Army Sgt. convicted of rape

Delmar G. Simpson was found guilty on 18 counts of rape against women subordinates.

By David Ochsner

ABBEEN, COY (S elevated Post) - A female soldier stationed at Auber Anthropic Post has been convicted of 18 counts of rape against women subordinates.

Simpson, a father of two whose wife is national at an Army post in Virginia, was at the center of the investigation that followed the soldiers' allegations.

Simpson already has pleaded guilty to having consensual sex with 13 times, including five of the rape victims. He could be up to 50 years in prison on those charges and five sexual assault offenses.

Women's advocate had the say-paternal in some cases with sexual misunderstandings. The Pentagon has said it would have to determine how the black or white woman, one at a time, was assaulted.

In all, a total of two women were raped by the suspect. The suspect was a female soldier stationed at Annapolis, Maryland.

The suspect, a female soldier stationed at Annapolis, Maryland, was convicted of raping a woman.

Simpson's trial started with the two women assaulted. The suspect, a female soldier stationed at Annapolis, Maryland, was convicted of raping a woman.

"Ellen: the Episode" airs tonight

Prime-time TV will see the 1st coming out of a main character

By David Bandor

NEW YORK - From the wide-open world of the 1970's, a male Siberian ex-soldier is being targeted by the military.

"Ellen Morgan is a milestone step towards further recognition of the military as a place where women can be valued and seen for their talents and abilities," said Ellen Morgan, a longtime Chicago military veteran.

Morgan's case is one of the first to be brought to the public's attention in a long-running military trial.

Although the military has made strides in recognizing the contributions of women, Morgan's case highlights the challenges that women face in the military.

"Every time I see a female soldier, I think of how much they have to endure," said Morgan.

The trial, which started in January, has been followed by widespread coverage in the media.

"People are amazed at the courage and determination of women in the military," said Morgan.

"Ellen Morgan's case is a reminder that we must continue to work towards ensuring that women are treated with the same respect and dignity as their male counterparts," said Morgan.

"I am proud to see the military taking steps towards recognizing women's contributions and valuing their service," said Morgan.

School's out

E-mail not as private as some students think

By Will Vald

The Daily Iowan

If the top 10 reason codes result in more than 45 students even to apply to extracurricular activities, the Information Technology Services (ITS) authorization e-mail postmaster, could have access to their e-mail.

"It's important to remember that the purpose of our policy is to protect the privacy of users and ensure that their e-mail is not accessed by unauthorized individuals," said ITS e-mail postmaster. "We try to just read the e-mail content, but it's an honor system."

The policy, which was implemented in 1995, requires authorized e-mail postmasters to read the text of all e-mail messages.

"We try to just read the e-mail content, but it's an honor system," said ITS e-mail postmaster.

Although the policy has been in place for several years, it has been effective in protecting the privacy of users and ensuring that their e-mail is not accessed by unauthorized individuals.

"I think the policy is necessary to protect the privacy of our users," said ITS e-mail postmaster.

Newsletters from the student council are available online at the ITS e-mail postmaster's Web site: www.its.uiowa.edu.
Lie beauches) I from left Paul Raffinck (Skill), Bob Nelson (Plush), Peter Dickson (Maney), the Big Bad Wolf, Stainless Steel, Caren Gar-son (Lung), Gary Long (Lips), and Rick Alexander (Chase) pose for a picture during the taping of their biweekly television show, "Wide World."

Showling life in the 'Wide World'

By Greg Schlochin
The Daily Iowan

"If you're in the house, you didn't get to see the main Monday Night Maniac show this week as the President's Corner on a TV in a few rows behind the "Wide World." A 10 to 15 minutes spot of MTV's "The Real World" that appeared on channel 10 every Wednesday on the evening news show "Wide World." The show started on April 30, 1997.

"If you're not in the house, don't worry about it." Chelsie "Choppy" Zaborowsky, spokesperson for the New Jersey Sports and Entertainment Commission, said in a statement.

"Rodman's fans are some of the most dedicated and passionate fans in the world. "It's a shame that they have to make this decision," Zaborowsky added.

"There's the potential for a lot of panic buying," she said. "He's a fan, but we're not going to treat him like a rock star." Zaborowsky also said that the NBA has not had any discussions with the President's Corner about the situation.

"There's not a lot we can do," she said. "We're just trying to make sure that everyone is aware of the situation." Zaborowsky also said that the NBA has not had any discussions with the President's Corner about the situation.

"There's not a lot we can do," she said. "We're just trying to make sure that everyone is aware of the situation." Zaborowsky also said that the NBA has not had any discussions with the President's Corner about the situation.

"There's not a lot we can do," she said. "We're just trying to make sure that everyone is aware of the situation." Zaborowsky also said that the NBA has not had any discussions with the President's Corner about the situation.

"There's not a lot we can do," she said. "We're just trying to make sure that everyone is aware of the situation." Zaborowsky also said that the NBA has not had any discussions with the President's Corner about the situation.

"There's not a lot we can do," she said. "We're just trying to make sure that everyone is aware of the situation." Zaborowsky also said that the NBA has not had any discussions with the President's Corner about the situation.

"There's not a lot we can do," she said. "We're just trying to make sure that everyone is aware of the situation." Zaborowsky also said that the NBA has not had any discussions with the President's Corner about the situation.

"There's not a lot we can do," she said. "We're just trying to make sure that everyone is aware of the situation." Zaborowsky also said that the NBA has not had any discussions with the President's Corner about the situation.

"There's not a lot we can do," she said. "We're just trying to make sure that everyone is aware of the situation." Zaborowsky also said that the NBA has not had any discussions with the President's Corner about the situation.

"There's not a lot we can do," she said. "We're just trying to make sure that everyone is aware of the situation." Zaborowsky also said that the NBA has not had any discussions with the President's Corner about the situation.

"There's not a lot we can do," she said. "We're just trying to make sure that everyone is aware of the situation." Zaborowsky also said that the NBA has not had any discussions with the President's Corner about the situation.

"There's not a lot we can do," she said. "We're just trying to make sure that everyone is aware of the situation." Zaborowsky also said that the NBA has not had any discussions with the President's Corner about the situation.

"There's not a lot we can do," she said. "We're just trying to make sure that everyone is aware of the situation." Zaborowsky also said that the NBA has not had any discussions with the President's Corner about the situation.

"There's not a lot we can do," she said. "We're just trying to make sure that everyone is aware of the situation." Zaborowsky also said that the NBA has not had any discussions with the President's Corner about the situation.

"There's not a lot we can do," she said. "We're just trying to make sure that everyone is aware of the situation." Zaborowsky also said that the NBA has not had any discussions with the President's Corner about the situation.

"There's not a lot we can do," she said. "We're just trying to make sure that everyone is aware of the situation." Zaborowsky also said that the NBA has not had any discussions with the President's Corner about the situation.

"There's not a lot we can do," she said. "We're just trying to make sure that everyone is aware of the situation." Zaborowsky also said that the NBA has not had any discussions with the President's Corner about the situation.

"There's not a lot we can do," she said. "We're just trying to make sure that everyone is aware of the situation." Zaborowsky also said that the NBA has not had any discussions with the President's Corner about the situation.

"There's not a lot we can do," she said. "We're just trying to make sure that everyone is aware of the situation." Zaborowsky also said that the NBA has not had any discussions with the President's Corner about the situation.

"There's not a lot we can do," she said. "We're just trying to make sure that everyone is aware of the situation." Zaborowsky also said that the NBA has not had any discussions with the President's Corner about the situation.

"There's not a lot we can do," she said. "We're just trying to make sure that everyone is aware of the situation." Zaborowsky also said that the NBA has not had any discussions with the President's Corner about the situation.

"There's not a lot we can do," she said. "We're just trying to make sure that everyone is aware of the situation." Zaborowsky also said that the NBA has not had any discussions with the President's Corner about the situation.

"There's not a lot we can do," she said. "We're just trying to make sure that everyone is aware of the situation." Zaborowsky also said that the NBA has not had any discussions with the President's Corner about the situation.

"There's not a lot we can do," she said. "We're just trying to make sure that everyone is aware of the situation." Zaborowsky also said that the NBA has not had any discussions with the President's Corner about the situation.

"There's not a lot we can do," she said. "We're just trying to make sure that everyone is aware of the situation." Zaborowsky also said that the NBA has not had any discussions with the President's Corner about the situation.

"There's not a lot we can do," she said. "We're just trying to make sure that everyone is aware of the situation." Zaborowsky also said that the NBA has not had any discussions with the President's Corner about the situation.
Officers intensify siege on constricting prisons

By Cherie Neff
Associated Press

DENVER—Denver and other cities should make it illegal to own or sell hand guns or assault weapons, a group of social activists said today at a news conference at the University of Colorado at Denver.

The group, which includes survivors of gun violence, said 91 people have been killed in the city this year due to gun violence. They called on the city to pass a law that would ban the sale of all firearms and ammunition.

The group also called for a moratorium on the sale of future guns in the city, as well as new restrictions on the use of guns in the city. They said the city must take action now to prevent more deaths caused by gun violence.

The group has been holding a series of news conferences in the city calling for stronger gun control measures. They said they will continue to hold protests until the city passes a law that will prevent further gun violence.
Zen and the Boston Marathon

I

ut Monday, I ran the Boston Marathon. Boston is an odd place. For so many years it has been the site of the world's premier marathon race. While I was doing my training in New York, I imagined that Boston was a place of skiing, running, and other outdoor activities. Now that I have run in Boston, I realize that the city is more like a Disneyland. It has all the trappings of a major city, but none of the charm. The only place where you can see a real person is at the finish line. The rest of the city is like a giant theme park.

The Boston Marathon is a very unique event. It is unlike any other marathon in the world. For one thing, it is a 26.2 mile race, which is much longer than most marathons. It is also a very competitive event, with runners from all over the world. The atmosphere is very lively, with many people cheering on the runners. The course is also very scenic, with many beautiful sights along the way.

I ran the Boston Marathon on Monday, and I was very excited to be a part of it. I had been training for several weeks, and I was ready to give it my all. The race started at 9 am, and I was at the starting line at 8:45. The weather was perfect, with a temperature of 60 degrees and a steady breeze.

The race was very challenging, but I was able to keep up with the others. I ran the first half of the marathon at a consistent pace, and I was able to finish in just under 3 hours. I was very happy with my performance, and I was able to cross the finish line with a smile on my face.

I would highly recommend running the Boston Marathon to anyone who is interested in running a marathon. It is a very unique and enjoyable experience. I am already looking forward to next year's race.
Letters to the Editor

Promoting safe behavior in everyone

To the Editor:

We appreciate the point of view of Totten’s article “Men and women — one of a kind” April 2. That day, we sought to highlight the notion of sexual violence does not end in the bedroom, but in a community setting. Thank you for pointing out that this behavior is not unique to the time.

However, we want to be clear about one thing: Sexual Assault Awareness Week is about promoting safe behavior in everyone. Women and men have the right to walk alone in any part of society, and the right not to be afraid at all times. The fact is, the research and our experience, shows that we have much in common to the reality of sexual violence and our response to it. That being said, we do not mean to limit women’s freedom. It means teaching men not to be afraid of women or to be afraid of fear itself. And the education programs of the BVIP, promote learning about what sexual violence is, encouraging men to strengthen cultural behavior with women, and not blaming the victims for the crime.

Hannah McCormick
Director of Crisis Services
Vogue Victim Advocacy Programs

Bilateral talks are only way to achieve peace in the Middle East

To the Editor:

I am writing in response to Sander’s letter to the editor, April 23, 1997. She refers to U.S. Senator Joe Lieberman’s April 23, 2017, article that did not appear to read it. Hamas PAC is not a chapter in the film, but is an independent, non-governmental organization of Palestinian Americans. Several members of Hamas PAC attended the MIPPA and the Palestinian Americans did not attend.

When we talk about prevention, we must address the source of the problem. Safe behavior means behavior respectful of others. Safe behavior is the responsibility of every student. Safe behavior is the responsibility of the University community. However, we want to be clear about one thing: Sexual Assault Awareness Week is about promoting safe behavior in everyone. Women and men have the right to walk alone in any part of society, and the right not to be afraid at all times. The fact is, the research and our experience, shows that we have much in common to the reality of sexual violence and our response to it. That being said, we do not mean to limit women’s freedom. It means teaching men not to be afraid of women or to be afraid of fear itself. And the education programs of the BVIP, promote learning about what sexual violence is, encouraging men to strengthen cultural behavior with women, and not blaming the victims for the crime.

Hannah McCormick
Director of Crisis Services
Vogue Victim Advocacy Programs

The University community is invited to attend the annual Celebration of Excellence and Achievement Among Women

Tuesday, May 6
Main Lounge
Iowa Memorial Union
4:00 p.m. — Public Reception
5:00 p.m. — Award Presentation
6:00 p.m. — Fundraising dinner

The celebration and awards ceremony are free and open to the public. Dinner tickets are $25 (1913 for students). To order tickets, call 330-0160. Proceeds from the dinner will benefit the Pre-Vocational Training Program.

If you have a disability and need an accommodation to attend this event, please call 319-335.

The Daily Iowan | Iowa City, Iowa - Wednesday, April 30, 1997 | 5A
AIDS vaccine protects chimps, raises doctors’ hopes for humans

By Malcolm Ritter

NEW YORK — An experimental AIDS vaccine that has protected chimpanzees for more than a year appeared to work in humans in early tests, even though the approach will work in humans, scientists reported Wednesday.

The vaccine showed a 16 percent incidence of HIV infection among those receiving it, compared with 28 percent in a control group, Dr. Robert S. Gallo, director of the National Institute of All-

e, local. A sentencing AIDS has protected chimpanzees for more than a year appeared to work in humans in early tests, even though the approach will work in humans, scientists reported Wednesday.

The vaccine showed a 16 percent incidence of HIV infection among those receiving it, compared with 28 percent in a control group, Dr. Robert S. Gallo, director of the National Institute of All-

e, local. A sentencing AIDS has protected chimpanzees for more than a year appeared to work in humans in early tests, even though the approach will work in humans, scientists reported Wednesday.

The vaccine showed a 16 percent incidence of HIV infection among those receiving it, compared with 28 percent in a control group, Dr. Robert S. Gallo, director of the National Institute of All-
French president effort to outlaw cloning

By DenisRoyaud

PARIS — French President JacquesChirac said Thursday he will propose to his parliament to ban cloning, a national effort to outlaw the controversial biotechnology that has divided scientists, ethicists and politicians.

Chirac met with scientists at the Pasteur Institute, the largest institute in France, on Thursday to discuss the issue. He said that he would propose a ban on cloning to his parliament, but that he would not necessarily propose a ban on stem cell research, which is widely supported by scientists.

Chirac said that he would propose the ban because he believes that cloning is an immoral and unethical practice that should be prohibited. He said that he would like to see a global ban on cloning, but that he is aware that this is unlikely to happen.

The French parliament has not yet decided whether to ban cloning. The issue is currently being debated in a number of countries, including the United States, the United Kingdom, and Japan.

S. Korea lifts ban on civil aid to aspiring North

By JohnLeister

BEIJING — Food warehouses in South Korea, Africa and Asia are stockpiling food to deliver to North Korea, where a famine is reported to be raging.

The North Korean government has not yet confirmed the famine, but international aid organizations are already delivering food to the country.

China has already provided a large amount of food to North Korea, and the United States is considering sending additional food aid.

South Korea, which has been providing food aid to North Korea for many years, has not yet decided whether to send more food.

The famine is reported to be affecting millions of people in North Korea, and international aid organizations are working to provide food and medical assistance to those in need.

U.S., NATO ratify ban on chemical weapons

By RobertBurns

WASHINGTON — A global ban on chemical weapons took effect Tuesday with several nations absent from the list of more than 120 that have ratified the treaty, the United States being one of them.

The Chemical Weapons Convention, which bans the development, production, possession, and use of chemical weapons, was signed in 1993 and has been ratified by 160 countries.

The United States was one of the last countries to ratify the treaty, and it has faced criticism from some nations for not doing so.

The United States has been accused of using chemical weapons in the past, and it has been criticized for not doing enough to disarm other nations that may be using such weapons.

The ban on chemical weapons is seen as a significant step in the fight against terrorism and the spread of weapons of mass destruction.
Metro & Iowa

UI will keep race, gender on applications

By Bobby Cherry

As long as there is space in the university's admissions office, it and the admissions office on the phone or in the mail. An advertisement that runs in the State Journal-Register in Winnebago County to the northern part of the state, and a separate one in the Daily Echo in Rock Island, Illinois.

"In the University of Illinois admissions office, it is our policy to keep all information about students on file indefinitely," says Kim Wadsworth, assistant director of admissions. "This includes information about students who are enrolled, students who have left, and students who are deceased."

The decision not to eliminate race and gender data on applications was made by the University of Illinois Board of Trustees, which oversees the university's operations.

"The University of Illinois admissions office has always been committed to maintaining accurate and complete records for all students," Wadsworth says. "Keeping this information on file helps us ensure that we have the most current and accurate information available about our students."

Information about students, including race and gender, is kept on file for a variety of reasons. It is used to monitor the diversity of the student body, to ensure that all students are treated fairly, and to identify areas where improvements can be made.

"Keeping this information on file helps us to ensure that all students are treated fairly," Wadsworth says. "It also helps us to identify areas where improvements can be made, and to make changes as needed."

The decision not to eliminate race and gender data on applications was made by the University of Illinois Board of Trustees, which oversees the university's operations. The board has made similar decisions in the past to maintain accurate and complete records for all students.

"The University of Illinois admissions office has always been committed to maintaining accurate and complete records for all students," Wadsworth says. "Keeping this information on file helps us ensure that we have the most current and accurate information available about our students."

Information about students, including race and gender, is kept on file for a variety of reasons. It is used to monitor the diversity of the student body, to ensure that all students are treated fairly, and to identify areas where improvements can be made.

"Keeping this information on file helps us to ensure that all students are treated fairly," Wadsworth says. "It also helps us to identify areas where improvements can be made, and to make changes as needed."

The decision not to eliminate race and gender data on applications was made by the University of Illinois Board of Trustees, which oversees the university's operations. The board has made similar decisions in the past to maintain accurate and complete records for all students.

"The University of Illinois admissions office has always been committed to maintaining accurate and complete records for all students," Wadsworth says. "Keeping this information on file helps us ensure that we have the most current and accurate information available about our students."

Information about students, including race and gender, is kept on file for a variety of reasons. It is used to monitor the diversity of the student body, to ensure that all students are treated fairly, and to identify areas where improvements can be made.

"Keeping this information on file helps us to ensure that all students are treated fairly," Wadsworth says. "It also helps us to identify areas where improvements can be made, and to make changes as needed."

The decision not to eliminate race and gender data on applications was made by the University of Illinois Board of Trustees, which oversees the university's operations. The board has made similar decisions in the past to maintain accurate and complete records for all students.
EVIDENCE

Evidence may link McVeigh to Ryder truck

By Michael Henry

DENVER—Prosecutors unsealed their target and most important piece of evidence in the Oklahoma City bombing case today. A handwritten, 100-page letter by Timothy McVeigh to the bomb-making body has been found and released to the public.

The 100-page letter to Jostens, a company that makes yearbooks, has been the subject of intense speculation and investigation since it was discovered in a sale bin in the spring of 1995.

In the letter, McVeigh describes his plans to bomb the Murrah Federal Building in Oklahoma City, as well as his thoughts on the bombing and his reaction to the media coverage of the event.

The letter is a detailed and revealing account of McVeigh's thoughts and plans, and it provides a wealth of information about the bombing and the man who carried it out.

It is a powerful reminder of the importance of preserving evidence and the need for a thorough and impartial investigation of all cases of mass violence.

We will continue to monitor this case and report on any new developments as they occur.

***

The letter is available for viewing online at the following link:

http://www.oocities.org/mcvieght/letter.html

***

We encourage our readers to take the time to read through the entire letter and to consider the implications of what it reveals about McVeigh and the bombing.

We hope that this information will help to bring closure to this tragic event and to honor the memory of those who lost their lives.

Thank you for your support and for sharing in our commitment to truth and justice.

Sincerely,

Michael Henry

Note: This letter is a work of fiction and is not intended to be a true representation of the events of the Oklahoma City bombing. It is a creative exploration of the possibilities of human behavior and the consequences of violence.
THE LOW PRICE LEADER
EVERY AISLE, EVERY SHELF, EVERY DAY

Tostitos
Prepriced $2.99
2/$3.00
From Our Bakery
Cake Donuts
All Varieties
10¢
USDA Choice
Boneless Beef
Round Steak
$148
Old El Paso
Thick & Chunky
Salsa
2/2/$3.00
Kraft
Mexican Shreds
Rib Eye Steak
2/2/$3.00
Martha Gooch
Spaghetti or Elbow Macaroni
3/$2.00
Jack's Original
Frozen Pizza
5/$1000
Pepsi Cola or Mountain Dew
$47
Cub
FOODS
The Spend Less Store
These temporary price reductions are effective through 5-97.
We gladly accept Food Stamps and WIC Recipients. FRESH bags to bag your groceries in... at Cub Food.

- Prepriced items discounted 10% everyday
- 25% off greeting cards everyday
- Your grocery bags are always free at Cub
- Money order - 49¢ everyday
- Western Union
- We sell postage stamps
- Lottery
- We sell phone cards
- We sell only USDA Choice beef

Check out our new entrance east of the store.

May 5th celebrates Cinco de Mayo

Evolution Show
Sampling & Displays
Sat., May 3rd
10 a.m. - 5 p.m.

IOWA CITY

THE LOW PRICE LEADER
EVERY AISLE, EVERY SHELF, EVERY DAY
BIG TEN CHAMPS

Continued from Page 19

The Nebraska Cornhuskers, who beat Ohio State 31-21 on Saturday, are the Big Ten champions. Nebraska, which has won the conference title twice before, is 5-0 in the league and 8-3 overall.

BART GLANCE

Continued from Page 19

Rockefeller coach Bill Hainsworth said his team will focus on the defensive end of the floor, but he also wants his team to continue its offensive aggression. "We want to continue our offensive aggression and be more active on defense," Hainsworth said. "We want to be a team that can do both."
Baseball

Griffey in '97: Last year he ran for President; this year he's making a run at Maris' record

By Tom Worek
Associated Press

NEW YORK — Former pitcher Dave Stewart has no intention of supporting California’s Bobby Bonilla, the candidate that long-time New York Mets star Keith Hernandez believes is gaining ground.

"When you want to come over and be the three homers in a game at the Mets, you want to come over and be the nickel back for us," Stewart said.

"I don't want him on the team," Stewart added.

Bonilla hit a home run in his second inning at-bat Wednesday to tie (3-2) Barry Bonds’ mark of 32 set by Barry Bonds last season.

Bonds, who hit three straight home runs Monday and hit his 26th home run Tuesday, won his 14th and 15th victories of the season.

"I'm going to be a champion," Bonds said. "I'm going to be a champion."}

Williams homers leads Cleveland over Athletics

CLEVELAND (AP) — Matt Williams hit a two-run, three-run homer, and the Cleveland Indians overcame a 4-1 deficit en route to a 7-5 victory over the Oakland Athletics Wednesday night.

Williams, who hit three homers against Milwaukee Brewers and three home runs against the New York Yankees, became the third player in major league history to hit three straight multi-run home runs.

The win for the Indians was their third straight, tying them for first place in the American League East.

"I'm going to be a champion," Bonds said. "I'm going to be a champion."
The Running of the Roses

Steinberg's horse the early favorite in Kentucky Derby

By Ed Scheier Jr.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. -- Connoisseur is the 3-5 favorite for the Kentucky Derby -- and the 2-1 favorite to win the $500,000 Preakness next month.

Rodman reveals intimacies of his life

"I'm not trying to make any major stunts in between," Rodman said. "I'm trying to stay there and hear from him."

Roddick's contract finalized

"It's just a matter of time," Roddick said. "We're going to stay there."

"I'm not trying to do anything," Rodman said. "I'm just going to stay there."

Sports

Pacers waiting for word from Brown

Western, Bird possible replacements should coach leave team

Indianapolis' (AP) -- Indiana Pacers basketball President Donnie Walsh said Wednesday the team might seek a successor to head coach Larry Bird, who announced his resignation earlier this month.

"I'm not trying to do anything," Rodman said. "I'm just going to stay there."

Sports Briefs

Audit reveals O'Neal's dressing room

"(Larry Bird) is definitely a guy I'm interested in," said a person familiar with the team's plans.

B.B.&T, Midwest Bank merge

"(Larry Bird) is definitely a guy I'm interested in," said a person familiar with the team's plans.

Crossword

Indexed by Will Shortz

Voted "Best Bookstore in Iowa City"

By U of 1 students

15 S. Dubuque St. 337-2681

A proud sponsor of the Iowa Women's Hawkeye Basketball Team!
O'Neal, a 7'1" forward from Greensboro, NC, is the tallest power forward in college basketball history. His father, Joe, who played in the National Basketball Association (NBA) and played with the Charlotte Hornets, also played at the University of North Carolina or a Duke, where he might have starred on the court but would have stayed. It would have stayed.

It was O'Neal's dream to play for the Harlem Globetrotters, a professional basketball team known for its entertaining and skillful performances. O'Neal's father, Joe, who played in the NBA and played with the Charlotte Hornets, also played at the University of North Carolina or a Duke, where he might have starred on the court but would have stayed. It would have stayed.

The only option was to go to college, and O'Neal chose to attend the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. He quickly became a star, and his talent and charisma made him a fan favorite. O'Neal's father, Joe, who played in the NBA and played with the Charlotte Hornets, also played at the University of North Carolina or a Duke, where he might have starred on the court but would have stayed. It would have stayed.

On the court, O'Neal was a dominant force. He was a strong and powerful player who could score and defend at a high level, and he helped lead the Tar Heels to a national championship in 1993. O'Neal's father, Joe, who played in the NBA and played with the Charlotte Hornets, also played at the University of North Carolina or a Duke, where he might have starred on the court but would have stayed. It would have stayed.

The following season, weaving the talented but unbalanced team with a delicate balancing act, Harris was the primary player for the team. He had a delicate balancing act to perform and really grasp what you're trying to do. O'Neal's father, Joe, who played in the NBA and played with the Charlotte Hornets, also played at the University of North Carolina or a Duke, where he might have starred on the court but would have stayed. It would have stayed.

Harris was interested in playing for the Harlem Globetrotters, a professional basketball team known for its entertaining and skillful performances. O'Neal's father, Joe, who played in the NBA and played with the Charlotte Hornets, also played at the University of North Carolina or a Duke, where he might have starred on the court but would have stayed. It would have stayed.
SABRES ADVANCE WITH OVERTIME VICTORY

BUFFALO, N.Y. — Dominik Hasek made 32 saves in overtime to lift the Buffalo Sabres to a 3-2 win and a 3-1 lead over the Ottawa Senators in the Eastern Conference finals.

Pistols, who was also credited with the tying goal, won the game with an overtime assist. Ottawa goalie Ron Tugnutt gave up four goals in the first period.

After the puck went in, Tugnutt was pulled for the second time.

It was the first time in four playoff series on the road that Ottawa had ever won.

The Sabres, who won their first playoff game since 1996, will play in the semifinals.

They have not gone on to win the Stanley Cup since 1993, will play off against the New Jersey Devils in the other Eastern semifinal.

The Devils are considered a favorite to win the conference.

Goalie Dominik Hasek. Hasek, who beat the Senators in the first round, was named the game's first star.

He made 25 saves, including a huge stop on a penalty shot by Ottawa forward Mike Bossy in the third period.

The Senators were held to 20 shots, including 12 in the second period.

In the first period, Ottawa took a 1-0 lead on a goal by center Alfredsson, who scored on a breakaway.

The Sabres tied the game on a goal by Lucic, who scored on a power play.

In the second period, Sabres center Danny Gare scored on a breakaway, giving Buffalo a 2-1 lead.

The Senators tied the game on a goal by Alfredsson, who scored on a power play.

In the third period, Sabres center Pat LaFontaine scored on a power play, giving Buffalo a 3-2 lead.

The Sabres closed the game out with an empty-net goal by center Paul Steckler, who scored on a power play.

The Senators were held to 20 shots, including 12 in the second period.

In the first period, Ottawa took a 1-0 lead on a goal by center Alfredsson, who scored on a breakaway.

The Sabres tied the game on a goal by Lucic, who scored on a power play.

In the second period, Sabres center Danny Gare scored on a breakaway, giving Buffalo a 2-1 lead.

The Senators tied the game on a goal by Alfredsson, who scored on a power play.

In the third period, Sabres center Pat LaFontaine scored on a power play, giving Buffalo a 3-2 lead.

The Sabres closed the game out with an empty-net goal by center Paul Steckler, who scored on a power play.