerr was sentenced to life in prison, and his mother, Myra Kerr, was sentenced to five years in prison. In 1990, Kerr was paroled, and he was released from prison in 1990. He was then arrested for murder in the first degree for the 1985 slaying of 19-year-old John D. Settles Jr., who was shot to death in the driveway of his Alexandria, Va., home.
SNIFFER

FUNNY STORY PAGE 18

... with his dancing.

It's a big jump from the Big Ten to the NBA. Very few players were starting in the Big Ten and going on to the NBA, but going to the NBA and then going on to the Big Ten was the reverse of that. The way the NBA is run, you can never really gauge the style of play or the techniques that players have.

BULLS VENGEANCE

FUNNY STORY PAGE 18

He had only eaten lunch and dinner and lunch on June 15 before he went on to the 1992 Summer Olympics in Barcelona.

"When things are going well, you're eating a lot," he said. "You're eating because you're hungry. But when you're having a bad game, it's hard to eat."

Barry Bantz said Wednesday was full of "terrible karma" even before then. He was being asked to talk about winning the championship game, and if he had the same decision to make, he would go home. The Sonics were reawakened.

"I was being asked about the same thing again," Jordan said. "It's a common situation."

SONIC'S CHALLENGE

SPORTS PAGE 18

The Sonics shot 63 percent and had 13 assists in the third quarter alone. They won 31 of 54 games, had 13 losses. They won 31 of the last 54 games.

"We were reversing the trajectory of the team," Jordan said. "We were changing, and we were winning games."
Devers concerns by health heading to trials

Associated Press

OCT 17 Honolulu - Gayle Devers has been having the type of season that sets the stage for the Olympics. She took the U.S. 200-meter title last month and won eighth place in the world championships.

Last Saturday, she competed in the Italian Grand Prix, won the 200 in 21.98 - her second-best time in her career.

"I'm being denied a chance to compete," Devers said. "I'm not good enough to make the U.S. Olympic team for the 200 meters."

The 1984 Olympic team, something no American woman has been able to do, said Johnson.

He made the Olympic team in 1984 and 1988. Devers, who has won the Olympic trials twice, thinks she can make the team.

The team begins this weekend, and Devers, the women's 100-meter champion, said that she was going to make the team.

"I think I'm good enough," Devers said. "I don't think I'll get it, but I think I'm good enough."

The team goes to Atlanta in 1996. Qualifying in 200 meters was "very difficult," Devers said. "We had to run the trials."

In 1990, she capped a remarkable comeback by winning the Olympic trials in the 100 meters.

"It was like coming back to life," Devers said. "I didn't think I could ever do this again."
John Vander Wal

...that includes World Series championships in 1919, 1940, 1964 and 1990. The Reds played in the 1919 World Series, facing the Chicago Cubs in four games, and Vander Wal started every game. It was the last championship, as well as the last World Series in which he played, for the Reds.

Schott, except to credit his wife, Madenge, for her commitment to the game and her support of the Reds. His focus, however, is on the present and future of Reds baseball.

He also declined to say what role he will play in the future, noting that "I'm tremendously impressed with his philosophy and his approach to the business of baseball." He also said he wants to let Bowden continue as general manager and Jim Bowden remains close to him.

Brooklyn's (2-1) pitched the ninth for his third save of the season and sixth in his last seven games.

In the 10th inning with his second major league record of 2,130 home runs, lifetime, Ripken will be one home run away from tying his record in that his playing time consisted of one pinch-hitting appearance, 12 at-bats, two hits, one run scored and one walk.

In the first inning Thursday and Friday, the top of the order, during games he faced to reach base.

The Cubs tied it 2-2 when Sammy Sosa hit a two-run homer in the ninth inning, and Carlos Reyes gave the Reds a 3-2 lead in the 11th with a two-out single.

Anthony Amoroso, 3-3, in his major league record of 2,130 home runs, lifetime, Ripken will be one home run away from tying his record in that his playing time consisted of one pinch-hitting appearance, 12 at-bats, two hits, one run scored and one walk.

In the first inning Thursday and Friday, the top of the order, during games he faced to reach base.

The Cubs tied it 2-2 when Sammy Sosa hit a two-run homer in the ninth inning, and Carlos Reyes gave the Reds a 3-2 lead in the 11th with a two-out single.

Anthony Amoroso, 3-3, in his major league record of 2,130 home runs, lifetime, Ripken will be one home run away from tying his record in that his playing time consisted of one pinch-hitting appearance, 12 at-bats, two hits, one run scored and one walk.

In the first inning Thursday and Friday, the top of the order, during games he faced to reach base.

The Cubs tied it 2-2 when Sammy Sosa hit a two-run homer in the ninth inning, and Carlos Reyes gave the Reds a 3-2 lead in the 11th with a two-out single.

Anthony Amoroso, 3-3, in his major league record of 2,130 home runs, lifetime, Ripken will be one home run away from tying his record in that his playing time consisted of one pinch-hitting appearance, 12 at-bats, two hits, one run scored and one walk.

In the first inning Thursday and Friday, the top of the order, during games he faced to reach base.

The Cubs tied it 2-2 when Sammy Sosa hit a two-run homer in the ninth inning, and Carlos Reyes gave the Reds a 3-2 lead in the 11th with a two-out single.

Anthony Amoroso, 3-3, in his major league record of 2,130 home runs, lifetime, Ripken will be one home run away from tying his record in that his playing time consisted of one pinch-hitting appearance, 12 at-bats, two hits, one run scored and one walk.

In the first inning Thursday and Friday, the top of the order, during games he faced to reach base.

The Cubs tied it 2-2 when Sammy Sosa hit a two-run homer in the ninth inning, and Carlos Reyes gave the Reds a 3-2 lead in the 11th with a two-out single.

Anthony Amoroso, 3-3, in his major league record of 2,130 home runs, lifetime, Ripken will be one home run away from tying his record in that his playing time consisted of one pinch-hitting appearance, 12 at-bats, two hits, one run scored and one walk.
Tiger Woods hit his fourth shot to the 14th hole, but the ball came up short and stuck on the lake. He then took a drop and safely hit it 3-3 in the eighth hole.

Chicago Cubs catcher Sammy Sosa hit a two-run home run in the seventh for his fourth save.

The defense then rested until the seventh, when they made it possible to leave the driver in the bag and play safely with irons off the tee. Finally, the defense then rested.

The defense then rested until the seventh, when they made it possible to leave the driver in the bag and play safely with irons off the tee. Finally, the defense then rested.
Fund-raiser to benefit needy
Karen Terry
The Daily Iowan

Valley Cafes will host its South annual fund-raising dinner "An Evening at the Aspen Club," 8 p.m. July 10 at the Plaza Hotel. Reservations can be made by calling 135-0011.

The Aspen Club, located at 2101
East Dean, will perform.

Awards will be given to people

90 and older. Reservations can be made by calling 135-0011.

The Aspen Club, located at 2101
East Dean, will perform.
Carrey's 'Cable Guy' character differs from his previous roles

Nathan S. Crews

The Daily Iowan

Friday, June 14, 1996

Usually, Jim Carrey is like a wind-up toy. You just wait until the energy starts building up. When he's ready, he'll make crazy jokes and comments. You just never know when he'll do it.

The film, "The Cable Guy," allows Carrey to unleash his energy. It begins with a scene in which Carrey is playing to an audience at a stand-up comedy club. He's a loopy, eccentric, unrefined comic with a deformed foot. He's also a character who never says anything remotely intelligent.

The film's plot involves Carrey's character, Jerry Tench, who is hired by a cable company to deliver a new line. He's also the one who decides to kill his boss, Henry, played by Matthew Broderick. The film's climax involves Carrey attempting to get away from the police with his boss's money.

At the end of the film, Carrey's character is shown to be a kind of letzter. He's also shown to be a bit of a fool. He's not that smart, but he's also not that bad. He's just a bit of a fool.

Carrey's character is also a bit of a fool. He's also a bit of a recluse. He's also a bit of a joker. He's also a bit of a fool.

The film is also a bit of a fool. It's also a bit of a joker. It's also a bit of a recluse. It's also a bit of a fool.