The display, launched for the first time in 1987, is sponsored by the City Without Art. On Nov. 12, 1992, the museum honored the 1,000,000th person infected with HIV, the virus that causes AIDS, and the total number of people with HIV/AIDS has since passed the 20,000,000 mark.

"We also want to remind the government and the public of the importance of fighting AIDS," said Ginny Shubert, "National AIDS Fund of the United States.""

Mel Gibson's popularity surpasses the Dukies

There was a time, not so long ago, when Iowa City, Iowa, Freshman and There were many in Washington, D.C., who were surprised by the decision to cast Mel Gibson as a lead in a film about the Boston Marathon bombing.

In the early 1990s, Gibson was a Hollywood star, known for his roles as an action hero. He was known for his intensity and his on-screen presence.

But in recent years, Gibson's reputation has been tarnished by controversial statements he made about Jews and his own involvement in domestic violence.

The casting of Gibson as a lead in a film about the Boston Marathon bombing has sparked controversy and mixed reactions.

Some people believe that Gibson is a good choice for the role, given his previous work in action films. Others believe that his involvement in controversial issues makes him a poor choice for the role of a hero.

Regardless of the controversy surrounding the casting decision, the film is currently in production and is scheduled for release in 2023.

low fuel costs fed tough decisions on welfare reform

Now come the tougher choices, because national health law could allow millions to escape dependence and end up in the emergency rooms, drugs, and hospitals. Now, these people can ask for government help and have high hopes of finding the right thing to do, but if not, will find out that welfare is a much more serious work.

There are warning signs on the break a cycle of welfare that's so easy to do with others' worry, not an issue for just any statistic. There are warning signs on the break a cycle of welfare that's so easy to do with others' worry, not an issue for just any statistic.

Survey: Students study at remote locales

Del Riach, Associated Press

WASHINGTON — Rising numbers of U.S. college students are studying abroad, and many others are doing so online, a trend that appears to be reshaping the university in Europe, a survey found.

"It's a trend that seems to be gathering momentum," said the Washington Post's senior correspondent, who compiled the post in a report released Tuesday by the National Institute of Education.

- Foreign student enrollment in the U.S. increased from 354,000 in 1994-95 to 561,000 in 1996-97.
- The number of students studying abroad beyond the U.S. grew from 101,000 in 1994-95 to 158,000 in 1996-97.
- The number of students taking online courses grew from 224,000 in 1994-95 to 321,000 in 1996-97.

"What I think is most important is that we are seeing a new generation of students who are more comfortable with technology," said the Post's senior correspondent.

- 60% of students who took online courses in 1996-97 said they would do it again.
- 50% of students who took online courses in 1996-97 said they would recommend it to others.

"This is a trend that is here to stay," said the Post's senior correspondent. "We're seeing a new generation of students who are more comfortable with technology."
Mother Teresa's recovery slowed by lung, kidney problems

Chandra Banerjee

CALCUTTA — Mother Teresa was in critical condition Friday, weakened by lung and kidney problems that showed no signs of improvement, her doctors said.

The 86-year-old nun remains in the intensive care unit of the B. M. Birla Heart Research Institute, where she was admitted Aug. 13 because of an irregular heartbeat for an operation to replace her heart's pacemaker.

"I will place more emphasis on congressional hearings which are not always the most important way of addressing these issues, unfortunately," Sen. John McCain, R-Ariz., said on ABC's "This Week." McCain, a leading advocate of campaign finance reform, said he will introduce a bill to change the system so that the Justice Department can investigate Democratic fundraising by and from people with links to wealthy foreigners.

The Justice Department turned down Friday Justice's suit asking for the department to turn over evidence for possible wrongdoing of political fundraising by the Republican National Committee last year.

Excitement builds for Coralville mall

Eric Neuhauer

The Daily Iowan

Construction of the new Coral Ridge Mall begins in October, a major project for the city and one that will create jobs while ensuring that their community won't be left behind in the shopping trends of the nation. "It's a huge win for Coralville," said Mayor Jim Fausett.

Interest in the mall is high, with the city planning to attract people to the area by holding various events and promotions. Coralville is set to become a hub of activity and growth, with the mall as its centerpiece.

The mall, a 118,000-square-foot building set to open by early 2024, will serve as the centerpiece of the community, offering a variety of shops and restaurants to cater to the needs of the residents. Coralville will also be home to a brand new location of the Children's Museum, a 10-screen movie theater, and an indoor ice rink, making it a destination for families and visitors alike.

The Children's Museum, a 10-screen movie theater, and an indoor ice rink, making it a destination for families and visitors alike. The Children's Museum will feature exhibits designed to engage children and educate them about science, art, and history.

The 10-screen movie theater will offer a wide range of films, from blockbusters to independent movies, and will be a popular destination for movie lovers. The indoor ice rink will provide a fun and safe environment for families to enjoy ice skating and socialize.

Coralville Mayor Jim Fausett said the planned mall will help to bring people into the city, a key aspect of the community's economic development strategy. "The mall will keep people in the area that are looking to shop," Fausett said. "It's a great way to diversify the economy and create jobs for our residents."

The mall's completion is set for March 2024, and the city is already looking forward to the positive impact it will have on the community. "We're excited about the growth and development this project will bring," said Fausett. "We're proud to be a part of this exciting development, and we can't wait to welcome everyone to Coralville's Coral Ridge Mall."

'101 Dalmatians': A soulless rehashing of a Disney classic

Nathan S. Grepper
The Daily Iowan

Somewhere between the Happy Hollisters and the Yu-Gi-Oh!, the spitting marionettes, Disney must be stuck in a very bad dress.

The family hyped "101 Dalmatians" as an animating rehashing of their animated classic, "101 Dalmatians," but it's a film that is more confusing than entertaining. In this animation, settings, wooden characters and related scenes make one wonder how Disney World has the attention of a few hundred kids who often become cross-eyed and bewildered. The film will be continually disappointed, and not even the kids.

In the story, a man (played by Glenn Close) is sent to live the first nine years of his life in Alabama under his cousin, "Mr. O'Brien," (played by Alan Ruck). As the film drags towards its uncaptivating finale, the influence of screenwriter John Hughes "Home Alone" takes over once more. Again, bodily harm passes for children's humor as the villain (played by Robin Williams) gets his comeuppance.

The film's only redeeming quality is the beautifully animated sequence. Despite their over-emotional exploits, dogs, cars, horses, and rocks never exceed the limits of the rest of the film. However, after witnessing "Babe," to have the animals not speak (as they did in the original) is so silly and even great comedies.

Though Disney's marketing department used brand names for this mad-media film will be a box office hit, it's possible for the more hard-edged works, such as "Cold Blood" and "The Godfather," to have the more hard-edged works, such as "Cold Blood" and "The Godfather,

The film also had relations with actors names, particularly "Mama Mia," whose presence is never explained and always out of place. Even in "The Glee Project," which debuted with $17.6 million, "Mama Mia" was there. The opening took the record for a five-day Thanksgiving weekend with a $42 million in a domestic industry estimate Friday.

The opening weekend "Star Trek: First Contact" has been lacking with an estimated take of $10.35 million, far below its $23.4 million and $25.9 million.

Despite their sloppily, uncaptivating finale, the influence of animator John Hughes "Home Alone" takes over once more. Again, bodily harm passes for children's humor as the villain (played by Robin Williams) gets his comeuppance.

Three, but women win, 64-53

Andy Hamilton
(The Daily Iowan)

After a two-week layoff since its last game the University of Iowa basketball team returned to practice Monday.

The Hawkeyes weren’t at full strength with Angelina Balsamo, Tiffany Gordon and Megan Willis sitting out due to injuries, but the other nine players each stepped up to fill the void and show the team’s depth.

The defense was outstanding and a quality Cyclone team was held to 71 points.

My team played one hell of a basketball game,” Iowa coach Andy Hamilton said. “This team has to pull together. I’m very proud of this team.”

Iowa State kept it close down to the final minutes, scoring every Hawkeye run with one of its own, but in the end, it was the Cyclones running out of steam, not the beholden Hawkeyes.

The Cyclones, a team with the nation’s first seven field goal attempts to take a lead, had Denise George and Jamie Grinnell led the Cyclones back. The two Iowa State juniors combined to score all of their team’s points in the final half-

Iowa State could not keep up with Iowa and its second straight road win.

Iowa State, with its defense, the Cyclones would have done well.

“We started off slow,” Lee said. “But when that began to change things, that’s where we’ve been.”

Iowa State matched every move of the Hawkeyes in the second half, but when the game was over, the Hawkeyes had made 50 percent of their shots, 19 for 38, while the Cyclones made 41 percent, 21 for 51.

“A lot of times you’re not shooting well when you’re playing well,” Lee said.

Iowa State fell to 4-11 overall and 1-7 in the Big 12. Iowa is 9-9 and 2-5 in conference play.

Iowa State’s Nicole Dierkes (13) and Susan Koegel (22), along with Iowa State’s Cori Schexnaildre, scramble for a loose ball Saturday at Carver-Hawkeye Arena. Iowa won the game, 44-33.

Raspberry Champagne Punch
from Deb McCreedy's recipe collection. Author: unknown

- 2-10 oz. pkg. frozen red raspberries
- 1/2 tsp. sugar
- 1/3 c. lemon juice
- 1/2 c. sugar

In blender container, puree raspberries. In punch bowl, combine pureed raspberries, lemon juice, sugar and wine; stir until sugar dissolves.

Just before serving, scoop sherbet into punch bowl; add champagne. Stir gently.

New Tuna & Noodles
from Heidi Jess' recipe collection. Author: unknown

- 3 T. margarine
- 3 T. flour
- 1/2 tsp. chicken bouillon granules
- 1/2 c. milk
- dash of salt
- 6 1/2 oz. water
- 2 oz. mushrooms
- 1/3 c. shredded cheddar cheese

In 1 quart microwave bowl, melt 3 T. margarine and 3 T. flour, 1/2 tsp. chicken bouillon granules. Then stir in 1/2 c. milk and a dash of salt. Cook in microwave on HIGH 5 1/2 minutes.

Pour over cooked wide egg noodles (3-4 c. pre-cooked noodles). Let cool. Add 6 1/2 oz. water packed tuna, 2 oz. mushrooms, and 1/3 c. shredded cheddar cheese. Heat through and serve.

Sausage Stroganoff

(A Brunch Dish or an Appetizer)

From Amy Schmitt's recipe collection. Author: Eden Schmitt

1-1/2 c. chopped onion
1 clove garlic
1 lb. of bulk sausage
8 oz. pk. mushrooms
2 T. flour
1 tsp. salt or to taste
1 can of cream of chicken soup
1 cup sour cream
1/4 tsp. pepper

Stir in soup and simmer for 10 minutes. Stir in sour cream and heat, but do not bring to a boil or it will curdle. Transfer to a small crock pot to keep warm. Serve as a dip with round melba toasts. Makes a great brunch dish on a buffet or serve as an appetizer or pot luck dish.

No Condom No chance

You know what I like in a guy? Someone who cares. Someone who thinks enough of me to respect the fact that I insist on using protection.

Sorry, honey, but casual sex is out. As far as I’m concerned, there’s nothing casual about it. I need to know I’m safe. Don’t you? Think about it, what if the guy I was with last month, or last year, was a total jerk who didn’t care about me in the least? Or, what if I didn’t care either?

Asking me to risk my life is the quickest way to turn me off. I insist on using a condom. I like a guy who does, too.
