Taco Bell is headed for Old Capitol, but …

Kelley Chrity

The Daily Iowan

Although Taco Bell may not be to Old Capitol Mall like spring, local business managers say other downtown restaurants won’t be newly-opened Old Capitol Mall outlets. Taco Bell will be located in Old Capitol Mall, in front of the Urban Oasis. The restaurant will open in May, according to general manager Deanna Truesdale and she said, if everything goes as planned, the restaurant will be open by April 2, 1997. It will be the last of the four small mall stores to open a full service and will be in a very bad way.”

We have been following the news on the construction of the new Taco Bell store here in Iowa City and have been very excited about it. The store has been under construction for several weeks and is scheduled to open next month. We have been anticipating the opening of the store for some time and are looking forward to the day when it opens. The store is located in Old Capitol Mall, in front of the Urban Oasis, and will be open from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. every day, except Sundays when it will be open from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m.

“Are we not too worried ever since?”

Deanna Truesdale said “We have a different product and a good customer base.”

I am very excited about the opening of the new Taco Bell store in Old Capitol Mall. I have been a fan of Taco Bell for many years and am looking forward to the opportunity to visit the new location. The store is conveniently located in Old Capitol Mall, which makes it easy to access for both residents and visitors to Iowa City.

“Taco Bell is a topic that’s really an easy task.”

Brian Ray / The Daily Iowan

As for the food, I am confident that the new location will offer the same high-quality Mexican cuisine that I have come to expect from Taco Bell. I am particularly looking forward to trying the new menu items, which include items such as the new Signature Quesadilla and the new Street Taco.

We have been very much looking forward to the opening of the new restaurant, and I am confident that it will be a success. I am excited to become a regular customer of the new location and to support this local business.

White House Christmas tree takes decor from ‘Nutcracker’ theme

Donor's role in her husband's second term.

T dangerously absorbed by the ozone layer. Dar is now trying to determine the role in her husband's second term.

It is important to study the ozone layer's health, as it protects Earth from harmful ultraviolet rays. The ozone layer is constantly under threat from human activities, such as the use of chlorofluorocarbons (CFCs) and other ozone-depleting substances. The depletion of the ozone layer has led to an increase in the amount of ultraviolet radiation reaching the Earth's surface, which can have harmful effects on human health and the environment.

The ozone layer is a region of the atmosphere that contains a high concentration of ozone, a gas composed of three oxygen atoms (O₃). The ozone layer is vital for life on Earth as it absorbs most of the harmful ultraviolet (UV) radiation from the sun, preventing it from reaching the Earth's surface. Without the ozone layer, the Earth would be exposed to much higher levels of UV radiation, which can cause skin cancer, cataracts, and other health problems.

Current efforts to protect the ozone layer include reducing the emission of ozone-depleting substances, such as CFCs, HCFCs, and HFCs, as well as supporting international agreements like the Montreal Protocol. The Montreal Protocol, signed in 1987, is a landmark treaty that has successfully reduced the production and use of ozone-depleting substances worldwide, leading to a recovery of the ozone layer.

In conclusion, the ozone layer is a crucial component of the Earth's atmosphere, protecting life on Earth from harmful UV radiation. Efforts to protect the ozone layer are ongoing and are necessary to ensure a healthy and sustainable future for all.

A close look reveals a cinnamon-scented tree in a big bowl that looks just like the Clinton bal­

The New York Times published an article about a popular song from the 1960s called "White Christmas," which became a classic holiday tune. The song was written by the songwriters Irving Berlin and Mack Gordon, and it was first recorded by Bing Crosby in 1941. "White Christmas" is known for its iconic opening line, "White Christmas in June with only Christmas trees in June, a lovely song for the summer...

The song has become a staple of holiday music and is often played on radio stations and in public places during the holiday season. It has also been featured in numerous films and television shows, solidifying its status as a timeless Christmas classic.

In conclusion, "White Christmas" is a cherished holiday song that continues to bring joy and happiness to people around the world every year during the holiday season.

Finally, punishment for bad drivers: The Carpoon

H owever, the police can do something about that. If you pay 50 cents to the police in the town of Oulu, Finland, Finnish traffic police are committed to keeping the roads safe. They have a special car for this purpose, which acts as a mobile police station. The officers can pull over anyone who is driving too fast or not obeying traffic laws. They can also issue citations if they see someone who is speeding or driving recklessly.

The police officers in the Finnish police car are not armed, but they do have a harpoon that sticks several feet out from the car. This harpoon is used to keep two cars from getting too close together. The police officers use this harpoon to stop bad drivers, such as those who are speeding or not obeying traffic laws.

The Finnish police car also has a loudspeaker that can be used to warn other drivers of the presence of the police car. This is done to prevent accidents and to keep the roads safe.

New AIDS drugs to be tested on children

Lawson Neupert

WASHINGTON — More than 100 infants will be given the opportunity to test powerful new AIDS drugs. But health officials say the number of children in the United States too young to give informed consent is pitifully low because to know one's HIV status is to know one's death.

Since none of the three new and powerful AIDS drugs is approved for children, experts say parents of even children who are old enough to determine their own fates often refuse to allow their children to participate in these drug studies. That means children will be writing the drug companies study questions.

"I looked over to my daughter and thought, 'How could I let her do this?"' Johnson, of Belfast, Maine, said. "At least when [my two other children] were born, we had the option to refuse to have this child." Johnson said. "It's hard working hard to get the new drugs, because they are so necessary. But for early 1997 on everything from the start, throughout infancy, the parents would sit in appositions."

But doctors still said it is too early to say whether the drugs work against the virus. And many health experts agree that the drugs' side effects and potential for long-term use are too much for even normal people. Michigan's basketball team was 15-12 overall last year, but finished from here? Either the football team much everyone doing and they wouldn't let me go. Especially in the Big Ten. It's a small basketball team, it's nothing.

The tournament begins Monday at the University of Iowa in Iowa City. The winner will advance to the NCAA tournament.

The Hoosiers and Wolverines played to a 10-10 tie Thursday, and both teams have a chance for a return trip to the NCAA tournament.

Illini name Turner new head coach

The Daily Illini

BY BRET JAFFE/SPRINGER

CHAMPAIGN — Illinois athletic director Ron Turner was tapped Monday as the Illini football team’s new head coach.

Turner was introduced as the new coach Monday at a news conference in Spence Stadium.

Turner has been Illinois’ offensive coordinator the last 12 seasons under coach Ron Zook. He was also an internal candidate for the job.

Turner replaces Lovie Smith, who was fired as coach last week after five losing seasons and a 1-4-1 record in bowl games.

Turner said he was brought in to the Illini because he had been involved with the program for 12 years as an assistant coach.

Turner takes over a team that went 3-9 in 2006 and finished 14th in the Big Ten.

Two games won in 2006 were against San Francisco and New Mexico State.

Turner’s hiring comes just a day after Smith was fired in the wake of a 3-9 season.

Smith said he knew he was being fired the day after the Illini lost to Northwestern, concluding a three-game losing streak.

“Lovie was a tremendous coach for me,” Turner said. “I learned a lot from him. He has a lot of passion, a lot of energy. We’re going to miss him.”

Turner said he was impressed by the Illini’s work ethic and the way the team hung in there during tough losses.

“I don’t think there was ever a game they didn’t fight,” Turner said. “It’s a great group of kids. It’s a great group of coaches. I’m excited about the opportunity.”
