Jackson's new bride exposed in newspaper

New York (AP) — First, the decision to marry her husband in a secret, private wedding. Now — a photograph of the bride shows up topless on the paparazzi-filled newspaper pages of a shiny tabloid.

Jackie announced that he would like to divorce his new bride, known only as "G," because she is "too skinny," according to a paparazzo who took the picture.

The photo was taken by a paparazzo assigned to cover the wedding for a magazine profile of Jackie's bride-to-be.

"It would be all right if there were pictures from the wedding," Jackie said. "The wedding was a very intimate occasion."
Welfare cheating in Iowa undergoes major crackdown

Associated Press

Des Moines, Iowa — A high-profile crackdown on welfare cheats has produced 10 agents so far, including a Clinton woman accused of fraudulently collecting about $43,912 in benefits.

Arraigned Friday were Theron Lyn Welch, 29, who was charged with two counts of first-degree fraudulent practice and two counts of second-degree fraudulent practice.

She is accused of illegally obtaining benefits from almost every category of economic assistance in Iowa, food stamps, the Family Investment Program, Title XVI medical aid and Social Security.

Worning, speaking for the state Department of Human Services, said if the department is successful in its crackdown, it will cause many people to reconsider whether it is worth the risk to cheat.

"It's not a good idea for anyone who are on their own to try their luck. It's aimed at those people who are thieves," he said.

"We know that welfare is meant for the needy. Those who are greedy need to look out," Worning said.

Unfixed arguments in the fridges

I am writing to express my anger at the Danville Herald's recent article, "How to fix what’s wrong with the fridges in the Danville Post and Crisis Center.

For years, our community has been struggling with the issue of broken fridges, and yet the city council continues to ignore the problem. The fridges are constantly broken and not being fixed, leaving our community without access to vital food items.

It is unacceptable that our city council is not taking this issue seriously. The fridges are not only a necessity for our community, but they also serve as a symbol of the city's neglect towards its citizens.

I urge our city council to take immediate action and fix the fridges in the Danville Post and Crisis Center.

Sincerely,

Conservative solutions for a Democratic problem

First of all, I would like to say that the problem we are facing is the Democratic crisis. We need solutions that address the specific needs of the Democratic electorate.

Traditional conservative solutions may not be the best fit for the Democratic crisis. We need a new perspective that is uniquely tailored to the needs of the Democratic voters.

I believe that the solution to the Democratic crisis lies in a combination of fiscal responsibility, social cohesion, and national security. These solutions will not only address the immediate needs of the Democratic voters, but also provide a foundation for a strong, prosperous future.

Thank you for considering this perspective.

Should the Llama Chi Alpha fraternity take responsibility in the death of Matthew Garofalo?

The death of Matthew Garofalo is a tragic event that has left our community in mourning. The Llama Chi Alpha fraternity has been named as a suspect in the case, and it is essential that they take responsibility for the actions that led to Matthew's passing.

The fraternity's actions not only reflect poorly on themselves, but also on our community as a whole. It is important that they face the consequences of their actions and work towards making our community a safer place.

We must come together as a community to support each other during this difficult time.

Wal-Mart's misguiding paternal instincts

"Santorum for president," the headline declared, "and you'll never have to worry about your videotape and C.D. again."

Someone, somewhere, needs to explain to the average Wal-Mart customer why the company is running this ad.

Santorum is a product of the American right, a man who would cut Social Security, privatize Medicare, and support gay-bashing legislation.

Wal-Mart's decision to air this ad is misguided and paternalistic. The company is trying to tell the public what they need and what will keep them safe. But we all know that the only thing that will keep us safe is a strong, functioning government.

Santorum's ad is a reminder of the dangers that we face in our society. But it is also a reminder of the power that we have to fight back and demand better from our leaders.

Wal-Mart's idle hands

"We're going to be here to take care of the holidays," Wal-Mart CEO Bill Simon said.

But with the holidays now past, Wal-Mart is still trying to figure out what to do with its stores.

Wal-Mart has been criticized for its idle stores, which have been turned into warehouses and used for other purposes. But the company has refused to take any action to address the issue.

As the holidays come to an end, Wal-Mart must find a way to make use of its idle stores. The company cannot continue to waste resources and ignore the needs of its customers.

Gingrich under fire as House picks heads

David Figo
Associated Press

WASHINGTON — Newt Gingrich, embattled House Speaker under fire for his ethics, is being held in contempt of Congress.

The move, which will allow House prosecutors to file a lawsuit against Gingrich, was expected to be announced Wednesday. It is a rare move that is often used to punish high-ranking officials.

The contempt citation was a response to Gingrich's refusal to comply with a subpoena for documents related to the House ethics committee's investigation into Gingrich's actions.

"This is a serious step," said one House member. "We're looking at all our options, including impeachment."

Why wait for bowl pairings?

Associated Press

From the Rose Bowl to the Las Vegas Bowl, most of the major bowl games are being drawn up even though the regular season is still months away.

With the creation of the bowl alliance, however, the bowl season is changing up, taking into account some of the new rules that were not on anyone’s minds when the season started.

SEC: Missouri coach Larry Smith says his team will try to avoid the SEC “barnburner” format.

The conference’s new rule, which requires the champion to play the runner-up in the SEC Championship Game, will make it difficult for Missouri to face any team in the SEC.

Big East: Connecticut coach Paul Pasqualoni said his team would prefer to avoid the Big East “barnburner” format.

The conference’s new rule, which requires the champion to play the runner-up in the Big East Championship Game, will make it difficult for Connecticut to face any team in the Big East.

ACC: Virginia coach Al Groh said his team will try to avoid the ACC “barnburner” format.

The conference’s new rule, which requires the champion to play the runner-up in the ACC Championship Game, will make it difficult for Virginia to face any team in the ACC.

Big Ten: Michigan coach Lloyd Carr said his team will try to avoid the Big Ten “barnburner” format.

The conference’s new rule, which requires the champion to play the runner-up in the Big Ten Championship Game, will make it difficult for Michigan to face any team in the Big Ten.

Pac-10: Arizona coach Mike Stoops said his team will try to avoid the Pac-10 “barnburner” format.

The conference’s new rule, which requires the champion to play the runner-up in the Pac-10 Championship Game, will make it difficult for Arizona to face any team in the Pac-10.

Western Athletic Conference: Nevada coach Wolfie Ricks said his team will try to avoid the WAC “barnburner” format.

The conference’s new rule, which requires the champion to play the runner-up in the WAC Championship Game, will make it difficult for Nevada to face any team in the WAC.

Sun Belt Conference: Louisiana-Lafayette coach Tony Delk said his team will try to avoid the Sun Belt “barnburner” format.

The conference’s new rule, which requires the champion to play the runner-up in the Sun Belt Championship Game, will make it difficult for Louisiana-Lafayette to face any team in the Sun Belt.
