Epidemic of racial hate rather than conspiracy may fuel church fires

Mike Wallace

"Conspiracy is a dazzling thing," Assistant Attorney General Devall Patrick said recently. "But the prospect of recording something in the way of a new conspiracy is in itself even worse.

"We are not ready to decide yet, but we will be ready to decide if we decide it is better than a conspiracy," he said.

Mike Wallace - WASHINGTON - Federal prosecutors are pressuring a group to back church fires that they fear may be due to racial motives. The group is said to be a splinter group of the Ku Klux Klan.

The federal government is "very concerned about the possibility of wildfires within the civil rights community," Patrick said.

The Daily Iowan - Iowa City, Iowa - Monday, June 26, 1995

In October, eight professional women's basketball teams will begin their first season. With support from viewers and advertisers, these women's teams play for in America and young women can have some very positive role models.

When the women’s movement began as an issue, it wasn’t a very popular issue. Neither is the current and widespread discussion of women’s professional basketball teams. This is not to say that there aren’t problems that need to be addressed. But it is absolutely true that sports need to be included again in the beginning. We all need to begin to play for the first time. It has been a long time since we have taken a look at the future.

With the new professional women’s basketball teams, female athletes can have the opportunity to play professional women’s sports and live on television. Most female athletes who don’t play professional sports in sports are forced out of the United States because of the lack of financial support. In several European countries, professional women’s

Clinton announces plans for national sex registry off sex offenders

The Daily Iowa - June 24, 1996

The Daily is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, sex, age, marital status, physical or mental disability, sexual orientation, gender identity, or any other basis prohibited by applicable law.

Associated Press

ORLANDO, Fla. — A unanimous court on Thursday upheld a Florida law that makes it a crime to transport unaccompanied children under 16 into Florida for the purpose of prostitution.

The law was challenged by two women who said they were forced by their managers to transport children into Florida from Texas and Georgia.

A three-judge panel of the 11th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, hearing the case for the first time, upheld the law.

"Deliberate transportation of children for the purpose of prostitution is prohibited by Florida law," said Judge Ralph L. Young. "It is not for the court to balance the rights of potential offenders against the rights of the public at large.

"The state has a legitimate interest in protecting its citizens from the dangers of prostitution and in protecting the rights of its children," Young said. "This appeal does not present a situation that weighs in favor of the defendants."

Feedlot offers bands chance to make it big

(Chris Carlin)

When some local music lovers heard that the Feedlot, a local music showcase for independent bands, had decided to go out of business, a group of fans decided to save the club, and the Feedlot Music Cooperative was formed.

Although having a good time is a part of Feedlot, musicians involved in all participating in the collective venture to keep venue.

"We can't let every musician who will perform a show be on every show," says member John Smith. "We have to support new acts and promote each other."

Although Feedlot has been featured in many music magazines, a similar cooperative has been in Iowa City for the past three years. Feedlot's predecessor, Unison Records, organized the cooperative so the local music scene goes "all the way."

"It has been a struggle," says Feedlot's owner, Mark Schaefer, "but it's how much you can make."

Project future projects for Feedlot include an official video and an "Entertainment" magazine.

Any band or individual interested in performing should contact Feedlot's management. 232 E. Burlington St., Iowa City; 325-6715.

"Eraser"-same old Schwarzenegger story

John Scholten

The Daily Iowan

Arnold Schwarzenegger, Hollywood's most-celebrated action star, is the man of the moment. His films, from "The Terminator" to "Total Recall," have set box office records. His latest movie, "Eraser," is a sequel to "Total Recall."

In "Eraser," Schwarzenegger plays a former intelligence agent who is forced to go on the run when he discovers that he was the target of a terrorist plot.

Although Arnold enjoys playing the action hero, he has a role in "Eraser" that is different from his usual roles. He plays a man who is forced to go on the run because he is the target of a terrorist plot.

In this role, he is able to show his comedic side, which is a departure from his usual serious roles.

The movie is received by critics and fans as a sequel to "Total Recall." The movie was released on the same day as "Total Recall."

"Eraser" is directed by Paul Verhoeven, who directed the "Total Recall" sequel, "Starship Troopers." The movie is a sequel to a successful film and is expected to be successful as well.

Although "Eraser" is not as good as "Total Recall," it is still a good movie and should be enjoyed by fans of the action genre.

Johnson sets world record

Clayton's 30 yards from goal

Rog Glenn

Associated Press

ATLANTA - No wind could save the world's existing record in track and field from being knocked off the books.

The record book will show that Michael Johnson, a 17-year-old junior at Travis Magnet High School in Dallas, Texas, has knocked off the world record in the men's 200 meters, winning in 19.66 seconds Sunday at the U.S. track and field trials.

Johnson did it in the last race of the three-race series at the Atlanta Games ended Sunday night, coming from behind in the last 100 meters.

The previous mark in the men's 200 was 19.73, set by Sally Piercey Reynolds in 1973 in the time of 19.73.

"Setting up, the crowd was going wild. It was a great feeling and I wanted to make sure I gave their money's worth," Johnson said. "Today was the perfect run." Johnson ran in 19.81 in the world record run at the 1996 Games in Atlanta.

"I'm proud of him," said coach John Eason, "by winning we passed the world record by one second with 19.66 seconds. He's got the team's heart with this victory." Johnson's time of 19.66 was set in a time trial round.

The 17-year-old Johnson easily overpowered the world record holder and the defending Olympic champion, Brian Williams, who was second in 20.00.

Johnson, who has been 19.73 in trials this year, looks forward to repeating his record effort in the world championships in Japan.

"This is the beginning of a new chapter," Johnson said. "I won't be disappointed if I lose. I want to be great, and that's what I'm going to do."
