Lighting the way for Homecoming '97

Home

By John Jordan

UC senior Brian Schubert and his six-year-old son Hunter, 6, are among the many UC students who have made the Homecoming weekend a family event. "Even my 2-year-old daughter, Jami, wants to go to the game," Brian said. "She wants to see the football players." But the Gamecocks will not have a chance to meet the players unless Hunter can be there too. "It's a great opportunity to bond with my son," said Brian. "We're both UC students and we both love the sport of football." The couple plans to attend the game and watch as the Gamecocks take on the Georgia Bulldogs at Sanford Stadium. "What do you think about the game?" asked Jami. "I'm not sure, but I'm excited!" she replied.

Race rakes in revenue for hospice

Organizers are calling the "2nd Annual Memorial Hospital Supply Hospice Road Races" a success.

By Deborah Dell

The annual Memorial Hospital Supply Hospice Road Races were a huge success this year. "We had more than 1,000 participants and raised over $10,000 for the hospice," said Linda Johnson, executive director of the hospice. "The weather was perfect and everyone had a great time. Thank you to all who participated and supported this important cause." The race was held on Saturday, September 28th, at the Memorial Hospital Supply in downtown Iowa City. The 5K, 10K, and half-marathons were all well attended. "We had a great turnout," said Johnson. "The hospice is doing great work and we're proud to support them." The money raised will go directly to the hospice and help fund its programs.

Facts on Maxson's first three months at the UI

What are some of the goals that you set for yourself at the UI?

Maxson: We've set some big goals for the first three months of my term. One of our main priorities is to improve the quality of education at the UI. We will be working closely with the deans of each college to make sure that they are providing the best possible education to our students. We will also be focusing on increasing funding for research and creating new opportunities for students to be involved in research projects. We believe that a strong research base is crucial to the success of the UI.

What changes or improvements do you plan to make in the UI's administrative structure?

Maxson: We are looking at ways to streamline the administrative processes and make them more efficient. This will help us save money and provide better service to our students. We are also looking at ways to increase transparency and accountability in the administration. We believe that our students and faculty have a right to know how the university is being run and how decisions are being made.

What are some of the challenges that you anticipate facing as president of the UI?

Maxson: There are many challenges that we will face as president of the UI. One of the biggest challenges is the increasing cost of education. We need to find ways to reduce costs and increase funding for education. Another challenge is the need to improve the quality of instruction at the UI. We need to ensure that our students are receiving the best possible education and that our faculty are providing the best possible instruction. We also need to focus on improving the campus facilities and infrastructure.

How do you plan to engage with the community?

Maxson: We will continue to work closely with the community and engage with our students and faculty. We will hold regular town hall meetings and meet with community leaders and representatives. We believe that it is important to have open and honest conversations with the community and work together to find solutions to the challenges that we face.

The family has been dealing with the loss of their daughter and the emotional toll it has taken on the family. They have faced numerous challenges and obstacles in their search for Cory, including a lack of resources and support from local authorities.

Despite the challenges, the family remains determined to find Cory and bring him back home. They have received support from the Iowa City Police Department and other local organizations, but the search continues.

The family's story has touched the hearts of many in Iowa City and beyond, and they continue to receive support and encouragement from others.

The family remains hopeful that Cory will be found safe and sound. They continue to pray for his safe return and are grateful for the support they have received from others.

All season long, the Iowa women's soccer team has faced a battle in coming back from a 1-3 deficit, and the team's performance on Sunday was no exception.

The Hawkeyes fell 2-0 to the Michigan Wolverines on Sunday, followed by another loss to the Spartans on Monday.

The Hawkeyes drew 0-0 with the Michigan Wolverines in the first half but fell 1-0 in the second half.

On Monday, the Hawkeyes were shutout by the Michigan State Spartans, falling 1-0 in the first half and 2-0 in the second half.

With just one shot, the goal in the final minute of play, Michigan knocked off the Hawkeyes by the score of 1-0 in their first game of the Big Ten. Michigan was able to take the lead in the second half of the game, but the Hawkeyes were unable to score.

Although Iowa is consistent in its focus on the second half of the game, Michigan scored another penalty in the 86th minute, and the Hawkeyes had no chance to mount a comeback.

There was a controversy surrounding the moment of the penalty. With just 14 minutes left, Michigan played a penalty shot to try and score. The Hawkeyes did not attempt to contest the decision, as they were down 1-0 in the game.

"That's a huge difference," said the Hawkeyes' coach.

"It's a situation where we didn't wind up with the ball in the 11th minute of the second half.

This is what we hope to achieve.

It's our goal.""The Hawkeyes thought they had scored on a fantastic goal in the 44th minute of the game.

But the goal was disallowed after a Hawkeye was ruled offside on the play.

Ultimately, the Hawkeyes were unable to score on the second half, and the game ended with Michigan leading 1-0.

Swimming

Hawkeye men's swimming team beats Ohio State, transpires to big wins

The Hawkeye men's swimming team defeated Ohio State by a score of 163-137 on Saturday, and the Hawkeye women's swimming team defeated Ohio State by a score of 175-125 on Sunday.

The Hawkeyes had a strong showing in the breaststroke events, with junior William Liss winning the 200-yard breaststroke in a time of 2:04.31.

"I'm really happy with the way the team performed," said Hawkeye head coach Terry Schott.

"We had some strong performances in the breaststroke, and we're looking forward to seeing how we perform in the future."

Penn State got some payback against Ohio State when it scored the winning touchdown with 38 seconds left in Columbus, Ohio, Saturday. It was the second straight year the Nittany Lions beat the Buckeyes.

Ohio State quarterback Mark Mayfield (14) was stopped for no gain in the end zone and Ohio State's last chance ended with a Frank Beckman field goal blocked by Jason Elmore and taken them that seriously? But for a 36-17 victory over the Buckeyes, Michigan State beat Nebraska, 36-21.

For Nebraska, the victory over Ohio State meant the Cornhuskers' top-ranked offense to get credit for a third straight overtime win in four years.

Solid defense backs up Ogea

The pretenders were separated from the landlords. Series/Indians even score

This afternoon, Cleveland pitcher Charley Ogea is scheduled to make his fourth start of the season against the Indians, whom he is 2-0 against.

Ogea, who has a 2.74 ERA, said: "I'm looking forward to this game. I've been working hard in the bullpen to get ready for this one."
Iowa's offensive line had a good day against the Wolverines, but the Iowa defense couldn't stop the Michigan offense. Iowa led, 21-7, at the half. But the second half saw Iowa's offense struggle, gaining only 20 total yards. Iowa fans looked forward to the last three games of the season with the Rose Bowl berth at stake. Iowa fans were hoping for a chance at a Rose Bowl berth for the first time in years.

HOMECOMING

The Greek Way

by Amorie Chason

Before the battle between the Hoosiers and the Hawkeyes, UI puts on a show for everyone to see. On Friday October 24, Hawkeye fans of all ages will trumpet through downtown Iowa City. The parade is one of the many black and gold events appreciated by students, alumni, and the surrounding community.

Homecoming at the University of Iowa officially began October 18, with an all campus volleyball tournament and window paintings. Student volunteers organize a children’s drawing contest, Sports Night, Iowa Shrine, and the parade. During this week there is also Harov at Hubbard, a pep rally and a King and Queen coronation to add to the excitement.

Among those that are most involved with Homecoming are members of the Greek community. After being matched up with each other, fraternities and sororities compete to win sweptstakes points. The Homecoming Council selects a theme, Lighting the Way, to which paired Greek chapters participate in the various activities. Just by volunteering on a Homecoming committee chapters can obtain points. Then the next goal is to sell the most Homecoming buttons during home football games and on campus.

The most exciting activities are those that happen only days before the football game. After weeks of preparation and with the help of local merchants, Greek members will paint windows throughout the downtown area while incorporating the Homecoming theme. These windows reflect true Hawkeye spirit among Greek members.

Following this, Iowa Shout takes place at the Triangle Ballroom of the IMU on Thursday, October 23 at 8:50 p.m. Fraternities and sororities manage to successfully work together and perform skits for the community in order to rally up support for the football game.

Homecoming’s most popular event is made great with the help of Greek chapters. The floats that parade through downtown Iowa City reflect what the Greek system is all about. Members spend countless hours designing ornate floats that coincide with the assigned theme. These floats are the most popular because members celebrate the University of Iowa by chanting and dancing downtown. Greek members also help the parade more smoothly by directing traffic.

While working with the community and other Greek members, individual chapters rally Homecoming support within their own chapters. The ultimate goal for the week is to earn Sweepstakes points and win Homecoming week. Greek Chapters as well as the Alumni Association, organize events for their alumni members. Many different events such as tailgates, receptions, and other events for those who have graduated in order to bring more support for the Hawkeyes. Alumni of UI’s Greek system show up during Homecoming in large numbers to encourage excellence and pride among the Greek system.

With the help of the community and the University of Iowa’s numerous volunteers, Homecoming is the most promoted and enjoyed event during the fall season. It gives people a chance to show their creativity and support for the Hawkeyes. Greek involvement adds organization and pride to the week’s events. This 2001 year celebration can only help ensure the proper outcome for the Hawks versus Hoosier game.
MESSAGE FROM THE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA PRESIDENT, MARY SUE COLEMAN...

It's a pleasure to welcome everyone to our 1997 Homecoming celebration—“lighting the way” to reunions and reminiscences, and reenergizing our connections with the University and its future.

As always, Homecoming is a great time to catch up with old friends, revisit favorite landmarks, and renew cherished memories. And what better opportunity to explore recent developments on this familiar but ever-changing campus? For instance, from the outside, Schaeffer Hall may look exactly the way you remember it— but wait until you step inside! This grand old building has had a complete makeover, including refurbished classrooms and offices, increased access for people using wheelchairs, and fiber optic wiring to support the latest in computer networking and technologically advanced teaching tools. Now we can all be proud that the second-oldest building on the Pentacrest, and the first University building to be constructed in the 20th century, is ready to “light the way” for future generations of students, well into the 21st century.

Once again, the Homecoming council has planned an exciting week-long series of festivities, culminating in the parade and the game. We hope you’ll enjoy all the events, rekindle your Hawkeye spirit, and return to campus as often as you can. It is good to know that we are all united in showing our love and support for the University of Iowa, a beacon “lighting the way” to new paths of learning, friendship, and community.

Mary Sue Coleman
President
Darrell Wyrick, president of the UI Foundation, will attend his 47th Homecoming celebration at Iowa this year as he makes his way through the parade route as Grand Marshall.

Wyrick began his Homecoming tradition in 1951 as a freshman studying chemical engineering. After graduating with a B.S. in 1956 and an M.S. in 1957 in the field, he moved to Minneapolis-St. Paul, where he was a process engineer for 3M Corporation. While in Minnesota he served as president of the Iowa Alumni Club of the Twin Cities and as a volunteer fund raiser for the UIF. He returned after four short years to become the UI Foundation’s first full-time employee.

The UI Foundation, founded in 1956, is an independent, self-supporting, non-profit corporation whose purpose is to raise private funds for the University. During his 35-plus years with the Foundation, the annual gift productivity of the Foundation has risen from less than $100,000 in 1962 to more than $75 million in 1996. Concurrently, the total assets of the Foundation have grown from less than $500,000 to more than $500 million.

As a true Hawkeye, Wyrick believes that Homecoming is more than just a football game. “It’s more than organized activities. It is also about the informal activities and get-togethers with college friends that alumni participate in when they come back,” he said. “Alumni around the world have fond memories of Iowa Homecoming and what an important day it is. They all are with us in spirit on Homecoming weekend. As Grand Marshall, I am proud to be a part of that tradition.”

Wyrick is a director of the UI Alumni Association and the UI Research Foundation. He is president of the UI Facilities Corporation, a member of the Presidents Club of The University of Iowa, and a member of the Advisory Committee for the UI Museum of Art. He was named an honorary Iowa Letterman by the National Iowa Letterman’s Club in 1991, received the UI Alumni Association’s Distinguished Alumni Award for Service in 1992, and was named Hawk of the Year by the National I-Club in 1996.

Wyrick has recently announced that after devoting 35 years to the Foundation he will resign as president and CEO in 1998. He will continue to work with the Foundation as a major gift officer.

Wyrick’s black and gold spirit will continue even if his multi million dollar efforts at the Foundation cease. Darrell Wyrick is a true Hawkeye.
COACH HAYDEN FRY'S HOMECOMING ADDRESS

Welcome back to the campus at the University of Iowa! As always, it is a pleasure to celebrate another Homecoming with you and other alumni and friends of our University at this special time of year.

The members of your University of Iowa football team have been hard at work for weeks, preparing not only for this weekend's game against Indiana University; but for a lifetime of learning in the world beyond college and Iowa City. I can't think of a better place for our young men to grow, explore, experience and challenge themselves to reach beyond their grasp and take full advantage of what is available to them.

I encourage you to do the same while visiting the campus this weekend. Explore our community, experience what the University has to offer, and challenge yourself to reach new heights. The Hawkeyes will be doing the same on the gridiron against the Hoosiers and on Monday morning when they tackle their academic pursuits in the classroom.

Again, welcome back to the campus. I hope you enjoy the game and all of the other Homecoming festivities planned for this year's celebration of the Hawkeye spirit.
