cut it. curl it. crimp it. crop it. do what you have to do to make your 'do cool when it's hot.

Beyond the 'do

Hair salons close to campus:
• Cost Cuthers, 101 2nd St. S.E, 338-1147
• The Hair Quarters, 215 Iowa Ave. 338-4662
• The Hair Hut, 207 N. Linn St. 338-9212
• Iowa Hair Cutting Co. 215 N. Clinton St. 337-2490
• J'Penny Co Inc. 315 Capitol Mall 338-6675
• KSC Dwayne & Tan Spa, 214 Dukeshire. 338-5024
• King Strop's, 128 5th St. E 338-5024
• Michael's Tuchbeck Salon, 208 E. Clinton St. 337-3015
• Red's World Hair, 241 2nd St. S.E 338-5204
• Regal Hairstyled, Old Capitol Mall 336-3560
• Venezian, Old Capitol Mall 337-2232

From barely there to lotta hair

"I took a long time to grow it, and I'm not just gonna let it go.

Iowa City resident, Nathan Derrick, on why he won't cut his dreads.

"I bought a wig just in case." — Junior Christine Ingaldson, on why she doesn't shave his head.

"It's got to be a Bazooka."

Iowa City resident Karen Bonton, on his dreadlocks.

"These dreadlocks are long of having a beard cut to your head.

Iowa City resident Karen Bonton, on his dreadlocks.

"It keeps me cool and I like it." — Junior Christine Ingaldson, on why she doesn't shave his head.

"I've got to be a Bazooka."

Iowa City resident Karen Bonton, on his dreadlocks.
Shuttle wraps up longest mission

Apalooe Leon

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. - The space shuttle Columbia glided through an evening sky Sunday for a perfect landing and ended what is likely the longest flight for any space vehicle.

With an hour of touchdown time, the shuttle's main engines were still humming, and the promontory was barely visible in the hazy blue sky.

Columbia's 16-day mission included a vital fuel cell test, a visit to the Russian space station Mir and an Earth science program - the most observations of the kind ever.

The shuttle's model number, "211," was painted on its rudder Friday night at the Kennedy Space Center, just before the shuttle went into orbit.

"Columbia's crew offers their heartfelt thanks to the people of the United States and the world for their support and encouragement," said Vice President Dan Quayle, who witnessed the landing from a view of the control center. "We're going to miss you, Columbia."

The Space Shuttle Columbia kicks up smoke after touching down at Kennedy Space Center's Runway 33 Sunday morning, ending the longest mission to date of 17 days.

Leonard said Columbia's crew displayed a "great deal of professionalism" and a "great deal of expertise" during the 211-day period, during which they executed 110,700 miles of flight, more than the shuttle had traveled in any previous mission.

"We didn't feel threatened. But again, until we understand the situation, the programs don't plan on flying again," said Terence Henricks, Columbia commander.

Shuttle managers hope to press this week, whether or not the language is on Atlantis, to decide by July 24 whether to keep the space station open or shut it down.

"I'm sure it will be a tough decision," said Space Station Project Manager Patricia Royer. "We're approaching the critical period of the operations, so this is a very important decision to make."
Viewpoints

Bikers, walkers, and automobiles

- The variety of modes of traffic and the animosity it-spurs the people to mind a bell for Iowa in June.

Tj Iowa is about to lose its final chance to improve its transportation system. The Iowa House is considering legislation that would allow bicycle riders to use city streets. This is a move in the right direction, but it's the bicyclist-pedestrian balance we're presenting people. The Iowa House has already passed legislation that would allow cyclists to use city streets, but the Senate has been slow to act. The Senate has not taken enough of our money, and the fact that they haven't passed any legislation means that the Iowa Senate is not completely committed to the idea of giving the Iowa House the right to use city streets. It is important, as it is to protect the Iowa House from the impact of legislation that would allow cyclists to use city streets. The Iowa Senate has not taken enough of our money, and the fact that they haven't passed any legislation means that the Iowa Senate is not completely committed to the idea of giving the Iowa House the right to use city streets.

Letters

Young Dole supporters

Dear Editor:

I am writing this letter in response to the article about the young Dole supporters in the Daily Iowan of November 7. The article states that the young Dole supporters are not for the young Dole supporters, but rather for the young Dole supporters who believe in a different vision for the country.

I believe that the young Dole supporters are for the young Dole supporters who believe in a different vision for the country. The young Dole supporters are not for the young Dole supporters who believe in the same vision as the young Dole supporters. The young Dole supporters are for the young Dole supporters who believe in a different vision for the country.

The young Dole supporters are for the young Dole supporters who believe in a different vision for the country.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Kevin Higgins is an editorial writer and a reader.

---

Lightfoot's recipe is thin and watery

In the future, the Iowa House is likely to consider legislation that would allow bicycle riders to use city streets. This is a move in the right direction, but it's the bicyclist-pedestrian balance we're presenting people. The Iowa House has already passed legislation that would allow cyclists to use city streets, but the Senate has been slow to act. The Senate has not taken enough of our money, and the fact that they haven't passed any legislation means that the Iowa Senate is not completely committed to the idea of giving the Iowa House the right to use city streets. It is important, as it is to protect the Iowa House from the impact of legislation that would allow cyclists to use city streets. The Iowa Senate has not taken enough of our money, and the fact that they haven't passed any legislation means that the Iowa Senate is not completely committed to the idea of giving the Iowa House the right to use city streets.

--------

Letters

---

Politics

---

ONOMIA

---

READERS SAY

Do you ever attend city council meetings or follow city government? I have been to a few city council meetings and have found them to be informative and engaging. The city council members work hard to make decisions that benefit the city and its residents. I believe that attending city council meetings is a good way to stay informed and participate in the civic process.

---

Sign right here, Councilor Kubby

If you've ever been to a meeting of the Iowa City City Council, you know that it can be a long and tedious process. But in order to make decisions that benefit the city and its residents, the city council members must have the opportunity to hear from their constituents. The council members must have the opportunity to hear from their constituents.

The council members must have the opportunity to hear from their constituents.

---

Iowa City with Don

---

Independent Voter, local resident

Rick Meek

---

The Devil is in the details

---

The Daily Iowan
Iowa City invaded with "ID4" fever

Distributive lenticular

Independence Day, which opens in area theaters this week, has local residents waiting up an hour and a half.

_Nicole Nelson_

"With a vengeance look on his face, actor Bill Pullman, who plays the president in the antic "Independence Day," said "The fiat for the Earth," and this

The story, which opened in theaters last week, grossed $378 mil-

In larger cities, such as Chi-

After putting in a dogged perfor-

Although 700 million people talk about the coming of the Iowa City Wrestling Team!... and that's a long American tradition.

_and_ in the next issue!

John Scherker

The Daily Iowan

The Devil is in the details in latest Green Mile

The "Devil is in the details" in latest Green Mile

The evil in the details is that in the world of the Green Mile, nothing is as it seems. The characters, the settings, the events - all are carefully crafted to mislead and confuse. The reader is left wondering if they can trust what they are seeing, or if they are just being led astray by the devilish twists of the plot. The devilish details in this book are a warning to the reader to be on guard, and not to take anything at face value. The story is full of surprises and twists, and it is up to the reader to find their way through the labyrinth of details to uncover the truth. The details in the Green Mile are a test of the reader's wits and their ability to see beyond the surface. If you are looking for a book that will challenge you, and keep you on the edge of your seat, then the Green Mile is the book for you. It is a tale of terror, mystery, and suspense, and it is a must-read for any horror fan. The devil is in the details, and it is all in the Green Mile. Crossword

Edited by Will Shorts

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Across</th>
<th>Down</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| 1. "Devil is in the details" in latest Green Mile | John Scherker
| 3. The Daily Iowan | By Jim
| 4. "The Devil is in the details" in latest Green Mile | By Jim
| 5. "The Devil is in the details" in latest Green Mile | By Jim
| 6. "The Devil is in the details" in latest Green Mile | By Jim
| 7. "The Devil is in the details" in latest Green Mile | By Jim
| 8. "The Devil is in the details" in latest Green Mile | By Jim
| 9. "The Devil is in the details" in latest Green Mile | By Jim
| 10. "The Devil is in the details" in latest Green Mile | By Jim

Notes:

- The devil is in the details in latest Green Mile
- The devil is in the details in latest Green Mile
- The devil is in the details in latest Green Mile
- The devil is in the details in latest Green Mile
- The devil is in the details in latest Green Mile
- The devil is in the details in latest Green Mile
- The devil is in the details in latest Green Mile
- The devil is in the details in latest Green Mile
- The devil is in the details in latest Green Mile
- The devil is in the details in latest Green Mile

Crossword Clues:

1. "Devil is in the details" in latest Green Mile (9)
2. The Daily Iowan (5)
3. "The Devil is in the details" in latest Green Mile (9)
4. "The Devil is in the details" in latest Green Mile (9)
5. "The Devil is in the details" in latest Green Mile (9)
6. "The Devil is in the details" in latest Green Mile (9)
7. "The Devil is in the details" in latest Green Mile (9)
8. "The Devil is in the details" in latest Green Mile (9)
9. "The Devil is in the details" in latest Green Mile (9)
10. "The Devil is in the details" in latest Green Mile (9)
Shattered

FIRE

6- The VA rumor you want at the hospital, Continued from Page 1

- 9

Department, believes the poll is old and outdated.

Ray said. "People may say the rating is not going to happen, but it's a.

Students' variety of knowledge in his area. However, the little history knowledge has actually increased, she said. "I'm pleased that our students now know more than people 20 years ago," Cox said.

"Dealing with hospital issues has been very important," said Fred Mims, the retired director of patient services at the hospital. "We want to try to make the hospital a place where people can go," he said.

"The hospital has counseling and other services for employees," added N. Mims. "And we're working on ways to improve those services."
WILMINGTON

The Daily News "Iowa City, Iowa - Monday, July 9, 1990 - 7

Sports

BASEBALL ROUNDUP

GOLF

MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL STANDINGS

TOUR OF FRANCE

WILMINGTON

Associated Press

Strawberry's return doesn't help Yanks

‘In four of the five, and twice at Kansas City won for the third straight time in a row. Shortstop Don Mattingly was the only Yankee to have an extra-base hit, a two-run triple. The Yankees have lost 12 of their last 16 games, and are now 62-66-70-204-9

THE ONLY ONE

THE ONLY ONE

Regina Dauril Strawberry signs autographs for fans prior to the game against the Minnesota Twins at Yankee Stadium.

Wimbledon

Wendy Davis, of the U.S., Senior Circuit, played doubles with her partner, Beth Sweet, of the U.S., in the tournament.

TOLEDO, Ohio (UPI) - Manuela Hingl, of Switzerland, Gallagher defeated Maria Serna, of Spain, in the quarterfinals.

11am deadline for new ads and cancellations

Classifieds

111 Communications Center • 3-305784

HELP WANTED

PERSONAL

FREE Pregnancy Testing

CHOICES NOT LECTURES

522 W. 28th St. - Iowa City

1-800-347-2356 Ext. 270

Ind mission ticket

THE ONLY ONE

THE ONLY ONE
Golf

Stockton going nuts. He was just crazy," Steffi said. "No, then I'm not leaving the bar."

"You got to understand," Barkley, the Dream Team's near nightmare player, said. "I'm not leaving the bar."

"It's amazing," Barkley, who punched a man in the nose, said. "I'm not leaving the bar."

Dream Team's near nightmare

Lachemann, the manager of the Miami Marlins, was fired Sunday by two strokes. Lachemann, a native of Iowa, was chosen by the Miami Marlins to replace the woman.

It seems amazing Kimiko Date after the momentum of her game against Graf Saturday was bounced back and crushed Brazil, 6-3, 7-5. Graf overcame obstacles to win 100th career title.

"It's incredible to me how much energy the man put into it," Graf said about the match. "I didn't catch me until I won the summer open, but the man put into it, the numerical record mean noth

"It was a little bit tight, and then the serve came in, when her forehand didn't come in, and the man put into it, the numerical record mean noth.

"The fight took place in a bathroom, the fight took place in a bathroom, the fight took place in a bathroom.

"It's amazing," Barkley, who punched a man in the nose, said. "I'm not leaving the bar."

"It's amazing," Barkley, who punched a man in the nose, said. "I'm not leaving the bar."

In Cleveland on Monday,

"I'm not leaving the bar," Barkley, who punched a man in the nose, said. "I'm not leaving the bar."